UNOFFICIAL RUMORS THAT GERMANY HAS CAPITULATED AND KAISER ABDICATED

GENERAL SURVEY OF MILITARY POSITION SHOWS GAINS IN EVERY DIRECTION — HOSTILITIES ARE PROCEEDING WITHOUT ANY CESSATION

(Special to The News via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

London, October 17.—Unofficial rumors are in the air that Germany has capitulated and that Emperor William has abdicated. The rumors emanated from Dutch and Swiss sources but the German Government has not officially informed either Washington or London Governments of its intention to conclude in their entirety the conditions necessary for the cessation of hostilities as laid down by President Wilson.

Meanwhile hostilities are proceeding without cessation and in days past the forces of the Allies are everywhere defeating the enemy. In Belgium the British, Belgian and French troops under King Albert are sweeping forward for further material gains in the process of driving the invader out of Belgium.

On the front in France, British, French and Americans are pushing after the Germans and are making progress, although slowly withstanding the strenuous defence that is being offered.

Both in Serbia and Albania the Entente troops are ridding invaded districts of Austro-Hungarian and German contingents, in Albania being well to the north of Durazzo on the Adriatic Sea and in Serbia a considerable distance beyond Nish, with the enemy falling back toward the frontier of Austria-Hungary.

The influenza developed into pneumonia which the already weakened patient was unable to withstand. The deceased, who resided at 230 Sixth Avenue, West, was only 21 years of age and leaves a widow and five children. He was employed by the city and was well known in town.

Over 6,000 Deaths in Large Cities of United States During Week Oct. 12.

Washington, Oct. 17.—There were 6,122 deaths from Spanish influenza in thirty cities during the week ending October 12, as compared with nineteen ending September 14. When the disease first started in New England, in the same period there were 4,169 deaths from pneumonia.

Vancouver, October 17.—Three hundred and seventy-five cases of Spanish influenza were reported yesterday, an increase of forty new cases since Tuesday. There have been thirteen deaths.

Toronto, October 17.—One hundred and thirty-three deaths from Spanish influenza and pneumonia occurred here yesterday. At the base hospital there were 20 deaths during the 12th, 13th and 14th. There are over 13,000 cases in this city.

Winnipeg, October 17.—There are less than 200 cases of influenza here, the closing of all theatres, schools, churches, etc., having helped to prevent its spread.

HOPE OF PEACE IS AFFECTING LLOYDS

(Special via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

London, October 17.—That the possibilities of a near peace are improving is seen in the rates offered by Lloyds. That institution today offered forty guineas per cent. for payment of total loss in the event of peace being declared on or before December 31, and sixty guineas per cent. if declared on or before March 31, 1919.

SEATTLE FIRE LOSSES

(Special via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

Seattle, October 17.—The losses by fire on the Great Northern oil dock are distributed as follows: Mitsui & Co., owners of oil, $1,500,000; Great Northern Railway, owners of pier, $250,000; Griffiths & Co., loss of equipment, $50,000. Each party is covered by insurance.

BRITISH ATTACK ON TEN-MILE FRONT BETWEEN THE CITIES OF LECATEAU AND BOHAIN

MOVEMENTS AT A NUMBER OF DIFFERENT POINTS ON FRONT WHERE ALLIES ARE AGGRESSIVE AGAINST ENEMY; SERBIANS
STILL ADVANCE

(Special to The News via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

London, October 17.—The British began a new attack on a 10-mile front between Lecateau and Bohain at 5:20 this morning (official). Satisfactory progress is being made. A strong enemy counter attack against Haussy, north of Solesmos, pushed the British back to the western edge of the town yesterday.

Serbian troops have captured the town of Akelsinat, twenty miles northwest of Nish. The French occupied Hierot, 25 miles southeast of Nish.

Paris, October 17.—French troops have maintained contact with the enemy on the whole front between the Oise and Somme rivers.

With the American Army Northwest of Verdun, October 17.—American troops have occupied the town of Grandpre on the north bank of the Aisne river north of the Argonne forest.

French Headquarters in France, October 17.—General Debenedy's troops have crossed the Oise river at Brissay-Choigny, three miles north of its junction with the Serre river.

WORKERS ARE WANTED AT GENERAL HOSPITAL

Two Local Ladies Have Already Volunteered and Many More are Required During
Time of Stress.

Miss McClenaghan and Miss McLeod, members of the city school teaching staff, have volunteered their services to help in the hospital during the time of stress when so many helpers are needed. They are both members of the St. John's Ambulance Society and well qualified for the work.

A special appeal is being made to members of the St. John's Ambulance, to school teachers and other ladies who may have the opportunity to give their services for a few days to help out during the time when help is so badly needed.

