BRITISH MAKE GAINS ON FLANDERS FRONT

DRIVE BY FRENCH CARRIES THEIR LINE FORWARD -- BIG GUN FIRE INCREASING

INCREASED BOMBARDMENT IN FLANDERS

Final of the Great Battle Now Starts Fine Weather—French Troops Make Progress in the Drive.

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, August 6.—The Teutonic armies are still advancing against increased resistance on the Eastern front, but they are slowly being forced back by the irresistible pressure of the Entente masses in the west.

Gains Made.
Gains were made by the British on the Flanders front on Friday, when the village of St. Julian was re-occupied. This was followed by an advance by the French on their front on Friday night. Notwithstanding the inclement weather, French forces have driven the enemy beyond Kortekker Cabaret, and their lines forward, while their patrols pushed the German posts back and explored considerable areas in advance of the trench positions.

Berlin Report.
Berlin announces an increase in the artillery fire to great violence on the Flanders front. Apparently the renewal of the great battle awaits fine weather.

Russian Front.
The situation on the Russian front continues favorable to the Central Powers, but the Russians appear to be offering a stiffer resistance, particularly along the Carpathian border. The Russians continue to yield ground in the Bukovina and in the Carpathians.

Strikes a Mine.
Amsterdam, August 6.—The Holland-American liner Noordam, bound for Rotterdam, ran upon a mine near the Island of Texel, off the coast of Holland on Friday afternoon. There were no casualties. The liner is still afloat.

STEWART NOTES

Mr. F. Mobley, M. L. A., arrived from Prince Rupert on his launch Sensible accompanied by Mr. R. W. Woods and Mr. W. Wilson, of Fort, who are interested in the proposed mine on Salmon river. An examination of the proposed road towards the mining property mentioned was made. It was understood that Mr. Mobley was very impressed with the mine and of the necessity of improved facilities towards it.

LIBERTY

New York, August 6.—"Liberty," mired upon hardship and sacrifice, can be preserved only by sacrifice and suffering. Eternal struggle is the price of Liberty," declared Senator Root, who has just returned to the United States from Russia.

TENDERS WANTED

Sealed tenders endorsed, "Tenders for building at King Edward School" will be received by the secretary of the school board until 5 o'clock, August 9th, 1917. The grading of part of the school grounds.

Plans and specifications may be seen and forms of tender obtained from the secretary of the Board, or at the office of the City Engineer, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily. The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted. 186 W. D. VANCE, Secretary of School Board.

For dressed lumber of all kinds—Albert & McCaffery. Phone 116.

SITUATION IN THE EAST
The shaded area represents the German gains, and arrows on the right side of the map show where the Roumanians are advancing.

MINING PROGRESS IN THE OMINECA

It is reported that R. O. Jennings has uncovered a lense on his property at Amsbury forty feet wide and which extends for 800 to 1000 feet. The ore is said to carry from 4 to 5 per cent. copper. The lense is in a limestone contact, a characteristic of which is a widening of the ore body as depth is attained. The property is just a few hundred feet from the railway. Mr. Jennings is encouraged to continue the development and his many friends will be pleased if his fondest hopes are realized.

At the Rocher de Boule about sixty men are now employed and more miners and good muckers can be used.

Between 70 and 80 tons of ore per day are being hoisted from the 400-foot level and stoping on that shoot was started this week.

In the long tunnel the work has progressed so that drifting can now be carried on in both directions on three veins and the work shoved ahead with speed. Manager Williams and Mrs. Williams will return from the south next week.

Falconer's crew completed the survey work here this week and left for the Nine Mile mountain work.

Work has been started at the Silver Standard for the installation of a concentrator to handle the ore that has been developed.

W. G. Norrie returned Wednesday night from Seattle, where he was in conference with the owners. The result was that upon Mr. Norrie's report that the mine was ready for the new equipment, the owners advanced the necessary money and instructed him to proceed with the work.

The concentration will be done by flotation, the exact system to be decided upon in a short time by the superintendent. It will have a capacity of fifty tons per day at the start and as required will be added to. Customs ore will be handled and as the district adjoining the Standard has a good deal of milling ore available there is little doubt about the mill being kept going to full capacity.—Omineca Herald.

Judge Robertson, of Prince George is expected to arrive in the city tomorrow night to take the place of Judge Young, who is engaged on the election enquiry commission. Judge Robertson will take three criminal actions on Wednesday morning, and if the accused elect for a speedy trial, he will take the trials immediately.

