Saves Two Million This Province

STRIKE CONFERENCE FAILS BUT FURTHER EFFORTS BEING MADE

Freight Rates Case Won from Railway Commission will be Great Advantage to this Port

VANCOUVER, Oct. 21.—Word has been received here that the Railway Commissioners at Ottawa has handed down a decision placing British Columbia freight rates on a similar basis prevailing between Fort William and Winnipeg. This means a saving of from $50 to $60 per car from Pacific Coast to Calgary and will save shippers and consignees $2,000,000.

Duby, manager of the Prince Rupert Lumber Company, is of the reported decision that he presumed it was the rate between the prairies would be on the same basis as between Winnipeg and the prairie district. If this is the case, the rate on lumber between here and Calgary, he thought would be much less than the rate between Winnipeg and the prairie district. It would mean a saving of from here much more than the prairie business. The margin would have to be between the producer and the ultimate consumer.

ONTARIO WANTS BRITISH COME

Intensified Campaign for Old Country Farmers is Now Being Pushed.

TORONTO, Oct. 21.—An intensified campaign by the Ontario Government to secure farmers for the province from the British Isles is to be pushed this winter in England and Scotland. SPOKANE IN TROUBLE AT CARTER BAY Safely Anchored Now After Having Drifted Perilously Close Milbank Sound Rocks.

The well known American coaster Spokane, with passengers and freight bound from Seattle to Alaska ports, is anchored helplessly in Carter Bay, 30 miles south of Swanson Bay, according to word which reached the city this morning by the tug Celtic, which arrived here after having taken the big passenger boat to safety when she had been drifting at sea.

The Celtic was coming north yesterday morning when she was hailed by the Spokane which was drifting at the entrance of Finlayson Channel north of Milbank Sound. It was found that the Spokane was crippled on account of propeller trouble and was perilously close to the rocks. The Celtic took her in tow to Carter Bay where she was safely anchored. Wireless messages have been sent to Seattle from the Spokane, it is understood for a tug to take her back to the Puget Sound port.

Still in Bay. The captain of the Celtic reported this morning that he had seen a boat outside that he thought was the Spokane continuing north. This is not considered likely however for the Princess Alice, which was also in port this morning, reports that the vessel was still in Carter Bay when she passed by.

An effort is being made to bring the Spokane to the Wallace Shipyards here for repairs. The Spokane belongs to the Admiral Line and is well known here having called here regularly some years ago when she was flying the Pacific Coast Steamship Co. flag.

TERRACE BRIDGE BADLY NEEDED

E. T. Kenney, in City Today, Thinks Should Be Built at Once.

E. T. Kenney of Terrace, who is in the city today, says the people of that place are vitally interested in the Skeena bridge proposal. The ferries have washed out several times and only by almost a miracle did the men on it when it washed away this year escape. There is a good class of settlers coming in on the other side of the river and these should be encouraged.

The Terrace people are willing to allow the matter of location to be settled by the engineers, but Mr. Kenney thinks the canyon just east of the town would be the cheapest construction and it would also serve Copper City and eliminate the ferry at that point as well as at Terrace.

Five other craft of the same type are competing for a $75,000 prize. They go ashore daily for meals and sleep, carry no firearms or fishing lines and are allowed only limited baggage.

Strike Conference In Chicago Fails Settle Railroad Differences

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Efforts by the Railway Labor Board to avert the threatened railway strike through a conference with the union chiefs who had ordered the walkout have failed. The meeting here yesterday adjourned with an announcement by the board that no definite results had been obtained. The adjournment is final.

It had been generally hoped that the conference would have brought about a settlement of the intended strike, but now that it has failed the situation looks more serious than ever and there seems little likelihood of preventing it. Railway presidents and officials are now making preparations to meet the strike, and volunteer labor to fill the places of the strikers is being enlisted.

SINN FEIN MAY RETURN

Negotiations Came Near Being Broken Off Today.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—Negotiations between British officials and the Sinn Fein barely escaped being definitely broken off and for a time it seemed possible the Sinn Fein members would return to Dublin tonight, it was learned after today's adjournment.

There is apprehension among the Irish that the session scheduled for Monday next may be the last.

The paper was finally suppressed and Pierce was sent to prison on a charge of sedition.

Mr. Pierce is a socialist with views which are not very clearly defined. He is against all established institutions and especially against the present form of parliamentary democratic government with capitalism as his especial bete noir.

