Dail Eireann Seems Evenly Divided

WHILE TREATY BEING HOTLY DISCUSSED HOSTILITIES CONTINUE

Decision In Regard To Treaty Is Expected From Dail Eireann To-night Before Xmas Hoidays

LONDON, Dec. 22.—Decision as to the ratification or rejection of the Irish treaty by Dail Eireann or adjournment until after Christmas is expected by tonight in the treaty proceedings in Dublin. The fight for and against the treaty now seems nearly evenly divided and most of the members who have already spoken have expressed themselves emphatically one way or the other.

When the Dail adjourned last night twenty-nine members had given their views on the treaty since the debate opened. Fifteen favored the treaty, thirteen opposed it and one declared neutrality. How many of the remaining ninety-one members intend to speak is unknown.

Violent Attack.

A violent attack on the treaty by Mary MacSwiney yesterday drew many members out of the chamber and seemed to injure rather than help the cause which she advocated.

Richard Mulcahey, chief of staff of the Irish republican army, created a sensation today when he began to speak on the treaty in the Dail Eireann. He said that nobody wanted it but he saw no alternative to its acceptance.

FAMOUS PAPER MAN OF STATES PASSED AWAY

Henry Watterson, Editor for Many Years of Louisville Courier-Journal, Is Dead.

JACKSONVILLE, Dec. 22.—Henry Watterson, one of the best known journalists of the United States and former owner and publisher of the Louisville Courier-Journal, is dead here.

Henry Watterson was born in Washington on February 16, 1840. Owing to a defect in vision he was mainly educated by private tutors and graduated from several universities. During the civil war from 1861 to 1865 he was a staff officer.

He commenced his journalistic work as a reporter and editorial writer in Washington in 1858 and was later editor of the Democratic Review, the Chattanooga Rebel and the Republican Banner of Nashville. In 1868 he removed to Louisville to assume the management of the Journal, which he consolidated with the Courier and Democrat in 1868 under the name of Courier-Journal.

He was editor of this paper until 1919. He served several terms as congressman and was very intimate with United States political affairs every since boyhood. His "Looking Backward" sketches appeared in the Saturday Evening Post in 1919 and 1920 and were widely read both in the United States and Canada for they were filled with intimate human interest.

WILL OPPOSE PREMIER KING

EDITORIAL

NEXT ATTORNEY-GENERAL

The appointment of an attorney-general to succeed Mr. Farris is a problem that will be exercising the minds of those who are interested in governmental affairs. There are not many men of outstanding ability who are capable of filling the position satisfactorily. The most outstanding lawyer in the Legislature is Hon. A. M. Manson, speaker of the Legislature and member for Omineca. He should get the appointment if he is willing to take it. Whether he would be willing to sacrifice his business and go to Victoria to live is a question for him to decide if he should get the offer of the position. What is against Mr. Manson is the fact that he lives in Prince Rupert, the home town of Hon. T. D. Pattullo. It is doubtful if the people of the south would be willing to agree to two ministers of the crown coming from Prince Rupert. Outside of that objection, which really is not a serious one, Mr. Manson is the logical man for the situation. He is certainly the most capable man and if he should be appointed there is every reason to believe he would not be opposed when he went to his constituents for re-election.

CONCESSIONS TO BRITAIN

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 22.—It is understood that Major Henry's British delegation at Ineboli has obtained important concessions from the Turkish Nationalists, including the recognition by the Nationalists of international control of the Dardanelles, with British priority over the other Allies.

The anti-British propaganda in the Islamic countries of Asia is also to be abandoned. The concessions include as well the recognition of the British mandate in Mesopotamia asd the granting of economic privileges in Asiatic Turkey north of Mosul.

WESTHOLME THEATRE PACKED FOR SECOND ELKS' MINSTREL SHOW

There was a packed house in the Westholme Theatre yesterday afternoon for the second performance of the Elks' Minstrel Show. The show was staged especially for the children who were admitted free but there was also a goodly attendance of grown-ups. The same program, with a few alterations, that was presented last Wednesday night was repeated.

