NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Russian sable and beaver shared the honors at the third day's selling of raw furs at the auction now going on here in the Masonic Hall. Prices were substantially above those obtained for similar skins at the April sale in this city and were largely responsible for the day's sales reaching $885,000. The grand total for the first half of the sales is $1,815,000. Kamchatka pelts were most in demand and brought the best prices. Compared with the prices obtained at the annual spring auction the pelts sold yesterday showed these percentages of advance: Wolverine, 10; Russian sable, 20; black bear, 25; brown bear, none; grizzly bear, 50; northern wolf, 30; southern wolf, 25; red fox, none, and beaver, 10.

Canadian Marten, one of the best collections in the entire sale, will be put on the block today. Among the others will be nearly 200,000 American opossum pelts.

HOPEFUL CONFERENCE

Meeting at Gairloch

EDMONTON, Sept. 22.—The prospect of a conference between the representatives of the British cabinet and the representatives of the Irish Sinn Féin is declared to be less hopeful as the result of yesterday's consultation between Lloyd George and Sinn Féin at Gairloch.

STILL SUGGESTED VACANT SENATORSHIP

OTTAWA, Sept. 22.—Eastern newspapers continue to suggest that C. W. Peck will likely be one of the new senators. His name is coupled with that of R. F. W. B. for Kootenay, and the minister of lands and the McBride Government. The several members of the McBride Government are likely to be filled before the election, else it will be left for the Liberals to fill their places. The government will follow the lead in power.

LLOYD GEORGE IS NOT READY TO GIVE IMMEDIATE ANSWER

LONDON, Sept. 22.—Lloyd George's reply to the latest De Valera telegram is not likely to be sent before next week. A ministerial conference at Gairloch yesterday considered the tenor of De Valera's telegram so doubtful as to make it advisable first to submit the telegram to the special committee of the cabinet appointed to deal with Irish affairs.

BYLAWS ALL CARRIED BY GOOD MARGIN

Two Thirds of People Qualified to Vote Turned Out.

All three bylaws were carried by a vote of the ratepayers yesterday, much to the satisfaction of those who are anxious to see the city make progress. In each case there was a good margin over the sixty per cent necessary to make the bylaws safe. The following is the record of the vote:

Westview School.
For 326, against 73, number required 240; margin to good 86.

Water Extension.
For 325, against 68; number required 236; margin to good 89.

Pulp Company Agreement.
For 285; against 120, number required 213; margin to good 42.

The poll was a very large one for a bylaw, about two-thirds of the possible vote being recorded, four hundred out of a possible six hundred.

After the poll Alderman Dybbahn, who has been acting mayor during the progress of the campaign, expressed pleasure at the result and especially at the confidence shown in the city council, whose lead had been followed. He felt it was in indication of the spirit of the people.

MANSON TALKS TO ROTARIANS

Speaker of Legislature Takes as Subject "Parliamentary Practice."

The difficulty with parliamentary government is that people are sent to the legislature who never should be there, who waste the time of the house and who are dilatory in regard to their duties. They spend a lot of time on matters which are unimportant. That was one of the important statements of Hon. A. M. Manson made this afternoon at the Rotary Club luncheon in one of the best addresses yet given before the club.

Mr. Manson made a number of interesting allusions. He gave his opinion that group government was not a success and that the independent member had little influence. It was in the caucus of the party that the fiercest fighting was often done, and the independent had no status there.

Mr. Manson outlined at some length the matter of legislative procedure and parliamentary practice. He told of the position of the King in British Government and of the different kinds of governments. The British constitution he showed was not written but simply grew up like the oak tree. It was wonderfully elastic and could be stretched to meet an emergency such as the conditions obtaining during the late war. There could in a British country have

INSURING THE FAIR AGAINST BAD WEATHER

MONTREAL, Sept. 22.—The very latest idea in insurance is to provide against the risk of putting on a fall fair during bad weather. So many boards of directors of exhibitions have found themselves in financial difficulties after a week of rain that they are now turning to the insurance companies to help them out. Policies will be issued covering the risk and the directors will then be able to sleep in peace.

RED DEER, Sept. 22.—John Rutledge of Inuvialuk was yesterday sentenced to hang on January 11. The jury after deliberating half an hour found him guilty of murdering his wife and four children in a fire which destroyed the farm.

WHIP NOT PRESENT.

