Queer Queries of a Political Agnostic

Why is Colonel Peck supported by the Conservative leaders in the present election?
 Why is the independent candidate designated a Conservative on the official list sent out by the Canadian Press to all newspapers with the little word "independent" underneath the name of being placed in the independent column with the "independents"?
 Why is it that throughout the city the Meighens are being on Colonel Peck as our own?
 Why does not Colonel Peck go out straight and fight for the Meighens as a Meighen candidate?
 Why has Colonel Peck no other than the Meighen political conditions for the past weeks have been splendid, weather has been of the best, the halibut have been plentiful.
 Captain Hansen of the Prince of Wales, which sold 50,000 pounds yesterday, reports that he never seen better weather on banks than has prevailed for past month. There has not been a single day that it was not a fine day to fish, Captain Hansen an old fisherman in these parts.
 The catches are now being made on the Yakutat and W banks. In the winter the boats will be sent to the Portlock banks, off Kodiak Island.
 Among the big schooners coming here in the course of a few days are the Torkensjold, Allen, and others.

NOVEMBER MAY BREAK RECORD FISH CATCHES

Over 2,132,000 Pounds Has Been Landed at This Port—More Big Boats Coming.
 A total of 2,132,000 pounds of halibut landed at Prince Rupert so far this month with several more large boats expected daily from banks. November gives promise of being a record-breaker in amount of fish landed here. Figure given includes all arrivals up to yesterday afternoon. Account of the large quantity of fish marketed in the past days, the price is now getting down to a low point, and if the fish keeps as large there is likelihood of it increasing.

Conditions Good.

BURDE BACKS THE PREMIER

Says Government Will Have Square Deal in Face of Conspiracies.

VICTORIA, Nov. 23.—Major R. J. Burde, independent soldier member for Alberni, yesterday assailed Premier Oliver of "a square deal while conspiracies were abroad in the House." He said he would like to break up both Liberal and Conservatives but would prefer to support the Premier to playing into the hands of traitors. Burde spoke in the Budget debate in the House, accusing the Legislature of wasting time and urged that it set its time for some constructive legislation to be produced.

J. A. Galloway, R. H. Pooley and G. S. Hanes spoke to the budget, each criticizing the item, chiefly the Pacific Great Eastern Railway.
 Galloway suggested that the Squamish-Alberni section be scrapped and the grade turned into a motor road.
 Hincheliffe disagreed with the minister of finance that municipal expenditures should be curbed by the municipal authorities themselves, as he pleaded for a more effective education system and less extravagance.
 He said the present condition compelled the employment of inferior teachers in country districts.
 Most of the day was taken up with the committee stages of the Vancouver bill.

Boxes of Gold Are Stolen from Safe On Board Steamer

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—Five boxes of gold bullion valued at $125,000, out of a total of fifteen boxes consigned by the Australian Government to San Francisco banks, were missing from the steel safe when the steamer Sonoma of the Oceanic Steamship Company arrived. Supposedly burglar-proof locks had been filed off the safe and five of the boxes removed and the locks affixed again, so that the theft was not noticed until the ship reached San Francisco.
 The gold seems to have been taken early in the trip from Sydney and was probably landed at Honolulu.

13 KILLED IN BELFAST RIOT

O. H. NELSON AND INDEPENDENT AT LAST ELECTION
 "If you can't vote for Forney, then vote for Pattullo. Don't vote for an independent." That was what O. H. Nelson said at the meeting in support of Capt. Forney the night before the provincial election in the Empress Theatre, November 30 last.
 Of course Mr. Nelson does not consider Colonel Peck an independent.

INTEGRITY OF CHINA

The representatives of the powers declared that they were ready to assist China to maintain a stable Government and to provide equal opportunities for all countries in the commerce of that nation.