There was a parade of youngsters led by the Minstrel Band from the Elks' Home in the Beckwith Building to the theatre. On the conclusion of the performance the company paraded back to the headquarters.

REVOLUTION RULES VIENNA IN PLOT FOR SOCIALIST REPUBLIC.

The extreme elements of Vienna, using as an excuse the rising prices of all necessities of life and the disturbed economic conditions obtaining in Austria, are trying to bring about a revolution and proclaim a socialist republic. Rioting of a more serious nature than anything Austria has known is taking place. The demonstrations are being inspired by the Socialists, although some officials blame it on the Communists. Police are powerless as workmen wreck and pillage the capital. One picture shows those that suffer mostly—the kiddies. These two tots in their tattered clothing manage to keep alive by begging in the streets, while the other shows a Communist meeting, held on one of the principal street corners of Vienna.

LOSS TO PROVINCE

Jews Returning To Palestine.

With Christmas closely approaching the thoughts of many are drawn naturally to the Holy Land with all its fascination consequent on the picturing to us of the scenes as laid down in Scripture writings. At various times the Jews were expelled from their native country, and just as often they returned. Just now it looks as if they were at the close of a long period of expulsion for they are gradually returning. "What are the Jews doing in Palestine?" asks a newspaper writer. Representatives of the native population were recently in London pleading that the land should not be given to the Jews.

The British Empire accepted the mandate to administer the country on the understanding that we would assist the Jew to establish in it his national home, and at the same time see that the rights of the Arabs and other native races were not interfered with. The task has been a trying one. There have been strong anti-Zionist demonstrations, rioting, and even bloodshed. But it is interesting to note how the Jews have quietly gone on with their plans, and how they are rapidly establishing themselves in the land.

When war broke out there were some 45 Jewish colonies in Palestine. Today there are 72, owning between them 130,000 acres of land. Hundreds of Jews have settled in the country, and they have expended vast sums in agricultural and other enterprises. Since 1918 the Jews alone have spent over £2,000,000 in the country.

For Most Part Agricultural.

The colonies are for the most part agricultural settlements. They dot the landscape from Beersheba in the south to Dan in the north. Some of them date back 40 years and more, though the majority of them were founded within the last 10 years. At first the colonists had a very hard struggle. But they throve, largely owing to the use of machinery and the more up-to-date methods employed. This is evidenced by comparing the yield of their crops with those of their Arab neighbors. With the Arabs the cereals (wheat and barley) yield an average gross produce of about £1 per acre; in the better Jewish colonies the fields yield up to £2 and £3 per acre and more. In Arab orange groves 350 cases of oranges per acre are considered a very good average crop, whereas the yield from Jewish groves it 40 to 60 per cent. more. Jewish vine-planters also obtain double the yield from native vineyards. The average yield of milk from the native cow is 130 to 150 gallons per annum, against 440 gallons from the cows on the Jewish farms.

Practical illustrations of the progressive and scientific spirit on the part of the Jewish colonists are met with on every hand. In place of the primitive Arab chain-pump, which is set in motion by a camel or a mule that walks round and round with its eyes blindfolded, the Jews have introduced modern pumps worked by oil or gas motors for the irrigation of their orange and lemon groves. In order to remove the stagnant pools which breed fevers the Jews have planted large clusters of eucalyptus trees.

On the Plains of Shannon they have founded an up-to-date agricultural station equal to those in America. This station has accomplished marvels in improving the vines, fruits and cereals. Every year Egypt imports about £80,000 worth of table grapes from Symrna and Cyprus. The agricultural station has succeeded in acclimatizing a variety of table grapes ripening three weeks earlier than those varieties which Egypt imports. In like manner the olive has been improved, and by a new method the mulberry tree is now in leaf three weeks before the normal time.

Are Developing Industries.

Then not only in agriculture but in industrial development the Jews are to the fore. They have, since the war, established modern oil works, and laid down plant for the distilling of essential oils, in particular essence of geranium and thyme. Silk factories, glass works, box-making and other industries have been founded. The building trade of Palestine is now virtually controlled by the Jews, and the manufacture of cement stone is entirely in their hands.

