Truce With Ireland in Effect Today

PRESIDENT HARDING CALLS A CONFERENCE ON DISARMAMENT

Truce Terms Agreed Upon with Irish Republicans and De Valera Formally Invited

DUBLIN, July 9.—Truce terms have been agreed upon this afternoon between representatives of the British military headquarters and the Irish Republican army.

DUBLIN, July 11.—The truce terms agreed upon between the British and Republican armies specify that no crown forces or munitions are to be taken to Ireland and there are to be no military movements and no provocative display of forces and that no Irish officers or men are to be punished or premises searched, nor is there to be secret surveillance of Republicans and no search or lines of communication.

The Republicans agree to cease attacks on the crown forces and not to interfere with crown property or indulge in a provocative display of forces and to discontinue such actions as would be likely to cause a disturbance of the peace.

The terms of the truce are to apply to the martial law area as well as elsewhere.

LONDON, July 11.—Lloyd George has invited De Valera and any of his colleagues who wishes to bring with him to Downing Street to conference any day this week.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—President Harding has definitely asked Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan to participate in a discussion in Washington on disarmament. Also it is suggested that they discuss with all powers interested the Pacific and far eastern problems simultaneously. China is invited to discuss the Pacific question.

WILLIAMS LAKE BURNING DOWN

Loss at P.G.E. Divisional Point $100,000 and Fire Still Raging.

ASBROOK, July 11.—The town of Williams Lake, a divisional point of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway in the Cariboo district, is reported to be in flames which are likely to wipe it out completely.

The fire broke out last night in the Frazer & McKenzie store and spread with great rapidity. Several stores, the hotel, dance hall, telegraph office and post office are already destroyed.

The loss is reported now at $100,000 and the fire is still raging.

During the winter the head of the road on the Pacific Great Eastern construction was at Williams Lake and it was the terminus of the road at that time.

SCOTS START OUT WELL WITH VICTORY IN UNITED STATES

JERSEY CITY, July 11.—The Scottish football team made good start in the series of games to be played against United States teams. They defeated the Jersey Cityites by a score of 4 to 2.

The win at Jersey City makes the 20th victory on the present tour.

Truce Went Into Effect Today; Confer Thursday

DUBLIN, July 11.—The truce in Ireland went into effect at noon today. A complete disappearance of police lorries and armored cars marked the beginning of the new condition.

De Valera has notified Lloyd George that he and his colleagues will go to London on Thursday to meet the Prime Minister in conference.

TENDERS FOR TWO STATIONS

Prince George Also to Get Building Soon—Larger Than Local One.

Tenders are being called for the erection of the new Prince George Canadian National Railway station as well as the one at Prince Rupert, bids to be in by July 25.

Measuring 102 feet by 39 feet, the building at Prince George will be slightly larger than the one here although the Prince Rupert depot will likely have more accommodation strictly for station purposes. The local station will measure 100 by 40 feet, the length including a 20 foot lean to.

The Prince George station will be one and one-half stories in height with a basement. Instead of having a flat roof it will be of the house style sloping from a peak with gables forming the upstairs.

On the ground floor provision is made for a restaurant and kitchen, ladies' waiting room, gentlemen's waiting room, ticket office and baggage and express room. Upstairs will be the operators' rooms and sleeping quarters.

The exterior of the station will be of brick and the inside lath and plaster. The floors will be of hardwood. As there is no sewerage system at Prince George, the building will be equipped with septic tank.

It will be located off First Avenue between Quebec and Dominion Streets, about a block from the foot of George Street, the present main thoroughfare of the city of Prince George.

G. A. McNicholl, G.R.N. assistant freight and passenger agent, made a round trip to Stewart on the Prince George yesterday.

DISARMAMENT MESSAGE WAS WELL RECEIVED

Discussed This Morning by Conference of Premiers in London.

