New York Yankees won over St. Louis Browns and their margin of leadership in the American League over the Philadelphia Athletics was increased to eight and a half games.

In the National League, the Pittsburgh Pirates are still leading by two and a half games over Chicago Cubs who defeated Boston Braves to break a virtual tie between the two teams for second place.

IS IT GOLD BOOM?

"Suddenly, almost without warning, a gold boom has come upon us," says the Northern Miner published at Toronto. "For months the public has been reading stories of increasing productions, of rising profits, of remarkable revelations, of extra price, of great demand, and it has paid scant heed. Finally, all these good things could be no longer ignored; people are now coming into the market to buy stocks, and, just as we have forecast on many occasions, they find the cupboard nearly bare. Buyers have to bid quotations up. Those who own gold stocks are mighty well satisfied with them. Why should they not be? When all around them has been sorrowful losses of income and capital, they have drawn larger and still larger dividends. People will not readily part with something that they have done so well by, nor relinquish their speculative participations in an industry that from every sign appears headed for great and grander things. The share outlook is all to the good, and while we may witness the usual widely fluctuating summer market we will see more activity than for a long time and we can expect that when the fall comes the market will develop rapidly in both breadth and height."

NAMES OF FLOWERS

The names of flowers are often difficult. Several people have asked us what is the Schizanthus and what is the Nemesia, used in connection with a recent article. Sometimes questions like this are not easily answered and it is more satisfactory to refer questions to some gardener who is growing them. The Schizanthus is a half-hardy annual often known in Prince Rupert as the butterfly flower and known in England also as the fringe flower. It is adapted to growing in borders in the garden or to indoor culture. It needs rich soil for the best success. Some people sow the seed in the autumn and use them for greenhouse flowering early in the spring. For bedding they should be sown very early in the spring.

Nemesia is also a half-hardy annual a little over a foot high, normally carrying a profusion of bright orange, crimson or scarlet bloom, sometimes effectively blotched. They may be used in masses or mixed with other flowers. Seeds should be sown in January or February and planted out at the usual time.

THAT HORRIBLE ODOR

Complaints still come in regard to the horrible odor from the dump on the highway near the city limits. On Sunday hundreds of people went out to the picnic at Grassy Bay and it seems as if each one must have registered anathemas at the persons responsible for the mess. If these curses register, there will be a number of miserable looking aldermen or officials seen around the city this week. Many of the people with cars have asked the Daily News to again take up their complaint and let the officials know that popular opinion is against them in regard to this nuisance, a worse nuisance than any other in the city.

Figures in Sport

STEVE FARRELL, TRACK COACH

One of the old masters in the art of coaching track athletes, Steve Farrell, through the last two decades of the Nineteenth Century was acclaimed as one of the foremost professional runners of the world while he has spent the past thirty years developing pupils who have competed successfully in Olympic Games and premier track events of the United States.

As a professional, Farrell was a consistent winner of the 440 and 880-yard and mile events in the United States and, after training for the 100 and 300-yard dashes, invaded England to win the Sheffield Handicap, the world's foremost professional sprint event.

A stray dog abruptly brought Farrell's running career to a close in 1898. He tripped over the animal while training for a race, fractured his ankle and was forced to give up competition. Since then he has been active as a coach and trainer in the United States.

After four years as a private instructor, Farrell went to Yale as track coach. He coached two years at Yale, seven years at the University of Maine and two at Ohio State before taking over the track team at the University of Michigan, from the direction of which he retired in 1930. Among some of the stars coached by Farrell have been Carl Johnson, DeHart, Hubbard and Eddie Tolan.

Always strong and active, Farrell was able, when more than 65 years of age, to outdo his youthful pupils in some of his special events such as the standing backward jump. In his youth Farrell could leap backward 11 feet and, at 68, he did better than eight feet to defeat all members of the Michigan track team.

Stephen J. Farrell was born, December 26, 1863, at Rockville, Conn., and spent his youth in England. Professional track was at its zenith when he was young and he never competed as an amateur.

MERCHANTS WIN AGAIN

Defeated Canadian Legion For Third Straight Senior Football Victory

Scoring their third successive victory including their capture of the Dominion Day Cup on July 1, Merchants defeated Canadian Legion by a score of 3 to 1 in the Stuart Benefit Shield football series last night and are now tied with the Legion for first place in the contest for this trophy. The game was a clean and keenly contested affair. Owing to the cold, wet weather, there was not a large crowd of fans on hand.

The first goal was made by the Canadian Legion about five minutes after the start of play through Baptie on a shot from the left wing. The Merchants had only nine men on the field at this time.

Soon after Nick Chenoski took his place as centre forward for the Merchants, signaling his appearance on the field by equalizing for the Merchants within a few minutes.