We find the same spirit of enterprise when we turn to local and home industries. In and around Jerusalem factories have been opened for the weaving of Oriental carpets, for the manufacture of silver filigree ware, for ivory carving, the making of mother-of-pearl articles, and the like. The foreign trade of Jaffa amounts to nearly three million pounds sterling a year, and it is nearly all produce from the Jewish colonies.

The fact is the Jews have done more than any other race in developing the soil of the sacred land and in founding suitable industries. They have, in fact, sunk millions of dollars in the country, and are fully prepared to spend several millions more. They should create not only a prosperous and thriving Palestine, but a new country whose influence will be world-wide. There are today 100,000 Jews in the country, against 20,000 less than forty years ago. The total population of the land today is about 600,000, but in old Bible times it supported a population of over three millions, and was a large exporter of cereals and fruits to the surrounding nations.

We have to admit, then, that for its future prosperity and progress Palestine largely depends upon the activities of the Jews. The Arab demand that the British should withdraw the declaration concerning a future for the Jewish race in Palestine can not be upheld on any impartial examination of the case.

NO TAXES AT GOLD COAST

Cocoa Production of Country Is Immense: Half Total World's Supply.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—(By Canadian Press).—The Gold Coast, with its population of more than a million and a half, as given in the census of ten years ago, has been described by Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, secretary of State for the Colonies, as a country without income-tax, rates or unemployment. The governor and commander-in-chief of the Gold Coast, Brigadier General F. G. Guggisberg, in a recent address before the African Society in this city pleaded for the better education of the natives of the Gold Coast Colony.

The cocoa production of the Gold Coast is so large that in 1919 the export figure of 176,000 tons represented nearly half the world's supply, says a correspondent in The Times. The output of gold, which gave the colony its name, has declined of late years, largely owing to scarcity of labor consequent upon the superior attraction to the native workers of cocoa-growing. The output of gold is now not much over £1,000,000 per annum. There has been a decline in the export of palm kernels and oil due also to labor scarcity. These commodities are plentiful, but are not gathered. Kola nuts and timber are other important productions.

Rivers Broken.

The rivers of the Gold Coast are so broken by rapids and other interruptions that the country is forced to depend on railways. At present there are two lines. The first runs from Secondi to Kumasi, 184 miles, and carries cocoa and manganese ore, in addition to serving the gold mines, for which purpose it was constructed. The second railway line goes inland from Accra, and taps the great cocoa district. It is eighty-five miles in length and reaches Tafo, but is being rapidly continued to Kumasi to join the other line. This means an additional 105 miles, and it is expected that the railroad will be finished in the next two years.

The railways need an exit on the sea, but nature has been unkind to the Gold Coast in that it has no natural harbor. Secondi and Accra possess breakwaters, which enable travellers and goods to be landed in lighters, while the ships are obliged to lie half a mile or more away. At Takoradi, a few miles from Secondi, an entirely new harbor to remedy this inconvenience is being made at a cost of £1,600,000. When completed it will provide a place for ships to lie in smooth water; nothing more. A scheme whereby they might be brought alongside docks remains to be put in hand.

It's a lazy fellow who does no earning.

LIQUOR FINES TOTAL $2000

Winnipeg Magistrate Has Busy Day in Police Court with Bootleggers.

WINNIPEG, Dec. 22.—Fines totalling $2,107 were levied in city police court. Of the court revenue $2,000 was contributed by violators of the Manitoba Temperance act.

Findlay S. McKay, a grocer was fined $600 for the possession of more than two dozen bottles of whiskey, which police said was "moonshine" put up in bottles bearing labels and inland revenue department seals which, they believed, were forgeries.

In defence, McKay said 26 bottles of the liquor found in a room were undoubtedly the property of a tenant of the room, whose name he did not know. The presence of the balance of the liquor, he explained, by saying the people from whom he had purchased the business had possessed a reputation as bootleggers.

