Lays Corner Stone of Big Building ERAL CAMPAIGN OPENS WITH LIVE ORGANIZATION MEETING

Organizing Organization Meeting Liberals Last Night Fine Augury for Success at Polls

That the Skeena electoral district had everything to lose by the defeat of the Meighen Government and the return of the Liberal party and that what was needed at this time was a policy that would aid in the development of the resources of the country, Fred Stork at the Liberal meeting last night made his first address here since the doors and the doorway and aisle were blocked with anxious to identify themselves with the opposition to the present Government.

Other speakers besides the candidate included Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of Lands in the Oliver administration, Hon. A. M. Manson, speaker of the Legislature, H. F. Kergin, member of the provincial legislature for Atlin, W. E. Williams, president of the Liberal Association, Dr. W. T. Kergin, former member for the district, Ben Self and others. They were all a unit in declaring that they felt sure of a Liberal victory both here and in the country generally and that for this district the only hope was to get rid of the Meighen administration and put in its place a Government sympathetic to the port of Prince Rupert and to the railway which had been built by the Liberals under the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Speaker Manson warned the people against being led away by any so called independent candidate who might come forward and showed how impossible it was for an independent to be of service to the community. The gathering was a splendid augury for the success of the party at the polls in this district where from one end to the other the people were tired of the mismanagement of the present group.

Stork's Address.
Fred Stork spoke of the splendid meeting and of its augury for success at the election. He declared that conditions were similar today to what they were in 1916 when the Liberals were returned to power. At that time business was stagnant and chaotic and there were seven bolters from the cabinet. Today conditions in the country were just as bad and seven members of the cabinet had been pushed out. Former ministers were discarded and while the new ones may be excellent men he felt like asking as did an eastern paper, "Who are they?"

Mr. Stork mentioned the way in which Mr. Meighen had hung on to office, giving as his excuse that it was necessary to pass a redistribution measure before appealing to the country. Then at the last minute, when it was found the census returns put them at a disadvantage, they decided to ignore the census and bring on the election at once.

Tariff Issue.
Mr. Stork dealt at some length with the matter of tariff. Mr. Meighen declared it was to be the issue and Liberals did not object to that. What they did object to was having the tariff issue cover all the past record of the Government, which was open to criticism.

If the Meighen party was re-elected the tariff would be raised higher than it was today, and that in a country depending on the development of its natural resources for its progress. In this province there was a duty of a cent a pound on the importation of American fish. While this was not operative because there was hardly any American fish imported, yet it proved an excuse for the United States raising the duty against Canadian fish in the Fordney Bill now before Congress. During last session members of the House who had always professed free trade principles voted consistently with the Government to defeat any reciprocity or lower duty proposals. Had the report of the International Fisheries committee been adopted on its submission in 1918 there would have been absolute free trade in fish between the two countries. The country was in the hands of a high tariff Tory Government and in the campaign they must meet them on that

ONE REASON TITLE LOST BY YANKEES

New York Goes Back to Work After Week Off at Ball Games.
NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—New York went back to work today after partially forgetting business for more than a week because it interfered with the world's baseball series. Everyone here is agreed that one reason the Yankees lost the title after starting out like whirlwinds was the failure of the heavy hitters to hit heavy.

BENEFIT FOR UNEMPLOYED

Monster Affairs Planned by United British Commission in New York City.
NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Unemployed British men and women here will be given relief through the proceeds of a benefit given by the United British Relief Commission. Sir Auckland Geddes, Harry Lauder and Broadway stars will attend and contribute to the program.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—A fiscal committee appointed by the Government of India consisting of seven natives and five British are going into the question of the desirability of adopting the principle of imperial preference.

DEMAND LIFT OF EMBARGO

Scottish Meat Traders Demand That Government Take Action on Commission's Report.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The Scottish Federation of Meat Traders has passed a resolution demanding that the British government pass legislation at once putting into effect the favorable recommendations of the commission respecting the admission of Canadian cattle. The commission in its report recently recommended that the embargo be lifted.

Developments with respect to the embargo are being watched with keen interest on both sides of the Atlantic and it is expected that the Imperial government will take action towards the lifting of the long standing embargo at an early date. The general opinion both in the United Kingdom and Canada is that it would be in the best interests of both sides to have it taken off.

