O. BESNER BUYS LUMBER MILL ON THE ISLANDS

Plant at Queen Charlotte City to be renovated, improved and Operated by Local Man.

$25,000 WAS PRICE PAID; WILL COST $15,000 MORE

The lumber mill at Queen Charlotte City has been purchased by O. Besner of this city for the sum of $25,000, and will at once be put in shape for cutting spruce.

Queen Charlotte City was founded years ago by Mr. Young, who interested the lumber company in the possibilities of the Islands. He laid out a townsite and sold a number of lots there.

Its purchase by Mr. Besner insures its operation at once and interest in the old townsite will be revived.

Mr. Besner is forming a company to operate the mill and incorporation is now taking place.

Naturally by this time much of the woodwork about the mill is in need of renewal and much other material will have to be brought in.

There is another aspect of the population that may be taken into account. In the enumeration of registrants in Prince Rupert, all the canneries with the exception of the Prince Rupert one are omitted.

The same applies to no small extent to the canneries on the Naas. The figures for the Skeena canneries showed 1855 males and 574 females.

Roads Must Be Built in Rupert.

The question of road making is one that has always been a problem for every community to solve since the very earliest days of civilization. In fact roads are great civilizers. Prince Rupert must have roads if she is to keep pace with modern improvements. True they cost money, a good deal of money, but that is no reason why Prince Rupert should not have them. The first thing to get is proper roads in the city and then the next thing to go after will be roads leading out of the city. Eventually they must be built but just when nobody seems to venture a guess. As a matter of fact they will be built sooner than most people expect.

The time must come when there will be a road up the Skeena Valley, a scenic drive which will be one of the great attractions to the north country. Automobiles by the thousand will come this way and then Prince Rupert will become a tourist as well as an industrial and distributing centre. It is no pipe dream. The time will come and many of the people living here should see it—if they take care of themselves.

The roads cannot all be built at once. Victoria once set out to pave the city in one season and let a million dollar contract to an asphalt company, but it nearly made her bankrupt. She is still struggling under the load of debt. That is undoubtedly one of the things to be avoided. To make the improvements sanely and yet not too conservatively is the sensible way. Do a little every year. The City Council that makes a good financial showing but allows the roads to go to ruin, is one that has failed. Similarly the council that runs the city into needless debt is a failure. Roads must be built and the people must pay for them, and there must be a settled policy that will be steadily pressed forward year by year until the city has roads that will be a credit to the place.

Red Cross in Need Of More Supplies.

The Canadian Red Cross Society has notified the local association that more supplies are needed on account of the calls made on them during the drive that has been going on recently. Canadians have been winning successes and we are all proud of them, but we must show that we are proud of them in a practical way. If we let the Canadian boys who are fighting for us suffer for want of Red Cross supplies we are the most ungrateful of people. There is only one thing for Prince Rupert people to do and that is to increase materially the supplies that are being sent from here. The businessmen are earning good money and the fishermen are being well paid. The same is true with most people here, and we can afford to give even more than we are doing for this greatest of all patriotic causes. Let everyone dip a little deeper into the wages pocket this week and keep it up regularly every week while the boys are doing our fighting for us. They need the supplies and we are not in any great need of money. Double the gifts this week. Don't forget it.

Schweiger a Victim Of His Own Policy.

Lieut. Schweiger was a victim to his own policy of frightfulness. He was gloating over another sinking when the enemy came on him unawares just as he came on the Lusitania unawares and his wretched U-boat was sent down quicker than she had ever dived before. The worst feature of the whole had business is that in all probability Schweiger will be saved and fed and eventually liberated, while the British and American men and women non-combatants who went down on the big ship can never be liberated. They were the innocent victims of a murderous gang of pirates.

Munitions Board Is Delivering the Goods.

The work of the Imperial Munitions Board has been subjected to a great deal of criticism in some parts of the country, but it must be said that, here at any rate, they are working with energy and dispatch and are producing the goods. Yesterday no less than six scow loads of spruce tied up here and were loaded on trains bound east. This spruce came from the Queen Charlottes and other points and is only the beginning of things. The speeding up work is only just beginning to take effect. If nearly a million and a half feet of picked spruce can be landed here in a day now, what will be the condition three months from now, when the mills all get into running order.

The Board has been bending every effort to the work it has in hand and it has been most ably backed by the Provincial Minister of Lands who has done everything possible to facilitate the work. Much of the present prosperity of this city is due to the activities of the Board and, while there, might be more of the material benefits come this way, it is only fair to say that they are doing excellent work and should receive the hearty cooperation of everyone, as undoubtedly they will.

"The food crisis is grave and urgent, beyond possibility of exaggeration."—Sir Robert Borden

City and Town Labor Must Save The Food Situation

THE heart of the food production problem is labor, and the heart of the labor problem is the city dweller. City people must produce food if Canada is to do her full duty in support of our soldiers and Allies.

Men who are needed on farms must come from the cities and towns—there is no other source. The Provincial Departments of Agriculture co-operating with the Canada Food Board, can place thousands of men on good farms in this Province. They are needed at once.

Those who remain at home must also Grow Food

A War Garden will not excuse the man whose rightful place this year is on a farm. But War Garden service is needed from those who can do no more.

Every pound of home-grown vegetables, produced on city land by city labor, will be a positive addition to the food supply. Home Garden and Vacant Lot cultivation will leave the farmers free to grow more food for export.

The vegetable garden offers an opportunity for service to men whose circumstances make it impossible for them to work on a farm, to women, to boys and girls—to city people generally.

Be a Food Producer This Year

If there is a garden or vacant lot movement in your community, associate yourself with it. If no organization exists, do what you can to interest your neighbours in the War Garden campaign. Write to your Provincial Department of Agriculture for pamphlets on gardening and additional information.

