THE AUSTRIAN ARMIES THROWN BACK IN THE CARPATHIANS

RUSSIANS CAPTURE TOWN OF DOLINA THIRTY MILES FROM LEMBERG—WHOLE OF THE RUSSIAN FRONT FROM RIGA TO ROUMANIA ALIVE WITH BATTLE—REINFORCEMENTS BEING RUSHED

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, July 17.—The occupation by the Russians of the Galician town of Dolina is reported. The Austrian army under General Boethmermolis is said to be thrown back upon the Carpathians. Dolina is an important Galician centre and is another of the key cities around Lemberg, which lies thirty miles to the north.

Germans Active.

The whole Russian front from the Gulf of Riga to Roumania is reported to be alive with battle. The Germans are said to be rushing up from the Italian and the French fronts all the men that can be spared and are entirely rearranging their positions. The Russian Baltic fleet is being prepared for action. On the northern front near Riga, German reinforcements are rushing up by sea transports. On the Lemberg front troops are being shifted back and forth by means of heavy automobiles in an attempt to prevent the further advance by Korniloff. On the southern front in the Carpathians, the Austrians are said to be in full flight. The Russians yesterday captured 16 officers and 1,000 Austro-Germans in the battle in Eastern Galicia, and also a number of machine guns. The Russians have captured 36,643 prisoners during the past fourteen days.

British Front.

London, July 17.—Hostile raids were repulsed last night with loss to the enemy northwest of Fataine Les Croisilles and in the neighborhood of Armentieres. We made a successful raid near Oppy and captured a few prisoners.

French Front.

Paris, July 17.—The hard fighting of the last few days along the French front in Northern France continues. The French on Saturday night took a strongly fortified position in the vicinity of Post Monthaut and Teton in Champagne.

U. S. Mobilize.

Washington, July 17.—The National Guard is mobilizing today. The entire force will soon be ready for overseas. It will comprise over one hundred and twenty five thousand men.

The six hundred and forty million Aviation Bill passed the House on Saturday. It will provide for a fleet of twenty-two thousand aeroplanes.

U-Boats Destroyed.

London, July 17.—According to a report from a German source, four of the largest and most modern of the German submarines were destroyed by American warships convoying the American troops to France.

German Spies.

Germany is sending seven hundred German spies into Russia to attempt the assassination of Kerensky, Brusiloff and other leaders, according to information obtained by the Russian Intelligence Department.

The Fishery Regulations for District No. 2 were revised recently as the result of the delegation from Prince Rupert visiting Ottawa. The B. C. Cannery Association would like this revision nullified, and they have persuaded the government to appoint a commission to visit District No. 2. Prince Rupert is the centre of District No. 2, but it seems that the commission intends taking the evidence of the Cannery Association in the south and not till after their visit here. The Cannery Association are the plaintiffs in this case, and their case ought to be heard first.

The conditions unsuitable to the cannerymen exist in this district. The Commission came to investigate into these conditions in this district. Just because the headquarters of the cannerymen are in New Westminster or Victoria is hardly a reason for the fishermen having to send representatives south. If the headquarters of the Cannery Association were in London, England, would the Fisheries Commission proceed thither to take their evidence?

FISHERIES COMMISSION COMING TO PRINCE RUPERT

At the close of the city council meeting last night, Ald. Montgomery made a statement regarding the result of his attendance at the meeting of the Fisheries Commission held in New Westminster last week. He reported that the fishermen on the Fraser river refused to give evidence at this sitting of the commission, as the cannerymen were not going to state their case until after the commission returned from its visit up the coast. Ald. Montgomery had intended attending the sittings of the commission at Rivers Inlet, but could not be accommodated on the boat, which was the only one available.