LONDON, July 11.—President Harding's message looking to the calling of an international conference on limitation of armaments has been received with the utmost pleasure by Great Britain. Lloyd George declared in the House of Commons today that the president's message was taken to Lloyd George's summer home yesterday by Ambassador Harvey. This morning it was discussed by the cabinet. The proposal is the chief topic of conversation here.

Some of the Dominion premiers have called at the residence of the Prime Minister this morning and later the Imperial Conference met and considered by a score of 3 to 2, thus taking Harding's message.

Republicans and Orange-Men Kill Each Other at Belfast Saturday Night

BELFAST, July 11.—Fifteen are known to have been killed and 100 wounded in rioting here Saturday night which lasted until Sunday morning, following an attack by republicans on patrols. The military had to be summoned to restore order.

Parties of Orangemen later participated, rushing the bullet-swept streets, while armored cars and machine guns were rushed to the scene. The rioting extended to the suburbs of the city.

The spirit of the truce was conspicuously lacking in Belfast. DUBLIN, July 11.—One ambush and two shootings under the spy label compromise the week-end and outrages in the districts where the truce orders are believed not to have been received.

Arrivals from Fort Norman Found New Pass Through Rockies and New River; Gusher Is High Grade Oil

SPECTATORS KILLED DURING MANOEUVRES BY BOMBING PLANE

MOUNTAINVILLE, W. Va., July 11.—Six spectators were killed and fifty injured when a bombing plane crashed during maneuvers on Saturday. Explosions set fire to sixteen automobiles.

After travelling five thousand miles in divers manners, afoot, with dog team, in canoes, rafts and gas-boats; in modern palatial teamers and on up-to-date railroad cars, and with still more than a thousand miles to cover before their objective is attained, Walter Murphy, David McRae, Charles MacDonald and Howard Jolley passed through the city on Saturday on the "Princess Line" on their way from Fort Norman to Edmonton to register their stakings in the new oil country in the North. Yukoners all, bigie was nothing to distinguish the four intrepid argonauts from plains all told in different parties, and they brought reports of hundreds being on the trail behind them, all with the one object in view of staking oil lands. Leaving Fort Norman, the party proceeded down the Mackenzie river as far north as Fort MacPherson, well within the Arctic circle, thence across Peel Passage to the Porcupine River, where the ice broke on June 6, which they followed to its junction with the Yukon river at Fort Yukon, and thence down the Yukon to Dawson, which they reached on July 2.

River Valley Staked.

The oil found at Fort Norman is the highest grade ever known to come from the ground. At 58 below zero, it remains as thin as water and it is possible to start engines with it as it comes from the well, without any refining, being according to their report practically pure gasoline.

Although there have been so few people in the country since drilling started, the whole river valley is staked for some twenty miles and the words "anticline" and "syncline" have replaced plumb and quartz in popularity.

This party, which is the second to come out via the coast, was sent north by a Victoria syndicate in which "Billy" Wright, late of the Windsor Hotel here, and J. B. Robertson of Prince Rupert are interested.

Best Winter Route.

The party left Victoria for the North during the winter and outfitted at Whitehorse in the Yukon territory which they left on January 23 with dog teams. Following the valleys they struck east on the Little Salmon river, across the Glen Lyon range and up the Ross valley, across another divide into the south fork of the McMillan river. This stream they followed to its source in the Rockies where they found a new pass and on the other side, the river new to geography, the "McMurphy," which is a tributary of the Gravel river which in turn flows into the MacKenzie a few miles south of Fort Norman. The route taken by this party is the easiest one so far discovered and will possibly become the permanent trail. They were the first ever to go in over it.

Davoid of Life.

On the Yukon side, game aplenty was to be found, but on the east side of the mountains, the country was very rough and practically devoid of animal life, not even the track of a squirrel to be seen for days on end. Vegetation was scant in these rocky foothills, only a few stunted spruce being visible. Further on, on the Gravel river the country is full of muskeg and lakes, but toward Fort Norman and from thence north to Fort Good Hope, fur is very plentiful.

Population of Eight.

