BETHMAN-HOLLWEG, KAISER'S FACTOTUM, WON'T PUT UP WITH CROWN PRINCE

RESIGNATION OF GERMANY'S CHANCELLORCrown Prince Butts in, for Which Hollweg Won't Stand—Prussians to Have Equal Voting Rights.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Berne, Switzerland, July 13.—The Berlin newspapers state that Bethmann-Hollweg, the Chancellor, has resigned. The Emperor William has postponed his decision whether to accept the Chancellor's resignation. The Chancellor's resignation is generally believed to have resulted from the Crown Prince's intervention. An official communication issued in Berlin yesterday says that the Emperor William expressed the opinion that the political and constitutional reforms demanded by the Reichstag are such that they concern not merely himself, but his successor, inasmuch as they would be permanent.

Summoned Crown Prince.

For this reason the Emperor summoned the Crown Prince to attend one or more of the Crown Councils at which the final decisions regarding the extent to which the Crown and Government shall make concessions to the Reichstag will be reached.

The Emperor had an interview lasting several hours, with Hollweg yesterday, and received his report on the political situation. The Kaiser notified Hollweg that a bill will be submitted to the Prussian Diet supplementing and carrying out the reforms proposed in his Easter announcement. This was for equal voting rights in Prussia.

FOOD PRICES
FOUND NOT
JUSTIFIABLEActing Cost of Living Commissioner Says Prices Should Forthwith Decline—
Must Eat Less.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Ottawa, July 13.—The acting Commissioner of the High Cost of Living Commission finds that there are great stocks of beef, ham, bacon, mutton and lamb for which the present prices are not justifiable. He says that the prices should forthwith decline. Cheese is the only commodity of which the stock is too low.

Must Eat Less.

Mr. W. J. Hanna, the Food Controller, says that the consumption of wheat, beef, and bacon in the Dominion must be reduced at least one third to meet the needs of the Allied armies and the people.

Conscription.

Penalties are provided for, and slackers will be taken care of under the Military Service Bill. It is possible that the first classes may be called out together.

DANGEROUS LEGISLATION

The city council is passing a bylaw for the purpose of prohibiting any erstwhile resident of Comox Avenue from keeping a rooming house. Apart from the legality of such a bylaw it would appear to be about the last word in the history of intolerance and human condemnation, because they have made their living in a disreputable way, although approved of by society, they shall not now be permitted to earn their livelihood by keeping a rooming house, when probably that is the only respectable occupation open to them; you will not accept them as governesses for your children, nor as teachers in your schools, nor even as clerks in your stores. Even if you were willing to so accept them probably our city council would pass bylaws precluding them from accepting these occupations. What are they to do? A very kindly disposed person has suggested that the city council have them gassed, or in as much as they are human beings, chloroformed. I approve of the suggestion in preference to the alternative of condemning them to starve to death. The only result of this legislation will be to compel these girls to ply their former trade by devious means. Then our city fathers will hold up their clean hands and say, "These girls are entirely perverse." While the evil in reality would be continued by reason of their own iniquitous bylaw. Close the line by all means, but do not deny its denizens the right to earn an honest living because of fear that that right may be abused. If it is abused punish the wrongdoer. Prince Rupert is not so large that it cannot be taken care of by an efficient police staff. In a free country no person should be prohibited by law from engaging in any legitimate occupation. I believe this legislation is wrong in principle, and is a step back towards slavery.

COAL MINING IS IN FULL SWING AGAIN

Ottawa, July 12.—Mr. W. H. Armstrong, of Vancouver, who is in charge of the operation of the British Columbia and Alberta coal mines, District 18, for the Government, arrived in Ottawa today to consult with the authorities.

Mr. Armstrong states that the work is progressing in the mines satisfactorily, and in two weeks' time he expects the largest mines to be working full capacity. The men are working hard to make up for lost time in the coal output.

All danger of a coal famine, as far as these mines are concerned, is passed. The chief difficulty at present is the securing of sufficient cars for distribution. Mr.

Armstrong will take up with the railway commission the question of securing an adequate supply of cars.

The men have returned to work on the basis of the agreement reached by Mr. R. F. Green, M. P., which is proving satisfactory.

Tientsin, July 13.—The Republican forces aggregating an army of over seventy thousand men are entrenching themselves around Peking, the capital. They are well armed with artillery and have already got seventy guns in position to bombard the city. The remnants of the forces under General Chang Hsun are preparing defences inside the city, and are apparently prepared to fight to the last. The European diplomatic corps still occupy their respective legations and communication with the outside is for the present cut off.

A WEDDING AT LUCY
ISLAND LIGHTHOUSE

On Sunday morning, July 8, at 8 o'clock, a wedding took place at Lucy Island Lighthouse. Miss Alice Couture, sister-in-law of Mr. J. S. O. Ouellette, the light-keeper on the island, became the bride of Mr. Leon Blain, formerly of Prince Rupert and late of Anyox, B.C. The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Father J. Hartmann, O. M. J., of Anyox. Mr. Gilles Couture, of Prince Rupert, gave his sister away and Mr. E. Blain, of Anyox, stood up with his brother, the bridegroom. The wedding party were conveyed across to the island on the Saturday night by Captain Newcombe of the "Dixie," and a few other friends were also present for the occasion.

