Farmers will be Benevolently Neutral UNIVERSAL IRISH OPINION SWINGING TOWARDS AN AGREEMENT

Alliance Of Liberals And Progressives May Be Somewhat Modified

OTTAWA, Dec. 27.—After the Christmas week-end political negotiations and conferences the outcome now seems certain that Hon. Arthur Meighen will be the leader of a Conservative opposition in the next House of Commons.

Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the Progressives, who left here Monday morning for Montreal, is regarded as definitely out of the cabinet slate. The idea of a formal alliance between the Liberals and the Progressives is generally dismissed as being improbable. While there is small likelihood of an alliance, there is a strong suggestion that as a result of the week-end negotiations something in the nature of an entente will be reached between Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and Mr. Crerar.

"Benevolent Neutrality."
 The Progressives next session will occupy the position of "benevolent neutrality" as the result of negotiations, it is rumored here.

Announcement as to the cabinet slate will not likely be made until Wednesday.

It is understood that negotiations are under way with a view to finding a safe seat for Premier Meighen in Ontario.

FRENCH CLAIMS ARE CONDEMNED

British Press Says Allude
 Strange One For Disarmament Conference.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—The French claims for a large fleet of submarines, made before the Washington Conference, has again been attacked by London newspapers. The Chronicle says that the doubling of any class of naval tonnage seems, on the face of it, a strange proposition at a conference assembled to reduce armaments, and that it cannot pretend to fathom the French motive for such an aggressive attitude.

EARL HAIG GIVES FLAG TO ABBEY

Scolded with Mire of Battlefields and Blood of Warriors.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—A Union Jack, the most historic and sacred scry of hunting in the world, was presented to Westminster Abbey by Earl Haig, a few minutes before the great silence on the commemoration of Armistice Day last month. This flag symbolizes the sacrifice of a million men. It is scolded with the mire of the battlefield, and stained with the blood of our heroes who passed over. It covered the Unknown Warrior when he was brought to his grave in the old Abbey, and has lain on his tomb since. It was, however, technically the property of the Army until Earl Haig made the formal gift to the Dean of Westminster.

The flag belonged at first to the Rev. David Railton, M.C., vicar of Margate, who served as an army chaplain during the war, and was used as a pall at countless numbers of burials in the field. It was because of its very special service that the flag was chosen to shroud the Unknown at the Abbey ceremony last year.

The dean asked that the Abbey might be permitted to hold this flag in perpetuity.

NEW PREMIER OF CHINA TAKES HOLD

PEKIN, Dec. 27.—Liang Shi-Yi has been named as prime minister of the Chinese cabinet to succeed Chin Yun-Pong, who with all his ministers has resigned. It is charged Chin-Yun-Pong was guilty of speculations and sale of offices.

GOOD PROGRESS DOCK CONTRACT

Weather Permittance Elg Job
 Should Be Finished by Month of March.

Rapid progress is being made on the construction of the superstructure on the new ocean dock here and the trusses are now a little better than half way up. The length of time that the Simmons Construction Co., will require to finish the job will depend largely upon the weather but a reasonable date to put on the dock being completed is by March. The putting on of the roofing will particularly depend on the weather for the specification material cannot be laid unless it is fine.

The work on the station contract is being held up on account of the cold. The concrete work is the next step in this job and it cannot be done when the temperature is so low as it is now.

People Have Had Enough Elections.

By the time next month's civic elections are over the people will be heartily tired of elections. In the past twelve months or so they have been having their fill: the moderation plebiscite in October, 1920; the provincial election, December, 1920; the 1921 municipal election, the Dominion election and, finally, the approaching civic election. After January there appear to be no more elections in sight for a year at least in spite of the frantic statements of some of the provincial opposition that there will be a crisis in Victoria ere long. This is being renewed at the present time now that two seats in the Legislature, Nelson and Vancouver, must be filled and a new attorney-general must be selected, with the consequent by-election. It is not likely that these by-elections will weaken the government, however. Dr. Rose was a Conservative and Mr. Macdonald was a Liberal, and it is improbable that two Conservatives will be elected in these seats. The selection of attorney-general when it is made will in all probability be ratified by the voters, although the opposition will likely make a hard fight to defeat him.