"This is a bad case," remarked Sir Hugh John Macdonald, as he noted the fine.

Gus Guignard, who, police say, is the manager of the Carlton Cafe, was fined $300 for the possession of beer in an eating place.

John Malkins paid $500 for the possession of liquor in a local hotel. This is the second conviction against Malkins.

John Mahaie was fined $300 for possession of a quantity of beer, while Andrew Sorenson, proprietor of the Sutherland hotel, where strong beer was found, contributed a like sum.

Four grocers were fined $15 each for violation of the Lord's Day act.

ROAD PROGRAM COST TOO MUCH, DECLARES MANITOBA MINISTER

WINNIPEG, Dec. 22.—The financial situation of the country at the present time will not permit the provincial governments approval of a $5,000,000 road building program, submitted to the cabinet this morning by a delegation representing the Winnipeg Automobile club and the Manitoba Motor league. Hon. C. D. McPherson, minister of public works, announced following the meeting of the cabinet. The minister pointed out the government was not opposed to the road building scheme, but the feeling of the people at the present time would not warrant such an undertaking.

The automobile clubs proposed a $5,000,000 program covering a period of five years for construction of trunk highways through the province. In order to build the roads, 76 municipalities would be called upon to make outlays. Mileage proposed under the scheme is 1,660 miles.

It was pointed out the scheme would assist in colonization, increase the value of farm and other property in Manitoba, better social conditions in rural Manitoba, create tourist traffic, and permit consolidation of rural schools.

WINNIPEG WANTS SUNDAY TRAINS TO NEARBY BEACHES

WINNIPEG, Dec. 22.—Operation of trains to the beaches Sundays in the summer months will form the subject matter of a resolution to be brought before the city council by Ald. J. Queen, who gave notice of it at the last meeting of council.

He will ask council to petition the Dominion government to pass such amendments to the Lord's Day act as will make possible the operation of Sunday local trains.

In speaking of this question Ald. Queen said there were thousands of persons in the city who could not afford to have a cottage at the beaches, and if trains were run Sundays they could go to the beaches in the morning with their children. The young ones could play in the lake all day, and the family could be back home at night, with the father ready for work Monday morning.

There were other families who could afford to stay at the beaches in the summer, but the husbands must be in the city early Monday morning to go to work. If trains ran as he suggested the husbands would have the opportunity of spending the week-ends at the beaches and be back in time for their work Monday morning. At present it is impossible for them to do this.

From a health point of view, said the alderman, it was desirable that residents of the city be given as many opportunities as possible to get into the fresh air in the hot summer months. Winnipeg had long winters in which the citizens were practically closed in, and it was imperative that opportunities and inducements be provided to take them away from their homes in the months when they could be out.

MAXIM GORKY AND FAMINE

Novelist Thinks Too Much Confidence Placed in Soviet of Russia.

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 14.—Maxim Gorky, Russian novelist and formerly head of the Russian Relief Commission, told the Associated Press correspondent when he passed through this city on his way to Berlin that he believed the deaths from starvation in Russia would aggregate 35,000,000.

He heartily praised the support which the American people were giving to the starving people of Russia but said the only way out of the serious situation would be through the establishment of international relief founded on the American plan, broad, efficient, complete and well controlled.

He doubted, however, whether the necessary relief would arrive in time to avert disaster.

He expressed the opinion that Mr. Hoover's relief was somewhat imperfect and lacked organization, because sufficient safeguards were not taken to prevent the stealing of the food by gangs or Soviet officials, from the time the commodities arrived in Petrograd until they are consumed.

M. Gorky said Mr. Hoover had placed too much confidence in the Soviet.

He deplored the passivity of France and excused Germany for not coming to the support of Russia. Sweden's contribution to the famine he though was but a drop in the ocean.

On the question of Russian interior politics, Gorky said, "unrest is as common as dinner is here, but nobody takes any notice. Quite recently there was a fierce riot in Petrograd which was only quelled after much bloodshed."