RECENT VISITOR IN RUSSIA TELLS LOCAL PEOPLE OF AFFAIRS

Joe Knight, of Winnipeg, spoke to a gathering of 300 persons in the McIntyre Hall last evening on "Conditions in the Countries Bordering on Russia as Compared with Conditions in Russia." J. R. Burroughs was chairman and several interesting questions were asked the speaker after he had finished his address. A collection of $70.85 was taken up which will go towards the local fund for the relief of the famine-stricken in Russia.
 In his address, Mr. Knight, who visited Russia recently, said that, as far as comparing Russia and the adjoining countries was concerned, the whole of Russia where Soviets were established had every advantage despite the handicaps under which that country was now laboring. There was poverty and starvation in Russia but there was no waste. In the neighboring countries there was poverty, starvation and waste as well. In these countries, girls of 14 years of age were wandering the streets as prostitutes and they were encouraged as such by their own brothers. The majority of the people were, however, in favor of the Soviet system. In Latvia, out of a population of 1,250,000, the whole young adult male population of 40,000 had been conscripted and all civil work was being done by old men, women and children.

OTTAWA, Nov. 23.—There is to be a general reduction of 10 per cent. on freight rates on all railroads under the jurisdiction of the Railway Commission. This has been ordered by the board to come into effect on December 1. Following a conference with the leaders of the three big roads, it was announced that the decrease would not be a straight percentage reduction but a reduction of 10 per cent. from the increases of rates made effective in 1920, when the rates were increased 40 per cent. in the east and 35 per cent. in the west. This will leave a net increase of 25 per cent. in the east and 20 in the west, one reduction having been effected a year ago.
 A general reduction has also been made in sleeping and parlor and Pullman car charges granted in 1920.

THREW CLUB AT PRINCE

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Independent cables from Bombay say the rioters threw clubs at the Prince of Wales' head while the Prince was entering a building to attend an official ball. The club missed the Prince. Rioting followed, many in the crowd it is believed having been hurt.
 A despatch to the Times says the Prince went to the Poona race course and freely mingled with the crowds, who gave him a great reception.

NOMINATIONS YESTERDAY

Are 630 Candidates in Field for 235 Seats in Dominion Commons.

OTTAWA, Nov. 23.—Three were 630 candidates nominated yesterday for 235 Canadian constituencies. The only one elected by acclamation was E. Gus Porter, Government candidate for West Hastings, where the Progressive nominee spoiled his papers and thus lost the nomination, leaving Porter unopposed.
 British Columbia has a Conservative in every one of the thirteen constituencies. The Liberals have eleven, Progressives five, independent or Labor six.
 Women candidates number five in all Canada, and none of these are in British Columbia.

LITTLE MONEY AS YET HAS CHANGED HANDS

While there is a lot of talk of betting on the elections in the city, there is very little money being placed. Numbers of people are offering money on Stork, but there are no takers. While a good many say they will cover the offers, the money is never forthcoming. One bet of $500, even money, was taken and a few small amounts, but since that the Conservative backers have been shy.

CANNOT EXPECT TOO MUCH FROM ARMS PARLEY

Premier Hughes and Australian Parliament Doubtful of Results.
 MELBOURNE, Nov. 23.—Opposing a motion in parliament from the labor side for a reduction of the appropriation for the Air Force, Premier Hughes declared that the Australians could not yet rely over much on the "Washington" disarmament conference and its possible results toward military curtailments. The motion was defeated.

DAILY EDITION

Wednesday, Nov. 23, 1921.

Will Be Defeated by His Friends.

Colonel Peck and his supporters are apparently ready to countenance anything that they think will bolster up their lost cause. We regret having to defile the pages of The Daily News with such language, but it seems necessary to let our readers see the kind of material that is being used.

"Who are those who shout so loudly against the independent sentiment? Comb them with a fine tooth comb and see if they are not either sucking after some patronage, some job, some reward, some timber limits, some grab, or of a calibre unable to get anywhere except through some rotten party trickery. Hence their hypocritical chatter concerning some grand old party or some grand old leader, who, too frequently, like themselves, don't give a linker's cuss for the welfare of the whole people.