Well on in the first period, as a result of some good combination between Lawson and Chenoski, the latter scored the second for the Merchants. It was a simple goal as Lawson took the ball right up the field and centred neatly to Chenoski.

The first half ended with the score standing 2 to 1 for the Merchants.

Almost immediately on resumption of play for the second half, Lawson went through on the right wing and scored the third goal for the Merchants and the last of the game.

Merchants Were Best

Merchants had much the better of the play throughout the match, outstanding players for the side being Albert Dickens, Nick Chenoski and George Hill. Canadian Legion was served best by Horne, Baptie

SPORT CHAT

Tons of water pumped from Rideau River by special apparatus were poured daily over the dirt out Ottawa Hunt and Gold Club fairways to prepare them for the Canadian Open Gold championship held there a few days ago. Lack of moisture last winter and this spring left the course without some of its usual carpet of grass but club authorities' efforts produced a satisfactory layout for the national contest. The wide, rolling greens were in perfect shape, comparing with the best on the continent. But the failure of fertilizer to protect the fairways during the winter and the lack of moisture left the greater part of the course in unsatisfactory condition. The links were built over sandy ground and, with the top soil drifted away, many of the fairways have spots of the sand exposed. A ball driven straight has plenty of roll but the lie is sometimes unplayable with a wood. Until June 11 winter rules were in force to protect the fairways and this and other measures transformed the course into a perfect test for the championship.

Built in 1919 by the late Willie Park, famous Scotch golf architect, the links are laid out on high land overlooking the Rideau River about six miles from the centre of the city. Its elevated position exposes the course to the wind and the player may find himself combatting gusts from every direction as he plays over the 18 holes. Put for the 6,770 yard layout is 73-4 and 37 back. A characteristic of the championship links is the great number of trees, large and small, which border its fairways and sometimes intrude on them. The club property is a forest preserve, great numbers of willows and pines having been planted to stop soil drifting.

VANDERHOOF, July 13 - The first plowing match to be held in the central interior along the Canadian National Railways was conducted at Vanderhoof last week.

The work done by all was excellent, causing the able judges, Messrs. Goldie, Manson and Stuart, considerable worry in placing awards. The following walking plow prizes were awarded:

Indian Department—First, Duncan Aleix; second, Adanar Aleix; third, Morris Thomas.

Competing Settlers—First, Sam Goodland; second, George Streigler; third, Archie Stewart.

Junior Class—W McEwen.

Sam Goodland made the best opening of the land and had the best working team. Morris Thomas captured the prize for the best dressed team. W. Irving secured the special for the youngest plowman on the field.

Following the competition refreshments were served to the large turnout of visitors and contestants.

Paul Black of Victoria and Don Sutherland, district agriculturalist of Smithers, delivered short addresses complimenting the Vanderhoof people on the success of their venture.

wins the sixth car

You may be a winner, too

And wouldn't it be great to be driving a new Chevrolet Standard Coach? Each of these winners has received his car . . . and the only effort to win it was submitting 4 specimens of handwriting on the backs of 4 front panels from Turret Cigarette (20's) packages (see full details at left.)

Remember — there's a new contest every week and the winner is selected for writing that reveals character or unusually interesting features. You may consider yourself a poor writer but you have just as good a chance to win as the expert penman. The committee of judges is headed by Mr. Frederic D. Jacob, for 15 years Dominion Government Graphologist, who gives 100 Free Graphological Readings each week to selected contestants.

The car will be delivered the day that the winner is announced.

NOTE

The only condition of entry in this contest is that you write the following on the backs of 4 front panels from empty Turret Cigarette (20's) packages with portion of excise stamp attached—on the back of one panel, your name; on the back of another, your occupation; on a third, your street and town; and on the fourth, your province. Fasten the four panels together and mail, on or before the closing date shown above, to Turret Cigarette Handwriting Contest.

NEWS OF THE MINES AROUND PRINCE RUPERT

Progress Being Made on Jessie Gold—Five Miles of Dog Creek Staked—Premier Stock Weak

Excellent progress has been made on the Jessie gold mine on Hudson Bay Mountain near Smithers since development work was started on the property over two weeks ago. The camp has been improved and accommodation increased by addition of a tent-roof bunkhouse. A new and well built trail has been made from the camp to the tunnel and improvements have been made to the approaches to the tunnel. A new blacksmith shop has been built at the tunnel mouth and the tunnel is now being run with two shifts. As the tunnel proceeds in the mineralized zone, known as No. 2 vein, the ore is improving as had been expected by the management. Some very fine ore is now showing in the face of the new tunnel. Mining Truth, published in Spokane, comments favorably upon the Jessie property and compliments the directorate on its attitude of conservatism in regard to the property.

