GERMANS MOVING UP MORE MEN AND MATERIAL TO FRONT

ALTHOUGH QUIET PREVAILS ALONG WHOLE FRONT, HUN ACTIVITIES ARE KNOWN—ITALIAN SUCCESS HURTS THE AUSTRIANS—WAR PRISONERS SAY HINDENBURG IS DEAD, EXPLAINING DEFEAT

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, May 14.—Germany's resumption of the grand offensive against the Allies on the western front has not yet materialized. Although there is a quiet along the whole front that might be considered encouraging, still the fact remains that the enemy are known to be moving up more men and material for some new move, as a continuation of their mighty drive which they started on March 21, and which has got them nowhere in particular.

Artillery Active.
London, May 14.—Hostile artillery developed considerable activity early this morning north of Serre. Strong artillery bombardments have also been in progress since then on the southern portion of the British front, and in sectors north of Kemmel.

Italian Front.
Rome, May 14.—Since the Italian troops captured Mont Corro on Saturday morning, the Austrians have tried in vain to regain this commanding peak, south of Asiago, but have been met with strong resistance.

In Mesopotamia.
London, May 14.—In Mesopotamia, the British forces have progressed further up the banks of the river Tigris. After the capture of the town of Kirkuk, the fleeing Turkish forces were pursued for some twenty miles to the north. British troops are now sixty miles east of the important city of Mosul. Another British army is operating along the course of the Euphrates, which it is expected will cut off Mosul from receiving reinforcements from Aleppo.

Hindenburg Dead?
London, May 14.—All the German prisoners captured in France say that von Hindenburg is dead. At the same time, the name of von Mackensen is brought into prominence as that of the great man who is to bring the German armies to victory.

LITHUANIANS REJECT GERMAN PRINCEING

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, May 14.—The Ukrainians are said to be making headway with the new government set up by the Germans in that country. In Lithuania, however, the Germans are getting more to think about. The Lithuanians are demanding the absolute independence of their country, with their monarch selected from some neutral country, instead of the German prince, which Berlin has placed upon the programme.

THE TEXT OF MAYOR'S REPORT RE GARBAGE

The text of the report which Mayor McClymont brought into the board of works regarding the collection of garbage, and which they turned down, without making any amendments, or any counter-report, is as follows:

The Board of Works, City Hall, Gentlemen—By placing the garbage and night soil on a contract basis the following plans for the betterment of city could be put in force:

The city could use present garbage auto, delivering lumber and other duties, thus eliminating the hiring of private teams, which last year cost the city some $1100 alone.

The auto, owing to quick delivery, could collect all the ashes from Cold Storage for purposes of permanent road making, also would be kept steady for some time getting ashes from old ash heaps in the city, of which there are several, and dumping same where advantageous to fill. Means would be adopted whereby all the ashes from heating plants would be collected by city auto for same purpose.

This would lighten the work of garbage collecting, also effect a saving by way of less boat hire for towing scow, and possibly this could be further augmented by garbage contractor being allowed to dump certain garbage in deep fills; for instance 11th Street and Park Avenue.

Should this work out, there would not be a man required steady at the garbage scow, and he could follow auto part of time, and if another man required as well, they could fill in time when not with auto, spreading ashes, gravel or rock, and as all ditches must be kept open there would be considerable work on this score for them to do. Cleaning ditches and street cleaning alone cost the city $766.10 last year.

It should be kept in mind that every yard of ashes collected saves $3.27 by way of gravel and $1.69 by way of rock per same quantity.

While it is impossible to put down in writing just how it would work out in all details, yet if this plan is carried out I believe it will unfold itself as it goes on and be found satisfactory.

As to the point that by placing garbage and night soil on contract basis, we are not eliminating any men owing that one or two shall have to continue with auto, this is covered by the fact that they will be performing a work not now being done, by way of street improvements, and at no extra cost to city, because we take it that a contractor, by arranging night and day men to better advantage, can do the work for less than the city, and this difference, together with money saved by eliminating outside team hire and less boat hire, will meet the difference, and, I believe, show a small balance in the city's favor.

The result should be better streets, and sanitary conditions generally, and at no further expense.

Respectfully submitted,
T. McClymont, Mayor.

