NO DECISION WAS REACHED IN IMPORTANT CASE AT ASSIZES ON SATURDAY

Jury Disagrees in Holmes Trial and Case is Traversed

After being out for two hours and a half, the jury in the Robert Holmes murder trial at 11:30 on Saturday night returned to the court-room of the assizes being held here by Mr. Justice Gregory and reported that it had disagreed. Owing to the fact that fifteen of the jury panel were challenged before the trial opened on Saturday morning there was not a sufficient number left to form another panel so the case has been traversed until the winter assizes to be held at Prince Rupert.

Admitting the killing of Joseph Booth at Thurston Harbor on January 3 last, the defence pleaded not guilty on the grounds of self defence. The "unwritten law" of the protection of the home entered to a large degree into the case and A. M. Manson, M. L. A., of the firm of Williams, Manson & Gonzales, made a strong address to the jury, asking for Holmes' acquittal. This was somewhat offset by the charge of Mr. Justice Gregory which did not seem to favor the accused. After having been out for two hours, the jury returned to the court-room for further instructions as to what verdict could be brought in. The judge explained that there could be but one of three findings—murder, manslaughter or acquittal. In case of one of the first two findings being brought in a recommendation for mercy could, however, be made. Retiring again, the jury shortly returned reporting disagreement.

The case excited much interest in the city and, when the verdict was brought in the court-room was filled to the doors and crowds had gathered on the street outside keenly awaiting announcement of the result of the trial.

Evidence of Accused.
 Upon the conclusion of Mrs. Holmes examination in chief by Mr. Manson on Saturday morning, the only other witness for the defence was put in the box, the prisoner himself, Robert Wendell Holmes, the man charged with the crime of murder. He was quite calm and collected and answered briefly the questions of counsel as to his early life and antecedents. He gave his age as 26, and his birthplace as Hawksville, Georgia, U. S. A. His father was well to do in the coeprage business. He himself had followed logging most of the time since he had left home, with the exception of a year when he was in the American Army in 1918 and a short time in the U. S. Coastal service. He was married in Vancouver in March of last year and came up the coast to go logging on the Queen Charlotte Islands in August of the same year.

His evidence was largely similar to that given by his wife just previously as to the happenings of the three people almost isolated at that lonely spot for such a length of time. Accused was quite straight forward and convincing in his testimony as to his utter ignorance of their being anything wrong in regard to Booth's conduct towards his wife. From November on, however, Booth seemed to slack off his work, and to have become morose and irritable at times. He told him shortly before the climax that it would probably be best if he would take his boat and leave camp as he appeared to be "fed up" and dissatisfied.

Admitted Killing.
 He admitted the killing, but reiterated over and over again that he shot the deceased as he was convinced if he did not, he would be killed himself, and his wife left to the mercy of the man he had just learned had so grievously betrayed his friend.

Premier Meighen to Support Renewal Treaty with Japan; Sails for England Tomorrow

OTTAWA, June 6.—Accompanied by Mrs. Meighen, his secretary and a legal advisor from the Department of External Affairs, Premier Meighen left here this morning for Quebec and tomorrow will sail on the Empress of Britain for London to attend the conference of overseas premiers.

After the adjournment of the house on Saturday evening the Premier was the recipient of a Crown Derby china dinner set and a chest of sterling silver from his supporters in the House.

While Premier Meighen will enter the Conference of Overseas Premiers at London with an open mind so far as the parliament of Canada is concerned, there are good reasons for believing that he will support a renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, providing that it shows in Britain's interest. That support will, however, be qualified that the treaty as far as possible is acceptable to the United States and that it does not partake in the nature of a military alliance.

Military Question.
 He will urge the postponement of the naval military question until such time as the international situation is more clear. While approaching the details with an open mind he will oppose any step towards an Imperial organization or any plan involving the centralization or creation of super-power over the local parliaments. He will urge that the proposed constitutional conference be held at Ottawa be purely consultative in character.

Esmonde on Same Boat.
 Osmond Gratton Esmonde is also sailing on the Empress of Britain, the same ship as Premier Meighen. Esmonde expresses pleasant memories of Canada especially of Justice Morrison, of British Columbia, who presided over the recent trial when he was charged in Vancouver with sedition and ordered to be deported.