DEPLORES PREACHING L. W. W. PRINCIPLES

So States Premier Theodore, of Queensland, at Australian Labor Conference.
LONDON, Oct. 14.—A cable from Brisbane says that Premier Theodore, of Queensland, speaking at an Australian labor conference, deplored the preaching by the delegates of doctrines enunciated by the Russian communists and the American Industrial Workers of the World.

Minister of Lands Tells of Problems Here and Abroad

Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, returned last night full of optimism and keenly interested in the progress of British Columbia, and particularly of the northern section. He had much to tell of the possibilities of immigration, of business conditions and of the condition of Germany, which he visited while away. The main object of the trip was the extension of markets for timber products and the laying of plans for immigration. In both of these the minister met with considerable success, the fruits of which have already become apparent. Speaking of his trip Mr. Pattullo said: "Those of us who know British Columbia well may sometimes imagine that the rest of the world is equally well posted. As a matter of fact there are a good many people in British Columbia who know comparatively little of British Columbia, so that it is not surprising that it is necessary to conduct a campaign of education outside of British Columbia in order that our resources and possibilities may be understood. "Recently, when I was in London, the British Admiralty were calling for tenders for timber, specifying Oregon Pine. This is not surprising in view of the fact that only a short time ago it was necessary for us to send a representative to Ottawa to insist on Ottawa changing their specifications, which called for Southern Pine. "Education Campaign. "The extension of our timber markets requires constant edu-

Court House Corner Stone Laid Today by Minister of Lands Is Important Milestone in History

HAROLD BUSCOMBE IS VICTIM OF SHOOTING ACCIDENT ABERDEEN
VANCOUVER, Oct. 14.—Harold Buscombe, 22 years of age, the son of ex-Mayor Fred Buscombe of this city, is dead at Aberdeen, Wash., as the result of a shooting accident.

IRISH CONFERENCE ADJOURNS TO MONDAY

Met This Morning and Will in Session until 1:30 This Afternoon.
LONDON, Oct. 14.—No announcement in regard to the deliberations of the conference between the Sinn Fein and the British Government was given out. It met this morning at eleven and continued in session until 1:30 this afternoon, adjourning then to meet on Monday afternoon.

VAGRANT HANGED SELF OKALLA PRISON CELL

VANCOUVER, Oct. 14.—Fred Marshall, sentenced to three months for vagrancy and sent to Okalla prison farm, was found dead in his cell having hanged himself.

In the laying of the corner stone of the new Provincial Government court house at the Market Place by Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, this morning, one of the most important ceremonies and one marking a milestone in the history of the city's progress took place. The tablet was placed at the base of the southwest corner of the main floor and bore the following inscription: "This stone was laid by the Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, October 15, 1921." It was tapped into place by the minister with a special sterling silver mallet provided for the occasion which, together with a sterling silver trowel, was presented later to Mr. Pattullo.

There was a gathering of citizens assembled to witness the pleasing ceremony and the clouds lifted auspiciously for the event. A platform had been erected for the speakers and guests those taking their place on it being: Hon. and Mrs. T. D. Pattullo, Architect and Mrs. J. W. Potter, Mayor Rochester, Fred Stork, J. G. Scott, J. G. Steen, W. E. Williams, president of the Board of Trade, George H. Muaro, president of the Northern B. C. Agricultural and Industrial Association, E. H. Morimer, H. Pattinson, M. P., McCaffery and R. Boyson.

Indication of Confidence.
"A new country like this has to fight for its existence," said Mr. Pattullo in his address, "but Prince Rupert may congratulate itself on the progress it has made. The erection of this building is an important milestone in the history of the city and indicates the confidence that the rest of the province has in the future of Prince Rupert and Northern British Columbia. I trust that this is only the first of a series of ceremonies of the kind and that there will be buildings of equal magnificence soon, such as a post office, Dominion government buildings and railway station.

"I do not think this court house is too large for present needs. It is only a unit and is constructed in such a way that it may be added to. I wish to express my appreciation to Hon. Dr. King, minister of public works, for making it possible for me to act today. I also wish to thank the contractors for the presentation of this handsome trowel and mallet.