HUSTLING OCCIDENT

A Chinaman who had recently arrived from China was desirous of starting a laundry, but was at a loss to know what sort of a sign to put over his shop. He therefore, decided to take a walk and investigate other signs in order to get an idea.

After walking a while, he came to a restaurant, before which appeared the following: "Never Closed." A little farther on he saw another restaurant with this sign: "Twenty-four-hour Service." Walking still farther, he came to one reading "Meals Served Day and Night." Finally he hung up the following: "Me No Sleep, Too."—Everybody's Magazine.

LIFE AND DEATH.

A minister who guarded his morning study hour very carefully told the new maid that in no circumstances were callers to be admitted—except, of course, he added, in case of life and death.

Half an hour later the maid knocked at the door.

"A gentleman to see you, sir."

"Why, I thought I told you—"

"Yes, I told him," she replied, "but he says it's a question of life and death."

So he went downstairs—and found an insurance agent.—Seattle Post Intelligencer.

LAYING CABLES UNDERGROUND

London to Put Wires Out of Way of Gales—800 Miles to Be Laid.

LONDON, Dec. 22.—(By Canadian Press)—An extensive program for the laying of telegraph and telephone cables underground is occupying the attention of the Post Office Department at present, and contracts have been placed by the Government for putting more than 800 miles of main cables beneath the surface of city streets and other highways. The need of making telephones gale-proof was emphasized by a storm early in November last, when considerable damage was done to wires in the eastern and northeastern districts from the Humber to the Thames, and as far inland as Huntingdon and Bedfordshire; also in the south, midland, southwestern districts and North Wales. The damage was caused by trees falling on the wires.

The vulnerability of overhead wires during a gale was pointed out by the Postmaster-General, Rt. Hon. F. G. Kellaway, in a recent address at Bedford in which he outlined the program which his department had undertaken. It was employing a considerable amount of skilled and unskilled labor in different parts of the country, the Postmaster General said. This was not relief work, as it was generally understood, but it had the great advantage of being revenue earning and reducing the expenditure of the post office on maintenance and repairs.

The contracts for the laying of over 800 miles of main cables Mr. Kellaway said, included the trunk lines between London and Manchester; Southampton, Bristol and Brighton; Liverpool and Manchester; Birmingham and Worcester; Derby and Leeds; Glasgow and Edinburgh, and Birmingham and Manchester. More remained to be done, and the post office department would not rest until all the main trunk telegraph and telephone routes were safe from the risk of storms.

The Postmaster-General, referring to the fact that many new telephone exchanges had been completed recently, and that the total number of stations in use at the end of September was 964,479, an increase of 3,147 over the total at the end of August, and that new orders were coming in at a satisfactory rate, expressed the belief that the increase in telephone services indicated a revival in trade.

CATHEDRAL IS A SHAM

So Says Art Critic of St. Pauls and Other Fine Edifices.

LONDON, Dec. 22.—(By Canadian Press)—"An adorable sham" was the startling characterization of the outer dome of St. Paul's Cathedral by R. P. Oglesby in one of the weekly discourses on "Architecture and the Decorative Arts" which were given here by prominent architects and artists. Mr. Oglesby's theme was "Early English Renaissance Architecture" and his address was given at the home of Lord Northcliffe, by the courtesy of Lady Northcliffe. Mr. Oglesby also referred to portions of the interior of St. Peter's at Rome as "Shams."

"Sham" was not a nice word Mr. Oglesby admitted, whereupon he made the statement that the outer dome of St. Paul's was an adorable sham. "Wren boldly said," continued Mr. Oglesby, "I am going to give you a beautiful dome outside, and an appropriate dome inside, and what they are made of, or how they support my stone lantern and cross, weighing 700 tons, is my business and nobody else's." Mr. Oglesby asserted that neither of the domes in any way supported the lantern.

With regard to St. Peter's Mr. Oglesby said: "The upper portions of the interior of St. Peter's at Rome were shams—cleverly decorated to look like marble." He added that the most of the great Palladio's best work at Vicenza and other places was sham—merely stucco laid on brickwork, but none the less beautiful in form, "and our own architect, Nash introduced stucco into London, as in Regent Street and elsewhere."

