REPORT OF MURDER AT THURSTON HARBOR REACHES THIS CITY TODAY

Yarrows of Esquimalt Get Job of Repairing Wrecked Steamship Prince Rupert

Tenders for the repairs to the damaged G. T. P. steamer Prince Rupert were opened this morning on the Prince George by Captain Nicholson, manager of the G. T. P. coast steamship lines, and the contract awarded to Yarrows, Ltd., of Esquimalt, the job to be completed in 115 days. The bids were opened in the presence of the officials of the four contracting firms, Wallace's, B. G. Marine, Coughlans and Yarrows, and the Yarrows offer was found the lowest tender with the most favorable time. Captain Nicholson, who came here especially to open the bids, did not state the price of the contract, found inadvisable for the Prince Rupert repair yard to tender on very favorable terms.

The Prince Rupert will sail to-day for Esquimalt under her own power in connection with the steamship taking over of the yard by Wallace's. "This indicates an active and effective administration that will work for the good of Prince Rupert," he said.

The captain, who is not yet quite recovered from a serious cold, is staying on the Prince George and will make the round trip to Anyox, returning south to-day.

Captain Nicholson pleased.

Captain Nicholson expressed his regret this morning that it was

Active Boring Operations Queen Charlotte Islands

President and General Manager of Company here to Arrange for Commencement of Work in Spring

Preparations are being made by the Graham Island Oil Development Co. to commence boring in the spring at the north end of Graham Island. Austin M. Brown, president and general manager of the company, is at present in the city, having arrived from Victoria on the Prince George to make preliminary plans for the vigorous prosecution of the work.

The company was incorporated in Arizona for half a million dollars and secured a blue sky certificate to sell stock in Ohio and is in Cleveland and Toledo that most of the stock has been sold.

Mr. Brown, who formerly lived in Prince Rupert and who has at different times spent a good deal of time on the Queen Charlotte Islands, says they are getting a first class drilling outfit which will be shipped right through from the east over the G. T. P., and across to the islands on scows. The drill is capable of sinking a hole 4,500 feet deep, but it is hoped to strike oil at a much less depth than that. If necessary it is planned to spend $350,000 in the prosecution of the work, sinking several holes at different points if necessary.

Interviewed this morning by the News, A. Wallace, of the Wallace Shipyards, who is in the city in connection with the tendering for the repairs on the damaged steamer Prince Rupert, refused to say anything on the matter, but did not deny the report. Later it was confirmed by Col. Peck, M.P.

Col. Peck Advised.

Colonel Peck, M.P., this morning was in receipt of a telegram from Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, minister of marine, stating that the contract for the completion of the ships had been let and that he hoped very soon to advise that dry dock affairs had reached a satisfactory conclusion.

"It will mean an early resumption of the work," said Colonel Peck, "which will save the whole unemployment situation as far as Prince Rupert is concerned."

Ulstermen Making Great Preparations for First Meeting of New Government.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Ulstermen are preparing to make the opening of the new Northern Parliament as picturesque and pompous as possible and an endeavor is being made to have either the King or the Prince of Wales present. The new Parliament Act will come into operation simultaneously in both northern and southern areas, the elections and opening of parliament to take place concurrently.

Wallace Shipyard's Taking Over Local Ship Contract

Official Advices Received This Morning that North Vancouver Firm will Commence Early Completion

Will Prove Solution to Unemployment Conditions

A. Wallace does not speak, but Col. Peck gives Official Confirmation to Report

It was officially announced today that the Prince Rupert dry dock and shipbuilding plant has been taken over by Wallace's Shipyards, Ltd., of North Vancouver, and that the company will proceed with the completion of the two steel ships that are now three-quarters finished and on which work ceased when the Newmann Erb interests went into insolvency. Wallace's will also take over the repair work at the yards.

Interviewed this morning by the News, A. Wallace, of the Wallace Shipyards, who is in the city in connection with the tendering for the repairs on the damaged steamer Prince Rupert, refused to say anything on the matter, but did not deny the report. Later it was confirmed by Col. Peck, M.P.