Burns Lake Centre Fine Farm Country

(By the Editor)
 Burns Lake is the jumping off place for the Francois and Ootsa Lake country and will eventually be the gateway to the Babine, according to the residents, and judging by the geographical situation. It is the centre for the largest agricultural section in British Columbia and is destined to become an important town. It is far enough from other centres not to be affected by their proximity and what is just as important, the citizens are enthused with the future prospects.

What is needed here as elsewhere in the valley is good roads. We drove through all the way from Hazelton to Burns Lake and from there southward to Francois Lake and Grassy Plains but owing to the poor roads were unable to get through with the little Ford as far as Ootsa Lake. We were told, however, that Ootsa was just as good a district, if not even better than any other we had seen. It is settled sixty miles to the south of Burns Lake with scattered farms but every day new families are coming in and before long the whole country will be producing food for the nation. Some of it is true are not doing very much yet, but they are putting all they earn back into their farms and thus increasing their investment and the power of production.

Read Making.
 Speaking of roads, it may be mentioned that the Provincial department of public works has installed a traction steam shovel which is used on the roads to the south of Burns Lake on the heavy cuts and great things are expected from this as soon as it gets properly under way and the gang understands its work. There is some criticism that the big machine is not doing as much as it ought, but doubtless any little defects of organization will be remedied in the near future. If the steam shovel will make it possible to improve the roads rapidly, it will be a great thing for the district.

Roads Vital.
 In driving through the country we found the main trunk road from North Bulkley to Burns Lake had a number of very bad places and the nearer to Burns Lake the worse the roads. A good deal of very successful grading had been done, but it was too early in the season to feel the good of it, for the grade was soft and the car sank almost to the hubs. There are no really good roads although some are better than others. The only place on the trip where the roads may be said to be good was around Hazelton, and that is an older settlement than any other. Apparently road making takes time. It is the vital question everywhere and it is extremely important to everyone that every dollar be used to advantage.

Land Clearing.
 Almost every farmer is clearing land everywhere between Hazelton and Burns Lake. Some are doing it in a small way and some very extensively. Fires make the air smoky as a result of the burning of slashings. While the timber is light, clearing is difficult. It costs anywhere from ten dollars an acre to one hundred, according to the denseness of the bush. By doing it gradually and using fire with judgment, twenty to thirty dollars an acres seems to be a fair average. Often there are tracts of many acres that cost almost

CITY SHOCKED BY DEATH OF AN OLD TIMER

Charles Embleton Found Dead By Employee in His Home.

It was a decided shock to the citizens of Prince Rupert when last evening shortly after six o'clock word went through the city that Charles W. Embleton was dead. He was found dead from a gunshot wound in the heart at his home on Sixth Avenue West, by his friend J. Reynolds, who had arrived at the house in answer to a telephone call from the deceased.

Mr. Reynolds, who is employed at the Prince Rupert Pool Room and Gigar store of which the deceased was part owner with Paul Aivazoff, was in the St. Regis cafe, when the message was brought to him. He left shortly for the house, and just as he was entering the door of the deceased's room, he heard the report of the gun shot that sent the deceased to his instant death. He at once telephoned the police and Dr. Eggert, who were immediately on the scene, but nothing could then be done.

The remains were then re-

Why Prince Rupert's
Rain is Advertised.

A recent visitor in the city from Ketchikan was talking to a Prince Rupert man the other day. It was one of those beautiful afternoons last week and the sun was setting in the western sky and casting its effulgent vermilion rays on the hills to the north and east. "Say, how much rain do you have here in Prince Rupert, anyway? Everybody says it's the rainiest place in the world but what I have seen since I have been here doesn't bear that out." "Oh, about 80 or 100 inches a year," was the reply. "Well then, it isn't the rainiest place in the world, either. At Ketchikan we average from 160 to 200 inches a year." Why is Prince Rupert's rain advertised so much then? The answer is simple. Prince Rupert is the best advertised and best known town in the world for its size and the rain is just naturally advertised with it. The residents of Australia, Africa, Asia, South America and Europe have heard about Prince Rupert and know that it is on the map. Perhaps very few of them have ever heard of Ketchikan.

Tragic Deaths
Shock Community.

It is said tragedies come in threes and we hope that the three sad ones of the last week in the deaths of Teddy Gerster, Reuben Johnson and Charlie Embleton will have been the three, and hope that there will not be any more. Such tragedies have a depressing effect on the community—an effect that is not good for the people. In each case quite young lives have been cut off and men popular in their respective spheres have been lost. Each death proved a shock to the town at large.

