PINK RUN NOT GOOD

This Variety of Salmon Very Slow in Showing Up—Northerly Gales Hamper Trolling

SKIDEGATE, Sept. 1.—Up to date there has been an exceptionally poor showing of pink salmon on the Queen Charlotte Islands although the run should have commenced in full long ere this.

In the Dena River, Skidegate Inlet, where the pinks usually show up first there have been only a few put in their appearance so far. Chums are, however, commencing to run in the Dena.

Owing to strong westerly gales which have been blowing of late, very little trolling has been done around the islands, many boats of the fleet being tied up.

Iain Morrison of Claxton cannery is paying a brief visit to the city, having arrived in town yesterday afternoon from the Skeena River.

SEIZURE OF STILL

Police Take Liquor Plant Near Sunnyside and Make Arrest

A complete five gallon still together with 120 gallons of mash in the making was seized by Provincial Constables Andrew Grant, Harold Raybone and William Robertson, who were accompanied by Collector of Customs J. H. McLeod, in a shack near Sunnyside cannery yesterday afternoon and, as a result of the seizure, Minokicho Tateyama, Japanese, owner of the premises, was taken in custody and charged this morning in provincial police court before Stipendiary Magistrate H. F. McLeod with operating a still, the case being adjourned for eight days.

The still and equipment was concealed in a shack in the bush about 100 yards from the cannery. Different parts of the still were found in various parts of the house. Apparently to avoid detection by smoke in his operations, the operator of the still used a small gasoline stove for heating purposes.

The seizure and arrest followed investigations which have been carried out by the police.

VICTORIA TIMES ON THE PROVINCIAL POLITICAL SITUATION

The Victoria Times has the following in relation to the provincial political situation:

A few days ago The Vancouver Sun sharply took The Vancouver Province to task for an attack upon Mr. Pattullo because he proposed a general election. The Province's article fairly seethed with wrath over the opposition leader's proposal and seized the occasion to labor its pet idea of a coalition government; in fact, it was quite plain that The Province really was more irritated at Mr. Pattullo because he had not aligned himself behind its demand for a coalition government than because he demanded an election. The Sun's criticism of its neighbor was equally trenchant.

While The Vancouver Sun obviously felt that the strictures of The Province against the Liberal leader were provocative, it might have remembered that The Province is basically Conservative at all times and violently so at election time and that it would sorely dislike to see the Liberals in office. It also dislikes to champion a losing cause; it naturally likes to carry the flag of the big battalions. That is merely a little bit of human nature.

Now the Tolmie government is Conservative; but it is a losing proposition, and knows it. The Province knows this also. It knows also that in a party election the Liberals would win. Its problem, therefore, can be stated simply enough. It is this: How can it remain pro-Conservative and anti-Liberal and still be on the winning side when it is convinced that the Tolmie government is the losing side? And how can it do all of these things at once?

Our contemporary feels that it has found a neat way out of this impasse in the form of a coalition, with Dr. Tolmie, whom it helped to boom into the party leadership six years ago, out of the picture, and our strictly non-partisan friend, Mr. W. J. Bowser, whom it helped to boost out of the leadership at that time, conspicuously in this pretty landscape. Such a coalition, it feels, would be more popular than the Tolmie government, and under such auspices would be sufficiently conservative—spelled with a small "c"—to conform to its fundamental party creed. Until this arrangement can be consummated, of course, a general election—especially now—must remain hopelessly taboo, for it would complicate our contemporary's problem in an agonizing degree.

But it is much simpler to state the problem than to work it out. Any decision for a coalition government would have to be made by Premier Tolmie—not by The Province, which appears to have no confidence in Tolmie decisions as a general rule, although it would hold up both hands for this one, provided he resigned in favor of the gentleman The Province seems to want, and not Mr. Pattullo. The latter proceeding, of course, would upset the whole apparent again.

Being opposed to the Tolmie government, although ready to give credit to it whenever it feels such credit is due, irrespective of prospects of winning or losing, The Times is not in the confidence of its leader, but it sees no indication that he shares The Province's poor opinion of his administration or its lately-developed admiration for Mr. Bowser. In one respect he appears to be in perfect accord with his quondam newspaper supporter, and that is on the undesirability of a general election, although there is a wide gap between the reasons upon which that agreement is based.

The Vancouver Province's problem, however, is not altogether peculiar to itself. There are a lot of strong Tory partisans who are not satisfied with the Tolmie government for various reasons, but who hate the idea of putting a Liberal administration back in office after voting against it only four years ago. A coalition government would be easy on their party conscience, especially if it were headed by one of their own political faith.

Incidentally, there is nothing unreasonable in Mr. Pattullo's proposal of a general election, as far as the public interest is concerned. The Tolmie government has been in office four years and, if it is as inadequate as The Vancouver Province says it is, it is time for an appeal to the electorate—which, by the way, might not be enthusiastic over a coalition made in Vancouver. Besides, this seems to be a banner year for elections everywhere.

The Letter Box

BUSINESS GOVERNMENT

Editor, Daily News:—
I would like to submit a brief comment on the controversy that at present is raging in the press, and that might be termed: A businessmen's government versus "what have we?"

