MUD CAUSES A CESSATION OF HOSTILITIES

Armies on Either Side Apparently Unable to Move—Germans Refrain From Usual Counter Attacks.

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, Oct. 15.—The heavy rains and storms have turned the plains of Flanders into a sea of mud, and neither of the hostile armies seem able to move. Whether the weather or the condition of the ground were the sole reasons which impelled the Germans to refrain from meeting the latest British advance with their usual and customary speedy counter attacks is considered doubtful in view of the many corroborative reports which have been received of the lowered state of the morale of the German Army.

The occupation of an important junction point, flanking the German line of retreat in German East Africa by the British troops is announced by the War Office today. There is no news from the French front.

COHOES AT $1 EACH

The fish arrivals in port this morning were rather light. The Lincoln had 10,000 lbs. halibut; Tahoma, 5,000, and the Eureka 5,000 lbs. These were United States vessels and their catches were bought for 17½ cents per lb. The Canadian vessels were the Margalice with 2,000 lbs.; Royal, 2,000, and the Muirnaig with 3,000 lbs. halibut. Their prices varied from 17½¢ to 18½¢ per lb. There were about 100 cohoes offered today and also a limited amount of spring salmon. The cohoes were bid up to $1.00 each, going to the Cold Storage, and the springs sold for 16½¢ per lb.

WORDS BUT NO DEEDS FROM FOOD CONTROLLER

Ottawa, Oct. 9.—The general opinion at the capital is that Food Controller Hanna is a clear thinker, but not a prompt doer. What the public wants is somebody who will fix prices, not a temporizer who feeds us from time to time with beautifully-worded essays on the Duty of Starvation.

Food Controller Hanna's latest statement is that he cannot fix prices of the staple articles of food without ruining a host of middlemen in every town, village, city and hamlet in Canada. This is an exaggeration. The middlemen will stand a little ruining. They use the war as an excuse for making the people pay through the nose for the necessities of life. Their interest in the war is as a means of getting rich quick. They are in no hurry to have it end. Food Controller Hanna does not want to ruin these gentlemen, who could be docked of fifty per cent of their profits and still have a fat thing. He prefers to ruin the large army of consumers, the toilers in shops and factories, at counters and office desks, the wage-earners who do not share in this artificial war prosperity which Big Business is now enjoying. Food Controller Hanna's idea is that these are the people who ought to suffer.

Food Controller Hanna's high analytical mind finds that seven main factors govern the present prices of food. These seven main factors Mr. Hanna places before the public in his usual crisp way and puts up as good a case as can be expected of a man who seeks to make the worst appear the better reason. The Food Controller has stated the premises correctly, but his conclusions are all wrong. His seven main factors are no news to the public at large. All Food Controller Hanna has done as a clear thinker is to make them a little clearer. Logic, misapplied at that, is not what the people ask from Mr. Hanna—not logic but action. Little thanks are due to Mr. Hanna for telling us seven things that we know quite well before. What Food Controller Hanna is asked to do is to remedy a condition, not inform us it exists. All the logic that Food Controller Hanna has in his system is no answer to the fact that bacon sells for thirty-eight cents a pound in Detroit and for fifty-five cents a pound in Toronto which is Sir Joseph Flavelle's home town.

Food Controller Hanna mentions as one of the seven factors the unrestrained competition between the great foreign buyers of food stuffs in our markets. This factor has already been investigated by the Trades and Labor Congress, which has suggested from time to time that the army needs be met first, and the home needs be met second, and that then the surplus shall be available for export. It should not be the privilege of the food profiteers who squeeze the home market in times of peace to desert it for a more remunerative market in times of war. In return for his fat graft in normal times he has a duty to sell the public what they need at reasonable prices in time of crisis.

A competent Department of Agriculture at Ottawa would know to the last pound what was the production of Canada, and would regulate its disposal equally among those who have claims upon it, the claims being taken in the order of their importance. A competent Department of Agriculture would also see to it that the surplus production in one province was available in another (Continued on page three.)

