WILSON WARNS GERMANY VIRTUAL SURRENDER OF TEUTONIC ARMIES IN FIELD PRICE OF PEACE

THE UNITED STATES MUST DEAL WITH MILITARY MASTERS THEN SURRENDER ONLY COURSE OPEN

President Objects to Negotiating with Monarchical Autocrats of Germany but sends Recent Proposal on to Allies after Stating Own Position.

(Special to The News via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)
Washington, October 24.—President Wilson has submitted a German plea for an armistice and peace to the Allies and at the same time has informed the Berlin Government that there can be no armistice except upon such terms as would make it possible for Germany to renew hostilities.
While consenting to deal further with the present authorities of Germany the President gives the Germans warning that "if it (the United States) must continue to deal with the military masters and monarchical autocrats of Germany now, or if it will have to deal with them later regarding the internal obligations of the German Empire, it must demand, not peace negotiations, but surrender. Nothing can be gained by leaving this essential thing unsaid."
The President's reply to the last German note was handed to the Charge D'Affaires of the Swiss Legation for transmission to the German Government.
The reply accedes to the request that he take up with the Allies the proposal of two new spokesmen of the German people, but does it with the notice that the virtual surrender of the Teutonic armies in the field will be the price.
In transmitting the matter to the Allies, the President says he has suggested that if they are ready to effect peace on the terms and principles accepted by the present German authorities and the American and Allied military advisers be asked, if they can submit such an armistice possible from a military point of view, to submit such conditions as will fully protect the interests of the Allies involved.

SUCCUMBS AFTER A BRAVE FIGHT

George McCarty, An Employee of Pacific Cartage Company, Dies After Week's Illness.

George McCarty, better known round town as George Brown or Brownie, who has been foreman with the Pacific Cartage, Limited, for the past eight years, died this morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Parker about 10 o'clock. At the time he was taken sick there was a scarcity of accommodation at the hospital and since that time Mr. and Mrs. Parker have nursed the sick man. The best help, however, was unable to overcome the pneumonia.
George McCarty was one of the familiar figures on the streets. He was well liked by everyone, and the youngsters particularly have lost a good friend. He was never happier than when he had a bunch of kiddies on his rig giving them a ride, to their great pleasure. He was born in Saginaw, Michigan, in 1879, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony McCarty, still reside at Ypsilanti, in that state. He also has a brother and sister in Portland, Ore.
He became seriously ill last Friday and although everything possible was done for him, he succumbed this morning.

CURIOUS TEAM

A sad little story comes in a letter from France. Of all the dreadful sights of war nothing had touched the Canadian soldier who wrote more than the sight of a poilu with one arm and one leg guiding a plough drawn by a strange team—his wife and an ox.
Yet we think we have to undergo hardships here and we murmur because we have to use substitutes and to eat less sugar.

ASHES SCATTERED TO THE FOUR WINDS

Sikhs Stood With Bowed Heads While Body of Countryman is Cremated on Cedar Pyre.

With heads bowed and hands clasped, five Sikhs stood round the blazing pyre at the cemetery yesterday afternoon and conducted a simple ceremony over the ashes of their departed brother, Harry Singh, who died at the Borden Street Hospital. They had been busy all day in the driving rainstorm cutting wood for the pyre. They got yellow cedar, which gives out the fiercest heat, and before the light was applied the pile was about five feet high. Well soaked in coal oil, the fire got started and burnt for hours and finally the ashes of the departed were scattered to the four winds.
The funeral service was conducted in their own language, the voice of the speaker seldom outranging a tone and a half, with occasional responses from the others. To see these men from the Punjab, far from their own land, standing reverently in the driving rain, conducting the last rites over their countryman, after having spent the whole day in severe weather preparing for it, was a touching sight.
The simple remark, "He go to God" passed in English after the service, explained a lot.

BRITISH FRONT MAKES ADVANCES FROM LECATEAU TO SCHELDT RIVER TAKING MANY PRISONERS AND GUNS

(Special to The News via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)
London, October 24.—Over the entire front held by the British, further gains have been made by Haig's men from the region south of Lecateau to the Scheldt river, according to the British official communications. At some places the enemy positions to a depth of more than three miles have been penetrated, numerous villages have been taken and several thousand prisoners and guns captured.

