TRYING TO CONTROL SOVIET IMPORTS

LIBBY HOLMAN REYNOLDS TAKEN ON MURDER CHARGE

Prevention of Russian Competition Is Trying Problem at Conference

Canada Takes Stand That Increased Preference Alone Would Not Meet Situation—Closed Sessions of Parley Continuing at Ottawa

OTTAWA, Aug. 9.—Canada is using every effort toward control in the United Kingdom of Soviet Russia imports. As conversations at the Imperial economic conference continue, the attitude taken by the Dominion is understood to be that, without "control," increased preference would not meet the "dumped" product of the Soviet Union.

Delegates and committees of the conference are continuing their deliberations in closed session. It is expected that, within the next few days, there may be some announcement as to progress of negotiations on various matters.

DESTROYER DUE HERE

H. M. C. S. Skeena Coming Tonight For Five-Day Visit

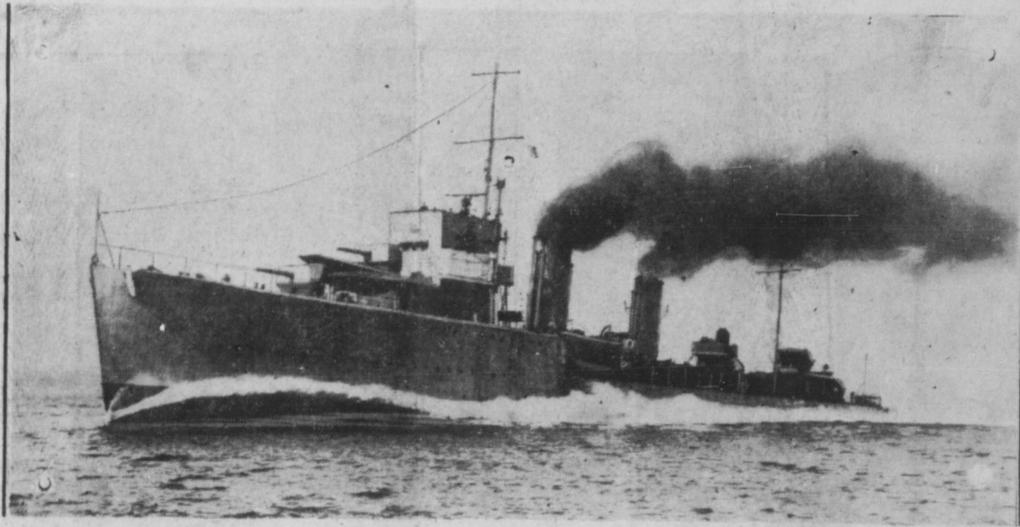

In the course of a coast cruise, H. M. C. S. Skeena, Commander George Clarence Jones R. C. N., crack destroyer of the Canadian Navy on the Pacific Coast, is due in port at 5 o'clock this afternoon from Ocean Falls and will remain here until Sunday morning. The vessel will, as usual, be moored alongside headquarters of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve on the Canadian National wharves.

At the request of the department, entertainment in connection with the visit of H. M. C. S. Skeena on this occasion will be of a quiet and unpretentious nature. The program will include a whaler race on Thursday afternoon between a crew from the visiting warship and one from the local unit of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve in which the Burns Cup will be at stake. Competition at softball and rifle shooting is also planned.

Following is the schedule for the remainder of the present cruise of H. M. C. S. Skeena:

RADIUM IS ABUNDANT

Railway Engineer Says Canada To Lead In Production of Metal

CALGARY, Aug. 9.—"Almost too good to be true," is the way J. C. MacNabb, engineer of construction Canadian Pacific Railways, describes prospects in the Great Bear Lake mineral fields, following an inspection tour.

Mr. MacNabb firmly believes in the enormous potential wealth of the district, which, he declared, will some day place Canada in the forefront of the world as a radium producer. Silver, copper and other valuable minerals abound there, too.

The new reduction plant, established by the Dominion Department of Mines in Ottawa, has completed several extractions of radium from the Great Bear pitchblende with "almost fantastic results," he continued. From 97 to 98 percent of the radium has been extracted from the ore in each test.

