GERMAN ARMY REACHES RIVER MARNE

TIP OF ENEMY SALIENT PUSHED FAR FORWARD — BIG FIGHTING IN PROGRESS

GERMAN THRUST TOWARDS PARIS CHECKED BY ALLIES

TREMENDOUS WEIGHT OF ENEMY DRIVE BRINGS HIS TROOPS THE MARNE RIVER—SOISSONS IS IN FLAMES AND RHEIMS MENACED—ENEMY CANNOT WIDEN HIS SHARP SALIENT

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, June 1.—The Germans in their Champagne offensive have now reached the right bank of the river Marne, on a ten-mile front. The enemy is along the river in the vicinity of Chateau Thierry. The statement says that the Germans have not as yet attacked there heavily and to the north. The opinion of the General Staff seems to be contained in the following: "The situation around Rheims is not quite clear, but if the city is not already lost it seems clear that it must fall soon."

Berlin Reports.
Berlin, June 1.—More than 35,000 prisoners and far in excess of 4,000 guns and thousands of machine guns have been taken by the Germans, according to the German official statement today.
London, June 1.—Reuter's correspondent at the French Headquarters reported that some forty German divisions were engaged in the latest Aisne battle, with other divisions in reserve. It is possible that the enemy may strike another blow for Amiens, or Dunkirk, but at the present moment he appears to be throwing his entire strength into the Aisne conflict in his attempt to break through to Paris. While the momentum of the German Crown Prince's drive has not yet entirely spent itself, there was a noticeable slackening yesterday, and slowly but surely the French and British armies are checking the further advance of the enemy. A conflagration of extensive proportions is reported to have started in the city of Soissons.

ALLIES AGAIN RAID ZEEBRUGGE, CAUSING GREAT EXPLOSION

Amsterdam, June 1.—A long heavy aerial attack was made upon the port of Zeebrugge by the French and British aviators on Thursday night and Friday morning. There was a tremendous crash and a severe concussion which was felt by the entire neighborhood. Pillars of flames rose high into the air, and it is supposed that bombs dropped by the allied machines had hit and exploded the chief munition depot maintained by the Germans at that place.

Next Monday being the King's birthday, the registration and general delivery wickets at the post office will be open from nine to ten in the morning.

NOTED B. C. ATHLETE KILLED IN FRANCE

Sergt. Chas. B. Kennedy, of Victoria, Brother of Mr. D. R. Kennedy of this City, Loses his Life in Action.

On his return to town after a business trip up river, Mr. D. R. Kennedy found awaiting his return notification of the death of his brother, Staff Sergeant Chas. B. Kennedy, of Victoria. It is just about a year ago that word came of his winning the Military Medal and at that time he was also mentioned in dispatches. Sergeant Kennedy's fame as a sportsman has spread over the Pacific coast from his home town of Victoria. His athletic achievements were in many respects phenomenal, as he excelled in many diversified branches of sport, and in all maintained the standard of true sportsmanship. As a cyclist, he held the British Columbia one mile record for two years. At rowing he excelled, stroking the J.B.A.A. "Big Four" for six years, during which time the crew never met defeat in the Pacific northwest. For two seasons he was successful in winning the junior and senior doubles of the Pacific coast. There are few coast athletes who could boast such proficiency in so many lines of sport, for he was also a familiar figure on the football field, both in rugby and association, while he was also a very keen follower of lacrosse.

Sergeant Kennedy was killed on April 21st in action at the front, where he had been for twenty-two months continuously without leave. He left B. C. in June, 1915, with the 47th Battalion, having come from California immediately when the war broke out to join up. The wide circle of his friends and acquaintances spread over the province will learn of his death with sorrow, and their sympathy will be extended to his immediate relatives.

POLICE CAPTURE SOME CHINA BOOZE

As Constable Adams was proceeding up Fulton Street this morning about nine o'clock, he noticed a dusky Oriental proceeding very innocently with a very unsuspecting sack down the Fulton Street stairway.

The Chinaman was interrupted in his journey and asked a few questions. The answers to these were not altogether satisfactory to the constable, who asked him to go with him to Chateau Vickers. Here it was ascertained that the very unsuspecting sack of the Oriental contained no less than seven bottles of the real old fashioned "San Sney." When arraigned in the police court there was nothing for Jim Lee to do but pay $50.50 for his entertainment at the city hotel.