LONDONERS VOTE FOR CIVIC COAL YARD

London, Oct. 13.—London ratepayers decided yesterday that a coal yard would be a good thing to include among the city's various municipal enterprises. A by-law authorizing the expenditure of $25,000 was submitted, and being the only measure to be voted on the number of ballots cast was small. The promoters, however, were quite satisfied, as it is a difficult thing to get out a large vote between elections, and especially as the result was so decisive—a majority of 1,170 in favor of the bylaw. The credit for the movement is due to organized Labor, the Trades and Labor Council having fought for the proposal from the first. It carried, too, in spite of very little help from the local press. A series of advertisements in opposition to the scheme had a contrary effect to that intended. These advertisements were disguised as news, a method which did not find favor with the public, who also thought there must be something in the Labor men's allegations as to profits when so much money was available to defeat the bylaw.

"THE VALENTINE GIRL"

The play to be shown at the Westholme Theatre tonight gives Marguerite Clark another opportunity to distinguish herself. And in his play she takes full advantage of the occasion. As the "Valentine Girl" she acts her part to perfection and certainly makes the most of it. The play itself is well written and constructed, and the plot is coherent throughout. The photoplay is of such an attractive nature that it will be repeated tomorrow night as well. In addition, there will be shown a Topical Budget, showing scenes of current interest over a wide radius.

N. J. OGILVIE NOW HEAD OF GEODETIC SURVEY

Noel J. Ogilvie succeeds the late Dr. W. F. King, C. M. G., as Superintendent of the Geodetic Survey of Canada. Mr. Ogilvie received his commission as a surveyor in February, 1905. In 1906 he was in charge of a survey party on the international boundary survey of the 49th parallel of latitude, covering all branches of this work, including triangulation and phototopography. In 1907-8 he represented Canada for H. B. M. Boundary Commissioner on the inspection of the survey of the 49th parallel of latitude from the Pacific Ocean to the summit of the Rockies.

He was in charge of H. B. M. Boundary Commissioner in 1909-1914 of the survey of the international boundary between Alaska and British Columbia, commonly known as the Alaskan boundary. In 1914 Mr. Ogilvie was given the title of Assistant Superintendent of the Geodetic Survey. Recently he was in charge of the geodetic survey of the British Columbia coast.

Mr. Ogilvie has had his headquarters near Prince Rupert for the last two summers during his survey work, and made many friends here during his stay.

PEOPLE OF FINLAND ARE NEAR TO FAMINE

Stockholm, Oct. 13.—"People in many sections of Finland are eating bread made of rye flour and pine bark in equal parts," said Dr. Chas. Ignatius, of Helsingfors, today.

"Bread rations per capita are only five ounces daily, and if this inadequate amount is to be maintained it will be necessary to import flour and cereals within a few weeks."

Dr. Ignatius is on his way to New York as a representative of the Finnish Government. He hopes to obtain a license for shipment of 60,000 tons of flour already purchased. He declared that if help cannot be obtained from the United States it will mean actual starvation for many thousands, and as much suffering for Finland as for Belgium and Poland.

CHINAMAN ACCUSED OF STEALING OPIUM

Wong How, a Chinaman, was brought into the city yesterday from Queen Charlotte City. He was accused of the theft of $53 out of the trunk of another Chinaman, and three cans of opium were also found in his possession, which he is alleged to have purloined as well. He was brought up before Justices Barge and Leary at Queen Charlotte City and committed for trial at the higher court.

MILITARY SERVICE ACT

(Special to The Daily News.)
Montreal, October 13.—The Proclamation calling the men to the colors here caused a general rush of young men to report for service, or to apply for exemption.

Quiet in Vancouver.

Vancouver, Oct. 13.—The era of Conscription started quietly in Vancouver. The real rush was during the past week, when seventeen hundred men enlisted.

STEWART NOTES

Twenty men are at work under Foreman Frank Martin in the construction of a road up the Salmon river valley. This road will provide access to a number of mining properties on which work is now going forward, and over which the first shipments of high grade ore from the Bush mine will be shipped during the coming winter.

S. P. Fitzgerald is leaving shortly to visit his molybdenite claims across the Naas divide, he expects to return with a large number of samples representative of the claims which carry a good grade of ore.