Living at Fort Norman, the travellers found eight white permanent residents. There were three traders, two Mounted Police, Constable Brackets and Doak and three trappers. These made up the whole population for a radius of two hundred miles.

The country did not impress them as being good for anything. It was possible to grow indifferent potatoes and other roots but hardly anything else, the place being apparently good for oil only. The Imperial Oil Company's gusher has been capped, and other three drills on the way in, one being sent up by the Hudson's Bay Company and two others.

Parties Arriving.

The party arrived in Fort Norman on April 4 and remained there until May 22 during which time they made their stakings. While they were there, the vanguard of the invasion from Alberta arrived, about twenty peo-

Why Not Tourists Stop Off Here?

Now that it seems to be established that tourists are bound to come this way whether they are encouraged or not, it might be wise to consider whether a longer stop-over could be arranged here. Passengers going East have just time to see that the baggage is transferred and to look out for a good seat in the railway car, when the train pulls out. If they had a few hours here they could drive around, purchase a few curios, and get some idea of the city and its surroundings. If the railway company was approached before the next schedule is arranged, it might be possible to have a change. At any rate it would be worth while making the effort.

Another improvement in regard to catering to visitors who come here would be to keep them informed of the movements of the small passenger boats. They do not realize that the salt lake is a very beautiful place to visit and that if it were in some places it would be exploited as a tourist attraction. On Saturday evening two Vancouver people were taken there. They had missed a train in order to see Prince Rupert, but had not thought of visiting the lake. They were very enthusiastic in regard to the place and also appreciative of the splendid work the swimming club had done for the community. The opinion was expressed more than once that the lakes were a splendid attraction and should be used not only for the pleasure of the local residents but as a place to take visitors.

Seeing Prince Rupert Cars Next Step.

The next step in the evolution of the port will be to establish "Seeing Prince Rupert" cars during the summer months. As it is many Americans come here, but they see little of the city and do not realize its extent or importance. If there was a "Seeing Prince Rupert" car at the dock and for a charge of a dollar each the people were driven around the city, they would go away impressed with the importance of the place. No one has really seen Prince Rupert until he has been to Acropolis Hill and driven around Section Two. Seal Cove is absolutely unknown to the average visitor.

Sell the Scenery to the Visitors.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway sells the scenery along the route. People are just beginning to buy it. Many do not know it is there, and those who are told of it are not sufficiently impressed. With so many other attractions being advertised, it is sometimes difficult to make a choice. The Skeena River scenery is now selling itself and later will be sold by the company for untold sums.

Even in Prince Rupert we might sell our scenery. The advantages of a stop-over well advertised would mean money in the pockets of local merchants. The Prince Rupert Hotel is well above the average of hotels in small cities, and while it is not exactly the same as the big railway hotels, visitors can be very comfortable there. The arrangements for stop-overs and allowing passengers who do not stop over a little more time to see the city, are steps in development that might well be considered seriously from this time on. If we cannot sell our weather, we may at least sell our scenery, which is well above the average.

Interest Tourists in Metlakatla.

Tourists might well be interested in the Indian village of Metlakatla. The water trip to the place is superb and the village is exceedingly quaint and interesting. It is one of the side trips that might well be taken if tourists once begin to make this a stop-over point. The historical associations connected with it are sufficient to give it a great attraction without the scenery. The adventures in missionarying by Father Duncan are extremely interesting. We are so full of the thought of making our city a good fish town, a railway terminus and an industrial centre that we are losing one of the most important of our assets.

ADVERTISING MAN SPENDS SEVERAL DAYS IN THE CITY

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris of Vancouver were among the outbound passengers going to Edmonton. Mr. Harris is a member of the advertising firm of Crawford, Harris Company, with a branch office at Edmonton. He is an old newspaper man having worked on at least two of the Vancouver dailies. He is keenly interested in the development of this city and district and was getting information to lay before his clients incidentally to taking a holiday. Both he and Mrs. Harris were particularly delighted with the scenic attractions of the Salt Lakes.

Employing Married Women.

