SALMON PACK THIS YEAR WAS NOT UP TO OTHER SEASONS

Sockeye Was Only Variety for Which There Was Much Demand and Run Was Poor.

The salmon canning industry in the district this season has not been up to that of former years either in output or profits. Final figures for the many plants of the coast, Skeena River, Naas River and other parts of District No. 2 are not yet available, but it is known that they will not establish any records.

Sockeye was the one variety of salmon that was wanted this year and the run was not good due to a number of causes. This condition prevailed generally on the Pacific Coast this year. The run of pinks, cohoes and other brands was better, but on account of a glutted market, caused by the large pack of 1920, these kinds were not demanded particularly and were not in demand by canneries.

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—The last week in November is likely to be the date of the Dominion election. The Government feels bound to bring it on at least that early or it will do away with the excuse for holding the election before redistribution.

The result of the reconstruction will be announced by Premier Meighen early this week, probably before Wednesday, according to well informed circles here. It is said that the Premier will issue a manifesto within a few days in which will be an announcement of his new cabinet and that the issue of the election writs will follow immediately. It is stated that the election will probably take place during the last week in November.

Romance of Fishing Business Is Told by Visitor to City

Prince Rupert—and this is a fact which too many Canadians do not know—is the largest halibut market in the world, says Scott J. Duthie in MacLean's Magazine. On the North Pacific Coast west of Prince Rupert, and as far as 700 miles north, the most productive halibut banks are situated. Prince Rupert is also a shipping point for a great deal of salmon from Northern British Columbia and Alaskan points, and is the market for a great variety of small flat fish, including soles. Prince Rupert black cod is one of the delicacies which every epicure is learning to know. Other varieties of cod are neglected only because the demand is small.

When the boat on which our party was travelling reached Prince Rupert, says the writer of the article, the first sight which greeted our eyes was a fleet of small fishing vessels which had apparently come in within the previous few hours, and now were engaged in unloading. These sturdy little vessels take ice and bait out to sea with them, and as they make their catches the fish are iced and stored in the hold of the vessel which is always kept cool. When the vessels reach port there is a great race to get the fish marketed as quickly as possible. The quicker the market is reached the greater the value of the product of course.

It is an extremely interesting sight to watch the experts as they handle the huge fish. Each box of halibut averages about 205 pounds and we saw several fish beheaded, tossed into their boxes, iced, with crushed ice, nailed up and ready for the "fish special," all within a space of less than three minutes.

As the fish are packed, each box load is weighed and checked off both by the fish company that is making the shipment and by a representative of the fishermen.

The fishing boats are usually operated on shares, and while the fishing is good and everything "breaks right" the members of the crews make very tidy incomes.

Big Halibut Season.

During 1920, 19,675,700 lbs. of halibut, or approximately 890 car-loads, were landed at Prince Rupert. Only 500 carloads were shipped out by express by the railways, owing to the scarcity of express refrigerator cars. The balance was sold to the various cold storage plants.

On the North Pacific, at points other than Prince Rupert, there were landed about 22,000,000 pounds or 1000 carloads. Of this it is conservatively estimated at least 65 per cent would come to Prince Rupert, provided express refrigerator cars were available to take care of the trade. This would amount to 650 carloads, making the total number of carloads of halibut which could be handled approximately 1,540 or an average of more than four cars a day throughout the year.

During 1920 more than 31,000,000 pounds of salmon were landed at Prince Rupert and vicinity. Most of this was canned. Owing to the prevailing shortage of express refrigerator cars none was available for shipping fresh salmon, although it is estimated by the chairman of the Fisheries Committee of Prince Rupert Board of Trade that about 400 carloads of fresh salmon would have been shipped east had it been possible.

We Feed The Nation.

"We feed the nation" might well be the catchword of this city. We feed not only this nation but the American nation also with halibut, and we distributed our other fish products to almost all parts of the world.

