ALLIES ARE BETWEEN AMIENS AND THE HUN

GERMANS FAIL TO FIND A WEAK SPOT IN ENTENTE BARRIER--STILL ATTACKING

GERMANS FAIL TO ACHIEVE MUCH MATERIAL PROGRESS

ALL THE THRUSTS OF THE ENEMY DO NOT BREAK THE ALLIED LINE, AND HIS ATTACKS CONTINUE TO BE REPULSED WITH GREAT LOSSES--AMIENS IS STILL PROTECTED FROM THE HUNS

(Special to The Daily News)

London, April 8.—The last phase of the great battle along the Somme, which the Germans began on Thursday last has died down. It lasted less than three days, and the fighting has resolved itself into more or less isolated engagements, in which the French and the British allies have more than held their own.

Sharp Local Fighting.

The British on Sunday engaged in sharp local fighting at various points, and repulsed successfully several German counter attacks. They also drove off by artillery fire alone, two German attacks launched in the neighborhood of Buequoy.

The attention of the Germans for the present is mainly at the lower end of the battle zone, which they are apparently attempting to enlarge for the purpose of getting elbow room in which to handle their vast masses of troops.

British Front.

London, April 8.—Gen. Haig's report states that a German attack on the British lines on Saturday was repulsed, and that the British counter attacks in Aveluy Wood placed the British in the positions they formerly occupied.

French Front.

Paris, April 8.—West of Noyon a German detachment which had gained a footing in the French lines were forced out by a counter attack. Another attack was launched by the Germans on a small front at Giviesnes. In this attack the French commander deemed it advisable to fall back to previously prepared positions and these positions are being held strongly by the French.

BUILDING FOR SALE

Tenders are invited before 1st May for the purchase of buildings on Lot 24, Block 17, Section 1, by A. Newham, Receiver, the Westholme Lumber Company. Further particulars at Bank of Montreal, Prince Rupert. a30

ROYAL FLYING CORPS

Lieutenant Shaw of Vancouver is now in the city recruiting for the Royal Flying Corps. All young men between the ages of 17½ and 25, and in exceptional cases, 30 years, who are desirous of joining this popular branch of the service, are asked to call on Lieutenant Shaw at the Prince Rupert Hotel. He will be in the city until Wednesday.

POLISH REGIMENTS INTERNED FOR TREASON

(Special to The Daily News)

London, April 8.—The leaven of unrest which has been working throughout the ranks of the Polish troops, both in the German and Austro-Hungarian armies has been causing considerable trouble to the German military authorities. All Polish soldiers suspected have now been interned in Hungary, as far away from the fighting front as possible, their legions having been arrested by the Teutonic authorities, because of the "wholesale treason in the ranks."

A turbulent people at all times, the harsh treatment which has been meted out to the civilian population, and the severity with which the Polish soldiers have been dealt with has caused considerable outbreaks from time to time. The military authorities have found that the troops from Poland could not be trusted, and the only thing to do with them is have them interned where they can do no further propaganda work.

The failure of Germany to permit the autonomy of Poland since it was first promised by the Kaiser is not helping matters with the civil population.

GERMANY'S OFFENSIVE BRINGS LITTLE SUCCESS

London, April 6.—Today more than a fortnight after the opening of the great German offensive and after a lull of several days in heavy fighting, the enemy has opened a renewed offensive and, as was expected, his thrust is again toward Amiens, in an attempt to divide the British and French armies and thus reach the sea.

No news of the latest thrust is available, except the brief reports in the official communications. The fact that the attacks were preceded by heavy artillery preparation indicates that the enemy again has his big guns in position.

All the German attacks today were repulsed, except at two points, namely on the Somme, where the enemy gained a little ground in the direction east and west of Hamel, and in the angle of the Avre and Luce, where he penetrated slightly into the French front. Considering the weather and conditions known to obtain in the territory evacuated by the British, the new German effort has come earlier than had been expected, but on this occasion the British public will watch the operations with quiet confidence born of the feeling that no effort the Germans can now make can have anything like the power and weight of the previous onset, which was met so successfully by the allied armies.

GERMAN TROOPS ARE STILL POURING INTO FINLAND

London, April 8.—The German troops are still being poured into Finland and although the Russian authorities have made no formal protest, they have notified the German government taking exception to the breaking by Germany of the provisions of the Brest-Litovsk treaty, guaranteeing the safety of the Russian fleet and naval stores in Finnish waters.