The board has assumed jurisdiction in the dispute on the statutory grounds that it is likely to substantially interrupt commerce.

Victory for John Oliver on Railway Rates.

John Oliver has gained a notable victory in the reduction of freight charges by having the rates from the prairies to British Columbia placed on the same basis, as those going eastward to Port William. He has fought the case persistently and systematically, and to him belongs the fruits of victory, the recognition of having performed a service for the people of the province.

Mr. Oliver, in his position as Premier and Minister of Railways in the province, has had the matter before him for some time. Early in the year he appointed G. G. McGeer, a clever Vancouver lawyer and former member of the Legislature, to prepare the case for presentation to the railway commissioners, and he also delved into the matter himself. He has on several occasions given expression to the opinion that British Columbia was handicapped by the freight rates and that unjustly, and in this he was backed up by the whole business community on the coast. Both Mr. Oliver and Mr. McGeer placed the case before the commissioners, and yesterday a ruling was made that we should have equal treatment with the eastbound lines.

Possibilities of Future Business.

Just what the effect of the change of rates will be is not yet clear except that it will be a considerable reduction over present rates and will tend to stimulate business. To what extent it will affect the lumber business is not yet known, but it will probably bring the rate down to some extent. General merchandise will affect the wholesalers and will tend to bring down the cost of living. It will also give local wholesalers an opportunity to compete with the prairies and with the East. The change will put this port on a better basis and should result in increased business, more employment, better prices in the Interior and a general all round advantage.

As was explained this morning by one man who was shown the despatch, the present rates were set when all the business was done over the C. P. R., which has a heavy grade and an expensive haul. John Oliver and the members of the coast boards of trade objected to British Columbia being penalized because there was one railway with an expensive grade when the Canadian National Railway had as good a grade west as east.

Possibility of Grain Shipments.

The next question to be dealt with is that of making grain shipments from this port. Now that we have a rate as good as the eastbound rate, and that the demand for grain is growing in the Orient, there should be opportunities for making grain shipments from the Pacific Coast, and why not from Prince Rupert?

When Hon. T. D. Pattullo was here a few days ago he was very emphatic that the next thing for this port to go out after was transpacific shipping. While the loading of a few ships might not mean so very much to this port, it would put us on the map as nothing else possibly could.

The ruling of the Railway Board puts us that much nearer the realization of our ambitions in this respect. Shipping to the Orient will be one of the great features of the future and the sooner we can get started the better it will be for this port.

School Teachers Are the People.

The most valuable thing we have in this city is the commodity we entrust to the safe-keeping of our school teachers. We pay bank managers high salaries to look after our money and transportation officials high salaries to carry our food and other commodities. How does this compare with the pay of the men and women who care for our children?

Last night the teachers of the city were entertained at a banquet by the Rotary Club. This is the first recognition they have had in a semi-public way by any local body. They are mostly strangers who have given up their comfortable homes in the south to come here and transform the youth of this place into useful citizens. The work they do is the most important of any in the community, with the exception of the work of the mothers. On the basis of importance the teachers should be given the highest standing of any people in the community. Either they are the best people in the community or we are sadly lacking in appreciation of our duties to our children whom they educate.

PATTULLO WAS HONORED GUEST

At Opening of New Canadian Club in London, England.

"The Canadian Gazette," a London publication, gives an account of the first dinner given at the new Canadian Club in London at which Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands for his province and member of the legislative assembly for Prince Rupert, was the guest of honor. F. C. Wade, K.C., agent general for B. C., was the host and he said in his speech that the affair served to celebrate three events of interest to the Canadian community in London—the send-off to Mr. Pattullo after his visit to Europe, a welcome to W. C. Noxon, the agent general for Ontario, and the inauguration of the Canadian Club.

Mr. Wade presided and the guests were: Sir George McLaren Brown, European manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway; Hon. T. D. Pattullo, W. C. Noxon; W. Phillips, European manager of the Canadian National Railways; Sir Stuart Campbell; Major Hanington, president of the Canadian Club; G. C. Cassels, assistant general manager of the Bank of Montreal; Charles Cambie, London manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce; Donald Armour; G. M. Moon, vice president of the Canadian Club; Captain Ward, honorary secretary; W. H. Rice, honorary treasurer; Lt. Col. Obed Smith, superintendent of Canadian immigration; W. Turnbull, timber commissioner of B. C., and Lt. Col. F. H. Cunningham, representing the salmon canning industry of the province.