SOPHIA RUNS ASHORE NEAR NORTHERN PORT

Resting Easily on Vanderbilt Reef and Taking no Water; Expected to Come Off Soon.
The Princess Sophia which was here on Tuesday on her way north has run ashore on the Vanderbilt Reef, some twenty-five miles this side of Juneau. According to information received the vessel is resting easily, and is making no water. It is expected that she will be got off soon. Assistance is being sent from Juneau.
The Sophia was on her way to Skagway on her regular run, and expected to bring south a full complement of passengers, who are at present thronging the Alaskan town on their way out from the Yukon. She did not have many passengers on the run north, owing to the season of the year. Her skipper is Captain Locke, after whom Lockeport is named, and who is one of the best known and most experienced captains now on the Pacific coast. He knows these northern waters well. He previously was on the steamer Amur which was formerly familiar in this port, and traded for many years between Alaska, the Queen Charlotte Islands and the southern ports. First Officer Shaw is also an experienced navigator.

INFLUENZA SITUATION IS MUCH IMPROVED

Fewer Cases Reported, But Help Badly Needed at Borden St. Emergency Hospital.
All reports seem to indicate that the influenza epidemic is abating. There are fewer new cases reported and many are recovering and will soon be about their business again as usual. The druggists report a considerable lessening of sales of medicines and those who now are taken with the malady know exactly what to do and how to do it.
At the Borden St. school there are more cases than at the General Hospital and as a result more nursing help is needed. Some of the girls who are there have been working twelve hours a day and not being used to it, the strain is telling on them. It is suggested therefore that any who possibly can get away shall lend their services and do it, as far as possible, regularly. There is great need just now for aid.

AMERICANS ARE GETTING SOME BIG FIGHTING

Successes Reported This Morning Seem to Have Followed Reverses During Last Few Days.
(Special via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)
With the American Army northwest of Verdun, October 23.—The Americans tonight are fighting north of Bantheville, Hill 297, Hill 299 and Hill 281, Bantheville, having changed hands several times in the last few days.
Bruilles has been cleared of the enemy. Hill 281 has been the scene of severe fighting during the past four days, the Germans having numerous machine gun nests on the summit. The capture of the hill gives the Americans the command of Clery le Grand and the valley along the Landon river.
Apparently the Americans at this point have met with most stubborn resistance and also must have had some reverses as points farther up the Meuse river were reported taken over a week ago.

WELL KNOWN LADY DIES AT HOSPITAL

Mrs. James Hunter Leaves Family of Small Children to Mourn Her Loss.
Yesterday afternoon at the General Hospital, Mrs. James Hunter, of Fifth Avenue, West, died, a result of complications brought about through the epidemic of influenza. Mrs. Hunter had been seriously ill for several days past and had been gradually sinking. Both she and Mr. Hunter had taken the influenza and were removed to the hospital early, while neighbors looked after their family of small children.
The condition of Mrs. Hunter was such that her relatives were sent for, and her mother, Mrs. Bateman, and sister, Mrs. Lindstrom, arrived in the city on Tuesday night. They were in time to see the last of Mrs. Hunter, who died yesterday afternoon. The newborn infant is doing well.
The sympathy of the whole community goes out to Mr. Hunter and the family.

EVACUATION OF GHENT IS IN FULL SWING; BRUGES TO BE TEMPORARY CAPITAL

(Special to The News via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)
Amsterdam, October 24.—The evacuation of Ghent, Belgium, by the Germans is in full swing according to a despatch to the Telegram from Season, Ghent. The last boats in Ghent are being hastily towed toward Zelzaete, near the Dutch frontier, southwest of Ghent.
Havre, October 24.—The whole province of Western Flanders and part of Eastern Flanders and Hainault have been received from the Germans, the Belgian Government has decided to establish administrative departments in Bruges.
The work of rehabilitation will commence at once, but it will be a long and difficult task and little headway will be made until after peace is declared.
The Belgians are very enthusiastic over the future and welcome the Allies with open arms. There is much rejoicing, but this is modified somewhat by the sad plight in which the inhabitants find themselves and by the fact that so many of the people have been killed or carried off.

DAILY EDITION. Thursday, Oct. 24, 1918.

The man who would succeed must have faith in himself, his town, his country and in mankind. The man who has faith like a grain of mustard seed is hot on the trail towards betterment, and if he fails to move a mountain he can kick up considerable dust with his six-cylinder roadster as he purrs along the highway that leads around it.

Lovers of Dickens will wish that Mark Tapley were in town just now; and yet there are plenty of Mark Tapleys in the city today who are coming out strong and who are disappointed only because what seems difficult turns out to be so easy.

How much more pleasant and soothing it is to read of a plague in India and to give two bits to help the poor devils, than it is to have a real live plague of our own right in town. Distance lends enchantment.

