RAIDS AND LOCAL ATTACKS ON WESTERN FRONT--BRITISH DESTROYER SUNK

COMPARATIVE QUIETNESS ON WESTERN FRONT

Indians Both Allies and the Germans Apparently Resting and Preparing for Resumption.

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, Aug. 15.—Few changes from the battle fronts have been reported today, which are of any particular consequence. In France and Belgium sharp local engagements have taken place, and in the Champagne country, German raiding parties have been reported. In Flanders, both the Anglo-French and the German forces are apparently resting in preparation for further infantry activity. On the Aisne front, the French troops again repulsed the Germans in an attack on a mile front.

Russian Front.
Moscow, August 15.—A definite improvement is noticeable in the morale of the Russian infantry regiments. The centre of the Austro-German offensive is now around Hosiati. Our artillery and the British armored cars along the east bank of the Dnieper. Our failure to stop the advance of the enemy in the Carpathians and on the Roumanian front continues to arouse anxiety.

Lives Lost.
London, August 15.—It is officially stated that the number of British vessels reported lost on the sea during the war until June 30, 1917, totals 9,748. Of this number, 828 were passengers and 5,000 were officers and men.

Destroyer Sunk.
A British destroyer has been sunk in the North Sea by striking a mine. The captain, two officers and forty-three men were saved.

China at War.
China has officially declared war upon Germany and Austria-Hungary.

French Report.
Paris, August 15.—The bombardment of Rheims continues. French reconnoitering parties have succeeded in penetrating the German lines on the Brimont plateau, doing extensive damage before their return. On the British front at Lens, heavy fighting is reported. Spirited actions took place and further gains were made by the Canadians.

J. B. Mitchell arrived from the prairies last evening, where he has been spending a holiday with his parents. In Southern Alberta, where she has been, the crops are nearly all burnt up with the terrific heat which has been the greatest for a number of years. Not only have vegetables and garden produce suffered but the wheat which is so depended upon to give a good return for the labor spent upon it.

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL MEETING

At the regular meeting of the Prince Rupert Trades and Labor Council held last evening in the Carpenters' Hall, several important matters of interest to the community were dealt with. The first Monday of September, being Labor Day, it was decided to celebrate fittingly. To arrange the details and to arrange for the programme of field sports, the following committee was appointed: J. Viereck, S. J. Cox, R. T. J. Rose, J. M. Carmichael, C. F. Kemp, W. E. Thompson, secretary and S. D. Macdonald, president. The price of coal was brought to the attention of the meeting by the report of the committee appointed at the previous meeting for this purpose. According to this report, the employees of the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Company can obtain supplies of coal from the company at the price of $8 per ton, delivered. The G. T. P. employees can also obtain supplies of coal from their company at the same price. The difference between this price and the ordinary commercial price was considered excessive. The committee was continued. The co-operation of the Vancouver Unions was assured in so far as it related to the protesting against the bringing in of labor from outside and discriminating against local mechanics, whenever there was work to be done at the Hays Creek plant. It was decided to have a special meeting of the council next Monday for the purpose of selecting a delegate to attend the Labor Day conference at Vancouver. The attitude of organized labor with regard to conscription will be the chief business at this conference. The application of the Workman's Compensation Act was the reason of the appointing of a special committee to consider several recent cases. Violations of the Factory Act in the city were also brought to the notice of the council, which will receive attention.

STATE CONTROL OF WHEAT PRODUCTION
Washington, August 14.—Foreseeing that demands for wheat may exceed the supply next year, the government has announced a war agricultural programme calling for the production of more than one billion bushels of wheat and a crop of rye in excess of 83,000,000 bushels next year. This vast wheat production, needed in any case, will be essential, the government experts believe, to prevent a serious shortage of breadstuffs next summer, should the growing corn crop now behind the season, be much damaged by early frosts. It is the first time in history the government has taken a hand in directing the planting of definite areas to crops. The programme adopted purely as a war measure represents the best thought of the department of agriculture and of state agricultural officials and state councils of defence.

MARTIAL LAW IN SPAIN
(Special to The Daily News.)
Madrid, Aug. 15.—Martial law has been proclaimed throughout Spain as a result of the renewed strike disorders. Political unrest is apparent in every province in the kingdom, and further developments of the disorders, for which strikes were the excuse, are not unlooked for.