INDEPENDENTS HAD MEETING

Provincial Organization Planned; Favor Community Playgrounds.

The regular monthly meeting of the Independent Political Association was held last night at the rooms on Second Avenue.

G. O. Rowe was in the chair. The secretary reported on organization work, reading letters from S. S. Hayes, M. P., the Independent Liberal representative of North Vancouver and others. Reports were also received that the Vancouver Independents were organizing along similar lines to the local association with a view of co-operation. Applications for membership were read and approved passed on.

G. O. Rowe brought up the question of the Acropolis Hill improvements and the meeting went on record as being in favor of improvements being made to provide for better recreation grounds for the children on the part of the city council, consistent with present financial conditions.

George Nickerson Presents Platform

Candidate for Mayoralty Tells His Intentions in Regard to Problems Facing Prince Rupert

To the Electors of the City of Prince Rupert,

Ladies and Gentlemen:—Having been requested by a large number of the citizens of this city, I have decided to allow my name to be placed in nomination as a candidate for the office of mayor, and having so decided, I feel it my duty to submit to you as briefly as possible some of the questions which I consider of vital importance to the welfare of this city, and which would receive my best efforts in bringing to a successful conclusion should you see fit to elect me as chief magistrate on the 13th of January.

Electrical Power.

During the past year our present electrical plant has never received the encouragement which its importance deserves. It is time to expand it, and in order to take to us warrants. We have had care of the increased population, council after council spending money in the next few years, some new after night over the conducting of means must be devised to assure a city market, whereby the farmer can increase supply of this utility, could sell his produce, but hardly either this must be done under the municipal ownership plan or the fishermen could sleep comfortably at home knowing his vessel was in a safe shelter. Not hardly seem possible in view of only is this applicable to the fisherman's boat, but applies equally to the boats used in connecting us with the canneries and other settlements in our vicinity. I think I am safe in saying that the city of Prince Rupert has not spent a dollar in facilitating the development of this industry.

Commercial Accommodation.

Prince Rupert cannot take its proper place as a commercial centre unless adequate facilities are obtainable to those who wish to make it a distributing centre. If we are to compete with our

Enthusiastic Meeting Held Last Night Decides to Sound Feelings of Municipal Election Candidates at Public Meeting

At a small but representative gathering of educational and athletic parties held in the Sons of Canada hall last night it was decided to hold a public meeting in the Empress Theatre on Monday night and extend invitations to the prospective candidates for municipal honors to express their attitude on the important question of establishing a community playground in the city. The removal of the rock at the athletic grounds was also a matter that was taken up. W. E. Thompson, president of the Sons of Canada, was chairman. Ben Self has offered the use of the theatre gratis for Monday night's meeting. It was pointed out by Principal Brady of the high school

During the course of more or less informal discussion amongst those present, particular stress was given to the great lack of playgrounds for the children in this city. It was pointed out by

Murder at Thurston Harbor Reported Provincial Police

Chief Minty Rushes Boat Across Straits This Morning to Bring Witness and Evidence Here

Chief of Provincial Police A. G. Minty this morning received a message from Thurston Harbor stating that one Robert Holmes was being held there charged with the murder of his partner. As there is no doctor or coroner at Thurston Harbor, Chief Minty this morning rushed a boat across the straits to investigate and gather witnesses and evidence. These will be brought to Prince Rupert and an inquest will be held here.

Details are lacking, the message received being merely as follows: "Holding Robert Holmes who killed his partner here. Am awaiting instructions. Barrar."

Lord Northcliffe on
"Birthday of Newspapers."

The tercentenary of the production of the first British newspaper occurred the first of last month. In writing of the "Birthday of Newspapers" in the London Times Lord Northcliffe says: "Although one is accustomed to regard journalism as a business of keen initiative, rapid decision, constant development and improvement, leading or following closely the public taste, a survey of its history suggests to us how gradual its growth has been. In the sixteenth century the development of anything like a periodical publication was very slow. With the seventeenth century and the altered and complicated relations in the states of Europe, the desire for foreign intelligence became everywhere manifest. The excitements of the Thirty Years' War gave Britain her first newspapers just as it has been the latest war that has put every newspaper to the test of justifying its existence."