KERENSKY WILL NOW FORM A NEW CABINET

The Whole Cabinet Has Resigned to Enable Premier to Choose Stronger Men for the Ministry.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Petrograd, August 6.—The political conference held at the Winter Palace passed a resolution declaring its confidence in Kerensky as premier, and inviting him to form his own cabinet. The members of the Cabinet of the Provisional Government have all resigned, so that Premier Kerensky may have a free hand in appointing a ministry from the strongest men in the country. The meetings of this conference will be a great factor in determining the fate of Russia.

The national debt of Russia at the beginning of the war was nine billion roubles. It is now estimated at fifty billion roubles.

Offending.
Silver statues and antiques to the value of one million, five hundred roubles were stolen from the Senate Building early this morning by armed robbers, who declared that the statues of the Romanoff family offended their revolutionary sentiments.

TERRACE NOTES

On Thursday evening, in the Progress Hall, an impromptu dance was given in honor of Mrs. W. J. Smithers, Mrs. McMillan and Mrs. Harper, of Prince Rupert. These ladies were terminating a holiday in Terrace. About thirty couples were present. Music was provided by the Town Band and a joyful evening was spent.

The strawberry season is now practically over in Terrace and district. All the ranchers and gardeners are well pleased with this year's crop. Large shipments have been made east to Edmonton and satisfactory prices have been obtained.

On Saturday evening, in the Progress Hall, an especially enthusiastic and well attended patriotic demonstration was made in commemoration of the third anniversary of the great war. The chairman was the Rev. T. J. Marsh who introduced Mr. Boulton, late of London, England, who had come to Terrace as a substitute of Dr. McNeill. Mr. Boulton gave a very interesting address on the conditions in England and France at the present time, which was very well received. Trophies from the battlefield were displayed, and musical numbers by Miss Kathleen Grant and Dr. Mackie were given. The proceeds were in aid of the Red Cross Society.

At the Presbyterian Church here on Sunday, the service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. Grant, of Prince Rupert. His subject was "The War," as specially requested by the General Assembly.

By kind permission of Captain A. L. Gresson, R. N., the officers and men of H. M. S. "Lancaster" will give an

THE GOVERNMENT AND PRESS CENSORSHIP

Ottawa, July 31.—The main object of the conscriptionists on both sides of politics from now on must be to keep the Borden Government's nose to it. The Military Service Act has lost considerable of its charm for the Government which now seems disposed to view it in the light of a Frankenstein which may destroy its creator. At all events they show signs of backing up.

One of the first signs was their readiness to dispense with the elaborate classification of the bill and put all the single and married men from twenty-one to thirty-five with no ties under one class. This amendment was accepted with great alacrity by the Hon. Arthur Meighen who is willing to share the blame with almost anybody.

Another sign of cold feet was the penalizing clauses for newspapers which might publish anything in the way of criticism of conscription or of the methods which the Government might or might not employ to carry it out. Under pressure of a sturdy public opinion on both sides of the House in favor of free speech Mr. Meighen was obliged to substitute "may" for "shall," so that the suppression of newspapers with ideas of their own is now optional on the part of the Government instead of mandatory as before. Which is to say that we will continue to have an unfettered press in Canada if the Government chooses.

Impartial observers are of the opinion that the Government had better choose a free press or some Canadian Northcliffe may arise who will knock all their heads together. It seems strange at this date that Canada should adopt all the obnoxious features of a press censorship which were eliminated by England when she saw where suppressing the truth landed her. What makes it worse is that Canada has not the same excuse as England because in England there was real danger of conveying information to the enemy through these public channels. But an air tight press censorship in Canada has no excuse but a desire on the part of a decrepit government to stop the other fellow's mouth.

A press censorship such as Mr. Meighen outlines in his famous clauses would not only shut off all criticism of conscription as conscription but also all criticism

NEUTRALS MUST NOT TRADE WITH GERMANY

London, August 3.—Lord Robert Cecil, the Minister of Blockade, emphasized in an interview with the Associated Press today the vital importance to the allies of stopping the trade in iron ore and wood pulp which the Scandinavian countries now are carrying on with Germany.

"You ask me," said Lord Robert, "if the United States is justified in threatening the Scandinavian countries with a stoppage of food supplies unless the ore trade is stopped. There is no question at all that the United States is entitled to act. Whether your country will be justified in so doing is a question which will have to be decided at Washington."

"Certainly it seems here that the United States very properly may ask Sweden whether she wants American products so much that she is willing to forego her profits on trade with Germany."

"Iron ore and wood pulp traffic between Scandinavia and Germany is so important that it is hard to overestimate it. Our military and naval people tell me that without Swedish iron German munition factories would be in a very difficult position. Sweden is exporting directly to Germany the fundamental materials for shells to kill our soldiers and yours."

