GREECE ABOUT TO ENTER WAR TO AID ALLIES--FIRE ABOARD FRENCH LINER UNDER CONTROL

JOE MARTIN SUED FOR LIBEL; SAID GAMBLERS HELPED TAYLOR

STATEMENT WAS AFTERWARDS RETRACTED IN PUBLIC-- THREE CANDIDATES HAVE ENTERED THE CON-TEST--ELECTION NEXT SATURDAY.

(Special to The Daily News.)
Vancouver, B. C., March 8.—The polling will take place next Saturday.
Joe Martin Figures.
A sensational development has arisen between Joseph Martin and L. D. Taylor. Martin had accused Taylor of getting his election funds from Chinese gamblers and Taylor immediately had a writ for libel issued for $25,000 damages. Martin, apparently, was not able to substantiate his case and has publicly retracted the statement.

GREECE ABOUT TO ENTER WAR-- HER OFFICERS CALLED TO COLORS

CABINET HAS RESIGNED AND KING ASKS NEUTRAL BANKER
TO FORM NEW ONE--GREECE WILL SUP-PORT THE ALLIES.

(Special to The Daily News.)
Athens, Greece, March 8.—The Greek Cabinet has resigned, demanding that Greece should enter the war. The press, too, is favoring the cause of intervention.
All Greek army officers are recalled to the colors on March 8, and a general mobilization is expected.
King Constantine has asked M. Zaimos, a banker, and a Neutral, to form a new cabinet.
Crowds cheered the retiring Premier Venizelos. A government will be formed combining all parties, as was done by the other nations on entering the war.
The Greeks have been very favorable to the Allies all along. She will probably attack Turkey.

FOOTBALL.

Victoria, March 8.—The Inter-city soccer match on Saturday between Vancouver and Victoria resulted in a draw, of one goal each.

WEST INDIAN FLEET JOINS IN BOMBARDMENT

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, March 8.—The East Indian fleet, under Vice Admiral Jellicoe, has joined in the attack on the Dardanelles, and is bombarding Smyrna.
The Queen Elizabeth, King George, and Inflexible, each with 15-inch and twelve 12-inch guns, blew up the principal forts on the European side of the narrows. They fired across land and in the Gulf of Saros, directed by aeroplanes.

CATTLE RUSTLER.

The McBride Cabinet contains a "pretty" bunch of statesmen. The Attorney General was found guilty of assisting the Dominion Trust Company to rob the people. The Premier has sold the province to the C. N. R. The Minister of Lands has allowed speculators to grab up all the available land in the province, and now Price Ellison has been proven to be a "cattle rustler." Thoroughbred cows which the government had purchased at $400 each were taken over by Hon. Price Ellison at $25 each. In the olden days, a man was hanged to the nearest tree for conduct of this kind, and yet this government has the effrontery to come before the people of this province and ask for a new lease of power. The people cannot afford to countenance such rottenness. The integrity of the province is at stake. Let us all unite to banish the vandals.

PROVINCIAL ELECTION NOW ASSURED-- EXPECTED TO TAKE PLACE IN APRIL

House Prorogued on Saturday Night--Price Ellison Gave a Lame Excuse for Cattle Rustling--Session Was Eventful and Sensational

T. P. had laid off all Germans who had not become British subjects. No complaints have been made as far as this paper is concerned about any of the local concerns.
2. The drydock was bonused by the Dominion government by a loan of $2,000,000 at a small rate of interest for a long term of years. The cold storage plant has also received a government bonus and is under government regulation.
3. The question of employment of Canadianized Germans in this country during the war is a far-reaching one. The Dominion sought immigration from Germany before the war and invited all who would come to our shores. They are a good class of citizens, industrious and law-abiding. It was not the fault of the men who have come to our shores that the present dreadful war was brought on. They are the victims of circumstances, and the highest authority in the Dominion has declared that so long as they do not become objectionable or abuse the freedom extended to them they should not be interfered with. It would be a bad precedent to establish, that because a man was born in Canada or any other British country he has more right to a job than an immigrant who has become a good citizen. The writer is a Canadian, as his ancestors have been for three generations, and is quite able to appreciate "Canadian's" point of view, and yet in spite of his sympathies he would be very loath to discriminate against the man whom we have invited to our midst, providing he is personally worthy of it. Canadians have an important duty to Victoria, B. C., March 8.—The Provincial House prorogued Saturday night. Although nothing official has been given out, it is confidently expected that the Provincial election will take place on April 8. Premier McBride will likely make an announcement of the date today.

