ALBERT IS RECAPTURED

PARIS NEWSPAPERS JUBILANT OVER LATEST ALLIED OFFENSIVE

TOWN OF ALBERT TAKEN BY BRITISH TROOPS AND MANY PRISONERS SECURED

GERMANS OFFERING STRONG RESISTANCE, BUT ARE PRESSED BACK — ACHIT LE GRAND IS TAKEN AND RETAKEN SEVERAL TIMES

London, August 23.—While the German resistance is very strong the armies of the Allies are still advancing steadily but surely, and are driving the Germans out of strong positions, taking many prisoners and capturing guns. In all, over 5,000 prisoners have been taken within the last two days.

The town of Albert, eighteen miles northwest of Amiens on the Ancre river, has been recaptured by the British, who also obtained all their objectives in the fighting yesterday between Bray and Albert.

In his official report last night Field Marshal Haig reported that over a six-mile front the British had advanced two miles. In Albert 400 prisoners and a few guns were captured, this bringing the total of prisoners taken in this sector during the two days fighting up to five thousand.

The British have also been doing some heavy fighting at Achit le Grand where the resistance of the Germans was very stubborn. After the place was taken by the British the Germans drove them out again and the place changed hands several times before it was finally held by the British. At the last account the British were in possession. In this sector important penetration of the enemy lines has occurred. The British are operating through to the east of the Bapaume-Arras railway.

LIQUOR BEING SOLD BUT CULPRITS GO FREE

In Victoria there has been a newspaper controversy over the question of illicit liquor selling. The police of that city have not been very active and as an excuse they say that it is so difficult to prosecute under the present law that they can do practically nothing.

It is alleged and the police admit the truth of the statement that liquor is being sold over almost every bar, but to catch the culprits is the thing. There is a regularly organized system of selling and the police claim that they are helpless.

Just what will be the outcome of the controversy no one can tell but either the law will have to be changed to cover the difficulties or there will have to be a change in the police force in that city.

ACTIVITY AT THE NEW MILL

Two Davis Rafts Towed in Today From the Queen Charlotte Islands—More to Come From Zanardi.

BOOMS STORED AT SILVER CREEK, IN TUCKS INLET

The production of lumber from the new sawmill at Seal Cove is now rapidly increasing, and it is expected that by next week when the re-saw is started up, the present output will be doubled. Already shipments of lumber have been made to Toronto, and aeroplane spruce stock loaded for the Munitions Board. Henceforth, instead of having to import lumber from outside points, Prince Rupert will be enabled to supply other places.

The tugboat left the harbor this morning for Digby, where two Davis rafts of logs are lying, which came over from the Queen Charlotte Islands. One raft came from Moresby Island and the other from Masset Inlet. Booming grounds have been established at Silver Creek, at the head of Tucks Inlet, where the logs will be stored until required at the mill boom.

There are still other five five-section booms of logs to come round from Jack Beatty's camp at Zanardi also for the sawmill, where production is going right ahead. Everything at the mill is progressing well. The new monorail system of handling the manufactured lumber is proving to be a great success, and reducing the handling costs greatly.

STEAMERS ARE LATE AND TRAIN DELAYED

The steamer Prince Rupert from Vancouver is not expected to arrive here until 7:30 this evening. In order to accommodate the people who wish to go through to inland points the train is being held until after the boat arrives. No reason is given for the steamer being late.

Owing to the cancellation of the sailing of the Princess May there is likely to be a big passenger list on the Rupert.

COLD STORAGE PLANS ARE BEING MATURED

Businessmen Evince Desire to Help Along Scheme—Site Re-examined By Committee.

The committee that was recently appointed to investigate and forward the scheme for a citizen's cold storage has already been busying itself in the matter. The site on the east side of Cow Bay has been re-examined and tentative plans will be prepared suited to the contour of the land.

A number of businessmen have been approached to find out if they view the proposal with favor and everywhere there has been evinced a desire to help it along. From present indications the men who are particularly interested say that they are confident that they will be able to carry the matter through.

STORM WAS SEVERE ON SKEENA RIVER

The storm of last night seems to have been much worse up the Skeena than it was in Prince Rupert. Many gardens have been badly injured by the high wind, trees have been blown down and other evidences of the power of the elements are to be seen. The telegraph service has been interrupted and there is every indication that the storm was an unusually severe one for this time of year.

