MUST ALL BENEFIT

B. C. Nicholas, managing director of the Victoria Times when addressing the Ad Men in convention at Vancouver, stated: "Prosperity can only come to one individual when it comes to all." That is the spirit of the times.

The people who think and talk that way are not "Reds." They are the hard working, clear thinking section of the community, who have come to a realization that the old way of carrying on for the benefit of the few only must come to an end soon.

It is also true that a great many people still find it hard to believe that there is any real change in the general outlook of the people and that very soon, when conditions begin to improve, we shall forget all those things.

It is becoming recognized that the spread between the very rich and the very poor is much too great and that steps will have to be taken, and that right soon, to have this spread lessened.

DISTRIBUTION AT FAULT

The system of distribution seems to be at fault. During the past three years there has been too much food in the country with the result that the producer has not been able to receive enough for his product to enable him to live decently.

We hear much talk about a business government. What we want is a government that will depart somewhat from the old fashioned business methods and deal with modern problems in a modern way.

EXECUTIVE WINS GAME

Scott Breaks Up Game in Ninth With Triple, Driving in Moran With Winning Run

The much heralded challenge game between the executive of the Prince Rupert Baseball Association and an all-star aggregation from the Intermediate Baseball League was played yesterday afternoon, the Executive coming out winners by a score of 4-3. The game was scheduled for seven innings but at the end the score was tied three-all in the last half of the eighth, Joe Scott, first baseman for the Executive, laid the willow on one of Matt Windle's slants and sent the ball for a journey into the ether which was good for three bases, and Moran, who was on first at the time, scored the winning tally.

There was no score until the fourth when Joe Scott crossed the plate for the Executive. In the first half of the fifth, however, Intermediates put over two tallies and then held their lead until the last of the sixth. Then Farquhar and Windle romped home and it looked as though the game was just about finished. However, Chenoski was safe on an infield error and soon when Eckert laid on one which was to right. He failed to touch the base, however, and was put out.

The Executive managed to hold down the Intermediates in the last half of the eighth and then made his big drive to win the game.

Flavor Gets Its Chance

Opportunity knocked, we heard, knew not how to open. Vacuum packing had improved dry foods. Its benefits, experts said, could not be extended to milk. Yet it was recognized that could milk be packed in vacuum the flavor would be improved immensely. Hence it was a duty to try. Experiments were begun, and happily a process discovered. Now Pacific Milk offers flavor at its best.

BOSTON CAFE Is Reopened Thoroughly Renovated Bright and Cheery Better Than Ever

Woodstock Looms Busy on Ford Orders

An important phase of the renewed employment in Canada created as a result of increased production of the new Ford cars is found in the busy looms of La France Plushes Limited at Woodstock, Ontario, where mohair cloths for upholstering closed cars are manufactured. Mohair is now standard equipment in both V-8 and 4-cylinder Ford closed cars.

Upper photo shows a battery of looms in a textile factory at Woodstock, Ont., weaving mohair fabrics for use as upholstery material for the new Ford cars. Right, the final inspection of the cloths before shipment to the Ford plants of these form the backing for the two cloths, which are spaced about a half inch apart. The third forms the pile between them. A razor-edged knife traverses the front of the loom between the two cloths, severing the threads which join them and leaving two cloths with erect pile. Beside the workers engaged on the looms, others are employed in preparing the yarns, in dyeing and finishing the cloths and in final inspection prior to shipment.

DRAMA IS POIGNANT

Wynne Gibson Star of "The Strange Case of Clara Deane" at Capitol Theatre

Pulsating with humanity's strongest emotion, mother-love, "The Strange Case of Clara Deane," first of the week feature picture on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here, is a poignant drama of a woman with the courage to sacrifice her own love for the happiness of her child. The film is rich in heart-touching pathos and has a cast that makes the drama alive and real.

In the title role, Wynne Gibson, who will be remembered from "Ladies of the Big House," appears first as an eager young woman of 1912 and, as the story unfolds, she grows older and wiser with bitterness that come from disillusionment. Pat O'Brien, as the no account husband, Frances Digges and Russell Gleason are all excellently suited to their roles.

J. A. Anderson, road superintendent for Atlin district, arrived in the city on the Prince George Saturday evening following a visit to Stewart on official duties and sailed last night on the Catala for his headquarters at Anyox.

Secure Cash During Hard Times

The Classified Ads.

Many people have something in the house they would like to sell which could be turned into money if they knew of a customer. Try a classified advertisement. Most people read the classifieds. For about fifty cents you can let them know about it and it may prove a profitable transaction.

Renting the House

There are a number of houses in the city not rented yet and many people make little effort to secure a tenant. Others who are wise to their opportunities try a classified advertisement in the "For Rent" column and often get results. As one satisfied customer said recently: "Those little ads certainly do bring results."

Some Like Reader Ads.

Some people after trying other kinds of advertising decide to try a reader among the locals and personals. Then they have got results. The cost is a little higher but they have been well satisfied. When conditions are like they are today the newspapers can often help. The price is not very high. Do not lie down and bemoan your hard fate. Try a different kind of advertisement and if that is not successful try again.

QUEEN CHARLOTTE ISLANDS

(Prepared by a Resident of Long Standing)

RESOURCES

The Queen Charlotte Islands have the last and only great stand of Sitka Spruce in the world.

The Queen Charlotte Islands have the largest stand of Cypress or yellow cedar in the world. This timber for railroad ties will outlast treated or creosoted ties as three to one. There are millions of yellow cedar poles on the Islands and it is believed by many that a very high grade of turpentine can be extracted from the trees; also oil for mining and flotation purposes.

Queen Charlotte Islands have very large red cedar timber stands. When recently examined by Japanese experts it was pronounced to be the toughest and best in the world. Large quantities of this timber are suited for piling, which when treated with creosote will outlast fir four to one. There are millions of feet of alder on the Islands for which there is said to be a ready market in Japan.

Queen Charlotte Islands have over 100 miles of gold-bearing sand on the east and north coast beaches.

Extensive copper deposits and gold-bearing quartz are known to exist. Also antimony, iron and other ore showings have attracted considerable attention.

For many years oil prospectors have been attracted by oil seepages at various points. There are extensive oil shale beds and evidences of natural gas. Coal is known to underlie a considerable part of the country.

SPORTSMAN'S PARADISE

The Islands are a sportsman's paradise. Black bear are numerous, and there are also plenty of deer, wild cattle, ducks, geese, pheasants and quail. King salmon can be caught with a trolling hook.

Pink salmon abound in countless numbers and Chums run up the creeks in the proper season.

The Islands have fine razor clams and scallop clams, said to be the only extensive beds in the British Empire. The scallop, a rival to the oyster, has not yet been introduced to the world's markets. They are found in the neighborhood of Naden Harbor, Rose Spit, Tow Hill and Skidegate Inlet.

Crabs abound in the waters adjacent to the mouths of streams on the north and east coast of Graham Island. Other commercial fish found in the adjacent waters include grey fish, sable, various varieties of flat fish, herring and sardines.

THE CLIMATE

The climate of the Islands is mild and tourists who wish to get out of the beaten paths will find it a wonderful change from usual routes of travel. There is a great field for archaeological and natural history studies, for mining ventures, for timber industries, for oil speculation, for sport or just as a place to loaf and enjoy life.