Municipal Election the Next One.

On January 12 the municipal voters will be called to the polls for the annual duty of selecting mayor, aldermen, school trustees and police commissioner. Mayor Rochester and most of the present council are understood to again be in the field for the respective posts. Colonel McMorde has come out in opposition to Mayor Rochester for the chief magistracy and there will probably be opposition to the sitting aldermen also. The electors in casting their votes will go on record as to whether the work done by the present council has met with their approval and warrants continuation or whether a change is deemed necessary in the conduct of civic affairs. Both Mayor Rochester and Colonel McMorde have shown themselves to be high capable men with good administrative abilities. It will be for the voters to decide which represents the best policy and to vote according to their convictions. There should be no personalities and no politics brought to bear in the contest.

Christmas Spirit Was Better Shown.

Many public, semi-public and private organizations and lodges contributed to making the Christmas season which has just passed a merrier and happier one for those in the city whose circumstances made it more or less impossible to celebrate the occasion in the usual manner. Possibly times are harder this winter than they have been for some years past, but the true Christmas spirit seems to have been more in evidence than has been the case for a long time in the past. Possibly this was because it was needed more than before, but it may also have been because the people generally are drifting to a certain degree back from selfishness in the direction of a better humanity. In any case, there is no doubt that the minds of the people generally are more generous and those in a position to do so are thinking more of the poor and the weak than they have done for some time past.

Pregnant Week in Irish History.

Last week was a pregnant one in Irish history, with the scale balanced between peace and war—between an honorable agreement with Britain and the re-entry into civil war and anarchy. In the long history of Irish difficulties since the first outbreak against British rule in 1641 the situation is now closer a settlement than it was ever before. The question has had at various times a great effect on British politics, but now the government has decided on a plan for settlement and it is up to the Irish people to decide whether they will take it or not. It is possibly the most equitable plan that could be framed and under it Ireland should, if she accepts, start an era of progress and peace.

HARRY WEBBER PASSED AWAY

Prominent Local Sport Promoter Died in Vancouver Christmas Morning.

A telegram was received on Christmas Day by Fred Gilhuly telling of the death of Harry (Stats) Webber, in St. Paul's hospital, Vancouver at 4 o'clock Sunday morning.

The late Mr. Webber had recently been stricken ill and the doctor had ordered him a change of climate. He and his family had only been in Vancouver for a few weeks. The deceased was an old timer of Prince Rupert having lived on the Pacific Coast for a considerable number of years, travelling on the boats between this port and Vancouver and between Rupert and Hazelton, in the days of the "stern wheelers." He was employed at the Prince Rupert Hotel prior to going to Gil's Cigar Store where he worked for some three years. It was early in August last the late Mr. Webber purchased the Victory Cigar Store on Sixth Street, since that time so familiarly known as "Stats" cigar store. He was very prominent in local sport circles and his loss will be mourned by his many friends in the city. He was about 50 years of age, and is survived by his wife and young son.

FORMER EDMONTON MOUNTIE A BARONET

Capt. C. E. Denny, R. N. W. M. P., Succeeds Old Baronetcy in Ireland.

EDMONTON, Dec. 27.—A one-time resident of the city, Captain Cecil Edward Denny, late of the R. N. W. M. P., and an original member of the force, has succeeded to a baronetcy on the death of his half-brother, the late Sir Arthur Denny, at Tralee, County Kerry, Ireland. The new baronet, who resides at Colinton, near Edmonton, where he is fire ranger for the Dominion Government, retired from the R. N. W. M. P. in 1881. He went into ranching and at one time had a stock ranch at Willow Creek, near Macleod. He afterwards went to B. C., and later to the Peace River, before settling down at Colinton.

