PREMIER ARTHUR MEIGHEN REACHES VANCOUVER

MINERS' STRIKE SETTLEMENT INCLUDES ADVANCE OF TWO SHILLINGS A DAY

Canadian Premier Heartily Welcomed

Number of organizations represented in crowd that gathered at C. P. R. station to give greeting of west.

VANCOUVER, October 29.—Premier Arthur Meighen has arrived here this morning and will address a mass meeting tonight. They were met at the C. P. R. depot by representatives of the city council, board of trade, members of the provincial and federal parliaments, the Conservative association, and other organizations. Over six hundred people were there to welcome the far west to the Canadian premier. His enthusiasm was shown at this his first visit to Vancouver. The welcome was given irrespective of party, for it is the custom in this province.

The party will be the guests of H. H. Stevens, M. P., S. J. McRae, M. P., and Colonel Cooper, M. P. They will speak at New Westminster this afternoon and twice here this evening.

ICE CHIEF OF VANCOUVER

Henderson, Bertillon Expert, Appointed to Succeed McRae

VANCOUVER, Oct. 29.—James Auriol, head of the Bertillon department of the local police department, has been appointed chief of police. He succeeds William McRae. Anderson is a native of Scotland. He joined the force in 1903 and made a criminal investigation by purchasing a camera to photograph criminals in 1908. There were twenty-one applicants for the position of chief.

SCHOOL PROBLEMS BEING SOLVED IN ALBERTA PROVINCE

REGINA, October 28.—Alberta province is making strenuous efforts to solve the rural school problem, said Hon. George P. Smith, minister of education for the province, who was in Toronto recently. Alberta was not afraid to do something entirely original. The three schemes being attempted to help rural schools in Alberta at the present time are:

Subsidizing dwellings for rural teachers so they may live in some comfort near their schools; loaning money to suitable candidates for the teaching profession to enable them to take a course at a normal school; to establish a minimum salary of $840 a year to both "permit" and qualified teachers.

The "teachers' dwelling proposition" provides for a house with five acres of land, thus enabling the teacher to reach a little independence by keeping a cow, hens, and having a garden. The Government pays a third of the cost of such a home. This, it is thought, will induce more men to stay in the teaching profession.

As a result of the loans to prospective teachers 118 applications were made to enter the training courses two weeks after the announcement of the plan. The naming of a minimum salary for teachers has also been beneficial.

Alberta, according to Hon. Mr. Smith, is the first province or state on the continent to set a minimum. The Alberta Government is also bearing half the cost of recognized night schools. Mr. Mahood will be coming out to Stewart to winter in Vancouver in December.

THREE CARLOADS OF FISH WAS OFFERED

Many Big Halibut Boats Have Stopped Coming Here on Account of Perpetual Car Shortage.

The perpetual car shortage is beginning to have a marked effect on the fish arrivals here for sale. The most of the big schooners do not call at all now and instead continue direct to Seattle. The result is that only smaller boats are coming in.

There were only three carloads of fish offered for sale at the fish exchange this morning although there were five "freezers" available for shipment east. The Booth Canadian Fisheries bought a carload at 18.7c and 9c; Atlin Fisheries a carload at 18.8c and 9c, and the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Co. another carload at 18.4c and 9c.

The following boats were in: Adeline, 3,500 pounds; Wave, 9,000 pounds; Albatross, 13,500 pounds; Bartolome, 6,000 pounds; Bayview, 3,000 pounds; Eastern Point, 2,000 pounds; Chancellor, 4,000 pounds; Gilford, 5,000 pounds; Clara N., 3,000 pounds; Margalice, 3,800 pounds; S. & S., 3,000 pounds; Kayoush, 3,000 pounds, and Arctic, 6,000 pounds.

B.C EXPERIMENT IS BEING WATCHED BY UNITED STATES

"British Columbia is passing through another interesting stage in its progress toward ultimate 'bone dry' prohibition," says the Seattle Times under the heading "B.C. Experiments," commenting on the result of the plebiscite in this Province.

"Its experience has been paralleled in America and if the course of events in this country is any criterion by which to judge future events in the Province, another test of sentiment on this issue may be anticipated within a year or two."

"The brand of prohibition that has been in force in British Columbia has not prohibited. On the other hand, it has been a source of scandal.