NUMEROUS PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS AT TOWN OF TERRACE

Telephone System Keeps Residents in Touch With Each Other—Many Varieties of Berries Grown.

Someone asks what they have in the way of public institutions at Terrace. They have three churches—Anglican, Catholic and Presbyterian. The first and last of these have resident ministers in charge. There is a public school with about thirty pupils, a Farmers' Institute, with Arthur Carr as president, a hotel, three general stores and a hardware establishment, a public hall for entertainments and what is more important perhaps than any there is a lumber mill.

The mill is owned and operated by George Little who also owns a good deal of property in the city. He is mill owner, farmer, store keeper and landowner. He put the Terrace townsite on the market and he is also interested in other outside ventures. His mill at Terrace cuts about three million feet of lumber a year; and he is now turning out some spruce for the Imperial Munitions Board.

There is a telephone system in the town which connects up practically all the houses and is operated on the automatic system, thus doing away with the necessity of an operator. The tennis club provides recreation and so seldom are the people ill that there is no doctor. A place that starves the doctor must be all right.

Speaking of the district of which Terrace is the centre, Dr. Grant in his address last Sunday evening, told of the richness of the valley, the wonderful clover that is grown there and the flavor of its berries.

To mention berries reminds one that there are an abundance of wild berries throughout the district. Raspberries abound everywhere. They are not as large as the cultivated varieties but they are very good and there is hardly any limit to the quantities. Besides the raspberries, black and red, there are found saskatoons, three varieties of blueberries, huckleberries, soapberries, wild cherries, cranberries, high bush and low, thimble or salmon berries, pigeon berries, wild currants and gooseberries, and the picturesque red berries which grow on the devil's clubs.

This is the last of the series of sketches of the district but all has not yet been said by any means.

DAWSON

John Nevin of Gold Bottom whose death occurred recently at Dawson, was 82 years of age. He had been in the Yukon 18 years, coming from Vancouver and earlier still from Scotland. The pallbearers at the funeral were: John McCrimmon, Harry McCrimmon, Mr. Stilts, Roderick Fraser, Andrew Larsen and George N. Hartley.

John Kennalley, a young American living here, has responded to the call and left for the States. He already has seen service, as he was in Russia with Col. Boyle and was decorated by General Korniloff at that time. For some time past he has been connected with the Klondike Mining Co.

Among those who have recently gone out for the winter are Mrs. Guy C. Churchward and children, Alfred Bedker, the well known Hunker Creek operator, who has been here since 1897; P. A. Knudson, a well known business man, whose son is going to the front.

John Martin and his nephew, John Rabbit, have set out on a trip overland from Dawson to Fort McPherson. They will travel nearly five hundred miles by trail and canoe and expect to be twenty days on the journey. Three dogs have been taken for pack animals and when the snow comes they will be used on sleighs. The party have taken plenty of food and rifles and expect to return in the spring.

Ferdinand de Journal, sourdough lawyer and one time amateur actor, is here again. He is representing Harry Pinkiert in his big legal fight against Treadgold over the Gold Run properties.

FAMOUS NOVEL FILMED AND SHOWN TONIGHT

"The Rose of the World," a spectacular Artercraft production of the novel by the well known writers Agnes and Egerton Castle, will be the feature tonight at the Westholme.

With such well known players as Wyndam Standing, Percy Mar-mont, Ethel Martin, Jim Sloane, Clarence Handysides and Marie Benedetta taking part the picture is bound to be well made. Such a wealth of detail and intelligence of handling is evidenced that the audiences where it has been shown have been held spellbound.

In addition to the feature film there is a gazette that is of unusual interest and a comedy that is a sure cure for the blues.

GERMAN DREAM OF PEACE TERMS

Wonderful Suggestion of German Papers as to New Settlement Might Be Effected.

London, August 28.—The German newspapers have been until the last week or two discussing terms of peace. Now they see the needlessness of doing so. While they seemed to be getting the better of the fighting they were hopeful that the Allies might be induced to patch up a peace. Some of the terms proposed were ludicrous. Among the more reasonable, yet still impossible, were the following:

The "League of Nations" would be acceptable, provided Germany were first given everything she asks for, viz. Colonies; the reduction of all navies to the size of her own; the recognition of her position in the East as created by her own exploitation of the Brest-Litovsk peace.

Belgium and Serbia. As regards Belgium and Serbia those must be left for Germany and Austria to treat with, without any outside intervention. Belgium is however to be "completely restored as an independent sovereign State (compensation not mentioned, nor who is to pay for the "restoring")."

All merchants belonging to the Central Powers who have been deprived of their property overseas to be restored to their former rights of possession.

England to evacuate unconditionally the Turkish territories she has occupied, and Turkey to regain her sovereignty over Egypt.

The Dardanelles to be open to the shipping of Black Sea states (all of whom Germany doubtless expects to dominate).

No Regrets.

There is nothing in these proposals to suggest that Germany regrets having set out to conquer the world or even abandon her design. She only consents to let it stand over for the present—in return for something on account. Of any prospect of a better world, where the mad ambition of a few will no longer have the power to yunge the globe into mourning, Herr Bernhard provides no glimpse. He speaks of the League of Nations as something remote from reality, and even so does not suggest that Germany would accept the idea except when she had first got everything she wanted, and provides that (1) sea power is eliminated; (2) colonial armies such as France and Britain possess are prohibited. On the other hand Germany would be left in the enjoyment of a huge colonial and military force, not only a German but of Magyar, Albanian and Slav of all kinds. Colonial Impotence. The suggestion that Germany alone shall deal with Serbia is ridiculous impotence. We saw in 1915 the attitude the first named of each pair is likely to adopt towards the second and weaker.