Last night a number of willing helpers went across to Digby Island and brought over nine beds from the quarantine station and they are now installed at the hospital.

The following is the appeal issued by the ladies:

"Owing to the hospital being filled and to the great shortage of help an urgent call is being sent out by the Hospital Board for volunteer willing helpers to assist in a general way. Ladies of St. John's Ambulance Society, school teachers and other are especially invited."

Those wishing to help should apply to Miss Carmichael at the hospital.

CANCELS ALL FURTHER SPEAKING ENGAGEMENTS

(Special via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

Vancouver, October 17.—On account of the prevailing epidemic of influenza and the opinion of the health authorities as to the advisability of public meetings, Sir Thomas White has decided to cancel all further speaking engagements on his present tour of the West and will return east immediately.

Sir Thomas was speaking on behalf of the Victory Loan.

GERMANS RETREAT ON LARGE SCALE URGED ON BY ARMIES OF THE ALLIES IN BELGIUM

FRENCH CAVALRY APPROACH THOUROUT, SEVENTEEN
MILES FROM THE DUTCH BORDER — RACE BETWEEN ALLIES AND HUNS WITH LATTER WELL AHEAD

With the Allied Forces in Belgium, October 17.—The Germans have started a retreat on a large scale from Northern Belgium following the forward rush of the British into that country with the idea of trying to cut them off.

French cavalry are approaching Thourout seven miles from the banks of the Ghent-Bruges canal. The canal itself is only ten miles from the border of Holland.

So fast is the enemy retreating that the British and Belgians have lost touch entirely with the enemy. It seems like a race between the two armies, one to get out and the other to get into the country.

Lille has been occupied by the Allies.

The Home Coming
Of the Soldiers.

It is time that Canadians were making preparations for the home coming of the soldiers. Some individuals have already been working and thinking along these lines, but the mass of the people seem quite indifferent as to what is to happen. The few men that are drifting back now are a negligible quantity, comparatively. Soon, perhaps sooner than we expect, there will be large numbers pouring in on us and all have to be taken care of. Each one must be given a position equally as good as the one he left when he went to the war.

How is this to be done? Tre, and when will be matters for working in order to find jobs for the others would be curing one trouble by causing another. Production in a large way is the cure. There is food needed, there are ships needed, and there is almost everything else needed. What can we produce? is the question to be answered. Here we can produce lumber and fish and minerals and ships. Let these industries be developed to their capacity and there will be plenty for everyone to do.

It will probably be necessary for the Governments to take a hand in equalizing matters and possibly in starting work which will keep everyone going until the wheels of industry get into proper working order. How, where, and when will be matters for them to consider because they have or should have the information on which to base their actions. The chief thing to remember is that preparations will have to be made and that soon.

Coal is Needed,
Says the Minister.

Hon Frank Carvell, when here, said that one of the necessary adjuncts to a great ocean port was plenty of steam coal. That is what must be obtained at Prince Rupert. Not only must there be coal in large quantities but at a price which will not handicap the vessels that come here to load.

According to common report there is plenty of good coal in the Telkwa district. One mine is about to become a shipper in a small way and there will be others undoubtedly which will follow. To develop these would not only provide employment for the possible slack time when the soldiers return but would also be the means of helping to build up this port. If there is not sufficient coal at Telkwa it will be necessary to look elsewhere. This is very important for this port and it is one that must be seriously considered soon. Coal is the one product that has made Britain a great commercial nation. The mines of Wales have built Cardiff up to be one of the great shipping ports of the world. Let us get coal mines developed in the country tributary to this port and we are bound to grow and grow fast. Even now if there had been good coal here we should be having liners sailing in and out of our fine harbor.

The Common Cause

Half the world is united in a common cause. This is what you hear every day. Is it so in your case? Are you united with the others in the effort to bring about a better order of things in this world?

You may think you are, but if you are wasting, when you might be saving, you are not. You are not merely indifferent to the common cause, you are disloyal to it.

Every cause must be financed. It can only be financed if its supporters save, save, and again save.

Canadians who fail to practise thrift are traitors to the common cause. They must Save to Lend! Canada's war effort and peace policies must be financed out of present prosperity. Every citizen must be prepared to do his part, however humble. That's the only loyalty that's worth while. Save until it hurts.

Help To Feed Yourself

Are you only a "destroyer of rations"
when you might be a food producer?

Every pound of food that can be grown in Canada and made available for export, will be desperately needed by those who are bearing the brunt of the fighting and the suffering.

The amount of food produced this year will be absolutely limited by the extent to which people in cities and towns become food producers—there is no other labor reserve.

WHERE DO YOU BELONG?

On the Farm?

Thousands of men are urgently needed on farms in this province to make possible increased production of food. Those who could go and yet hold back, should not forget that, unless production is greatly increased, hundreds of thousands of people will die of starvation.

