Best News for Weeks is Made Public on Strike Situation

LONDON, June 8.—The best news to the public, in weeks is that the coal miners executive has resolved to recommend to a convention of the district mine delegates on Friday that a ballot be ordered on the question of accepting the amended proposals of the mine owners.

It is understood that the owners have offered to pay an increase of twenty per cent over the wages of 1914 plus the additions made since and has also guaranteed proper wages for the lower ratings among the mine owners.

WILL ARRANGE LIQUOR PRICES

This Will Be Business to be Taken Up by Cabinet Within Next Two Days.

VICTORIA, June 8.—The question of arranging prices for liquor to be sold under government control will come before the cabinet within the next two days. Under the new Act liquor prices under the control of the government will likely be fixed on information furnished by the Liquor Board. Large supplies of liquor have already reached the province and more is on the way. With general increases in the wholesale cost of liquor from pre-war prices and the heavy taxation imposed by the Federal Government the price will be much higher than when prohibition came into effect nearly four years ago.

INTERIOR AND PRINCE RUPERT

President Williams of Board of Trade Told of Recent Trip.

At the meeting of the Board of Trade last night President Williams gave a short account of his recent visit to the interior made for the purpose of improving his health. Mr. Williams expressed enthusiasm and delight with all he had seen and the undoubted development that was taking place all along the line. Particularly was this so in regard to the wonderful Bulkley and Nechako rivers, which he stated were rich and fertile and of far greater extent and possibilities than almost anyone who had not been there would believe. Prince Rupert's future was indissolubly merged with the development of this vast hinterland and it was up to the people here to do everything in their power to help and encourage the indomitable and hardy pioneers of the interior, who were making history for the northern part of this great province.

GOOD ORE STRUCK AT HUNDRED FOOT DEPTH ILLIANCE RIVER MINE

Development Work on Bellevue At Alice Arm Proving District.

ALICE ARM, June 8.—A. J. Hughes, in charge of the Alice Arm Holdings properties on the Illiance came down from Bellevue mine on Friday. Mr. Hughes is quite enthused over the property and operations are continuing. They have lately cut a nice lead of ore in the tunnel at a depth of over one hundred feet and are now cross cutting in anticipation of striking the main surface showing.

The striking of ore at the depth is of much importance and of great value to the upper Illiance country. It proves that the ore bodies of that region extend in depth and enhances in value the many rich surface showings located there.

USK TOWNSITE CASE SETTLED

Contending Parties Reacher Mutual Agreement Out of Court.

The case involving the Usk townsite between R. Lowrie, the plaintiff, and J. L. Merryfield, J. A. Kirkpatrick and C. H. Thomas, defendants, was mutually settled yesterday afternoon and the assize court was thus relieved of the most important civil case set down for hearing before it.

After the adjournment for lunch yesterday, Mr. Justice Gregory suggested that the case was a proper one for settlement. After a prolonged conference, counsel attended before the court at 3 o'clock and A. M. Manson for the plaintiff announced that a settlement had been arrived at.

DETAILS OF SETTLEMENT.

The plaintiff, Mr. Lowrie, is to receive a reconveyance of all his land from the defendants, Messrs. Merryfield, Thomas and Kirkpatrick, free of encumbrances. He in turn is to give the defendant, Mr. Thomas, five acres of land on the bench above the Usk station and is to pay the defendant, Mr. Merryfield, $2,500 in full payment of an old mortgage which seems to have been the starting point of the subsequent trouble.

The defendants are to pay the plaintiff his court costs not in excess of $1,000 and the defendant, Mr. Thomas, is to be permitted to rent a house from Mr. Lowrie for six months.

His Lordship made the order for settlement and judgment was entered accordingly.

A. M. Manson and M. Gonzales, of Williams, Manson & Gonzales, appeared in court as counsel for the plaintiff and B. O. Oughton, of Fisher & Oughton, acted for the defendants.

The action as far as Paul Abazoff, the fourth defendant, is concerned was discontinued by the plaintiff before the trial.

CAMPAIGN FOR RED CROSS IS OFF IN RUPERT

Enthusiastic Organization Meeting in City Hall Last Night.