In tracing the effect of the Renaissance movement in English architecture, which first manifested itself at the beginning of the 16th century, Mr. Oglesby spoke almost regretfully of its final triumph over the Tudor style. The Tudor style, he said, was long established, full of vitality, and essentially English. Its mode of expression had nothing in common with classic architecture—it was artless and haphazard—but full of accidental and charming effect.

DISTILLATE CHEAPER

The fishermen of the port are jubilant over their Christmas present. The price of distillate has dropped a cent and a half a gallon bringing it down to a rate even lower than at Ketchikan. This followed a long continued agitation for a reduction at this port, where such a large business has been done by the Imperial Oil Co.

George Woodland, local manager, has interested himself in this matter and has been largely instrumental in securing the change in price.

CROOKEDNESS OF DIRECTORS G. T. RAILWAY

Financial Post Declares Accounts Were "Cooked" in Order to Deceive Canadian Government.

The charge is made that the Grand Trunk accounts were falsified by railway officials. The Financial Post does not mince words in its statement that the action of the arbitrators is being misrepresented in London today and that the Canadian Government is at fault in not placing before the British people the deliberate effort of the directors to misrepresent the affairs of the railway. The Post says in part:

When the shareholders of the railway realize how the accounts of their company were 'cooked' deliberately for years; were manipulated in a manner that, as their own representative on the Board of Arbitration, Hon. Mr. Taft, declares "admit of no defence," it seems reasonable to expect that they will turn the searchlight of their condemnation upon their own board as a change from the bitter charges of unfair treatment they are launching against the Canadian authorities.

Those same G. T. R. directors after their amazing acceptance of the National Transcontinental Grand Trunk Pacific line had submerged the old line with the new G. T. R., deliberately falsified the accounts by concealing revenue of $8,000,000 between 1915-17 so as to deceive the Dominion Government into believing the situation was far worse even than it really was. Then in 1920, when the shoe was on the other foot, and they wanted to gouge this country in a settlement for the Grand Trunk, they twisted accounts the other way, and calmly wiped out a deficit of nearly $6,500,000.

For Stock-Ringing

Mr. Taft in dealing with the "cooking" of accounts that went on systematically, it would appear, from 1912 to 1920, remarks that Government counsel ascribed "variable motives to the London management for this treatment of accounts," and naively adds that "they are borne out by the circumstances." This falsification of accounts apparently was not limited to a deliberate attempt to cheat Canada in its purchase of the roads; stock jobbing seems to have been one of the impelling motives to this shameful conduct. "In 1913," the statement of Mr. Taft goes on, "the operating revenues were improperly increased, apparently in order to justify the declaration of a dividend on the three series of preference stocks." This scandal surely is a fitting subject for a searching inquiry on the part of the London Stock Exchange where these securities are listed.

This unsavory record of the crookedness on the part of these responsible officials is illustrated by selections taken from Mr. Taft's personal finding his unusual frankness being called forth in an effort to secure more favorable treatment for the shareholders.

"The counsel for the Government," wrote Mr. Taft, "have satisfactorily shown that the statements of Mr. Chamberlin were only a part of the plan to show the Grand Trunk to be in a worse condition than it was, of which the understatement of revenues to the extent of eight millions was another part, all with a view of threatening bankruptcy in the hope of inducing the Government to relieve the Grand Trunk of the burden of the Grand Trunk Pacific. It is not just to visit responsibility for such evidence upon innocent stockholders and thereby establish against them a probable bankruptcy which their directors really did not credit and were adopting most questionable methods for an ulterior purpose to prove.

Surplus Eleven Millions.