NOTES FROM THE COUNCIL CHAMBER

At 8 o'clock promptly the gathering of the councillors was called to order by his worship last evening, and they settled down to transact the business of the city for another week. There were quite a number of small matters, routine matters, to attend to. First of all, there was a letter from the B. C. Food Controller regarding the new prohibition of boarding flour and sugar, and asking that every publicity be given to this new order. Just about this time, the fire department started up testing the engine of one of their automobiles, and for the next ten minutes nothing could be heard in the council chamber. The weather was warm, and the windows were open, and that automobile engine sure did beat the city clerk to it.

This noise had hardly stopped when some other vehicle came rolling down Fulton Street, rattling over the planks on the street like a machine gun. This is no new complaint, but it appears that no one in the city hall likes to upset the status quo. Anyone who attended the sittings of the late Fishery Commission who, sat in the city hall will remember how the attention of the meeting was disturbed by just such noises, which could easily be prevented. Rather than do that, however, the city council seems to like noises on the street.

However, by the time the noise stopped, which was by request, we appeared to be refusing a pressing invitation to attend the convention of Canadian Municipalities to be held in Victoria some time this summer. If we were sending anyone Ald. Casey thought it as well to get him appointed—soon. Then the launch petition was discussed, and it was decided that the city sign this petition, and have the corporate seal affixed, as this petition would assist travel out from this point materially.

We raised the salary of Mr. T. C. Duncan, superintendent of utilities, to $225 per, passed supplies for the various departments, when Alderman McMeekin begged leave to introduce a new bylaw, amending bylaw 263, which had to do with the hours of closing grocery stores. The bylaw was read for the first time, and will come up a week hence for its second reading. It is for the closing of all grocery stores at ten o'clock on Saturday nights. Then we came to the crux of the whole evening. What is garbage? That is the question. Opinions were expressed freely upon this subject and at great length. These councillors are great sticklers for procedure, irrespective of the greater knowledge of the city clerk, and they overrode the mayor's ruling. They refused to sustain the ruling of the chair by a majority vote. The mayor asked for it, of course, but still—! There is a time for using a club.

There was a small discussion over the moving of the Hyde building, which did not get anywhere, when the motion for adjournment was made. Aldermen Casey and McRae, however, had a resolution on the table, however, which was read and adopted. This was an expression of sympathy from the mayor and council of the city of Prince Rupert for Mr. John Carroll and his daughter, in their recent sad bereavement, when the wife and mother was taken away. Mr. Carroll, being a valued and trusted employee of the city, is to receive a copy of this resolution.

This being all the business, the council adjourned.

Remnant Day, and other specials. Wednesday.—Wallace's.

MAYOR'S REPORT RE GARBAGE COLLECTION

The report of his worship the mayor to the board of works, which was read at the council meeting a week ago, came up again last evening. This report suggested certain improvements which would result in better streets, and sanitary conditions, without any further expense. Made to the board of works, in the first instance, they rejected it, hence to get action, the mayor had his report read to the council. There was no counter report from the board of works, even last evening.

Briefly, the suggestion of the mayor was that the collection of garbage be placed upon a contract basis, instead of day labor, as at present. That was one suggestion, and arising from it were many, and all of importance in the civic economy. This initial suggestion, however, was fatal. The very idea of it got Alderman Casey fighting mad in a moment, and he had nothing to say regarding any of the other suggestions brought up by the mayor. Ald. McMeekin moved that a special committee be appointed to go into the whole matter fully, and report back to the council with full information. This was seconded by Ald. McRae, who thought that something might be improved in the health department. He was of the opinion that picking up old papers, excelsior, and other rubbish scattered in the lanes was no work for the garbage men. They were out to collect what was in the cans only, and cleaning up for merchants should not be part of their duties. Even that very day there had been a fire among such material ejected from one store.