That the membership drive which is being instituted by the local branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society will be a great success and will equal, in results, the records of other parts of the province was indicated last night at the large and enthusiastic meeting of prominent citizens, both men and women, which gathered in the City Hall. Judge Young, the president of the Prince Rupert branch, delivered a convincing and comprehensive address which seemed to imbue all with the spirit and importance of the cause. Now it is safe to say that his objective of "one thousand members in the Prince Rupert drive" will be reached and should be far exceeded. At the close of last night's meeting many went forward to Judge Young and Secretary H. F. McLeod and took out their membership cards on the spot. When the canvassers are out there is no doubt that they will meet with the same willingness and desire to enlist in the nationwide movement.

"This campaign has been started," stated Judge Young, in opening his address, "with a view to carrying on the work that lessons of the war have taught us will be of vital importance to Canada. Before the war the Canadian Red Cross existed in name only but the wonderful work done in that war has caused the decision to embark on a peace time program and Act of Parliament has authorized us to do so.

What is Use?

"What is the use of this peace time work? We are prepared to answer that question but the only objection that we have is that too many people want to answer it for themselves. Only yesterday a man asked me if it was not to provide fat salaries for a few favored officials. Let me tell you that is not so. The Red Cross Society of B. C., the same as all the other Red Cross Societies in 31 nations of the world, is conducted on purely a voluntary basis. In this province there is but one salaried official, Mrs. E. Barnes, the assistant secretary in Vancouver, who receives $115 per month. When I attend the provincial conventions and meet the men who are engaged in the work I am surprised that they can afford their time for it. There is nothing in it in a financial way for them and there is nothing in it for me. I can tell you I would have been a lot better off, financially at any rate, if I had never heard of the Red Cross Society. Our affairs are not conducted in secret and any one who will examine our reports and statements will find that the organization is most economically handled. All the leading spirits in the movement get it abuse and the peculiar thing is that the very ones whom we are trying to assist are the ones who are the first to criticize.

Reasons Why.

There were two facts revealed in the course of the war that were mainly responsible for the decision to continue the peace time activities. First, the way (Continued on Page Two).

CHINESE ARRESTED SMUGGLING DRUGS

VANCOUVER, June 8.—Three Chinese members of the crew of the Empress of Japan have been arrested attempting to smuggle three thousand dollars worth of drugs.

BOARD TRADE HELD MEETING

Various Items of Correspondence Read and Acted Upon.

Owing to the fact that the Red Cross meeting, announced for last evening to be held in the council chamber of the city hall, was at the same hour as that scheduled for the monthly meeting of the Board of Trade, W. E. Williams, president of the board, courteously offered to adjourn the Board of Trade meeting until after that of the Red Cross. This enabled the members of the former to attend both meetings. President Williams called the Board of Trade meeting to order at 9 o'clock.

Among the correspondence read was a letter from F. C. Wade, agent-general for B. C. in London, requesting a further supply of pamphlets and publicity matter containing information in regard to the natural resources and business opportunities of the north. The secretary reported that already another supply had been forwarded.

Post Mail Service.

A letter from Weston Coyney, editor of Resources, attached to a communication from Agent-General Wade in which the latter complained of the unsatisfactory state of the paper mail service newspapers and periodicals arriving at his office days and sometimes weeks late, was referred to the railway and transportation committee.

Special Session of Legislature to Be Held Late in Fall

VICTORIA, June 8.—For the purpose of considering the financial situation of the municipalities with a view to possible assistance from the government, a question that has been urged by the Union of B. C. municipalities and the separate cities and townships of the province for some time and which was left over at the last assembly, a fall session of the legislature is to be called not later than November, according to an announcement made yesterday afternoon by Premier John Oliver, who returned at the first of the week from a visit to eastern Canada.

Regular legislative business will also be taken up at this session and it is likely that the legislature will hereafter assemble late each year instead of in the early spring as has been the custom in the past.

STRONG FAVOR CHURCH UNION

Presbyterian Assembly Again Endorsed it; by Vote 414 to 107.

VISITORS WILL BE ENTERTAINED

Prince George Will Arrive 7:30 Tomorrow Night With Vancouver Excursionists.

It was decided at the Board of Trade meeting last night, to make arrangements for the members of the local Board to wear distinctive badges during the visit of the Vancouver Board of Trade excursionists, to enable the latter to know who to address, when seeking help or information during their stay in the city.

A telegram was read from H. P. Gibson, president of Stewart citizens' association, inviting the members of the board to accompany the visitors from Vancouver, arriving here tomorrow, on the trip to Stewart. The president announced his intention of endeavoring to go, and hoped that as many as possible of the board would make the trip. President Williams addressed the meeting of the reception, and entertainment of the Vancouver Board of Trade excursion.

