Formal Pacific Treaty Is Completed DEPUTY RETURNING OFFICER IN COMOX - ALBERNI IS ARRESTED

Four Power Treaty was Laid Before Armaments Conference Washington by Senate Lodge

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The four-power agreement to govern conditions in the Pacific as a substitute for the Anglo-Japanese alliance is to be announced at a plenary session of the Washington conference to be held today.

An agreement has been reached by the Japanese and Chinese delegates for the return to China of all public properties in Peking. Japan will be allowed to retain such institutions as schools, shrines and cemeteries which are exclusively Japanese in character.

China agrees to refund all moneys spent on public properties developed during the Japanese occupation.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The draft of the proposed treaty between Britain, the United States, France and Japan, which is designed to supplant the Anglo-Japanese alliance and pave the way for the acceptance of the United States proposals for naval limitation, was formally laid before the conference today by Senator Lodge.

The treaty is a ten-year agreement by which the four nations concerned bind themselves to respect their existing rights in their possessions and dominions in the Pacific and in case of dispute which can not be settled by diplomacy to agree to a joint conference among themselves.

Any one of the parties to the treaty may withdraw on giving the others three months' notice after the expiration of the specified ten-year period.

The treaty is to come into effect upon ratification according to the constitutional methods of contracting parties.

The signing of the treaty, Senator Lodge said on the part of the United States, was subject to the making of a convention with Japan concerning the island of Yap and what are termed the mandated islands in the Pacific Ocean north of the equator, negotiations in regard to which are almost concluded.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—The work thus far accomplished by the Washington conference, especially the agreement for the four-power treaty as a substitute for the Anglo-Japanese alliance, is highly praised by the newspapers today.

NEW TELEGRAPH LINE DIRECT TO VANCOUVER

Seven Minutes for Reply Was Recorded Made by Local Office For Client.

The Canadian National Railways has just completed a telegraphic connection direct with Vancouver without going by way of Gainsborough and the C.P.R. as heretofore. This enables them to give a much more expeditious service and mistakes, if they should occur, can be traced up. This is the only continuous line between the two companies between here and Vancouver.

The office at the Vancouver end is in the Western Union Telegraph office. It is however the Canadian National Telegraph Company.

Leo Waugh, the local manager of the company, sent a wire from here to Vancouver for a local client and received a reply all within seven minutes and says they are now able to give a very rapid service.

The local lodge of Elks is arranging to purchase a piece of land at Lakeview for the perpetual use of the boy scouts and girl guides as a camping site. The matter was discussed at the last meeting of the local lodge and a resolution was passed empowering the trustees to go ahead and secure the land.

The plan was furthered by the chairman of the order, Rev. H. R. Grant, D.D., who conceived the idea of a perpetual camping ground at the ideal summer resort. The cost of such a plot would not be very heavy at present. Possibly twenty acres will be secured and for this the Elks will act as trustee on behalf of the scouts.

Lakeview is an ideal spot. Those who have visited the lake will agree with Dr. Grant that no more suitable site could be secured. It is far enough away from home to make it attractive and the natural advantages there are many and varied. The lake is already being popularized, but it is big enough to give plenty of room for a scouts' camp without any crowding.

The committee that has the matter in hand consists of B. F. Self, George J. Frizzell, and George G. Tite. They will take action as soon as possible with a view to getting the best possible location for the purpose.

Charles Palmer, Crother Edmonston Colonel, Cut Throat and Died.

MAN SUICIDES

PREMIER MINE

Charles Palmer, of the Premier mine, Stewart, died this morning as a result of a cut throat, the case being obviously one of suicide. The dead man left in his own hand writing a letter for J. P. Scarlett, provincial constable, in which he declared himself insane. Similar letters were left for other people.

Constable Scarlett reported the affair to Chief Minty this morning. Deceased had apparently been semi-demented for a considerable time and had been declared insane by the doctor at Premier Mine. He had been in the hospital there suffering from a partly cut throat but had left the hospital and had attempted to hang himself after the wound from the cut had been stitched up.

Deceased has a brother, Col. R. H. Palmer, D.S.O., 7009, 105th Street, Edmonton, who is being communicated with. The police have taken charge of the body and the deceased's cabin and contents.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—A mixture of home-made whisky exploded last night on the fifth floor of an East side tenement. Shouts of "bomb" were heard and 32 families fled their upper tables. The rooms were badly shattered. Every pane of glass was broken but no one was injured.

Transpacific
Steamship Service.

In a desultory way the question of a transpacific steamship service was discussed by members of the Board of Trade at its meeting last night. The members were unprepared for the discussion and the matter was postponed for a month. It was mentioned by G. W. Nickerson that the larger part of the outbound cargo was lumber, which at the present time was in demand in the Orient. Cedar and hemlock timber was asked for and there was an abundance of hemlock in this district. The price for offshore business on this timber had recently jumped five dollars a thousand.

In consultation with one of the members of the firm of J. R. Morgan & Co., that gentleman stated that if there was a line of steamships plying out of this port his firm would make monthly shipments of timber to the Orient. They had the timber, but could not afford to cut it to hold. Both cedar and hemlock were available for this business.