GERMANS FEAR ALLIED AERIAL RAIDS UPON THEIR OPEN TOWNS

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, June 1.—The recent astonishing successes of the allied aerial offensive has caused a renewal of an oblique enemy suggestion for the cessation of the air bombardment of open towns. The German Headquarters Staff clearly realize the enormous and ever-growing disadvantage at which it is now placed, now that the allied air forces have attained a sufficient strength and efficiency to reach every city in western and central Germany.

While no new direct representations have been made by the German government regarding this mode of warfare at present, suggestions have been made through neutrals, doubtless at German instigation, that such operations cease. Now that the Germans have been beaten at their own game, they are beginning to squeal, but, like the war itself, having started it, they will have to go through with it, whether they like it or not.

AT THE WESTHOLME

Ethel Clayton is the star actress in the photoplay to be screened this evening at the Westholme Theatre. One of the most beautiful of screen actresses, she is deservedly a favorite wherever she appears. "Souls Afloat" to be shown tonight, affords her some opportunity to display her talent, which she makes the most of. Wrecked on her father's yacht, with a former sweetheart, with whom she had fallen out as second engineer, these two are the only survivors, and they land upon a small desert island. The adventures of this man and woman, at loggerheads with each other, away from all outside interference are intensely interesting. The fine quality of the programme is enhanced by the addition of a fine gazette and a comedy.

GREEK TROOPS MAKE LARGE CAPTURES OF ENEMY PRISONERS

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, June 1.—Continued activity of the Greek troops operating on the Macedonian front has resulted in the capture by them of more than fifteen thousand German and Bulgarian prisoners. Thirty-three officers are among the number taken, and great quantities of booty have also been seized from the enemy. The war material which has fallen into the hands of the Greek soldiers consists chiefly of machine guns and ammunition, with many rifles.

AMERICAN TRANSPORT SUNK BY TORPEDO

SETTLEMENT OF SHIPYARD STRIKE NOT YET IN SIGHT

U-BOAT COMMANDER BETRAYED FOUR U-BOATS

New York, May 31.—The first authoritative explanation of Premier Lloyd George's announcement, made some time ago, that five German U-boats were sunk in one day off the north coast of Ireland was given yesterday by Louis Tracy, the novelist, to a large audience at the American Artists' Exhibit for the blind war relief fund in the Anderson Galleries.

Mr. Tracy, who is associated with the British War Mission in this country, said:

"A British submarine was lying on the surface off the coast of Ireland. Suddenly appeared, not more than forty feet away, the periscope of a German U-boat. The British craft immediately fired and disabled the U-boat so that the British captured her, her commanding officer and men. The commander was taken aboard the British submarine, where he was treated well, but seemed very ill at ease, and kept taking out his watch.

"Finally he informed the British commander that there were four other German U-boats in the vicinity. The British commander immediately communicated with his station by wireless, and destroyers were rushed toward the spot where the German commander indicated the German U-boats might be. As a result, every one of the four remaining U-boats was destroyed, marking the largest single bag of German submarines during the war."

The Lillian S. arrived from the banks with 7,000 lbs. of halibut today.

GERMAN AVIATORS BOMB HOSPITALS

(Special to The Daily News.)

With the British Armies in the Field, June 1.—Early on Thursday morning, German airmen again bombed another hospital behind the British lines. On this occasion it was a Canadian institution, and a considerable toll of casualties was taken.

A CIVILIAN ARMY BEHIND THE LINES

Paris, May 31.—Far-reaching plans for the organization in France of a civilian labor force to carry out engineering work behind the lines, thus releasing American soldiers for duty at the front, were announced today. Already more than 16,000 French, Italian and other laborers free from military obligations have been engaged and put to work on some of the approximately one thousand engineering construction and reconstruction jobs on which Americans were being employed.

The move is the initial step in a plan long contemplated and discussed to free tonnage for other purposes by creating a civilian army behind the lines which may eventually total a quarter of a million men, entirely, if possible, recruited from abroad. This will make it necessary to import American civilian labor. The men already procured comprise a dozen nationalities, including Chinese and Moroccans, who are being shipped to France as rapidly as the Americans need them.

