Premier Lloyd George Wants Conference with View to Bring About Settlement in Ireland

LONDON, June 27.—Premier Lloyd George has sent a letter to Eamon de Valera, the self-styled head of the "Irish Republic," and Sir James Craig, the premier of Ulster, declaring that the British Government is "deeply anxious that the appeal of King George for reconciliation in Ireland has not been in vain."

The premier also appealed for a conference between representatives of the governments of southern and northern Ireland so that no possible opportunity for a settlement of the difficulties in the troublesome Isle would be lost.

The recent visit of the King to Belfast, it is believed, has brought about a better feeling between the various factions in Ireland and it is on the strength of this possibility that the Imperial Government is making the best of the occasion with a view to restoring peace in the country which has seen so much internal strife in the past few years. It is reported in London that the King at no distant date may pay a similar visit to Dublin.

LONDON, June 27.—In the event of De Valera accepting the invitation of Premier Lloyd George to come to London for a peace conference, it is probable that the premiers of the Dominions, who are now in session here, will be asked by the British premier to participate in the negotiations. The views of Premier Meighen, of Canada, on the matter are unknown. He spent the week-end in the country. Up to the present his opinion, it is believed, has been that the Irish question was a matter for the government of Britain to deal with and not one in which the Dominions should interfere. In the present case, however, his view may be changed inasmuch as the conference of premiers would be requested to take part by Lloyd George, himself.

The belief is generally held in political and diplomatic circles that De Valera will accept Lloyd George's invitation to come to London for the conference. As far as Premier Craig, of Ulster, is concerned, reports have it that it was he who is designing the conference to bring about peace in Ireland. The invitation to De Valera caused a great sensation in Dublin.

JUDGE ROBERTSON BACK FROM ATLIN

Enthusiastic About Improvements in North Part of Province.

Judge H. E. A. Robertson, of Prince George, returned on Saturday on the Princess Alice from Atlin, where he has been holding court in the place of Judge Young of this city. He left for his home in the interior on this morning's train.

Judge Robertson reports an exceedingly pleasant trip to the northerly district of the province. The weather was excellent, also all the conditions of travel nowadays on this northerly route particularly are made agreeable as is proven by the large tourist business that is done by the C.P.R. steamship service.

The judge was especially enthusiastic about the really wonderful tourist hotel in Atlin, known as the Atlin Inn, which is one of the finest in the province, having accommodation for nearly a hundred guests. It is beautifully fitted up and run in first class style, with excellent service. Carcross also boasts a first class hotel. Altogether, Judge Robertson says, the trip into Atlin, Carcross and Whitehorse, is one of the most enjoyable to be made anywhere in the province.

Judge Robertson, is an authority on the North country having been one of the earliest of the argonauts who left for the famous gold fields of the Klondike away back in 1898. He can tell many a good story of his adventures on the trail when boats, and trains and hotels were not running quite as smoothly as they are today. The duties of the judge in Atlin were of a light character there being only one criminal case, and six applications for naturalization.

PROFESSOR PRYCE LEAVES THEATRE FOR OTHER WORK

H. Aubrey Pryce, who for the past year has been associated with the orchestra of the Empress and Westholme theatres, lately resigned to devote his entire time to teaching. He will also organize an orchestra to provide music for dances and private entertainments.

Mr. Pryce, who is a professor and teacher, has had a number of years' experience in teaching, many of his pupils today holding positions in the leading theatrical houses in Canada and the United States.

Mr. Pryce was musical director of the Walker Theatre, Winnipeg for over twelve years, as well as for two years at the Pantages Theatre, Regina.

It will be a privilege for those in the city wishing instruction in violin and piano playing to have an opportunity to learn under such a competent teacher as Professor Pryce. Especially will this be so in regard to the musical education of the children of Prince Rupert.

EVERY BOY HAS GOOD QUALITIES

"The Soul of Youth," the new special production via Reelart, which will be shown at the Westholme Theatre, tonight and tomorrow, is a delightful story of boyhood life, different from any picture which has been produced, and proving that real drama exists in the lives of the men of tomorrow as well as in the lives of today's grown-ups.

The picture is filled with comedy situations and has a strong dramatic theme concerning the boy who grows up a founding and finally takes to the city streets, preferring them to the cheerless institution. The picture shows his subsequent acts and character development and proves that under the right environment every boy will show a lot of good qualities. It is a production that will appeal to young and old alike.

Robert Warwick in "The Art of the Man" his latest Paramount Artcraft picture, will be the attraction at the Empress Theatre tonight and tomorrow.

Mr. Warwick has the role of Myles Calthorpe, a young Englishman, who comes to South Africa to seek his fortune. Suspecting that he is being made a tool by his employers in a diamond-smuggling game, he protests and is discharged. In Cape Town he meets Joan Farrant, with whom he falls in love and secures him a position with her brother. Farrant is also mixed up in the illicit diamond traffic. Calthorpe innocently becomes involved in the crooked business, is caught, and serves three years in prison. Upon his release, by hard work he becomes manager of a sugar plantation, only to be denounced as a criminal by Joan, who has been enamored against him by her brother. Subsequently, however, she learns the truth, and she and Calthorpe are united.

The defeat of Carpentier by two of the greatest middleweights that America has had, Billy Papke, of Chicago, and Frank Klaus, of Pittsburgh, is now cited by persons who believe the Frenchman stands small chance with Jack Dempsey at Jersey City on July 2. Carpentier was then only 18 years of age but was big and rapidly growing out of the middleweight class. He already stood five feet, eleven and one half inches, his present height, and it is declared that he had considerable trouble making the middleweight limit for both bouts. He was meeting two of America's best boxers, both in their prime. Klaus defeated Carpentier in 19 rounds and Papke stopped him in 17. A ringside witness declares that the result of the latter fight is small excuse for believing that Carpentier, then a boy, should now, a fully developed man, be a rival for Jack Dempsey.