When children are unkind and inconsiderate it is usually because the parents are unkind and inconsiderate. Children, therefore should be taught to choose their parents carefully.

Boys! Forget the epidemic. Stop talking and thinking about it and give everyone a chance to get better. Set in motion some health vibrations and pass them round.

People who want to be happy are; those who wish to be sad can always find an excuse.

Prince Rupert Beats All Competitors.

The annual report of the Canadian Red Cross has just been received and it gives some very interesting information. From it the facts are gleaned that Prince Rupert stands higher in the amount contributed than any other town its size in the province. The amount sent from here was $645 more than from the city of Nelson, and approximately $2,500 more than New Westminster. This is a record of which to be proud. What we should congratulate ourselves on is that we are able to do it. We are now in the last year and we want to make it a record one.

Still is Need To Conserve Food.

The Canada Food Board is asking that there be no let up in the conservation of food. It is just as necessary that care be exercised now as ever it was since war began. There is not the acute shortage in Britain that there was last year, but still there is need of saving. Reserves of food must be built up and the food must come from this side. Some French towns have only three days' supply of bread and a short break in communication may cause much suffering at any time.

Just now, while the influenza is threatening, it is necessary for everyone to be well fed, as well fed as possible, in order to ward off the danger of infection. Practically everyone comes within reach of the germs but those who are in good physical condition are able to throw off the infection. The germs are destroyed before they enter the system.

Wonderful Increased Production in Britain.

What Great Britain has done in the matter of increased production is an object lesson to the world. The increased acreage in England and Wales planted to cereals and potatoes compared with two years ago is 2,125,000, in Scotland 300,000 and in Ireland 1,500,000, making a total of 3,925,000. There are 8,000 prisoners of war engaged in the work of production and, according to the reports, they work diligently and willingly. Each of these prisoners receive two parcels of food a month from Germany.

Another important factor in the increased production campaign there is the army of 270,000 women who are doing farm work. Some of them run tractors and do horse plowing, but the majority are engaged in dairying.

Music Lovers Amazed by Edison's Daring Test

All told, 2,000,000 music lovers in Canada and the United States, on more than 1500 different occasions, have gone to one of their local theatres filled with curiosity regarding a startlingly novel musical recital to which they had been invited.

In each case they have come away amazed at the almost unbelievable demonstration which had taken place before their very eyes, and ears—the most daring test of a phonograph or talking machine ever made. They saw a noted Edison artist stand beside

The NEW EDISON "The Phonograph with a Soul"

They heard the instrument sing in the artist's voice—in other words, re-create her voice. Presently the artist herself began to sing note for note with the instrument. Musically trained ears were in vain to distinguish the faintest shade of difference between the actual voice and the Re-Creation. Then, suddenly and without warning, the artist ceased singing, leaving the instrument to continue the air alone. Only by watching the artist's lips did the audience know that she had ceased singing and that they heard the instrument alone. This is the famous Edison Tone Test.

Only Edison makes this test. Only Edison can make this test, because only the New Edison actually re-creates the human voice and the music of human-played instruments with every tone quality and every shade of expression. Ordinary phonographs, and talking machines, merely reproduce.

If you have not been fortunate enough, to witness an Edison Tone Test, you may at least hear Edison's wonderful new phonograph at our store. Make the time to suit your convenience.

BEN TILLET'S GREAT MESSAGE TO LABOR MEN

If Tyrants Became Triumphant On Western Front What a Hell Would Lie Before Us.

"Gorged with murder-blood and treasure, the Kaiser, Ludendorff and the whole gang of Junkers—their maddest ambitions more than satisfied by the crushing of small nations, the corruption of other nations, and the anarchy of Russia—started out on a new and still more arrogant offensive."

This is the introductory paragraph of Ben Tillett's message to Labor. He continues:—

"They are flinging away millions more of lives of the industrial people of the European nations, including their own, to gratify their insensate ambitions. They are bleeding remorselessly the working people of the world to gorge themselves with territory, military glory and wealth. It all makes the position terribly clear to us who carry the industrial burden. The characteristic of the bully-German is simply rapacity. And now he has to face the cost of his own supreme mistake."

The German Mistake.

His mistake in thus defying the world has brought him today face to face with the moral antagonism of the world organized into an iron military resistance, and behind that resistance is the psychology of a great spiritual courage backing the organized fight that the freer nations are putting up. All nations can now see that to be at the mercy of Germany, as the peoples of Eastern Europe, is to receive not mercy but tyranny, and to experience the grinding heel of unrelenting oppression.

