New York Governor Chosen In Stampede Finale Last Night at Great Convention Held in Chicago

Texas and California Delegations Swing Over After All Night Session—Garner to Be Named Today as Vice-Presidential Running Mate, Thus Ending Hectic Gathering

CHICAGO, July 2:—With the force of a real stampede on the fourth ballot following the announcement by William Gibbs McAdoo that the California delegation, originally favoring Speaker John N. Garner, had swung over, in which action the Texas delegation soon followed suit, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Governor of New York, was last night overwhelmingly chosen as Democratic candidate for the presidency of the United States. Choice of Roosevelt was reached on the fourth ballot as favorite sons withdrew from the race, turning votes into the swelling Roosevelt column, following a hectic convention session which lasted throughout Thursday night, proving both a mental and physical test for the delegates. With the third ballot still indecisive and the prospect of a deadlock looming, the convention, having been in nominating session since 9 o'clock Thursday night, adjourned at 9 o'clock yesterday morning.

Grain Ship Due Here Tonight

Date of Arrival of Freighter Fresno City Has Been Set For Evening
The British steamer Fresno City, coming to load a full cargo of grain from the local elevator for the United Kingdom or Continent, is due to arrive here this evening. Wheat pool and government officials arrived here from Vancouver on the Prince Robert this morning in connection with the loading of the ship.

Each nominating speaker was given fifteen minutes to talk and each seconding speaker five minutes.

Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, champion of United States isolation from European affairs, was placed in nomination by Sam Fordyce of Missouri. Former Senator Atlee Pomerene of Ohio placed the name of Governor George White of Ohio, disciple of Woodrow Wilson and veteran of the Klondyke Gold Rush, in nomination.

The name of Governor William H. Alfalfa Bill Murray, Oklahoma farmer, was placed before the convention by Former Governor Henry S. Johnson of Oklahoma.

Bands, glee clubs, etc. took part in the demonstrations for each candidate.

At 2:30 a.m. Friday morning Senator Conley of Texas moved that the convention adjourn until 11 a.m. The move was countered by Arthur Mullins, floor manager for the Roosevelt forces, who demanded that the convention continue in session until a ballot was reached.

At 3 a.m. Senator Conley again moved for adjournment. Senator Thomas Walsh, the chairman, ordered a roll call on the question of adjournment. The result of the roll call was 863½ to continue and 281½ to adjourn. It was not entirely a test of Roosevelt strength as several anti-Roosevelt delegations seeing the way the tide was flowing, also voted against adjournment.

The principal delegations voting for adjournment were California, Texas and the majority of New York delegates. Shortly before 6 a.m. roll call started on the first ballot. This ballot gave 666 votes to Roosevelt and 201 to Smith. It required 766 votes to nominate.

Roll call on the second ballot commenced immediately. Daylight had long since arrived at 7 a.m. but the enthusiasm was still great. After the third ballot the convention adjourned at 9 a.m.

Results of First Ballots
The votes for Roosevelt and Smith on the first three ballots were as follows:
First—Roosevelt, 666; Smith, 201.
Second—Roosevelt, 677; Smith, 194.
Third—Roosevelt, 682; Smith, 190.

Other votes were distributed among the other nominees. Miss Lillian Cross, who has been on a holiday trip to Vancouver, returned to the city on the Prince Robert this morning.

The plane, which was serviced at the hangar of the Northern B. C. Airways, left Seattle on Thursday morning but was compelled on account of stormy weather to stop at Alert Bay whence it flew on here.

Lord Rothermere Has Plan For Great Revival of Empire Trade; Canada Would Benefit as Result

MONTREAL, July 2:—A three point program for the Ottawa Empire economic conference that will effect an "enormous trade revival within six months and will build up immense trade for Canada" will be published on Monday throughout Great Britain by the Rothermere press, Lord Rothermere declared last night as he left for the west. The program is as follows:

- First, Great Britain should purchase from Canada seventy-five percent, or $135,000,000 worth, of all lumber used in building.
- Second, Britain should impose an ad valorem duty of one shilling per bushel against foreign wheat and accept Empire wheat free.
- Third, Britain should impose twenty percent ad valorem on all tinned goods from foreign countries including meat, fruit, vegetables and fish.