Figures published elsewhere show that during the last twelve months no less than 21,851,550 pounds of halibut were marketed here, great impetus to the business having been given of late through the effort of the railway company to keep us well supplied with express refrigerator cars. In addition to this we have marketed immense quantities of salmon, both fresh and canned, and also black cod. As a result, we have come to be known as the big fish market of the coast and eastern buyers insist on having Rupert packed fish because they know it is well packed and that no time is lost in getting it to the market.

Important to Keep Up the Standard.

Prince Rupert has set a high standard for the quality of fish marketed here and it is very important to see that this high standard is maintained. One shipment of poor fish will mean the loss of much business in future. Because of this it is to the advantage of the express company and the shippers that only fish of good quality is sent out of the port, that it be marketed speedily and that it be sure to arrive at its destination in good condition.

It is noticeable that fishermen whose icing and cleaning can be depended on sell their fish at higher prices than the less careful fishermen. The buyers prefer to pay a good price for the best fish rather than a low price for poor fish.

Price of Fish Is Very Low.

The price of fish is at the present time very low, too low, the fishermen state, to make the operation of the boats profitable. At the same time there seems to be no abatement in the amount of fishing done, doubtless in the hope that by the end of the next trip the price will be better.

While the present price is abnormally low, it must not be expected that the good times of very high fish prices will again return. We are all having to adapt ourselves to the changed conditions. We must all expect to get small margins, whether we are in business or producing like the fishermen. What is desirable is not a return to the period of very high prices but a happy medium under which every man who works will be able to make a good living. If the price is very high it is a hardship to the consumer. If it is very low it is a hardship to the fisherman. The half way is the best.

Improve Conditions For the Fishermen.

The autumn is with us again and the winter is coming, and nothing has been done to improve conditions for the fishermen. The smaller boats have to tie up for the winter, yet there is nowhere for them to lie except at the float provided by the Provincial Government, which is not large enough for all. The Provincial Government control does not include the foreshore. The Marine and Fisheries Department is responsible for the aids to shipping, large or small, and it is to them we should look to provide the necessary accommodation. As there is an election in sight it might be well to get active in demands for facilities. The fishermen themselves should lead in the matter, and they should be backed by the Board of Trade and every other organization in the city. What is wanted is not a promise of accommodation next year after the election is over, but a float right now for use this winter as a protection against the gales which now and then sweep the harbor and are a menace to the small craft which are so numerous.

LARGEST FISH COLD STORAGE

Company Employs Between Five and Six Hundred People in Summer.

HANDLES 20,000,000 LBS.

Immense Freezing Capacity and Facilities for Doing Big Business.

Prince Rupert has the third largest cold storage plant in Canada and the largest in the British Empire used exclusively for fish. During the summer months the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Co. employs over 500 men on their boats and various plants not including the fishermen on the large number of independent boats, which sell their fish to the big concern.

The cold storage plant has approximately 750,000 cubic feet of insulated space insulated with cork throughout. To freeze this immense space, two 75 ton ammonia compressors are used and one 75 ton absorption plant. With these there is no difficulty in getting 20 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit, which freezes a 30 pound halibut in fifteen hours and fish of other sizes in proportion.

30,000 Pounds an Hour.

There are at the plant facilities for discharging four fishing schooners simultaneously which enables them to comfortably handle 30,000 pounds of fish per hour.

The sharp freezers can freeze 120,000 lbs. of fish per day and when it is frozen there is plenty of accommodation for loading into cars for eight cars can be loaded on the siding without a switch.

The approximate turnover of the company for the year is 20,000,000 pounds of fish of all varieties and included in this between 25 and 30 per cent of all the halibut produced on the Pacific Coast. Shipments are made to all parts of Canada and the United States as well as to many parts of the British Empire outside of Canada.

One of the specialties that are made here are the famous smoked black cod or sable fish which are not produced in any part of the world except on the north Pacific Coast.

Ice Manufacture.

Ice manufacturing is one of the side lines of the cold storage plant. There is a capacity of eighty tons of ice daily and from this supply not only their own fleet of boats but also the city of Prince Rupert and a large fleet of vessels operating from the port as well as the canneries adjacent to the city and other large shippers of fresh fish.