In view of the fact that this commission is investigating the conditions existing in District No. 2, of which Prince Rupert is the centre, it was felt that the proper thing was for the commission to take the evidence of the cannerymen in Prince Rupert, instead of their evidence being taken outside of the locality wherein the alleged adverse conditions existed. A resolution was passed that the city council take steps to get the evidence of the cannerymen taken here, instead of the fishermen having to send a representative to the south.

THE NEWEST MEMBER OF CANADIAN ARISTOCRACY

Ottawa, July 6.—With the best part of the world fighting for democracy and Canada pouring out her blood and treasure in the same cause, it is interesting to note what the Borden Government has been doing to aristocratize this country. No previous government made so many knights or raised so many social banners with a view to setting up class distinctions in what ought to be a free and equal land.

People have been content so far to view knighthood as a pleasant reward for those who care for that sort of thing. If it pleased a rich man to have one, or, what is more to the point, if it pleased his wife, why, let him have his toy. It stopped when he died, and perhaps it did no harm. Lately, however, it has become plain that knighthood, as handled by the Borden Government, is something more serious than a silver cup for a good boy. It seems to have a purpose behind it, and that purpose to turn the eyes of our leaders of thought, finance and industry away from Canada. Knights have sprung up everywhere like mushrooms. The banks, the railways, the bench, journalism, high finance are plastered with them. We have now in Canada a titled aristocracy of some one hundred and fifty persons, not to mention the large number of minor decorations which do not carry a title with them, but do carry the snuffing spirit.

As if knighthood—which, to give it its due, cometh up like the grass and withereth in good time—as if knighthood was not bad enough, the Borden Government has gone in for the hereditary stuff. The last honr list included seven knights and one baronet. In the last two years Canada has produced two barons and two baronets—a strange and sinister harvest for this democratic soil.

Our most recent baronet is Sir Joseph Flavelle. Sir Joseph is Chairman of the Imperial Munitions Board, and one whom the Borden Government delights to honor. Sir Joseph made a great deal of his money in the pork business. He will probably be known to fame as the butcher baronet. He is also the unofficial food controller of Canada and (Continued on Page Three).

COMMITTEES REPORT TO THE CITY COUNCIL

At the meeting of the city council held last night in the council chambers, a report from the board of works committee was read, which contained a recommendation from the city engineer that a special casting be ordered according to specifications, for the joining up of the disconnected water pipe crossing Shawatians Passage. This casting will be of the nature of a stuffing box. One part will be slipped over each end of the disconnected pipe and packed, then both ends will be brought together and screwed tight. This system is thought to be as good as any other. The report was adopted.

A Diving Helmet.

Arising out of and regarding the above operation, the finance committee reported on a recommendation from the city engineer that a new diving helmet be purchased by the city at a cost of $280. This helmet specified would be a thoroughly modern one, with a telephone attachment, whereby the diver could speak to his attendants up above, and would be a great improvement over the one at present available. There was some discussion as to the advisability of the city purchasing an entirely new diving outfit, instead of merely the helmet. This would cost $800 or possibly more these days. At present it was thought that the new helmet would be sufficient. This report was also adopted.

Re Telephone Appointments.

The special committee to deal with the appointment of telephone operators, two of whom are required at present, was also received. This report recommended that the first name on the waiting list be accepted and that Miss Beatrice Killen, whose father was at the front, receive the other appointment. It was also recommended that the waiting list of applications for the telephone office be abolished and that when a vacancy occurs on the staff, that the position be advertised in the regular way as in other departments. This report was adopted.

Re Electric Heaters.

The board of works committee reported that the required number of electric heaters for the telephone office be purchased at the cost of $35 each. These will be necessary for the telephone office particularly during the night, when the steam heat goes down. Under the present arrangement, the way the city hall is piped for steam heat, it would entail the heating of the whole building at the same time uselessly to keep the telephone office warm overnight. In the interests of economy, the city council adopted this report also.