"It certainly would be a great mistake to neglect any step which might put a halt to a traffic which means, every ton of it, the loss of allied lives."

of any phase of the Government's activities, which might cause prospective conscripts to say that the Borden Government was not worth fighting for. For example, there is the Borden Government's alliance with that great and good man Sir Joseph Flavelle, the pious pork packer—an alliance which is probably as unpopular with Conservatives as it is with Liberals. Sir Joseph, to a larger degree, perhaps than any other man in Canada symbolizes the high cost of living. His alliance with the Borden Government is so close and intimate that there is no dodging it. Sir Joseph and the high cost of living will be a hump on the Borden Government's back when conscription is forgotten. Like the poor—and most of us are poor—the high cost of living is always with us and the poorer we are the more we feel it.

When he returned from England the last time Sir Joseph made a speech whose echoes still reverberate through the land. He said that Canadian business men should be ashamed to make so much money. His sentiments were noble. If I remember rightly he said that all should serve the state for the state's sake and cut out the dividends. He crystallized (Continued on page three.)

GOING TO CURE THE KAISER OF HIS STUTTER

Premier Lloyd George Says Must Be No Next Time for Prussian War Lords—Peace Must Be Conclusive.

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, August 6.—Premier Lloyd George, who has just returned from the Allied Conference in Paris, speaking here today in the Queen's Halls, declared that a bad peace would cause Europe to stagger from one war to another. There must be no next time for the Prussian War Lords. This ghastly war is less grim than would be an inconclusive peace. Great Britain saved Europe from the domination of the Hun, and the gallant troops of the Allies are going to cure the Kaiser of his stutter.

"Determination."

King George, on the third anniversary of the war, sent identical cablegrams to the presidents and sovereigns of the United States, France, Portugal, Italy, Japan, Serbia and Roumania, expressing the "unwavering determination of the British Empire to pursue the contest until our joint efforts are crowned with success, and our common aims attained."

COMMEMORATION OF BEGINNING OF WAR

There was a large gathering at the city hall on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, when the procession started on its way to the Westholme Theatre. The band from the visiting cruiser headed the column, in which were many members of the Red Cross Society and Daughters of the Empire.

On arriving at the theatre, Bishop Du Vernet delivered a striking address on the subject, "Struggle for Democracy against Despotism." The building was filled to capacity, and the proceedings were full of interest. Musical selections were given by the band and a resolution to continue the war to a victorious end was unanimously passed. A collection was taken, the net proceeds of which amounted to somewhere around $35, will be devoted to the Red Cross Society.

TO RATION EUROPE

(Special to The Daily News.)
Washington, August 6.—The American pact with the neutral powers for food supplies under guarantees is about to be attained. The Allies will come first, and if after their demands are met, then the neutrals will receive consideration.

INDUSTRIAL RECONSTRUCTION

Whether this is to be the last great war or not, there is no doubt that the whole world is moving steadily towards sympathetic considerations of the principles of peace. What is true of armed conflict between nations is also true of that more perpetual and insidious kind of warfare, which is commonly supposed to be of more recent origin than the other, but which is really a development of precisely the same tendencies.

Just so soon as purely servile conditions were abolished it must have become obvious that when two people stood in the mutual economic relation of employer and employed, there were only two alternative courses open to them, conflict or co-operation. They would have to co-operate sooner or later if they did not wish to starve. But in the meantime it was open to them, if they had reserves of subsistence to draw upon, to indulge in the ruinous luxury of economic conflict. The accumulated wealth of the whole British Empire has permitted the very free indulgence of this luxury. What has been spent on it within the limits of the Empire would go a long way towards paying the costs of the war. But when the war is over, the loss occasioned by strikes and lockouts will just be the one thing which the Empire as a whole and each constituent part thereof will be the least able to afford.

Keeping these considerations in mind, they have been the primary and practical reasons for the appointment of a Reconstruction Committee by the Government of Great Britain. This Committee has been charged with the task of drafting a scheme which, accepted in essence by the chief organizations of employers and employed, might check internal bleeding and enable the nation to make a good recovery from the external wounds of war.

This Reconstruction Committee has already reported to its Government. It recommends the formation of National, District and Works Councils, on which the organizations of the employers and the employed are to be represented, and allowance is to be made for the merging or co-operation of the existing bodies such as the Conciliation Boards. The new council goes a step further than the conciliation boards. The idea is developed by the anticipation of conciliation by agreement.

"Conciliation implies just the very breakdown in good relations and in national production, which it is our chief object to avoid, and which can be avoided only by a prescient and definite understanding on all disputed points likely to arise."

