CONTRACT WITH VISITING FLIERS

Will Remain for Exhibitions and Give Three Demonstrations.

The bi-plane Polar Bear is to remain here for the Exhibition and next week will give three exhibition flights as an added attraction at the Fair. A delegation from the Association comprising President G. H. Munro and F. G. Dawson, chairman of the exhibition finance committee, last night met with the city council and as a result of the meeting were this morning granted by the city finance committee the assurance of $350 to finance the event if, at the end of the year, it is found that it is necessary. This makes the staging of the airplane feature a possibility and the contract between the Fair Board and Aviator C. O. Prest, owner of the Polar Bear, was signed.

RAIN ONLY BAR

The contract provides for the payment of $950 to Mr. Prest if the three flights are made. This is on the basis of $200 as an initial guarantee and $250 per flight. The flights will be made and stunting will be done unless weather prevents and Mr. Prest says the only condition that could stop him would be rain. He does not mind wind.

DAILY EDITION  Wednesday, Sept. 7, 1921.

Objecting to Gift Aeroplanes to Canada.
 One of the English newspapers is objecting to the gift of aeroplanes which was made to Canada at the same time as other gifts of war material to other countries. These gifts were not sanctioned by the British Parliament, but were made by the Cabinet without consulting the legislative body. Under these circumstances we do not wonder at the newspapers fussing.

The gift to Canada is not really objectionable, only the manner of making the gift. The chief objection is to gifts of war material to other countries. Poland was given two million dollars worth of stores, Russia was given war material, and Greece aeroplanes. Doubtless these goods were useless to the British Government and the cost of transporting them would have been more than they were worth, but the objection is to the principle and not to the spirit of the gift. In that country they have to fight for the right of Parliament to control the affairs of the country, just as we have here. Government by order-in-council is never desirable.

Telkwa Understands Way to Celebrate.
 Telkwa understands the way to put on a celebration. The town owes much of its prosperity to the energy and enthusiasm of its residents, and especially to the business men who spare no pains to make it attractive. The annual Barbecue this year was a great success, just as great as ever, with the added impetus which has come from an increase in population. This year there were many new faces to be seen at the Interior centre, and the newcomers were given just as hearty a welcome as the oldtimers. That is the spirit of the place, and it is the spirit that wins.

We are glad to know that Prince Rupert was represented at the Barbecue. A number of business men went there for the event, but there might have been more.

Unrest Still Continues.
 Unrest still pervades the whole world. We are in the melting pot. It is the time when established institutions are looked on as obstacles to be got rid of. A considerable part of the population is looking on another considerable part with feelings of jealousy and ill-will. It is a ferment which has been gradually increasing and to which the war added impetus.

There are evidences, however, that there is a settling down commencing. The worst of the unrest period is over and the world will again turn its attention to serious work and development. The unrest was a necessary factor in the working out of the schemes of development which will yet take many decades, probably centuries. It has drawn attention to the inequalities of life and has set people trying to work out remedies.

What is Remedy For Present Condition?
 A good many people are asking themselves, what is the remedy for the present unequal social condition? There is none. There is no immediate remedy. Remedies are never immediate. We may make changes, but immediately we find inequalities breaking out again. The fault is not with the systems so much as with the individuals. People who have evolved from a system of the survival of the fittest must be trained for many long centuries as a race before they can understand anything else. There has to be a long period of evolution. Nature's changes are slow and a wrong turn is fatal. Today, however, we are hurrying nature somewhat. Changes are coming fast and thick and the same process will continue. The danger is in going too fast.

People Sidetracked
By Little Things.
 People are easily influenced by little things and at the same time the big things pass unnoticed. That is wherein lies the power of the demagogue. It is the method of the demagogue to work upon the feelings of the multitude by magnifying the little things and making them seem important, while at the same time he is "putting over" something big. It is sometimes spoken of as drawing a herring across the trail. Watch out for the demagogue. He is the most dangerous person in any community. He usually makes his big appeal to the ignorant.

PREPARING BYLAWS FOR PLEBISCITE TO BE HELD VERY SOON

The $75,000 sewer extension bylaw, the $3,500 Westview School bylaw and the Prince Rupert Pulp and Paper Co. water agreement bylaw were each put through their preliminary readings and passed the city council last night. Date of the plebiscite on them was also set for September 21 between the hours of 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. and City Clerk Woods was appointed returning officer at $25 with power to appoint deputies at $10. MARY owned two pretty calves. Oh My but they were plump! And everywhere that Mary went The men were on the jump.

THE least class conscious creatures in the world are bed bugs.

THE worst feature about these Yankee fliers is that they are not allowed to take up passengers. We had hoped for a long time that someone would come along and spill a few people in this town that need spilling.

 And all go flying.