Two Nations Agree at Lausanne on Plan For Germany's Obligations

Ultimate Liability Would Be Placed at $1,100,000,000 to Be Paid to World Bank in Place of Further Annuities—Acceptance Problematical

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, July 2:—The British and French this evening reached an agreement on all points of a formula for settling reparations and this was turned over to other creditor powers for their approval. German acceptance is problematical, it being reported this evening that Germany had refused to accept any proposal linking

BANQUET SUCCESS

Fish Dinner Tendered Last Night to Visiting Party From Old Country—Attendance Large

Happy Affair

Bishop G. A. Rix and Ralph Deakin, London Newspaperman, Chief Speakers at Gathering

What seemed almost like a great family gathering sat down last evening to a fish banquet at the Commodore Cafe, tendered to the visiting Old Country tour party, every seat at the tables being filled and every available space filled with tables. The pleasant hum of animated conversation continued throughout except when speakers were on their feet. Ald. J. H. Pillsbury, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was in the chair, and he was assisted by Mayor Orme and other prominent citizens. Bishop G. A. Rix was the chief speaker, the chairman, the mayor and Olof Hanson, member of the district, making brief addresses of welcome. The only speaker among the visitors was Ralph Deakin, foreign editor of the London Times.

In defence of the Prince Rupert weather, Bishop Rix said he spent a year in England recently and the weather there was not as good as in his home town. In Scotland it was worse. He welcomed the visitors because they were members of the same great commonwealth of nations. He referred to the war when Prince Rupert was stripped of its men who went to the front and two Victoria Cross winners had been produced. He was proud to belong to the Empire and especially to this part of it.

The speaker said this part of the Empire could maintain its self-respect because it contributed both beauty and bounty. He enlarged on the beauties of Northern British Columbia and then dealt with the industries, present and potential, and urged that British capital might do worse than invest in developing these.

Mr. Deakin, in a humorous address, dwelt somewhat on the incident of crossing Milbank Sound during a bad storm the previous night. He thanked the people for their many kindnesses and said it was a privilege to have met their wives and daughters. They had been pleasantly surprised at the reception given them here. He hoped their part of the Empire would deserve the Bishop's dower.

Other Entertainment
The party of British visitors arrived here from Vancouver aboard up settlement of reparations with adjustment of Allied debts to United States.

The new Franco-British formula, it is understood, definitely fixes the amount of ultimate German liability at four billion marks, or $1,100,000,000, this sum to be paid over to the world bank in place of further reparations annuities.

Premier Eduoard Herriot went to Paris last night and returned here this morning. He is believed to have made the trip to consult with colleagues on the accord which is now announced.

Whether or not the reparations and war debts conference, which has been in progress here for the past two weeks is to conclude successfully, now depends much on the attitude taken by Germany.

GOES TO STEWART

Rev. Frank Bushfield, who has been moved from Bushy to Stewart as United Church pastor, travelled from the smelter town to his new residence in the Portland Canal mining camp on the steamer Prince Rupert this morning, accompanied by his wife and family.

the steamer Prince Rupert yesterday morning and were met by representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and city.

The early part of yesterday was spent in sight-seeing around town and, during the afternoon, about eight members of the party were taken to Inverness to watch the process of salmon canning.

A tea was staged in the afternoon at the Prince Rupert Hotel for the lady members of the party and such men as did not go upriver.

Some of the men took a great interest in the sports of the Dominion Day celebration during the afternoon.

This morning the visitors were taken in cars of members of the Chamber of Commerce for a drive out the Skeena River Highway, the Cold Storage plant, dry dock and elevator also being visited.

Having apparently enjoyed their stay here to the full, members of the party left on this afternoon's train for Jasper Park which will be their next stopping place.

EMPRESS WINS IN BASEBALL

Sons of Canada Lose 1-0 in Fine Pitchers' Battle—Lambie's First Defeat

In the Dominion Day baseball fixture yesterday afternoon, Empress managed to squeeze out a 1-0 victory over Sons of Canada, which tied those two teams for the league leadership. It was a pitchers' battle all the way between Lambie and Walsh, each man allowing but three safeties during the contest. Incidentally, it was the first game Lambie has lost this season, he having won all five of his team's victories.

The only run of the game was scored in the first inning. Kenny led off for Empress and was tossed out at first by Lambie. D. Stalker singled and went to second as Moran threw out Fong at first. Windle was safe when Johnson tumbled his grounder and Stalker went to third. Windle got himself in a hot-box between first and second and before they could tag him Stalker had crossed the plate with the only run of the afternoon.

Sons tried hard and got two men as far as third on two occasions but Empress managed to hold their slim margin to win the game.