Miss Couture, previous to her marriage, has been the teacher of the light-keeper's children for the past three years and the children will regret very much to see her go away. The newly wedded couple will spend their honeymoon in the East and will visit Coaticook, the old home of the bridegroom. Miss T. Ouellette will accompany them on the trip East, where she will pursue her studies in a convent. After a couple of months, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Blain will probably make their home in Prince Rupert.

It takes more than one visit to learn of the many bargains at Wallace's Sale.

British Losses.

The total British casualties resulting from the German success near Nieuport in their endeavor to break through towards Dunkirk, number eighteen hundred, including prisoners. Yesterday, the German dispatch claimed they had taken twelve hundred and fifty prisoners, but these figures are not yet confirmed. The extreme intensity of the enemy's artillery fire on the Nieuport front is now diminished. Our artillery continues active.

French Front.

Paris, July 13.—After a violent bombardment, the Germans tried several surprise attacks during the night on both banks of the Meuse. Each attack was repulsed. Attacks of a local character on the Aisne front were also repulsed with loss.

Russian Front.

Petrograd, July 13.—The Russian troops have captured Kalusz, which heretofore has been the headquarters of the enemy in Galicia. The Russians continue to advance and have taken a large number of prisoners. The occupation of the town was effected after a sanguinary battle. This town lies twenty-eight miles south east of Strij, which is on the railroad line leading to Lemberg. The fall of Lemberg, the capital of Galicia, is now only a matter of days, if the terrific Russian sweep now unfolding itself maintains its present force.

Washington, July 13.—The Roumanian army has been reorganized and will soon be able to participate in the general allied offensive.

A Minister of Reconstruction.

While every valuable word of guidance for the great problem of reconstruction after the war should receive every attention, there is no justification for a pessimistic outlook, says the Toronto Globe. In the London Observer, Mr. J. L. Garvin makes an urgent plea for the immediate appointment of a Minister of Reconstruction, with authority to prepare for the many problems attendant on the "outbreak of peace." His advice is sound, both for Britain and Canada, and while his brief sketches of the problems are in no case overdrawn, they may create an exaggerated and consequently a needlessly alarming estimate of the material loss to be made good. In time of peace the world lives "from hand to mouth." There is not much room for slipping backward, however long the war may continue. Four years production is estimated as the world's greatest accumulation of wealth. We are now smashing our enemies with metals and minerals that were sleeping in the ground when the war broke out. We are provisioning our troops with last year's harvest, and clothing them with wool that was but recently clipped. To do all this we are not going into debt to the planet Mars, as some prophets of despair would seem to imagine, but to our own more fortunate accumulators. The material waste and destruction of war loses much of its alarming aspect when it is compared with the waste, destruction, parasitism and loss through enforced idleness and partial employment in time of peace. An illustration that could be multiplied to no end is afforded by the news of a number of man-servants enlisting from a mansion in Britain. In peace their lives would have been economically wasted and they would have consumed as much or more if dancing attendance at home as when serving in the trenches. Industries require a surplus of labor for normal elasticity, and this involves vast waste through involuntary idleness. A glance at the destruction and the loss through suppressed and misdirected effort in ordinary times makes the material losses of war less alarming, and tends to relieve gloomy forecasts.

Mr. Garvin urgently demands that consideration be given the problem of "making work" for the vast army of discharged soldiers. Daily needs make work, and this will continue while man fulfills his destiny on the planet. The returned men will continue consumers, will cease to destroy, and will become producers. In this connection Mr. Garvin seems to discern the economic paradox of want through too many able and willing hands ready to produce all things wanted—of destitution through over-production. Many feel, clearly or dimly, the paradoxical fear that the turning of a great army from destruction to production will cause widespread want. Mr. Garvin's warning comes none too soon. Men in authority who think something should be done must be supplanted at once with men who know what must be done and have courage to do it. There is a ray of hope in the resumption of coal mining in Alberta. In other industries, too, the attitude of stupid helplessness must be ended. The needs of the men in the trenches have been supplied by the men and women at home. The return of these men to industries in which they supply their own wants can be made a calamity by governmental stupidity or a great relief by governmental capacity. Preparations for peace have certainly been delayed too long. Paralyzing timidity regarding the money of the profiteers and the votes of those whom they let work must be ended. A minister with a reconstruction policy is an immediate need.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Never since the time of Confederation, has such a test of the statesmanship of the leaders of the people of Canada been made as that which is in course at the present time. Greater action is demanded of the times than the putting into force of the Military Service Bill. That is but a half-measure. The Premier gave the assurance that all the resources of Canada would be employed in