Health Proposed.

Mr. Wade, in proposing the health of Mr. Pattullo, said that Mr. Pattullo had felt the need to study for himself European questions in so far as they affected British Columbia. The Pacific was waking up. It was not generally known that two-thirds of the human race lived in countries bordering the Pacific, and that eight-tenths of the population of the British Empire were to be found on the Pacific coasts. Mr. Pattullo had come abroad to study questions such as emigration, trade, &c., and had visited Sweden, Norway, Germany and France. Emigration was in future the serious Imperial factor. We had won the war, and now we had to win the peace. The great need today was the redistribution of population. There could be no greater folly than to allow population to become congested in one part instead of distributing it evenly. Mr. Pattullo was greatly impressed with the necessity of redistributing the population, and he himself felt sure great results would follow from the Minister's study of conditions. The gathering that evening had a triple significance. They were there to meet Mr. Pattullo and to wish him God-speed in his journey home, and also to welcome Mr. Noxon, the new Agent-General for Ontario, who was an old friend. The occasion was besides the first night of the Canadian Club of Great Britain. Canadians in London had been going ahead lately. They had launched a Chamber of Commerce, which was an assured success, and also the Canadian Club, upon the foundation of which Maj. Hanington deserved hearty congratulations.

Minister Replies.

Mr. Pattullo, in reply, said that it was only right and fitting that there should be a Canadian Club in London, and that evening's gathering augured its success. Canada had made great progress, and it was good to be a Canadian. He remembered the time when a Canadian was considered to be a mossback or haysack. Some years ago he remembered seeing a picture of Indians hunting for bears in Toronto. That was the kind of idea people had then of Canada.

It was rather different today. When they thought of Canada today, and tried to visualize what the Dominion would be in 50 or 100 years, they might be proud to be Canadians. The big question of the hour was immigration. Millions were coming into Canada who did not understand the ideals to which the early settlers had looked. Large sections of people in Canada hardly understood English. Even when immigrants came from the United States and spoke our language, they could not be expected to be British in feelings.

A good many people professed to see little difference between Americans and Canadians. There was as much difference between them as between Canadians and English. The United States had had time to develop a distinct type. In Canada the hope lay in making the children of foreign immigrants good Canadians. In his judgment Canada was going to develop more than any other country. In Canada they welcomed as settlers all clean whites. Those from Great Britain should leave the rest. People in this country should seriously consider what part they intended to play in the development of Canada. Mr. Pattullo went on to say that Mr. Wade had for three years been Agent-General and had done credit to himself and the Province. Mr. Noxon, whose career he had followed with interest would, he felt sure, be a success as Agent-General for Ontario.

Miss May Pringle, who has been on a three week's holiday to the south, returned home on the Princess Alice this morning.

The National Crisis

THE Election to be held on December 6th will be the most momentous in Canadian history; for as men and women vote will depend the economic stability, the political stability and, indeed, the national stability of this country.

Today we find group striving against group, class against class, the industrial and financial structure of the country assailed by false and unsound doctrines and theories, while our great neighbour to the south has adopted a trade exclusion policy directed against Canada's vast agricultural interests.

The currencies of nearly every country in the world are depreciated. The Canadian dollar in the United States is subject to a heavy discount causing a loss of over one hundred million dollars in exchange annually.

Europe is overwhelmed with war debts—unemployment is acute—and the restoration to pre-war conditions is slow.

While Canada is in a much more favorable condition than many countries, yet there is evidence of stagnation, instability, unemployment and lack of confidence.

Taxes are heavy because of the country's efforts in the Great War, but have become burdensome on account of the misconceived policies and blunders of Governments that directed Canada's affairs prior to 1911.

These conditions are largely the direct aftermath of the war, but they must be dealt with fearlessly and constructively. This is no time to consider experimental changes, or the theories of visionaries.

This is no time for Crerar and his Free Trade Policy.

This is no time for King and his wobbling "chartered" policies, varying with each provincial boundary.

It is the time to cling to orderly, stable Government in the interest of all the people; to be guided by the experience of the past proceeding upon lines that have been proven sound.

It is the time to place the destinies of Canada again in the hands of a Government led by a sane, courageous Canadian who has safely brought the country through the trying years of reconstruction, and upon whom we can rely to retain and initiate policies in the interest, not of a group or class but of all the people.