New Brutalities.

"The German is now adding to the unspeakable barbarism of the war such wicked implements as the new gas that strips men's bodies of clothes and skin alike and murders them where they stand in trench or dug-out. But the Germans are beginning to regret their own malignancy by reason of our effective reprisals, and I hope that everything will be done to quicken transport, to expedite sending out to our men at the front the power that will relieve them and throw the enemy into confusion and press them back. Every ton of shells, every consignment of guns, every crate of gas-masks, every cargo of rails and sleepers that reaches the front without hitch, every ship that leaves the slips and sets out on its voyage, is a direct blow to the German menace."

How the Workers Help.

"The docker and the riveter, the shell-maker and the chemical worker, the worker in the factories and in the fields, who put through with all speed the supplies of food and munitionment—all are helping our men at the front to break the power of the bullies over the peoples."

The Dragooning of Slaves.

"So inflated with pride have the Kaiser and his Junkers become, such ascendancy have the military authorities secured, that they have been able to press all the elements of social power in their own country. Their workers are taken by the ten thousand, exposed ruthlessly to the most galling fire of our musketry and artillery alike. The military autocracy of Prussia is dragooning its slaves and driving them on to death in order to gratify their own ambitions and enfeeble the internal powers of their own social democracy. And through these slaves of theirs they are perpetrating upon our men every atrocity conceivable."

If the Tyrants Won.

If such tyrants became triumphant on the Western front what a hell would lie before us! Even with victory attending us, the industrial workers will be faced by years of economic strain. But if we had to add to the expenses of the war the addition of an indemnity to be paid to an enemy, the burden upon labor would amount to an overwhelming slavery. Taxes for indemnity payments and for enormous armaments would be chained to our backs and to the backs of our children. With food still at high prices our whole position would become intolerable. The greater part of that whole burden would necessarily be assumed by industry and industrialism.

"We Must Back Up Our Men."

"What it would mean to have our own debts with those of the enemy superimposed upon them baffles the imagination. But that is what would come upon us if we allowed our army and navy to be crushed by any slackness or apathy on our part. We must back up our men with every effort and give to their dependents every succor. There is not a man among them who is not ready to lay down his life for us, and we must do our level best for them."

Who Ben Tillett Is.

Benjamin Tillett, who sent this message to Labor, is one of England's foremost labor leaders. A man of extraordinary industry and energy, he has done much for the cause of the working man in the organization of trades unions, and in pleading the cause of labor with the pen, from the platform and in Parliament where he sits as Independent Member for North Salford. He has been at various times brickmaker, boatmaker, a fisherman and a sailor; in the merchant and naval services, having been invalided from the latter. Leaving the sea he became a dockman, organized the Dockers' Union, and is now Secretary of the Dock, Wharf, Riverside and General Workers' Union of Great Britain and Ireland.

Ben Tillett, since the war broke out, has labored unceasingly to promote war industry, and particularly the production of munitions. He has thrice visited the fighting line and has delivered innumerable lectures in support of the vigorous prosecution of the war, both by the armies in the field and by the industrial workers at home.

You Never Know What A Man Will Do

Mrs. Williams has been using Pacific Milk for cooking a long long time. Her husband got to using it in his morning coffee so they never buy fresh milk any more.

The other evening Mrs. W. bought some fresh cream to give him a treat (as she thought) with his porridge and to use with his coffee.

However, Mr. Williams didn't see it that way and when he discovered it was a different cream in the pitcher, he asked for the same as he'd been getting every morning—couldn't drink his coffee with the other "stuff".

After all if you do join the great majority by the flu road, pass along smiling. That is what the boys are doing in France. The great divide is easy to pass and there is said to be sunshine and warmth on the other side.

COAL PRODUCTION FOR NINE MONTHS

Value of Coal and Coke Mined is Stated to Be Over $11,000,000.

In view of the discussion and speculation as to the production of British Columbia's coal fields during the present year, and the possibility of the output meeting at least the most pressing demands both domestic and foreign, it is interesting to note the results of a rough estimate made by a high authority.

By the end of the month of August the production was 1,824,000 tons, and an estimate of the output for the month of September, the returns being not yet available, is 1,673,301 tons, making a total of 1,988,982 tons up till the last day of last month. From this figure must be taken, however, 221,840 tons which entered into the making of coke.