That was yesterday's editorial in the independent organ. Do the people of Skeena electoral district believe that it is necessary to try to blacken the characters of opponents and resort to dirty language such as that used in order to win this election? If that sort of thing is necessary, The Daily News will not be a party to it. We believe that Colonel Peck is an honorable man and that his supporters are honorable men. It is our belief that they are actuated by the highest motives, even though they are making a mistake. We believe that the supporters of Colonel Peck are just as good a lot of men and women, no better and no worse than those who are supporting Fred Stork.

Should Nation Take Over P. G. E.?

Should the nation take over the P. G. E. instead of leaving it a burden on the province? Both Dominion and Provincial governments are ours and we are the ones who pay the taxes to keep it up.

A few years ago the McBride Government was not satisfied with the speed in railway building carried on by the Dominion. They jumped into the game themselves and let contracts for the construction of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway from Squamish to Prince George, after having received the endorsement of the people for their action.

The railway to Prince George is now practically finished and the next problem is, what shall we do with it? If we attempt to operate it, as is being done today with a part of the line, we are bound to lose an immense lot of money.

When M. A. Macdonald was in the city recently he advocated that the Canadian National take it over and make it a part of the Canadian National system. That would relieve the province of the necessity of carrying a heavy burden and the burden would then be carried instead by the whole people of Canada, where it belongs.

Census Returns and Election.

Already the census returns are complete for Alberta, Manitoba, Maritime Provinces and a good deal of Quebec. These have been published. Others could have been published if there had been a desire to get them out. The Canadian Government is in a position to know now what the population of the different provinces is.

THAT political agnostic does get my goat.

ELECTION day is coming and We'll all go out to vote. We'll send Fred Stork to Ottawa. He will not be the goat.

ITS better to work for Fred Stork's election than to hope for it.

APPARENTLY the only person who thinks girls wear sufficient clothing is the person who pays for them.

IF people acted according to their lights, what about those who went skating last night? The lights were very dim.

APPARENTLY the editor would like to have Colonel Peck use some gasoline to clean off the slime of some of his supporters.

"INJURED on my trip." No, sirree, I was injured on my both lips. It happened when I sat down too vigorously.

IT seems to the ordinary observer as if there was altogether too much love and affection among the nations of the world. Since they have all agreed to the general principles for which the conference was called, we shall now expect to see some fireworks from this on.

GENERAL ODLUM ON LIBERALISM

Tells of Some of the Things He and the Liberal Party Stand For.

Brigadier-General Victor Odium, who is running as Liberal candidate in South Vancouver, at a recent meeting made a rather notable speech from which the following statements are culled:

"I am unalterably opposed to Oriental immigration. I believe this province should be kept for ourselves."

"I believe in a selective immigration from Europe. Displaced, sub-normal immigrants are dangerous—as Orientals to Canada."

"British Columbia fisheries should be controlled by British Columbians with expert knowledge of their requirements."

"I am a firm believer in the equalization of pensions."

"Errors in judgment are just as serious in national life as errors in intention."

"It is my firm conviction that had the more you trust the mass of people the better they respond. The Liberal party has always stood for the widening of the basis of personal liberty."

"The Liberal party does not stand for free trade, but for modified protection. The Hon. W. S. Fielding is responsible for the tariff policy under which the Conservative party is now operating."

"The present government took over the railways at their face value as going concerns, allowing their builders to retain the wealth made in building them. Today Canada is responsible for the losses and liabilities these men should have borne."

"Prior to 1896 when the Conservatives were in power they had a protective policy but still Canadians streamed south. Something more was needed. With the coming of the Liberals a new element was instilled into the country. Canada became a wealthy and virile nation with a steady stream of agricultural immigrants from the old land. Good times resulted."

"You must populate the farms before cities can be truly prosperous. I stand for and the Liberal party is committed to a selective immigration policy for the farms."