It is the time to support Arthur Meighen and his Candidates.

Meighen will lead us through

MYSTERY LOVE TALE HOLDS INTEREST IN "MY LADY'S GARTER"

Maurice Tourneur's Picturization of Jacques Futrelle's Story is Packed With Thrills.

A photoplay that keeps the identity of its central figure a secret until the final fade-out and which holds the interest of the audience breathless as a consequence has been produced by Maurice Tourneur in "My Lady's Garter." The picture is a seven version of Jacques Futrelle's well-known mystery-romance of the same name.

The plot concerns the daring activities of "The Hawk," a famous international thief. His most spectacular exploit is the theft of the celebrated jeweled garter that figured in the historical episode that led to the founding of the chivalric Order of the Garter. Detectives set upon his trail, and subsequent events bring upon the scene an American railroad magnate, his pretty daughter, and a certain mysterious Bruce Calhoun, who for a time is suspected of being the criminal. In a series of thrilling episodes matters are cleared up happily.

The cast of "My Lady's Garter" includes such screen notables as Wyndham Standing, Sylvia Breamer and Holmes E. Herbert.

R. Moncrieff, the contractor who has been building the Indian Industrial School at Fraser Lake, was a passenger for Vancouver on the Prince Rupert last night.

Could Not Eat

Constipation is caused by a torpid condition of the liver. Dosing with salts, castor oil, etc., to move the bowels, cannot afford more than temporary relief.

If you are to rid yourself of this ailment and the scores of annoying symptoms and diseases which come in its wake, it is necessary to get the liver right by such treatment as is suggested in this letter:

Mrs. Alvin Richards, R. R. No. 1, Seeley's Bay, Ont., writes: "For two years I was afflicted with indigestion, and in the morning when I got up my breath was bad. I had a poor appetite, and just felt like eating certain foods. I used many different medicines as a laxative without benefit, and the doctor's medicine did not help me at all. Finally I tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and found them better than anything I had ever tried. I can highly recommend them to anyone troubled with constipation or kidney troubles."

HOSPITAL WILL HAVE AMBULANCE

Board Accepts Offer of City Council to Provide One— Asking for Garage.

The hospital board last night decided to accept the offer of the city to provide an ambulance for the institution. The city is also to be asked to erect a garage which it is estimated will cost about $125.

The matter of operating the ambulance was discussed and, although no definite arrangement was decided upon, D. G. Stewart, president of the board, expressed the opinion that the board could make satisfactory arrangements to this end.

King; Percy Tinker, the billiard champion of the club in the series last spring, was eliminated in the first round of this tournament by Douglas Stork.

In the snooker tournament the following players have survived to go into the second round: G. P. Tinker vs. W. H. Vickers; S. Harper vs. E. A. Donohoe; W. F. Roberge vs. G. P. Armstrong; George Hill vs. P. Aivazoff; H. M. D. Lambe vs. J. Howe; J. A. Macdonald vs. T. B. Hooper; J. Bilditch vs. Dr. Cade or M. Condor; Bert Wearmouth, C. H. Madison, W. O. Fulton, D. H. McKay, A. A. Easton, R. Stuart and A. Greenwood are now out of both tournaments.

Tonight the Prince Rupert Basketball Association will have a meeting to draw up time tables and generally perfect plans for an early start of the season's games in the various leagues. With two clear months between now and Christmas it will be possible to have the first halves of the time-tables over by Christmas if the officials decide to do so. One delegate from each society entering tennis is requested to be on hand to look after the interest of the team he or she represents. Some of the leagues are not going to have many teams but, on the whole, it looks as if an interesting season is in store for both players and fans.

Final figures for the recent election are announced by F. G. Dawson, returning officer, and show that H. S. Clements, conservative candidate, has a majority of 188 over Duncan Ross, Liberal. Alborn, Comox and Richmond districts gave majorities of 99, 229 and 22 respectively for Clements, while Athy and Skeena gave majorities for Ross of 23 and 139.

H. S. Clements, member-elect for Comox-Athy in the federal house, was given an enthusiastic reception at a Conservative smoker in his honor in the McIntyre Hall last night. Ald. W. B. Clayton was chairman and the speakers of the evening were: Mr. Clements, Mayor Manson, Mr. Sproule, Dr. Traynor, Terrace and J. G. Weston.