OTTAWA, Sept. 22.—The federal fight is on. Premier Meighen and Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, at the head of the two great parties, are about to open their campaigns and political forces are mustering for what will probably be the keenest general federal election in the history of Canada.

OTTAWA, Sept. 22.—Premier Arthur Meighen leaves tomorrow night for Toronto en route to Portage la Prairie, his home seat, where he will speak on Tuesday. On the evening of September 30 he will speak in Montreal and will then make a two weeks' tour of the Maritime Provinces, returning to Ottawa before proceeding to Ontario and other western points.

MACKENZIE KING TO VISIT COAST

H. C. Hall, M.P.P., Who is in Ottawa, Says He May Come.

VICTORIA, Sept. 22.—Henry C. Hall, M.P.P., who is in Ottawa, wires the local Liberal Association that it is hoped to arrange for a return visit of W. L. Mackenzie King to the coast. He says the Liberal leader is very appreciative of the possibilities of British Columbia. The organization is arranging a long series of meetings to take in every province so that the Liberal policy may be clearly placed before the electors.

Reports received at Ottawa are, according to Mr. Hall, to the effect that the Liberals are expected to have a working majority after the elections. The candidate to oppose Hon. S. F. Tolmie has not yet been chosen.

Dr. Sutherland, M.P., of Revelstoke, Government whip, will not be present at the opening of the Legislature as he will be attending a medical convention at that time in Toronto.

DAILY EDITION  Thursday, Sept. 22, 1921.

One of Lessons Of Democracy.

One of the reasons assigned for delaying the general election was the fear of "turmoil," says the Toronto Globe. Among a good many worthy people the impression seems to prevail that a general election is a dreadful thing, of which the best that can be said is that it is one of the necessary evils of democracy. It must be admitted that for this attitude there is some excuse in the personal attacks, mud-slinging, misrepresentation and hysterical excitement which too often mark an election campaign. The less of these the better. But, apart from these disagreeable incidents, the contest in itself is a thing not to be feared, but to be welcomed as the grand opportunity of democracy, and even the elector who loves peace and quietness ought not to be shocked at the noise which is produced by the clash of opposing ideas and arguments. One of the lessons of democracy is to agree to differ; to be frank in expressing one's own opinions, and goodtempered when conflicting opinions are set forth with force and emphasis. There is a certain friction and heat of argument which is not to be regarded as personally offensive. We cannot expect that the three million electors of Canada will be all in agreement, and if they seemed to be so we should suspect that there was stagnation rather than harmony.

Fear of Democracy Shown in Attitude.

In this over-sensitive dread of an election contest there lurks also a certain fear of democracy. There is a latent feeling that the people are really not fit to govern themselves, and that every election is a perilous experiment which may result in chaos. This fear is perhaps emphasized in the present contest by the fact that at least one new party has entered the arena, and that all the parties are under new leadership. The elector who once pinned his faith on a Macdonald or a Laurier has now to think for himself, and there is abundant evidence that he is thinking for himself. This, too, is regarded by timid people as a perilous experiment, meaning the substitution of reason for authority and tradition.

In our opinion, the change is a wholesome one. It brings an increased sense of responsibility home to the elector. And whatever political association he may prefer, he will regard himself not as one of a flock of sheep, but as a participant in the counsels of the party, giving advice as well as taking it, and helping to shape the party counsels. The effect of this spontaneous, original thinking will be educative and stimulating.

Character Of Campaign.

Much, of course, will depend upon the character of the campaign. The more it appeals to reason and the less to fear and excitement the more educative it will be. Unfortunately those who fear and distrust democracy are too often found trying to alarm, to excite and to mislead instead of to reason and educate. Already they are beginning to talk as if they thought British connection, the fiscal independence of Canada and the maintenance of our industries depended upon the success of one party at the polls. They are deliberately trying to produce the turmoil which they fear or profess to fear. They are introducing elements which are bound to arouse resentment and ill-will, branding those who disagree with them as reckless of the national welfare, imputing evil motives and undermining friendly relations between Canada and the United States. Their motto is rule or ruin.

It is not worth while to declare a moral civil war for the purpose of preventing the fall of a party government. The rise and fall of ministries, the varying fortunes and vicissitudes of parties, are the ordinary incidents of our system of government, and a party defeat should be accepted with fortitude and without bitterness. A term in opposition will be no tragedy for Mr. Meighen and his friends, while a change of government is indicated as the result of the normal, healthy working of public opinion and will inspire confidence in the country.