"I now declare this stone well and truly laid and hope that the building will be of benefit to all the people."
Mayor's Congratulations.
Mayor Rochester congratulated Mr. Pattullo on the interest he had taken, the effort he had made to get the court house and the success he had attained. Old timers had waited a long time for such a ceremony to take place but he urged that the past disappointments be forgotten and all live in the enjoyment of the present.

W. E. Williams felt that the city was on the threshold of a great forward movement. All should buckle in and work towards as good progress as possible. Prince Rupert had helped to pay for Vancouver's court house, he declared, but the city had paid for its own twice over.
Congratulate Minister.
Fred Stork said that he saw many corner stones of 1908 on the platform and in the audience and among them was Hon. T. D. Pattullo. The growth of the city and its advantages (Continued on Page Six.)

JEALOUS MAN SHOT WOMAN AND HER SON

VANCOUVER, Oct. 14.—Apparently crazed by jealousy, William Mackling, an old resident forced his way into the home of Mrs. Mary McDonald and shot and slightly wounded the woman and her sixteen year old son, Donald. After firing at the McDonalds he turned the gun on himself and will probably die from the self-inflicted wound. The woman and her son will recover.

NO UNEMPLOYED ON CONTINENT

General Manager Bank of Commerce Says Germany Seems As Well Off as Ever.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Sir John Aird, vice president and general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, is here en route to Canada after having visited in France, Germany and Belgium. He states that one of the outstanding facts he had seen was that everybody on the continent was working hard and there certainly was no unemployment at the present time. In Germany, the people are, outwardly at any rate, well fed and well dressed. Germany appears as well organized today as in pre-war days.

BRITISH AID TO EXPORTERS

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Government guarantees to traders exporting to certain countries have been raised to 75 per cent of the goods exported. The sum of £12,000,000 has already been deposited with banks, who will act as Government agents in the scheme for improving exports. The post office department is planning to elaborate a scheme of work to relieve unemployment.

WANTED TO MARCH BUT SCATTERED BY POLICE OF DUNDEE

DUNDEE, Oct. 14.—Four thousand unemployed assembled in the centre of the city and attempted to march through the main streets but were scattered by the police.

breaking into the European markets in respect of certain classes of our timber, but there are other classes in which we can secure some considerable business.

"I did not have time to visit Egypt, but Mr. Turnbull is remaining over for some time in connection with the timber business, and in all probability I shall have to return to Europe some time after the sitting of the legislature in order to complete the work which has been started.

Immigration Important.

"The problem of immigration is an all important one, both for British Columbia and the whole of the Dominion of Canada. I am inclined to think that possibly I have somewhat broader views with respect to the problem of immigration than is generally given expression to at the present time. While it would undoubtedly be a mistake to dump large numbers of people into our large cities, I nevertheless believe that we can assimilate a larger number of immigrants than is generally contemplated. I think we should make our first effort to get people on the land. For every man that is upon the land means another in the city to supply him with the manufactured articles which he must have.

Aggressive Policy.

"It is proposed to carry out an aggressive policy of immigration as far as British Columbia is concerned, and while I was in the old country I think I succeeded in creating a very great deal of interest in the problem and have laid the foundation for pursuing the work along lines which will result in considerable flow of settlers to British Columbia.

"At the present time Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and other nations of the Empire are formulating very elaborate plans in respect of the problem of immigration. The one thing which we must have in Canada in view of the great extent of our country and our immense resources is that the land must be peopled.

"I believe that we have less cause for worry than any other country on earth and that we will experience during the next few decades a larger proportionate development than any other country in the world. But this can only be brought about by progressive and aggressive common sense action.

Heroic Struggle.

"Great Britain is making a heroic struggle to get on her feet. The one big bugbear which has been staring them in the face is the Irish question, and there is also the unemployment situation, which a great many people think has been aggravated through the system of doles, whereby men who have been out of work have been receiving the same pay as men who have been working. A great many people seem to think that the nation has been trying to lift itself up by the boot straps. The whole question is an exceedingly intricate, but also an exceedingly interesting one and there are so many aspects to it that it would take too much time to give expression to the many viewpoints that occur to me.