Forest Fires are A Danger Now.

Now is the time of year that forest fires should be carefully guarded against. Although there is little danger of them in the immediate vicinity of Prince Rupert, not so very many miles from the city they prove a real menace and a warning to the public generally at this time may not come amiss. Possibly, too, many of the people of Prince Rupert may, in the course of their holiday, visit places more dangerous in this regard than is this vicinity. A little care in the woods and in the country might prevent fires that would cost many thousands of dollars in timber losses and which might cause loss of human life. When outside be careful about your camp fires, do not throw away indiscriminately open sparks from cigarettes, cigars or pipes and when you see carelessness remark on it and see that your remarks are acted upon.

Life Saving Station
Should be Established.

Each disaster to the fishing fleet of this port brings to mind the necessity for life saving stations and appliances in the vicinity of the halibut banks. The fishermen have been agitating for some time for the establishment of such and when they ask for them they are asking for something that they should have. On barren islands sometimes fishermen are cast up from wrecks and on account of disabling of their boats. If they are left marooned and exposed on these islands with no clothing, no food or no medical requisites they might die of starvation or exposure where if life saving stations were in existence they could have shelter and care. The Dominion Government would do well to busy itself in this matter and see that better provision is made for these hardy wayfarers of the deep. Especially in Prince Rupert they form a large and valuable part of the population and they should be insured just as well as the workers in big industrial plants are. They are enterprising and do a valuable work and are surely deserving of more consideration in this regard than they are getting.

Expected Telegraphic Advices in Near Future Will Contain Announcement of Vendor.

Although a supply of liquor permits has been received at the local government office, they are not yet being issued for they were accompanied with instructions that none were to be given out until telegraphic advices to that effect were received. These instructions, it is expected, will contain the announcement of the appointment of the liquor vendor and the sub-issuers. The permits will likely be issued both by the government agent and the vendor. J. H. McMullin, government agent, is expected back from Victoria by the Prince Rupert on Wednesday morning.

Both have been making an official tour of the interior in connection with the work of their department. Major Motherwell expects to revisit the North again next month and will spend several days in Prince Rupert.

CITY SHOCKED BY DEATH

moved to the B. C. undertakers. A note was discovered, signed by the deceased, stating that no one was to blame for the affair. There was a pathetic and affectionate reference to his wife, whom he said was the best a man could be blessed with. He felt he was not good enough for her. This and short mention of particular friends whom he wished to be remembered to, was all that there was in the way of an explanation from the unfortunate man.

An Old Timer.

"Charlie" Embleton, as he was called by hundreds of people in Prince Rupert, particularly the many old timers who had known him for the last twelve years, was one of the best known and most popular young business men of the city. He had been identified with the life of the place since its earliest days. He was an active member of several local lodges amongst them being the Knights of Pythias, the Elks, and the Sons of Canada. For the last three years he had been in the cigar store business with Paul Aivazoff, who was one of his greatest friends, the latter being terribly shocked over the tragic occurrence.

It is known by his intimate friends that the deceased had never been the same man since a serious attack of Spanish influenza he underwent three years ago. His health had been much impaired and his nerves generally unstrung. Also just lately several of his near relatives had been seriously ill, which had caused him a good deal of worry.

Wife in Seattle.

Mrs. Embleton is at present in Seattle, nursing her sister who has been at death's door. It is thought that the unfortunate man, who was of a quiet nature and not given to parading his troubles, had become despondent thus causing the rash act.

The deceased was a native of New Brunswick, where his parents and relatives reside. He had been in the West for 16 years and had been married 14 years, having lived in Vancouver before coming to Prince Rupert in the early pioneer days. A gloom has been cast over the city where Mr. Embleton was so deservedly popular among a host of friends, who can hardly realize yet the truth of the sad affair. The lodges of which he was a member will have charge of the funeral arrangements.

C. Kim, Chinese, 844 Third Avenue West was fined $50 or 60 days by Magistrate McMordeie this morning in the police court for smoking opium.

Arthur Lewis, Indian, was fined Ten Dollars and costs in the police court this morning for drunkenness.

Babine Country.