DAUGHTERS OF EMPIRE AT FAIR TEA ROOMS

Meeting of Municipal Chapter Held Last Night to Make Arrangements.

As has been the custom in past years, the Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E. is to have the tea room concession at the Exhibition this year. There was a meeting of the chapter last night in the police court and it was decided to have each of the subsidiary chapters take charge on different days of the fair.

Norman McLellan arrived in the city yesterday afternoon from Alice Arm.

GEORGE ARLISS IN "THE DEVIL"

Well Known Actor Takes Wonderful Part in Movies.

The movies are getting the very devil from the legitimate stage! Yes, they are. And it isn't nearly as funny as it sounds. It is a literal statement of fact, for Molnar's famous play, "The Devil," has been filmed with George Arliss, the celebrated English actor who interpreted the title role of the piece in America as the star. The production was completed a short time ago and is to be shown tonight at the Westholme Theatre.

The famous drama was first shown in 1907 at Budapest, and then in Vienna. It created a furore and the following season invaded the theatres of every capital on the continent. Europe, however, had only one devil out of Molnar, whereas in New York there were two. One production was offered to the Belasco theatre in New York with George Arliss in the title role and the other at the Garden with Edwin Stevens in the evil one.

Just as New York preferred the well-groomed, well-mannered, drawing room devil, with his monocle, his discreet smile, his subtle innuendoes, of George Arliss, to the farcial, rather gross delineation of Edwin Stevens, the movies have taken Mr. Arliss for their Devil and with a setting and supporting cast reported to be the most elaborate the pictures have essayed, this celluloid presentation of the Molnar play makes its bid for public favor.

FREEMAN ON BOARD NARBETHONG AGAIN TILTING DEPARTMENT

Capt. Freeman is still fighting the Department of Marine over the treatment his boat, the Narbethong, has received at the hands of the officials in not being allowed to carry passengers, when, as he claims, others are given permits to do so. His latest letter to the deputy minister of marine, E. Hawken, follows:

"Your letter, 39231, to hand re. Knights of Columbus and Orange picnics in which you promise an investigation. It is a strange thing that you can so quickly give an investigation for the purpose of injuring some transportation service, yet for three years your inspectors have illegally deprived me of my business. For three years your inspectors have made the waters between here and Stewart "ocean waters" for the Narbethong and inland waters for the rest and for three years I have endeavored to get your department to give me an open investigation, which your Mr. Manthrop has promised me for three years. Why not try, Mr. Manthrop and Mr. Farrow for illegal practices?"

I give you fair warning that if any of the boats in question are fined, I shall bring charges against the officers of the Knights of Columbus and the Orangemen. If you fine the boats or the officers of the boats, there must be an equal charge against the employers of such boats. It takes two to break your laws.

Sport Chat

Long Bill Tilden, the star of the American Davis Cup team which again won the world's championship and the coveted trophy last week, got a real scare on Friday when Zeno Schimidzn, Japanese star, took two out of five from him in the singles. Coming through with a spectacular finish, however, the American champion saved the situation. After it was all over and Bill had congratulated Zeno on his battle some roughneck shield a cushion out over the field and whooped a rebel yell as they do under Gogan's bluff when the Giants beat the Pirates. The polite tennis crowd, thinking this a right harmless and jolly demonstration, heaved out all the cushions in the place. A scandal in tennis, this was. Throwing a world's series is bad enough but what does one expect of baseball? Throwing cushions at a Davis Cup match is different, however.

It was unfortunate, indeed, that weather conditions were so unfavorable for the holding of the Labor Day sports and the disappointment was great especially among the youngsters. All had been looking forward and there were many who even climbed the hill to take part or watch the fun. But when they reached there they found there was nothing going on. This spell of bad weather has certainly put a crimp in sports generally for the past few weeks but it cannot last forever and possibly by next week the Fair is on the weather will be better and then all will be able to have a grand old feast of sports from watching airplane flights to trying their skill at the shooting galleries in the sideshows.

For the kiddies there will be especially lots doing in the next week. On Saturday there will be the Trades and Labor postponed events followed closely in the next week by the Fair program of races. In the latter it should be remembered that each child to enter should have a certificate from the schools setting forth his or her age. Taking on the whole the children have certainly had more attention this year than ever before. Five complete programs of races in a season, Victoria Day, Dominion Day, Flag Day, Labor Day and Exhibition Week, is quite a record.

APPEAL MADE FOR ANOTHER CHAUTAUQUA

Capt. Dancy Places Matter Squarely Before People of This City.