CONSTABLES UNFIT FOR ACTIVE SERVICE

In the detachment of eighteen constables of the Royal North West Mounted Police which passed through the city yesterday, there was not a man fit for military service overseas. These men were all anxious to go in the company now being formed for overseas service, but were unable to pass the medical examination, so have gone north to take the places of those who have recently qualified for active service.

The men who recently passed through the city from the north had a dog which they planned to take to France with them as a mascot, but the animal only got as far as Regina. It was turned over to the contingent going to the Yukon and was with the party on its way back to Dawson yesterday.

FISHERIES COMMISSION REACH COMMON BASIS

Washington, May 31.—Members of the joint American-Canadian Fisheries Commission, after holding extended hearings on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts in both countries, have found themselves in substantial agreement on all questions, with only details of operation remaining to be settled.

Special reduced prices at Tite's. Everything for home requirements.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Paris, June 1.—The impression prevails in Paris that the worst is over, so far as the Aisne phase of the German offensive is concerned. Announcement that the allied reserves are hurrying forward adds confidence to the public. The morale of the civilians remains untouched by air raids and long range bombardments. The streets are thronged with people clad in gay summer attire, most of them wearing flowers. The newspapers do not attempt to minimize the importance of the German advance. Confidence is expressed that the High Command will so dispose of the allied troops as to restore the situation. It is the resistance of the two wings of the allied armies which inspires confidence. To take a victorious advantage of the success so far gained the Germans must succeed in bending these two wings. All their efforts to do this have failed up to the present.

London Says Drive Checked

London, June 1.—Thanks to the stubborn resistance offered by the allies in their heroic defense of every inch yielded to the enemy, and in their maintenance of the closest co-ordination between the French and British forces, the German thrust towards Paris in Soissons and Rheims has undoubtedly been checked, if not definitely stopped.

The Allied troops are falling back slowly and in orderly fashion, their reserves increasing the support given to the hard pressed front line troops at critical points.

The development of the past twenty-four hours has brilliantly demonstrated the value of the idea of a supreme allied commander, which Lloyd George long insisted upon and was finally accomplished in the face of a determined opposition.

HOSPITAL BOARD IN REGULAR MEETING

The regular meeting of the Hospital Board was held last evening in the city hall. Much of the business to come before the gathering was of a routine character.

The board considered the present fuel situation at some length and it was finally decided that it would assist in the matter if tenders were called for at the present time for some two hundred tons of coal. This matter was finally left with the secretary.

Tenders were also opened for some repair work to the eaves of the old wing and it was found that Mr. C. O. Rowe was the lowest tenderer.

It will be remembered that it was decided some time back that the ladies should have representation on the board, and accordingly Mrs. Mobley and Mrs. Arnold have been elected from the Ladies Auxiliary to become members of the board.

THE ZIONIST TRADITION

The reception of the Zionist Commission in Palestine reminds us that one of the unexpected results of the great war is the prospect of the final delivery of the Holy Land from the rule of the Turks; unexpected, because when we entered upon the struggle with Germany, we did not imagine that Turkey would be foolish enough to unite her fortunes to those of Prussian militarism, and when the success of German diplomacy became obvious few of us were bold enough to prophesy that the war in the East would be carried so far into the enemy's country. Scarcely less surprising is the sympathy with Jewish aspirations which the conquest of Palestine has revealed, a sympathy both more widespread and more active than the leaders of the Jewish movement had themselves realized. Part of the explanation lies in the fact that the Jewish hope of a return to the promised land is itself so very ancient, and that, for several generations, it has aroused interest among the British people.

The modern Zionist movement began in the seventeenth century, and it received a certain amount of sympathy among those English Puritans who were looking for the Millennium. More than three centuries and a half had elapsed since the expulsion of the Jews from England by Edward I., and the memory of the hatred with which they were regarded had become only a tradition, while the Jews themselves had forgotten the intolerant treatment which they had received as the chattels of mediaeval kings. Isolated individuals of the Jewish race can be traced in England at many periods after the disappearance of the Jewish communities from the towns, and, after the Reformation, they came in considerable numbers, especially from Spain. Sympathy could not be refused to victims who were fleeing from the terrors of the Inquisition, and the Jews found the people in Britain more friendly than any other nation.