Your courageous editorial of August 30 was an irrefutable indictment. But, whether a businessman, in reading that editorial, is aroused to wrath, or reacts to it with a snarl of disdain, at least he should not feel alone; he should not feel as a "Philistine" in an otherwise righteous world. Stuart Chase, in a caustic summary on present conditions, entitled "The Luxury of Integrity" uses, for a simile, a stairway as a scale of integrity. Descending, he passes the different classes or groups that form the complex social world of today. Nearing the bottom, he encounters—but let him speak: "As we feel for the bottom, we encounter in the murky gloom, a large round object. Drawing it, with some reluctance, toward the light, we discover it to be a politician. To expect integrity from an elected public-servant today is almost to expect a miracle."

Is not the conclusion warranted? That society, as at present constituted, breeds dishonesty in its members who are ambitious. That all members of society, as at present constituted, must discard their honesty and integrity in order to win even a modicum of success in the social struggle.

OAT CROP IMPROVING

Interior Farmers Will Find Them- selves With Plenty of Feed as Result of Late Rains

Farmers of the interior are adopting themselves to conditions and are getting by, according to D. Sutherland, district agriculturalist, with headquarters at Smithers, who returned home yesterday after devoting some time to the fair and the remainder meeting the business people of the city.

The early part of the summer was dry and it looked for a time as if there would be no crops. Then came the rain, too late to save the hay crop, which is light, but the coarse grains made wonderful growth and the crop of oats is heavy in many cases, so heavy that some of the crops will not ripen. It will be cut for fodder.

In the Vanderhoof district the price of cream being low farmers have allowed the calves to run with the cows instead of milking. This has lowered the output of the creamery but was the best way out of a rather difficult situation.

Marketing the crop is one of the things in which Mr. Sutherland is interested and he has been looking into that while in the city.

SPORT CHAT

Although the Commercial Grads basketball team of Edmonton went to the coast to play exhibition games at San Francisco, Portland, Victoria and Prince Rupert, George Mackintosh, in his sport column in the Edmonton Journal, is a little aggrieved. He says: "Not the slightest effort was made by any of the Canadian governing bodies—the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, the Women's Amateur Athletic Federation, the Canadian Basketball Association, or the Canadian Olympic committee—to have basketball included as an official sport on the Olympic program. In view of the Grads' unparalleled record over a long period of years, there could be no reasonable doubt as to the outcome of an Olympic tournament so far as girls' basketball is concerned. One wonders if things might have been different had the Canadian title been held in some other city—Toronto, for instance?"

"The Grads can derive some satisfaction from an announcement by the president of the Federation Sportive Feminine Internationale of Paris, to the effect that basketball will certainly be included on the program of the next women's Olympics, which will be held in London in 1934 under the distinguished patronage of the king. If the present members stick together for another two years—and there's no good reason why they shouldn't—the Grads ought to be 'in there' when the Olympic olive wreaths are being handed out two years hence."

VAUDEVILLE AT EXHIBITION

Joe Arseneau and Sam Joy, two exceptionally talented boys in songs and dances.

The Melody Trio, the kings of rhythm in tuneless tunes.

Novelty Tap Dancing, by pupils of Miss E. Tite, three little girls with educated feet.

One Man Band, a clever and entertaining act, which comes well recommended.

Acrobatic Dancing, by two dainty little misses, Joyce Gawthorn, Mary Davey.

Wrestling, hilariously humorous. Barrel Boxing, a barrel of fun.

Balloon Blowing, a windy night.

Depression and gloom will go into the discard when you see this amusing, unusual and interesting entertainment. This is one of the most ambitious programs ever attempted.

LADY FINDS EYEGLASS PRICES MUCH LOWER IN PRINCE RUPERT

Recently a lady called to have her eyes examined as the glasses she had been wearing were a little uncomfortable. After a thorough examination the price was quoted on new glasses but the lady just thought the quality could not be as good as the pair she had been wearing, the price was so much lower. The "Trade Mark" on the frame was exactly the same as on the pair she had so it was not difficult to convince her that our price was lower. We sell only the best in Spectacle Ware made by such firms as Shuron, American Optical Co. and the Bausch & Lomb Optical Co. When comparing prices be sure to ask to see the Trade Mark on the frame.

Fine Carving

Chief Lewis Gray of Port Simpson Has Two Fine Chairs at Fair Building

An interesting feature in the Indian section of the Exhibition Building is an exhibit of two carved chairs by Chief Lewis Gray of Port Simpson. Part of the decoration consists of a chief's crest set in abalone. The tools with which the work was done are also shown at the building. The wood used is yellow cedar.

Chief Gray is certainly a clever carver and the chairs are fine examples of his handwork.

Secure Cash During Hard Times

Daily News Want Ads.

The Classified Ads.

Many people have something in the house they would like to sell which could be turned into money if they knew of a customer. Try a classified advertisement. Most people read the classifieds. For about fifty cents you can let them know about it and it may prove a profitable transaction.

Renting the House

There are a number of houses in the city not rented yet and many people make little effort to secure a tenant. Others who are wise to their opportunities try a classified advertisement in the "For Rent" column and often get results. As one satisfied customer said recently: "Those little ads certainly do bring results."

Some Like Reader Ads.

Some people after trying other kinds of advertising decide to try a reader among the locals and personals. Then they have got results. The cost is a little higher but they have been well satisfied. When conditions are like they are today the newspapers can often help. The price is not very high. Do not lie down and bemoan your hard fate. Try a different kind of advertisement and if that is not successful try again.
