SERVICE IS EXPLAINED

Stop-Over At Winnipeg for Trans-Continental Travellers Unavoidable

MONTREAL, July 8.—Changes recently made in the transcontinental passenger services of the Canadian National Railways whereby a stop-over at Winnipeg was made necessary for travellers between Montreal, Toronto, and other eastern Canada points and the Pacific coast has led to many representations being made to the management of the system. In order to make the Company's position clear the following official statement was issued at Canadian National headquarters here:

"The inconvenience to some of our patrons resulting from the present arrangement is regretted but it is confidently believed that the arrangement provides the greatest convenience to by far the greater proportion of the people travelling on these trains. The arrangements were designed to accomplish this and also to reduce operating expenses. It is felt that in this period of extreme depression any other arrangement, which would inevitably involve loss of traffic or additional service with consequent heavy expense, could not be justified. The decision by the management to make the change was determined solely by economic factors."

FINAL DECISION IS SAID TO BE TRIUMPH FOR BRITISH DIPLOMACY—WORK OF CONFERENCE ENDS TOMORROW WITH PLENARY SESSION.

LAUSANNE, July 8.—A great triumph for British diplomacy was scored when after a series of almost daily setbacks a French and German accord was at last announced today on the issues under discussion at the conference on reparations and inter-governmental debts.

Premier Herriot of France has agreed to give the Germans a measure of satisfaction in regard to their demand for the elimination of the war guilt clause of the Treaty of Versailles, it was understood.

True the accord will not cover as wide a field as the Germans contemplated but it goes a long way toward fixing up the European financial muddle.

The conference will probably wind up with a plenary session tomorrow at which the draft agreement will be signed.

The agreement provides for German payment of a nominal three billion marks or about $750,000,000, which will replace the reparations annuities.

The agreement wipes out the German reparations annuities. In place of the annuities, which would have run for another 5 years at a total of roughly twenty-five billion dollars, Germany will issue bonds to the amount of $750,000,000 when her credit position permits and in any event not for three years.

The German payment of her final liability will be under the figure mentioned because the bonds will be issued at 90. If it is not considered advisable to issue them within 15 years, then the whole issue will be cancelled. The sinking fund is fixed at one percent.

The "war guilt" difficulty was overcome by a phrase in the draft which vaguely refers to closing the doors on the past.

The reparations debt was originally capitalized at sixty-four billion dollars but has been successively scaled down to the present figure.

The next step is a revision of the debt agreement with the United States.

U. S. MAKES ADVANCES

TWO FLYERS ARE SAFE

James Mattern and Bennett Griffin Forced Down in Russia

MOSCOW, July 8.—Experiencing trouble with the controls and mistaking the lights of Borisov, fifty miles from Minsk, Russia, for those of Moscow, James Mattern and Bennett Griffin were forced to put their plane down in a peat bog when they could find no better place and wrecked their machine. Neither aviator was hurt and they took the train for Moscow.

The flight ended at 4 a.m. yesterday about half way between Berlin and Moscow. Control trouble had apparently carried them out of their course.

C. M. P. seemed nearly ended today. Karulak made a confession and the police are closing in on two other alleged bandits.

People Again Discussing Politics In South and T. D. Pattullo Active In View of Situation Developing

VICTORIA, July 8.—The sudden return of T. D. Pattullo from Prince Rupert and the cancellation of his proposed tour to the interior has set people to talking politics and the possibility of an early election is again discussed. Undoubtedly the leader of the opposition is expecting some political move for he is very active. In an address he touches the heart of the present movement as follows:

"We have to decide whether we are going to help others as well as ourselves, or whether there shall continue the old policy of every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost.

"If we look at the situation from a broad aspect, we will recognize that we are in the midst of a great movement, and that constant effort is being put forth, and definite progress is being made to create a mass opinion that will enable action to be taken, looking to the amelioration of national and individual disability.