ALL EVENTS ARE SUBJECT TO MARSHAL FOCH'S WILL SAYS PARIS NEWSPAPER

NEVER HAS SITUATION OF GERMANS BEEN SO SERIOUS AS AT PRESENT, SAYS ANOTHER; BATTLE IS NO LONGER A GERMAN BATTLE

Paris, August 23.—The Figaro in discussing the military situation in France on the western front, says that the Germans have been deprived of all hope of making a lasting stand on their present front. The Allied offensive has cost the enemy dearly.

"The battle is no longer a German battle," declares Le Matin. "but the battle of Marshal Foch to whose will all events appear to be subject."

"Never has the situation of the Germans been so serious as at present, which augurs well for the future," says L'Homme Libre in discussing the results of Wednesday's fighting.

Naturally all the newspapers as well as the people of France are jubilant over the continued successes of the Allies.

WAR VETERANS HOLD SUCCESSFUL SOCIAL IN THEIR ROOMS

Dancing Kept Up Until After Midnight, at Conclusion of Interesting Musical Programme.

A successful social was enjoyed by some fifty people at the Great War Veterans' rooms last night.

In his opening remarks the chairman, Dr. N. M. McNeil expressed regret that the Ladies Auxiliary was losing the services of its secretary, Miss Norah Brand, and Mrs. Brand, who are on the eve of their departure for Vancouver. They carried with them the best wishes of the local branch of the G. W. V. A. and of the Ladies Auxiliary.

The artists were, Miss Beatrice Killin, Mrs. William Millar, Miss Muriel Patmore, Frank Moore and "Doc" Clapperton. "Doc" also sang in duets with Mrs. William Millar. Miss Norah Brand and W. Vaughan Davies were the accompanists.

At the conclusion of the musical programme, a merry crowd "tripped the light fantastic" until after midnight. Light refreshments were daintily served by the Ladies Auxiliary and much enjoyed. Miss Lillian Stephens at the piano, supplied appropriate dance music.

SECRETARY REDFIELD SAYS ALASKA FISHERIES ARE OF VERY GREAT IMPORTANCE

AND WHAT APPLIES TO ALASKA APPLIES ALSO TO PRINCE RUPERT — UNITED STATES TO ENCOURAGE INDUSTRIES AT AMERICAN POINTS ON COAST

In view of the visit recently to this coast of Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield of the United States Government and of the interest taken in the development of the fisheries on this coast it will be of interest to know what he thought of the possibilities of development in this part of the world. What he says of Alaska should apply equally to Prince Rupert, only the authority here is the Dominion Government instead of that of the United States. He says in part:—

The rich aquatic resources of Alaska have not heretofore received the attention they deserve. One or two fisheries of great importance have overshadowed the others. Yet these more or less neglected fishes are valuable food products and are the very ones which have made other countries prosperous. Particular stress is now being laid, as you know, by the bureau of fisheries on the salting of herring after the Scotch method and the curing of atkafish and others.

Herring Industry.

There can be no doubt that with proper publicity and instruction the Alaska herring industry can be made to rival that of Norway and Scotland and this department is definitely committed to the task of bringing this to pass. We have undertaken a campaign to introduce into wider popular use the valuable food fishes of Alaska hitherto largely neglected. We regard it as certain that there will come in time to be an economic importance to these almost unused fish foods which will greatly contribute to the wealth of Alaska.

In my recent visit to the Pacific Northwest it was more than once suggested as a hope that the coast of Alaska might be dotted with fishing villages, each pursuing a prosperous local industry and each contributing to the nation's food supply and wealth. It is our earnest hope that this may come to pass and the Department of Commerce will willingly lend its efforts to bring this about.

The department realizes, however, that no country can safely depend permanently upon any one single overshadowing industry or occupation. In diversity lies security. Every interest in Alaska should have the fostering care of the country so that its development may be rounded and not partial.

Make Coast Safe.

Before the shores of Alaska, however, can be covered as they ought to be with the vessels bringing to and from her ports the commerce that is their due, the waters of Alaska must be made safe and this means that the surveys of many straits and arms must be worked out so that the navigator shall know how to avoid the perils that now threaten him. To this important task the service of the Coast and Geodetic Survey shall be continuously devoted. It is a pleasure, therefore, to know that pending legislation carries an appropriation for another fine surveying steamer, similar to but possibly an improvement on the Surveyor, which vessels we hope may contribute to safeguarding the Alaska shores.