The company's fleet consists of three modern steamers, four large auxiliary powered schooners engaged in fishing and six carriers which bring salmon and other fish from the camps and buying stations located along the coast and on the different islands adjacent to the port.

Tuck's Inlet Cannery.

The cannery at Tuck's Inlet two and a half miles from the Cold Storage plant has a capacity of 40,000 cases and packs the renowned Skeena sockeye as well as red springs, cohoes, pinks, and chums.

The total number of employees during the summer averages from 500 to 600 on the company's own ships and plant. The payroll amounts to $30,000 a month in summer, and in

!?:

ARE your customers giving fish its customary place in their daily diet? Up to you to influence their appetite, and thus increase your fish sales.

Do you know that CANADA USES LESS THAN TWENTY POUNDS OF FISH PER HEAD EACH YEAR, whereas Great Britain consumes 58 pounds, Norway about 75 pounds, countries bordering on the North Sea vary from 40 to 200 pounds, and Japan 200 pounds or more per capita each year.

You being directly in touch with the consumer have the great opportunity of increasing fish sales and thus helping, to a paramount degree, one of Canada's best industries.

Often we get letters that seem to cover all the reasons why Pacific Milk has such a hold in the affections of the housewives of the West. Mrs. George Hardie, for instance, says: "I have tried fresh milk and almost every kind of canned milk. I must give Pacific Milk the preference because I can use it in everything and get better results than I ever got with anything else. I have made several converts among my friends by showing them what could be done with a can of good milk."

there been an adequate supply of cars.

During 1920 no express refrigerator cars were available for shipment to local points between Prince Rupert and Winnipeg, consequently such shipments had to be made in baggage cars. This injured the business in fresh fish at these points, as frequently the fish did not arrive in good condition.

At least three express refrigerator cars per week would be required to take care of this trade, or 150 cars per year. At many Canadian points mixed carload lots of halibut, salmon and other fish had been ordered, but it usually has been impossible to supply these orders owing to the car shortage. This shortage has now been remedied.

Faster Than Passenger Train.

A particularly good opportunity to get in touch with the fish business, was afforded our party while in Prince Rupert. When we approached the wharf the first sight that met our gaze was a regular flotilla of small fishing vessels, all busily engaged in unloading their perishable freight, after what appeared to have been very profitable voyages.

Not only were we shown over vessels, and one of the largest cold storage and shipping plants there, but the following day we left for Prince George—four of us—aboard the caboose of a "fish special" which left for Chicago and other United States points at 9:20 a.m. on the morning of May 16. This train ran on a schedule considerably faster than the crack passenger trains, and while we sat in the cupola of the caboose, we had during the afternoon the satisfaction of rushing by the fast westbound passenger train which had been run on a side track to permit us—the "fish special"—to continue our speedy passage east. Thus you can get a glimpse of the importance of this traffic from the railroad's viewpoint.

Train Worth $50,000.

This train had twelve cars, eleven containing halibut and one with fresh salmon. The estimated value of the fish on this train was slightly less than $30,000 and the express charges which the railways received totalled $11,500.75, made up as follows:

Car No. 1	$1,959.73
Car No. 2	1,073.30
Car No. 3	1,029.99
Car No. 4	816.65
Car No. 5	999.32
Car No. 6	998.11
Car No. 7	998.53
Car No. 8	1,031.48
Car No. 9	939.19
Car No. 10	954.01
Car No. 11	815.50
Car No. 12	790.91

About $600 on each car accrues to the Canadian Express Co.

"You know," said one of the "fish special" crew "this fish business is really a wonderful one and is capable of such extraordinary development. During the week of May 2 for example 130,000 pounds of halibut were turned away from Prince Rupert because when the fishermen tied up to the wharf they learned that there were no cars to take their product east.