The C.P.R. coaster Princess Royal called at this port yesterday afternoon crowded with outgoing Yukoners who were given a reception while in the city by their old friends here.

NEW ORGANIZATION.

Editor Daily News:

You are often advising people to organize or to support some society or organization for the benefit of the people of this little old town of Prince Rupert. Perhaps then you will give me a little space to tell about a society I am forming for the benefit of myself and the society I belong to. We have got together and have chose a captain and will pretty soon be ready for business.

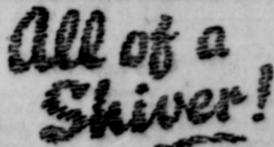

The society I am telling about is one to advance, put forward and promulgate, sir, anything in the way of graft, boodle, rake-off or political advantage which will come to me or my friends. I want to see plenty of good political dough going around and especially around where I live or where the members of my society are.

Furthermore and notwithstanding, Mr. Editor, I am in favor of bootlegging, moon-shining, dope selling, red-lighters, pimperinos, political heebers, open towns, cabarets, bars, moderation leagues, grafters, or high tariffs and any danged-busted thing that gives us liberty to make plenty of money while the making is good and get away with it and if you know any better way to get on just-you let me know for I am with you.

You may think I am rather an odd sort of a customer to ask you to join my society but think it will be a great success and that is the great thing about any society. We shall make the dough and get the bacon and then we shall get respectable later on and in the meantime, sir we shall have a good time.

Thanking you in advance for advocating my society which I think you will for, yours truly, (Prince Rupert's Star Organizer, My Card Enclosed.)

William Watts, contractor, is to be paid $1865 on his account for shingling and painting the hospital. A small amount of $25 for shingling the Fifth Avenue entrance is left in abeyance, the contractor claiming that this was not included in the specifications.

Otherwise you'll have a real hoarse, raw throat, the dry tickling cough, the sneezing fits and watery eyes. To root cold germs out, deliver a quick counter-attack. Dissolve one or two Pepp in the mouth. These give off powerful infection killing fumes which are breathed directly into the throat and bronchial tubes, where the trouble lies. This air-like Pepp soothes and heals the delicate membrane. It speedily clears the breathing passages, overcomes soreness and irritation and prevents all danger of the trouble finding its way down into the chest and lungs. Where the cold has already got a hold, Pepp will be found equally effective. Also for coughs, catarrh, grippe, bronchitis and all chest weakness. Teachers Were Guests Of Prince Rupert Rotary Club At Banquet Here Last Night

Last night the Rotary Club entertained at dinner in the club room of the St. Regis Cafe the teachers of the high school and the public schools of the city, the members of the School Board, secretary of the board and the supervising principal. The idea was conceived by the boys' work committee of the club with the idea of getting to know better those who were responsible for the education of the young people of the city, of learning their aims and aspirations and sharing with them some of their problems, and letting them know that there was a body of men outside of the School Board that was deeply interested in the matter of education.

A number of addresses were given, outstanding among them being those by Principal J. C. Brady of the High School, Supervising Principal H. Campbell of the Public Schools, Miss Macdonald of the High School, Rev. Dr. Grant, Dr. Kerwin, W. E. Williams, T. H. Johnson and George Munro. Songs were sung by the whole assembly and there was a general air of camaraderie and good fellowship that made the event most enjoyable. A few toasts were drunk and at the close, on motion of Mr. Sims, seconded by Mr. McLennan the club was thanked for its hospitality, the visitors joining in singing "They Are Jolly Good Fellows" and giving three cheers for their hosts.

Rev. H. R. Grant, D. D. in his address told something of the Rotary Club and the Rotary spirit. The Nineteenth century was noted for material advancement. He prophesied that the twentieth century would be the century of spiritual interpretation. Rotary was not merely an institution but a spirit. The ideal Rotarian was one who spread the vegetation of a beautiful life.

W. E. Williams.
W. E. Williams explained that this event was gotten up by the committee of which he was the convener and associated with him were Rotarians T. H. Johnson, D. C. McEae, George Munro, and G. H. Orme. The idea of a great immigration and the only way to make good Canadians of the people who came was to be very enthusiastic over our country. He urged that boys should be encouraged to go to the High School and to the University.