"The one big question facing all the nations in Europe is that of debt. It is facing the nations of Europe in the same manner that an individual debt faces the individual, and there is no man living who can foresee the final outcome.

"During my trip to Europe, I visited Sweden for the purpose of looking into the methods in vogue in respect of timber production. They use timber there that we prodigally throw away here. British Columbia, however, will gradually discard its wasteful methods and with the people coming to a realization of the heritage which is being wasted from forest fires much greater care will be exercised.

"In all of these matters the final responsibility rests upon the people themselves. Governments can only direct and it is for the people to carry out.

German Competition.

"I also visited Germany and France. The Germans are working hard and while there is unanimity as far as the outside world is concerned, there is considerable difference of opinion internally. With the skilled laborer receiving six or seven marks an hour, which is equivalent of six or seven cents, German competition is a problem. Germany's difficulties are still ahead. She levied no taxes for war. The Allies were to pay for the war. She carried on by printing paper money. One requires a bushel basket to carry his money in Germany. The Reichstag is now meeting and is faced with the problem of levying taxes. The masses of the German people believe that the great war was a war of aggression against Germany and that Germany was strong enough to force the Allies to come to a peace. Germany shows no resentment against the English, but she dislikes the French. At a pageant, which I attended, one of the bands played "Deutschland uber Alles" immediately followed by Rule Britannia. No French airs were played.

As for France, Paris is still the gayest city in the world. Nevertheless, there always lurks the constant fear of what might happen. When one sees the devastation that took place it brings it home pretty closely. In different towns scores of buildings demolished, a great many of which have not yet been repaired, while in the fields great shell holes still bear evidence of the devastation.

"I would rather live in Canada than any other country on earth, and I would rather live in British Columbia than any other part of Canada. We are fortunate to be in Canada and fortunate to be in British Columbia. Comparatively we have not any troubles and there is no place for the groucher, kick-er and the pessimist. We are in the greatest country and the greatest province on earth."

Col. Cunningham, former commissioner of fisheries, has his office in the British Columbia House. Col. Cunningham has been doing excellent work. Educational work requires to be done in respect of the salmon industry just as it does in respect to the lumber business. The canning industry of British Columbia has got to get out after the business. They need not expect that the business will come to British Columbia without effort. Our American friends have been exceedingly active. Not only do they have representatives on the ground, but they have actual stock on the ground, which can be delivered at a moment's notice. Dealers in London don't want to wait three or four months for goods when they can get them immediately. There are also a considerable number of what may be called tricks of the trade that may seem comparatively small, but are all important in the actual making of sales and to which our British Columbia industry must be alive. Liver Pains Pains under the shoulder blades tell of liver derangements. Other indications are sallow complexion, indigestion, constipation, biliousness and bilious headaches.

The quickest way to arouse the liver to healthful action is by use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Continued use will insure lasting relief, correct the whole digestive system and purify the blood.

Mrs. Wm. Barten, Hanover, Ont., writes:

"For some time I suffered from liver trouble. There was a hard, bearing-down feeling in my back which I could not get rid of. Some one advised me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and found them excellent. The dragging feeling in my back disappeared and I felt much benefited generally. I have great confidence in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and always keep them on hand for general use."

TAXI AFFAIRS GIVEN AIRING

Police Commission Discussed Different Features at Meeting Last Night.

Taxi matters were given an airing at the police commission meeting last night. Several different phases were taken up and some recommendations were made to the police in connection with the enforcing of the law.

The recommendation for the revoking of a driver's license was made. The man in question had recently been convicted of driving while intoxicated. "I do not know the particular circumstances of this case in point," said Commissioner Macdonald, "but I certainly feel that the license of any chauffeur who is found drunk while driving should be taken away." This stand was endorsed by Mayor Rochester and Commissioner Myhill-Jones.

Commissioner Macdonald also went on record as being against discrimination. He said there were several cases that he knew of where it was almost certain drivers had been intoxicated. He cited one instance on Fulton Street where a driver had gone over the grade and was found one hour later asleep in bed. Witnesses of the incident had declared that the driver had been under the influence of liquor at the time. If one driver was prosecuted they all should be. He had a system which he would like to discuss privately. It would possibly do a lot towards bringing certain persons to time.

Night Driving.