The question of the future relations of the two constituent divisions of industry, capital and labor, are engaging the attention of both employers and the trade unions all over. The heavy task of reconstruction after the war cannot afford to be embarrassed by disputes. In Canada as in other countries, the best means to avoid such must be undertaken. Whatever scheme is adopted, it will require to be one in which the workmen will perceive an avenue not only towards steadier employment and better earnings, but also toward something, whose price cannot be expressed in terms of wages or even of profit sharing—something the lack of which has been at the foundation of much industrial trouble in many parts—namely, a definite economic status firmly based upon a recognized share in industrial responsibility.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Lord Rhondda, the British Food Controller, has got powers the same as the Admiralty, and the Ministry of Munitions already possess for requisitioning and controlling prices. He will pay a price based upon the cost of production with the addition of pre-war rates of profit, without regard to the price ruling in the open market. Did the Canadian Food Controller do something like this, it is possible that the soldiers' dependents and the rest of us might live a little better.

A contemporary says, "Mr. Justice Galt investigated Mr. Rogers and reported against him. Mr. Rogers came back with a commission which investigated Mr. Jus-

The Waste of War is terrible, but the waste of food in times of peace is colossal. Rich and poor alike eat tons of food that has little food value—and this useless food breaks down the so-called eliminating organs and depletes the physical and mental powers. Shredded Wheat Biscuit is all food, prepared by a process which makes every particle thoroughly digested. It is 100 per cent. whole wheat. Two or three of these Biscuits with milk, make a nourishing meal, supplying the greatest amount of energy at lowest cost. Delicious with sliced bananas, berries or other fruits.

Made in Canada.

Justice Galt's investigation of Mr. Rogers, and found Mr. Galt all wrong and Mr. Rogers all right. Now then, how would it do for another commission to investigate the investigation of the commission which investigated the investigation of Mr. Justice Galt?"

From the Philadelphia Telegraph: Catching tons of fish just to throw them back into the sea is a wasteful business. Yet it has been going on these many years in the great estuaries and shore waters of British Columbia and elsewhere. The war and its attendant food shortage will put a stop to such nonsense. Halibut fishermen are not going to throw overboard any more tons of black cod, red cod and grey cod for which no profitable market has existed before. Some friend of humanity has devised a solution into which these fish can be dipped and so preserved with their full fresh flavor, for as long as two weeks. That means they can be packed without ice (in Prince Rupert) and consumed by epicures in Philadelphia.

it in a phrase "to hell with profits." He left it to be inferred that Sir Joseph Flavelle was working for nothing but a few kind words and a baronetcy—both of which he has since collected.

It now transpires that when Sir Joseph said "to hell with profits" he meant to hell with the other fellow's profits. Sir Joseph's own profits were to be sacred—as sacred as most men's religion which is so sacred that it is rarely talked about. W. K. O'Connor's latest report on the high cost of living shows that Sir Joseph on one bacon contract with the British Government made four and a half million dollars. Of course he sold that enormous quantity of bacon at a much lower price than he does to purchasers by the pound. He made something over five cents a pound on it which gives you some idea of how much more he probably makes on bacon intended for the home market.

A glimpse at the tax returns for last year shows that the Davies Packing Company—which is another of Sir Joseph's aliases—turned into the Dominion treasury $109,623 as its quarter share of profits in excess of seven per cent. That is to say the total profits on which taxes were paid were $471,496. As Sir Joseph is a just man and would not lie about his business profits in Canada it follows that the bacon contract on which he made four and a half million dollars was carried out in some countries where Canadian taxes are not paid—presumably in the United States.

One supposes that it is little transactions like this which the press-gag clauses of the Military Service Act are intended to protect. For certainly nothing could create a stronger feeling against the conscription of flesh and blood than to think that Sir Joseph was left behind to make a huge fortune out of the soldiers' wives and families.

It must be admitted that Mr. Meighen parted with the "shall" part of his gag clauses with regret because the Solicitor-General believes in making people do things whether they like it or not. That is Mr. Meighen's type of mind. He believes that there is a ruling class and that the ruling class ought to rule and those ruled should take their medicine cheerfully. Mr. Meighen has a nickname—he is known as Arbitrary Arthur. If he lived in the Middle Ages he would have taken great pleasure in being the managing director of the Inquisition.

The appointment of Mr. W. J. Hanna as a Food Controller whose chief duty is to issue statements telling us to live on green stuff is not likely to have much effect on the high cost of living as long as Sir Joseph Flavelle is at the other end of the teeter. Every time Mr. Hanna bears down Sir Joseph will bear up and the price of bacon will stay where it is. Providence may help Food Controller Hanna out for the summer and autumn months when the green stuff comes with a rush and prices take a slump, but after that things will be about as they were before.—H. F. Gadsby.