POLAR BEAR IS LEAVING

Aviator Prest Will Hop Off Tomorrow Morning at 8 O'Clock
 If Weather Suitable.

If weather conditions are of all suitable, the Las Vegas bi-plane Polar Bear, piloted by Aviator C. O. Prest, will hop off from the Aeropolis Grounds at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning for Wrangell. When he leaves Prince Rupert, Mr. Prest intends to make the balance of the trip to Siberia as quickly as possible and hopes to be away from Dawson by a week from tomorrow. The landing at Wrangell will be made at Farm Island, about ten miles north of the town and 240 miles from here. The flight will take about three hours.

The engine of the Polar Bear has undergone a thorough overhauling while here. The new propeller came at the first of the week from Seattle and is now in place.

Leaving Prince Rupert the Polar Bear will be heavier than anywhere else on the trip. Besides a full tank of gasoline, Mr. Prest takes with him a Corona portable typewriter, a camera outfit, a 22-calibre single shot rifle, fishing tackle, provisions, tools, supplies and baggage as well as an extra inner tube which will be used as a live preserver if necessary.

L. M. Bach, mechanician will remain in the city until Monday when he will go north by steamer to join the machine, probably at White Horse. From there he will fly with Mr. Prest to Nome. Mr. Prest will report the arrival of the machine at Wrangell and White Horse to Mr. Bach here by telegraph.

The Man in the Moon SAYS—

IN one respect there is no difference between a young man, an old man with money and a worm. The chicken gets them all.

IT is estimated that the energy expended in chewing gum at last week's baseball games would drive the steam roller on Second Avenue long enough to roll all the rock that was spread during the week.

In Canada there was a partly written constitution and so there was in each province, but by far the greater part of the constitution was unwritten.

Provincial Freedom. The speaker showed that the Provincial Government in its sphere was just as much supreme as was the British Parliament.

Mr. Manson then gave the history of a bill in its passage through the Legislature, taking as an example a "Bill to Regulate Mosquitoes."

An interesting part of the address was that dealing with the methods of killing a bill. Sometimes it was given what is known as the six months hoist.

Another method was to let a bill die a natural lingering death being unfinished at the close of the session.

Many bills, Mr. Manson said, were introduced only by the government, and with the budget there was a peculiar practice which was always followed only in that particular case.

Other Details. The speaker then spoke of the delegations which had to be met, of the committee work and of the other incidents of work which engaged the time of the members.

At the conclusion the speaker was thanked for his address both by the president and personally by the Rotary members.

JUNCTUATION. Returning from school the other afternoon a little girl proudly informed her mother that she had learned to "punctuate."

NECROMANCER FORMS SHIPPING COMPANY

Curious Sect in Japan Goes Into Shipping Business.

An account of a mysterious shipping company, organized and maintained by a religious cult as a means of giving effect to their teachings, is given in the Japan Advertiser.

The advent of the new lines was sudden, and its activity in opening up routes to Shanghai and elsewhere along the China coast, meteoric. Known as the Tengu Yoko, it opened a head office in Tokyo, but particulars of its organization were a sealed book to outsiders.

The guiding principle of the head of the line is to sacrifice self for the sake of the public. He obtained a divine revelation, it is said, that "Chino-Japanese friendship is the will of God."

So he made up his mind to arrange for the supply of goods to China as inexpensively as possible, and the shipping venture was designed as a preliminary to the execution of that idea.

He is said to have about 500 faithful followers in Japan and China, and between them they have subscribed some $500,000 to the company, with more to come if needed.

Besides shipping business, the Tengu Yoko maintains a rubber factor, a dyeing workshop and a silk weaving mill. The marine venture is, however, the most important of the enterprises.

WHIST LEAGUE HOLDS MEETING

Six Ladies' and Eight Gentlemen's Teams to Take Part in Winter's Activities.

Ladies' teams are to be admitted to the Whist League in this winter's games for the first time. There are to be eight gentlemen's teams and six ladies'. Last winter there were three teams in all.

A meeting of the executive was held last night in Dybhavn & Hanson's office. It was an enthusiastic gathering and gave promise of the season being more interesting than ever. Officers and executive were elected and the line of action for holding of the games was decided upon. The ladies and gentlemen are to have separate schedules and the winners in each at the end of the season will play off for the Dybhavn Cup, the whist championship trophy.

Committees were appointed to amend the constitution of the league to provide for the admission of the ladies' teams and to look into the question of obtaining a hall for the season's activities. The drawing up of the schedule was left to President Dybhavn who will report to an early meeting of the league.