"I am anxious to avoid any suggestion of wrong-doing in public life in Canada. I do not believe half of what I am told. I believe that many public men who have contributed to the support of powerful interests in the East have done so through ignorance."

"Why should we not realize that unemployment on the Pacific coast is a constant problem and prepare some system which shall last in order to cope with it. I favor a national unemployment insurance scheme."

"The tariff is not a thing for the average person to play with. I believe there should be a tariff commission appointed to thoroughly study it and act upon their findings."

"The Liberal party stands for the interests of the common people. I believe that, if they are returned, the Farmers' party will gradually merge with it, for they will see the principles for which they stand being worked out."

Peck's Record Compared with That of Fred Stork for Benefit of Electors

WANTED—A man to represent us at Ottawa. State experience and qualifications. Apply Skeena Electors.

Such an advertisement presents our present Federal Election as a serious, cold-blooded business proposition. That is exactly what it is and our only sane and safe policy is to adopt what is recognized as shrewd business methods in making our choice.

We have heard much of Col. Peck's military record. In choosing a Federal member we are not concerned with this other than that it emphasizes his honesty, energy and proves his loyalty by his exposure in the front lines of battle when as a commanding officer he might have enjoyed the security and protection of the safety zone.

Col. Peck as our member at Ottawa has to his credit the building of ships, an ocean dock, a warehouse, a station, light-house, other aids to navigation, the payment of wages and mercantile accounts and many other smaller items—all admittedly for the benefit of his district.

Mr. Stork as a private citizen has according to record always behaved himself. What we are concerned with, however, is the efficiency with which he has functioned, as a community worker. When the city was incorporated and no fight on, he accepted the mayor's chair for a few months. When the city's real strenuous struggles began and serious problems had to be faced and solved, Mr. Stork retired from the civic service and took a trip to Germany—not a war-time trip of course. During the long lean years of Rupert's growing pains with their dark days of doubt and stormy nights of unrest, Mr. Stork took no part and evidently no interest.

The city council, school board and hospital board saw him not. Even the board of trade received no active assistance from him. His only community activity was confined to military matters and that only in the day of peace. In short he deserted the new born babe, forgot and neglected it during his checkered infancy and only returned to proclaim his assumed parentage on the eve of Rupert's expansion and promotion to its destined place as B. C.'s second city in commercial and industrial importance.

On record the position would go to Col. Peck.

No Suspicion. In considering the question of honesty we would hope and expect Mr. Stork to be as free from "graft" in public life as he is in private. But if our choice is based on business methods we must remember that many men scrupulously honest in private life have wandered far from the chalkline in public affairs.

In the case of Col. Peck we have absolute knowledge of what has been. With his influence what a fortune he might have amassed in some of the unfortunate war contracts, but there has never been the suggestion of suspicion against him. Without any wrong to Mr. Stork we should on this score choose the tested Col. Peck rather than the untried Mr. Stork.

Col. Peck's long list of achievements extracted from a Government said to be unfriendly to our city and district indicates aggressive energy to a most marked degree. We are old a Government more friendly disposed to us is about to come into power. If that is so it is not a fact that then our safety would be doubly secured. What a happy combination it would be—a friendly Government and a member who has accomplished wonders even under adverse circumstances. As already pointed out, Mr. Stork's energy has as yet contributed nothing to the community—not even a definite, specific promise for the future.

In loyalty to the district Col. Peck is universally admitted the "champion booster." He knows its wealth of farm and forest. He realizes the riches of our mines and he has seen the annual harvests of the sea. He is free from the fetters of party ties and knows not the fear of the party-whip. This freedom of speech Mr. Stork could not possibly enjoy. Party pressure has stifled the voice of men like John Oliver on the one hand and Arthur Meighen on the other. What would happen to obscure men like Mr. Stork, Col. Peck can demand the trade of the Peace River for our city. He can ask for ships for the trans-Pacific trade from here. He can ask this and more—none daring to make him afraid. On the other hand fear of the party whip would silence Mr. Stork even if the interests of Rupert were sacrificed for the benefit of Vancouver or the advantage of his party.