The electorate now has turned from this system to one of Government control of sales, voting overwhelmingly for this method.

"A similar plan has been given a trial in some American commonwealths. It was found by them to be an improvement on the old-time saloon, a breeder of crime and poverty. But it was not found to be a definite, convincing answer to the question of liquor control."

"At least one Southern state went through a period of trial and tribulation as a result of its Government dispensary. So large were the sums received by those managing the institution and so tempting the opportunity to graft that scandal was an inevitable result."

"British Columbia may be more fortunate, both in the selection of officials and in the administration of the new law. If so, the system may endure a long time."

"But the history of similar ventures in America raises doubts on this score."

The Princess Mary, Captain Slater, called here this afternoon, leaving at 2 o'clock southbound with the very last of the outgoing Yukoners, many of whom were delayed by the recent low water. The Mary waited at Skagway two days for their arrival over the White Pass route.

James Carruthers may be at Prince Rupert Tonight

Trawler expected to be floated from Whitesand Island and brought here by Trawler Andrew Kelly

T. H. Johnson, manager of the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Co., expects that the James Carruthers, the wrecked trawler, will be in some time this afternoon or evening in tow of the trawler Andrew Kelly which went to Whitesand Island at 9 o'clock this morning for the purpose of bringing her sister ship in. It was expected to have the Carruthers off the beach at the high tide at 2:11 this afternoon and in that case she would be back this evening. Mr. Johnson stated that the salvaging work has been going on satisfactorily.

John Gould, the representative of the underwriters, went out this morning on the Kelly to the scene of operations.

FIGHT OVER COFFIN OF MACSWINEY

Authorities Refuse to Allow It to be Taken to Dublin By Relatives.

LONDON, October 29.—The British Government refused to allow the body of Mayor MacSwiney to land in Dublin but provided a special boat to carry it to Cork from Holyhead.

The relatives of the late mayor resisted when the authorities started to place the body on board the Cork boat. There was a fight over the coffin which lasted for five minutes, after which the body was taken aboard.

LONDON, October 29.—The prospect is that the miners' strike will be settled by the end of next week through the acceptance by the miners of the agreement arranged with the Government. The main feature of the settlement is that the miners will get two shillings a day advance until the end of the year and that in future the wages shall be settled by the creation of a national wage board.

It is also understood that the settlement involves the adjustment of wages according to output.

British Miners
Strike Settlement.

While there is little information yet in regard to the strike settlement in Great Britain, it is good news that an arrangement has been arrived at and that the whole country is not to be once more tied up, especially just on the approach of winter and at a time when industries are feeling a certain amount of depression and prices are falling. This is scarcely a time to ask for wage advances. The tendency will soon be in the opposite direction, once the cost of living is fairly on the toboggan.

It seems a pity that there cannot be a permanent sliding scale established in all industries, which will make the wages correspond with the cost of living. Strikes are an economic waste. They generate hate and tend toward the deterioration of the race. They are often worse than war.

Elks Lodge and Public Service.

The announcement that the Elks Lodge would see that there was a skating rink at Morse Creek this year is most commendable. The skating pond is badly needed here. It is not often that more than a week or two of frost severe enough to form ice for skating is recorded here in the course of a winter. For that reason we should make the most of the short time at our disposal. The Salt Lake is all right, but it is too far away for most people to go except perhaps on a Sunday afternoon. At Morse Creek pond the people could skate every evening and the ladies in the afternoons and if snow should fall it would be easy to keep the rink swept.

We think that the city should undertake the work of repairing the Morse Creek dam. It is a civic institution, but if they fail, the Elks will be doing a real public service if they organize a group to do the work voluntarily.

Many People
Many Tastes.

It is a good thing we do not all like the same things and the same people. If we did, there would be a great sameness in life. All kinds of people have different tastes. It is because of the diversity of tastes that there are such widely different features in a newspaper. Some people like humor, some like tragedy, while yet others care for little except editorial opinions. Sport has a good many varieties. It is to cater to all these that the editor of a paper tries.

In order to cater to those who like humor of a certain type, the "Bringing up Father" comic strip has just been added to the Daily News features and will run regularly. This is looked upon as one of the best comics printed today and is already being watched for by those who like features of that kind. It is one step forward in the making of a newspaper that is trying to keep up to date.