"You may have heard that some of the crews make 'big money'; they do, but those who make unusual amounts work hard for what they get. One crew of four men who were more than usually fortunate had been out four days and sold their catch of 13,000 pounds at the fish auction on the morning of their arrival for approximately $1,100. As this is hook and line fishing you can imagine they were a very busy crew and were not confining themselves to an eight hour day."

Geographical Position.

If it were not for the fish business there would have been very little reason for Prince Rupert being made the western terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific. But Prince Rupert has a geographical advantage here, which makes it the logical port for all the fish from the Northern Pacific coast points to be landed. Fish landed in Prince Rupert are able to reach Chicago, Toronto and New York very much more quickly than if they are taken on down to Vancouver or Seattle.

A test of relative speed in reaching the market was made in 1915. A large catch of halibut was landed at Prince Ruper, rushed aboard a "fish special" and then commenced a special and then commenced a record journey for Chicago. The halibut on this train actually reached Chicago the same day that they would have reached Seattle had their vessel continued on south to the nearest United States port; that is, there is a gain in delivery of the time which would be taken to run a fish train from Seattle to Chicago.

The immense importance of this business is shown when you consider the cargo values. The retail value of the fish shipped out of Prince Rupert in 1920 was $4,000,000, and the approximate express charges on these shipments aggregated $150,000. Shipments this year, however, have been much heavier and more frequent, and the express charges consequently larger.

PLAY HAVOC WITH CHANCES

High Tariff in States Likely to Jump Cost of Living.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(Canadian Press)—Republican members of Congress who have their ears to the ground are deeply concerned over the things they are hearing which indicate a trend of the political currents adverse to their party. While they can hardly believe it possible that the Democrats will be able to capture the House next year and to make gains in the Senate, they are nevertheless mindful of the fact that in the past there have been some remarkable changes of political sentiment following the enactment of a tariff law. In this instance, Congress is confronted with the necessity of passing both a tariff measure and a tax revision bill and hence, the chances for increasing popular discontent are doubled.

6,000,000 Unemployed.

What makes the situation worse is the fact, as shown by a recent report of Secretary of Labor Davis to the Senate, that there are nearly 6,000,000 unemployed in the United States. Senator McCormick of Illinois says the unemployment is getting worse instead of better and that the coming winter will be as bad as in 1914, when there were 7,000,000 out of work. It is entirely probable the government will be impelled to take some steps for the relief of unemployment before winter comes on.

Still further adding to the discontent is the fact that the cost of living for the average family, though it is not as high as it was at the peak of the war period and the period immediately after the war, is still high. In many centres it has been increasing of late. With the farmers getting scanty prices for their products and the list of unemployed a long one, it is easy to see that high prices for necessities are not going to make things easier for the party in power.

Little indication is given that the level of rates fixed in the tariff bill in the House will be lowered by the Senate. On the other hand, the rates are likely to be increased in numerous instances.

Prevent Lowering.

The agricultural "bloc" is working hard to prevent any lowering of the House agricultural rates and in some cases increases in the House rates are sought. No prospect exists that the wheat rate or the grain rates, as fixed in the House will be lowered. Canadian cattlemen, in northwest Canada, are understood here to view with apprehension the duties fixed in the House bill affecting their business but there is little reason to believe they will find the situation any better when the bill passes the Senate. The agricultural conditions in this country continue to be serious and this is why the agricultural senators and house members refuse to listen to any talk about the desirability of commerce between this country and her neighbors, or this country and Europe and Europe and insist on piling higher the duties.

Political Effect.

While this is true, Republican senators and house members from the great centres of consuming population, fear the passage of the tariff bill will be followed by a big jump in the cost of living and that this will play havoc with their political chances next year.

CASTE

One of the most level-headed of our Labor leaders listened to a discussion the other day in a railway carriage on class barriers. He remained silent till appealed to by a bricklayer for his opinion.

"I know where all the class barriers are," he remarked.

"Where?"

"Among workingmen," The bricklayer snorted, but was silent when the other inquired, "Lo you ever let your laborer use the trowel?"—London Morning Post.