In conjunction with Captain Brisbane, the now Sir Cecil Edward Denny, Bart., founded Fort Calgary, where the original stockade erected is now transformed into the headquarters of the R. C. M. P. in the modern city of Calgary. After the Indian rebellion Captain Denny lived at Macleod, acting as Indian commissioner, a post which was given him because of the great influence he held over the Indians. He was the defeated candidate for the old North-Western Council in the election at the time.

The baronetcy to which Captain Denny succeeds is one of the oldest in the United Kingdom. It was wealthy at one time but has lately been impoverished. The new baronet is the author of "Riders of the Plains." An uncle of his was a noted writer of lyrics.

ENGLISH AS IT SOUNDS
Said Mrs. A, one of the over-hearers: "They must have been to the Zoo, because I heard her mention 'a trained deer.'"
Said Mrs. B: "No, no, they were talking about going away and she said to him, 'Find out about the train, dear.'"
Said Mrs. C: "I think you are both wrong. It seemed to me they were discussing music, for she said, 'a trained ear' very distinctly."
A few minutes later the lady herself appeared and they told her of their disagreement.
"Well," she laughed, "that's certainly funny. You are near guessers, all of you. The fact is, I'd been out to the country overnight, and I was asking my husband if it rained here last evening."—Boston Transcript.

An elderly man was persuaded by one of his sons to go with him to a boxing exhibition.
The son paid for two 82 seats. "Now, dad," said the son joyfully, "you'll see more excitement for your 82 than you've ever seen in your life before."
"I've got my doubts about that," he said gloomily. "Two dollars was all I paid for my marriage license."

Story of Prosperity-Poster Campaign Told to Readers of Associated Advertising.

Under the heading "81,500,000 Campaign for Better Business Thinking" Carl Hunt tells the following interesting story of the Rotary-Poster Prosperity campaign to the readers of Associated Advertising, official journal of the Associated Advertising Clubs, in its issue for November:

A man of action sat in his office, opposite Bryant Park in New York City, gazing out of his window, down into the little breathing spot. The park was littered with newspapers, which served as beds, the night before. The benches were filled with men, while many others stood in little knots here and there. There appeared at the end of the park nearer the Public Library, a man with free meal tickets, and as if everyone in the assemblage could smell the delectable odor of crisp bacon on the little strips of paper he carried, the men turned in his direction, many of them on the run.

The Hungry Mob.

The man at the office window watched while the hungry mob formed a long line, two abreast, across the park. Had you been there in the room, you might have believed he was idle, for he was drumming a tattoo on his desk.

But he was not idle. An idea was running through his mind—"What we need," he was thinking, "is to get in step, as we were during the war"—and before he turned back to his work, that idea of his was full-blown and was beginning to reshape itself into a definite plan, which is a well-known habit of ideas that have the good fortune to be born to the minds of capable people. There are men, who dream and sit, and men who dream and act—and this was a man of action.

75,000 Posters.

During December, January and February 50,000,000 pounds to 8,000 cities in the United States and Canada will read 75,000 posters bearing inspiring and helpful messages, telling them to get down to business, inspiring them to believe that which is true—that North America has every fundamental facility for prosperity—that we only need to turn our hands to the things that are to be done.

That last paragraph sums up his idea as it has since been translated into action; and all of the arrangements were completed within less than eight weeks from the day he looked down into the mob in Bryant Park.

The man in the case is Ivan B. Nordheim.

High Signatures.

Before that first day had come to an end, he completed his plan in every detail. A few hours later, he was on a train, en route to Washington to consult with high officials there. He saw several of them including some members of the cabinet. They agreed with him that the United States is correct at bottom and that there is the greatest plenty for all if each of us will turn to the things next to be done in order to bring it about. On this same trip to Washington, he arranged to have high officials sign the far-flung messages.

Returning to New York, he called some friends together and explained the plan. He and they produced copy for official approval. He attended the convention of the National Association of Employing Lithographers in Atlantic City and found them willing to cooperate by lithographing the posters for less than cost.

Enormous Cost.