Not Established. To summarize Mr. Stork's qualifications he is without political record, and so has not established his political integrity. When our infant city had its serious problems he went to Europe. When the fight was in Europe he was in Rupert. When his Liberal friends had a fight on a year ago he was in California. When his labor friends had a fight on this summer he took to the hills. If sent to Ottawa no doubt he would maintain the same policy of avoiding the conflicts and following the lines of least resistance. Surely it would be suicidal to replace Col. Peck with a man of this type. Every honest, loyal, sane instinct shouts:

"Return Col. Peck."

THE LOYALTY PARTY.

Mr. Meighen, in addressing the citizens of Toronto at Massey Hall, made the statement that "there are men in Canada today who could save nearly half their income taxes by moving to the United States." But what is the use of moving to the United States? The experience of the Riordon Company shows that the United States Government is keen after income taxes. In three years that company was obliged to pay $328,081 cash in taxes on profits to the Government of that country. But in this country the Riordon Company is permitted to pay its income taxes by promissory notes, and the Government admits that other big companies have done the same thing. Mr. Meighen during his tour has dealt with so many subjects that he has become a little twisted. What he should have said was: "There are men in Canada today who can save all their income taxes by giving I.O.U.'s to the Government." But of course, this permit does not apply to men of small income.—Ottawa Citizen.

Broad Valley of Bulkley Is Developing Rapidly: One of Richest Parts of Province

The Bulkley Valley as a dairy farming country is assured of a great future. The farmers there, after several years of experimentation, are coming to the conclusion that dairy farming is the business for which the district is pre-eminently suited. It is evident to them that this is the particular branch of agriculture around which all others will centre.

Climatic conditions are generally such that other lines of farming, such as growing of grains, fruits or vegetables, cannot be carried on with any more than moderate success, if even that. This is mainly on account of summer frosts which, it is no use denying, seriously affect many parts of the valley.

Summer frosts, however, do not affect the benches as much as they do the lands alongside the river. That is why one does not see many farms in passing through that country on the railroad trains. A passenger from the east recently riding on one of the trains through the Bulkley Valley said: "So this is the famous Bulkley Valley that I have heard so much about. But where are the farms?" The answer is evident. The large and successful farms are established in the benches, some miles back from and out of sight of the railway track.

Summer Frosts.
The summer frosts in the Bulkley Valley are very peculiar. They come, sometimes, in the months of July or August. From then on to October or even November there may be no more frosts.

Stock Raising.
When one speaks of a country being suitable for dairying it naturally follows that it should be suitable for stock-raising and that the Bulkley Valley is. At the present time, however, the farmers there do not look with favor on raising beef cattle and the reason for this is plain. As far as the farmer is concerned beef cattle are now a cheap commodity and hides practically cannot be sold. In spite of the fact that beef and leather in the retail markets have not yet dropped back to pre-war prices, the prices paid the farmers are very low. With a farmer getting perhaps no more than 40¢ a pound for his beef and nothing for his hides it is readily seen why it is that stock-raising in the Bulkley Valley, or anywhere else, at the present time is not a paying proposition.

The silo is bound to play an important part in agriculture in the Bulkley Valley. There are very few established as yet but the next year or so should see them being built in great numbers. With the increasing of dairy herds something will have to be done along the lines of insuring winter feed and the use of the silo will undoubtedly be the solution.