Jack Dempsey and Jess Willard met for the world's heavyweight championship at Toledo, July 4, 1919. The day was blistering hot and the thermometer at the ringside registered as high as 130 degrees. There was a marked difference in the demeanor of the two boxers. Jess Willard, the champion, was almost arrogantly confident. Dempsey's manner was more serious. The casual observer would have said that he was doubtful of his ability to defeat his huge opponent. With the sound of the bell, any doubt as to Dempsey's confidence, however, vanished. He went right through and finally left Willard a gory bloody mass, unable to answer the bell for the fourth round. Dempsey was declared the winner by a knockout in three rounds.

Dempsey won the title like a virile, two fisted fighting man and it was believed that he would box often, without quibbling as to terms and guarantees. But he, like many other champions, realized that the time for reaping a financial harvest would not last forever and guided by Kearns, was out to "get his." A theatrical tour which the pair undertook did not result in a killing, however, for Dempsey, the fighter was a far different person from Dempsey, the actor. Trouble with draft officials occupied considerable time before a fight could be arranged. Finally the bout with Billy Miske was pulled off last Labor Day and the Dempsey-Kearns coffers were replenished to the amount of $55,000.

It has been announced that four players of the Con Jones League, which has been disbanded, will appear in Vancouver uniforms for the next game on Dominion Day.

BRENNAN MADE DEMPSEY WORK

Showed Champion All His Style and Was Hard to Knockout.

The only boxer who ever got a real good day's work out of Jack Dempsey was Bill Brennan. Usually Jack knocks an opponent out in the first two or three rounds and collects his day's wages. But somehow or other Bill is one of those fellows who can't get to sleep right away. Once it took six rounds for Dempsey to quiet his nerves and on another occasion Bill remained awake twice that long.

This second occasion was December 1st at Madison Square Garden. Brennan was sure feeling fine that night. He acted as though he had just taken a shower under the Fountain of Youth and instead of sticking around wondering which way to dodge next, he stepped up and showed the champion all his stuff.

Some of it didn't seem to sit very well with the king of fighters. Early in the bout Brennan handed him a wallop that for a moment seemed to daze the head that wore the crown. A little later on his glove slashed Dempsey's mouth and after a while other corpuses began to take the air in the vicinity of the champion's ear.

Punches Not Evident.

The experts said Brennan carried the fight to Dempsey for ten rounds. Some skeptics believed the champion tarried that long to give the movie fans a treat. Other people whispered that the real low down on the thing was that Dempsey had not trained hard for the scrap and was not in good condition. The fact remained that none of his cave-man punches were in evidence during the early part of the fight.

He assembled one of these wallows in his left arm during the 12th round and let it loose upon Brennan, squarely amid-ship. The big challenger's body assumed the posture of a half-opened pocket-knife, his head dropping almost to his knees. Fighting hard against the approaching end, he spread out his legs and remained up. While swaying in this position Brennan received a sound smash on the jaw and fell to the floor.

LAUNCH EPAULINE SAILED FOR SOUTH

Boat Belonging to Timber Man Completed Extensive Repairs in Local Dry Dock.

The fine pleasure launch Epauline, belonging to Frank L. Buckley, the Massett Inlet lumber man, sailed for Vancouver on Saturday night piloted by Captain E. McCoskie. The vessel has just undergone extensive repairs in the local dry dock following her accident in Milbank Sound several weeks ago. The boat will travel by day only, lying up at nights.

Miss Sewell and Miss Rivett, of the local teaching staff, went south on the Epauline, taking the opportunity of making such a pleasant passage down the coast. They will spend the summer holidays in the south.

STEWART

Roy Clothier, is working a small gang of men on the Red Cliff mine on which activities have again commenced after a shutdown of several years.

Miss Edith Crawford, who is attending Columbia College at New Westminster, arrived here last week to spend the summer holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Crawford.

Work on the Premier mine and tram line is again going on in full swing. About 200 men are employed by the company between the mine and the tram construction.

The bars here have stopped selling beer in compliance with the rulings of the Moderation Act. The government agent has, however, not yet received any liquor permits to sell to local citizens.

Advertising is often expensive, but it is nothing like as expensive as an empty store and idle clerks.

TO OPEN SUMMER CAMP AT LAKESE

Mrs. James Galt, wife of James Galt of the Dominion Hacheries at Lakese Lake, accompanied by the latter's brother, N. Galt, are visitors to the city and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril B. Orme. They are in Prince Rupert on business with a view to making arrangements for the opening of a summer camp on the lake, for visitors. It is expected that a large number of people from Prince Rupert will visit this summer resort this season, and at present the accommodation is of the most meagre sort. The new hotel will not be ready for visitors this year.

That is the question.

COLLECTION of back dues from the members of the G.W.V.A. is reported to have been very good during the last few days.

DO you remember in the old recruiting days they said the slackers would be sorry in years to come? They are now, aren't they?

THE Greeks and Turks are playing martial music in A. Minor.

SPORTING EDITORS are beginning to worry how they're going to fill space after July 2.

DEMPSEY and Carpenter wouldn't make much money if they had to pay space rates for the advertising they have been getting in the past few weeks.

ONE way Carpenter would be sure of beating Dempsey would be by bringing a French airplane over the arena at Jersey City and dropping bombs on his head.

AFTER an extended visit with friends at Leavenworth, Jack Johnson will resume his old-time business next month.

IN a certain church cough drops are now being furnished free of charge to the worshippers. The only means of diversion left is by dropping the hymn book on the floor.