Why Object to Hard Times
If You Help to Make It Hard?

you can't send money out of town—money that might as well be spent here—and expect Prince Rupert to be busy! Send your business away—then local merchants, both wholesale and retail cannot find employment for your sons and daughters. And your out-of-town merchant will not employ them.

Send your business away—and you help pay taxes in some other town, to our own town's loss.

Keep on sending your business away—your own taxes will increase still further than they are now.

It is good business to trade at home—good for you in the long run and good for your fellow citizens—good for your home town and good for your sons and daughters. Don't be penny-wise and pound-foolish! Money circulated in Prince Rupert gives employment to Prince Rupert people. Money sent out of town creates unemployment here. Any supposititious saying you imagine, by artful description from the big town, you may make at the time, you don't, in the end. And the whole town loses when your money goes away. Prince Rupert has been good to you. Be good to yourself!

Skeena River Unseemingly Quiet—Death Visits Waterfront Ranks—Halibut Landings

Instead of buzzing with activity on the sockeye pack as is the usual thing at this time of year, the canneries of the Skeena River today are dark and quiet, owing to the complete tie-up caused by the strike of the fishermen against the price of 27 1-2c per fish offered by the canners for sockeye, and people coming in from the Skeena River during the course of the past few days.

report that it is a pitiful sight to behold indeed. Without going into any discussion of the merits of either side of the case, it seems regrettable, indeed, that two weeks of apparently good fishing, such as there is reported to have been available, should have been allowed to go for naught, particularly in days such as these when there is such a general dearth of industrial activity everywhere. While precious time and earnings of more or less questioned value may have been already lost, the best that can be hoped now for is a speedy settlement of existing differences so that work may be resumed and at least a semblance of the good old days be restored.

Engine Satisfactory

The 100 h.p. four-cylinder Fairbanks-Morse diesel engine recently installed at Vancouver in the local seineboat Zenardi, owned by Gammon & Watts, is reported to be functioning very satisfactorily. It is an open head type motor turning a three-blade Coolidge propeller at 44-inch diameter and 34-inch pitch 400 revolutions per minute.

Halibut Landings

Halibut landings at the port of Prince Rupert for the 1932 season up to and including June 30 totalled 6,208,350 pounds as compared with 7,345,740 pounds at a corresponding date last year. Canadian landings up to the end of June this season amounted to 2,105,750 pounds as compared with 2,959,900 pounds last year at the same time. American landings this year had reached a total of 4,102,600 pounds as against 4,385,840 pounds last season at the corresponding date.

During the week of June 25-30, landings were light with a total of only 260,600 pounds of which 76,000 pounds was brought in by Canadian vessels and 194,600 pounds by American. Owing to continued low price conditions, only a few of the larger Canadian boats were still operating.

Prices during the week stood at about the same level as the week previous. The high price of the week for Canadian fish was 5.7c and 2c which the Signal received for 19,000 pounds and the low 3.5c and 2c paid the Lysekil for 23,000 pounds. The high price for American fish was 3.8c and 3c paid the T551 for 3,200 pounds and the low 4c and 2c which several boats received.

"All indications are that the sockeye run on the Skeena River in 1932 will be a small one and, in the interests of conservation, it is recommended that only a very small catch be made," says an official forecast of the 1932 season by Dr. W. A. Clemens of the Nanaimo Biological Station. Neither is the outlook for the run on the Naas River this year good, says Dr. Clemens, who recommends extreme care to avoid complete annihilation of the sockeye in that area. As for Rivers Inlet, there are no grounds to expect anything more than a fair run of fish this year, the scientist predicts.

Twice during the past week has the local waterfront had to mourn the loss by death of well known figures.

The sudden and tragic demise on Sunday morning of Claude Kirkendall, popular and esteemed manager of Booth Fisheries, was a matter for general expressions of regret. To those bereaved the sympathy of all will be extended. The high regard in which the husband and father was held and the many testimonials to his worth that have been voiced should prove lasting comfort for them.

The passing on Tuesday of Capt. Harry Kohrt, pioneer gasboat operator and fishermen of Prince Rupert, while not unexpected as he had been ailing for some considerable time, was also a matter for regret of many friends of deceased. Capt. Kohrt was one of the real old landmarks along the local waterfront and, in his death, a familiar figure is removed.

Capt. Ivor Wick was in port from North Island early this week with his trolling boat Seminole. He reported fishing not too bad at North Island. Some have been doing fairly well while, with others, it has not been so good.