Further arrivals of warships, conveying transports filled with troops are reported from Finland and grave fears are entertained for the safety of the Russian war vessels which have been frozen in at Helsingfors. For lack of an

RUSSIA TO RESIST JAPAN IN SIBERIA

(Special to The Daily News)

Moscow, April 8.—The Council of National Commissaries has issued a statement that Japan has started action against the Soviet Republic. All Siberian Councils of the Soldiers and Workmen's Delegates have been ordered to resist any armed invasion of Russia, whether by Japan or any other nation.

BATTLEFIELD FILLED BY ODOR OF DEATH

London, April 5.—The Morning Post's correspondent in France draws a gruesome picture of battlefield conditions. "Prisoners state that the countryside is full of bodies and that the air is horrible with the odor of death," he writes. "Wells cannot be used. The ruined villages are impossible as billets, because they are strewn with German dead. There are piles of bodies along the roads and between them. The enemy has only recently found time to bury any of his dead."

"The spectacle of the battlefield carpeted with the bodies of their comrades has affected fresh troops who in this way discovered to their surprise that the British are not too weak to fight. Prisoners say that the British endurance and skill in fighting are delaying the progress of the German army. Among the feats of this British endurance may be mentioned that of a detachment, which marched eighteen hours, fought throughout one night and half of the next day, repulsed three attacks, twice recaptured a certain village and dug trenches."

WEDDING BELLS

At ten o'clock on Saturday morning there was a gathering of the friends of Mr. Virginio Cervi and Miss Carloline Bergnach in the Catholic Church, where the Rev. Bishop Buno performed the ceremony of marriage. After the ceremony, which was attended by the immediate relatives of the bride and groom as well as by a large number of friends, a reception was held in the home of Mr. A. Damiano on Ninth Street, where the wedding breakfast was served.

The festivities in connection with the event were kept up until late in the evening. The newly married couple will reside on 9th Street.

MANY RUSSIANS LEAVING EUROPE

London, April 8.—The Consulate of the United States here has been deluged for the past few days by applications from Russian residents in Great Britain for passports to the United States.

THE HON. T. D. PATTULLO TELLS VICTORIA OF RUPERT'S DRYDOCK

Reference has already been made in these columns to the interest Premier Oliver is displaying in connection with the shipbuilding industry in British Columbia. He is naturally not alone in his labors on behalf of the Province: his cabinet is behind him to a man, and in view of the Hon. T. D. Pattullo's more intimate association with the capabilities of Prince Rupert to handle a craft of goodly proportions the Minister of Lands has given expression of his view to a representative of the Victoria Times. He agrees quite naturally at the outset that the shipbuilding industry is of the greatest importance to British Columbia, and nothing should be left undone which can be done to place the industry upon a permanent and stable basis; he deprecates at this time especially merely spasmodic activity. Continuous work and construction should be the definite aim of all action taken in the matter, he says.

Labor Goes to Industry.

Mr. Pattullo considers that in connection with the Prince Rupert drydock a duty devolves upon the people of Southern British Columbia to lend a hand to the northern port in seeing that the drydock there is given every opportunity and encouragement to operate. "The argument that has been largely used," says Mr. Pattullo, "is that scarcity of labor makes operation in the northern port impracticable. This is not a reason; it is merely an excuse. If there is any logic in this argument, the large plant at Ocean Falls would never have been started because there was no skilled labor there. When an industry is started the labor must go to it. The moment orders are continuous there need be no importation of skilled labor because the skilled labor will be there."

General Benefit Follows.

The Minister of Lands declares that Prince Rupert has been battling in a lone fight for business from its inception, and yet in spite of what appears to him to have been a determined effort to keep it down, the town has made steady progress. He believes that there is not the slightest doubt in the world that it will continue to make steady progress because of its wealth of natural resources. "Whatever helps one portion of British Columbia," declared Mr. Pattullo with emphasis, "helps the rest of the Province, and at this time when Prince Rupert has a magnificent drydock ready for operation, the more thickly populated cities of the south should lend a hand to help the northern part. Northern British Columbia," he recounts, "has contributed millions of dollars annually in a business way to the cities of southern British Columbia and has been a very considerable factor in their prosperity. With a very real threat of business going across the border now is the time for the extension of the helping hand." Lacking that reciprocal feeling between the northern and southern sections of the province the Minister is apprehensive lest the people of the north may eventually look to the east with the business hitherto done in the south.

The Economic Situation.