Charles Williams and Roy Armentrout who lost their lives above the Salmon river glacier last week, were returning from a trip to Williams' trapping cabin. They were overtaken by a snow-storm and perished. The bodies were buried where they were found, four thousand feet up in the mountains and a cairn of stones erected to mark their last resting place.

In spite of the wet weather which has been far beyond the average, prospecting still continues and numbers of locations are being made. The increase in active mining having stimulated the search in the neighborhood of properties on which development work is going on.

GERMAN ATTACK ON ISLANDS IN GULF OF RIGA

German Troops Landed Protected by Big Guns of the Fleet—Taken to Presage Move On Petrograd.

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, October 15.—The most striking military move made by Germany on her eastern front since the attack which resulted in the capture of the city of Riga and its environs, was started on that same front, when the German troops were landed on the Oesel and Dagoe Islands, lying in the mouth of the Gulf of Riga.

Heavy units of the main German battle fleet were brought up to assist and to cover this undertaking, some of the dreadnoughts appearing off the coast and covering the landing operations with their big guns. Their guns outranged the Russian shore batteries and soon silenced them.

Strong opposition was put up by the Russian forces, which hampered the German operations in every way, but a considerable number of Germans appear to have obtained a footing on the northeastern coast of Oesel Island, and also on the shores of Dagoe Island.

Petrograd dispatches allude to this German movement as a stubborn effort to clear the entrance of the Gulf of Riga near the Courland mainland, and possibly as a forerunner of an ambitious push for Petrograd. The imminence of the early Russian winter season lends color to the assumption that notwithstanding the German High Command taking these steps as a preliminary to their march on to Petrograd, they would hardly essay a campaign this year. However, the demobilized state of the Russian armies might make the operation a short and easy one in comparison with the task the German armies might have to face next spring, when they headed for Petrograd, if the plans of the Russian Government for the regeneration of the army are carried through.

RECONSTRUCTION

It has been well said that there is no clearer sign of intellectual inferiority than an unwillingness and an inability to value criticism. What is wanted today in Canada is more constructive criticism. Any fool may pull down and destroy, but the building up of the New on the ruins of the Old calls for the constructive thought of the statesman and the vision and faith of the seer. Canada stands on the threshold of a new era. First steps may make or mar our nation as she emerges on the new road which her fighting men are hewing through the debris of old-world beliefs that have fallen amid the ruins of the dead past. What are the signposts along this road, and whither do they lead?

Canada cannot afford to rest upon her reputation as a fighting nation only. The deeds of her soldier sons have resounded throughout the world. Canada is proud of their achievements, and will hold them in remembrance while the nation endures. But, great as these military records may be, it is not given to Canada to claim a monopoly of the bravery and sacrifice shown in this war. Posterity will judge us not by the part we played in the fighting only, but by the measure of the abiding results won through our sacrifices. Not that we helped to destroy German autocracy only, but that here on Canadian soil we strengthened the foundations of democracy; not that we slew in Europe the dragon of Prussian tyranny only, but that at home we lengthened the cords of Canadian liberty. The memory of our military achievements will be but Dead Sea fruit unless Canada takes her place in the van of human progress. Years ago—it seems almost like ages—Chamberlain called on the British nation to "think Imperially." Today from the stricken nations of Europe the voice of Progress calls to us to think democratically. This is the first step in this era of reconstruction: Canadians must learn to think democratically.

Is Canada a democratic country? No country imbued with the spirit of the things that really count in our war with Germany would weaken the foundations of democratic freedom at home by removing the landmarks of immigrants invited to settle in Canada by unjustly depriving them of the rights which this country is honorably pledged to maintain inviolate. The wrong done to the naturalized citizen who has been deprived of his vote is a wrong done to Canada, for which this country must atone before she can take her stand before the world as the champion of democratic liberty. We have strayed from the path of Democracy. This land of ours is not enjoying the fullest measure of liberty.