Plant in Ottawa

"The plant was placed in Ottawa rather than at Great Bear Lake because three tons of acid to one ton of ore are used in the reduction process," he said. "Thus it is cheaper to ship out ore than to ship the acid to Great Bear owing to prevailing transportation difficulties and high freight rates inevitable when supplies must be carried by airplane or portaged for many miles overland.

"I believe the Ottawa plant will become one of the leading units of its kind in the world. It is the only one of its kind in the British Empire at present and obviates the necessity of shipping the ore to Belgium or Czecho-Slovakia for reduction."

Mr. MacNabb pointed out that the life of the radium salts secured from the Great Bear Lake pitchblende was estimated at 250 years while the Belgian product was effective for only 20 years. It was to be hoped, he concluded, that in the near future Canada would be able to break away from the Belgium combine with beneficial results for all mankind.

CABINET IS CLEAR

Premier Ekman Only One of Swedish Administration Involved With Ivor Krueger

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Aug. 9.—Following the resignation last week of Premier Karl Gustave Ekman as a result of disclosures of his activities in conjunction with the late Ivor Krueger, discredited Swedish capitalist, who committed suicide several months ago, the remainder of the Swedish cabinet remains intact, indicating that none other of its members were involved in Krueger's machinations.

Swedish general elections will take place next month.

Stewart Man Elects For Speedy Trial

Charles Joseph Kerish of Stewart, facing three charges of forgery, appeared before Judge F. McB. Young in County Court yesterday afternoon and elected for speedy trial. The trial will be proceeded with next week. Kerish was brought to the city from Stewart at the end of the week following his committal for trial by Stipendiary Magistrate J. P. Scarlett.

MRS. BRUCE IS TRYING AGAIN

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., Aug. 9.—Mrs. Victor Bruce, English aviatrix took off today in her "flying bungalow" on her third attempt to establish an endurance flight record. Two previous attempts during the past few days failed on account of mechanical difficulties.

HE STARTED AT BOTTOM

S. J. Hungerford, New C. N. R. Chief, Rose From Ranks

WINNIPEG, Aug. 8.—From apprenticeship to president of a billion-dollar organization. Such is the romantic role filled by S. J. Hungerford, newly named head of the Canadian National Railway. The story of the rise to success of Sir Henry Thornton's successor is told by the tutor of his apprenticeship days, now a successful Winnipeg business man.

This old friend of Mr. Hungerford was a skilled mechanic in the South-Eastern and Canadian Pacific shops at Farnham, Que., from 1885 to 1894. It was in 1891, as he recalls, that "Sam" Hungerford first entered a railroad shop as a green apprentice. He was paid eight cents an hour for a ten-hour day—the princely stipend of $4.80 for a 60-hour week.

"Sam's" best friends were his books. In his pocket or his lunch pail he always had "something to read." While others were playing at lunch time or in the evening he was studying. His machine shop friends soon saw that he was "going some place" and had no time for play.

The friend had this to say of his one-time helper:
"If I were asked to state in a word Mr. Hungerford's most outstanding characteristic, I would say it is his tenacity of purpose. That was shown in his determination to succeed as a railroad man—studying while others of us played and slept.

"He has earned the goodwill of all who were associated with him, whether on the old South-Eastern, the Canadian Pacific or the Canadian National. We, his old time friends, agree he is undoubtedly the best practical railroad man in the Dominion of Canada today."

Fearing that some might see in his anecdotes a desire to share in the glory of his boyhood friend, this former tutor of "Sam" Hungerford, apprentice, did not wish his name mentioned.

AMY ON MARRIAGE

Famous British Aviatrix Glad She Can Look Up to Husband

LONDON, Aug. 9.—Miss Amy Johnson's sentiments on marriage, as she has given them to the London Press, are a curious mixture of ancient and modern. While glad she has found "a man whom she can look up to," she declares that she does not intend to cook for him, or "hamper his career in any way." Nor does she expect him to hamper hers.

"I live for flying," she told one interviewer. "So does he. Our marriage will be ideal. We respect individuality too much ever to seek to cramp each other's careers. Domesticity has no delights for me. Neither does Jimmy enjoy the prospect of a fireside and slipper existence. We are both restless pioneering spirits. I hate cooking and loathe housework."