"I wonder if the people of British Columbia generally realize just what is happening to this province in an economic way," asks the Minister of Lands. "This is not an easy subject to discuss," he agrees, "because, with the public mind supersensitive and superheated one is very apt to be misunderstood. Yet it seems to me that the people of this province should be alive to the situation so that they may govern themselves accordingly. British Columbia has done noble service in man-power in this war and will continue to do so," proceeded Mr. Pattullo. "The last figure I saw showed that British Columbia has relatively done better than any other portion of the Dominion. Every loyal British Columbian thrills with pride at our record of service to the Empire. But does our duty end there? Have we no duty to take stock of what the future holds in store for us?"

B. C.'s Big Burden.

"Is it right," he went on, "that while contributing relatively more largely in man-power than any other portion of the Dominion, that the enormous business incident to the war should relatively go much more largely to the other provinces of the Dominion than to British Columbia?" Mr. Pattullo calls attention to the facts insofar as they apply to population depletion in British Columbia in contrast to other sections of the Dominion. He points to the fact that the population of this province is proportionately more decimated than any other province in Canada, while at the same time British Columbia does less business resultant from the war than any other province. In addition to that he emphasizes the fact that by reason of British Columbia's large proportionate enlistment and her extremely favorable climatic conditions she will be called upon to contribute to a greater proportion towards the rehabilitation of the brave boys who come back from the front.

Even Distribution Wanted.

"All that we do, we do with a generous heart," continued the Minister, "but does not a duty devolve upon us to see that our brothers do not less than we? We do not need one whit to relax our own efforts, but we owe a duty to our province to see to it that we do not fall behind in the economic race. If we emerge from this war relatively weaker than our sister provinces we shall have to pay tribute where we should be upon an equal footing. There is great safety in economic independence and while we are ready to pledge the last man and the last dollar," said Mr. Pattullo in conclusion, "we nevertheless owe a duty to ourselves and to our children to see to it that the returns from this terrible conflict are evenly distributed."

LEGAL METHODS

Greece may be a backward country in some respects, but its judicial methods would seem worthy of consideration, with a view to imitation.

There is of course nothing extraordinary in the fact that two officers who were put ashore from a German submarine were captured and condemned to death. This is in itself merely one of the ordinary incidents of war.

What is notable is the remark, thrown in casually and apparently as a matter of little consequence, that "their lawyer also received the death sentence."

This is a modern adaptation of the mediaeval custom by which the seconds in a duel were also expected to cross rapier, and to take the same chances as their principals.

The degenerate codes of nations further west do not expose lawyers to any worse risks than an occasional inability to collect their fees from impecunious clients.

Greece has the correct notion. If the jury's verdict were understood to include also the lawyer, the number of guilty men who escape might be materially reduced. The average jury would figure that a verdict which hanged both lawyer and client, must be at least half right.—Sun.

GETTING THEM GOING

The announcement that the British Euphrates army, after its brilliant success at Hit, has reached a point over 150 miles up the river is of intense interest and suggests sensational military possibilities. These troops thus are within 200 miles of Aleppo, the northern gateway to Syria, and the junction point of the Hedjaz railroad supplying the Turkish forces confronting Allenby's troops in Palestine with the Bagdad railway route. Aleppo is the base of Turkish operations in Armenia, Palestine and Mesopotamia, and its capture by the British would seriously affect the enemy in those areas. For that reason, however, it is likely to be strongly held and it may be that the British forces which have been advancing so rapidly during the last few days are only strong patrols and will not go that far. But it would not be necessary for the British to capture Aleppo to dislocate the plans of the Turks. A few miles beyond the point reached by them two days ago will bring them to the ancient caravan route which links Palestine with the Euphrates, passing through historic Tadmor in the Syrian desert. If British cavalry, operating from the Euphrates westward, could strike the Hedjaz railroad anywhere between Aleppo and Damascus the Turks in Palestine would be cut off from their main source of supply, while if Marshall's forces were strong enough to capture and hold Aleppo before the Turks could withdraw from Palestine into Asia Minor, Allenby's foe would be securely bottled up, for only through Aleppo, the neck of the bottle, could the Moslem troops in Palestine effect their escape. The Turks opposing Allenby in any case are likely to beat a precipitate retreat shortly, in which event we soon should hear of extensive advances by the British in Palestine.

LOGGING—AND LOGGING

A matter of considerable importance was brought up at the meeting of the Board of Trade at their last gathering. It is important, not only to this part of the province, but to the Dominion as a whole. And that was the manner in which the logging operations on the Queen Charlotte Islands are at present being carried on. On account of the great demand for spruce for aeroplane construction, and the extreme fineness of the Munitions Board grade, at present only spruce logs are being taken out. In order to get at them, many other trees have to be removed, and also to get the logs out. Other standing trees are oftentimes barked, and when the light gets in, through the thinning of the trees, these will die. Between one thing and another it is doubtful if many of these areas will be profitable to log over again, for the sake of what is left of the presently merchantable timber, and at the rate at which the present operations are being conducted a year and a half will see all the spruce gone, and these areas left, useless.