"Nobody is satisfied today with what is, and many people are ready to try anything in the hope of bettering conditions, and it is just at this point that we must keep ourselves on the ground.

"Notwithstanding the breakdown of our economic structure, and the seeming powerlessness of governments to meet the emergency, and notwithstanding the fact that many people are suffering great distress and positive want, enormous progress has been made. The world is richer in natural resource and human resourcefulness than ever before. The means of relieving distress are available. It is only a matter of distributing it, yet this matter of distribution has proved an enormous stumbling block.

"Many people argue that science, which has made possible mass production, is reducing the demand for man power, and that what seemed a blessing is now working to its own destruction. The truth is that while progress through science demands readjustment to meet changing conditions, there has been, in the grand aggregate, increased opportunity for employment, and increased means and opportunity for healthy and happy existence. It is not scientific discovery and invention that are at the root of our troubles, but rather is it our own inability to adapt ourselves to new circumstances, to lack of foresight, to selfishness and greed and a desire to amass immense wealth. Under the delusion that we would be happier if we could become more powerful and richer than our neighbors, we have constructed such instrumentalities as tariff barriers and monetary systems, which enable a few individuals to exploit the many.

"Liberalism believes in making progress by constitutional means. It insists that we shall have an orderly society. It stands for the protection of life, liberty, and the rights of all members of the community, for the opportunity of development of individual initiative, and the building of individual character. It stands for the protection of the welfare of all from the misuse of power by any particular group or class, and that the welfare of the community as a whole shall dominate.

"Liberal thought recognizes that in a world of kaleidoscopic changes, new problems must be met by new treatment. It believes that individual rights and public rights can be so co-ordinated as to preserve the greatest measure of individual freedom.

DROWNING IS PROBED

Coroner's Jury Investigates Death of Eighteen-Month Old Odd-mund Hansen

That eighteen-month old Odd-mund Hansen came to his death about noon on July 6 by drowning in a ditch on Alfred Street left open by the city and that said drowning was accidental was the verdict returned yesterday afternoon by the coroner's jury which investigated the fatality of Wednesday. The jury appended to the verdict a rider recommending that the city make this ditch and similar places in the city, if any, in such a condition that similar accidents will be prevented.

Witnesses at the inquest were Mrs. Elizabeth Murray, who found the child in the ditch; Mrs. Mary Murray, another neighbor, who later received the body; Dr. W. T. Kergin, who was called and who testified that death had been due to suffocation through immersion in water, and Constable G. A. Wyman, the police officer who was called.

There was only seven inches of water in the ditch in which the child fell head first, it was revealed in evidence.

Deputy Coroner A. J. Lancaster presided over the inquest.

It is probable the child had been in the water but a very brief time.

freedom, while meeting the requirements of organized society. It recognizes that in the complex problem of modern life, socially and economically, action through government is essential, both for the safe-guarding of individual rights and the maintenance of the welfare of the state as a whole.

"That the public is looking for something better than the policy that to the victors belong the spoils' there is no question. I think that most people realize that we are face to face in this province with extremely untoward conditions. With revenues falling and industry languishing, it is going to take extraordinary measures and unflinching courage to bring about a betterment of conditions.

"As leader of the Provincial Liberal party, I am conscious of the responsibility involved. I presume that I was selected leader by reason of a long public experience generally, and a wide knowledge of provincial affairs in particular. If it be the will of the people that I should head a government in this province, I pledge an administration which will not surrender to pernicious influences and that we shall call to our councils business interests, labor interests and all interests generally.

"The most important problem today is unemployment. To its solution we must all lend untiring effort. Our social and economic position will never be what it should be, and must be, until every man, whether employed or unemployed, is assured of the means to support himself and his dependents in reasonable decency and comfort."