The people of Burns Lake are very anxious that the road to Babine Lake shall be made passable for wagons. At present there is a road part of the way and a trail the rest. The Babine Indians make periodic visits to Burns Lake and there would be a great deal of traffic, it is claimed, if the road were completed. When the roads to the south, east and west have been improved, doubtless something will be done to connect Babine Lake with the railway, and Burns Lake, it is claimed is the logical point of connection.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight.

The table given is for Port Simpson but the time for Prince Rupert varies only a few minutes on some days and on others is the same. The range of the tide may be computed as 5 per cent greater at Prince Rupert than at Port Simpson both at springs and neaps. Therefore the rise in the Prince Rupert harbor is slightly greater than Port Simpson.

The height is in feet and tenths of feet above the average level of lower low water.

HEARTBURN LIVER TROUBLE

When the liver becomes torpid and inflamed, it cannot furnish sufficient bile to the bowels, thus causing them to become constipated.

The stomach is also affected. In the case of heartburn there is a gnawing and burning pain in the stomach, attended by disturbed appetite, caused by great acidity. Whenever too much food is taken, it is liable to ferment, and become extremely sour, vomiting often occurs; and what is thrown up, is sour and sometimes bitter.

Other liver trouble symptoms are pain under the right shoulder, yellowness of the skin and eyes, floating specks before the eyes, coated tongue, bad taste in the morning, foul breath, water brash, jaundice, constipation, etc.

Keep your liver active by using Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills and you will have no heartburn or other liver troubles. Being purely vegetable they do not gripe, weaken or sicken like the old-fashioned purgatives generally do.

Mrs. Mary Strone, Glasnevin, Sask., writes: "I have used Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills, and they have cleared me of heartburn and liver trouble. I don't think they can be beaten by any other medicine, and I can highly recommend them."

ATTRACTIVE EVENT WAS STAGED TWO DAYS IN AGRICULTURAL HALL

Attractive Event Was Staged Two Days in Agricultural Hall.

The carnival which took place on the afternoons and evenings of Friday and Saturday last at the Exhibition building to celebrate the 21st anniversary of the founding of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire in Canada, was quite successful and was enjoyed by hundreds of people both young and old who visited the big building on Teropolis Hill.

There were candy and refreshment booths to the public and vaudeville shows going in a continuous cycle, affording much delight and amusement to all especially the many youngsters who were present. A star attraction was the playing of the G.W.V.A. band who were on the scene most of the time and helped in a marked degree to make things go and add to pleasure of all. Especially was this so in regard to the opportunities for dancing that were afforded and which were taken advantage of by all both children and grown ups.

Great credit is due to the number of ladies of the order who spent so much time and energy in making the affair a success. A considerable sum was realized by the undertaking which will go towards the building fund of the order.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE SUCCESSFUL IN TEST

Miss Marjorie Carter, a pupil of Mrs. A. W. Clarke, was another successful pupil at the Toronto Conservatory of Music examinations recently held in the city. She received first class honors in the introductory piano course. Commenting on this pupil's work the examiner stated that Miss Carter was a well prepared and promising candidate. She possessed a good hand and her work was practised thoroughly.

"THE DAUGHTER PAYS" AT EMPRESS THEATRE

Elaine Hammerstein Heads Cast in Her Own Production.

"The Daughter Pays," adapted from the book of the same name by Mrs. Baitie Reynolds, will be the next Elaine Hammerstein production to be shown at the Empress Theatre when this latest Selznick Picture will headline the program tonight and tomorrow.

The story has been adapted for the screen by R. Cecil Smith, the continually expert who has recently been placed under contract to write exclusively for Selznick. Robert Ellis, who directed "A Fool and His Money" and "The Figurehead" for Eugene O'Brien, also directed "The Daughter Pays," his first picture with Miss Hammerstein.

BRINGING UP FATHER

JRY DISAGREES IN HOLMES TRIAL AND CASE IS TRAVERSED

ship and hospitality, and attempted to utterly wreck his home and his life's happiness. In regard to his statement to Barr, "That he was a Southerner and you know what that means," he replied to counsel that although undoubtedly a Southerner, he did not voice the sentiment supposed to carry in the southern states that killing was justifiable upon all occasions of domestic infidelity, and was not in favor of lynching and taking the law into one's own hands. His killing of Booth was in self defense.