"These statements of Mr. Chamberlin were made in the year 1917 immediately after the most profitable year in the history of the Grand Trunk. When its surplus, after paying all its fixed charges, was $11,319,311, a sum large enough to pay the full guarantees on the Grand Trunk Pacific debentures, a dividend on the 4 per cent. guaranteed stock, the dividends on the three preference stocks and leave a surplus of more than two millions for extra maintenance. Instead of being in bankruptcy or near it, at that time, the Grand Trunk Railway was more prosperous than ever in its history, but the directors were trying to conceal it.

Later on he says:

"This subject requires a reference to the accounts of the Grand Trunk Railway Co. of Canada. It appears without dispute that from 1912 until 1920 the London management exercised a discretion to underestimate operating revenues and to overestimate operating expenses, with a view to making the published statement of the earnings and expenses of the railway different from that which a true transcript of the books would have disclosed. In doing so they made use of a so-called audit office account which they charged and credited with sums to accomplish their purpose. They directed these charges and credits by cable messages to Mr. Chamberlin and the officer in charge of accounts. Counsel for the Government ascribed variable motives to the London management for this treatment of the accounts, and they are borne out by the circumstances.

Improperly Increased.

"In 1913 the operating revenues were improperly increased apparently in order to justify the declaration of a dividend on the three series of preferred stocks, a full dividend on the first and second, and half on the third.

"Then came a period during which the London management was anxious to induce the Canadian Government to take the burden of the Grand Trunk Pacific off its back, on the ground that obligation to run and finance the Pacific road might lead to the bankruptcy of the Grand Trunk. That led the London management to underestimate their operating revenues and charge the Audit Office Fund during the years 1915, 1916 and 1917, with an aggregate of nearly eight million dollars that should have appeared as additional revenue.

"In 1919 and 1920, when the side of the road for the Government was being faced as the best course, manipulation of the accounts was directed to make the financial condition of the road seem better than it was. This dealing with accounts by the London management admits of no defence, but it cannot be permitted to prejudice the interests of the shareholders in this case. . . . . The local officers, except the president, and those immediately charged with the matter of accounts, were not privy to this action.

$6,500,000 Deficit Mislaid.

"The chairman of the Board has referred to a statement by Mr. McLaren, the auditor, in respect to the accounts as published for 1919, in which year there was a deficit according to the corrected accounts of $6,188,918, whereas the result as published was $5,556 surplus."

WINNIPEG WANTS HELP WITH HER UNEMPLOYED

WINNIPEG, Dec. 22.—Necessity for early ratification by the federal authorities of Winnipeg's plans for unemployment relief work, in which the Dominion will share in the abnormal cost, has been impressed on Senator Gideon Robertson, minister of labor, in a telegram sent by Mayor Parnell.

His worship has informed the minister that the costs for sewer and other work have been approved by J. E. St. Laurent, representing the public works department in Winnipeg. The cost has been estimated at $72,000 under summer conditions and $110,000 in winter circumstances. He also asked immediate approval by the minister in accordance with the order-in-council relative to the government's portion of the cost.

The Cold Storage Company announce their intention of putting up a larger stock of herring this year than ever before.

No Appetite

Nervous exhaustion leads to distaste for food. The nerves of the stomach are weak, digestion fails and you become generally upset and out of sorts.

The secret of complete restoration is in getting the nervous system fully built up.

Mrs. R. Cheney, 208 Richmond St., Chatham, Ont., writes:

"I was troubled with indigestion, which caused me many sleepless nights. I would be in terrible distress at times, and would get no relief for two or three days. For sixteen months I ate nothing but Shredded Wheat biscuits, as I dare not eat anything else. I did not know what to do, as I had tried so many different remedies, as well as doctors' medicines, without gaining permanent relief. Finally I got some of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and while on the second box noticed that I was improving. I continued the treatment until I am now fully restored, and have returned to my regular diet. My husband has also taken Dr. Chase's Nerve Food with splendid results, so we are glad to recommend it to others."

The annual seasonal warning issued by M. G. McNeill, chairman of the special committee of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada has again been issued at Winnipeg. It says that all athletes in future will have to be careful, for the committee has decided to prosecute in the courts all those who swear falsely to amateur standing. This information may be interesting to every branch of amateur sport in Canada where it is necessary to declare an athlete's amateur standing.