TREATMENT RESENTED INVASION OF GOLD CREEK

Capt. W. P. Armour of This City Complains of Way His Wife Was Treated By Customs Officer

Capt. W. P. Armour, manager of the local branch of the Pacific Salvage Co., has written to the Vancouver Sun complaining at the treatment accorded recently to Mrs. Armour by a woman customs officer at the border at Blaine while Mrs. Armour was returning to Vancouver after attending the Rotary International convention in Seattle. Capt. Armour's letter to the Sun was as follows:

"I want to report what I consider an outrage to any Canadian citizen in treatment accorded at Blaine yesterday by the woman customs official there.

"I am a business man of Prince Rupert, well known there and a Rotarian. I have been attending the Rotary convention in Seattle with my wife and 13-year old daughter and came on ahead to Vancouver, my wife and daughter following by bus Sunday afternoon.

"The woman customs official at Blaine questioned my wife, who has not been in good health for some time, in such a manner that she has been ill ever since. My wife told her she had a few little odds and ends of purchases on which she was prepared to pay duty.

"Then she pointed to the dress my wife was wearing and declared she must have bought it south of the line, it was so new. She refused to accept Mrs. Armour's assurance that the dress was bought in Prince Rupert, even though she mentioned the name of the store.

"There's no such place in Prince Rupert!" she declared. "I've been there. You can't lie to me like that. I'll send a wire and find out!"

"Then she started to put my little girl on her honor" and when my wife tried to say a word in protest she was told to "Shut up!"

"The woman disputed that my daughter's shoes were purchased for $3.95.

"You didn't buy them for any such price!" the official said. "They cost $7.50, I know."

"Mr. Editor, I can't let this go by without reporting it. I feel that this sort of thing has gone on long enough and should be stopped if Canadian citizens are not to be continually insulted, as I hear from friends in Vancouver that it has been going on for some time.

"It is time something was done about it."

TRAGEDY IN PEACE RIVER

Four Children Lost Lives When Car Went Into River From Ferry

TAYLOR FLATS, B.C., July 8.—Four children of Otto Hoffstrom of Taylor, B.C. were drowned in the swirling waters of the Peace River early this morning when the car in which they were passengers crashed over the ferry here into the swollen stream.

The dead are Lillian, 13 years of age; Florence, 11; Olga, 9, and Agnes, 4.

The father started the car to leave the ferry but it was in reverse and went overboard. The father managed to get Florence out but lost her in the fast running water.

Mrs. F. F. Brown of Anyox, accompanied by her niece Miss P. Symmes arrived this morning on the Prince George and are proceeding north this afternoon.

Local Man Witnesses Trek of Seekers of Yellow Metal; Road Camps Busy

One of the features of the trip through the famous Cariboo gold mining country going to and from Vancouver by auto was the number of men with packs on their backs including gold pan and shovel who were about to try their luck at washing gold from the gravel and sands of the streams, stated Frank Dibb, manager for Rose Cowan and Latta, who recently returned after attending the Masonic Grand Lodge in the south. He says that many of those working on the creeks would get 25c worth of gold as the result of the day's labor, just enough to buy a packet of cigarettes, but they worked on, hoping that some time they might strike it rich. Now and then a nugget would be secured but the nuggets were not very plentiful. Some men were returning home disappointed but they were all cheerful and did not seem to mind the hardships they endured.

Another interesting feature was the number of road camps where men were being employed on the highways, improving or repairing or straightening them. It was especially noticeable on the road between Ashcroft and Vancouver.

Between Vanderhoof and Fraser Lake the road was so deep in dust that the car they were driving got stalled, two of the pistons breaking down under the strain. This made necessary a stay at Fraser Lake while repairs were being made. The whole valley was dry but this particular section was the dustiest he had ever seen. An effort was being made to deal with the problem by the repair gangs.

Mr. Dibb and H. F. Noel of Smithers made great time on the way south driving right through from Smithers to Quesnel the first day and to Boston Bar on the second. The trip back was taken more leisurely.

The Letter Box

MILK FOR CHILDREN

Editor, Daily News.— I would like you to accept the following, in answer to "Mother."