History of Suppression
But Development.

The period of newspaper history has been one of growth and suppression. Newspapers have been encouraged so long as they checked and corrected mischievous rumors; they were themselves checked and corrected so soon as they criticized authority. The Revolution produced a flood both of rumors and writers; time passed and the writers established themselves; but a deadly means of correction was found. The old enemy of journalism is still alive and is not forgotten. That longing for an irresponsible security which lead ministers of the parliament in the nineteenth century to forbid the reporting of debates is not easily repressed. The press is still threatened with pains and penalties unless it will consent to look through the eyes of office and speak with the tongue of bureaucracy. But if the press of Britain is to enjoy a future worthy of its past its liberty must be preserved inviolate."

Conditions Are Similar in Canada.

The conditions noted in Lord Northcliffe's article prevail in Canada although in a less marked degree than in England. Here officials would also be wont to regulate a paper's service to the public and guide its policies, but the newspapers at the same time have more independence and in many cases have the whip hand over the official. Here, indeed, a bold newspaper is feared and its friendship is sought but friendship is a factor that should be disregarded in the main. The press must not lose sight of the fact that its particular friends do little more for its support than the ordinary man on the street with whom it never comes in direct personal contact. Circulation is the indirect secret of any paper's success and the value of the patronage of the humblest office boy is as important as that of the highest official in the land.

To Live They Must be Attractive.

"Great may be the developments but great must be the difficulties of the newspaper industry in the years to come. It may be that journalism has seen and survived its greatest period and at the beginning of this century newspapers reached the polar eminence from which a step in any direction must lead down-hill. Which way are we now to go? Paper, which the research and foresight of the last century made cheap and plentiful, has now soared up in price and the skilled labor required in every department of its production is now receiving its just reward. Every expense must rise except the cost of the paper to the reader. Can a newspaper remain in any sense free when it is no longer at liberty to reject the advertisements of the highest bidder? It can, but only by establishing itself in the unshakeable confidence of its readers and by maintaining and proclaiming a circulation that will make it attractive to the mass of its advertisers despite party or interest among them. While every channel of development must be left open the sluice gates must be put down against extravagance."

GOOD BASKETBALL
PLAYED LAST NIGHT

On Account of the Cold There Were, However, Not Many Spectators at Exhibition Building.

Although it was a cold evening and there was not a large attendance at the Exhibition Hall, the basketball games between the Married Men and Single Men and the Colts and Beavers, Intermediate leaguers, proved interesting contests last night. The Married Men were victorious by a 35 to 26 score and the Colts beat the Beavers, 34 to 19.

Senior Game

The Married Men certainly have reason to feel proud of themselves in again beating a strong Single Men's aggregation. The first half was quiet compared with the last game and finished with the Married Men leading 19-11. In the second half a charge of the singles brought the score level, 21 to 21. With this they seemed to have shot their bolt, however, and from then to the end the Married Men took the lead and held it safely.

The lineups and scoring follow:

Married Men—Clemson, 23; Martin, H. Menzies, 4; W. Blythe and C. Blythe, 8.

Single Men—Lane, 4; Cragg, 2; Scott, 6; Smith, 4; Anderson, 10.

Colts and Beavers

The Colts and Beavers always seem to put up a good game and last night's was no exception. The game was evenly contested despite the score. Willie Mitchell of the Colts seemed to have found his shooting eye and led the Beavers with his individual score.

The scoring: Colts—Lancaster, Martin, 2; Frizzell, 9; Mitchell, 19; Roberts, 4.

Beavers—Lambie, 5; Macdonald, 2; Smith, 4; Halverson, 8; Morrison, 1.

Lee Dell refereed both games.

D. M'D. HUNTER IS IN ELECTION FIELD

Old Timer Announced This Morning His Candidature for the Aldermanic Board.