Dog Creek, a placer area in the Stuart Lake district which was discovered last year during the Rainbow Creek excitement, has been staked for about five miles of its length, according to Kieron Lawless, who recently came out for supplies. About thirty men are working along the creek which is yielding a small amount of coarse gold. Bedrock has not yet been reached by any of the men prospecting. A pumping plant has been shipped in by one outfit.

Premier Gold has been showing a weaker trend in trading on the Vancouver Stock Exchange recently, selling off to 41 1/2 in odd lots.

District News SMITHERS

The residence of J. Newell on Lake Kathlyn road was destroyed by fire recently. The building, of log construction, was built in 1913 and was owned by Mrs. Ellen Newell, who now resides in California. There was partial insurance.

Neil Lang of Prince Rupert organized a branch of the Canadian Labor Defence League here recently. W. Mahoney was also here and addressed the meeting, telling of the aims and objects of the National Unemployed Workers' Association of which he is organizer.

The local United Church Sunday School had closing exercises when the secretary, Miss Vivian Graham, awarded prizes to 21 pupils who had qualified for same.

The local school board has decided to make a ten percent cut in the salaries of high school teachers and a five percent reduction in those of public school teachers. The board hopes that it may be able to revert to the regular salary schedule by the time the next year has elapsed.

Approximately 125 children were present at the picnic of the local United Church Sunday School held at Lake Kathlyn.

ROOM FOR MILLION

Bishop Bunoz Tells Montreal People of Possibilities of His Diocese

A padre of the mad gold rush of '98, sun and wind-bronzed Monsignor Emile Marie Bunoz, Oblate Father, Bishop of Tenyre and Apostolic Vicar of the Yukon and Prince Rupert, arrived in Montreal recently, leaving behind him the Klondike and the Canadian Northwest, says a Montreal dispatch to the Vancouver Province. He was bound for Ireland to attend the Eucharistic Congress in Dublin, and to Vatican City in Rome for an audience with His Holiness, Pope Pius XI, and rested in Montreal for a few days at the Oblate Fathers' Mission House on Visitation Street prior to sailing for Europe.

Garden of the Future

Monsignor Bunoz' diocese is extensive, stretching from the fifty-third parallel in the south, to the Arctic wastes north of the Yukon, and from the Pacific Ocean in the west to the Rocky Mountains in the east.

"It embraces one of the greatest of gardens of the future," the prelate stressed, adding that in British Columbia, the magnificent Fraser, Nechako, Bulkley and Skeena Valleys, covered with spruce and poplar today, could tomorrow, become a farming area as rich and as fertile as the Peace River district. Five hundred thousand farmlands could be readily created in that area, he said, adding: "Colonization there would give hundreds of the jobless clean, staple employment."

Another site which looms as a great farming area of the future, he said, was that of the Queen Charlotte Islands, 62 miles off the coast of Prince Rupert. Covered today, mostly with gigantic jackpines, and populated by a few hundred people who labor in sawmills and salmon and clam canneries, the island boasts of most fertile land and a most pleasing climate.

Forty Years in Klondike

"Years ago," the bishop said, "officials of the Hudson's Bay Company placed two cows and a bull on the islands, and left them there to roam at large. Later, upon returning, they found that the cattle had increased to a herd of upwards of three hundred, which roamed the island in a wild, savage state. That experiment alone was ample proof of the exceptional climate enjoyed by the islands.

Forty years have been spent by Monsignor Bunoz in Canada's northwestern hinterland, years during which he witnessed the mad gold rush of 1898, when 50,000 cosmopolitan adventurers swarmed into the Klondike.

BERRIES IN FINE SHAPE

Preserving Season Now at Its Height

—Seasonable Fruits and Vegetables

Upriver berries of very fine quality are now being offered in local retail stores and the peak of the production being expected this week, housewives are being advised not to delay further the ordering of the preserving requirements. Supplies of interior berries this year are fairly plentiful with prices ranging from 12c to 15c per basket and $2.75 to $3.50 per crate according to quality.

Exceptionally fine Bing cherries have also been noticed on the local market this week at prices of 14 1/2c per pound and $3.00 per 25-pound crate. This fruit represents a splendid value. The same cherries last year were selling for $5 per crate for preserving. This fruit will soon be over.

Apricots have made their appearance in local stores but it will be a week or so yet before supplies are plentiful and reasonable enough for preserving.

Local green gooseberries in fine condition are being offered at reasonable prices.

A change in the price of navel oranges is noted, the larger sizes being up with smaller sizes more reasonable.

Full lines of seasonable vegetables are now in. Hothouse tomatoes are lower in price and field stocks will soon be in.