The Prince George will arrive at 7:30 tomorrow night with the excursionists, who will spend tomorrow night and all the next day in the city, leaving at midnight Friday for Stewart and Anox. During their stay in the city, the Vancouver visitors are to be entertained by the local Board and the programme includes their being shown all the points of interest and industry about the city. Also there will be the big dance in their honor at St. Andrew's Hall Friday night.

 Complete Treatment That Gives Gratifying Results

 "I had an attack of Weeping Eczema so bad that my clothes would be wet through at times. For four months, I suffered terribly, I could get no relief until I tried 'Fruit-a-lives' and 'Sootha-Salva'." Altogether, I have used three boxes of "Sootha-Salva" and two of "Fruit-a-lives", and am entirely well."
 G. W. HALL.
 Both these favorite remedies are sold by dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa. "Fruit-a-lives" is also put up in a trial size which sells for 25c.

Importance of Public Health Nurse.
 "To help the sick to recover, to protect those who are well, and everywhere and at all times to teach the fundamental laws of health." In these words has been aptly summarized the function of the Public Health Nurse. One of the most important aims of the Red Cross Society is the establishing of Public Health Nurses in every community. In a comparatively few localities the experience of a Public Health Nurse has already been made and her work has invariably received the enthusiastic endorsement of the community in which she was placed, the greatest value being attached to the protection it affords to the common health, particularly through her educative work with mothers and their children.

She Must Have Special Training.
 The great importance of the work she has undertaken makes a special course of training very necessary to the Public Health Nurse. In addition to being a graduate nurse, a special post-graduate course is provided by the universities of Canada (including the University of British Columbia) special instruction and training being given in the means of bringing health knowledge to the public and in applying it to daily life. There is, at the present time, a very inadequate supply of Public Health Nurses, and it is one of the duties of the Red Cross Society to provide the necessary facilities to enable nurses who show an aptitude for this special department of nursing to receive the proper training.

Carries Gospel of Health to Homes.
 Dr. C. E. A. Winslow, a high authority on public health, has this to say of the Public Health Nurse: "She must be a trained nurse, skilled in the relief of suffering and the bedside care of the sick, but she must be much more. Her work is primarily that of the health teacher, the messenger who carried into the home and interprets to the individual mother the gospel of good health. She must work largely alone, not under the immediate direction of a physician. She must know her bacteriology and her physiology, her sanitation and hygiene well enough to teach their principles to others; and she, too, must deal with the individual, not merely as an individual, but as an element in a complex social group. The Red Cross is inaugurating a nation-wide campaign for the development of health centers throughout the country."

Red Cross Society Undertaking Task.
 The special duties of the Public Health Nurse can only be briefly summarized. They include visiting nursing, tuberculosis nursing, maternity and infant welfare nursing, school nursing, industrial nursing, mental hygiene nursing, first aid and home nursing, emergency nursing and hospital social service. In a word she must be not only all that an ordinary qualified nurse is, but a thoroughly competent adviser and instructor as well. To enable a sufficient supply of such nurses to be placed at the service of communities everywhere in this province is one of the important tasks of the British Columbia Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society, and one for which it asks the undivided support of all good citizens.

AN APPRECIATION OF CONDUCTOR W. D. MOXLEY
 A. G. Lytle, the correspondent for the Vancouver Province at the Vanderhoof Daymen's convention, writes the following to his paper referring to W. D. Moxley, the well-known and popular conductor.
 On Wednesday we discovered the "Alex. Dunn" of the G.T.P. He is "Bill" Moxley, conductor on the passenger train from Prince Rupert to Smithers, a man who worked on construction twelve years ago and has been on the job ever since without a break. He knows everyone and his activities in this country are more varied than those of a Vancouver junk dealer. He is a man of parts with a ready wit and a gift for forgetting. Bill, for that is what everybody calls him, earns $280 odd monthly on his regular run. He owns property in Rupert and in Terrace, has a sixty-acre farm and is the store proprietor at Cedarvale. He transacts business all along the route, cashes cheques and generally is rated one of the shrewdest business men and the best railroader in the north.

 our boys pose to the occasion and fought for a principle showed that the spirit of the Canadians was not dead. Secondly and this was not an encouraging reason, it was discovered that Canada had spent millions in developing her natural resources but had forgotten the human asset. It was found that fifty percent of the Canadian men were not fit for military service. The reason was not through disease but through malnutrition, neglect of personal hygiene and unsanitary conditions. Medical authorities state that eighty percent of the peace time diseases are preventable and this is proven by the fact that among the military casualties of the war, five percent were due to disease. Nothing new had been discovered but merely rules for prevention and correction had been enforced. By a campaign of education we intend to carry out in peace time what was accomplished by compulsion during the war.