The idea of a special committee appealed to his worship, but Ald. Casey took exception to this ruling, holding that it was out of order. Ald. Casey was of opinion that the whole thing hinged upon whether this work was to be done by contract or by day labor. This being the only matter before the house, any other action was ultra vires. The matter of reorganization of the health department, Ald. Casey contended, was not a matter for the council, nor was before it. He thought that the health committee was big enough to attend to that itself. And just here Ald. Casey forgot that if reorganization is required now, as the consensus of opinion in the council seemed to consider, that reorganization was equally much required a year ago. There has been no change in the conditions in this city within that time to make any reorganization more pressing now than then. If it is possible by reorganization to save money now, it was equally possible last year, and a whole year's saving might have been to the credit of the city at this time. But the health committee did not reorganize a year ago, and in all probability, had the mayor not brought up this matter, after the committee had turned his report down, there would be no reorganization now either. But Alderman Casey repeated that the board of works is big enough to cope with the situation.

Alderman Dybhavn was also opposed to the contract basis, on principle, and thought that this special committee was a slur on the health committee. Besides, special committees were out of order, except in extraordinary cases, which this was not. Ald. McMeekin could not see it that way. The health committee had turned down the mayor's report. They were through with it. If the council desired further information upon the matter there was justification for a special committee. Ald. Kirkpatrick considered that the question of contract or day labor was not essential. What was essential was that the whole system be reorganized for the safety of the city. Alderman Dybhavn here thought that the health committee should be given an opportunity to report on the matter, forgetting that they had a whole week to do this, if they chose. But they did not.

Alderman Casey again protested against the mayor's ruling and insisted that the board of works was quite capable of any reorganizing that was required. But whether they exercise their capabilities, of course, is another story. The mayor, fortified by the opinion of the city clerk, then put the question to the council, as to whether they would sustain his ruling, but they would not, by six votes to two.

Another motion was thereupon made by Ald. Dybhavn that the matter be referred back to the health committee to report as to any possible reorganization of the work, which would effect an economy. This was agreed to, after some further discussion.

GERMAN AIR SERVICE IS BATTERED TO PIECES

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, May 14.—The German air service has been battered to pieces. Since March 31, it is estimated that their losses have totalled some seven hundred pilots, observers and machine gunners, while a thousand of their machines have been destroyed. This is held to be the explanation of the cessation of the aerial raids upon London and Paris, the enemy being forced to withdraw his night pilots for use in day flying, and observation on the fighting line.

Berlin's Modest Claims.
Berlin, May 14.—The losses suffered by the enemy aerial forces during the month of April have amounted to fifteen captive balloons, and two hundred and seven fell behind our lines. Others were seen to fall beyond the enemy positions. In the air fighting during the same period, we lost one hundred and twenty-three aeroplanes and fourteen captive balloons.

Ostend and Zeebrugge Bombed.
London, May 14.—The Admiralty announces that during the period between May 6 and 12, inclusive, the Allied aerial forces working from Dunkirk carried out successful bombing operations against the Ostend docks and submarine base, Zeebrugge Mole and lock gates, and the enemy shipping in that vicinity.

WILHELM AND KARL IN COMPLETE ACCORD

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, May 14.—The Emperor Charles of Austria accompanied by his foreign minister and military leaders have called upon the Emperor Wilhelm at his general headquarters in Germany. The report of the meeting says that there was complete accord to their discussion of the present and future relations of the two countries.

PLAN COLONIZATION OF OCCUPIED RUSSIA

Amsterdam, May 13.—Frederich von Payer, the German Imperial Vice-Chancellor, in announcing to the main committee of the Reichstag the establishment of a special department to regulate Germany's eastern policy, said:

"We hope particularly for advantages relating to the safeguarding of our food supplies, and then for what can be comprised under the general term of colonization. The relationship of the border states to us shall and must furnish us with military security of our frontiers against Russia, which security we can not renounce."

Besides this, however, there also is the national sympathy with the Germans in these territories. That applies particularly to the Baltic provinces. The treatment of states must differ, according to their size, their economical and political conditions, their geographical situation and further direct connection which is possible.

ENEMY SUBMARINE CAMPAIGN DECLINES

(Special to The Daily News.)

Paris, May 14.—The effectiveness of the German submarine campaign is declining. The German government is painfully aware of this fact, but has made the greatest of efforts to conceal it. The situation is at present the most favorable. The sinking of enemy submarines during the first three months of 1918 has been much greater than the number built during that period by the enemy.