People Noticing
News' Circulation.

Every day we publish the Daily News circulation of the previous day at the top of the first page. This is to enable advertisers to see what they are paying for when they buy advertising space. The circulation is not as big as it ought to be, but it has been steadily increasing throughout the past two years and we look for it to continue to increase. The increase is an indication of the appreciation of our efforts to provide a newspaper for the district that will take up local questions and discuss them on their merits.

NEW METLAKATLA HAS PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Natives Decide for New Organization and Will Call Minister.

A Presbyterian church has been organized at New Metlakatla by the presbytery of Alaska. The new church organization was formed at the request of a large number of the native residents of the town, who had signed a petition requesting action by the presbytery.

The organization meeting was held in the assembly room at the public school. The petition, which had been in the hands of the presbytery for some time, was found to be in order, and the petitioners, after covenanting together according to the prescribed forms of the church, were declared members of the Metlakatla Presbyterian church. The new organization was ordered enrolled in the presbytery of Alaska.

Board of Elders.

A board of elders were elected and after ordination was installed in office. The elders chosen are: John Davis, Ernest Milton, Alfred Atkinson, Herbert Murdochson, Edward Verney and Robert Murdochson, Sr. Other officers are to be elected.

Rev. Edward Marsden was placed in charge of the new organization as supply minister. It is understood that he will probably be called soon as the permanent pastor.

Mining News

Back to the Hills

Ole Evindsen, whom it was announced yesterday had sold the Alice Arm Hotel, is one of the oldest of old timers around Alice Arm and, indeed, was one of the original discoverers of the Dolly Varden Mine, the mine that made Alice Arm famous. The romantic discovery of that mine has often been recounted, as well as the subsequent events in its history. When the $50,000 was paid by A. B. McGinnis to the discoverers, Ole took his share and built the Alice Arm Hotel three or four years ago. But hotel-keeping, he says, does not suit him and he doesn't like the confined life. Now that he is free again he is going back to the mountains and does not intend to confine his travels to Alice Arm, for he may go into the Hudson Bay country. He is a big man in stature and he likes big things, big country, big trees and big snows and soon he will be back in his element. D. Zarelli, who has bought him out, is also a mining man and with James McLean owns the North Star, the Dolly Varden's next door neighbor and, in the opinion of its owners, a rival in richness.

The table given is for Port Simpson but the time for Prince Rupert varies only a few minutes on some days and on others is the same. The range of the tide may be computed as 5 per cent greater at Prince Rupert than at Port Simpson both at springs and neaps. Therefore the rise in the Prince-Rupert harbor is slightly greater than Port Simpson.

The height is in feet and tenths of feet above the average level of lower low water.

Railway Now Running

Power from the West Kootenay Power and Light Company's plant at Bonnington Falls has now been turned on by the Canada Copper Corporation at Allenby and Copper Mountain and the Copper Mountain Railway is now in operation from the Keetle Valley line at Princeton to Copper Mountain. The first train of ore was moved down the hill from Copper Mountain to Allenby on October 19 and shipments are being daily increased, and when all the machines underground at the mine are manned the production will reach 2,000 tons, giving employment to 500 men. The undertaking of the company has cost $7,000,000, but a brilliant future seems assured.

The production at Copper Mountain, it is expected, will bring the copper production in B. C. up to as high a mark as it ever before reached.

Victorians' Return.

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Benson, Miss Jean Macdonald and C. G. Benson have returned to Victoria after having spent the summer prospecting in the Stewart district. They were working on properties in which R. C. Elliott, K. C., H. F. W. Benson, J. J. Coughlan, the Vancouver shipbuilder, and R. Cromie, the proprietor of the Vancouver Sun, are interested. Their claims, the Blue Bird and the Nest Egg, they predict, will become among the richest in the district. They have many interesting stories to tell of their adventures during the season. Mrs. Benson and Miss Macdonald were with the party all the time through the worst and best of it.

J. B. Roerig left on the Prince Albert this morning for Stewart on a business trip.

GREAT LOVE STORY BROUGHT TO SCREEN

Doris Keane Turns From the Stage to be Picture Star.