NEW SAW MILL AWAY UP RIVER

Timber Limits of Sir Henry Pellatt Are to Be Used to Supply Spruce to the Allies.

Ground is being broken for a new mill on the Zemeccord river six miles west of Terrace on the G. T. P. railway. This mill which will have a capacity of 40,000 feet a day is being built to cut spruce from the timber limits on the Kitsumkalum river which are the property of Sir Henry Pellatt. A. Ludgate who is in charge of the logging end of the work is already there with a gang of men and work is going forward.

In the limits from which the timber is to be taken there is something like fifty square miles covered with merchantable varieties, mostly hemlock, cedar and spruce with a good smattering of cottonwood, which can be used only for pulp.

The mill will be in charge of W. G. Ludgate and it is understood that work will be rushed in order that the supply of spruce may be increased from this point.

DAILY EDITION. Friday, August 23, 1918.

Pertinent Paragraphs.

Let it be admitted that writers are a bad lot, they should not all be judged by the edulotions of the daily newspapers.

Man is the greatest of cowards. He blames woman for the trouble in Paradise yet everyone knows the woman was only half to blame.

Every person imagines he can run a railway, manage a steamship line or edit a newspaper, yet the average person finds it difficult to punch tickets properly or count a bundle of newspapers.

Some critic has said that everybody in the west lives for money, yet it seemed to us that what they did was to get rid of it as quickly as possible. It takes an easterner to hang on to the coppers.

Small Smelter Would Be Useful.

If it is possible to obtain small portable smelters that can be operated economically no time should be lost in commencing. There are so many places in the hills where it is not profitable to operate owing to transportation difficulties but where a portable smelter could reduce the ore to matt and then it could be moved profitably. Anything which will help the prospector should certainly be done, for the life of the prospector is hard enough. Anything which helps mining will benefit Prince Rupert, which is in the centre of a mining district.

Showing Visitors Best Part of City.

As soon as the war is over there will be a lot of travel to Prince Rupert. Tourists are choosing this northern route partly because it is new and partly because of the authentic stories of its interest from a scenic point of view. They come to Prince Rupert and usually they have some hours to spend here. They wander around the down town streets, sometimes walking as far as the drydock, but they seldom climb the hill to see the best residences and the scenery from that vantage point. As a result they go away with but a poor impression of the city.

The remedy will be to organize a "Seeing Prince Rupert" campaign with a view to having all visitors see the best parts of the city. They can be driven around the best streets and shown the points of interest such as the drydock, the cold storage and the mill. By that time it is to be hoped that there will be other things to interest them. It is also to be expected that the houses and places of business will be painted and that the shacks will be pulled down. Then tourists will go away with a better impression than they are getting today. They will advertise the city with those whom they meet and in time this will be looked upon as a place where the visitors may arrange for a stop-over.

Japanese Question Is Looming Large.

The Japanese have captured the trade of the Pacific and will in time make a bid for domination of the trade of the world. The Japanese laboring men are paid very low wages. Even the most highly skilled trades are paid less than half what the poorest laborer gets here. Under these conditions it is difficult to see how this country can compete. The Japanese have as much brains as we have, they adapt themselves to any conditions and are industrious and sober. Facing these facts it will be wise for labor organizations in Canada to consider well what the future has in store. It is useless to say "Oh, we will keep them out." The policy of isolation will not help much, for Japan will not always be isolated. She has been fighting side by side with the Allies in this war and she must be looked upon in future as a nation that is on an equal footing with our own.

The advantage this country holds is that the natural wealth is here. We can send pulp to Japan because the raw material is here in abundance. We can send lumber for a similar reason. The products of our mines will be required on the other side of the ocean. Japan has not yet a sufficient supply of steel for her own requirements, but when she obtains a free hand in China, something to which she is bending all her energies, then she may be able to supply herself with steel and be independent of us in that respect.