Under lengthy cross examination by the crown prosecutor, W. E. Fisher, neither the prisoner nor his wife weakened in regard to their evidence given. Mr. Fisher failed to shake their testimony or cause them to vary their story in any very material fashion. He asked a great number of questions of both witnesses as to the possibility of their not being able to get over the undoubtedly trying situation by leaving the place or at the very last, calling on the two men Barr and Anderson, who arrived at noon of the day of the tragedy to scale the logs, to come to their assistance. Answers were given frankly, the prisoner particularly stating, time and again, that he was stunned and almost beside himself with frenzy after the wife's story. He had walked around in the short intervening space of time, before the climax was reached, and he did the killing in a sort of trance, believing the deceased armed and waiting for him.

Manson's Address.

It was after dinner in the evening, the third assembling of the court for the day, that A. M. Manson, counsel for the defense, addressed the jury on the prisoner's behalf. In a clear cut and concise fashion he reviewed the evidence in the case, pointing out the unusual circumstance that the crown really had no witnesses at all of the actual killing. The accused himself had made their case when he told Barr he had shot the deceased, and gave himself up to him. The crown, therefore, had to rely solely on the witness for the defense, the prisoner and his wife.

How easy it would have been, if they had had criminal intent, for them to have put the deceased man out of the way, and left it to appear as accidental death or suicide. The crown case was very weak, or rather none at all and if the crown prosecutor did his duty, he would at once ask for an acquittal. If they believed the stories of the prisoner and his wife then they must assuredly bring in a verdict of not guilty. He quoted several instances of similar cases, where provocation was not nearly so great, where acquittals had been given. Mr. Manson concluded his thirty minute address, which was listened to with breathless interest by the crowded courtroom, by asking the jury to put themselves for one moment in the place of the unfortunate young man whom they had watched give his evidence in such a clear and convincing manner, and ask themselves would they have acted otherwise than he did under the terrible circumstances. The tragedy of the affair was, not the death of Booth which would assuredly have been an unmix-ed blessing long ago, before he was permitted to bring this dark shadow into the life of the two unfortunate young people, they saw before them, but rather the terrible suffering of the tragic ordeal the latter had been, that day, subjected to.

One compensation could be made, that he could suggest, and that was that they pass round the word to find the accused "not guilty" without leaving the jury box for even a single minute. Mr. Fisher followed for the crown and performed the task in a fearless and tactful fashion placing the crown's case against the accused to the jury in the light of the evidence available. He went carefully over the evidence of the prisoner and his wife, and brought out many points for the jury's consideration.

Judge's Charge.

Mr. Justice Gregory's summing up was carefully and exhaustive, and presented the case most clearly and lucidly to the jury. He gave them full instruction in the law bearing on the case, quoting several similar ones for their guidance. Whilst being perfectly fair, it was evident that His Lordship considered the accused might have been swayed in his rash act by influences due to his birth in the Southern States, where lynchings and indiscriminate killings were known to take place. He was emphatic in his declaration that he hoped the day would never come when men from that part of the country would try to introduce those methods on this side of the line. He criticised Mrs. Holmes' actions in not telling her husband immediately the deceased made his first objectionable advances, and said that under such circumstances all women should do so at once. He was not at all convinced in his own mind that the deceased made any move, which could be described as a threatening nature, causing a man to kill another thinking he was doing so in self defense. Any way the accused had not brought that out under examination. He concluded by telling the jury, the three verdicts they could bring in: murder, manslaughter or acquittal.

The members of the jury on the case were: G. W. Kerr, foreman; George Waddell, Ezra C. La Trace, P. J. Ryan, W. J. Sherman, Alex Yule, Kenneth Root, Wilfrid Gratton, C. V. Eviitt, George Smith, G. P. Tinker and David Glennie.

Hard Court Champion.

William T. Tilden, of Philadelphia, the world's grass tennis champion, on Saturday added another laurel to his list of achievements at the net game when he won the world's hard court single's championship by defeating Washer, of Belgium, in the finals. He was victorious in three straight sets, the scores of which were 6 to 3 in each case. The games were played at St. Cloud, France, where the international tournament for all classes is going on.

French Lady Chams.

Mlle. Susan Lengien and Mlle. Golding, of France, in the same tournament, brought honors to their own country when they won the world's hard court ladies' championship by defeating Miss Holman and Mrs. Peacock, of England, in the finals, the scores being 6 to 2. Intense interest is being manifested in these games by all those who are interested in tennis. The games that are being played at St. Cloud are among the most important meets of the season.