Canada has missed the mark of her high calling. The opportunity is hers to build well for the years to come. But before she rears the new temple of freedom in which to enshrine the great idea of a world-wide Democracy, she must divest herself of the trappings of an obsolete age, turn from the baubles and distinctions which the titles of a decadent aristocracy confer, and think democratically. There is no place in the New Democracy for the barriers which wealth and a titled class seek to erect between citizens of a common country. Class distinctions and the worship of the golden calf are foreign to the instincts of a true Democracy. A country which creates false standards of citizenship, in which the accumulation of wealth is regarded as of greater worth than civic virtue and national service, is predestined to failure as the exponent of the democratic idea. Canada has strayed from the path. Her troops are fighting that autocracy may perish from the earth and that peace may usher in the reign of the People. But here in Canada we still honor Demetrius, the silversmith, and rear altars to the worship of the Golden Calf. If Canada is to be regenerated in the fire of War, and the reconstruction of society to be of lasting service to generations of her people, the Canada of today must learn to think democratically—The Globe.

“If Canada fails us in October, we must curtail many of our activities.”

Sir ARTHUR STANLEY,
Chairman, Executive Committee,
British Red Cross.

It now costs $300,000.00 a week to carry on the work of the British Red Cross, or $16,000,000.00 a year.

Every minute of the day and night it costs $30 to minister to the sick and wounded and dying.

Last year Canada's magnificent contribution paid for the entire work of the British Red Cross for nearly seven weeks.

This year, in view of the greater need, it is earnestly and confidently hoped that Canada's contributions will be as great proportionately as the magnificent offering of last year.

Our trust is, that the Citizens of Canada will give generously to this noble cause on—province where shortage exists. If it was minding its own business one of its first duties would be to equalize distribution throughout Canada and put the kibosh on No. 3 of Food Controller Hanna's objections to doing anything about it. But the Department of Agriculture, which has as its Minister, a fox-trotter, a golfer and a social butterfly, seems to have overlooked this little matter. As for the Borden Government generally it has the C. N. R. deal to pull off, which aims to loot this country of $200,000,000, and it can't afford the time to put a little pep in the Hon. Mr. Burrell and his associates.

WORDS BUT NO DEEDS FROM FOOD CONTROLLER

Food Controller Hanna mentions very briefly both in his text and in his exposition of his subject—the food speculator, Sir Joseph Flavelle, the chief friend and backer of the Borden Government, the man who gave a million dollars to the Tory campaign fund in 1911, with the full assurance of getting it back a hundredfold, out of the bacon and egg eaters of Canada—Sir Joseph Flavelle is the arch-type of the food speculator. In him stand up all the qualities that make the food speculator the biggest hog on earth. Sir Joseph not only collects two profits on the bacon he sells to the British army, and what is equivalent to four profits on the bacon he sells to us poor people at home, but he hides his Canadian profits away as "rest funds" and his English profits as "commissions" and dodges the war tax in both countries.

Sir Joseph is a food speculator. He is not only a food speculator in Canada, but a food speculator in the United States and a food speculator in England. And he does it all under the shelter of the Borden Government, Finance Minister White being his man Friday, and letting him dodge what taxes he pleases. To curry favor with the great man, Finance Minister White only the other day did all he could to take the tax off the war profiteer and put it on the little fellow who is earning three thousand dollars a year and having a hard time to keep his head above water. Sir Joseph is not only a food speculator in two continents, but rumor has it that he is a munition speculator both in Canada and the United States, where he gets his bit in several companies which have him as a sleeping partner. Sir Joseph, his bank and his trust company are also interested in the C. N. R. deal, the object of which is to make Canada pay two hundred million dollars more for a railway which it owns already. This is one of the reasons why the Borden Government goes on stacking the cards in order to win the election. It has got to get back to see the thing through.

Food Controller Hanna promises to issue statements from time to time giving further reasons why he doesn't dare to disturb current prices. Evidently Food Controller Hanna believes in the east wind as a nourishing diet. At any rate that is all Canada has got from his so far or has any chance of getting from him in the future.

Fuel control is another joke. A hard winter is approaching. The rich people bought their coal at bottom prices in April. The coal companies, fostering an artificial scarcity, tell the poor people that they can't deliver coal now and that when they do it will be at top prices. There is more coal available in this North American continent now than there ever was, but that doesn't make any difference to the coal profiteers. Everybody's doing it, and they are going to have their share of the swag. Fuel Controller McGrath, though animated by the highest motives, has done nothing at all to alleviate the situation. One wonders if Canada wouldn't get more action from a Fuel Controller whose relations are not in the coal business.—H. F. Gadsby.