Commissioner Myhill-Jones stated that the driving of cars about the city between the hours of midnight and early morning was becoming a decided nuisance. Cars raced at full speed along the streets with cut-outs open. The mayor instructed Chief Vickers to investigate the matter. It was pointed out that it was against the law to drive a car with the cut-out open.

Commissioner Macdonald argued that the police see that all taxi-drivers in the city were in possession of licenses and other proper requirements.

Mayor Rochester reported that parking difficulties were not causing so much trouble now. The bylaw regulating the parking of taxis in the vicinity of Comox Avenue was going through. The general bylaw would have to be held over for a time.

was offered from time to time at the Agent-General's office in London. Mr. Pattullo was asked his views in respect thereto. In reply Mr. Pattullo said:

Doing Splendid Work.

"The Agent-General's office is doing a splendid work. The present Agent-General, Mr. Wade, is an exceedingly able man and from his long experience as a newspaper man is able to attain most valuable publicity of the highest class for the province. He is a hard worker, is aggressive and constantly keeps British Columbia to the fore. The British Columbia building is located on one of the best sites in London. Not only is the building the rendezvous of British Columbians, but people from all parts of Canada. In my judgment the agency serves an exceedingly valuable purpose.

Col. Cunningham, former commissioner of fisheries, has his office in the British Columbia House. Col. Cunningham has been doing excellent work. Educational work requires to be done in respect of the salmon industry just as it does in respect to the lumber business. The canning industry of British Columbia has got to get out after the business. They need not expect that the business will come to British Columbia without effort. Minister of Agriculture Is Pleased with Interior Freight Rates Handicap

"I was very much impressed with the agricultural possibilities of the whole interior country," said Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, federal minister of agriculture, who returned to the city last night after having paid his first visit to the Bulkley and Nechaco valleys in company with Colonel C. W. Peck. The minister went as far as Grassy Plains, across Francois Lake, and visited Terrace, New Hazelton, Smithers, Telkwa, Bilns Lake and Francois Lake.

"I was surprised at the large area under cultivation and the still larger area suitable for cultivation," he said. "In my opinion it is primarily a mixed farming country with the possibilities of dairying and hog raising as occupations. These two particular occupations, at the present time, would probably give the best results." The uniform richness of the soil and the large crops struck me particularly.

"Farmers there should select for cultivation such grains as will mature early. Full information as to these can be obtained by communicating with the headquarters of the Dominion Experimental farm system at Ottawa. It is the purpose of the experimental farms to enable the farmers to obtain information without having to conduct expensive experiments at their own expense.

Cheaper Transportation.
"The necessity for cheaper transportation was impressed upon me through this visit. As long as the freight rates are as high as they are at present that country, along with others, will be handicapped.

"The Francois and Ootsa Lake districts, which lie many miles from the railway, are particularly affected with transportation difficulties. It would seem to me that the cheapest and best way to meet the difficulty would be the running of a short branch railway from the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific to the foot of the lake. There a system of barges on the lake suitable for the handling of the freight could be established. This is only a suggestion but it appears to me one that would be well worth investigating.

Good Cattle Seen.
"The good condition of the cattle in the Bulkley Valley and Lake District was impressive to me. There is a plentiful supply of water and it seems to me that it should make an ideal dairying district. The farmers should be careful in selecting their dairy stock, however. It is useless to attempt to do anything unless the animals give a reasonable supply of milk. Perhaps there is no more discouraging farming than attempting to do dairy business with scrub cows. The Farmers Institutes should give valuable information and do good service along these lines. In selecting stock and educating the farmers in the difference between types of dairy and beef cattle. Good sires and plenty of feed are also essential in dairying and stock raising.

"In this district the use of the silo should play an important part in the providing of succulent feed for the cattle when the ground is covered with snow. It is impossible to secure food in a cheaper way and any fodder plants are suitable in the making of ensilage. Sunflowers might be tried out with success in the district. They yield large crops and withstand frost well. Oats, peas and vetch is another combination that should grow and could be put in the silos at a low cost. "This section is undoubtedly entitled to an experimental farm. Valuable work could be done in furnishing the farmers with information peculiar to their needs and the conditions of the country. In the meantime, they can do no better than by making use of the head office at Ottawa and the other stations in the province."