The return of the real story of love to the screen," is the way in which picture-reviewers everywhere have unanimously been describing Doris Keane's wonderful success in "Romance," the United Artists Corporation's production which was written especially for Miss Keane by Edward Sheldon.

It is said to be full of poetic imagination and charming sentiment, while the love romance of the prima donna and the clergyman is as novel and unusual as its very mention suggests.

Miss Keane as the sparkling Grand Opera star, Mme. Cavallini, is credited with an absolutely new success, one that puts her in the front rank of screen artists and which has won for her the enviable reputation of being the greatest emotional actress on the screen, as well as on the stage.

It is a pleasure to know that this really beautiful story with its fascinating actress, is to be the leading attraction at the Westholme Theatre tonight.

SPEAKERS TELL IRELAND'S WOES

Mrs. Rose Henderson and A. Urquhart Address Well Attended Meeting.

IRISH HISTORY AND PRESENT CONDITIONS

The woes of Ireland and the injustices which she has suffered was the theme of the addresses given at the McIntyre Hall last night before a good crowd of people emanating both from the north and the south of the Emerald Isle.

The meeting was called under the auspices of the Self-Determination for Ireland League in Canada of which A. Urquhart of Vancouver is organizer. It was addressed also by Mrs. Rose Henderson, who spoke under the auspices of the O. B. U. on Saturday night and also addressed the open forum at the same hall Sunday night.

Mrs. Henderson suggested that they discuss this question without getting hot headed over it. She said that wherever an Irish man or woman was found anywhere there was the finger of protest pointed at the present conditions. The question was being discussed why there were more troops in Ireland today than at any time during the great war.

HISTORICAL REVIEW.

The speaker then turned back the pages of history and told of the very old civilization of Ireland at a time when the common law of Britain was laid down. During the tribal days the chiefs were elected by both the men and the women. There was an election every year. No land was held in perpetuity, not even by the king. There was a communal system based on the needs of the people. There was no landed aristocracy at that time.

In those early days the Irish were great in arts and crafts, and mining and smelting was practiced there as early as in the year 1500. They were great in letters and Ireland sent her scholars out into the world and they were known everywhere. Ireland was then a land of saints and scholars. She sent teachers to the Picts, to Florence, to Yorkshire, to Germany. People from other countries came to her schools and all her schools were free. The only person honored more highly than the King was the teacher.

CONQUERED BY ENGLAND.

In 1170 England invaded Ireland and conquered the country, and as had been humorously said she had been conquering it ever since. Ireland then became a vassal state without political or industrial rights. The industries of the country were destroyed and she told of one occasion when 90,000 wool-makers were turned out of the mills through the action of the English.

The country was not allowed to import and export except at the will of the English. The rights of Catholics were taken from them and they were not allowed to vote and it became a crime to do almost anything. As a result of the policy of repression the population of Ireland dwindled from eight and half millions to four and a half millions today. So poor were the people now as a result of this policy that parents in Ireland were often kept by the children who had emigrated.

HOME RULE.

In 1914 the Home Rule bill was passed but owing to the outbreak of war there was a suspensory clause inserted. The people of the country, all except a little group in the north, were ready to fight against the Germans for freedom.

Mrs. Henderson told how Sir Edward Carson defied the British Government. He went to Germany, she alleged, and was feasted, wined and dined and came back to Ireland with the Kaiser's picture in his pocket. Von Kuhlmann also was the guest of the Orange Lodges and gave them his picture as a souvenir.

DID HER PART.

Ireland did her part loyally in the war. She sent 300,000 men to the war, according to figures given by the editor of the Manchester Guardian. Practically all the youth of the land went. It was also said that 65 per cent of the American Army was either Irish or of Irish descent.

When Ireland was betrayed, said the speaker, she wondered what was going to happen. Men of the south were put in jail for doing the same thing that Sir Edward Carson did. Then the Irish people began to ask what they were fighting for. The men had gone to fight for self-determination for small nations. They said that what was good for Belgium was good for Ireland.

MAJORITY RULE.