Transpacific business is one of the big things Prince Rupert has to go after. It means everything to the port. With the inauguration and continuation of a steamship service from here the port would at once begin a steady development that would attract outsiders and change the place from a fishing village to a city with a great future.

Opportunity for Brokerage Firm.

On a previous occasion mention was made of the opportunity here for a live brokerage firm. The work of such a firm is to get in touch with all possible shippers of any possible commodity from this port; to get in touch with and make definite arrangements with shipping companies to handle the business when available, and finally to provide the market for the commodity in the Oriental or other countries. That is an immense order and needs capital and time and energy. Sometimes the work can be made easier by working in conjunction with other brokerage firms. The firm that is in a position to handle big things, possibly to charter ships and get the business going, is one that could do more than anyone else for the port of Prince Rupert. There is an opportunity for such a firm to get in on the ground floor here and build up a business that would make them a fortune.

Government Service
From This Port.

The matter of initiating a steamship service from this port will be taken up by the Board of Trade just as soon as the time is ripe for placing it before the new Government. If they will, the Government can do a great deal for this port. They have the collection agencies for freight and passengers and the means of advertising the service to the best possible advantage. They are the people to whom we must look to put us on the map as a shipping port. At the same time we must neglect no opportunity of trying to induce private concerns to interest themselves in the district. If we can get the coal fields of this north country operating ships will come here, but because they come for coal does not insure their doing other business. Citizens who are interested in this will do well to lend all possible support to the Board of Trade, supporting it by attending its meetings and in a financial way. A few dollars spent on it is money well invested for most of the merchants in the city. We all wish to see the port go ahead, and it is only by united effort that we can hope to secure results.

Of Passing Resolutions
There Is No End.

It has been the custom in Prince Rupert to pass resolutions on every conceivable subject. A couple of years ago the words "whereas" and "resolved" were as common as "good morning." The member for the district was flooded with documents. He brought them before the Government, which had a suitable receptacle for them alongside the desk, from whence they passed into oblivion. To avoid such action should be the policy of the future. Passing resolutions makes the members of the Board of Trade or other public body feel better, but that is about all it does. As the man in the moon says, it does not get you anywhere. A resolution may be an aid sometimes, but coming from a body of men that issues them as freely as Russia issues paper money, they are of no value. The resolution should be carefully considered by members of a public body and should not be allowed to be sprung on it without the members having an opportunity to peruse it in writing some days before it is presented, or preferably at the previous meeting. It is the easiest thing in the world to get a resolution passed by a group of ordinarily hard-headed business men, and such a document often presents anything but a business-like attitude on the part of the gathering. Look back at the Board of Trade resolutions of the past few years and it is clear that it is just as easy for business men to make fools of themselves at a meeting as for any other gathering of people.

The Perils of Neglect

Digestive ailments are frequently neglected. People say "It's only a touch of indigestion—it will go away." What begins as simple discomfort is allowed to become a serious—chronic ailment. Never neglect the treatment of digestive derangement. To relieve disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, Beecham's Pills act promptly and usually overcome the difficulty. Take

Then I tried "Fruit-a-tives" and at once that fruit medicine helped me. Soon the Constipation and Indigestion were relieved and the Rheumatism began to go away, and in a few months entirely disappeared. SCOTTISH COAL
MASTER WISHES
INFORMATION

Write Board of Trade in regard to Groundhog—Says Quality Excellent.

Showing that some of the old country magnates are interested in the British Columbia coal fields, a letter was read at the Board of Trade meeting last night from Robert Semple of Kilmarnock who has been given some previous information in regard to the deposits of this part of the country. He says:

"I have to acknowledge with my thanks receipt of your esteemed communication regarding above."

"The analysis of this anthracite coal which you give is very interesting."

"I possess a list of all the different kinds of Welsh coal analysis, and on comparison with yours I find that it compares favorably with the very best qualities of Welsh steam coal. The two items you omit to give would also be very interesting—that is the amount of calories in British thermal units contained in the coal and pounds of water evaporated per pound of coal."

"Can you give me any idea as to when the railway system will connect up with the coalfield? I would like very much to take part in its development and would consider it a great favor to be kept in touch with the Government movement, regarding same. I am certain that, for steaming purposes in ocean going steamers this would cut out all other competitors. I find that I am tied up here for at least another year."

"I have taken over a few hundred acres of ground from Lord Elgin's Ayrshire estates, which I must prove and set a going before I could venture over to investigate the coal prospects in Prince Rupert district.

Glad of Information.

"I will therefore be glad to receive all information regarding the developments taking place in the Queen Charlotte Islands and also the Tidwell District. I understand that both these subjects are being considered. But if you can give me any idea as to when the railway would be laid into the Ground Hog Coal field and how the Government are likely to deal with it, I would be better able to decide when it would be best to come out."

ATTITUDE OF JEWS TOWARD OUTSIDERS

Extracts From Article by Rabbi Meyer of San Francisco, California.