WILHELM STILL GIVES OUT TNT OLD STUFF

Amsterdam, May 13.—"The last few months have brought us successes which will materially influence the world's development in the next few decades," says a telegram sent by Emperor William in reply to an address of homage from a convention of German Chambers of Commerce. "They insure our right to a strong peace which will open new roads to German commerce and give us complete freedom for the development of our industries. Our sacrifices of blood and treasure shall not be in vain."

Field Marshal von Hindenburg also sent a message saying: "If all the German people stand united a peace will be won which will assure fresh prosperity for commerce and industry."

A FRENCHMAN ON GERMANY

Debussy, the French composer, once said that Germany invented restaurant music in order to cover the noises made by the sons of the Fatherland at their soup. This kind of remark not only annoys the German but makes him self-conscious. With all his efficiency, he has a vague sense of inferiority, and the more he asserts himself as a man of taste and culture the more the inferiority becomes evident. The German who practices the goose-step before his admiring countrymen may feel himself a hero, but he becomes uneasy and angry when he catches a critical French eye. It is the French ridicule, too openly expressed, that was the cause of the notorious Zabern incident. The German has risen to power too quickly, and makes a clumsy figure beside the highly civilized Frenchman. He may try by swaggering to make up for his deficiencies, but swaggering only emphasizes his fundamental barbarism.

A great many books have been written during the past three years pointing to pre-war evidences of degeneracy in Germany. But the authors are generally wise after the event. As a matter of fact, most people were deceived by Germany, and the prophets who saw beyond her outward efficiency were, for the most part, ignored. All visitors to Germany may not have found there a "spiritual home," but the majority were more or less impressed by German orderliness and industry. This aspect of German life receives full justice from M. Marc Henry, whose interesting articles in "La Revue de Paris" have now been gathered together and published in English. M. Henry of course has the French touch, and the total effect of his book is to leave the German with a gross, foolish face in the midst of all his slightly shoddy splendors. But, as he says, no really strong nation need shut its eyes and ears to facts; and France and England may learn something even from Germany. "Democracy of comfort," he writes, "was the essential quality of pre-war Germany. In Republican France and Parliamentary England comfort came with riches, and was barely distinguishable from luxury. Autocratic Germany, on the other hand, put convenience within the reach of the majority of her citizens." Germany's mistake was that she mistook civilization for culture. "Culture is the treasure we carry in ourselves, the sacred fire—so to speak, the forcing bed in which we grow. Civilization is a practical application of human discovery, and amounts to putting within the reach of the community the greatest possible wellbeing." So Germany is civilized like the negro who has received clothes, a Bible, and a gun. What she calls her "kultur" is cheap and nasty. "None of the dust of old humanity is allowed to rest on all her splendor. The Germans have thrown overboard all ballast in order to rise even higher, but the ballast they rejected was their real treasure, and stood for the true value of their race, which is now dishonored in the eyes of the world." M. Henry dissects German character at a hundred points, and always with an illuminating French touch. He discusses Socialist Germany; artists, monarch, and censors; German women; the life of every day; Jews; master-singers, students, officers, and policemen; Vanity Fair. His account of the relations of South Germany, Bavaria, and the rest to Prussia is well worth reading in view of hopes sometimes entertained of a German revolution. The Bavarians, he explains, never hesitate to show their contempt for the Prussians, provided that in so doing they do not run any danger themselves.

The last part of this sentence M. Henry puts in italics. German frankness is always subordinate to fear. It is, however, astonishing to what extent contempt may be expressed without coming within range of the law. M. Henry for example, organized a ball at Munich which he advertised as "Through Darkest Germany." The longest name represented a wide street in Berlin. On the cloth that did duty for the sky were hung chains, bayonets, guns, blood-stained swords, deadly weapons of all kinds. A triumphal arch from one room to another was in the form of an immense policeman, who, with hands on knees and feet wide apart, glared at the crowd passing below. Epigrams from the Kaiser's speeches decorated the walls. The guests were dressed in parodies of the costumes of official personages, and amused themselves by pinning on each other such famous decorations as the Order of the Red Eagle and the Cross Pour le Merite. And so on. Ministers of State and the Chief of Police himself were amused guests at the ball. Yet it all meant nothing. Outside the company met real policemen with pointed helmets and once more became peaceful citizens, obedient to their masters. Obedience is in the bones of the German; and Prussia is well aware of the fact. An intellectual himself, M. Henry knows the German intellectuals thoroughly. His conclusion is that they are artificial and violent products of an uneducated society, poor in tradition, but rich in lust, incapable of understanding the subtlety of tact, harmony, or proportion. M. Henry is an entertaining as well as an instructive guide through Germany. Books about the Fatherland before the war are common enough, but "Beyond the Rhine" is sufficiently distinctive to command special attention from the reading public.—G. H.