PATRIOTIC RAFFLE ON S. S. PRINCE RUPERT

On the last trip south of the s.s. Prince Rupert, Mrs. Johnson, the stewardess, raffled a beautiful, fully worked pillow cushion in aid of the Prince Rupert Returned Soldiers Association. The passengers responded nobly to the request to buy tickets and the handsome sum of $60 was realized.

The drawing was made by little Helen Cruickshank, of Victoria, as the vessel was nearing that city, and was presided over by A. M. Manson, M.P.P., assisted by F. H. Mobley, M.P.P.

The holder of the winning ticket was Mr. F. Green, one of the drydock crew returning to Esquimalt. Mrs. Johnson is to be congratulated on her splendid work for the boys. This popular stewardess has on several occasions conducted highly successful raffles for patriotic purposes.

VON ALVENSLEBEN WAS HEAD OF SPY SYSTEM

(Special to The Daily News.)
Salt Lake City, August 15.—Von Alvensleben is reputed to be the head of a vast German spy system operating in the western United States and the western Canadian provinces. He will be interned in the prison camp at Fort Douglas, Utah.

WEDDING BELLS

Word has been received in town of the marriage of Miss Jean Cowie, late of Prince Rupert, to Mr. Kenneth Doreen at Lethbridge Alberta. Miss Cowie's parents are ranching in Southern Alberta. The marriage was solemnized in the Knox Church at Lethbridge and was attended by many friends of the bride and groom. The newly married couple will reside in Foremost, Alberta, where Mr. Doreen is in business.

Miss Cowie, that was, was an old timer in Prince Rupert, having been resident here since the early days of the city's history. She has still many friends here, who will rejoice to hear of her wedding.

PEACE PROPOSALS FROM THE POPE

(Special to The Daily News.)
Rome, Aug. 15.—Pope Benedict issues another peace proposal. The foundation stones of this latest appeal from the Holy Father are the reduction of armaments, the freedom of the seas, and international arbitration. The pontiff also suggests the restoration of Belgium, Serbia and Roumania.

A HEBREW REGIMENT

London, August 14.—The War Office has decided to organize a Jewish division, or brigade, and the work will be undertaken by Lieut.-Col. J. H. Patterson, D.S.O., an Irishman. It has been estimated that there are over forty thousand Jews in the British army, including eight thousand among the Colonial troops. About thirty thousand are on foreign service.

It is intended to employ the Jewish force in Palestine and their religious convictions will be considered in every way. They will have their own cooks and bakers, and the dietary will be in conformity with Jewish ideals.

UNCONSTITUTIONAL PROPOSAL BY PREMIER

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—Parliament did not mince words in discussing the position, duties and conduct of Sir George Perley, Canada's Pooh Bah in Britain. Sir George is acting High Commissioner, Overseas Minister of Militia, member of Parliament, etc., et al. Premier Borden submitted a proposal to pay him $7,000 per annum as Overseas Militia Minister. It was linked with proposals to pay Mr. F. B. McCurdy, M. P., and Col. Hugh Clark, M. P., salaries of $5,000 per annum each for the positions of Under Secretaries to the Militia Department and the External Affairs Branch, respectively. The Premier first intimated that the forthcoming bill would make the remuneration retroactive and provide for the dispensing with by-elections made necessary under the independence of Parliament act by members receiving remuneration from the Crown. Later the Premier stated that Sir George Perley would not ask salary, and Mr. F. B. McCurdy announced he was giving his services free.

The proposals met with emphatic opposition. They were preceded by another call from Hon. Charles Murphy for news from Sir George Perley as to the reply of Colonel (Dr.) Herbert H. Bruce of Toronto to the Balfour report. The Premier said a telegram had been received from Sir George Perley, but he could not say whether the so-called report of Dr. Bruce would be made public.

Sir Sam Hughes rose to remark that apparently Perley had seen fit to go on and answer the report before it was made public, which he characterized as "a strange procedure."

Humiliation.
Sir Sam Hughes declared there was no need for a second Minister of Militia. In fact, he stated that, under the present system, Sir Edward Kemp had been obliged to take a humiliating position again and again, and had been "reprimanded repeatedly for asking for information from this dignitary across the water."

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux severely scooped the Premier's proposals. If it was proposed to give Sir George Perley a salary let him come back in a constitutional manner and face his constituents. "He would get a terrible licking," volunteered Hon. Jacques Bureau.

Mr. Lemieux was amazed at the Premier's proposals "in view of the army of needless civil servants appointed by thousands by the present Government."