CALLIES BEAT SONS ENGLAND

Earn Right to Enter Exhibition Finals by Winning 5 to 3.

The Callies defeated the Sons of England by a score of 5 to 3 in the football game at the Aeropolis Grounds on Saturday afternoon and thus gain the right to play in the final on Wednesday with the Sons of Canada for the Exhibition sweaters. The game on Saturday was well attended and, on the whole, was keenly contested and interesting. Three juniors appeared on the field—E. McIntosh for the Callies and George Hill and B. Barrie for the Sons of England. They made excellent showings. There were a large number of ladies on the sidelines who proved interested spectators and enthusiastic "rooters."

The game opened with the slope in favor of the Callies. The first score was made for the Scots by Jack Campbell, McIntosh following with the second. Harry Fanthorpe then tallied for the Sons and Bob Stewart came through with the third for the Callies. Play in this half was in favor of the Scots who had three, at the call of the whistle, to the Sons of England one.

Even in Eecond

In the second period, the Sons of England made a valiant effort to recover and Fanthorpe put through a beauty which gave the Callies' defence no chance. McIntosh scored again for his side and B. Barrie tallied for the Sons. The Callies' halves and forwards now settled down and showed some combination work which was as fine as any seen on the field during the season. The result was another score for them through McIntosh. Play in the last half was evenly divided between the two teams.

Harry Fanthorpe and E. McIntosh, centre forwards for either side, put up the best brand of football game on the forward lines. J. M. Campbell, left half for the Callies, was also in great form.

Officials and Teams.

W. McCulloch was the referee and A. Clapperton and Frank Vickers were linesmen.

The teams took the field as follows:

Sons of England—Button; H. F. Wearmouth and S. Darton; G. Mansell, D. Fanthorpe and Kelsey; J. Farquhar, B. Barrie, H. Fanthorpe, G. P. Tinker and George Hill.

Callies—William Martin; S. Stewart and W. E. Williscroft; J. M. Campbell, W. Murray and George Abbott; George Sellars, J. Campbell, E. McIntosh, R. Stewart, and J. McGeish.

TRACK RECORDS ARE SHATTERED

Great Speed in Mile and Thousand Yard Races at Toronto Exhibition.

TORONTO, Sept. 12.—Two Canadian track records were shattered on Saturday at the athletic field day staged by the Canadian National Exhibition here.

In the mile handicap Joe Ray of Chicago clipped five and three-fifths seconds off the Canadian record, covering the mile in 4.15 flat.

M. Muir of St. Mary's Athletic Club lowered the Canadian record for 1000 yards when he ran it in 2.15 2-5. The previous record was 2.19 1-5.

Sport Chat

In the window of Stal's Cigar Store are on exhibition four silver cups, trophies of the sporting season that have been won by the Sons of Canada. The Gihuly basketball cup, Mobley city league football cup, Dominion Day cup and Gihuly football cup are joined together with ribbons of gold and purple, the colors of the society. Close behind is the Nickerson city baseball championship shield which the Sons also won for the season in being successful in the baseball game Saturday with the Elks.

With the opening of the hunting season for ducks and geese today, the first parties are being forth for the favorite haunts of the feathered beauties. DeLusion Bay, Pillsbury Cove and Tucks Inlet and other spots farther afield will probably be visited by more hunters than ever this winter. Many extensive trips to distance points such as Gardiner Canal and Portland Inlet are also being planned. They will vary from three days to three weeks in length.

To wind up the baseball season, the Junior League will have a banquet on Wednesday evening. Great plans are being made and the event promises to be one that will be a delight to all and will be remembered for a long time to come. W. J. Cash, the league manager, will again preside and that guarantees that there will be class to all the arrangements.

SONS OF CANADA CITY CHAMPIONS

Annexed Nickerson Shield by Beating Elks on Saturday—8 to 4.

The baseball game on Saturday afternoon between the Sons of Canada and the Elks was won by the former by a score of 8 to 4. By their victory, the Sons are conceded the city championship for the season and hang up the Nickerson Shield, the City League trophy.