Undoubtedly the Japanese question is a serious one. With her cheap labor just across the pond ready and willing to compete with our highly paid labor there may possibly be a second German menace. True the labor market in the Orient is not as cheap as it used to be, but it has such a long way to go before it comes up to the standard set here that it is hard to see how it can reach what is known here as a living wage, for many years to come. The process of educating the Japanese laborer to demand more money and to spend it on what we look upon as the necessities of life, must be slow but it is the only hope of those who look to future changes in social and economic conditions. It is impossible to live ideally and at the same time live exclusively. There must be a levelling up process before any great changes can come, and that will take generations to accomplish.

"The food crisis is grave and urgent beyond the possibility of exaggeration."—Sir Robert Borden

Help To Feed Yourself

Are you only a "destroyer of rations" when you might be a food producer?

Every pound of food that can be grown in Canada and made available for export, will be desperately needed by those who are bearing the brunt of the fighting and the suffering.

The amount of food produced this year will be absolutely limited by the extent to which people in cities and towns become food producers—there is no other labor reserve.

WHERE DO YOU BELONG?

On the Farm?

Thousands of men are urgently needed on farms in this province to make possible increased production of food. Those who could go and yet hold back, should not forget that, unless production is greatly increased, hundreds of thousands of people will die of starvation.

In the War Garden?

By growing vegetables in home gardens or on vacant lots, and thus helping to feed themselves, city and town people can leave the farmers free to grow more food for export. All that is produced in this way is gain and a net addition to the national food supply.

War Garden service is not sufficient for the man whose rightful place is on the farm. But the War Garden does offer an opportunity for tens of thousands of people, whose circumstances oblige them to remain in the city, to have at least a small part as food producers. Interest the boys and girls in the War Garden, for they too can help to grow food.

If there is a garden or vacant lot movement in your community associate yourself with it. If no organization exists, do what you can to interest your neighbours in the War Garden campaign.

Write to your Provincial Department of Agriculture for additional information.

GARDEN SPOT OF DOMINION IS TERRACE

Wonderful Fruits, Berries and Vegetables Crown at This Favored Spot; Clover In Abundance.

A VISIT TO SOME OF RESIDENTS' GARDENS

What can they grow in Terrace? is a very natural question and one that is easiest answered by taking the questioner on a short visit to one or two of the orchards and gardens of that thriving community and seeing there at first hand what is being done. Take a look first at the little garden kept by the Anglican clergyman, Rev. Thos. H. Marsh, rural dean. He has a number of fruit trees which have not long been planted yet there are cherries ripening, there are raspberries in abundance, there are strawberries sufficient left to show where the crop had been, there were plums and apples coming on nicely, flowers in bloom and everything in the way of fruits and vegetables which indicated that the district would grow all northern varieties in plenty.

Passing on there is a garden belonging to Frank Clapp of Prince Rupert which showed all the possibilities of becoming a fine producing ten-acre patch, enough to give a man a good living and to spare if he were industrious. Mr. Clapp does not live on the place but in spite of that fact everything is thriving. A row of English walnut trees along the fence was something unusual about this particular place.

Every Convenience.

George E. Keith has a big place but he cultivates only one corner of it. He has a log house beautifully finished inside and fitted out with all the most modern conveniences, such as water laid on upstairs and down, modern fireplaces.

In his garden there were large tomatoes which was plain to see would ripen outdoors, there were fruit trees in bearing although only planted within the last year or two. The merillo cherries were splendid but the black ones had already been picked.

Possibly the most interesting thing about this ranch was the fine clover crop. Clover is everywhere in Terrace. It thrives better than anything else, and that is saying a good deal, but here it was seen in extra abundance. All kinds of vegetables for the kitchen and enough strawberries for late picking; raspberries which were duly sampled; these were a few of the good things which this place not only can but does produce. The bowls of sweet peas in the big living room were a revelation.

Passing on there was a nice little place belonging to D. V. Munro, of the Land Settlement Board. Mr. Munro is now at Victoria which is the headquarters of the Board, but his ranch produces as usual. The potatoes grow and the fruit and vegetables thrive in spite of the absence of the owner.

Really Fine.

T. H. Scott prides himself on his strawberry patch and his orchard, and it is really a fine showing that he has made. The trees are laden with apples and pears. Tomatoes are growing in abundance and there is fine clover for fodder and flowers to beautify the landscape. Loganberries, currants and cherries were all laden with fruit.