Oh! You Cows!
Just before the House prorogued Prince Ellison endeavored to defend his purchase of government cattle. Four cows the government had purchased for $400 each were shortly after repurchased by Mr. Ellison for $25 each. Mr. Ellison said it was a poor financial venture on his part.
Sensational Session.
Notwithstanding the announcement prior to the session that it would be a short one, it has proved to be a long and knotty one for the government. Parker Williams' charges against the Attorney General with regard to the failure of the Dominion Trust Company was the worst knock the party got in many years. The recent exposure of Price Ellison with regard to government cattle has also made a profound impression on the people.

How Dissolved.
The dissolution of the House is a matter for the Governor-in-Council. It need not be dissolved when the House is prorogued. This can be done at any time by the consent of the Governor, who will then call upon some one to form a new one. Then the date of election will be fixed.

LET US GET TOGETHER

In this issue we reproduce a circular letter from the Retail Merchants Association of Prince Rupert. We do this because we believe in the cause which they advocate. Self-preservation is one of the first laws of nature, and the only way to preserve the prosperity of a city is to all pull together. There is at least one mistake the Retail Merchants have made, however. They have forgotten that the local press is more important than any one of their business houses. It is a bad town where the merchants don't prosper; it's no town at all where there is no Daily Paper. There are merchants in Prince Rupert who do not advertise from one end of the year to the other. Why not put the shoe on the other foot to see how it will fit. Perhaps if the local merchants would advertise as freely and wisely as do the department stores they would not have their present complaint. Mr. Merchant, how would you like to talk over this proposition with The Daily News? Why not get together all around?

FIRE ON FRENCH LINER ALMOST EXTINGUISHED

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, March 8.—The fire on board the French liner La Touraine has been almost extinguished. The vessel is making for Havre at fourteen knots, escorted by a British cruiser. The fire was confined to one of her compartments.

SEE "RUNAWAY JUNE" At the Westholme Opera House Tonight and Tomorrow.

The third episode of the best and most popular moving picture serial ever produced, "Runaway June," will be shown tonight and tomorrow night at the Westholme. There will also be a new Gazette showing the latest happenings all over the world, and an extra fine comedy.
Speaking of comedies, it will be of interest to moving picture patrons to know that the great comedian, Charles Chaplin, has severed his connection with the Keystone Company, and is now producing the funniest comedies ever filmed for the Essany Company. These new pictures will be shown exclusively at the Westholme and the first of the new series, entitled "His New Job," will be seen at this theatre in the near future.
On Wednesday and Thursday a highly sensational feature in three parts, entitled "413," will be shown. One of the very realistic scenes in this play shows a real train consisting of an engine with tender and four coaches running through an open switch at full speed, thereby causing a complete smashup which actually makes ones hair stand on end.

INFORMATION ABOUT GERMAN CANADIANS

Editor, The Daily News:
Sir,—I beg to ask the following questions through the favor of your paper:
1. Are there any Germans or Austrians employed in any capacity whatever at the drydock or cold storage in this city?
2. Does the drydock or cold storage receive any subsidy or support of any kind from the government.
3. In the case of this being so, is not the government directly or indirectly giving employment to men whose countries are doing their best to crush the British Empire? and at the same time there are many British subjects in Prince Rupert searching for employment, with hardly the price of a meal in their pockets.
Yours truly,
"CANADIAN."

After being twelve years in power the McBride government has just found out that a farming community is necessary; that you cannot build up big thriving cities unless the country behind them is developed; that you cannot continue to buy unless you have something to sell; that production is the first law of prosperity and that without production the country is bound to go to the wall. They are now seeking a new lease of power and are willing to make all kinds of promises. They tell us that they are going to advance $50,000,000 to the farmers but they have also promised all kinds of things within the last few years. They promised Prince Rupert a road round the Island. They promised us a Provincial building that would cost half a million—and what have we got? Nothing but promises.