To the New York Rotary Club he turned with the plan, and the members immediately and with great enthusiasm agreed to underwrite the plan to the tune of $60,000, to meet the cost of printing, transportation and other necessary expenses. Next, he was off to Detroit; to attend the annual convention of the Poster Advertising Association, to request free advertising space, and without a moment's hesitation a resolution was adopted donating more than a million dollars in space and pledging the organization to the fullest possible co-operation in every particular.

ST. ANDREW'S XMAS TREE ON SATURDAY

Eighty Children in Attendance
Had a Great Time—
Gifts for All.

The annual St. Andrew's Society Christmas tree under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary was held in the hall on Second Avenue on Saturday afternoon between the hours of 3 and 6. There were about eighty children in attendance and all received gifts from the beautiful and heavily-laden tree. Santa Claus was there and the children had a great time dispersing themselves with him. Tea was served in the parlors upstairs.

The committee in charge comprised Captain John McGregor, V.C., Aislie Hunter, W. M. Morton, Mrs. James L. Lee, Mrs. A. Clapperton, Mrs. J. Clapperton, Mrs. J. Simpson, Mrs. George Abbott and Mrs. W. Anderson.

G. B. Stewart, one of the old members of the society, was presented with a handsome cheque from the tree. This was given by the society.

W. B. Deacon, formerly C. P. R. travelling passenger agent at Vancouver, has been promoted to General Passenger Agent at Portland and left last week to take up his post. Mr. Deacon is well known here and visited the city recently.

BOLSHEVIKI WEAKENING

Famine in Soviet Nation Demoralizing Present Form of Government.

TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 27.—(By Canadian Press)—Now that all Northern Ukraine is freed from the Soviet yoke, let us have done with communism. This is the cry of the insurgent army of the Ukraine, awakened to new life by the last demand of famine-ravaged Russia. This year, in two provinces of the Ukraine, and two only—Kiev and Podolia—were the crops good. Upon them swooped the Russian devourer. The Bolsheviks of Moscow gave orders on October 26 to requisition two million pounds (30 million lbs. of grain) and three armies of pillagers were sent to secure this from the peasants.

Exiled officials of the former Petlura Government, as shown in letters to a resident of Toronto, had been expecting a revolution in the spring. But even they did not anticipate this sudden rising of an exasperated people. M. Andrew Livitzky, former prime minister of the Petlura government, wrote to Rev. Paul Craith of Toronto under date of November 3 to this effect, being then ignorant of the outbreak.

Short Shift for Reds.
The "Saborna Ukraina" of November 9, a paper published in Poland, says that the Polish and Ukrainian press give much space to news of the revolution now blazing in Podolia, Kherson Gov., and even in the Eastern Ukraine. Its leaders—peasants—are Iritnik, Shepik, Zabulouk and Colonel Paley. Refugees from Podolia say that the Bolshevik army of occupation is entirely demoralized. Many Bolshevik squads have left off the red stars from their caps—their only mark of a regiment—and are roaming the country as marauders while they claim to be Ukrainian insurgents. They receive short shifts at the hands of the latter, when it is discovered that they speak Russian and not Ukrainian. They are exasperated without mercy for Ukraine has suffered too much at the hands of the criminals whom Soviet Russia appointed as Commissaries.

Russia, even if she would cannot govern these men whom she allowed to govern, revolver in hand. They know no other law, even when Moscow speaks. Lenin may wish to modify edicts; they do not understand him and would not obey if they did.

Tricking Bolsheviks.
The Bolsheviks are to be found in large numbers only in towns. When famine drives them to the country they now meet the armed insurgents. Sometimes by stratagem, the latter seek them out in the city. Disguised as friends one such group of men told the Bolsheviks of insurgents whom they could secure. "But first," they said, "give us the credentials of your trusted men." So, selecting the sheep from the goats, they fell upon the leaders and hanged them on the spot.

Dr. A. Sushko of Winnipeg has just welcomed his brother-in-law, a refugee, who says "Petlura is still 'Petlurizing.' " (Petlura in the Ukrainian means a man who grinds flour to the finest powder). Two years ago Petlura said that his time for returning to the Ukraine would come when the Bolsheviks had shed so much peasant blood that they could be endured no longer. Now that time has come. The Bolshevik boundary guard on the Romanian and Galician line have not been seen since the 13th. They had previously announced that they were no longer Bolsheviks.