But the aims of Menasseh ben Israel and of their English sympathisers, were much wider than a mere settlement. The settlement in this country was to be only a preliminary to the return to Palestine, and many of the Jews believed that a Davidic origin could be claimed for Cromwell, and that he was the fore-ordained instrument of their restoration. The Protector's death put an end to these hopes, but they soon revived under the leadership of a Smyrna Jew who, in 1666, proclaimed himself to be the Messiah. All over Europe the Jews, poor and rich, began to get themselves ready to occupy the Holy Land, and rich London bankers shared in the excitement with the poor and oppressed Jews throughout Europe. The expectation survived the exposure of the impostor in whose ambition the movement had originated, and the poorer and more ignorant members of the scattered Jewish community continued for nearly a hundred years to cherish the delusion of an immediate restoration. A period of reaction followed, and the better treatment which the Jews received in many countries turned the aspirations of their leaders towards the identification of Jewish interests with those of the varied peoples among whom they lived. But the spiritual foundations of the old hope were laid too deep to be destroyed and the faith in an eventual restoration persisted. In the nineteenth century a revival of a belief in the early coming of the Millennium gave the Zionist idea help similar to that which it had received in the time of Cromwell; philanthropists like Lord Shaftesbury espoused the cause, writers like George Eliot gave it a new inspiration, and Disraeli, never unmindful of the rock out of which he was hewn, encouraged Laurence Oliphant in his scheme of persuading the Turks to consent to the establishment of a Jewish State in Palestine.

It was, however, the astonishing and deplorable outburst of anti-Semitism in France, Germany, and Austria, and more especially in Russia, in the last quarter of the nineteenth century which made Zionism again a living question. The reaction of a hundred years before had depended upon the belief that the Jews would receive kind, and ultimately equal, treatment in the lands of their adoption. That belief has been justified in this country, but scarcely anywhere else, and when, in 1895, Theodor Herzl began a political propaganda for a return to Palestine, the strength of his movement rapidly increased. Like the older efforts, the modern scheme is definitely and indissolubly associated with Palestine, and the rejection, in 1903, of Mr. Chamberlain's suggestion of a settlement in British East Africa showed the depth of the feeling for the Holy Land. Much has happened since 1903, and the success of the Zionist movement is certainly among the possibilities of the future.

A Clergyman's Wife Wants Women to Know Advantages of Internal Bathing

If women could only see the thousands of letters Dr. Tyrrell has received from grateful women in all parts of the world, thanking him for his wonderful invention for Internal Bathing, they would soon discard the medicine bottle and look to the cause of their trouble. 95 per cent. of all human ills are due to accumulated waste in the Colon or Large Intestine. Warm water, properly used with the "J. B. L. Cascade," will relieve the cause of your troubles and perfect health will follow.

A Winnipeg clergyman writes: "My wife is naturally sensitive about having her name appear in public print, yet is anxious that others should know what the 'J. B. L. Cascade' has done for her. It has really given her a new lease of life. For years she had been doctoring for Constipation, which became worse every year. Since using the 'J. B. L. Cascade', first about 4 years ago, she has not been sick a day, and has become robust and strong again. Should any person wish this letter confirmed, you are at liberty to give my name in private."

The "J. B. L. Cascade" is shown and explained by Cyril H. Orme, Third Avenue, Prince Rupert, B.C.

The "J. B. L. Cascade" is an invention, perfected by Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York, and has done more during the past few years to restore health and lessen disease than all other means combined. Ask for booklet explaining all about Internal Bathing and what it has done for others." It is free.

"The food crisis is grave and urgent, beyond possibility of exaggeration."—Sir Robert Borden

City and Town Labor Must Save The Food Situation

THE heart of the food production problem is labor, and the heart of the labor problem is the city dweller. City people must produce food if Canada is to do her full duty in support of our soldiers and Allies.

Men who are needed on farms must come from the cities and towns—there is no other source. The Provincial Departments of Agriculture co-operating with the Canada Food Board, can place thousands of men on good farms in this Province. They are needed at once.