The total tonnage of coal marketed from this province for the first three-quarters of the year, therefore, would be 1,767,000 tons. At the conservative valuation of $5.50 per ton, this would amount to $9,719,281. In this amount it is estimated that the output of the West Pass Collieries had been 130,389 and the Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir), Ltd., 199 tons of coke, a total of 1,988,982 tons. At a valuation of $9 per ton this would equal $1,306,265. That the value of the coal produced in British Columbia within the period under review may be estimated to aggregate approximately $11,025,546.

It should be noted, however, that during practically the whole of the month of September some hundred miners in the Crow's Nest Field were out on strike demanding the institution of the single shift system as the only remedy to "bumps." Their loss of labor very naturally has made considerable difference in the estimate for the output of the province for last month. Allowance has, however, been made in the figures above mentioned.

What last year's Victory Loan achieved

LAST year the people of Canada lent the nation $425,000,000, by buying Victory Bonds.

And because Canada now needs more money and will presently ask the people to lend it, the people have a right to know what was accomplished by last year's loan.

Every dollar of it was spent in Canada.

Not only was it spent in Canada—it was circulated—it became the working capital of the nation.

IT financed millions of dollars worth of munitions for Great Britain through which great sums of money were passed along to the workers in a hundred cities and towns and to the coal and iron miners of Nova Scotia and New Ontario.

It financed the purchase of thousands of aeroplanes for Great Britain through which again, millions of dollars were passed along to scores of lumber camps in British Columbia and to thousands of workers in the cities.

It financed the export of millions of dollars worth of copper, lead and zinc and that again gave employment to an army of miners and metal workers all over Canada.

It financed the building of 112 steel and wooden ships in the Maritime Provinces, Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia through which many more millions were passed along to the artisans, miners, steel workers and lumbermen of Canada.

It financed the purchase of hundreds of millions of dollars worth of foodstuffs as a result of which the money passed along to the farmers all over Canada.

And the farmers and the workers of Canada deposited their savings in the banks and the banks in turn loaned it to more producers who circulated it again and yet again, until every individual in Canada felt the benefit.

THE money from the Victory Loan, like any other working capital, was "turned over" several times. It kept working, over and over again, until it built up a tremendous commerce—it developed the greatest export trade Canada ever had, greater by several times, than the amount of the loan itself.

And this trade furnished the market for Canada's products of the field, the mine, the forest and the shop.

Thus was Canada's prosperity, upon which her war efficiency depends, kept at a high level.

And by reason of this prosperity, Canada has maintained and equipped an army of over 400,000 men—an army which has brought glory to Canada by its courage and prowess in the field, and by its heroic spirit of sacrifice.

So when Canada asks us to lend our money to carry on we have an opportunity to contribute again to the nation's prosperity and to the fighting efficiency of her noble sons on the battle line.

How Canada's Exports have Grown

What Canada's war activities and financing have actually achieved for the nation's export business may be seen at a glance by comparing certain items for the year ending March 31st, 1918, with the average volume of trade in the same items for three years previous to the war.

From the Farms:	Average for 1915-17	For Year 1918
Dairy.....	$21,064,893	$40,175,270
Grain.....	97,061,983	403,985,858
Flour.....	18,861,944	95,896,492
Meat.....	6,146,554	76,729,060
Vegetables.....	1,205,709	19,034,528
From the Mines:
Iron and Steel (1914 only).....	11,374,981	45,810,367
Copper, Nickel, Zinc, and Aluminum.....	15,323,513	46,271,848
From the Industries:
Munitions.....		450,000,000
Leather.....	2,162,662	10,986,281
Clothing.....	337,047	9,702,207
Vehicles.....	2,871,163	22,776,590
From the Forests:
Pulp and Paper.....	12,446,523	59,599,339

Canada's fisheries will yield, in addition to the above, during the present year, about $9,000,000 worth of export.

In addition to the forest items 248 million feet of aeroplane spruce timber averaging over $20 per thousand is contracted for in British Columbia as the result of Canada's financial assistance to Great Britain.

Not ranking as exports, but nevertheless directly financed by the Victory Loan 1917, is 446,000 tonnage of ships valued at $70,000,000 which will be completed by the end of this year. These ships use millions of dollars worth of lumber and steel which again circulates vast sums among the workers of Canada.

Be ready when the call comes to lend your money

WEST IN SCOTLAND

An English journalist's idea of language received rather a jolt some time ago when he happened on a secluded village in the Highlands of Scotland. He came across what was to him a strange transformation of the hamlet, due to the propinquity of an American lumber camp. The village tavern had been rechristened "The Arizona Arms," and an opposite cottage announced "Good Eats for All." "More amazing still," continues the journalist, "chewing gum and grape juice were on sale at the village store."