Rush to Ukraine.
Boris Craith, a flight officer in the insurgent army, writes Nov. 17 to his brother, Rev. Paul Craith, of Toronto, saying that Kamenev, Podolsk, Winnitsin and even Kiev were in the insurgents' hands. Gen. Petlura's soldiers who were interned in Galicia by the Poles disrupted their guards and rushed to the Ukraine and all cities in Poland and other states are trying to come to the help of their countrymen.

A fortnight before the insurrection the Bolsheviks demanded of Poland the expulsion of all Russian and Ukrainian refugees promising to pay therefor twenty million roubles. The Russian Anti-Bolshevik, protesting vigorously, left Poland for western Europe, but the Ukrainians decided to return to their own land and the Revolution helped them when they reached their homes. The Bolsheviks had claimed that Poland and Rumania, owing to French propaganda, had aided them in their escape, but despatches show that Poland had been strictly neutral and had guarded her boundaries as well as she could. The revolution is not even Petlura's work but is a national development hastened by a crisis.

Glees Insurgents.
The most hated Bolshevik organization in the Ukraine is called "Cha-Ka." (Extraordinary Commission to arrest and kill Anti-Bolsheviks). Recently some of these men were evacuating a town and their own drivers turned on them and killed them. When the insurgents pass through villages the priest comes out to bless them and pray for victory and the people bring them food. The Jews, (who usually join the strongest) have joined the insurgents in large numbers. One, Dr. Rabinovich, has organized a Jewish regiment. The spirit of the revolution is shown in this proclamation, issued by Colonel Paley. "The hour for which we waited has come—the day of reckoning with the communistic invaders. Throughout Ukraine is heard the plan of insurrection. All have risen at the call, Death to Bolshevik rule and its servants!"

Show No Mercy.
"In the name of the General Insurgent Command I order all insurgent squads, and every individual who has a drop of pity

IMPERIAL WIRELESS SCHEME STILL GOING

LONDON, Dec. 24.—The post-master-general says that the statement to the effect that the scheme for the Imperial wireless chain has collapsed is devoid of foundation. The scheme was approved by the government and was endorsed by a committee of the Imperial Conference over which Mr. Churchill presided and by the conference itself. No change in the policy of the government has since taken place. The first two stations in the Imperial chain, Leafeld and Cairo will be completed and working by the end of this year, and a commission of experts has been engaged in designing the remaining stations. Their report is expected within a few weeks, and on its receipt the construction of the stations will be proceeded with as quickly as possible.

BOSTON LEADING IN FIELDING

Has Unique Record of Having Been Highest in American League for Six Years.

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 24.—Boston led the league again this season in fielding with .975, maintaining the record established in 1916, the official American League fielding records for 1921 show.

Philadelphia had the greatest number of put outs, 3209, Chicago the most assists, 2124. Chicago was also first in double plays, 155. St. Louis had only seven passed balls and New York eight. Chicago, Washington, St. Louis and Detroit each turned one triple play. This latter feature (four triple plays in one season) is also unprecedented and was undoubtedly made possible by the fact that never before were so many men on bases as was the case this year.

Record Near Perfect. Prominent among the individual records is that of first baseman Melburne of Boston whose record for the year is .999 in being charged with but one error in 152 games. No other fielding records either in percentage or accepted chances per game were established though the scoring was unusually liberal. Indeed the hitting was so terrific that the averages of all infielders except first basemen is below normal.

For the third straight season second baseman James Dykes, of Philadelphia, leads in accepted chances per game for men playing his position regularly, being closely pressed for that honor by the veteran Collins of Chicago, who leads in percentage with .975. Dykes' record is 6.17 chances and Collins' 6.13 per game.