Those who remain at home must also Grow Food

A War Garden will not excuse the man whose rightful place this year is on a farm. But War Garden service is needed from those who can do no more.

Every pound of home-grown vegetables, produced on city land by city labor, will be a positive addition to the food supply. Home Garden and Vacant Lot cultivation will leave the farmers free to grow more food for export.

The vegetable garden offers an opportunity for service to men whose circumstances make it impossible for them to work on a farm, to women, to boys and girls—to city people generally.

Be a Food Producer This Year

If there is a garden or vacant lot movement in your community, associate yourself with it. If no organization exists, do what you can to interest your neighbours in the War Garden campaign. Write to your Provincial Department of Agriculture for pamphlets on gardening and additional information.

GERMANS BREAK SIGNED ARMISTICE

Moscow, May 29.—Although the peace negotiations between Russia and the Ukraine have now been begun at Kiev, the Germans have broken the armistice on the Voronezh front, occupying the town of Valuikis after four days of fighting, and making a further advance.

The Izvestia, organ of the Bolsheviks, explains the advance as being due to Germany's intentions to seize those portions of the Voronezh government which the Ukraine desires. Meanwhile the Germans are making extensive preparations in the Caucasus and continuing their operations in the Don region, where no armistice has been agreed to. Germany's intentions, says the newspapers, seem to be widening in scope.

Reports of the first session of the Kiev peace conference held on May 23, indicate that the Germans are in no hurry for the conclusion of peace between Russia and the Ukraine.

"PUNCH" AND SIR WILFRID LAURIER

Punch's famous counsel to those about to marry—"don't."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's advice to those in the same predicament—"Do."

A deputation of the press gallery at Ottawa—hardened cynics most of them, no doubt—waited on the Liberal chieftain and presented him on the occasion of his fiftieth wedding anniversary with a bouquet of red roses, one for each of the fifty years. The single men amongst the delegation got this advice in return:

"Amongst the blessings of life there is no blessing like a good wife. Gentlemen, I have enjoyed that blessing these fifty years. To the single amongst you I would say get married, and I will hope for you all the happiness which these fifty years have brought me."

For a somewhat cheaply-sentimental and all-too-cynical world which refuses at all times to wear its heart upon its sleeve, there is a refreshingly frank return to fundamentals in this avowal.

The Canadian Bankers' Association

Invites the Co-Operation of the Public on Behalf of the Banks

Staffs Heavily Reduced by War

MORE than half the men in the banks of Canada are now on military service, and the number which remains is being steadily reduced.

Women clerks have been employed in thousands and have done splendidly, but they have not the experience of the men they replace. It would be out of the question to expect them to work as rapidly or with the same knowledge of banking as officers of many years training in the profession.

The drain upon the number of experienced officers has now reached a point where it is necessary to ask the public to take into consideration this decrease in efficiency, and to lighten, as far as they can, the burden thus thrown upon those left to run the business. Canada was never so busy as now and the volume of banking business is greater than ever before.

How the Public Can Help

Transact your banking business in the morning as far as possible, and as early as possible. Try to avoid a rush at closing time.

Do not draw any more cheques than are absolutely necessary. Instead of paying small accounts by cheque, draw the money in one amount and pay in cash.

Change in Banking Hours June 1st.

On and after June 1st banking hours will be: 9.30 to 2.30; Saturdays 9.30 to 12.00.

This arrangement will give the staff more time to complete the large amount of work which cannot be taken up until after the office is closed to the public.

Special Services Discontinued July 1st.

Certain services must of necessity be discontinued, for a time at least.

On July 1st banks will discontinue receiving payments for tax bills and the bills of gas, electric and other public service corporations.

The banks desire to render all essential services including many special ones arising out of the war. In order to do this they make this appeal for co-operation in the manner suggested above

The fourth game of the series between the drydock and the entrance took place last night on the grounds at Market Place. Both teams were in fine spirits and the weather man arranged for fine weather to the end of the game. Wendell Murphy made the sensational play of the evening when he caught the pill square on the nose for a home-run, scoring also two men before him. The game ended with a win for the drydock, this making a tie in the series of two games each. The next game will be played on the same grounds next Friday evening at 7:30.