Editor Daily News:—My summary of your editorial of July 8, re the matter of employing married women in positions away from home, is that you doubt the ability of one man to properly provide for one woman under our social system. And as the requirements of a woman do not diminish with marriage no barrier should be placed in her way of procuring employment, should she desire to continue along such lines; as by her marriage she has only complied with natural law and ordinance of State.

Very well Mr. Editor, but as you admit the inability of one man to keep one woman, what have you to say about the man who has the responsibility of providing for two, three or four women in the matter of wife and daughters. It seems to me your method of encouraging marriage and raising children by placing married women in salaried positions at the expense of unmarried women, is destroying the end you are contending for.

As natural life seems to be run in cycles one thing following in the channel of the preceding one, the distribution of your reward to marriage, to me seems to be granted at the wrong end. As I think the following reasons will show:

When a man arrives at the point of two score ten in years he is then no attraction to employers, they prefer younger men on the job, hence the older man is under a handicap in securing employment against his younger competitors.

And as for dependence he at that age would think his load light if it was only a matter of looking after one woman, his wife. So if we are to encourage the young married women into salaried positions that belong to the female order we must admit it is at the expense of the young unmarried women with an additional penalty against their parents who have spent a life of privation to themselves in order to raise and educate their family. If the marriage of a couple implies state reward does the raising of a family add anything to it? If we pay the reward at the proper point.

Taxing bachelors and childless couples in my opinion would tend to make social conditions worse. It would have a humiliating effect on the people with families.

Thanking you for space, Mr. Editor.

THE DEBT OF HONOR

Our nation's debts go piling up, the war debt is immense. But one great debt we have to pay regardless of expense: It is the debt we owe the men who fought for us and bled, And who for healthy living limbs wear wooden ones instead.

It is the debt we owe the men who come with broken lives To struggle once again to keep their children and their wives; Among the darkened homes of these the famine-spectre stalks, And daily in the streets and squares we pass them in our walks.

Is Canada so deaf and blind she cannot hear and see The mute appeal of proud, brave men, and children at the knee, And suffering women pinched and starved in houses cold and bare. While wealth and ease go rolling by without a thought or care?

Across the sodden plains of death these men have charged and fought, They bore the agony and strain and our salvation wrought: They did not swerve, they did not flinch, but on and on they pressed, Till in the rain of splintering shells came one that gave them rest.

Shall we then forget the past in selfishness and ease, And say they have no claim on us, such glorious men as these? If on a nation's throne today our country takes her seat, It is the work of broken men that pass us in the street.

Bestow not on the dead your praise, they heed it not above, The men that live and suffer still are they who need your love; The very stones cry out to us, too long have we delayed, The debt of honor faces us and that debt must be paid.

QUEBEC, JUNE 21, 1921. CANON SCOTT.

MAE MARSH RETURNS AGAIN TO MOVIES

Well Known Star Away From Profession for Several Years Here Tonight.

Busy with her maternal duties Mae Marsh, most popular of film stars was away from the movies for several years. She is back however and her picture "The Little 'Fraid Lady" is to be seen at the Westholme here tonight.

Mae Marsh is really Mrs. Arms and her little daughter is Miss Mary Marsh Arms is to be a movie actress.

"The Little 'Fraid Lady" carries the audience through the great outdoors of the far west into the busy marts of trade and a Greenwich Village atmosphere. Miss Marsh, giving one of her very best portrayals, is seen as a young girl of many moods who has more than her share of the adventures that ordinarily come to the individual. Mae Marsh is shown as a little "city" girl who has been disillusioned with regard to the world and its charity in general and has sought the solitude of the wild country to develop her talent as an artist. The individual who is directly responsible for the disillusionment is one of the closest of kin to the "little lady." As the story unfolds itself, it is apparent she had just cause for seeking solitude. However, the spectre of the things she detested pursues her, and she arises to the various occasions that present themselves with the courage of a martyr. A complete character revolution as written in the story, gives Mae Marsh an excellent opportunity to display her talents as an actress.