Esasemen's Records. With one exception Melburne also led all rivals in accepted chances at first base with 10.86 per game the leader being Shreeley of Chicago, with 11.10. In ratio of assists Shreeley was also first, 119 in 152 games with George Sticker second with 108 in 138 games.

NEW ZEALAND'S RAPID GROWTH

Population Has Increased by 14,500 in Past Twelve Months.

LONDON, Dec. 24.—(Canadian Press)—New Zealand's population has been increased by 14,500 British people in the past twelve months, according to the latest returns furnished by the New Zealand immigration department. This is the largest total of new arrivals there in any single year for the past forty years.

Premier W. F. Massey's Government has always encouraged immigration and there is no doubt that the Dominion needs more population, says the Wellington correspondent of the London Observer. "In every industry the shortage of labor has been felt. Ever since the repatriation of the New Zealand expeditionary force was completed immigrants have arrived in the Dominion in small batches, and still there is room for more. The officials at the head of affairs here say that 'not in one single case of assisted or overseas settlement immigrants can it be said that the department was unable to supply accommodation immediately upon arrival and to offer employment within forty-eight hours of entrance into the Dominion.'"

Opposed Immigration. The leaders of the New Zealand Labor Party have opposed the immigration scheme practically from its inception, according to the Observer's correspondent. They admit that there is room in the Dominion for millions of British people, but they argue that the time for the encouragement of immigration is not yet. "At first they gave the housing shortage as their reason, and now they oppose the encouragement of immigration on the score of unemployment, caused by financial stringency and depressed markets. The government has modified its policy to the extent of requiring that until the situation improves assisted immigrants need to have accommodation and employment guaranteed them. Contrary to the expectations of the labor leaders, the flow of immigrants has not ceased or even dwindled down, but has continued as though the limitation did not exist."

Nomination System. "Probably the most important feature of the Dominion's immigration policy is nomination," says the Observer's correspondent. "Any respectable and healthy Briton may enter the Dominion, but those who expect to receive government assistance in the form of steamer passage at a reduced fare are required to be nominated by some person already in the Dominion. It frequently happens that a married man will come to the Dominion alone and, having secured a foothold, will nominate his wife and children. The nominator sometimes is required to give a guarantee of employment and accommodation."

Georges Garpentier has grown a moustache, a correspondent of the Paris Auto informs the world after interviewing the noted French pugilist prior to his departure for England to meet Cook, the Australian, on January 12. A photograph accompanying the article confirms this statement, and also shows Georges to be somewhat thin and drawn, but cheerful, following his recent illness, which stopped his training for a while. His weight which dropped to 160 pounds at one time, was 171 the day the correspondent saw him. Garpentier trained at La Gueuche the country place of his manager, Francois Deschamps. The latter has established a factory nearby, at which he employs more than 200 persons in the manufacture of cheese boxes.

At a Cabinet meeting in Paris, the forthcoming Olympic Games, which are to be held in Paris in 1924, were placed under the charge of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. A bill, providing for a credit of 20 million francs for the organization of the games will be introduced in the Chamber and supported by the Government. It is believed that the ground where the sports will be held will be a large open space near the Porte Mollere.

The games will be divided into three periods. The first, comprising winter sports, will be in February or March, in the Pyrenees, in the Vosges or at Chamoneix. Football will take place from the beginning of May to the first Sunday in June, a fortnight being devoted to rugby and three weeks to association. The games proper will commence on June 23 or June 24 and will last a month. Thirty-six nations will take part.

A Stitch in Time

Quick action is the only hope when kidney disease appears. There is a whole train of dreadfully painful and fatal ailments which soon follow any neglect to get the kidneys right. Among others are rheumatism, lumbago, Bright's disease, hardening of the arteries and high blood pressure.

In Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills you will find a treatment which is both quick and thorough. Mr. C. E. Raymus, Lindale, Alta., writes—

"I was a past sufferer from kidney disease and lame back for more than a year. A friend of mine one day told me of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and seeing upon his advice I tried them. After I had taken one box I felt better, so I continued until I had used five boxes. By this time I felt as well and strong as ever, and am glad to recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to anyone suffering as I did."