MAGIC BAKING POWDER

By being logged clean, the added cost would be negligible, and a value of something like $3,000,000 in timber would be retained in these areas alone. This seems too large a sum to lose, while at the same time, saving it would hardly delay the production of spruce.

The conservation of Canada's forests is already exercising the minds of the government, and it would seem as if it were only right and proper that this important matter be taken up, and dealt with efficiently. The war is not over yet, and Canada cannot afford to waste her lumber resources, nor any other, notwithstanding however bountifully British Columbia may be supplied.

Appendicitis Operations Not Always Necessary

Internal Bathing Relieves the Cause
Your physician will tell you that Appendicitis is an inflamed condition of the little sack called the Appendix at the lower right-hand corner of the Colon or large intestine. By cleansing this Colon with purified warm water by the "J. B. L. Cascade" this sack is cleansed and the inflammation subsides. Hundreds of operations have been avoided by using the warm water cure for Appendicitis. Dr. Jas. McLaughlin, 91 Evanston street, Winnipeg, writes:—

"I had spent over fifty dollars with doctors trying to cure Appendicitis. Finally the doctor said I must go to the hospital at once for an operation. Your advertisement interested me. I bought a 'J. B. L. Cascade,' which relieved me at once, and am now completely cured. Never felt better in my life; all pain and soreness gone, and I eat and sleep like a boy. I am grateful to Dr. Tyrrell for this wonderful health-giving invention."

95 per cent. of all human ills are caused by accumulated waste in the Colon. Internal Bathing with the "J. B. L. Cascade" keeps this large intestine as free from all waste and as clean as nature demands it should be for perfect health. Ask Cyril H. Orme, Druggist, corner 3rd Ave. and 6th st., for booklet called "Why Man of Today is Only 50 Per Cent. Efficient." It is free. He will also be pleased to show and explain the "J. B. L. Cascade" to you.

(Sections 35 and 134.)

Re Application Nos. 9831-1, 9833-1, 9834-1.
TAKE NOTICE that application has been made to register Frank W. Hart, of Prince Rupert, B. C., as owner in fee under four Tax Sale Deeds from the Collector of the City of Prince Rupert, bearing date the 28th day of November, 1917, and one Tax Sale Deed dated 22nd day of September, 1916, of ALL AND SINGULAR that certain parcel or tract of land and premises situate, lying and being in the City of Prince Rupert, more particularly known and described as Lots seven (7) and fifteen (15), Block twelve (12), Lot twelve (12), Block forty-eight (48), and Lots thirty-three (33) and thirty-four (34), Block fifty-one (51), all in Section Eight (8), Map 923. You are required to contest the claim of the tax purchaser within 35 days from the date of the service of this notice (which may be effected by publication in the Prince Rupert Daily News), and your attention is called to section 36 of the "Land Registry Act" with amendments, and to the following extract therefrom:—"and in default of a caveat or certificate of its pendency being filed before the registration as owner of the person entitled under such tax sale, all persons so served with notice, . . . and those claiming through or under them, and all persons claiming any interest in the land by virtue of any unregistered instrument, and all persons claiming any interest in the land by descent whose title is not registered under the provisions of this Act, shall be forever estopped and debarred from setting up any claim to or in respect of the land so sold for taxes, and the Registrar shall register the person entitled under such tax sale as owner of the land so sold for taxes."

AND WHEREAS application has been made for a Certificate of Indefeasible Title to the above-mentioned lands, in the name of Frank W. Hart,
AND WHEREAS on investigating the title it appears that prior to the 15th day of October, 1916 (the date on which the said lands were sold for overdue taxes), you were the registered and assessed owners as stated below.

FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that at the same time I shall effect registration in pursuance of such application and issue a Certificate of Indefeasible Title to the said lands in the name of Frank W. Hart unless you take and prosecute the proper proceedings to establish your claim, if any, to the said lands, or to prevent such proposed action on my part.

Dated at the Land Registry Office, Prince Rupert, B. C., this 15th day of February, A. D. 1918.

H. F. MACLEOD,

FRIENDS THOUGHT HE WOULD DIE

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Conquered Dyspepsia and Restored His Health.

MR. ROBERT NEWTON.

Little Bras d'Or, C. B. "It was a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation for years. I had pain after eating, belching gas, sour stomach, and did not sleep well at night. I lost so much weight—going from 185 pounds to 146 pounds—that I became alarmed and saw several doctors who, however, did me no good. Finally, a friend told me to try 'Fruit-a-tives'.