Bathe Internally

Over 500,000 People Are Now Doing So.

For many years physicians have agreed that the vast majority of human ills were caused by accumulated waste in the Lower Intestine; that in our present way of living Nature could not remove all this waste without assistance; no matter how regular we might be, and that the poisons from this waste circulating through the blood pulled us away down below par and were responsible for many diseases of a serious nature.

During this time the "J. B. L. Cascade" for Internal Bathing has, because of their recommendation and those of its users, been steadily growing in favor.

Recently, however, the startling news which has been covering this country, that great surgeons and specialists have been operating on the Lower Intestines for the most chronic and serious diseases, has caused America to become thoroughly awake to the importance of keeping this Lower Intestine free from all poisonous waste matter, and over 500,000 are now using Internal Baths.

If you try the "J. B. L. Cascade" you will find yourself always bright, confident and capable—the poisonous waste makes us bilious, blue, dull and nervous. Internal Baths are Nature's own cure for Constipation—just warm water properly applied. Drugs force Nature—the "J. B. L. Cascade" gently assists her.

Pay Will Be The Same

Men selected under the Military Service Act will receive the same pay as those now on active service receive. Pay will start from the time a man reports for duty. Money from the Patriotic Fund and Separation Allowance will also be available for selected men.

Canadian soldiers are well paid. The fact that wages in Canada are generally higher than those paid in Europe is recognized in the system of remuneration for men on active service. Clothing and all equipment in addition to food is also supplied to the Canadian soldier, leaving him with no expense except personal incidentals.

The rate of pay for men in the Canadian Expeditionary Force, other than commissioned officers, is as follows:

Rank	Pay	Field Allowance
Warrant Officers	$2.00	30 cts.
Regimental Sergt.-Major, if not a Warrant Officer	1.85	20 "
Quartermaster-Sergeants	1.80	20 "
Orderly Room Clerks	1.50	20 "
Orderly Room Sergeants	1.50	20 "
Pay Sergeants	1.50	20 "
Squad., Batt., or Co. Sergt.-Major	1.60	20 "
Colour-Sergeant or Staff-Sergeant	1.60	20 "
Squad., Batt., or Co. Q.M.S.	1.50	20 "
Sergeants	1.35	15 "
Lance-Sergeants	1.15	15 "
Corporals	1.10	10 "
Lance-Corporals	1.05	10 "
Bombardiers, or Second Corporals	1.05	10 "
Trumpeters, Buglers, and Drummers	1.00	10 "
Privates, Gunners, Drivers	1.00	10 "
Sappers, Batmen, etc.	1.00	10 "

As in the case of those already gone overseas, Separation Allowances will be available for those dependent for livelihood upon selected men. The Separation Allowance is $20.00 per month for the rank and file, $25.00 for sergeants and staff-sergeants and $30.00 for warrant officers. The experience is that many men can afford to assign half their pay to dependents, in addition.

A considerable number of men who have enlisted in the Canadian forces have found themselves better off under the army rate of pay, which is granted in addition to board, lodging, clothing, equipment, transportation, etc., than they were while in civilian positions. Their wants are provided for, and they receive a steady addition to the bank account each month.

Issued by The Military Service Council. 132

Keep up the Food Supply and Help Make Victory Sure

OUR soldiers must be fed; the people at home must be fed. And—in spite of Germany's murderous campaign to cut off the Allies' Food supply, by sinking every ship on the High Seas—an ample and unending flow of food to England and France must be maintained.

This is National Service—Not to the Farmer only—But to YOU—to everybody—This appeal is directed

WE must unite as a Nation to SERVE—to SAVE and to PRODUCE. Men, women and children; the young, the middle aged and the old—all can help in the Nation's Army of Production.

EVERY pound of FOOD raised, helps reduce the cost of living and adds to the Food Supply for Overseas.

PLANT a garden—small or large. Utilize your own back yard. Cultivate the vacant lots. Make them all yield food.

WOMEN of towns can find no better or more important outlet for their energies than in cultivating a vegetable garden.

Be patriotic in act as well as in thought. Use every means available—Overlook nothing.