Both Training Hard

Jack Dempsey again started last Saturday his intensive training for conditioning to defend the world's title against George Carpentier in the big contest of July 2. He had just completed a lay off for four days in which he did no training whatever. Carpentier is training harder than ever and after a listless Friday spent Saturday working out to the limit. Dempsey's camp is at Atlantic City and Carpentier's at Manhasset, Long Island.

Ruth's Sixteenth

Babe Ruth, the hitting marvel of the big leagues, made his sixteenth home run for the season at New York last Saturday, when playing on the home grounds against St. Louis. Bambino has already eclipsed anything in the hitting line that has ever before been seen or heard of in big league ball. That his hitting is genuine is evidenced by the fact that he is hitting runs into various fields further than ever before were known of.

The Prince Rupert Athletics' lineup for the junior league baseball fixture with the Merchants tomorrow night will be as follows: H. Frizzell; B. Barrie and G. Rideout; R. Kelsey, R. Davidson and G. Mitchell; G. Hill, W. Mitchell, E. Mackintosh, D. Eastman and G. Roberts. Reserves—W. Montgomery, W. Martin and A. McLeod.

TONIGHT'S BALL GAME HAS BEEN POSTPONED

Late Charles Embleton was Manager of Both Elks and Sons of Canada.

On account of the death of Charles Embleton, who was a member of the Elks Lodge and ball team and also of the Sons of Canada, the regular league fixture between the Elks and Sons of Canada scheduled for tonight has been postponed. The new date of the game has not yet been announced.

F. M. Crosbie left on a business trip to the south last evening on the Prince George.

NO EXCURSION GOING ANYOX

Some Prince Rupert Athletes Will, However, Represent City There.

On account of the proposed celebration in this city under the auspices of the Sons of Canada, the idea of an excursion to Anyox on Dominion Day has been given up although it is likely that Prince Rupert will be represented in the smelter town by athletes from here, who will go to take part in some of the events there. George Frizzell's speed boat will go North and Joe Farrell, of this city, will box there with T. Gibson, the 122 pound lightweight of Anyox. There will likely be some Prince Rupert tennis players go up and it is being endeavored to have the Greenville Indian band in attendance. There will be no football team go North.

TERMINALS AND SALMON BELLIES ARE NOW EVEN UP

VANCOUVER, June 6.—The Vancouver Terminals defeated the New Westminster Salmon Bellies in the fourth game of the Minto Cup series here on Saturday by a score of eight to five. Both teams have now won four matches each.

VANCOUVER WINS OVER VICTORIA IN CON JONES LEAGUE

VANCOUVER, June 6.—Four thousand spectators saw Vancouver decisively defeat Victoria in the Con Jones Lacrosse League on Saturday by a score of nine to three.

AMERICAN WOMAN LOSES TENNIS GAMES

ST. CLOUD, June 6.—Susanne Lengien won the world's women's hard court tennis championship, defeating Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, the American tennis player, in two straight sets. The scores were six to two and six to three.

Mistaken. A farmer's daughter started to practice singing in private. One day her father came in from the fields unexpectedly. "What's that extraordinary noise," he inquired. "That, dear," replied his wife proudly, "is Jane cultivating her voice." "Cultivating! Huh!" ejaculated the farmer. "That ain't cultivating—that's harrowing!—that's harrowing!"

KING MAY HAVE TO APPOINT A PARLIAMENT

Authorized to Name Special Committee if Members Fail to Take Oath in South.

BERLIN, June 6.—King George may have to appoint a Parliament for the south of Ireland. He is authorized by the Home Rule Act to do so if the members elected fail to take the oath of office within 14 days after the date fixed for assemblage of the new Parliament.

This fact is important in view of the announcement that Sinn Feiners nominated without opposition for the new Parliament, and thus virtually elected, have been accepted by the Irish leaders as constituting the new members of the Dail Eireann; suggesting the probability that they will refuse to constitute Parliament for which they were chosen.

In that event, King George is authorized by the Home Rule Act to appoint a committee consisting of members of the Irish Privy Council and such other persons as he may choose, and constitute these persons a legislative and executive assembly to exercise the functions of the Parliament.

This provision is described by the opponents of the Act as the establishment of Crown Colony government. It is evident that it makes it easy for the government at once to take measures for setting up the Southern Parliament at or near the same time as the Northern. Under

NEED FOR RELIGIONS ON PACIFIC COAST

Presbyterian Minister in Charge of Missions Gives Interesting Report.