Apparently Amy could have married all sorts of unexciting people. She has had lots of proposals, many of them from men whom she had never seen. They made it clear that they would be quite content with the position of "Mr. Amy Johnson," she says. Amy, apparently, will be quite content with the position of "Mrs. Jimmy Mollison."

THE STOCK MARKET BOOM

Artificial as speculative trading may usually be, the boom of the past few days on the stock exchanges may be taken as another indication of impending better times. If nothing else, it indicates that money is being released from the savings banks for speculation and circulation.

Before business conditions return to normal and the securities markets get back to something like they were before, it will be necessary that a great deal of such money be released. Once it commences to loosen up, as it appears to be doing now, better times should immediately develop.

Meantime, the buying boom, likened to that of the mad days of 1929 before the crash of that fall, is another bright ray of hope shining through the dark clouds of depression which have spread over us the past year or so.

PASSING OF SENATOR BELCOURT

The sudden death on Sunday of Hon. Napoleon Antoine Belcourt of Ottawa, whose Parliamentary life represented a continuous span of 36 years, 11 years as member of the House of Commons during two of which he was Speaker and a quarter of a century in the Upper Chamber, removes another of the great statesmen which the French-Canadian people have given to Canada.

Not as spectacular possibly as some public men, Senator Belcourt, however, made his presence and influence felt in the administration of the country, particularly during the great Laurier regime. While a party man, he was held in high esteem even by his political opponents.

He was also a distinguished barrister and for years, as owner and publisher of Le Temps, Ottawa's French newspaper, was a power in the journalistic world of the east.

In Senator Belcourt's passing, Canada mourns the loss of another of her distinguished native sons.

With no less than five athletes equalling or bettering the marks set and several others coming very close to doing so, the two track meets held Saturday and Monday by the Spartan Athletic Club for the purpose of qualifying members for coming Junior Olympic meet in Vancouver proved highly satisfactory to all concerned.

The following are the events run off and the marks made by those who qualified:

Pole vault—A. Walters (9 feet, 9 inches), R. Morrison (9 feet, 6 inches), B. Thurber (9 feet, 3 inches).

Broad jump—A. Walters (18 feet, 8 3/4 inches).

There were no qualifiers in the high jump, 440 yard run or the one mile run.

The two meets were officially sponsored by the Trades and Labor Council.

SPORT CHAT

Miss Marjorie Clark, who is at Los Angeles with the South African Olympic team, holds two world's records—for the 80 metres hurdles and the 100 yards. At the last South African championships she won every event open to women. Writing in the Cape Town Argus, she says: "As far back as I can remember I could always out-pace and out-last my sisters when we ran together, but it was not until I was 13 that I took part in my first organized race. This was at a fete in Pietermaritzburg, when one of the items on the program was a three-mile race for girls (a race of this length would not be allowed today).

"I had not entered for this event, but when I saw a girl friend, whom I thought I could beat—having done so often while playing rounders—had entered, I decided to run. I remember that my sister had promised me a bag of monkey-nuts if I won. Hurdling I consider my most thrilling race. I am rather fortunate in having a long stride, for whereas most other girl hurdlers have to take four or five strides between the hurdles I only take three.

"A question I am often asked is 'What is your candid opinion of athletics for women?' My reply invariably is this: 'It is good for some girls but may not suit others. I can only go on my own experience. It has never done me any harm. On the contrary, athletics have kept me wonderfully fit. Still, like all things, one must use discretion. With regard to training, I am more or less always in condition, so that a few starts and short bursts the week before a meeting is generally all I need. I was naturally disappointed when, after being finally selected to travel with the Springbok team to Canada for the Empire Games in 1930, a cable arrived in South Africa a week before the team was due to sail announcing that all women's events had been cancelled. However, I soon got over it. I think an aunt and uncle of mine, who motored 2,000 miles to Hamilton in the hopes of seeing me compete, were even more disappointed than I was.'