Dr. Tolmie sailed at midnight on the Prince Rupert for Victoria. He will be leaving in a day or so for Ottawa.

BISHOP BUNOZ ON SUBJECT OF UNEMPLOYMENT

Discussed Problem in Able Address at Rotary Club Yesterday.

GREED RESPONSIBLE

Uncertainty of Labor Was One of Difficulties of Honest Workmen.

That the subject of unemployment was being considered by many people and called for immediate action was the opinion expressed yesterday at the luncheon of the Rotary Club by Bishop Bunoz in an able address on the subject delivered by him. The Bishop said that unemployment was one of the problems in ancient Greece and was therefore not a purely modern problem. Conventions and public bodies had discussed it in days past and varied remedies had been adopted or proposed. The last word had not yet been spoken, however. It was necessary to distinguish between the various kinds of unemployed. These might be classified as follows:

1. The old and feeble and those who were unable to work.
2. Professional vagrants who would not work unless compelled to do so.
3. Red agitators who would not accept work except on their own terms.
4. Men willing to work and unable to find employment.

Of the different classes, the old and feeble had to be provided for, the vagrants had to be compelled to work, and the red agitators were of interest only to the criminologist or police. It was with the men willing to work and unable to find it that all were concerned.

Public Relief.
The Bishop went on to speak of the different methods employed or proposed to deal with the big question. The most obvious of these was the provision of public relief such as was being undertaken in almost all nations just now.

At a convention in Holland to discuss this matter the minister of labor of Holland had advised that public bodies defer public works undertakings to the slack seasons of the year and also that a reserve fund be created to provide work where necessary. It was also suggested that an economic commission be created to study the matter, especially in connection with the more or less regular recurrence of periods of unemployment.

The delegates from England at that convention had reported that the creation of public works as a means of finding relief had proved most discouraging. It had failed to get results because it was the means of taking men from their legitimate callings, especially in connection with agriculture. Public works as a means of relief must

An examination of the box scores in the World Series baseball games this year once again proves that the making of errors loses more games than the making of hits won. In the fifth game the Giants made ten hits to the Yankees' six but lost the game on account of one untimely error. In the seventh, the Yankees made eight hits and the Giants six. One error for the former lost them the game. It goes to show that good pitching cannot alone win but that there must be good support behind it.

Aggregate figures for the series show that the Giants victory of five games to three was proportionate to the play of the series in runs, hits and errors. The Giants made a total of 29 runs, 71 hits and 5 errors. The Yankees made 22 runs, 50 hits and 6 errors. Of 29 runs made by the Giants, thirteen were scored in the third game and eight in the sixth. Of their 71 hits, 20 were made in the third and 13 in the sixth. The Giants also hold the record for the number of errors in a single game with three in the second. One game was errorless and, peculiarly, it was the third game when the Giants had such a jamboree of runs and hits. The Giants had five errorless games to the Yankees' three.

Following is box score for the eight games:

Yankees	R.	H.	E.
First	3	7	0
Second	3	3	0
Third	5	8	0
Fourth	2	7	1
Fifth	3	6	1
Sixth	5	7	2
Seventh	1	8	1
Eighth	0	4	1
	22	50	6

Giants	R.	H.	E.
First	0	5	0
Second	0	2	3
Third	13	20	0
Fourth	4	9	1
Fifth	1	10	1
Sixth	8	13	0
Seventh	2	6	0

be conducted judiciously. The international conference had dwelt on the duty of employers to create a steadiness in the labor market.

Bureaus and Insurance.
Two other means of dealing with unemployment were the establishment of labor bureaus and employment exchanges and the establishment of the insurance system. The former had been of great assistance and in ordinary times were effective in coping with the problem. The distribution of labor was rapid and effective but even this was insufficient at a time of crisis such as the present. Then it was up to the Government to come to the rescue.

The insurance system had proved ineffective because it had been adopted chiefly by skilled labor, leaving the great mass of unskilled workers unprotected. To be a success it would have to be compulsory.

Bishop Bunoz then expressed the opinion that there was plenty of work for all without adoption of either race suicide or the programs of the Reds who advocated short hours of labor. This would encourage loafing, which was a curse to the loafers. He gave it as his opinion that there was an unlimited amount of labor to be done and there was work for all.