Officers Elected.
Officers and executive were elected as follows:

- President, John Dybhavn.
- First Vice President, S. M. Newton.
- Second Vice President, Mrs. E. A. Woods.
- Secretary Treasurer, George W. Johnstone.
- Executive—George W. Johnstone, Sons of Canada; S. M. Newton, Sons of England; Harry Love, Oddfellows; John Dybhavn, Valhalla Society; W. Reid, Elks; H. M. Foote, St. Andrew's Society; E. A. Donohoe, Knights of Columbus; William Burkin, Knights of Pythias; Mrs. S. V. Cox, Rebekah Lodge; Mrs. E. A. Woods, Daughters and Maids of England; Mrs. F. Dibb, Order of the Royal Purple; Mrs. George Leck, Pythian Sisters, and Mrs. Birnie, St. Andrew's Ladies Auxiliary. The sixth ladies' team will be from the Scandinavian Society. The Great War Veterans, it is understood, are not to enter a team in this winter's contests.

Sport Chat

Pigeon racing is a sport that is engaging a good many of the old and staid citizens of Vancouver and Victoria. They find as much pleasure in it as any other pastime and prize their coops very highly. Clubs have been established in both cities and the birds are registered and marked so that they may be identified. A good many trophies have been put up for competition. Pigeons are taken a distance of fifty or so miles away from the city and are then set loose, the first bird to reach home being adjudged the winner. Each owner has a time-card on which he sets down the arrival of his bird. Sometimes a pigeon goes astray and gets a long way out of his course. By means of an identification card one Vancouver pigeon was identified at Boise, Idaho, recently. It had crossed several ranges of mountains before alighting after it lost its way. Mr. James, who was the poultry judge at the Fair last week, is a pigeon enthusiast at Vancouver. He refused an offer of $450 for his coop of thirty birds.

The establishment of a gymnasium in Prince Rupert is a matter that should be pressed by all who are interested in the welfare and training of the youth of the city as well as the older men. Natural conditions here make such even more necessary in this city than in other places. Athletes have to spend more time indoors here than in many cities and, at the present time, there is no place where they may engage in indoor athletics or training. An attempt to establish a gymnasium was made by the Athletic Association but it does not seem to have met with much success. Perhaps this is because the Agricultural Hall, the headquarters, is neither convenient or suitable for it. In most places the Y. M. C. A. has been started and it would seem that Prince Rupert is large enough to support such an organization. Steps might be taken to bring that society here.

KETCHIKAN IS STILL KNOCKING

Interview Published in Christian Science Monitor Deals With Fisheries.

What purports to be a special despatch to the Christian Science Monitor is published in a recent number of that paper under a Jungian date line. It deals with a subject which has been already turned down by the Alaska territorial legislature and is advocated chiefly by H. G. Strong, of Ketchikan, whose interview follows:

"Alaska, our much-talked-of but generally unknown land of wonders, and resources, is today facing conditions that require and deserve the attention of our statesmen. The decline in gold mining has been accompanied by a great shrinkage in population, due to the lack of other industries and employment; yet during this time Alaskans have witnessed the building of a city, Prince Rupert, British Columbia, but 93 miles away, which is thriving through the operation of a large fishing fleet which is bringing wealth and prosperity to that Canadian port.

Canada's Foresightedness.
"The astonishing feature is that Alaska's great natural resource, her fisheries, and the American market for fresh and frozen fish are directly responsible for the prosperity of Prince Rupert. There are two reasons for the existing conditions: First, indifference and lack of actual knowledge on the part of our statesmen, and second, the aggressiveness of the Canadians, with the assistance rendered by their government, in taking advantage of their geographical location, lying between the Alaskan fisheries and the markets of our eastern states.

"The Canadians possess direct rail connection, and operate through refrigerator cars between Prince Rupert, which is but 43 miles from the border of Alaska, and the larger cities of the United States. At Prince Rupert, the Canadian Government subsidized the largest fish freezing and packing plant on the American continent. Every condition is looked after to attract, and practically obligate, the north Pacific fishing fleet to make that port its home.