D. McD. Hunter this morning announced his candidature for the aldermanic board in the 1921 city council.

Mr. Hunter is an old timer of Prince Rupert, having first arrived in the fall of 1909 to become principal of the public schools. He left the schools in 1918 and has since been in the insurance business.

Ten Years Ago
in Prince Rupert

January 5, 1911

Children were found yesterday innocently playing with dynamite at the corner of Eighth Avenue and McBride Streets, wholly oblivious of the terrible consequences that might supervene were it to be exploded in any way. This was very natural considering that the little ones thought they had hold of a stick of candy. The little girl was attempting to chew it, whilst her boy companion was helping her. City Engineer Davis is making careful investigation to find out if possible the person or persons guilty of such gross carelessness as to leave dynamite around where children could get hold of it.

A young Swede workman on the townsite had a dangerous flirtation with death yesterday afternoon when he was shot into the air from a wagon on Third Avenue, about twenty feet, coming down amidst mud and rocks with terrific force, his comrades rushing up hardly daring to hope that they would find him alive. However, wonderful to relate, he arose unassisted, shook himself together and with a ludicrous grunt of contempt at the eccentric wagon that had caused his downfall, stalked off to resume his hazardous occupation.

In future the Mayor will be authorized to engage extra help when required for pressure of work in the city offices.

Citizens will be interested to learn that George Frizzell, the pioneer butcher of Northern B. C. will shortly open a large new butchers' shop in the McIntyre block on Third Avenue.

BOILS SO BAD

HAD TO GIVE UP WORK

From the days of Job, up to the present time, boils have been one of the afflictions of the human race.

... the poaching and tanning you may do will not prevent them from breaking out again.

Boils are simply caused by the bad blood bursting out; and the bad blood must be made pure before the boils will disappear.

Burdock Blood Bitters, which has been in the market for over forty years, is well known as the greatest blood medicine procurable.

It purifies the blood by removing every particle of foul matter from the system, and when this is done the boils vanish, and you should never be troubled again.

Mr. James Casey, Newport Island, Que., writes: "I was troubled with boils on my back and neck, so bad that I was obliged to give up work. I tried several remedies, but got no relief. Finally I went to a doctor, and he treated me for several weeks, and all without benefit. At last a friend told me of Burdock Blood Bitters, so I decided to give it a trial. I got three bottles, but before I had taken two the boils were all gone. It is eight months now, and I have had no return of the old trouble, and have never felt so well."

B. B. B. is put up only by The T. McBurn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

FISHERMAN AND SCIENCE SHOULD COME TOGETHER

Frozen Fish Just as Palatable, but Cheaper than Fresh

Closer harmony between the scientist and the practical man in fisheries work was strongly advocated by Professor Raymond G. Osburn of Ohio State University at a recent annual meeting of the American Fisheries Society in Ottawa. To employ a poetic phrase they are "useless each without the other."

Professor Osburn accused scientists of remaining aloof from the practical problems to be solved and from the practical fish man who knows what the industry wants. On the other hand he also criticized the practical man for his lack of sympathy for the scientist.

"Science," he says, "is a radical by nature and practice inclines to stand pat. Such a team is a most difficult one to make to pull together. It would be well if practice would advance a little faster on the heels of science, that we might make practical use of advances in knowledge as soon as they become available."

More Advertising

Professor Osburn pointed to the progress in agriculture as an illustration of the co-operation he would like. As to publicity, occasional reports and bulletins on fishery matters are issued from Government and state sources, while in agricultural work there are floods of such bulletins touching every phase of practical work and setting forth every new idea and every result of modern research. Through the agricultural extension service they touch every part of the country.

In closing his remarks Professor Osburn made a very earnest appeal: Let us scientific investigators and practical fish men get better acquainted for the good of both of us, that we may make common issue against the difficulties which stand in the way of greater production and utilization.

Value Frozen Fish

The value of frozen fish as food is not generally appreciated by the people of Canada. Experiments have recently been conducted by Dr. Clark, Investigator in the United States Bureau of Chemistry, which prove that the food constituents undergo no change in freezing, and the food value is the same a year after it is frozen as when landed. Care should be taken, however, in thawing out. If the fish is thawed out in hot water it loses some of its food value and also its flavor. The fish should be allowed to thaw out gradually by placing it in a cool place.