MINERAL ACT

NOTICE TO DELINQUENT PARTNER

To C. W. Calhoun: Take notice, whereas I have done and caused to be done assessment work on the Midnight Fraction mineral claim, situated on the Illiance river, about fourteen miles from the head of Alice Arm, in the Skeena mining division of Skeena district, assessment work for 1914, 1915, and 1916, and have paid for said work and recording same the sum of $387.50. Unless you pay me the sum of $102.50, for your share of the said assessment work, together with the cost of this advertisement, I shall, at the expiration of ninety (90) days from the date hereof apply to the mining recorder at Prince Rupert, B. C., to have your interests in the Midnight Fraction mineral claim vested in me, in pursuance of the provisions of the mineral act. Dated at Prince Rupert, B. C., this 11th day of April, 1917. Jy 11 more money is required. For the sum of $21.50 invested now in a War Savings Certificate, in three years' time it will be worth $25. This is receiving interest at more than 5 per cent. Those who cannot go to the front, can at least lend the Government $21.50. It is a paying investment.

The feeling that the distribution of the burden of war has not been even over all classes of the community is one which is becoming general throughout Canada. It is so general that it cannot be ignored and the issue must be faced. When it is necessary that all the resources of the country, both capital and labor, should be employed with all their energies in the service of the nation, the protest of the Labor leader, Mr. Watters, against the compulsion upon men to work for the gain of the private profiteer is neither reckless nor unpatriotic.

FORESTRY BATTALION IN GREAT BRITAIN

A recent issue of the Carlisle Journal received in town carries a very interesting article on the Canadian Forestry Battalion. The headquarters of No. 2 District is located at Orton Park, just south of Carlisle in the North of England. Captain G. B. Hull of No. 17 Company is stationed there. His company is engaged in producing lumber from 159 acres of Scots fir on the Dalston Hall estate, which is adjacent.

Captain Hull with 30 men arrived on the ground on February 3rd, and were allowed five weeks to get ready. A clearing had to be made, camps built and the sawmill erected, but in twenty-five days, they had the mill sawing lumber. By the end of May more men were there and they were turning out 30,000 feet per day, all ready to be rushed to the front although 12,000 feet was all that was expected of them.

The Canadian methods of lumbering and the manner in which difficulties were overcome seem to strike the border people as the acme of ingenuity. The comments on the way our boys have of "getting there" are most interesting. They have built miles of railroad through the woods to bring the logs to the mill. The machinery of the mill is driven by steam, and to get a continuous supply of water they dammed up a distant watercourse, and installed a small ram to meet the situation. The buildings erected by Captain Hull's men are said to have "a typically Canadian aspect." Mrs. Hull is also in England engaged in hospital work at the Lord Kitchener Memorial Hospital in Brighton.

Lieut.-Col. Smythe, who is in command of District No. 2, is a member of the Dominion House for Algoma. In this district, Forestry work is also being done at Whittingham, Castle-Douglas, and Netherby in Scotland. It is a district full of historical interest, and being on the borders of both Scotland and England, figures largely in the history and ballads of both countries. Carlisle is a large fine city and has a famous old castle, whence the Bold Buccleugh rescued his kinsman, Kinmont Willie, the greatest freebooter of his time, from Lord Serope, the English Warden of the Marches. Netherby again, brings back recollections of "Young Lochinvar, who came out of the West."

But the boys there will have little time to live in the past. The duties of the present are all absorbing.

"You see that man in the mill," remarked an officer, "he works like a slave, but if you reckon him up in pounds, you would have to say about £100,000. He owns one of the biggest sawmills on the Pacific Coast."

Like the rest of the Canadians, concludes the article, he is doing

Where You Cannot Prophecy — PREPARE !

NOT even the best-informed man in government or business circles dares to attempt a prophecy of conditions after the war. We hope for the best—meantime wise men are preparing now for anything.

How ?

By regulating their expenditures according to their actual needs rather than by their prosperity—by husbanding the surplus—and by investing to the limit in Canadian War Loans that help so much to maintain present prosperity.

Money saved and loaned to Canada by Canadians is a two-fold safeguard for the future. The lenders will benefit directly from the excellent interest return and absolute security—and indirectly because the interest thus kept in Canada will help to keep business good after the war.

Canadian War Savings Certificates are issued in denominations of $25, $50 and $100, repayable in three years. At the purchase prices of $21.50, $43 and $86 respectively, they yield over 5% interest. Buy them at any Bank or Money Order Post Office.

WESTHOLME THEATRE

Tonight there will be shown that great old stage favorite, East Lynne, at the Westholme Theatre. This is one of the plays that seems perennial. Although many years since its first production, it can command huge audiences wherever it is staged. This old drama of English country life loses nothing of its charm in the pictures. All the dramatic and literary force of the play is retained and the scope of the story is increased along lines only possible in moving pictures. Theda Bara, the great actress, is the star. She is an actress to her finger tips, and all those who have seen her previously, will want to see her enact her part of the vampire in this play.

A Gazette and a comedy are also included in the programme.