TORONTO, June 6.—The need of mission workers along the Pacific Coast of British Columbia is strikingly illustrated in reports coming in at the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church being held here, from Rev. George C. F. Pringle, in charge of the Presbyterian Loggers' Missions.

In one district he found twenty-one families who have never had a religious service and most of their children are unbaptized. In other areas eighteen families have had no religious service for a year, and twenty-six families for two years. In yet another wide area including several logging camps, the one hundred and twenty-six families have had nothing in the nature of a religious service for five years. The deep-sea fishermen of the coast, who are chiefly of Scotch and Scandinavian extraction, have long been untouched by any Church. These are only a few examples of the urgent need for home mission work in the far Canadian West.

Miss Gleason was among those leaving for the southern coast cities last evening.

The Value of the Red Cross Public Health Nurse

ARE you people of the cities giving your country cousins a square deal? You expect them to open up the country so that your business may prosper. Do you care whether or not they have medical and nursing attention? Does it matter to you that their children do not have the inspection that your children receive in your schools, and that many of them grow up with defects that could easily have been cured in childhood? Would you like to live where one visit from the doctor costs from $35 to $40—or where no one is available for help; where your child may be still-born and your wife injured for life, because there was no one present with knowledge? You cannot shirk the responsibility by saying that they should live where they COULD have attention. You know that the more the country is opened up the better it will be for you—and SOMEONE MUST OPEN IT UP. Do you realize that the standard of health in the rural and outlying districts is exceedingly low—a condition brought about through a lack of knowledge on the part of parents of the proper balance of food rations for their children? The farmer makes a study of the food problems for his live stock, but in the mad scramble for a livelihood he is prone to overlook the importance of the proper foods and their quantities for his children—a far more vital factor to himself and the nation. It is in just such conditions as these that the Red Cross Public Health nurse is invaluable. She has gained her knowledge through years of hard study and sacrifice, yet she is ever ready to heed the call of approaching motherhood—to impart that knowledge which may be the means of saving a life. She teaches the mother the proper care of the child—what foods and in what proportion they should be given to build up a strong, healthy body in the little one. She imparts to parents a knowledge of personal hygiene and sanitation, that they may rear their families with a clear understanding of the value of cleanliness of mind and body. Through her encouragement and assistance whole communities are benefitted—the direct result of which means better times for you people in the cities. Think of the suffering of women and children in our Province that can be avoided through the maintaining of these public health nurses, whom the Red Cross is establishing within our borders. Ask yourself—IS THIS CHARITY—IT IS NOT. IT'S GOOD BUSINESS.

WORK OF RED CROSS IN B. C.

Great Assistance Given Families of War Heroes.

Some idea of the manifold activities of the Red Cross in British Columbia may be had by citing a few of the outstanding features of its work.

Among the most important is the assistance it has rendered the soldier-dependents. Beginning with the provision of automobiles to meet every train arriving with soldiers and their families aboard, many of these men and their dependents have had the special care of the Society in re-establishing them in civil life. In many cases soldiers who have taken up land through the Soldier Settlement Board, have been supplied with wearing apparel, blankets, and other household goods to enable them to make a fair start. Transportation has often been provided to enable the wives to attend courses in dairying, poultry keeping, horticulture or home economics and many families have been immensely benefited thereby. Very many cases of sickness in soldier families have had the special care of the Red Cross. In some instances hospital treatment has been necessary, and it has been the duty of the society to make provision for the wife while her soldier husband was under treatment.

Emergency Department.

In connection with the Society's Disaster and Emergency Relief, there are in course of formation a number of emergency depots and it is planned to have these established throughout the Province at convenient strategic points, so that in the event of disastrous fire or other calamity, relief supplies can be rushed at once to the scene. The invaluable service that can be rendered by every Red Cross branch in emergencies was well exemplified during the plague of Spanish Influenza, when nursing service was provided as well as medical supplies and many other needs.

It would be impossible to give a complete list here of the supplies provided by the Vancouver branch of the Society during the year ending September, 30, 1920, but a few of the leading items may be cited:—Blankets, 175, pairs of gloves 90, handkerchiefs 464, nightshirts 21, overcoats 14, pillow cases 476, pajamas 1943, pairs of sheets 128, top shirts 563, pairs of slippers 247, pairs of socks 2922, walking sticks 119, sweaters 879, suits of underwear 540, towels 144, Christmas hampers 22, etc.