Clifford Kershaw, aged sixteen years, arrived in the city the other day and took up his residence at the Occidental Rooms. He appeared before Magistrate Carrs this morning in the police court. His home is in Leeds, Yorkshire, where he left recently and worked his passage across the Atlantic to Norfolk, Virginia. From there he travelled to Edmonton and finally he came to Prince Rupert. Being in need of a change of underclothing after his journey, he helped himself to somebody else's, and slashed the side of a locked suitcase in doing so. The case was adjourned.

Word has been received in town that Kaspar Knutson was accidentally drowned on Saturday night at the Tellico Cannery at Bella Coola.

INTRODUCES EXTENSION RESOLUTION

Premier Will Introduce Resolution Extending Life of the Present Parliament for Another Year.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Ottawa, July 16.—The Conservatives held a caucus at noon today. The question of extension was the only matter that was discussed. The Liberals who voted in favor of conscription were also convened. At the conclusion of the latter meeting, Mr. Pardee stated that there was no announcement to be made.

Premier Borden will introduce his extension resolution this afternoon. It is expected that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will oppose the motion. This week promises to be a momentous one, as the fate of this resolution of the Premier's will decide the question of an election this fall.

Montreal Demonstration.

Montreal, July 17.—Laverne is still going around agitating. A monster meeting has been convened by Mayor Martin regarding the Military Service Bill, and will petition the Government against putting the act into force. The windows of two Quebec papers were smashed by some unruly members of the demonstration.

WORK AT HIGHLAND BOY AND THE DELTA MINES

With the good outlook at the Rocher de Boule mine those interested in the Delta and Highland Boy properties which adjoin it have become very confident that their ore shoots will continue down to the same levels. Supt. Clement is getting things ready to resume operations in a very short time. He has very little to do to get the machinery and the tram running and will be ready by the time the road is fit to use. He has a gang working on the road from the end of the Highland Boy tramline to connect up with the main road. The government has a gang working up the Juniper Creek road.

Besides the large amount of ore blocked out in the Highland Boy, the men doing surface work on the Delta, have uncovered six feet of good ore and this increases the confidence of the superintendent that ore will be encountered soon after the Delta vein is cut by the tunnel which is now in two hundred feet. The company will then have a great deal of ground to work.

The Delta and Highland Boy are both higher up the mountain than the Rocher de Boule and if their veins continue to the same level as the Rocher de Boule is now operating, they will have a thousand feet greater depth.—Omineca Herald.

A tender from the Canadian General Electric Company was opened at the city council meeting last night for the supply of power meters. The price of 5 and 10 ampere meters was $39.75 and for 25 ampere meters the price would be $46 f.o.b. Prince Rupert. The matter was referred to the purchasing committee for report.

NATIONAL ORGANIZATION

The Military Service Bill will probably emerge from the Committee stage different in important details from the first draft. Changes in the classifications in favor of married men, of minors, and of men beyond the age maximum military fitness have been proposed and will be considered by the Government. The personnel of the tribunals and the principles upon which exemptions from military service will be based are even of more consequence. There must be no loophole through which favoritism or pull or patronage may creep into the administration of the Act. Public confidence in its absolute impartiality must be established.

The Military Service Bill is purely military in its scope and objects. It may be amended so as to satisfy every critic, but it deals with only one side of the war problem. Except in the development of munitions industries, which has been chiefly the result of private enterprise, only a beginning has been made in the economic organization of the country for war purposes. The first step should have been a scheme of taxation which would have made wealth pay its just share, but new revenue was found by the old device of taxing consumption. Nearly the whole weight fell upon the less well-to-do classes in the increased cost of necessities. The first period of the war was one of inordinate profits and sudden riches for the few, and hardship for the many. The scandal of it drove the Finance Minister to a profits tax after newly-made fortunes had escaped scot-free. In the third year of the conflict accumulated wealth is still untouched. The Government has refused to use the greatest instrument of war finance in Great Britain and the United States—the income tax. Recently it has shown signs of repentance, and possibly before the return of peace it will have the courage to discharge a duty which has been shamefully shirked.