Class of Work.
 The plan adopted in B. C. for the continuation of the war work comes under several classes. There is, first of all, the continuation of the war work and the duty to the returned men. Then there will be the extension of rural nursing and the supervision of health centres. Branches will be organized and education given. The reports of the medical inspectors in the public schools will be followed up. Medical service to the isolated lighthouses of the coast will be instituted. Disaster relief depots for emergencies arising from disasters and epidemics will be established one such to be started here in Prince Rupert. The workshops for disabled soldiers, which are already caring for 800 in the province, will be carried on. The greatest work of all, perhaps, will be the providing of rural nurses for outlying districts. Graduate nurses with special training will be supplied through co-operation with the Royal Victorian Order of Nurses. Already there are 13 nurses engaged in this work in the Province. One has just arrived at Fort Fraser and her district will be from Endako to Engen. Later it is expected, there will be one for the district between Endako and Burns Lake and Burns Lake to Smithers and on the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Local Objective
 The main objects of the Red Cross in its peace time campaign will be the improving of the public health, the prevention of disease and the mitigation of suffering. We are not asking for money but are endeavoring to get members. With people members of the society it is hoped that the direct interest in the work will urge their better support. Prince Rupert's objective should be 1000 members and I shall indeed be ashamed to report it if we get less."

Rev. Marsh Speaks.
 Following the address of Judge Young, Rev. T. J. Marsh of Terrace spoke briefly. He told of the condition of affairs at Terrace when the "flu" epidemic was on and emphasized what a blessing it would have been at that time had they but a rural nurse. This was only one example but it was a forcible one and there were many similar places close by. Such facts as these could provide no better argument for the cause.

Following this volunteer members were enlisted resulting in the following names being set down to assist in the campaign: Ald. John Dybbavn, J. W. Nicholls, T. H. Johnson, Captain C. B. Formby, C. H. Orme, W. H. Tobey, Captain E. McCoskrie, G. A. McNicholl, J. C. Brady, G. A. Woodland, C. E. Betts and W. F. Roberge.

DR. CLARK OF RED DEER ON RAIL QUESTION

No Royal Road Betterment Situation—Should Increase Business and Stop Leakage.

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, June 7.—"There is no royal road to the betterment of our railway situation," declared Dr. Michael Clark, M. P. for Red Deer, speaking before the Canadian Club here Monday night. "Conditions cannot be helped by the waving of a magic wand. The railway problem is part of the national problem and can only be solved by fundamental business qualities which invariably lead to success in any human endeavor. There is a demand, in the first place on our courage. We must bravely face the facts."

"The increase of motor traffic and prohibition has seriously affected the income of the railways. People who relieved the tedium of long journeys by glass of wine to dinner, supplied by the railway companies, carry the money to the end of their journey to help pay their water rates. This may be bad or good, but the fact remains that if we cease to mail barley, less will be grown and less carried."

Expense Inflation.
 "A potent cause of present disaster is to be found in the inflation of wages and running expenses during the war period. Time will bring some readjustments in these matters, but these readjustments must be brought about carefully."

"What can be done at once along certain lines would bring immediate betterment in the condition. In the first place, management can be improved so as to save money, which is as good as making it. It is freely rumored that the Canadian Pacific Railway is carrying paying passengers over certain lines, while over corresponding lines the National Railway is carrying little but deadheads. This may or may not be an exaggerated statement. We do know that special cars and passes to our legislators, federal and provincial, and their sisters and their cousins and their aunts entail expense and curtail income. The duty of the management is clear. A bankrupt concern ought not to be, and cannot be for long a charitable institution."

Challenge to Patriotism.
 "The important things, however, are to increase business and stop leakages. To do these things is a challenge to our patriotism. Canada needs a citizenship in some small degree worthy of those who gave their lives for her—a citizenship from parliament downwards of men and women who will resolutely set themselves to merge their own interests completely in the national interests. Canada is worth living for. And if we work incessantly for her in a spirit of unselfishness and devotion to the public good, she will rapidly become incomparably the country which is best worth living in."