But there is another aspect to the case. The financiers in London are aware that the McBride government has squandered a large amount of their borrowings. Those men are accustomed to loaning money to men who will handle it to the best advantage. They have lost faith in McBride and if the opinion of London bankers is worth anything his borrowing there is all over. In order to raise this $50,000,000, therefore, it will be necessary to produce some evidence of good faith. The province will have to do some house cleaning. We will have to show the London bankers that we have punished the offenders of the past and that we have put honest men in charge and that every dollar borrowed will be spent in production and not in carfares and banquets for California millionaires.

There is another reason why a change of government would do good. Under any circumstances, the next few years are likely to be lean ones. A government, however, that has just taken office is bound to put forth every effort to make good. They will not leave a stone unturned in order to bring about this desired end. Besides that, the present government doesn't seem to understand the art of economy. Huge sums are wasted on trivial affairs while the real needs of the province are neglected. The government has developed the spendthrift habits of the gambler, a habit that is fatal in anybody that promises efficiency and economy. It is very unwise—it is dangerous to leave the destiny of the province in the hands of such men. Let us have a change.

The message of Dr. Herridge was well timed. It comes at a time when men are thinking of the realities of life. In a prosperous and frivolous age men are inclined to throw their faith to the winds. A few years ago it was seriously debated in theological circles whether the Church was going to persist; whether, indeed, it had not outgrown its usefulness. Suddenly the props of civilization have been removed and men are groping around in the dark and yearning for a guiding hand. Automatically the faith of their fathers returns and they begin to find out that after all there is a fundamental truth in the Church that humanity needs in its trying hour.

The hopeful thing about the future of the Church is the broad and charitable outlook that predominates her leaders. The big men in the Church today have forgotten their dogmatism; they are not insisting on every jot and tittle in the interpretation of truth; they are allowing a little room for the individuality of every man's point of view. There is no doubt in the world but that humanity is "incurably religious." There is not the slightest doubt either but that a sane and moderate practice of that principle has an elevating tendency on the race. To many men it has a charm not unlike the emotion associated with music and poetry; to others it is a stern law of morals—morality, perhaps tinged with emotion—but at any rate a force that adds to the stability of human character.

selves, however, to positive creeds. We may not be able to subscribe to any of the articles of religion in force and still we may profit by the influence of the Church. The presence in the community of a strong and wholesome man is a power for good; that power is very much greater when week after week he is permitted by the force of his personality to create new atmospheres of thought and to inject into life a current of wholesome ideas. There are few who do not believe in the fundamental principle of Deity and who would not be profited by a thoughtful discourse of His relation with man. The Church will probably change with the changing years as it has in the past, but so long as man is constituted as he is at present that institution, if wisely guided, is bound to play a vital part in his well-fare.

HOW BRITISH GUNS ARE MANUFACTURED

Process From the Iron Mines to The Last Stage of Manufacture Described in Full Detail

Each truckfull of iron, as it is raised from the mine, is weighed and checked, then the truck is pushed into a huge wheel, which turns slowly over and empties its contents into a big iron railway wagon waiting below, says a weekly London paper.

Thence to the furnace, and since the furnace depends on fuel, this is usually close to the coal. Also, if possible, near to the sea, for, besides ironstone and coal, limestone also is essential to the reduction of the ore.

First, the limestone is calcined in a kiln, then from the kiln it is swung up in huge lifts to the top of the tall blast furnace, which burns unceasingly day and night year in and year out.

Ironstone, coke and limestone in their appointed proportions are flung into the great "bell" which covers the mouth of the furnace; then the bell is lowered. There is a great gush of superheated gas, and down go the tons of stuff into the flaming heat below.

Go back to the base of the enormous pile of brickwork, and the first thing you will notice is a steady stream of white-hot liquid pouring from an opening about ten feet above ground level.