THE FAITHFUL ALARM CLOCK NEEDS ATTENTION

The days are getting shorter and you will soon need the alarm again. Big Ben or any other alarm runs dry after a year or so and a good overhauling adds years to its life.

Many people think that the humble alarm clock is not worth repairing and many good clocks are thrown away. If not worn too badly these are repaired in our repair department for a very reasonable price and of course all guaranteed to be satisfactory.

Don't throw away the clock until you find out if it is worth repairing.

DEVELOPING TRACK HERE

New Suggestion Made to Gyro Club in Connection With Community Service Work

The possibility of an athletic ground or quarter-mile track being developed on land just west of McClymont Park which was turned over to the city by the Grand Trunk Pacific Development Co. a year or so ago was discussed at today's luncheon of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club. It was suggested that this might be made an objective in Gyro Club community service work during the coming year. It would be particularly valuable as far as track sports were concerned and there appeared to be considerable talent in this line of athletics in Prince Rupert. The unstated of the discussion was to refer the matter to a special committee consisting of L. W. Waugh and W. H. Tobey for further report.

The Gyro Club decided against conducting outside exhibitions at the Prince Rupert Exhibition as was done last year. The Rotary Club has also decided against conducting the exhibitions this year.

A telegram of greeting was received from the Gyro Club International convention which is opening today in San Francisco.

President William Crutcher took part in the chair and won the luncheon raffle.

SEVEN-YEAR HONEYMOON

Bavarian Couple Are Expected in Canada Shortly

TOKYO, Aug. 9.—A young couple who are now in the seventh year of their honeymoon journey around the world expect shortly to arrive in Canada for a leisurely trip across the Dominion.

They are Mr. Franz Hecker and his wife, Ernestine Hecker, who left Munich, Bavaria, on August 25, 1925 a few days after they were married, and have been travelling ever since, by bicycle. They have just arrived in Tokyo from Nagasaki and Kobe.

Their most pleasurable experiences throughout their whole trip so far, Mr. Hecker said, have been in India, but they are looking forward to enjoying a trip through Canada, and spoke enthusiastically of what they have heard of its wonderful scenery—at its best in summer for travellers such as they are, they think. They also expect to tour parts of the United States.

Though their travels so far have been replete with encounters with brigands, wild animals, head-hunters and obstinate officials, the young couple thirst for more adventure, and they are hoping to be able to obtain a seaworthy motorboat by which to cross the North Pacific, skirting Hokkaido, the Kuriles, the Aleutians, Alaska and the west coast of Canada.

Falling a motorboat, they hope to get hold of a motorcycle, with which to see more of Japan, and then use it, after crossing the Pacific by steamer, to continue their rambles in North America.

Visited Many Countries

After leaving Bavaria, the Heckers cycled through 24 countries before reaching Japan; Austria, Italy, France, Belgium, Spain, Portugal, Serbia, Rumania, Albania, Greece, Bulgaria, Turkey, Syria, Mesopotamia, Persia, Beluchistan, Burma, Siam, Federated Malay States, Java, Bali, Celebes, Philippines and China.

They learned six languages, Turkish, Arabic, Greek, Spanish and Italian, and English while doing this, the latter during the two years they spent in India. They expect to be another two or three years on the road before they return home. Then they intend to write a book describing their decade of travel, utilizing the vast quantity of photographs and notes they have accumulated, and also to give lectures. While travelling they support themselves by such money as they can earn and help they receive from friends.

During their journeyings, the Heckers have eaten monkey stew, been eaten by leeches, captured by brigands, chased by Bulgarian frontier officials, dined and taken on tiger hunts by an Indian rajaha, and ordered out of Persia because the bride wore no veil.

In Japan they have received many kindnesses from country people, as well as from German and other foreign residents.

PROSPECTOR DIFFERENT

Old Type of Metal Seeker in This Country Passing

VALUE OF PLANES

Aircraft Will Put the Yukon on Map Again, Says Pioneer

VANCOUVER, Aug. 9.—The old-time type of prospector, characteristic of earlier days, is rapidly passing, in fact he has already disappeared and the present day finds a new kind of mineral explorer—the aerial prospector—taking his place.