Archbishop Du Vernet's Charge to His Diocese.

Archbishop Du Vernet's charge to the Anglican Synod of the Diocese of Caledonia, which opened here this morning was as follows:—

What is the outlook for religion in Northern British Columbia? The answer to this question depends upon what we mean by religion. If we adopt the traditional view of religion the outlook is most discouraging. There is in this far west and mountainous country much less external religion than there is in the East. There is not the same regard for Sunday. There is not the same attendance at church. There is not the same respect for the minister as a minister. There is not the same reading of the Bible. There are not the same meetings for prayer. All this has a depressing effect upon a clergyman fresh from some well organized parish in Eastern Canada or England. We must, however, be on our guard but also to society. In other words we are getting back to the two-fold fundamental principle taught by Christ—love to God and love to our fellow-men. To take one more example of the new outlook:—Our particular Church or religious denomination, does not bulk so large now in our mind as formerly, because the wider vision has made us see that we can only value our own Church aright as we realize how it is related to the Universal Church, and so properly co-ordinated with all other branches of the Church of Christ.

Meeting Modern Needs.

It is the spirit of the recent Lambeth Appeal to all Christian people which is so inspiring. The language of this appeal is too cramped to do justice to the great cause. The Spirit of God working through the living Church has full authority to create new forms of organization better adapted to meet modern needs. There was a time when we firmly believed that the electric current must follow the line of the metallic wire. Now we know by practical demonstration that the electric wave can leap through space quite independently of this wire. The old system has not been superceded for it is still more reliable, but by the side of the old system we have now made room for the new system of wireless telegraphy.

For fifteen hundred years the spirit of God as the Divine Administrator of the Church made use of the Episcopal Line of succession in the transmitting of the authority of the Church. This is strong presumptive evidence in its favor. But for the last five hundred years the same Spirit of God has abundantly demonstrated that His Power is not tied to this Episcopal Line of succession, but overlaps the bounds of such narrow limitation. The old system of the Historic Episcopate must not be abandoned for it is still effective, but by the side of this we must make room for other systems of ecclesiastical order which have proved their worth. The principle of historic continuity is essential but when the Spirit of Him Who is the same "Yesterday, today and forever" is manifestly working through the organism of some Church we have the highest guarantee of this essential continuity.

Loyalty in Religion.

Loyalty to our Church traditions forces us to hold fast to the historic Episcopate, but loyalty to the Spirit of Christ will not allow us to erect this piece of ecclesiastical machinery as a barrier in the way of Christian Fellowship.

Social contact is the great solvent for religious prejudice. Let men of the different Churches come together for common worship and common work for the

ALICE ARM

The news boys' cry of "Alice Arm Herald" on the streets of Alice Arm Saturday morning was a pleasant surprise to the citizens of our town. With the first issue, our isolation is wiped away, and we feel quite cosmopolitan. We bespeak for the venture a profitable outcome, and it has our hearty support.

A. J. Bone and J. Hodgson, of the Silver Star property on the Alliance River, went up to their camp on Saturday, where they have a crew of men under Louis Izzo doing development work. They contemplate putting on more men in the immediate future.

The big event in the social life of the town for the week was the dance given on the evening of June 3, by the residents of Camp 8 at the end of the tram below the Dolly Varden Mine. Some thirty-five people made the trip in five sections of hand cars. A most enjoyable time was spent, dancing the night through, and returning to town early Saturday morning. George Bruggie officiated as floor manager and toast master in his usual efficient and witty manner.

Messrs. Morley and Pratt have opened up some nice ore on their property at Copper Creek, six miles up the Alliance River. It is a high grade grey copper, and they seem to have struck quite a body.

BODIES WASHED UP ON DANUBE RIVER

BUDAPEST, June 7.—Much mystification and considerable alarm have been caused in Budapest by the fact that one or two bodies of human beings bearing unmistakable traces of violence have been washed ashore daily for two weeks at a point on the Danube River a short distance above Budapest.

Some of the victims had their feet bound together with wire, others bore many wounds and, in one case, the bodies of two girls were found with stones tied to their necks.