Although it was interesting enough and provided lots of fun for the spectators, the game could not be described as a good one. There were plenty of close decisions at first base and at the home plate which high have gone either way. Neither pitching nor fielding was up to the usual style of the teams.

Les Lane made the biggest hit of the game, a three bagger. Clementson and Corbie each made two baggers. The Elks made five errors and the Sons of Canada three.

Clementson struck out seven men, walked three and hit one. Shakespeake struck out twelve, walked seven and hit three.

The box score was as follows:

SPORTS GROUNDS NEED FIXING UP AT ONCE

This week Prince Rupert will have more visiting ball teams than ever assembled in the city at one time before. There will be two outside baseball teams and three or more native football teams. The play-off for the Exhibition sweaters will also take place as well as the other field events. Thousands will be on the Aeropolis grounds in the course of the next few days.

The sports grounds are in anything but good shape and there should be some improvements, such as levelling up and placing of dirt, made immediately. There are a lot of rocks scattered over the field and the heavy rains of the past few weeks have made half a dozen rivulets. In the interests of the sporting public, both from the outside and locally, the city should have some work done and that within the next 48 hours. The program will be fully under way by Wednesday. As it is at present there is danger to players, and a little fixing up now might avert serious accidents which would certainly mar the celebration.

185,000 POUNDS OF HALIBUT ARRIVING TODAY IS AVERAGE

Many Thousands of Pounds of Halibut Have to Land Now to Cause Stir.

Only a few months ago when over 100,000 pounds of halibut

Today, for instance, there is 185,000 pounds unloaded which is nothing out of the ordinary.
That amount is quite usual on market days.

The supply is satisfactory and all the plants have enough to fill requirements. There are also plenty of cars. The following are the arrivals:

PATTULLO WILL NOT PAY VISIT TO EGYPT

William Turnbull Detained in England Owing to Illness of Wife.

VICTORIA, Sept. 12.—Word received at the Department of Lands intimates that Hon. T. D.
Pattullo, Minister of Lands, will leave England about the 15th inst. on his return home, eliminating his proposed visit to Egypt to investigate the possibilities of that country as a market for British Columbia lumber. The Minister and F. C.
Wade, Agent-General for British Columbia at London, have just returned from a trip to Norway and Sweden, where they investigated water power development, paper making and the manufacture of fertilizers from nitrogen derived from the air, these processes being studied with a view to future possible developments along similar lines in this Province. William Turnbull, Lumber Commissioner, who went to England with the Minister, and contemplated visiting Egypt,
has been unable to do so, having been detained in London through the illness of his wife.

MITCHELL ALBERT INTERESTED IN MINE

So Says Current Issue of Om-neca Herald Just to Hand.

It is expected that the gold property at Dorreen, formerly owned by the late Louis Knobs, an abandoned to the Fiddler Creek Gold Mining Co., since defunct will this fall be re-opened and development continued all winter says the Omneca Herald.
Last week W. G. Norrie-Lowenthal was in Prince Rupert for several days in consultation with
D. Tredway of Edmonton and M.
Albert of Vancouver and Rupert, and as a result a new company is being organized to carry on the development. Mr. Tredway has the controlling interest and Mitchell Albert is closely associated with him. Mr. Norrie-Lowenthal will be the engineer in charge and as soon as the finances are arranged he will take a small crew of men down and get things started.
The property is close to the railway and connected with a good wagon road. A lot of development work has already been done and the ore proven of good grade. The plans of the new company provides for the expenditure of $15,000 on development which it is expected will block out 20,000 tons of ore.
Then the grade of ore and the system of treatment will be decided and a plant installed.

PROTEST AT MAKING OF APPOINTMENTS BY MEIGHEN GOVERNMENT

EDMONTON, Sept. 10.—Strong protest against political appointments by the Meighen government on the eve of a general election is made in a resolution passed by the Edmonton branch of the Independent Labor Party at their meeting here. The resolution reads:

1.—That it is a well established rule of our democratic form of government that no wholesale appointment of party workers and discredited politicians should be made on the eve of an appeal to the electorate which rule was strictly enforced during the term of Earl Aberdeen as governor-general by the governor-general himself.