Another activity of the Red Cross in B. C. has been the establishment of a Red Cross Chair of Public Health in the University of B. C., where nurses may have the necessary training in matters of public health. During the year already mentioned eight nurses were placed in charge of districts as follows:—Sayward, V. L.; Merville, V.L.; Gowlan, V.L.; Colwood, V.L.; Waldo, in the East Kootenays; Magna Bay and Gelista on Shuswap Lake; East Arrow Park on the Arrow Lakes; and Creston in the West Kootenays.

FISHING BOAT TETON SINKS

Lies in 60 Fathoms of Water at Banks Island.

Captain and Crew Had Time Saving Their Lives.

A total loss, the Canadian fishing schooner Teton lies submerged in sixty fathoms of water near Deadman's Point, Banks Island, as a result of an explosion which occurred on the vessel on Friday evening about 6 o'clock. The crew was fortunately saved and there was no loss of life although the men had to leave the boat hastily and make for shore in a leaky skiff. The boat is valued at $8,000 and this is partially covered by $5,000 insurance in the Union of Canton Insurance Co., of Vancouver.

The Teton left Prince Rupert for the fishing grounds at 3 o'clock on Friday morning and, reaching White Rock light about 5 o'clock in the evening, the setting of gear was commenced and the boat ended up at Deadman's Point about 6 o'clock.

Explosion Occurs.

At about this time Captain Henry Henriksen, the skipper of the Teton, observed what he thought to be water in the engine room. He advised the engineer, Forest Fryer, at once who went to the engine room to investigate and found out that it was distillate which the captain had noticed. Fryer told the captain that he would at once bale out the boat, but, just at that moment, either the engine must have back fired or there was a short circuit in the ignition system, for there was an explosion which carried the captain overboard and burned the engineer, who was standing in the engine room hatchway, severely about the neck and head.

Captain Henriksen, from the water, advised the rest of the crew to get the skiff into the water at once and get clear of the boat for he was afraid that another explosion might occur. After some difficulty the skiff was put into the water bottom up and the crew had to jump. Finally, righting the skiff and picking up some floating oars, all were able to make shore two miles off, baiting the little craft constantly for the bung of the boat was missing and the hole had to be filled up with a carriage bolt and rags.

Impossible To Save Boat.

No attempt could be made to save the vessel as she caught fire immediately after the explosion. Fearing that another explosion might occur at any time the only thing to do was for the captain and crew to save themselves. As far as the captain and engineer can state, the accident occurred as a result of the draining cup opening causing the distillate to run into the engine room.

Reaching land on Banks Island the crew found a rancher, O. H. Hill and his wife living on the west coast of Dead Man's Point. They were given dry clothing and made as comfortable as possible.

Rescue Boat.

As soon as they had changed, the captain and crew observed two fish boats standing by as near as they dared to the blazing Teton. They took the skiff and rowed out finding the two boats to be the Speculator, of Seattle, and the N. and M. of Tacoma. These boats salvaged everything possible. The Speculator conveyed the shipless crew to the gas boat, Gaygeon, Captain James Morrison, at Anderson's Harbor. Captain Morrison willingly offered to convey them to Prince Rupert and they arrived here at 7:15 Saturday night. Before starting for Prince Rupert the crew of the Gaygeon hauled out twenty skates of gear that had been by the Teton.

Unlucky Boat.

The Teton has had a career of misfortune. She is the property of V. M. Dufoe, of Vancouver, and was built at New Westminster in 1919. When being launched she caught on the ways and an old sea captain, who happened to be present remarked: "That will be an unlucky boat. Every one that sticks like that turns out to be." Last winter the Teton wrecked on Frederick Island and after some difficulty the job of salvaging her was given to Ralph Lepine representing the adjusters, Boyd Philips, of Vancouver, for the Insurance Company of North America. Finally the boat was successfully taken off in January and brought here. Since then she has made four trips to sea bringing a total of 50,000 pounds of halibut.

The Teton was 46 feet long, 12 feet beam and 6 feet deep. Her tonnage was 25 tons gross and 17 tons registered. Her fish carrying capacity was 24,000 pounds. The members of the crew were: Captain Henry Henriksen, Engineer Forrest Fryer, Martin Olsen, Chris Parkvold and J. Carlson.