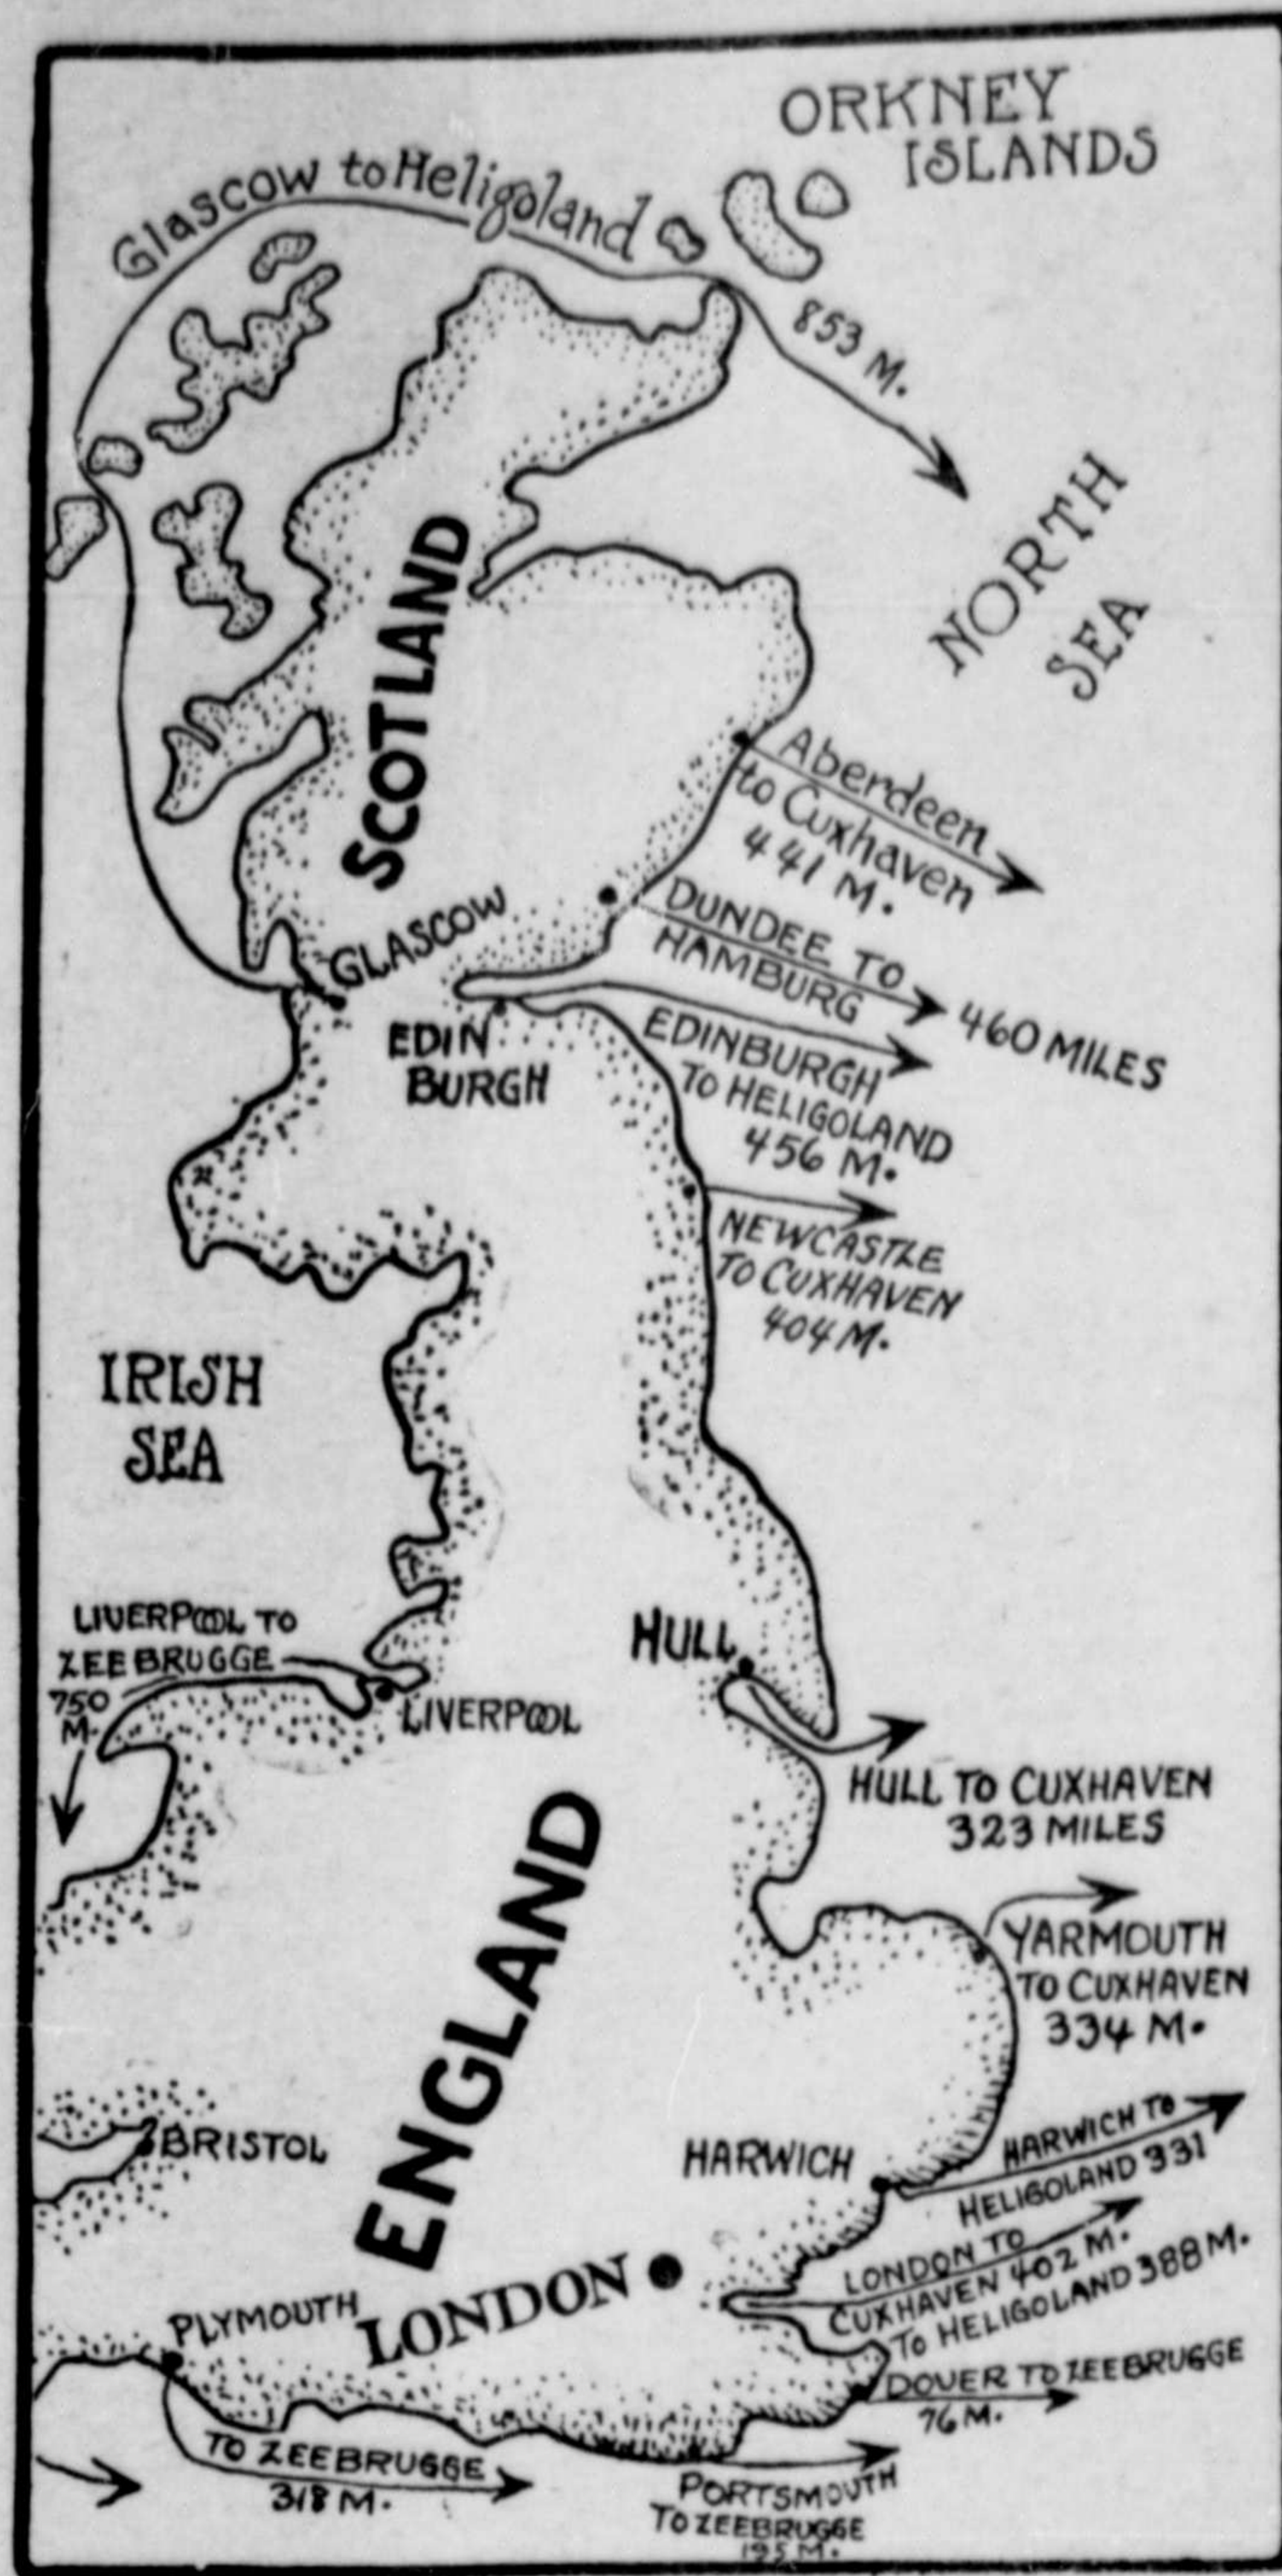

But this is not iron, merely "slag," that is, the dross which rises to the top, leaving the heavier iron beneath it. The dross is run away to the slag heap.

Four times in each twenty-four hours the furnace is "tapped." A hole which has been carefully plugged with fireclay is opened, and the iron, glowing with a beautiful rosy light, comes rushing out in a cataract of fire.

Ready to receive it are numbers of little trenches made of river sand. There is a main run in the middle, and smaller ditches called "sows" running off it at right angles. Each sow has ten tributaries called "pigs," and here the molten iron lies until it cools into "pig iron."

Pig iron is a long way still from being steel. Such iron as is reserved for steel goes to the "mix-

"BLOCKADERS" BIG CONTRACT MAPPED OUT.

What a great task the Germans have undertaken in endeavoring to smash Great Britain's sea trade is indicated in the above map, showing the island's chief ports and their distance from German naval bases. The German submarines probably will operate against the North English and Scottish trade routes from Heligoland and Cuxhaven and against the Channel and the South English ports from Zeebrugge, the Belgian port where a German naval base has been established. Germany also has indicated that she will place mines at the mouths of all British ports.

MR. AND MRS. NERLICH.