Root of Evil.
Some thought the advent of the machine for facilitating the manufacture of goods without the use of labor caused the condition of unemployment, but he did not wholly agree with that.

"To get back to the root of the evil you must get to human greed," declared the speaker. "It is the greatest disturber of the peace in the world and so long as it is let loose we must feel the evil effect." Legislators were trying their best to remedy the evil but unless the legislative code was guided by high principles they would fail. "It is on the great code of Christian principles that people of all nations can meet to discuss the questions which are of interest to all."

The final point discussed by the Bishop was that of the uncertainty of labor. This was the difficulty met with by the honest workman. He may be laid off when least expected. Mutual confidence and co-operation, the speaker suggested as the means of dealing with this.

MANY ILLEGAL LIQUOR SALES

Says Commissioner Macdonald at Board Meeting—Matter Taken Up with Government.

"There is more liquor being sold illegally in this city than there is through the Government vendor's store," declared Police Commissioner Macdonald at the meeting of the board last night. He was certain that there were persons and firms engaged in the liquor business here who were not living up to the requirements of the law. He would like to see them brought to justice.

Mayor Rochester reported that he had taken the whole situation up with the Liquor Control Board while he was in Victoria recently. There would be an investigation shortly, he had been assured.

HOUSING ORGANIZATION MEETING OF LIBERALS LAST NIGHT FINE AUG-URG SUCCESS AT POLLS

Develop Resources.

Mr. Stork referred to the debt of Canada which now amounted to three billions of dollars. They did not object to it because it was incurred as a result of the war. The borrowing of such a vast amount was made possible, however, not because of the manufactures of the country but because of the natural assets. This was not a manufacturing country but a country with vast resources in agriculture, fisheries, timber and mines. It was to develop these the country must bend her energies. High tariff along the Meighen plan tend to stifle the natural industries instead of develop them. They must purchase goods used in this work at the lowest possible price.

The Liberal party under present conditions did not stand for absolute free trade, but they believed in revising the tariff to the advantage of the people who were developing the country.

Mr. Stork went on to criticize the way in which the affairs of the nation had been handled during the Conservative regime. Since 1911 the country had been governed for the big interests. Sir Thomas White, the former finance minister sat on the same board of directors of the National Trust Company with Sir William Mackenzie. Sir William had been paid ten million dollars for his railway into which he had never put a cent, while the shareholders of the Grand Trunk had been declared to have nothing of any value. Sir Thomas White was one of the arbitrators in each case.

Another abuse of power was that of dispossessing the workers on the Grand Trunk of their pension standing on account of a general strike on that road in 1910. The Meighen Government had refused to re-instate them in spite of the efforts of Mr. Mackenzie King to have him do so.

Mr. Stork said he looked forward with confidence to the future prosperity of the country under the regime of Mackenzie King who would be the next premier. Judging from the reception he had received everywhere in the constituency he confidently expected to go to Ottawa to support Mr. King in the next Parliament.

would demand the erection of more buildings like this one. He congratulated the minister on his successful efforts.

George H. Munro also added a quota to the eulogy of Mr. Pattullo. He had been playing the game and had obtained something big for the city. He had brought pressure to bear in the right place at the right time and thus had been successful in getting the court house.

Mr. Pattullo expressed appreciation of the kindly sentiments which had been voiced. After all, he had but done his duty. He was pleased to see that improvements in the city streets that were taking place and congratulated the mayor and aldermen. They were necessary, it was true but it was sometimes difficult to finance them. They would be an improvement both from the standpoint of utility and beauty.

Not Be Discouraged.

People here should not be discouraged. Vancouver and other large cities of today had for the first twenty years passed through periods of little progress. Prince Rupert was experiencing a similar period now. The citizens should always fight for what they felt was their rightful due and he would not resent it if they brought pressure to bear on him.

Before the gathering dispersed cheers were called for Mr. Pattullo and they were given heartily.

The inscription on the trowel presented to Mr. Pattullo is as follows:

"Presented to Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, on the occasion of the laying of the foundation stone of the court house at Prince Rupert, October 15, 1921." It is headed with the provincial coat of arms.