None of the bodies have been identified. Detectives say that it is evident that passengers on the Danube River are falling victims to murderous hands.

common cause of Christ and Humanity, and the Unity of the Spirit will be felt with such overwhelming power that the variety of men will no longer be an obstacle in the way of a Comprehensive Church.

As one step in this direction I am glad to be able to say that in this Diocese we have made a beginning in the way of putting into operation two of the resolutions adopted by a joint-committee appointed by the Anglican Provicarial Synod and the Presbyterian Provincial Synod of British Columbia, these resolutions having first received a general approval from both Synods. The resolutions are as follows:

"That before occupying new territory, where there are few settlers and there is little prospect of rapid growth, or where other special circumstances exist, conference be held between the Bishop of the Diocese and the Superintendent of Missions, so as to prevent overlapping during the pioneer stage, upon the clear and definite understanding that each Communion reserves to itself the right to send a clergyman from time to time into such districts to administer the sacraments to its people."

"That in cases of sparsely settled districts where missionaries of both Communions are at work, services should be held either on different Sundays, or at different hours on the same Sunday, so as to avoid apparent conflict, and that the Bishop of the Diocese and the Superintendent of Missions should use their influence to promote such arrangements."

Mutual Agreement.

Early last February the Superintendent of Presbyterian Missions and I, with map in hand, surveyed the territory covered by this Diocese and came to a mutual agreement in regard to many places in accordance with the terms of these two resolutions. As this Diocese consists of 200,000 square miles and our resources in men and money are so limited it is our bounden duty to co-operate with other Churches so as together minister to the spiritual needs of the people scattered over this vast territory.

In this connection I would report that since last we met as a Synod we have lost by removal or death six clergymen, and have gained by ordination or incoming eight, so that we can still face forward and march on.

As the Church Missionary Society of England which began work in this Diocese in 1857 has practically withdrawn from this field supporting now only Archdeacon Collison and myself, I wish to express in the name of this Diocese our profound sense of gratitude to that noble society which for over sixty-three years supported a splendid band of missionaries among our Indians at a cost of nearly half a million dollars.

Self Support Needed.

All our Missions, both Indian and white must now make a more heroic effort to support their own clergymen. This brings us back to near the point from which we started. Do we appreciate religion enough to maintain the means which will promote it?

The trend of the best thought of today is away for the materialistic toward the spiritual. The outlook is most hopeful. While men are spurning the refinements of theology they are craving for the essentials of religion. The Spirit of Christ in the souls of men manifesting itself in universal friendship is the only thing which can save religion, and the only religion which can save the world.

YACHTING CLUB MOVE HAZELTON

River Steamer Has Been Put on Grid Further in Cove.

In order to eliminate any possibility of her sinking on account of the bad condition of her hull, the old river steamer Hazelton, now used as a club house of the Prince Rupert Rowing and Yachting Club, was moved on the high tide of Monday night to a specially built platform where she now sits solidly on the grid. The grid is situated further in the cove a short distance from the old location of the boat and her hull has been opened that the water will flow in and out as the tide rises and falls.

The floats still remain in the same place and the boats of the members will still remain moored to these. The distance for owners of rowboats, canoes and small engines to take their boats and equipment into the club house is only a few feet further than it was before and the club house is now in a safer position where it will be impossible for disaster to befall it.

Sport Chat

With a difference in weight of about 20 pounds when they meet in the ring a little less than three weeks hence, Dempsey and Carpentier will otherwise appear almost equal in build and stature. If both were to mix in among a few collegiate athletes, probably neither would be picked out as being unusually big or formidable in general make-up. The champion's shoulders are broad while Carpentier's are sloping in shape but otherwise the bodily measurements of the pair do not differ to any marked extent.

Dempsey showed in his bout with Willard at Toledo, when he won the title, that his blows possess enormous punishing power but his more recent encounter with Bill Brennan at Madison Square Garden did not demonstrate that he still retains the forceful punch necessary to successfully stand off a man of Carpentier's undoubted ability and cleverness. Just how good the challenger is or how hard a blow he can land is problematical to the most of fistic patrons who have seen him in action. His only bout in America, that with Levinsky, always a clever boxer, made practically no serious effort to defend himself and went down an easy victim to the Frenchman in the fourth round.

Nearly thirty years have elapsed since Queensberry rules and glove contests were substituted for the London prize ring code governing pugilistic contests for championship titles. In most of the bouts fought for the heavyweight championship since the change took place, there was a decided advantage in stature between the principals, but this did not always carry victory with it.