WESTHOLME THEATRE

There will be staged at the Westholme tonight one of the most fascinating of photoplays. "The Upeaval" is a play of a high educational value. It shows how a mother's influence in the fostering of the principles of justice and right in her son bring their due reward, not in the shape particularly of any financial gain to the individual chiefly concerned, but rather to the community in which he lived. Lionel Barrymore is one of the foremost actors on this continent and in this production has a role that few artists could handle, as it calls for the widest versatility, ranging from strong dramatic moments to delightful comedy scenes.

Politics, gossip, intrigue, romance and the big problems of a small town are intertwined in this story in a most interesting fashion. The play is replete with surprises and contains much that will please the most fastidious audience.

BRITISH LABOR IS BEHIND HENDERSON

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, August 15.—The executive committee of the Independent Labor Party has decided not to change its attitude towards the Stockholm conference, and will stand behind the Hon. Mr. Henderson. Mr. George N. Barnes will succeed Mr. Henderson in the cabinet. The Labor party agreed to send delegates to the Stockholm meeting, but the Government will not issue passports to any British subject who intends to confer with enemy subjects. A similar position has been taken up by the governments of the United States, France and Italy. In France the Socialists also agreed to send delegates to the Stockholm meeting, but permission will not be granted to any French subject to leave the country on such a mission.

ANOTHER WAR LOAN FOR THE ALLIES

(Special to The Daily News.)
Washington, August 15.—Congress will be asked to authorize another loan amounting to between three and four billions to the Allies. The War Department has got its plans perfected for the sending of the first National Guard troops to France; This contingent will include troops from twenty-six states. The first mobilization day has been fixed for September 5th, when two hundred thousand physically perfect men will be ready.

A WAR POLICY

The war policy of the Liberals, as set forth in the resolutions adopted by the convention held in Winnipeg last week is one which should have been inaugurated in the Dominion several years ago. "If the outbreak of the great conflict had found Canada with resolute, confident leadership," the Victoria Times says, "it would not have been necessary for a convention, three years later, to outline a policy which has long been in operation in every other belligerent state, and which involves the elementary fundamental principles of that 'thorough national organization' for war of which Sir Robert Borden has spoken but which he had neither the capacity nor the strength of purpose to adopt. Instead of pulsating with a real war policy, the nation has been allowed to drift into inevitable confusion. The only question on which the administration showed any definite purpose was the question of party policies. Three times the sinister influence of Mr. Rogers brought the country to the verge of a general election, once with soldiers' ballots printed and shipped to England, bill boards rented and the campaign practically inaugurated, and this at a very critical stage of the war. The trail of partizanship ran everywhere. It was seen in commissions and promotions in the army, in the purchase of supplies, in shameless, impudent profiteering, in graft, in drugs and bandages for the wounded soldiers. It forced the resignation of Sir Thomas Tait from the National Service Board, and filled that body with political organizers. It extended to the Imperial Munitions Board, to the Food Control Board, to the Cost of Living Commission, in fact to every ramification of state service. Even nurses and doctors in some instances had to secure political influence to enable them to proceed overseas to administer to the sufferings of the country's gallant sons. "The keynote of the resolutions adopted at Winnipeg may be found in the provision requiring the thorough organization of the nation and by carrying out the programme set forth by 'whatever means may be necessary to its accomplishment.' Subsidiary to its main object, the conference recommends a conference with Great Britain 'to ascertain the scope and character of all the services that can best be rendered by Canada in the conduct of the war.' If this has been done by the present Government, its ministers have kept the result a profound secret from the Canadian people. The Liberal war policy calls for the maintenance of the Canadian forces at the front at unimpaired strength and taking 'of all necessary steps' to secure reinforcements. Thus the resolution leaves open the means to be adopted in raising the necessary reinforcements, but as the term calls for the taking of 'all necessary steps,' conscription as a possible necessity must be contemplated. "If this comprehensive policy had been adopted by the Government early in the war, or even a year ago, the proposal for conscription would not have been so widely opposed. A great deal of the opposition to compulsory military service is based upon distrust of the Government. That same distrust explains Sir Robert Borden's difficulty in forming a National Government. How can people be expected to support an administration which, while protesting the loftiest motives and advocating a 'win-the-war' policy, cannot even take its food control board or the inquiry into the cold storage charges out of the sphere of party politics? For three years the Government has kept the representatives in Parliament of one-half the people of Canada at arms' length because, undoubtedly, it feared there would be interference with the picnic which privileged interests have had in war contracts and because Mr. Rogers thought it would prevent a flag-waving election. This distrust of the Government's competence, honesty and good faith created by its sins of commission and omission, is the secret of much of the antagonism to compulsory military service, and indeed to many other belated administration proposals at this time."