Bulkley Valley Butter.
For dairy products, the same requirements of the Bulkley Valley and the interior generally may be appropriate. Two matters stand out. They are railway reforms and the establishment of experimental farms. In both the present administration have shown little interest up to the present time when the election is drawing near. Especially in regard to the railway, have the people grievances, first as to freight rates and secondly, in regard to service. The freight rates affect the farmer in every way. He has to pay excessively when he moves in with his household effects and implements. When he ships to market he again runs up against the same conditions. A number of cases have been reported recently where new settlers have shipped their effects from the east and paid in advance only to find on arrival at their new homes that they would have to pay perhaps several hundred dollars more which they did not expect before they would be able to get their property away from the station. Thus, mismanagement is added to otherwise difficult conditions. In the matter of train service, the people of the interior claim that, even if passenger trains are not increased, freight trains could at least be run more conveniently to alternate with them. In this regard the condition is not so bad east of Smithers but the same cannot be said of the west where freight trains and passengers run on the same days in the same directions and this with only three trains a week.

Roads Wanted.
In the matter of roads, the people of the Bulkley Valley also claim more attention. They state that they are not getting enough consideration in comparison to the south. They object to the provincial government spending large sums of money on big reclamation and irrigation market is offered to the Bulkley Valley as is offered to all other parts of British Columbia. With the establishment of creameries at various points of vantage and they will doubtless come when the amount of milk and cream produced warrant them, the name of "Bulkley Valley Butter" should become as famous as the products already produced in the Chilliwack and Cowichan districts.

When one says that dairy farming is the ultimate destiny of the Bulkley Valley, it does not mean that grains are not or cannot be grown there. On the benches they are grown already with success which was marked by threshing activities that were still going on as late as ten days ago.

This season has seen an unusually late coming of winter in the Bulkley Valley and the interior generally. A fortnight ago people in Prince Rupert thought that the interior would have been already snowbound and frost-bitten. If they had had the privilege of driving over the roads which were almost impassable with from four inches to a foot of mud they would have realized that winter had not come yet.

Size and Extent.
The most of people outside have a mistaken idea as to the size and extent of the Bulkley Valley. Refer to any place between Terrace and Prince George and they think it is the Bulkley Valley. That, however, is not the case. Strictly speaking, the valley commences at Hazelton where the Bulkley River flows into the Skeena and the most easterly point on the railway in the valley is Pelling, 130 miles east of Hazelton. From Pelling east, one is in the Nechako Valley of which Francois, Ootsa and the number of other lakes are a part.

The centre of the Bulkley geographically and some say commercially is Telkwa which, because of its location as the railway point in an especially rich section of the valley, is assured of a future from agriculture alone. Immediately around Telkwa and east of it as far as Pelling the best parts of the Bulkley Valley from a farming standpoint. For a few miles west of Telkwa there is good land but coming west of Smithers the country is not so rugged and rocky and is not so suitable to agricultural pursuits.

Burke Lake is not in the Bulkley Valley but is rather in the Nechako system which is a tributary of the Fraser. Cedarvale, Kitwanga, Usk and Terrace to the west are in the Skeena River valley.

What They Want.
Now that a Dominion election is approaching, a few words to the requirements of the Bulkley Valley and the interior generally may be appropriate. Two matters stand out. They are railway reforms and the establishment of experimental farms. In both the present administration have shown little interest up to the present time when the election is drawing near. Especially in regard to the railway, have the people grievances, first as to freight rates and secondly, in regard to service. The freight rates affect the farmer in every way. He has to pay excessively when he moves in with his household effects and implements. When he ships to market he again runs up against the same conditions. FRANCOIS LAKE

There was born to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gerow at the Francois Lake Hospital a son.
 Bathing is still the "go" in Francois Lake. One day last week in spite of bitter cold an adventurous party took a header from the scow as the ferry neared the wharf. The ferryman promptly went to the rescue with a pikepole and in spite of indignant protests on the part of the bather insisted on fishing him out.
 The ferry made a trip to the head of Francois Lake on the 13th inst. to fetch Mr. Blackstock and his crew who have been installing the telephone service from Burns Lake south to Ootsa and round to Houston. Communications is established now between the Hospital and Dr. Gray, Mr. Bostrom's and Ootsa Lake. Other places will soon be supplied with receivers.