IS DRAMA OF THRILLS

Lots of Action, Spectacular Scenery and Fine Acting Featured in "The Rainbow Trail"

A fast-paced drama, replete with thrills, romance and humorous moments is "The Rainbow Trail," which is the week-end feature on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here. George O'Brien, popular western player, has the leading role in the picture which has more movement and less talk than some talking pictures.

The film was photographed in the Grand Canyon of the Colorado River and contains some of the most gorgeous and breath-taking scenery that has ever been brought to the screen. The sound effects are also notable, particularly the mighty thunder of the great river echoing through the cavernous gorges.

The story revolves around the desperate attempt of a lone cowboy to rescue three people from a hidden valley in the centre of the renegade section of the old west where they had secluded themselves years before. Development of the plot presents many hair-raising thrills.

Cecilia Parker plays the part of the girl who is the main object of the search. She is a new, beautiful and talented actress. Minna Gombell, Roscoe Ates and J. M. Kerrigan take leading parts.

and public improvements to be done, and unless our law-givers devise an effective liaison whereby the workers can enjoy a reasonable share of the fruits of their life by enforced inactivity, I can see no termination of the present state of affairs.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, I would like to state that "Taxpayer's" only truthful statement is that we are willing to work. We are willing to work providing conditions and wages are all right, and will build highways and byways from here to points East and back again.

Thanking you for your permission to reply,
A man from camp.
W. A. HOGG.

IN THE LETTER BOX

RETORE COURTEOUS

Editor, Daily News:
I beg the use of your valuable space to reply to "Taxpayer." The writer prefaces his conclusions with such terms as—"I hear," "I understand," and "I have been told."
The revealed vagueness of the writer's knowledge on the matter cannot be excused by his assumption of facetiousness.
Can the writer point to a solitary instance in which the men at Cloyah Bay have received, or even asked for clothing, from the people of this city?
Behind the brave attempt at levity in "Taxpayer's" letter a note of trepidation is apparent.
Can it be that Mr. Heavy Taxpayer realizes that there is a connection between the idleness of the Bums, Hoboes, and Tramps and the fact that the writer's income has vanished, and he can no longer add to his investments?
Taxpayer closes his quaint diatribe with an appeal to the Editor to get after the "High and Mighty" for something or other.
I suggest that Mr. Heavy Taxpayer resort to prayer as a way out of his difficulties.
It will be equally as efficacious and have at least the merit of not bringing into question the honesty and manhood of his fellow members of society who may not be heavy taxpayers.

CLOYAH BAY WORKER REPLIES TO TAXPAYER

Editor, Daily News:
With reference to "Taxpayer's" letter in your issue of Wednesday, Every once in a while an indignant tax-payer arises and vents his intolerance at things in general—but why poke at the men in Cloyah Bay camp. Is he lacking in conviction and courage in taking refuge behind a signature applying to several hundreds. Taxpayer does not represent everybody's opinion—otherwise Heaven help the working man, and I know that public opinion is at heart friendly to the unemployed.

Does he actually believe that constructing a half-mile of highway will revive the phantom of prosperity? I cannot credit Taxpayer with keeping in touch with the signs of the times.

- The Government does not want the men to go to work.
- They have no money to pay for the work. They are merely tidying over as cheaply as possible in the devout hope that a miracle will somehow adjust things to a normal consumption, and so long as the only remedy is evaded, just so long will the "Dry Rot" Taxpayer speaks of continue, and will finally permeate the higher orders—a just and natural retribution for their neglect. Taxpayer apparently wishes the road to be completed or the camp closed down. This latter seems to be a sore point. It merely means that more will be added to "les meserables" who live in unsanitary hovels—a menace to themselves and to health of the community. As to road work—con Taxpayer feature himself working for 35c. a day clear in this climate, and waxing facetious over his lot and taking a pride in paying his taxes? If so, may the day dawn when circumstances will force him to test his noble sentiments in person. There are not more than five or six queer people in camp obsessed with a child-like faith in the sincerity of the Government, and so demoralized that they are willing to work for their board. The majority of the men in camp are holding out on principle for a decent living rate of pay. It seems to be hard for a man with property to realize that conditions are no fault of the worker individually and can only be remedied by united effort of all classes in the community at the polls.

I am not aware that the Unemployed Association of Prince Rupert or elsewhere advocate "cadging" clothing, although this is being done individually in some cases and cannot be altogether blamed. There should be no excuse for any one having to wear discarded clothing. I am of the opinion that this merely prolongs present conditions—adding fuel to the flame. The country has no lack of either food, clothing or necessary work