Mrs. Henderson then told of the election when practically all the country went Sinn Fein. They believed in the right of the majority to rule. She asked by what divine right should a small part of Ireland say "We shall rule over you." This was not a religious question. There was no quarrel between the Irish and the English or the Scotch. She alleged, however, that the atrocities in Ireland had been unequalled by the Germans. She quoted Erskine Childers on the atrocities in Ireland. She said that there had been raping of women and shooting of men. She quoted from Mr. Asquith and others in regard to these and told of particular incidents. She pictured the jails where political prisoners were confined. They were fighting for the right of the majority to rule.

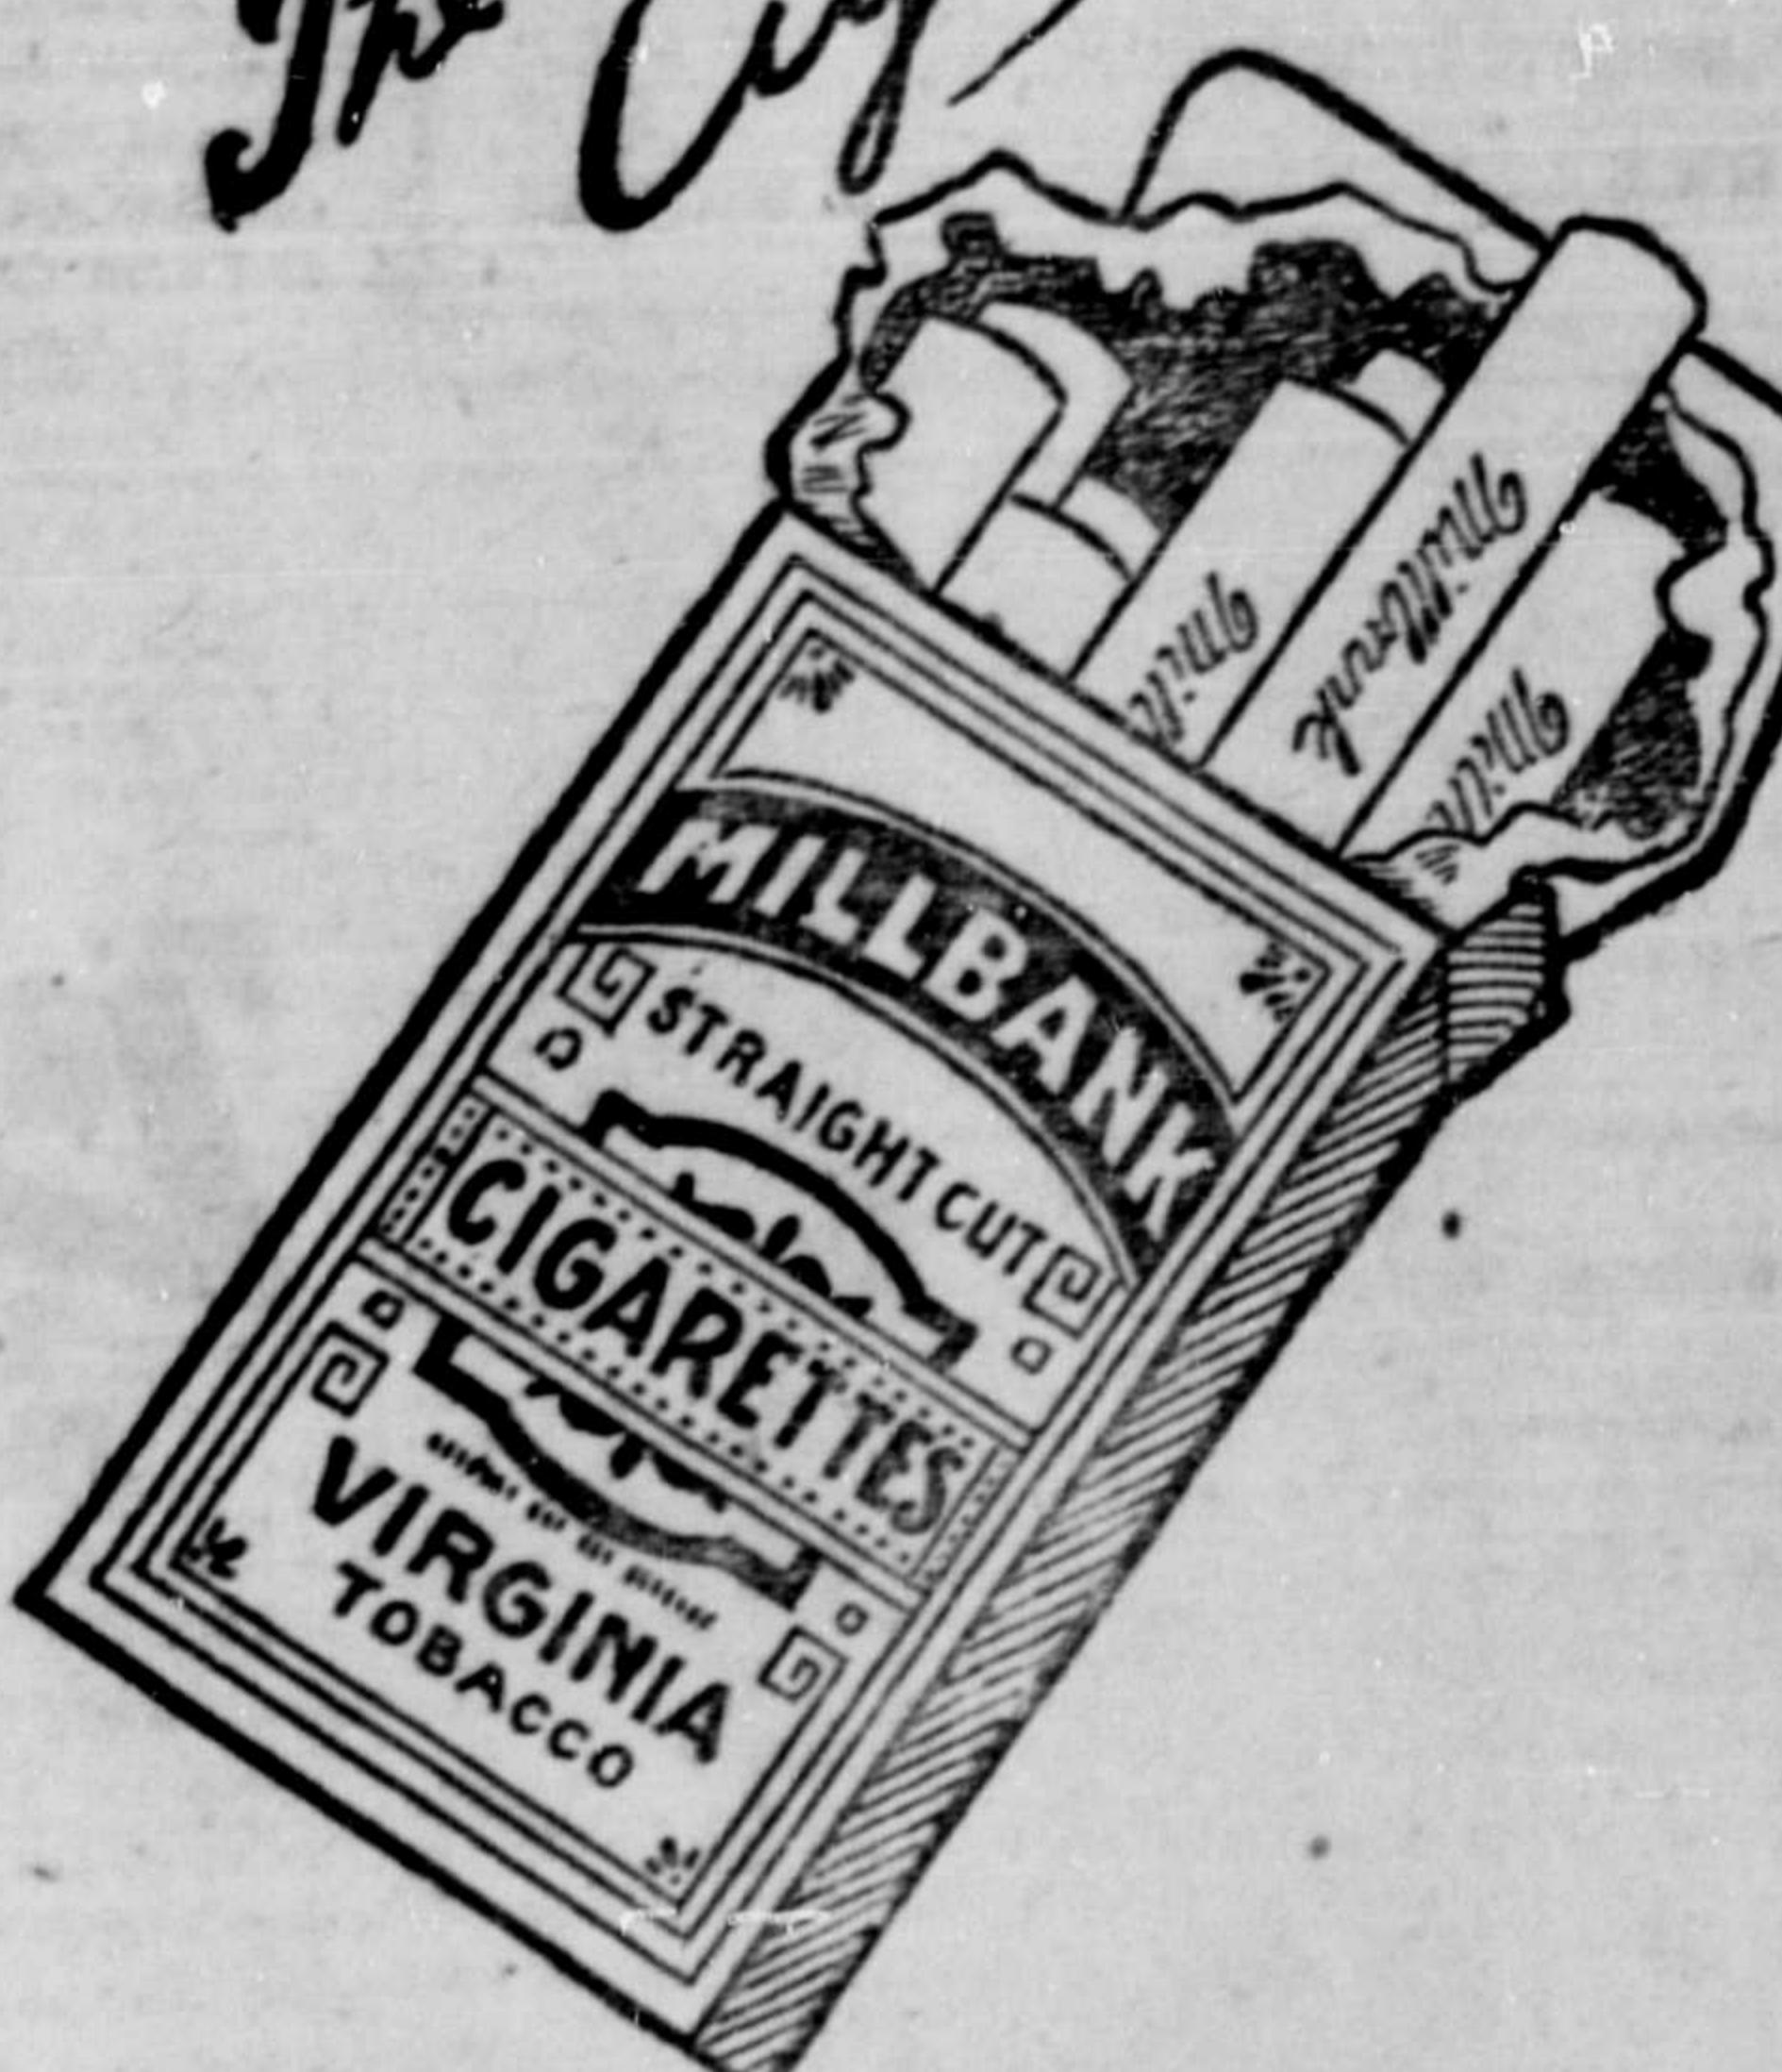

MR. URQUHART.

A. Urquhart gave a short address in which he said he had just recently returned from a convention at Ottawa where it had been decided to organize and raise funds in Canada to help the Irish people. There had been no blacker page in history than that of the English in Ireland. The rule of Britain there today was just as barbarous as ever. He was a Britisher himself.

They had decided to link up with the labor movement or with any other that could help them. He was here now for the purpose of organizing, which they proceeded to do. W. H. Montgomery presided.