Why Wait for War to learn real food values? It is what you digest, not what you eat, that furnishes strength for the day's work. Many foods tax the digestive powers to the utmost without supplying much real nutriment. Shredded Wheat Biscuit is all food and in a form that is easily digested. It is 100 per cent. whole wheat. For breakfast, dinner or supper it takes the place of meat, eggs and potatoes. You don't know how easily you can do without meat or potatoes until you try it. Delicious with sliced bananas, berries, or other fruits, and milk. Made in Canada.

TYPHUS EPIDEMIC IN PALESTINE

New York, August 13.—Conditions in Syria and Palestine are declared to be the "worst possible" by a refugee who fled from there and by circuitous routes has just reached New York and reported to the American Committee of Armenian and Syrian Relief. The committee's informant, whose name is withheld, said there were 8,000 cases of typhus in Beirut when he left, owing mainly to a lack of medicine and scarcity of doctors. The poorer classes have been wiped out by starvation, he said. In Lebanon he saw many villages and towns without a single inhabitant.

You Can Make Excellent Cake With Fewer Eggs Just use an additional quantity of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, about a teaspoon, in place of each egg omitted. This applies equally well to nearly all baked foods. Try the following recipe according to the new way: CREAM LAYER CAKE Old Way New Way 1 cup sugar 1 cup sugar 1/2 cup milk 1 cup milk 2 cups flour 2 cups flour 2 teaspoons Dr. Price's Baking Powder 4 teaspoons Dr. Price's Baking Powder 3 eggs 1 egg 1/2 cup shortening 2 tablespoons shortening 1 teaspoon flavoring 1 teaspoon flavoring Makes 1 Large 2-Layer Cake DIRECTIONS—Cream the sugar and shortening together, then mix in the egg. After sifting the flour and Dr. Price's Baking Powder together, two or three times, add it all to the mixture. Gradually add the milk and beat with spoon until you have a smooth pour batter. Add the flavoring. Pour into greased layer cake tins and bake in a moderately hot oven for twenty minutes. This cake is best baked in two layers. CANADIAN FISH FOR THE SOLDIERS

Toronto, August 14.—Lieut. B. C. Hilliam of the Army Service Corps and one of the food control committee of Montreal, is in the city. Yesterday a cable was received telling of the safe arrival in England of the first big shipment of fish, the new rations for the soldiers in France and England. The shipment consisted of over 3,000,000 pounds of Canadian frozen fish, cod, haddock, whitefish and soles. The fish is now being distributed in England.

The idea was originated by Major Hugh A. Green, who is in the British war office, and on the British Board of Trade, who conceived the idea of giving the soldiers fish as a change from beef. A trial order of a million and a half pounds of frozen fish was first sent for, which resulted in the establishing of this regular business. Lieut. Hilliam terms this the most colossal thing ever attempted in this line, which should mean much to Canada and to fisheries. Already cold storage plants are being erected and every preparation being made to handle the 7,000,000 pounds which will be shipped each month.

The coming of the fish to England will be a welcome addition to the bill of fare, since there are now two meatless days in the week there.

Save the Food and Serve the Empire!

The Average Canadian Family Wastes Enough to Feed a Soldier

"The Kitchen must help as well as the Workshop and the Trenches" Lloyd George.

INTELLIGENT economy in the kitchen can do much to prevent the threatened world famine—can counteract the effect of high prices—and can replace growing debt with systematic saving.

Careful investigations show that before the war the average British family wasted 25% of their food—and we Canadians were even more extravagant.

This waste is not in a few big things, but in many little ones, each, we used to think, too small to bother about—such as careless peeling of vegetables and fruit—failure to make good use of dripping and "left-overs"—and such others as will occur to every thrifty housekeeper.

For the Empire's sake as well as your own, hunt up and cut out these leaks! You'll be helping to relieve the food shortage—saving your own money—and putting yourself in a position to buy Canadian War Savings Certificates and help win the war.

War Savings Certificates are issued in denominations of $25, $50 and $100, to be repaid in three years at full face value. They cost $21.50, $43 and $86 respectively, at all Money Order Post-Offices and Banks, thus yielding over 5% Interest. Should you need it, you can get your money back at any time.