In the War Garden?

By growing vegetables in home
gardens or on vacant lots, and thus helping to feed themselves, city and town people can leave the farmers
free to grow more food for export.
All that is produced in this way is gain and a net addition to the national food supply.

War Garden service is not sufficient for the man whose rightful place is on the farm.
But the War Garden does offer an opportunity for tens of thousands of people, whose circumstances oblige them to remain in the city, to have at least a small part as food producers. Interest the boys and girls in the War Garden, for they too can help to grow food.

If there is a garden or vacant lot movement in your community associate yourself with it. If no organization exists, do what you can to interest your neighbours in the War Garden campaign.

"The food crisis is grave and urgent beyond the possibility of exaggeration."—Sir Robert Borden

Help To Feed Yourself

Are you only a "destroyer of rations"
when you might be a food producer?

Every pound of food that can be grown in Canada and made available for export, will be desperately needed by those who are bearing the brunt of the fighting and the suffering.

The amount of food produced this year will be absolutely
limited by the extent to which people in cities and towns
become food producers—there is no other labor reserve.

WHERE DO YOU BELONG?

On the Farm?

Thousands of men are urgently
needed on farms in this province to
make possible increased production
of food. Those who could go and
yet hold back, should not forget
that, unless production is greatly increased, hundreds of thousands of people will die of starvation.

In the War Garden?

By growing vegetables in home
gardens or on vacant lots, and thus helping to feed themselves, city and
town people can leave the farmers
free to grow more food for export.
All that is produced in this way is gain and a net addition to the national food supply.

War Garden service is not sufficient for the man whose rightful place is on the farm.
But the War Garden does offer an opportunity for tens of thousands of people, whose circumstances oblige them to remain in the city, to have at least a small part as food

GERMAN ARMY IS VERY DIFFERENT

German Headquarters Implore and Threaten Troops to Try to Get Them to Hold Line

On March 21 the German army left the Hindenburg line for the offensive which was to end the war and bring a German peace, says a correspondent of The News, writing from the western front. Six months have gone by and the German army is back in the Hindenburg line again. But a very different army from the one that started out so triumphantly.

Nor is it the same Hindenburg line. What the Canadians did to the northern end of it can be done again elsewhere by them or other British troops. The Hindenburg line is no longer an impregnable fortress, but a temporary refuge for a beaten army. This Canadian attack on the Drocourt Switch was known as the "L. C. scheme." Very few people knew what "L. C." meant; only those, indeed, who knew what the scheme was. The popular secret, known to everybody, was that they were to attack suddenly in Flanders. It was whispered from mouth to mouth; it travelled, no doubt, across the lines to Germany. Even when the divisions reached the Somme country they still believed that Flanders was their destination.

Llandovery Castle

But they were not for Flanders this time. And on the night when the scheme was explained to them it was explained also what "L. C." stood for. Llandovery Castle—the Canadian hospital ship which had been sunk by the Hun. So their battle cry when they went into action was "Remember the Llandovery Castle," and not only did they remember it but they made the Germans remember it too; made them, no doubt, curse the U-boat pirate who had put such a fighting spirit into their enemy.

So the Hindenburg line is not now the line it was, nor are the men within it the men who left it on their triumphant way to Paris six months ago. The flood of orders, imploring, commanding, threatening, continues to pour out from German headquarters to the great amusement of the British who capture them. Ludendorff's Theory of Outpost Zones is causing a good deal of quiet fun just now. Two months ago, when the morale of his men was better, and the need for economizing cannon-fodder had begun to be pressing, he issued an order to say that the front line of defence was to be considered simply as an outpost zone, which might at times be more wisely evacuated than held to the last man, and that if it were taken by assault, commanding officers were not necessarily to regard a counter-attack as a point of honor, but were to use their discretion in the matter.

Outpost Zones.

The natural result followed, and now we have another order, which points out bitterly that "a new outpost zone cannot be selected daily. The troops must hold their foremost line. They must be made to understand this, or else they will retire, and describe the ground which they evacuated as an outpost zone." But, after all, it is Ludendorff himself who sets them the example in his communications. If, whenever the Germans give up ground, he describes the ground as unimportant, he cannot blame his subordinates for reversing the process—pronouncing the ground to be unimportant, and then giving it up.

Kiddie's Clothes

How to Make Them Wear Longer

There is stringent need of it, as every mother can testify, in these days of mounting prices. Well—did it ever occur to you that harsh, common soaps, and the ordinary rub and scrub of the wash board, break down more clothes than are ever actually worn out in use? Its so. We've studied the question. That's why purest and best of soaps, was first evolved, years ago—to wash clothes gently but thoroughly, without rubbing—the special "Sunlight" way. Doubly—trebly useful—now, in war time, when the clothes must last longer.