These were simply a few of the places The News representative happened to see. Many others there were, some perhaps more suited to produce commercially, but there was not time to visit

SKEENA LAND DISTRICT—DISTRICT OF QUEEN CHARLOTTE ISLANDS.

TAKE NOTICE that the Massey Inlet Lumber Co., Ltd., of Port Clements, occupation sawmill operators, intends to apply for permission to lease the following described lands:—

Commencing at a post planted at the northeast corner of Block 35 of the subdivision of Lot 746, thence N. 50 deg., 15 min. E. 650 feet, thence N. 30 deg. 9 min. W. 956.4 feet, thence S. 50 deg. 15 min. W. 650 feet to the northwest corner of Lot 50, Block 36 of said subdivision, thence southeasterly and following the high water mark of Stewart Bay 1200 feet more or less to the point of commencement and containing 12.8 acres more or less.

MASSEY INLET LUMBER CO., LTD. Per Fred. Nash, B. C. L. S., Agent. Dated August 10th, 1918. 019

them all. A ranch, however, which is producing commercially and which not only keeps its owner but shows a goodly profit must not be missed. That is the Howe place at the top of the ridge where the house looks down on the rest of the settlement and there is a delightful view of plain and mountain which is a continual inspiration to a workingman.

Goodly Profit.

A. N. Howe says that he cleared $600 last year from his ranch. It is a ten-acre place and it is not all in cultivation. There were apples, pears, plums, prunes, cherries, strawberries, raspberries, blackberries and other fruits all in bearing. True the strawberries were about over but there were enough left to show what the crops must have been.

The apples were ripening and coloring well and there were a great many black raspberry bushes of the wild variety, the growing of which, Mr. Howe says, pays him better than anything else. The fruit is larger on the cultivated bushes than it would be on the wild ones.

Mr. Howe says that during this season they picked, he and his wife together, $49 worth of strawberries in one day, that he sold 34 crates of gooseberries, and that this year he will sell $100 worth of apples and plums from the young trees the first year he has had a crop. Strawberries paid him the best because he featured on those berries.

There were other places seen, such as that of Mrs. Eby, whose husband is at the front; A. S. Gilbert, a retired realty man who has a fine log house, lives nearby and has enough to do to keep himself in health and enjoyment. Everywhere are seen evidences of what may be done on small acreage with intensive cultivation.

With these examples of industry applied to a place where the soil and climate urge response it is clear to see that Terrace is destined to become one of the garden spots of the Dominion.

Queen Charlotte Islanders cannot do better than mail their printing needs to The News Print Shop and get the work done promptly and well.

SWIMMING GALA AT SALT LAKES

First Annual Event of Swimming Club Fixed for Next Wednesday Afternoon Across Harbor.

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR A BIG DAY'S SPORT

Next Wednesday afternoon everything on the harbor that can float will be busily occupied in transporting the crowds of Prince Rupert people across the inlet to the Salt Lakes, where the Prince Rupert Swimming Club will hold its first annual gala. The Swimming Club has already done good work in improving the accommodation at the Salt Lakes and making this point a desirable place to go to.

On Wednesday next they want to show that they have been working for their real purpose as well as for the improvement of the Salt Lakes, and they hope to be able to prove that there is some justification for a swimming club in a maritime city like this.

They have got up a fine programme of events for this gala. There are 50 yard races for men and women, and 100 yard races. There are also handicap racing events for the children, and something on the programme which will appeal to every lover of aquatic sports. Even for those who do not care particularly for swimming there is always a particular charm in watching other people displaying their prowess in the liquid element. As a spectacle, next Wednesday's affair ought to satisfy even those people who are admirers of Annette Kellerman.

Valuable prizes for the different events will be given. There will be a first and second prize for each item on the programme which will stimulate the competitive spirit. For entry to each or all of these events, only a nominal fee is imposed, and these amounts are not sufficient to keep anyone away. Intending competitors should see to it that they enter at once for which ever event they care most.

A Necessary Accomplishment.
In addition to the value of this affair, both as a spectacle and a competition, there is the educational effect to be considered. In a city like Prince Rupert, where in order to go anywhere, it is necessary to go on the water, everyone ought to be able to swim, whether they like it or not. And if only for the sake of the rising generation, the greatest encouragement should be given to this gala.