Appendicitis Operations Not Always Necessary

Internal Bathing Relieves the Cause
Your physician will tell you that Appendicitis is an inflamed condition of the little sack called the Appendix at the lower right-hand corner of the Colon or large intestine. By cleansing this Colon with purified warm water by the "J. B. L. Cascade" this sack is cleansed and the inflammation subsides. Hundreds of operations have been avoided by using the warm water cure for Appendicitis. Mr. Jas. McLaughlin, 91 Evanston street, Winnipeg, writes:

"I had spent over fifty dollars with doctors trying to cure Appendicitis. Finally the doctor said I must go to the hospital at once for an operation. Your advertisement interested me. I bought a 'J. B. L. Cascade,' which relieved me at once, and am now completely cured. Never felt better in my life; all pain and soreness gone, and I eat and sleep like a boy. I am grateful to Dr. Tyrrell for this wonderful health-giving invention."

95 per cent. of all human ills are caused by accumulated waste in the Colon. Internal bathing with the "J. B. L. Cascade" keeps this large intestine as free from all waste and as clean as nature demands it should be for perfect health. Ask Cyril H. Orme, Druggist, corner 3rd Ave. and 6th st., for booklet called "Why Man of Today is Only 50 Per Cent. Efficient." It is free. He will also be pleased to show and explain the "J. B. L. Cascade" to you.

WHAT BRITISH SUBS. HAVE BEEN DOING

Washington, May 11.—More than forty German warships have been attacked successfully by British submarines.

This was disclosed by an official British statement received here and made public today by the Committee on Public Information. The review was the most extensive ever received in this country of the work of the British underwater craft, concerning the activities of which little news has reached America since their famous raids in the Dardanelles and the Baltic Sea.

Various exploits of individual craft are recounted. In many instances the submarine commanders have threaded their way through dangerous mine fields to seek out their quarry, and so successful have they been in penetrating the defenses of the German coast that the report notes that the enemy "rarely allows his above-water craft beyond the confines of his harbors."

FAR-REACHING RULING OF POLICE MAGISTRATE WILL AFFECT MANY MEN

Winnipeg, May 11.—Sir Hugh John Macdonald, the police magistrate, has ordered the wholesale arrest of men engaged in various employments under the Anti-Loafing Act. Men doing work which can equally well be done by women, Sir Hugh, in effect, has ruled, are not engaged in useful occupation. The judgment affects men employed in conducting confectionery stores or clerking in grocery stores and the same principle extends to dozens of similar activities.

There was a wise Spear-woman lived in a shoe
 For her many children she knew what to do:
 She made them most happy with Wrigley's for all—
 It kept them in trim at a cost very small!

"SCANDAL" AT THE WESTHOLME TONIGHT

One of the new stars in film-dom is to be seen at the Westholme Theatre this evening in a great photoplay called "Scandal." This is a play of the same class which has proved so interesting. While scandal is a thing abhorred openly, a secret leaning towards this is sometimes seen around, and its effects are duly noted in the play. In addition to the play, there will also be a fine Gazette and a comedy. There will also be a matinee tomorrow afternoon, when "Polly of the Circus" will be screened. The show will start at 3:15 and there will be eight big reels.

THE MACHINIST'S STRIKE

Information given out this morning is to the effect that there is no change in the situation, whereby the Machinists in town are on strike. The men are standing firmly for their demands. They contend that the masters' suggested amendments to the agreement are detrimental to the men, but were conceded on the understanding that the agreement would be signed. At the last meeting held between the masters and mtn, a perfect understanding prevailed, and the refusal to sign the agreement came as a surprise on Monday. The men feel that they have been tricked into making concessions, which they otherwise would not have made, and now intend to fight.