Sunlight Soap

It's easy to do the washing yourself with Sunlight.

Red Cross Notes

RED CROSS NOTES
Few people realize the work being done by the Seal Cove Branch of the Red Cross Society. Its resources are somewhat limited but a small band of faithful women "carry on" month after month. The splendid report of last year's work speaks volumes. Mrs. Blance president last year, owing to illness, did not desire re-election this year and Mrs. Montador has succeeded her as president. Mrs. Brown is the new vice-president, Mrs. Hill treasurer and Mrs. Crate secretary.

Mr. Sorensen has turned over to the society $15.00 representing in part the proceeds from the sale of a desk recently won by him. Mrs. Smith (Digby Island) has also sent $2.00 for sale of flowers and Mr. A. C. Little, $1.00 for the Prisoners of War Fund.

There are many pairs of socks awaiting completion in small details. This work may be obtained from Mrs. Dawson at the supply rooms on Thursday mornings.

The sale in the hut next Friday will be in charge of Mrs. A. Haines and Miss G. Clarke.

The Society desires to take this opportunity to thank the public generally for their splendid support of Friday sales. At the annual meeting the convenor's report showed that a sum of $4,115 had been realized from this source last year as against the sum of $3,613 for the previous year. As the demand for home-cooking and other food is increasing the public are kindly requested to remember this.

The sale last week which was in charge of the Ladies of the Eastern Star realized a sum of $90.65 which includes a cheque from the Masonic Order for $7.50.

The donors and winners are as follows:

Mrs. Valentine donated a box of apples, won by Geo. W. Kerr; Mrs. J. G. Steen, 2 lbs. tea, won by J. A. Thomson; Killas Bros., 5 lbs. candy, won by W. When will it end?

Thousands upon thousands, endless thousands, hold their lives cheap as the price of Victorious Peace.

And we—as we watch from afar their heroic efforts—may we be able to say, that the little we at home could do, we have done;

—that in so far as we could support them, lighten their burdens, bring them comforts, we have done it;

—that we have striven unceasingly to shorten their stay in the Hun-made Hell;

—that freely, fervently, unitedly, we have laid our humble offerings alongside their noble sacrifices on the altar of Victory—and Peace.

Another opportunity to lend your individual weight to the blow that will shorten the war comes with the offering of Victory Bonds about to be made. Let not the privilege to do your share find you unprepared.

Issued by Canada's Victory Loan Committee in co-operation with the Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada.

PLENTY OF SPRUCE IS LEFT IN WOODS STILL UNCRUISED

Yellow Cedar May Be Used for Manufacture of Aeroplanes —Much Pulp Material.

The Queen Charlotte Islands have been somewhat exploited as the home of the best brand of spruce lumber on the continent for the manufacture of aeroplanes. There is little doubt that the claim is well founded, for the reason that the high winds and the absence of exceedingly cold winters keeps this evergreen tree always in a growing condition. The spruce tree reaches a great height and is firmly embedded, with roots branching out in all directions for many feet. It feeds on the fertilizing material wafted from dead and decaying leaves, which in some places are several feet in depth, says a resident of the islands writing to The News.

Root Vagaries.

The strange thing about these spruce trees is that the roots travel towards streams, on the banks of which the highest, toughest and best spruce grows. The spruce seldom has what are called "pin" roots.

When it is sawed off or chopped with the axe the moisture and the fertilizer that afterwards falls on the top of the stump catches a cone and another spruce begins to grow. The stump then rots and another tree is fed by the rotten wood and falling leaves.

Yellow Cedar.

In looking for something to duplicate the aeroplane spruce, the yellow cedar offers a substitute. Although the yellow cedar does not grow in large groups it is plentiful in spots. The Indians use the yellow cedar in making ribs for their boats. When the lumber is steamed it can be bent and retains its place after being placed in the interior of boats. It has a fine grain and would make a good class of house furniture.

When speaking of the coming scarcity of aeroplane spruce, it would be well to consider that the present camps of loggers are all along the shores of the inlets. No attempts have been made to go inland. In fact there are numerous localities where the timber cruisers have not looked over the spruce limits.

No Fire Danger.

There is little danger from forest fires where spruce grows. The branches of the trees remain green throughout the year. The trunks of trees are so large that they will not readily take fire. With the driest summer known to local inhabitants no damage was done in the spruce districts of the islands.

Besides spruce the hemlock and alder keep mills at work for many years. Millions upon millions of feet have been shipped and, despite reports to the contrary, more millions of feet will be cut in the future. The question of the disposal of the second growth and of the rejected lumber will be a future consideration. It can be used in house construction and at the pulp mills, being the best of paper-making material.