Everything at Prince Rupert.
"The fresh-fish dealers of the United States are annually sending in excess of $5,000,000 to Canada to pay for halibut and salmon, nearly all of which has been caught in the waters adjacent to the Alaskan coast, by vessels using American harbors, but operated from Canadian ports. The vessels may fly either the Canadian or American flag, it matters not under existing conditions, for regardless of nationality, the boats discharge their fish at the Canadian port of Prince Rupert, where the fish is weighed, paid for, iced, and boxed, or otherwise prepared for shipment in refrigerator cars, to the eastern markets of the United States. The earnings are then sent there disbursed, the crew is paid off, and the vessel is again outfitted for her next trip. The value of the cargo has gone into circulation at the Canadian port though the fish were taken from the banks directly tributary to Alaska, and the consumers in the United States have furnished the money.

Needs in Development.
"Alaska must have permanent industries to support her present population, which has been on the decline during the past decade; and the protection of her fisheries is the key to the situation. The money now being sent to Canada for fish is used to purchase goods and services from Canada, and the result is that the money goes out of the state and never returns.

ROMANTIC CAREER OF ENTERTAINER

Iona Robertson Gives Another of Her Recitals Here Tonight.
Not only is the artist who is known professionally as Iona Robertson, a singer, elocutionist and actress of exceptional ability, but she is also prominent in other important spheres of public activity. She has been called in the English Press the "Maud Gonn" of the Highlands because of her exertions on behalf of the distressed Highland Crofters in 1904. She is also a prolific writer, and is now collecting information throughout Canada for English and Scotch Publications regarding the Immigration situation in the Dominion. She is very popular in London society, her father being a cousin of the Duke of Abercorn and her mother a Robertson of Struan. She has been married twice, her first husband Lieut.-Colonel Campbell Mackenzie have been killed in the Great War.

CAREFULLY BROUGHT UP.

The business man had decided to try a girl secretary and was interviewing the applicant for the job.
He eyed, rather suspiciously, a fair young thing, who wore a V-cut blouse, a short skirt, gray silk stockings and a lot of gaudy "jewelry."
"I—er—hope you were carefully brought up?" he stammered nervously.
"Oh, rather, old bean!" replied the damsel. "Old Bill, who works the lift, is an odd flame of mine; he wouldn't hurt me for worlds."

THE SUBSTITUTE.

"Your honor," said the prosecuting attorney, "your hull pup has went and chewed up the court Bible."
"Well, grumbled the court, "make the witness kiss the pup. We can't adjourn court to get a new Bible."

PRESENTATION TO MRS. J. R. MORIN BY ST. ANDREW'S LADIES

Party Invades Home and Mrs. James Lee Officiates.
Mrs. J. R. Morin of the Pioneer Laundry Apartments was last night the recipient of a handsome present from the Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Andrew's Society when about twenty-five members invaded the home and presented her with a beautiful cut glass bowl as a wedding present.
Mrs. James Simpson and Mrs. Arthur convened the party and Mrs. James Lee, president of the auxiliary made the presentation to which Mrs. Morin suitably replied. The evening was then spent with music and games. Miss Iona Robertson, who is still in the city, was with the party and gave one of her wonderfully interesting recitations.
Mrs. Morin was married about two weeks ago.

ALICE ARM

Work at the Homestake mine is progressing with rapidity and already two tunnels have been driven to distances of 103 feet and 45 feet respectively. Foundations for the compressor plant, which will be installed next spring, have already been blasted out.

G. Hanson, who has been in charge of the Dominion Government geological survey here this summer, left last week for Stewart.

Persistent rumors have been going the rounds here that the Taylor Mining Co. will reopen the Dolly Varden and Wolf mines in the near future and that one will be shipped again this fall.

Work has commenced on the bridge for the road from the town to the wharf in front of the hotel. Mr. Buckley is the contractor.

W. T. Muse, the Prince Rupert contractor, expects to start work on the Alice Arm wharf about October 1.

Miss Virginia Riel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Riel, has gone to Prince Rupert to attend the convent.

SHARKS CAUSE HERRING FISHERIES FAILURE

SCARBOROUGH, Eng., Sept. 21.—Light was thrown on the cause of the failure of the herring fishing on the Northeast Coast by the chairman, Councilor Whitehead, at the annual meeting of the Scarborough Harbor Commissioners. He said that he had made every possible inquiry and the reason, as given to him by one of the most experienced and oldest of Scarborough skippers, was that the North Sea at present was infested with shoals of bonitos, a small species of shark, which came from the Spanish coast. Although they had been found in the Channel, they had never been found so far north before. They were most voracious, and had scared the herring shoals away. Mr. Gibson remarked that as the weather became colder, the bonitos, which were tropical fishes, would depart to the south. Other Commissioners expressed the hope that the fishing would still be good.