2.—That the rumors of appointment of judges, senators and other normally, life appointments are unnecessary until after the approaching election.

3.—That these appointments are political and should only be made after the electorate have declared who are to be the government.

4.—That no public service will suffer if all such appointments are made in the regular way by the new government after the election, and that we protest that such appointments should be so delayed.

ments are made in the regular way by the new government after the election, and that we protest that such appointments should be so delayed.

5.—That a copy of this resolution be sent to the governor-general of Canada, Premier Meighen, Hon. Mackenzie King, leaders of the opposition; Mr. Greer, leader of the Progressive Party, and the daily papers of Edmonton.

LOST MEMORY FOR 17 YEARS

Man Struck on Head in Montreal Finds Himself in Italy.

MONTREAL, Sept. 10.—To receive a blow on the head with a bottle, to lose his memory and to return to a normal condition 17 years later, finding himself chef in a Neapolitan hotel, has been the strange experience of George Spence, of New Mexico, according to the stories he tells of his adventures after being shanghaied from Montreal in 1903.

Having in Italy acquired a taste for delicate wines, and seeing no chance of gratifying it in New Mexico, Spence came to Montreal for a few days respite before going home. He left for his almost forgotten home last night.

Spence says that he came to Montreal in the fall of 1903 to look up a cousin of his. He was wandering about the docks when two men approached him and asked him if he would engage for a voyage. He replied that he did not wish to do so. The men got in conversation with him and later asked him to have a drink in one of the waterfront taverns. He assented. While drinking a fight arose. In the midst of it, though he was taking no part, he was struck on the head with a gin bottle. He lost consciousness, and came to himself only some months ago in the Hotel Splendid, in Naples, where he found that he was a typically bearded Italian chef.

Memory Blank.

He remembers nothing of his voyage to Naples, or his previous life in Italy, and finds the whole world unbelievably changed. Though he does not remember, it appeared that he had been employed at the hotel for some 17 years, being taken on as a dishwasher and later becoming a cook, rising to the $8,000 a year position he held at the time he returned to normal. He fought with distinction with the Italian army against the Austrians.

The circumstances of his return to himself are very strange. He was cooking eggs for a Russian countess one morning in Russian style. This involves throwing the eggs in the air, and on one occasion the pan in which he was supposed to catch them slipped from his hand into the air, and fell on his head. His mind suddenly became clear, and instantly he realized that he was not Ernestino Paluccio, but plain George Spence.

Wires Father.

After the commotion which arose when he commenced to speak in English and could not understand Italian, had subsided, he hid himself to the nearest cable office and cabled his now aged father in New Mexico. The latter joyfully responded and Spence-Paluccio, getting his wages from the honest hotel management, left immediately for the New World.

PSYCHIC PROBLEM

Two powerful colored stevedores, who had had some sort of falling out, were engaged in unloading a vessel at a St. Louis dock. Uncomplimentary remarks and warnings of intended violence were exchanged whenever the two passed each other with their trucks.

"You jest keep on pestieatin' around wid me," declared one of the men, "an' you is gwine be able to settle a mighty big question for de scientific folks."

"What question dat?" asked the other.

"Kin de dead speak"—Harper's.

THREE DAYS' GRACE.

Maggie's sweetheart, a proverbially tight-fisted Scot had taken her out for the afternoon, and that was about all. They rode some distance on the trolley turned around and rode home again. Never was mention made of food or entertainment.

Back within her own gateway Maggie, who had keenly felt the neglect, sarcastically proffered Sandy a dime.

"For the care you spent on me," she said, meaningly.

"Hoots, toots, woman," returned Sandy, pocketing the coin. "There was nae hurry. Saturday wad hae been time enough."—American Legion Weekly.