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENT

Pre-emption now confined to surveyed lands only. Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes and which is non-timber land. Partnership pre-emptions abolished, but parties of more than four may arrange for adjacent pre-emptions, with joint residence, but each making necessary improvements on respective claims. Pre-emptors must occupy claims for five years and make improvements to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivation of at least 5 acres, before receiving Crown Grant. Where pre-emptor in occupation not less than 2 years, and has made proportionate improvements, he may, because of ill-health or other cause, be granted intermediate certificate of improvement and transfer his claim.

TOWNSITE PROPERTY ALLOTMENT ACT.

Provision is made for the grant to persons holding uncompleted agreements to purchase from the Crown of such proportion of the land, if divisible, as the payments already made will cover in proportion to the sale price of the whole parcel. Two or more persons holding such agreements may group themselves and apply for a proportionate allotment. If it is not considered advisable to divide the land covered by an application for a proportionate allotment, an allotment of land of equal value selected from available Crown lands in the locality may be made. These allotments are conditional upon payment of all taxes due the Crown or to any municipality. The rights of persons to whom the allotment is made are also protected. The decision of the Minister of Lands in respect to the adjustment of a proportionate allotment is final. The time for making application for these allotments is limited to the last day of May, 1919. Any application made after this date will be considered. These allotments apply to town lots and lands of the Crown sold at public auction.

For information apply to any Provincial Government Agent or to Deputy Minister of Lands, Victoria, B. C.

MANY EATING LESS AND SAVING MORE

People Take Lighter Lunches—Feel Better—and Save Money.

Many people are eating less these days. Partly it is from necessity. One no longer has the same free hand as formerly with the bread, the butter and the sugar. These are doled out to him now in more or less minute quantities. But partly it is from deliberate choice. Many feel that in these days when the need for thrift and self-denial of all kinds is so urgent anything like feasting must be rigorously cut out. There are not a third of the dinner parties that there used to be in pre-war days. An astonishingly large number of club men too, who formerly used to tackle a full course luncheon, will now have what is known as a "light lunch" consisting of a bit of fish and a cup of coffee or something of that kind. Many men who used invariably to lunch at a club will now be seen eating a much lighter and more modest repast at a "chair lunch."

In the Restaurants.

Apart from the frequenters of clubs, a whole lot of office men and others who frequent restaurants and other eating places are obviously endeavoring to make their luncheon and its concomitant bill both as light as possible. Enormous numbers of men of this type have forsaken the idea of a regular "sit down" luncheon altogether and content themselves with a piece of pie and a cup of tea or some slight refreshment of that sort. That is easy enough for the married man with a home who goes home to a proper dinner in the evening. But the case is rather different with the young fellow who rooms or boards. If he makes a light lunch it is more than likely that, with the prevalent ideas as to what ought to constitute a meal, he will not have the opportunity of making up much leeway at his evening meal.

A very large proportion of the men who still make a "sit down" luncheon are observed to eat fish. Indeed, the extent to which fish, as an article of diet, has come into its own, is amazing. It occupies a prominent place on all restaurant menus and is in great demand. This is all to the good, as the more we substitute fish for meat the more of the latter is available for export.

Those who are conscientiously and patriotically endeavoring to accumulate money savings find that conservation of food may easily be made a means to conservation of money as well. They have a sense of double duty performed. For both money and food are vital to Victory.

The Indian patients now being cared for at the Salvation Army Citadel are all doing very well now, and good progress is being made towards recovery. They are receiving every care and attention.

It is understood that the telephone girls are very much overworked these days. It is suggested that subscribers may cut their conversations as short as possible and eliminate unnecessary calls for the present.

The open season for geese and brant in this district has been changed. It was originally set from November 16 to February 21 but it is now open and will extend until February 5. There has been considerable criticism of the first mentioned date, as by November 16 the great flight of the big birds from the north is alleged to be well over.

Herman McKinnon, who belongs to Nova Scotia, died at the General Hospital yesterday from pneumonia, following an attack of influenza. He was a fisherman and one of the well known figures around town between trips. He was admitted to the hospital on Sunday, and died on Wednesday. Many of the merchants seem anxious to have the stores closed earlier for a short time until the health conditions improve, in order that those who are still at work may have an opportunity to clean up and get away in good time. In some of the cities there has been compulsory early closing. The matter was discussed at the last council meeting but nothing definite was done.