Mollee Lake is frozen over and the young people of the neighborhood are enjoying the skating.
 Miss Margaret Pollock of the "Cheshkint Lake school was a recent visitor to Mrs. Gray for a day.

LONDON TIMES EDITOR ON MAKING NEWSPAPER

Journalists Know Weakness of Profession—Must Be Commercial Proposition.
 LONDON, Nov. 23.—William Steed, the editor of the Times, delivered the inaugural address of the new session to the journalism students of the University of London at South Kensington when he took as his subject "The Making of a Newspaper."

The making of a newspaper, said Mr. Steed, was bound up with what was known as "the power of the Press." Journalists had few illusions about that power. They knew its weakness, sometimes they knew its strength, but few could tell beforehand exactly what the effect was going to be of anything they printed or wrote. The only thing they could be certain about was that if over a given period of time they thought honestly and wrote sincerely they could produce a certain effect upon public opinion.

A sound technical grasp of the processes by which a newspaper was made, and a clear understanding of the reasons for those processes, were well-nigh indispensable to the training of any journalist. Journalists must build from the foundation, and the best foundation was an education as broad as deep, and as varied as it might be possible to secure.

Good shorthand, good typewriting, mastery of foreign languages, without forgetting the mastery of English—which, he said, was by far the most difficult language he had ever attempted to learn—training in

Cough Nights

Terribly wearing on the system is the cough that comes at night and prevents sleep.
 The constant coughing keeps the lungs and bronchial tubes in such an irritated and inflamed condition that they get no chance to heal.
 You will find in
DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP
 a remedy without an equal, for soothing the lungs, loosening the phlegm, strengthening the breathing organs and fortifying them against pulmonary disease.
 Mrs. John McKerney, Lower Montague, P. E. I., writes:—"About three years ago I caught a very bad cold accompanied by a sore throat and hoarseness, and was so hoarse you could hardly hear me speak. I could get no rest at night with the terrible annoying, hacking cough. I tried several remedies, but they did me no good. Finally I saw Dr. Wood's Norway Pine syrup advertised, got a bottle, and at once it gave me relief, and after using four my cough had all gone. Now I always keep 'Dr. Wood's' in the house, and shall recommend your remedy to others."
 Price, 25c and 50c a bottle at all dealers. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

the use of reference books, the power of compression, clearness of thought, a sense of logic—all these were good and useful. But, with all these, there might still be something lacking. That something, the thing that was really indispensable, was what they might call character, ability to distinguish between what was fundamentally right and what was wrong, a hatred of injustice, a fund of human sympathy, a kind heart, and fearlessness in following the lead of an informed conscience—these were the truly indispensable qualifications for journalism.

Business and Art.
 The first thing journalists had to remember was that a good newspaper must be what our American friends called a "commercial proposition." The making of newspapers was a business as well as an art. Unless newspapers could pay their way they could not be independent; and unless they were independent they became a danger to those who read them. There was today no institution in this country—if they excepted the throne—of which the independence was more vitally important than the independence of the Press.

Compression.
 Lord Northcliffe, who, was, he thought, the ablest all-round journalist he had ever met, said recently that compression was the essence of journalism, and he added that good compression was best done in the journalist's mind before he put pen to paper. The alternative was the operation known as "cutting," which was an art by itself, and a most fatiguing and exasperating art. The work of reducing a windy paragraph to a short and readable paragraph was as severe as any intellectual labor he knew. It sometimes wished he could take Lord Tom Moyle, his Majesty's Secretary of State for Air, into a newspaper office when wordy "copy" came in. He advised the students to be terse, clear, and comprehensive, without falling into vagueness. The problem of compression was the problem of every artist. Keen discrimination was constantly needed in deciding what news to print and what not to print. The conflict between the commercial instinct, that would fain sell any news the public was ready to buy, and what he would call the civic instinct, which withhold news that was not good for the public, was unceasing and would never end while newspapers lasted.