Beginning with the Corbett-Sullivan battle in New Orleans in 1892, the big Boston man was massive in proportion to the lithe, supple and extremely clever Californian but the smaller man annexed the title in the twenty-first round. Corbett was half an inch taller and 20 pounds heavier than Bob Fitzsimmons when the latter knocked him out, winning the title in 1897. Two years later Jim Jefferies, outweighing Bob by fifty pounds, won the title in 11 rounds at Coney Island. Jack Johnson, who knocked Jefferies out at Reno in 1910, was one inch shorter and ten pounds lighter than the Ohioan. Jess Willard, the giant Kansan, was by all odds the biggest man who ever held the world's title and had decided advantages over Johnson when he defeated the negro at Havana in 1915. When he met Dempsey, two years ago, these physical advantages did not enable him to withstand Dempsey's onslaught and he confessed afterwards that he did not remember much after he was knocked down in the opening round.

DRAWNS ARE MADE FOR DOMINION DAY SERIES

Result—Sons of England vs. G. W.V.A.; Sons of Canada vs. Gallies.

Draws for the Dominion Day Cup ties were made last night by the Prince Rupert Football Association. They resulted in the Sons of England drawing the Great War Veterans for the first game to be played June 17, while the second game, on June 20, will be between the Sons of Canada and the Gallies. George Russell will referee the first game and R. Mercer, the second.

The winners of these two games will play on Dominion Day in the final for the cup. R. Mercer will be the official arbiter at this game.

Mrs. O. H. Nelson, of Prince Rupert, and her daughter, Madeline, are in town for a few days as the guests of Mrs. W. Manson, 1019 Hemlock Street—Vancouver World.

DIFFERENCE IN WEIGHT TO BE TWENTY POUNDS

Dempsey Will Weigh 190 and Carpentier 170 in Big Battle.

ATLANTIC CITY, June 7.—There will be a difference of about twenty pounds when Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier enter the ring at Jersey City on July 2. Dempsey said today that he plans to fight at a weight of 190 pounds or three pounds heavier than when he fought Jess Willard and won the world's title. It is understood that Carpentier will weigh in at 170 pounds.

Experts who have seen both men are satisfied that they will be well matched in speed and cleverness, but the majority believe that Dempsey will carry by far the heavier weight in his blows. Dexterity and suppleness are claimed as advantages for the Frenchman by his followers, but just how hard a punch he can deliver is still a problem.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

Hon. William Templeman, the popular member for Comox, A.L.N., had a heart to heart talk with his supporters about the needs of the district, at a crowded meeting last night at the McIntyre Hall.

There arrived in the G.T.P. party that reached the city yesterday, President Hays, E. J. Chamberlain, Vice President and General manager; Mr. Dabymple, general traffic manager; Capt. C. H. Nicholson; W. G. Donnelly, expert on dry docks; and Mr. D'Arcy Tate. Mr. Hays and Mr. Chamberlain are accompanied by their secretaries and Capt. Gibson, vice president of the G.T.P. Dock Co.

The city council and the Railway company have come to an agreement on the assessment matter. The city agrees to forego its claim for $106,000 taxes for last year, and accept $15,000 a year for ten years instead. The company will hand over the Park site and 100 feet of water frontage at Fairview.

THE RED CROSS AND ITS WORK AMONG THE CHILDREN

THE importance of the care of children's teeth cannot be too strongly emphasized. Throughout all Canada, the condition revealed by such inspections as are taking place in public and other schools is really appalling. Following an inspection of school children conducted by the Red Cross in Peel County, Ontario, it was found that 75% of all the children were suffering from decayed teeth and 12% had lost the third molar or the tooth they get between the ages of 5 and 7 years. Very few mothers know that this is a permanent tooth, the loss of which not only spoils the shape of the jaw, but reduces the masticating capacity very greatly. Through bad teeth the child develops careless habits in eating. It is difficult and not infrequently painful for the child to masticate its food, which in consequence is swallowed whole, a pernicious habit certain to have a serious effect on the child's future life, spare will not permit the enumeration of the diseases and ailments which are directly traceable to defective teeth among children and adults—they are well known to the medical profession, and the cause is not overlooked. Among the public, however, great ignorance in this connection still exists. It is the aim of the Red Cross to correct this situation in its every phase.