WHAT LIBERALS ARE SAYING TO QUEBEC PEOPLE

Arthur Gardin, M.P. Addresses French Canadians in Opening of Campaign.

People here like to know what attitude the parties are taking in different parts of the country. Following is the report in a Conservative paper, the Montreal Star, of the address of Arthur Gardin, M.P., in opening the campaign.

"Why throw stones at us on tariff? Why should people fear the return of Liberals to power as far as tariff is concerned? The party was in power for fifteen years, and it was a period of prosperity. Did the Liberal party act as a wrecker of tariffs? When did the Liberal party destroy manufactures? On the contrary, never were so many factories started in Canada as under the Liberal regime. Not Extremists.

"The Liberal party," went on Mr. Gardin, "protects, and will continue to protect, the legitimate aspirations of financiers, manufacturers, merchants, and also look after the interest of the mass of the people, and wants a tariff by which Canada can develop, and all citizens be happy, to live in their country. There is no fear of the Liberals on tariff. We are not extremists on any line, moral, national or in financial matters. We are moderates in everything, neither for free trade nor protection that is unjust to the consumers, but we wish to steer a moderate course, suitable to the needs of the time, and taking into consideration the necessity for development of industry and the interests of the great mass of people. We want capital to increase, and industry to progress. We want the tariff arranged in such a way that while it protects the manufacturer it will also see the consumer is not ill-treated.

Government's Position. Mr. Gardin declared that there was no need to fear the Liberals on the tariff issue. It was Mr. Meighen's intention to run the campaign on the tariff issue, he declared. The Government did not want to discuss the administration of the country. Mr.

Popular and Reliable

10c CIGAR

Union Made in Vancouver Since 1908

Meighen and his friends talk about tariff, but has the Government a platform on tariff? For the last four or five years the Government has played with the question of tariff changes. They have announced changes, but have never carried out the changes. They want to keep the tariff flag for general elections. Their program on tariff is that they are protectionists. That is all Mr. Meighen has said. He is for protection, but has he announced a single theory or modification? He stays in the land of generalities, and reproaches the Liberals for not specifying their opinions on tariff. The Government will not only be judged on tariff. It will be judged on its past, on all its works, all its sins of commission and omission Mr. Gardin declared.

Time For Revenge.

The government seemed to have pleased no one, he continued. It had showed contempt for public opinion and had abused the confidence given it. "The opinion of the people is formed, and has been for several years, and it will mean extinction of the administration at Ottawa. There will be various appeals made to you, for our enemies are doing their utmost to break up the Liberal group which is the strongest force against the Government. I think that the people have suffered enough, and you have been waiting for so long to avenge yourselves that you will not divide your forces and energy, so as to permit your adversaries to dominate again.

Liberal Bloc.

"The duty in this province and elsewhere in Canada," continued Mr. Gardin, "is to get together the best elements and form a block to resist the organization of the Government, and to eliminate our adversaries. We have only to work together, for everyone is unanimous, with perhaps a few exceptions, in the desire to get rid of this Government.

"We have the conviction that no matter what Government may come, it cannot be worse than the one we have had since 1911, and especially since 1917."

Rich on Blood.

Mr. Gardin said that the party in power had always gained control by awakening prejudices, and preaching one doctrine in Quebec and another doctrine in other provinces. "Again they want to divide us," he said, "so as to keep control of the country for personal benefit, to grow rich out of the public funds, and from the blood shed on the battlefields." It was to the Government's interest not to have the past remembered, but Mr. Gardin said that the past must be dealt with, and, as far as the Liberal party was concerned, there was nothing to be ashamed of. The grant of $10,000,000 to the C.N.R. for the worthless common stock had been nothing more than a theft designed to pay capitalists for services in 1911. Mr. Gardin said that the Liberal party deserved the esteem and confidence of the people. He went on to object to $15,000,000 being spent for militia this year. There was no reason for it, he insisted, and it was a foolish, if not a criminal, expense at a time when famine was at hand.

Renewed Confidence.

With a new government, said Mr. Gardin, business would stabilize itself, there would be more confidence in the country, capital would flow into industry again, new enterprises would commence and confidence and enthusiasm would prevail in the country. He urged his hearers not to divide the Liberal party and made a plea for support for Mr. Boyer. A united front was necessary to avenge themselves on the Government.