If he or she is a canned milk importer, the letter is quite O.K., as everyone, in these days of keen competition must needs boost their own interests.

I say "he or she" advisedly, doubting very much that a person advocating the use of canned milk, when fresh milk could be provided, is a mother, or, as a matter of fact, a member of the gentler sex at all.

While canned milk can sustain life, it has been repeatedly proved by doctors that in the process of condensation milk loses some of its food value and, in the case of small children, not only sustenance, but building power is vitally needed.

It is quite true that taste can be developed, some children brought up on canned milk preferring it, but that does not signify that it is more wholesome—I would sooner drink beer than milk, but which is the better food?

MERCHANTS WIN MATCH

Within the first five minutes of play, Chenoski opened the scoring for Merchants. Soon after Wilson equalized for the Regiment from a scrimmage in the goal mouth. Fong put the Merchants one up about midway through the period. The score at the end of the first half was 2 to 1 for the Merchants.

Soon after resumption of play in the second half, Glicker scored the third for the Merchants, taking Smith by surprise. Henry Dickens added the fourth and last goal soon after.

Wilson was always a good trier for the Regiment. Other players by whom the Regiment was served well were Edgumbe and Wingham.

For the Merchants Chenoski, Albert Dickens and Larsen, a new man, gave good service.

CONCERN IS FELT

United States World Flyers Are Feared to Have Come to Grief

MOSCOW, July 8.—Grave apprehension was felt as to the safety of James Mattern and Bennett Griffin last night as the two former United States army flyers became twenty-four hours overdue on a flight from Berlin to Moscow in the course of their attempt to break the record of Wiley Post and Harold Gatty for a flight around the world.

Russian flyers were being mobilized to search for the missing aviators along the Polish frontier and also in the direction of Siberia in the belief that the Americans might have attempted to reach Omsk without stopping here.

Mattern and Griffin took only light provisions with them on leaving Berlin on Wednesday. Much of the territory over which they were to fly is barren wilderness.

Steamer Princess Louise, Capt. Slater, arrived from the south early this morning and proceeded later to Alaskan points. She left Vancouver with 100 passengers on board of which W. M. Pepper, wife and daughter and Misses Walker and Work were for Prince Rupert. Among the passengers making the round trip were Bill Hay, announcer for Amos and Andy and his wife. Also in the company were 10 Scouts making the trip to Alaska and back from San Francisco.

DRAMA OF AVIATION

Wallace Beery and Clark Gable Stars of "Hell Divers," Week-End Capitol Offering

"Hell Divers," sensational romance of naval aviation, is the interesting feature offering at the Capitol Theatre here this week-end. The picture combines some of the most remarkable airplane maneuvers ever staged for the screen with a dramatic plot which, with all its romantic qualities, has something heroic about it.

The picture co-stars Wallace Beery and Clark Gable, prominent supporting roles being taken by Conrad Nagel, Dorothy Jordan, Marjorie Rambeau, Marie Prevost, Cliff Edwards and John Miljan. Many of the scenes were filmed at Panama during actual maneuvers of the United States Navy.

The story deals with the rivalry between Beery, as a navy veteran, and Gable, a new type of sailor, and typifies the conflict between old and new ideas in naval operations. The central romance is between Beery and Miss Rambeau as the keeper of a Panama resort. In the climax Beery gives up his life in rescuing his rival in the true spirit of the navy.

YOU'D NEVER KNOW HER...

... FOR THE SAME BABY

This is what Mrs. Albert Bolton, of Toronto, writes: "Our little girl, Margaret Jean, was nursed for the first few months, but this did not satisfy her. I had heard about Eagle Brand and decided to try it. She took to it right away and there has been no trouble since. Her flesh is firm; lovely, straight limbs, good bone development, and she is so contented. Last September she won third prize at the Canadian National Exhibition, against 102 entrants.