Lowrie's Lightning—There is a good demand for brains in Ottawa, and a great scarcity of horse sense in Vancouver. Winnipeg is full of mules, and Toronto has the mob fever. Grand Forks is full of Douks, and Nelson is in terror of a nude parade. This world needs fixing.—The Ledger.

The dainty things you love—

You need no longer dread laundering them. There's a way to keep them safe though you tub them dozens of times—the Lux way.

The Lux way—dip the garment up and down, gently squeezing the pure Lux suds through and through the fabric then pressing the water out, not wringing it—gives new, beautiful life to the garment every time it is so washed.

It all comes back to the ultra purity of these shimmering, satiny Lux flakes—notwithstanding their cleansing power they injure nothing that pure water itself may touch.

BEDRIDDEN WITH RHEUMATISM

Felt That He Would Never Walk Again "FRUIT-A-TIVES" Brought Relief.

MR. LORENZO LEDUC

3 Ottawa St., Hull, P.Q.
"Fruit-a-tives" is certainly a wonder. For a year, I suffered with Rheumatism; being forced to stay in bed for five months. I tried all kinds of medicine but without getting better; and thought I would never be able to walk again.
"One day while lying in bed, I read about 'Fruit-a-tives' the great fruit medicine; and it seemed just what I needed, so I decided to try it.
The first box helped me, and I took the tablets regularly until every trace of the Rheumatism left me.
I have every confidence in 'Fruit-a-tives' and strongly recommend them to every sufferer from Rheumatism".

ECHO FROM MASSET

The following is an extract from a letter by W. N. Giegerich written from Masset to the B. C. Agricultural Journal and published in the last issue:
"Perhaps you would like to know that there are a couple of silos in use on Graham Island, one of them in use since 1912. Mr. Walsh, of Tlell, put up one in that year to handle his wild grass from off his tide-flats. We sometimes have considerable rain during the haying season, and he built it to handle such hay as might otherwise prove a loss. The grass growing on his flats is wild red-top or the ordinary salt-grass growing on tidal lands, and it made palatable silage, anyway. Don't imagine he has ever considered having it analysed. His flats are not dyked and he could grow no other silage crop anyway. He no doubt found the silo a satisfactory investment, for he got the second one a couple of years later. They are stave silos, and, I think, about 18 x 30. He doesn't keep dairy cattle only milks sufficient for family use by the silo, which assures him of just that much more feed for wintering his range stock."

SMILING GEO. WALSH AT WESTHOLME TONIGHT

George Walsh is to be at the Westholme tonight. This athlete and actor is a general favorite wherever he is shown. His films have plenty of life in them.
In the new production, "This is the Life," in which "Smiling George," the athletic William Fox star plays the leading role, there is a perfectly appointed dental office in one of the scenes. Miss Wanda Petit, who plays opposite him had one scene in a dentist's chair.
"Now, imagine that you are having your teeth drilled, and give us some real action," said the director to Miss Petit.
And Miss Petit did give some real action. The man who played the part of the dentist started the drilling machine going, and in the excitement of the action, began to drill one of Miss Petit's good teeth. The rest can be imagined.

PRISTOL BAY PACK

Salmon fishing in Bristol Bay waters for the season is over and the pack of the canneries is estimated at approximately the same as last year, 1,000,000 cases, according to advices received by F. M. Warren, president of the Association.
Ice conditions in Bering Sea delayed the arrival of the cannery fleet last spring and operations started later than usual. In view of this fact, Mr. Warren said the size of the season's pack was regarded as highly satisfactory.

Plarmigan Returning: That the long absent plarmigan are returning to their old haunts, and are appearing in ever increasing numbers is the report brought to various mining camps by prospectors and travellers, says the Valdez Miner. They are reported to be gradually making their way towards the coast. Large numbers of chicks are seen in the hills and the present warm dry season promises a good crop—Alaska Empire.

Title cannot be obtained on these claims in less than 5 years, with improvements of $10 per acre, including 5 acres cleared and cultivated, and residence of at least 2 years.

J. Hindley, the well known McDonalds, and the members of the Ladies' Festival Orchestra.

This group of entertainers and educators has been going through the country and has met with great success everywhere. Not only are the lectures of an educational nature but they are carrying the message of "carry on" in connection with the war activities.

In a place like Prince Rupert where visiting concert companies are not often seen this group will be particularly welcome.