Before leaving for Alaska, Capt. Dancy of the Canadian Chautauquas left with J. F. Maguire a letter to the citizens of Prince Rupert, which we are asked to publish. Mr. Maguire says that the loss on the Chautauqua just closed was $1100 and that the visitors spent more money in the city than they actually received from all sources. The following is the letter:

To the Citizens of Prince Rupert: At the request of the Chautauqua committee, I am going to submit a few facts affecting Chautauqua for 1922, facts that, I hope, will have the desired result of combatting some of the criticism that has developed that should be friendly to any community enterprise. It is rather unfortunate that the local situation should prove such a striking contrast to every other community in western Canada, that is in the matter of Chautauqua.

By this I mean that the very people who in every other community are the strongest and most enthusiastic supporters of Chautauqua and other community efforts, were, with few exceptions, conspicuous by their absence during the twelve events on the week's program that has just closed.

Right or Wrong. With a knowledge of all that has gone before, I still, am at a loss to understand the attitude of many of the local business men and citizens. This is the first year that the Dominion Chautauqua has made an appeal to the people of Prince Rupert and it is to be regretted that many of the local critics should have sought to fix on them, responsibilities with which they were not, in any way, shape or form, associated.

The standing of the Dominion Chautauquas throughout western Canada is too well and favorably known for this criticism to cause any serious concern. Critics and knockers there always have been with every good movement. Critics and knockers there always will be. But, thank God, Canada was builded and the war was won in spite of them. And, so it will be with Chautauqua. More than six hundred towns in Western Canada belong to the Dominion Chautauquas and this, in itself, is a fact of more than passing interest that he who runs may read. If those who, today, are seeking to destroy the Chautauqua spirit in Prince Rupert are right, then, more than six hundred communities are wrong. But, for the sake of Canada's future, let us hope that the six hundred communities are right. Chautauqua stands for the highest type of Canadianism, a Canadianism that finds its expression in fearless language. Its platform is the freest in Canada, today, and Chautauqua is doing as much as, and, perhaps more than any other institution for the building up of a better and bigger spirit of Canadianism. Its records are always open to closest inspection. Chautauqua invites and welcomes the most careful study. I have yet to hear a logical argument against the principle of Chautauqua.

Canadian Institution. I am going to give, herewith, a few facts that I hope may assist the local committee in meeting this criticism:

1.—The Dominion Chautauqua is a Canadian institution, with headquarters in Calgary. Its offices in the Lougheed Building are always open to visitors and the staff is always happy to welcome them.

2.—Chautauqua never goes into any community without a guarantee. This is true of all countries. A guarantee is made necessary because of the community character of the movement. There are seventy towns on each circuit and it is this circuit plan that makes possible lectures and entertainments at a cost of but three dollars for twelve attractions. This guarantee represents but seventy per cent of the cost of bringing Chautauqua to the town. The local committee has first opportunity to secure a surplus, as the Chautauqua must overcome its handicap of thirty per cent before it can break even.

Free Platform. 3.—Should Chautauqua be compelled to come to the community without a guarantee, it would have to come at greater cost. The platform would cease to be free, because the men who would finance the movement would dictate the policy of the platform. It would cease to be a community enterprise and Chautauqua would not live two years under these conditions.

One cannot study the methods of operating Chautauqua without realizing that the seven thousand towns throughout Canada and the United States that go to make up the Chautauqua family on this continent have every reason to feel proud of the magnificent record they have written and of the splendid machine they have created—one of the most powerful educational institutions in both these lands.

Community Character. 4.—Chautauqua is not a commercial enterprise in any way, shape or form. It is community in its character and in its operation. There has been no graft associated with Chautauqua and there never will be for the very good reason that the two cannot go together. Everyone associated with the movement is making a good, honest living. They are entitled to that. Once the Dominion Chautauquas can be placed on a paying basis, it is the plan of the promoters to follow the lead of Ellison-White at Portland and make it profit sharing. That will mean that in the event of profits accruing from the conduct of Chautauqua, these profits will be distributed amongst the committees in the various communities proportionate to the committee's contribution. I challenge anyone to prove that Chautauqua is anything else than what I claim for it.

Appeal for Support. Citizens of Prince Rupert—The Dominion Chautauquas proved their good faith with your local committee in the cancellation of a contract made with another concern. By so doing they repaid a deficit of more than one thousand dollars. The program they have given you this year has been one of the very highest order and I can assure you that this standard will be maintained. The record of the Dominion Chautauquas justifies me in giving this assurance. I make one more appeal to you to give to the Chautauqua movement in this community the support that it justly deserves. In the interests of a better Canadianism let the business men and citizens, generally, rally to the call of an institution that stands out conspicuously in Canadian life today as the standard-bearer of a good, sane, whole-hearted patriotism.

More than six hundred other towns and cities through the Canadian west have their eyes on Prince Rupert at this moment. Make a success of Chautauqua and you justify yourself in their eyes. Fail, and you will never be able to explain your failure. Community pride should dictate your course.