INQUEST ON SELIG DEATH

Coroner's Jury Yesterday Returned Verdict Accidental Death.

The coroner's jury which investigated the circumstances of the death of Captain George Selig at Port Louis, Queen Charlotte Islands, last Sunday returned a verdict of accidental death yesterday afternoon. A rider was attached calling the attention of the government to the frequency of this kind of accident and recommending that the Game Department should issue "safety first" instructions with all hunting licenses. The jury comprised G. A. Bryant (foreman), D. W. Bone, G. H. Elkins, E. V. Ling, Ralph V. G. Lepine and William G. Barrie. The inquest was held before Coroner J. H. McMullin.

E. W. Lockwood, the young man who fired the shot that killed Selig, in giving evidence said that he, Selig and B. Welsh had gone ashore from the Eagle at Port Louis on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 to go hunting. The accident occurred at 3:30 and the sun was setting and the woods were shady. Crawling along a fallen log he had seen an object which he thought was a bear. He fired and heard a yell and proceeding to the scene found he had shot Selig. He said: "Good God, Lockwood, you have shot me." He was attired in a black mackinaw and cap and was on the opposite side of the log. Lockwood had thought that he was with Welsh.

Welsh also gave evidence bearing out what Lockwood had said.

Mortally Wounded.

Peter Nowe, another member of the crew of the Eagle, said that when they had got Selig aboard the boat he had known that he was mortally wounded. "Tell Cora it was an accident," were the last words he had said before expiring about 5:45.

Dr. John P. Cade, medical health officer, who examined the body, said that death had been caused by gun shots. There were about 50 small shot wounds on the right and left of the spine and in the back of the head. They extended from the waist to nearly the top of the shoulder. They had apparently penetrated from behind.

Sergeant A. B. Bailey, of the city police, also took the stand testifying as to the identity of the deceased.

Harry Selig and Steve Selig, brothers of the dead man, arrived last night from Ketchikan on the launch Bartalome.

TWO HOCKEY TEAMS NOW NECK AND NECK

SEATTLE, Dec. 22.—Seattle and Victoria hockey teams are neck and neck for the leadership of the Pacific Coast League following the victory last night of the home team against Victoria. The score last night was two to one in favor of Seattle.

Riley Won Game.

Victoria and Seattle renewed their little hockey war last night and the Victorians lost the game after three rounds of stirring hockey.

Two bullet shots from "Stick" Jim Riley were enough to tie the race into a dandy bow knot. The play opened fast and closed faster. In the second period Victoria lost a valuable cog in the defence and attack when Oatman had to retire as a result of a sprained ankle. For the first twenty minutes there was no scoring.

FIRE INSURANCE is a hobby of ours. We take keen pleasure in making sure that all policies are so written that they cover your property exactly as you intend. If you entrust your fire insurance to careless, inexperienced or ignorant agents you may find, when you come to collect your fire loss, that your policies are so worded that the insurance company is not liable and so will not pay the loss. Why take chances?

NEW MACHINERY FOR VICTORIA LUMBER MILL

Temporary Shut Down Throws 250 Men Out of Work For a Month.

VICTORIA, Dec. 22.—The big mill of the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber & Timber Company has closed down for the Christmas holidays in order that new equipment to further increase the plant's capacity may be installed.

The C.P.S. mill is already rated among the heaviest producers in British Columbia, and this year ran a close second to the big export plant of the Victoria Lumber & Manufacturing Company at Chemainus. The present capacity is approximately 125,000 feet daily. With the new machinery installed, the mill will be capable of manufacturing 170,000 feet a day, according to present estimates.

A horizontal re-saw has been ordered which will increase the production by about twenty-five per cent. The changes to be carried out represent an investment of between $25,000 and $30,000.

Although about 250 men will be temporarily out of work as a result of the shut-down, it is expected that when the mill resumes operations in about a month's time it will carry an even larger personnel, adding substantially to the city's industrial payroll.