Dr. Kerwin.
Speaking on behalf of himself and of L. W. Patmore who was unable to be present, Dr. W. T. Kerwin, chairman of the school board, said Mr. Patmore intended to urge the need of more playgrounds for the children. He thought the city was pledged to this work and the new school grounds should be developed out of city funds.

The doctor urged a greater interest in school matters. Sometimes there was no election contest for positions on the board. He thought they were privileged in serving without pay as people did not serve on the school-board unless they were really interested. Their work was often of a purely routine nature and then again it was often vital and interesting. The present board had tried to measure up to the requirements but he hoped there would be a hotly contested election this year to show that the citizens were interested

Co-operation.
Dr. Kerwin said this was a day of co-operation between parents and teachers; between the people and their schools. In this city they had a new principal and he assured Mr. Campbell that the board was behind him in his effort toward standardizing the work in the Prince Rupert schools and making that standard as high as possible. He urged the Rotary Club to endeavor to stimulate interest in education. He believed in the education of both body and mind and to this end healthy sports had an important place. His pet scheme was a swimming tank in the new school and covered playgrounds for the pupils.

Hero Worship.
"The boy is a wonderful hero worshipper," said Mr. Williams. If he has no other hero to worship he will worship Jesse James and men of his type. He thought there were plenty of heroes in Canadian history that could be introduced to the boy's notice. If a boy was shown the beautiful thing to do he would make good. He should be shown that the country needs great men. In every boy was the element of chivalry which would overbalance the wilful streak if encouraged. He had to be taught to avoid extremes in life. Fair play would always appeal to any boy. This country was expecting Supervising Principal.

Harold Campbell, supervising principal of the public schools, spoke earnestly and convincingly on the value of education to the community. He said the question of education was an absorbing topic all over the world and coupled with it was the question of taxation. He quoted figures to show how well invested was money spent in education. In Prince Rupert the cost of education to the people was $57,000 a year, or for the 800 children approximately 33 cents each per day.

TEACHERS WERE GUESTS OF PRINCE RUPERT ROTARY CLUB AT BANQUET HERE LAST NIGHT.

The greatest handicap teachers met with in their work was indifference of the great majority of parents as to how their children were being educated. If the Rotary Club could encourage parents to be sympathetic towards the schools and their work they would be helping by removing a handicap. To encourage boys and girls to go through high school, and to the university was also a good work. He thought if parents who had complaints or grievances would only bring them to him the difficulties could be cleared away. Often grievances were simply the result of misunderstanding. Business men liked to keep right with their customers and so the teachers wished to keep right with the parents. If the teachers and the community at large could unite their efforts they would get good results. Teachers sometimes forgot the importance and beauty of their work. It was impossible to get the best results without the co-operation of the parents and the various organizations in the city.

George Munro said the idea that we were our brother's keeper was spreading. In school the delinquent of today was often the criminal of tomorrow. The boy who was not looked after was a danger to the community.

H. F. Pullen spoke appreciatively of the teaching body of this city, most of the members of which he had met socially.

Miss Macdonald put in a plea for the girls and urged facilities for play. She also advocated educational films at the picture houses.

T. H. Johnson urged that the young people be taught to think right for as a man thinks so he is.

J. C. Brady, dealing with the value of secondary education and the reason why boys leave school, said usually the children were anxious for an education. He traced the growth of the high school of the province until today there were about 7,000 pupils attending. British Columbia still carried the banner of education, being the forefront even of Nova Scotia, the province which came second ahead of Ontario.

The curriculum of the high school was ahead of anything the past generation knew. There were various kinds of students and the problems of the teacher called for the greatest wisdom. The great leakages from the schools were caused by those who were unable to make the grade and who became discouraged, by the mentally weak, by the physically weak, by the adverse home conditions where pupils had no chance to study evenings, by the desire for active work, and by the action of businessmen in hiring young boys at small pay rather than being willing to pay higher pay for a more mature boy.

In moving a vote of thanks Mr. Sims spoke of the enjoyable time they had spent, of the eloquent and witty speeches and of the spirit of recognition and also for the lessons they had received in the spirit of service. The teachers were all Rotarians at heart. It did them good to feel that they had a body of men like that behind them. J. C. McLennan seconded the motion and J. W. Nunn of Vancouver Rotary Club also said a few words.

W. Vaughan Davies played the accompaniments for the singing and was thanked for his services by Mr. Williams. The gathering then adjourned.