Not only in finance, but in other spheres much remains to be done. The appointment of Food and Fuel Controllers is a welcome substitute for the Ministerial speeches extolling the law of supply and demand. If their powers are used fearlessly they can do much to check waste, to regulate distribution, and prevent excessive tolls on the highway between the producers and consumers. The needs of the Allies can only be supplied by drastic economies in foodstuffs in Canada and the United States.

There are other and even larger caesures of national organization which should have been undertaken as a groundwork for military conscription. The problem of food production, because of its vital relation to the war, is one for sweeping and vigorous action by the State. In Ontario this year an organization has to be improvised to meet an emergency which should have been foreseen. The Federal authorities should lay plans for 1918 with the object of aiding the farmers and extending the area of cultivation. The mobilization of labor for agricultural industries was the ostensible aim of the National Service campaign, but the scheme proved a fiasco, mainly because the Government had no plans for utilizing for national service the labor placed at its disposal. The workingmen, while responding loyally to the appeal, felt that the project required sacrifices only from their own class. They have been demanding, with increasing emphasis, that there shall be legislation to distribute more equitably the burdens of the war. If the country is to exert its whole strength for the great cause capital and labor must be diverted from non-essential to essential industries so far as it can be done without injustice, and capital must be content with strictly limited profits. In fact there must be an extension of State control to spheres in which the old system of private selfishness is still in full swing. The people look to Parliament to work out a national program which will put the country on a genuine war footing, and bring the realities of the world struggle home to all classes.—Toronto Globe.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The internal trouble has started in Germany. This has been looked for some time past. The Emperor William and the Junker class have been sitting on the lid for long enough. The Emperor realizes, if the Junkers do not, what will be the natural result of resisting the increasing internal pressure. The explosion in Russia which brought about the downfall of Czarism and the bureaucrats there, was an object lesson, which Prussian aristocrats, if they may be called so, do not want to learn. They are all powerful in the Prussian Diet and are resisting the passage of the reforms asked for by Wilhelm. So the press dispatch reads. The next thing will be that Wilhelm will be turning Socialist.

Further developments will be awaited with interest regarding the little argument that has arisen between Mr. J. W. Flavelle and the Cost of Living Commissioner, O'Connor. Mr. Flavelle seems to be mightily perturbed, as he took care to wire his side of the case to The Daily News, and, we suppose, every other newspaper in Canada. The general public, of course, will prefer to believe that Mr. Flavelle's firm have made no undue profits, and are in no way responsible for the upward tendency of food prices, even though the High Cost of Living Commissioner does say that the firm made five million dollars off bacon alone during the past year. Judging from the price of bacon, there has been a rake-off somewhere. Who got it, if not the William Davies Company?

During the committee discussion of the Military Service Bill in Parliament the question of the soldiers' pay was brought up. It was contended that the man who went to fight should at least be paid as well as the laborer who stayed at home. According to Sir Herbert Ames, this was "nonsense," the inadequacy of the pay of the fighting man. He calculated that the average married man at the front was getting $96 per month. Into this he took the food and clothing of the soldier. Also the allowance from the Patriotic Fund. With which, of course, the Government has nothing to do. That the calculation is not so near the mark as it might be is evident. In pre-war days, $96 might do to feed and clothe a bunch of kiddies, but nowadays it is some problem.

does more than any other man to make the price for the necessities of life.

The dispatches from London said that Sir Joseph was made a baronet on account of his services to the British Empire. And that may well be, although we do not see that a man, who is booked to make millions out of his beef stew contract with the British army, can be said to give his services for love alone. Here in Canada we prefer to believe that Sir Joseph got his title for his elevating influence on everything he touches, not only men and affairs, but food products. If eggs are fifty cents a dozen at the height of the laying season and a dollar at Christmas, if cheese is thirty cents a pound and bacon fifty put it down to the elevating influence of Sir Joseph Flavell. Sir Joseph is some elevator. What he has done in the way of elevating during the last three years makes the ordinary elevator man look sick.