TOURISTS IMPRESSED WITH BUILDING HERE

Passengers on Princess Alice Were Interested in Fish Packing and New Buildings.

The Princess Alice, Captain Slater, called here on Saturday afternoon southbound from Alaska points with a list of tourists and a few southbound Alaskans and Yukoners which completely took up her large passenger accommodation.

The tourists took a great interest in Prince Rupert and especially in the fish packing business and the large amount of building going on here at the present time. Many of them were anxious to see the actual process but were denied the privilege as it was a quiet afternoon at the fish packing houses.

They expressed surprise and pleasure at the big building projects that are now under way, especially the new Bay's Cove school, the court house and the ocean dock. The building of such structures at this time inspires them with a good deal of confidence in the future of the last great seaport town.

Many people read newspapers as much for their advertising columns as they do for news.

BILLIE BURKE AT EMPRESS TONIGHT

Billie Burke is seen in a hoydenish role that recalls Mary Pickford or Dorothy Gish in "Away Goes Prudence," which will be the feature at the Empress Theatre tonight. This is a new departure for Miss Burke, who has put over many delectable bits of comedy, but was never so completely a romp before.

KNIGHTS COLUMBUS PICNIC WAS MOST SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

No Less Than 300 Pioneers
Spent Enjoyable Day on Sands of Tugwell Island.

The Knights of Columbus picnic to Tugwell Island yesterday proved a successful and enjoyable affair. Weather conditions were auspicious and no less than 300 persons went over to spend the day on the sands of the popular picnic island. Five gasoline boats handled the big crowd and only one trip for each was necessary each way. The boats used were: Peter Byrne's Dolphin; Captain Watson's Norwegian; Captain Swanson's "23" and Pachena; Louis Amadis' Eva, and M. P. McGaffey's boat.

Arriving at the island shortly after 10 o'clock, the fun commenced. There were games, races and tournaments for young and old. The married and single ladies played at baseball and there was a tug of war. An interesting event was the Needle Race which was won by Mr. and Mrs. A. Brookbank. There were plenty of refreshments at all times. By 8 o'clock all were back home safe and happy after a memorable day's outing.

The committee in charge consisted of J. C. Gavigan, F. W. Moersch, Martin O'Reilly, L. Blain and A. Astori with a big list of assistants.

GREAT MANY VISIT SWIMMING POOL AT THE SALT LAKES

There was a great crowd at the Salt Lakes yesterday, the Oh Baby and the "23" plying back and forth all the afternoon carrying loads of people intent on enjoying the bathing and watching the others.

Along the harbor every little beach and nook was occupied by picnic parties. Fires were lighted and for the first time this summer people seemed to be really enjoying life in the water.

The Red Sox city league team seems to be getting its full quota of the hard luck this season. After having made a good start prior to the opening of the league in beating the sons of Canada in two practice games it has been unsuccessful in winning a single game so far in the regular series. In Friday night's game several of the best players on the team failed to put in an appearance and the very next morning two of the strongest players, Bob Frizzell and Rossiter, left on a trip of at least two weeks. It was rumored that they were going to the Fort Norman oil fields and would not be back, but this statement was not confirmed, for it is understood that they will be back after a brief holiday jaunt. The Sox can afford to lose players less than any other team in the League.

Although the general public are so far almost unaware of the fact, an international contest of a most sporting nature will take place at the mouth of the Thames River in August. An American fleet of four yachts will be sent to England and will sail a series of races against the best four British yachts of equal size. The competing yachts will be of six metres rating and will be handled by some of the best amateur helmsmen of the day. Yacht designers on both sides of the Atlantic will be greatly interested in this event, for it amounts to a pure contest of science between American and Britain. The British yachts will be selected from elimination races which are to be run this month.

BASEBALL GAME.

The Goats and Beavers, junior baseball players, played a game at the Acropolis Hill last night, the result being a win for the former by a score of 10 to 1. H. Frizzell and George Hill comprised the battery for the winning team.