The frozen fish industry is becoming very valuable to the country, as it provides a means of conserving fish which would otherwise go to waste, fish being caught greatly in excess of the demand at certain seasons of the year. It is the only method at present known of preserving fresh or mildly cured fish in transit to remote markets, and it seems that until some other method of shipping fish is discovered the Canadian people inland must depend on the supply of frozen fish. SHORT OF BREATH Could Hardly Walk Without Resting

When you go to a physician to be examined for any heart trouble one of the first question he asks is: "Are you short of breath?"

Now, when the heart becomes affected there ensues a feeling of a choking sensation, a shortness of breath, palpitation, irregular beating, smothering sensation, dizziness and a weak, sinking all-over feeling of oppression and anxiety.

On the first sign of the heart becoming weakened or the nerves unstrung, Mr. Hart's Heart and Nerve Pills are just the remedy you require. They regulate and stimulate the heart, and strengthen and restore the whole nervous system.

Mr. Stephen George, East Clifford, N.S., writes:— "I suffered for five years with heart trouble. I could hardly walk from the house to the barn without resting as I used to get so short of breath doctors could not help me. My wife told me to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve pills and I felt better after taking them; three boxes made me quite well. I am now helping my son to work the farm, and can truly say I feel like a different man."

must be brought to realize that fish preserved in this way is as valuable as food and just as palatable as fish used fresh. The one important distinction is that frozen fish can be supplied much more cheaply.

A Child's Idea

It is hard to tell sometimes whether the humor of a child is intentional or accidental. The following is an extract from an essay on "Why Canadians Should Eat Fish" from a little material-in-embryo in Nova Scotia:

"Another reason why we should eat more fish is that we should all follow the example of Jesus which is found in Matthew, 14th chapter, which tells how he fed the multitude of five thousand men, besides women and children, with five loaves and two fishes. It don't say what kind of fishes they were, but fish must certainly be very filling."

Mining Notes

Premier a Winter Mine

While the Dolly Varden mine at Alice Arm is now entirely shut down, the Premier at Stewart is going strong and several hundred men are employed on it.

Transportation conditions account largely for the closing up of one and the full operation of the other at this time of the year. The Dolly Varden production is taken out on a railroad which under present conditions can operate only in the summer on account of the inability to cope with the heavy snowfall of the winter in the Kitsault Valley. With the impossibility to remove the production of the mine it is questionable if there is much to be gained by development in the winter, so the Taylor Mining Co. has suspended operations. On the other hand, the taking out of the ore from the Premier is facilitated by the snows, for the ore can be sledded and towed out with tractors on the hard crust where in the summer the mud makes this impossible.

It is also suggested as a reason for the closing of the Dolly Varden that in the spring wages will not be so high and the company will be able to operate more in accordance with a fluctuating silver market.

Illiance River

Al. J. Hughes, on his return recently to Vancouver from Alice Arm where he spent the past summer operating the Bellevue Group on the Illiance River for the Alice Arm Consolidated Holdings, Limited, stated that the many large and well defined veins, with various outcrops of high grade and tremendous bodies of milling ore, would convince the most sceptical that the Upper Illiance River will before long become a permanent lode camp of considerable size. Most of the work this summer on the Bellevue Group has been near the upper end of the claims and samples of the property which have been tested give highly satisfactory results. Large bodies of high grade galena and gray copper ore occur in numerous places, running up to several hundred dollars per ton in silver and gold values. It is the intention of the company to hand sort and ship this high-grade ore as soon as possible, but the main value of the mine is said to lie in the tremendous body of excellent milling ore, which is well suited for concentration by flotation methods. Ample water power is available on the property for future power purposes. Camps have been established and developments are to be carried on during the winter.

Garde Busy

A. C. Garde, of Prince Rupert, has placed particulars of the iron and coal resources of the Copper River district before the British syndicate that is making investigations with a view to the establishment of an iron and steel industry on the coast.