Sir Joseph's career is an inspiration to the young men of this country. What a story it would make for the movies! From sausages to shells—from one high explosive to another. From Sauages to Peasage. From the Dark Ages to the Sausages. That will be about enough. Any one with a lively fancy can play with the subject.

Sir Joseph's full name is Joseph Wesley Flavell. When he became a baronet many people thought he would choose his middle name to adorn the page of history and be known as Sir Wesley Flavell. But Sir Joseph felt that his piety was sufficiently advertised already. So Sir Joseph it is.

Joseph is a name of high import. By some Sir Joseph's choice of it in preference to the sacred name of Wesley is considered significant. The original Joseph was a public man, the prime minister of Pharaoh—he can show for the king. Sir Joseph is said at one time or another to have aspired, if not to be premier, at least to manage him.

The original Joseph was also a food controller—but he tackled it from the other end. He controlled food not for the profit of the middleman, but for the benefit of the consumer. He stored enough corn during seven fat years to keep the people nourished during seven lean years. If I remember my bible right, he gave the food away. That was cold storage working at its best. While Sir Joseph has not made a similar experiment so far, it is possible that some time in the near future he may emulate his great namesake and so regulate the price of bacon that a poor man can have it for breakfast at least once a week.—H. F. Gadsby.

The case against Wm. Thornton was dismissed in the police court this morning. He was charged with "rolling" a man in the Windsor Hotel.

The reading of reports from the city treasurer and the superintendent of utilities regarding the capital outlay incurred in the moving of the telephone department to the city hall incurred some criticism at the council meeting last night. Ald. McClymont found that the payroll for the light department was $950. This utility could not afford such a sum, and if it were continued, he thought that it would put it in the hole. Aldermen Montgomery, McRae, and Dybhavn also spoke and the reports were held over for another week.

RUMORS OF COALITION STILL RIFE IN OTTAWA

Ottawa, July 16.—The Government has put a sting in the tail of its manhood conscription bill when the solicitor-general moved an extra clause containing three sections and a number of subsections to the measure. This clause is an answer to the threats of defiance against the measure which have been voiced in the press and public throughout the Dominion, and especially in Quebec, since the announcement of conscription was made. It provides for heavy penalties, including fines, and imprisonment, as punishment for those who by word or action strive to incite against the enforcement of the act when it becomes law, and the suppression of newspapers which write articles in that tenor.

The reading of the amendment by the solicitor-general elicited from Sir Wilfrid Laurier the remark: "The government might just as well put martial law into force at once." It is obvious that the amendment is designed largely to cope with the Quebec attitude, though a reading of the clause might lead to the belief that it will affect also the attitude of labor as threatened by prominent members of the Trades and Labor Congress.

May Not Exempt Clergy.

The committee got once through the bill and went back to the consideration of contentious clauses left over. An interesting feature, however, was the request of the prime minister to leave over that section which exempts clergy from provisions of the act. Sir Sam Hughes a few days ago raised objections to this exemption, and Mr. Turiff, of Assiniboia, did likewise.

Should this exemption be struck out, it is obvious that young priests of Quebec, sworn to celibacy, will be largely affected by the bill.

Union is Possible.

Meanwhile the outer parliament which makes the corridors its habitat is not idle. Strong rumors have again been revived of a coalition or union. Conservative Liberals are wearing thoughtful faces. In this connection there is an interesting article in The Citizen in which what purports to be an inside view of the political situation is given. The writer predicts that union government will come.

The article also says that Sir Robert Borden has intimated a readiness to retire from the premiership if that will help forward the union movement.

If union comes, it will not be between the two leaders, that much is certain. It will come, if it comes at all, from below upwards. The end of the week may bring interesting and momentous developments in this, the most interesting and momentous political situation since confederation.