Chief Justice Sir Wm. Mulock, in the Criminal Assizes of the Toronto Police Court, decided that "conspiring to trade and give information to the enemy" did not come under the list of treasonable offences and the conspiracy charge against Mr. E. Nerlich and his wife was reduced to that of "conspiring to commit an indictable offence." This ruling does not affect the charge of treason against Mr. Nerlich, upon which he will be tried as soon as the conspiracy charge is finished. The indictment charges the Nerlichs with conspiracy to assist Arthur Zirow, alleged ex-German officer, to leave the country, conspiracy to give information to the enemy and conspiracy to trade with said enemy. Mrs. Nerlich has been acquitted by the court but Mr. Nerlich was found guilty.

discharge in the present crisis. They are determined to support the Mother Country with every dollar and every drop of blood at their disposal but at the same time they must maintain an attitude that will enable the foreigner within our gates to feel that we are a good people with whom to throw in his lot. Canada will need immigrants when this war is over and we must be able to show every man that once he becomes a Canadian he has the protection that that name implies.

It has been stated on several occasions that there were even some places in this city where a Canadian as such could not get a job. The inference was that other influences had them cornered. If this could be proven to be so it would immediately receive the rebuke it deserves. There are special reasons why a Canadian should succeed in this country. As a son of Canadian soil he should carry around in his chest that confidence which belongs to a man who is at home. "This is my country and the best that it has is none too good for me." The Canadian who maintains that attitude and is worthy of it need not long want for any good thing.—Editor.

RETAIL MERCHANTS APPEAL TO BUYERS

The Following Letter Has Been Mailed to All Citizens of Prince Rupert by The Retail Merchants' Association

Dear Sir or Madam:
Our organization consists of practically every merchant in town. It is a "UNION" for mutual help.

We are banded together to help the interests of the retail merchants and also to lend our efforts to anything that will make for the betterment of our town.

One of the strongest factors that retards the growth of our town is that so many residents send away for their goods. The money that goes out of Prince Rupert every mail to the eastern department stores is estimated to be sufficient to support several stores if spent at home.

This affects you in the long run. Some of us do business with you at some time or other and we think it should be a mutual proposition.

Possibly you are a real estate owner and are looking forward to the time when your property will be used for business purposes. You are delaying that time whenever you send away for goods.

The measure of a town's prosperity depends on its commercial prosperity. Everyone should have "civic pride," a pride in the institutions, the stores of the town. Without commercial prosperity there can be no general prosperity. Sending away for goods is a two-edged sword—it cuts both ways.

If everyone made it a practice to spend their money with the local merchants it would soon mean that the merchants could lower their prices, because of the greater turnover. The indirect benefits would work through all channels and you would share in the "better times" that would result. The stores would carry better stocks, real estate would advance, because more homes would be built and more stores required. Real estate has never much value in a town whose business section is not prosperous.

We are endeavoring to inaugurate a "Buy-At-Home" movement and our efforts will be directed toward gaining the co-operation of all classes in our buy-at-home campaign.

Yours very truly,
PRINCE RUPERT RETAIL MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION.

FARMERS DANCE IN BULKLEY VALLEY

(Special Correspondence to The News.)

A very successful dance was held under the auspices of the Bulkley Valley Agricultural Association and Farmers' Institute in the dining room of the Telkwa Hotel, Aldermere. The evening of March 3 was the date of the event and that it was enjoyed by all is signified by the fact that no one left until the dance program was finished and when the "wee sma' hours" were growing larger.

Tasty programs, kindly prepared by Mrs. Stevens, were exchanged for tickets at the door by Mr. A. McInnes. The appearance of the ladies was heralded by that of the musicians, Messrs. J. F. Adams and J. S. Gray. Programs were soon filled and the dance commenced. The floor was in excellent condition, the music was stimulating and the spirit of good fellowship so pervaded the gatherings that "all went merry as a marriage bell." The crowd was of exactly the right size for the floor and the dancing was decidedly good. Twenty-two dances were tripped off, consisting chiefly of waltzes, two-steps and three-steps and nearly all the dances were encored. The most popular dance of the evening was the "Tag" two-step. Late-coming gentlemen had a chance to fill up at least one blank in their program, though on account of the majority of gentlemen the dance with any one partner was not very sustained. Three encores speaks for the popularity of this dance. The "Home" waltz as the last was also in much favor for everyone was enjoying the dance so much that it was with regrets that this, the last dance, was finished. This waltz received two encores.