Such, at least, is the firm conviction of Robert D. ("Bob") Henderson, one of the discoverers of the famous Klondike goldfields and world-wide prospector and adventurer of other days.

"I'm 76 today," Bob manfully boasts, "but if I get the opportunity I'm going back to the Yukon and uncover a new paystreak, one that is even richer than Bonanza, Eldorado or Hunker Creek. White channel, the real stuff. All the big paystreaks in the Yukon were found in white channels. Well, I know a district in the Pelly region, 200 miles northeast of Dawson City, where richer goldfields will be opened up than were ever dreamed of in the halcyon days."

No Idle Boast

This is no idle boast on the part of the big Nova Scotian who first put pick and shovel in the Klondike country in 1894. For Bob knows what he is talking about. For several years prior to his departure from the Yukon in 1924, he mined and prospected in this great Pelly goldbelt. He knows the nature of the country and the formation of the land.

The old-timer, however, insists the airplane is his only hope of reaching the promised land.

"There's not a doubt in the world in my mind," says the famous prospector, "but that there's a rich, virgin paystreak in the Pelly district. Some day it will be opened up and when it is, the Yukon will experience another stampede as sensational as the one to the Klondike in '87 and '88."

"I would have found it," Bob declared, "if it hadn't been for my health. That's the only reason I left the Yukon in '24. But I'm feeling fine now and I'm going back, God willing. I want to make one more strike and that one up on the Pelly is the one. I know the gold is there but I'm the only one that does know exactly where it is."

Asked why others had not prospected in this district the hardy Yukoner explained:

Tough Country

"It's a tough country and it takes a man with patience and a constitution to stand it. The paystreak lies in a gigantic valley at the head of the Pelly River. There has never been a hole sunk in the ground. It is virgin soil, pure, gold-bearing ground richer than the dreams of men. I could take a pan and get colors anywhere—right on the surface. But the place is so far remote, so far up the river, obstructed by so many portages and mountain ridges that a man is worn out before he reaches there. That is by the old way of prospecting where a man had to pack and repack his supplies for hundreds of miles. I've had my share of that in the Yukon. I'm too old a man to tackle such a job as that any more. But I'd go there by plane in a minute if I had the opportunity and I'd prove to the world that the gold is there."

Despite his years and more than a quarter of a century of pitting his wits and strength against all obstacles, the old timer is not too staid and stubborn to realize that the old-type prospector "has just about vanished."

"Airplanes, that's the only way to prospect in that north country," he will tell you. "Why planes will put the Yukon district on the map again in another few years. They are a great saver of time and labor. Believe me if I ever go north again, and I hope to, it will be by air and I know I will come out a winner."

Worked Hard To Get Plane

Two Victoria Boys About to Realize Their Ambition

VICTORIA, Aug. 9.—In order to satisfy their ambition to fly, two local boys, Bob Proctor and Frank Reilly, worked hard for five years in a coast pulp mill and then bought with their hard-earned savings a plane in which they intend to pass their flying tests.

The plane was shipped here from Eastern Canada and the boy owners have chartered it to a local pilot who will give them lessons in flying.

Since the time they left school the lads have been obsessed with the desire to fly and have worked hard and long with that achievement constantly in mind.

They have had their first test flight and give promise of becoming expert fliers.

This is the first time here that youths keen to fly have purchased their own plane in which to complete their flying tests.

The Classified Ads.

Many people have something in the house they would like to sell which could be turned into money if they knew of a customer. Try a classified advertisement. Most people read the classifieds. For about fifty cents you can let them know about it and it may prove a profitable transaction.

Renting the House

There are a number of houses in the city not rented yet and many people make little effort to secure a tenant. Others who are wise to their opportunities try a classified advertisement in the "For Rent" column and often get results. As one satisfied customer said recently: "Those little ads certainly do bring results."

Some Like Reader Ads.

Some people after trying other kinds of advertising decide to try a reader among the locals and personals. Then they have got results. The cost is a little higher but they have been well satisfied. When conditions are like they are today the newspapers can often help. The price is not very high. Do not lie down and bemoan your hard fate. Try a different kind of advertisement and if that is not successful try again.