In a week, there was improvement. The constipation was corrected; and soon I was free of pain, headaches and that miserable feeling that accompanies Dyspepsia. I continued to take this splendid fruit medicine and now I am well, strong and vigorous". ROBERT NEWTON.

JEWISH SOLDIERS TRAIN IN ENGLAND

London, April 5.—Announcement by the government that the Jewish regiment being recruited by the British army will fight in Palestine is considered as a visible evidence of the determination of the government to restore the Jews to Palestine.

The first contingent of the Jewish regiment which was formed a few months ago has left for the East. A few days ago these men marched through Cairo, Egypt. They were received enthusiastically and a large number of recruits were gained.

A large number of men for the regiment are in training in England, and the regiments' headquarters in London and training camp in West England are the centres of great interest to Jews and non-Jews. Recently the Jewish recruits marched through London and were given a civic reception by the Lord Mayor and by the municipal authorities of Stepney, a Jewish section.

DANGER OF WORLD FAMINE VERY REAL

London, April 5.—Great Britain would face a much more severe food shortage, William Goode of the Food Ministry told the American Luncheon Club, if she would decide to make with Germany "a tired peace." He said:

"I chose the topic, 'Peace Without Plenty,' because of the widespread idea that with peace the scarcity of food would automatically disappear. Statisticians of the Ministry of Food have given me an estimate of the conditions likely to ensue upon the declaration of peace in the near future. I also sought the opinion of an eminent American authority, Professor Graham Lusk, who represents the United States on the Inter-Allied Council of Alimentation, and also of other international experts. The conclusions arrived at by American, British and other authorities are practically identical."

Mr. Goode pointed out that even if Russia were able to feed herself there would be at the conclusion of peace 200,000,000 people in Europe clamoring for food.

JULIAN ELTINGE AT WESTHOLME THEATRE

Tonight, when you see "Countess Charming" at the Westholme Theatre, as you very likely will, you will no doubt be as much confused as anyone else to tell when the countess is the countess and when she is not. This remarkable change from a male to a female role, and back again is accomplished most successfully by Julian Eltinge, the versatile female impersonator of stage fame. He has a handsomer wardrobe of women's gowns than most screen or stage stars and he shows them off to great advantage in this play. He is seen as a bewitching foreign countess, who lures men's watches, scarf pins and wallets into her fair ringed hands for no less a purpose than the Red Cross Fund. The whole picture abounds with humor of the best sort, and it is a kind that will long remembered for its unexpected situations and screamingly funny plot.

Military Service Act

Important Announcement to All

EXEMPTED MEN and to the Public Generally

IN dealing with the very large number of claims for exemption brought forward for consideration in connection with Class 1 under the Military Service Act, it has occurred, as was inevitable, that as a result of false statements and difficulties put in the way of investigation, some individuals have secured exemption whose proper place is in the Army.

It is not the intention of the Government to allow these men to evade permanently their obligation to bear their part in the military defence of the Country and of the ideals for which we are fighting. To do so would defeat the purpose of the Act, and cause grave injustice to men in the second class necessarily called out to fill their places.

Exemptions Granted on False Grounds

It is, therefore, proposed to scrutinize carefully all exemptions granted to date in order to separate those which have been granted on false or insufficient grounds from those that are well founded.

With this object in view the various Registrars under the Military Service Act have been instructed to issue a series of questionnaires to exempted men. These questionnaires must be filled up correctly and returned promptly under penalty of forfeiture of exemption for failure to do so.

Exempted Men Who Have Changed Address

It is therefore important in their own interest that all exempted men who have changed their address since their exemption was granted and who have not already notified the Registrar of such change should notify him at once. Under the Regulations it is the duty of exempted men to keep the Registrar advised of any change of address, and failure to receive the questionnaire by reason of neglect of this duty must be treated as equivalent to failure to return the questionnaire after receipt.

Citizens Urged to Assist

In many instances information has been furnished by members of the public which has led to the cancellation of exemptions obtained by false or misleading statements. Further co-operation of this character is invited. The Government regard it as the Duty of all loyal citizens, not only to the Country, but to the men at the front, to assist in this way in securing reinforcements on a just and legal basis. Correspondence of this character will be treated as strictly confidential and will receive the fullest investigation.

CHARLES J. DOHERTY,
Minister of Justice.

Correspondence should be directed to Robt. S. Lennie, K.C., Registrar under the Military Service Act, Vancouver, B.C.