While the dances were all well received and much enjoyed, the event which seemed to appeal most strongly to all was that of lunch. Shortly after midnight the doors leading to the hotel kitchen opened and as if by magic a table laden with things which delight the inner man appeared. Before they realized what was happening the erstwhile dancers were drinking coffee and cream and eating delicious sandwiches and cake such as "mother used to make." These good things were in plenty and all received "an elegant sufficiency." Even the cake-hungry bachelor pre-emptors were unable to sample the whole of the varied assortment of cakes. Much credit is due the able management of Mrs. A. McInnes and the assistance of Mrs. J. J. Bakke and Mrs. Anderson for the lunch. The farmers' wives and daughters responded nobly to the call of the management for refreshments for the "Farmers' Dance," and one of the features of the dance was that all refreshments were supplied by the country ladies. It has been noted of late at the dances the refreshments have become more enjoyable by reason of the absence of canned goods and it was particularly noted at this one. Real fresh cream, home-made bread sandwiches, home-grown ham and chicken and home-made cakes, all the products of the local farms, were much appreciated, and point to the trend of things agricultural.

Social meetings of this description are doing much to acquaint the people with each other and draw them together in a business as well as a social way. It is to be regretted that as yet this is the only function held under the auspices of the association and institute. After the hearty way the ladies responded to the call for refreshments, it should be quite possible for the organization to hold an annual banquet. It would be something that all could enjoy, the non-dancers, as well as the dancers. Members might be admitted free or a small charge made and non-members might be charged a larger fee. This would be one more advantage in being a member of the association.

The following is the list of guests attending the dance: Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Williscroft, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hoops, Miss E. M. Hoops, B. N. M. Hoops, Mrs. A. H. SMITHERS LADIES EDIT NEWSPAPER EDITION

The last edition of the Smithers Sentinel was turned out by the ladies of Smithers. The idea was to supply in concise form all the local information necessary for advertising the district. There are a large number of bright and interesting articles that reflect great credit on the ladies concerned. An interesting part is a series of recipes that would tickle the appetite of the greatest epicure. There is a good article on Smithers by Mrs. J. M. Lynch; farming in the Bulkley Valley is described by Mrs. J. N. Carr; "Pioneer Women of the Bulkley" was written by "Ida May Williams," presumably the talented wife of that pioneer, Mr. R. E. Williams. Other contributors were Mrs. Wiggs O'Neil, Mrs. Eggleston, Mrs. R. Barker, Mrs. G. McKilligan, Mrs. Robert Barnett, Miss Kate Carr, Mrs. K. Turner, Mrs. Wm. Bannister, Mrs. Joe Greer, Mrs. George Eckerman, Mrs. A. Brooks, Mrs. M. E. Dun-lap, Mrs. Gabe White, Mrs. R. E. Jones, Mrs. Wm. Howe, Mrs. Schuller, Mrs. C. L. Willeox, Mrs. Harry Smith, Mrs. A. M. Todd and Mrs. J. Downey.

The special staff for the occasion consisted as follows:

Editor in Chief—Mrs. Eason; assistant editor, Mrs. Adams; assistants, Mesdames Williams, Watson, Parcell, O'Neil, Anderson, Dunlop, Johnston, Carr, Tod, Bigelow, Greer, Moran, Lynch and Wallace, the Masses MacDonald and McKay.
Business Manager—Mrs. Wilcocks; assistants, Mrs. Swarth-out, Miss Gray.
Department Chiefs—Mrs. Parcell and Mrs. Watson.
Staff—Mesdames Lynch, Cathrae, Gray, Porteous, Turner, Grier, Howes and the Misses McLoughlin, MacDonald and Millar.

Sunlight Soap

cuts Monday's labor clean in half.
The Sunlight way is so easy --just note. First you soap the garment; then roll it up to soak. After a while you rinse it thoroughly and the dirt drops out like magic.
Why scrub, and rub, and wear and tear the clothes when the gentle strength of Sunlight Soap will do the work with never a hurt to fabric or hands.

Try it once—this Sunlight way.