INTERMARRIAGE ANTIPATHY

The attitude of the Jewish people toward those of a different faith is outlined at length in an article by Martin A. Meyer, Ph. D., Rabbi of Temple Emanuel, San Francisco. He defends the attitude against intermarriage with Gentiles as follows:

"The charge of Jewish antipathy to the non-Jew is most frequently based upon his refusal to intermarry. Because of this he has been abused by dissenters from his own midst and by the great outside. This is not the place to enter into a detailed discussion of this intricate and delicate question. This refusal to intermarry is not because the Jew is in any manner hostile to the non-Jew. Those who advocate this do so upon the ground of the integrity of Judaism. The public safety is the supreme law, and the safety of the Jewish group and its viewpoint depends upon its ability to impose such a rule of conduct upon its followers. From the earliest times, Jewish teaching was directed to this end so that the ideal of the Jew might not be lost. Refusal to intermarry with the Canaanite making the stern disapproval of Ezra and Nehemiah of such unions, the practice and the custom through succeeding ages have given this attitude an importance of the first degree."

NOT INVALID.

"Marriage with a non-Jew is not considered invalid from any point of view. It is considered inexpedient from the point of view of the integrity of the Jewish group. Intermarriage is not deprecated today on the grounds of the superior worth of the Jew to the non-Jew. It is not considered desirable from the point of view of the religious unity and harmony which should prevail in the ideal home. We need not point out that we stand on common ground with all the great religions of the world who hold exactly the same views with regard to intermarriage. We believe that it is a fundamental right of every group to protect itself in this manner and to perpetuate its particular lines of thought and activity. We hold suicide to be cowardly even if it be in this indirect manner for it offers no solution to our problem or to any problem for all that. Evasion is not solution."

"We are ready to admit such into our group who like Ruth of old are ready to declare 'Thy people shall be my people, thy God, my God.' We stand ready to welcome the convert into our brotherhood, though we are frankly suspicious of those who do not seek us of their own volition and with the purest of motives and intentions. We find expressions of opinion of ancient rabbis condemning such proselytes as a menace to the few. Proselytism is a two-edged Loyalty to Country.

"The question of the loyalty of the Jew to his adopted country must necessarily come under the purview of our subject. On the one hand his longing for Zion would seem to have made it impossible for him to identify himself with the new land. Inasmuch as the period of the strongest expression of his love for Zion is usually coincident with the periods of his harshest treatment by his fellows—indeed its intensity is usually to be measured by such persecutions—it is not to be wondered at that he prayed for an escape from his misery. Yet even in such an extreme case as Spain, the love of the Jew for Spain was most pathetic. Further it must be remembered that love of country is more or less tied up with one's rights to own real property. It is only such ownership that is much of a guarantee of permanence and of that increasing loyalty which arises therefrom. And the Jew only in the rarest cases was allowed to own property. He felt the insecurity of his position under such circumstances; yet take it all in all, he developed a marvelous love for his stepmotherland. The love of the Russian Jew for Russia is almost beyond comprehension. On the other hand, there were never entirely absent certain universal tendencies in Jewish thought and life. These spiritualized the Messianic hope and looked forward to a world era which would realize the ideals of a spiritual Zionism. And so from Jeremiah down, the thought is repeated in variant form, 'Pray for the welfare of the land whither thou goest,' and the dictum of the rabbis that 'The law of the land is supreme' was accepted. So the Zionist today insists that his love for Zion in no manner interferes with his patriotism; and truly of this double love the Zionist must be the one to testify from his own experience. Certainly the record of the modern Jew as a patriot and citizen leaves no opportunity for doubt as to his fervid love for the land of his birth and his citizenship.

Practice Tolerance.

"When the ghetto doors flew open the Jew did not need to learn tolerance; he had practiced it through all his history. The new life gave him an opportunity for realizing its possibilities and its promises. Our attitude towards the outside world is best demonstrated in the modern world by our works rather than by our words. Volumes might be written of the contributions of the Jew to the world during the past century. The broad point of view of the modern Jew since his political and social emancipation during the last century can be demonstrated from many a source, sermon, public address, written and spoken word. But of far more significance is the work which the Jew has been doing, and still is doing, in the few decades which have elapsed since his entrance into the larger life of the western world.

Success His Own.

"His economic success has been his own. Indirectly, he may have thus contributed to the expansion of his nation; but after all is said and done it is for himself and his own gain that he has done these great things. This indirect service has not been mean; its value, great. However, even in the industrial world, had there been malice in his heart towards his fellowmen, the freedom of association which such life necessitates would have been impossible. It can not be without its meaning that the Jew has played a leading role in the great modern industrial movements which have an ethical basis. Socialism was originated by Jews; and today Jews play a leading role in its spread and interpretation. And under the leadership of a Jewish trades unionism has been brought to its highest point of efficiency and been given an increasing ethical bearing. The Jew has thrown himself into the vortex of modern life with a most commendable zeal, and has contributed in most generous manner his very best to the realization of the ideals of the nation of which he has become a citizen.

Social Service.

"Along one line he has delighted to work above all others. He has given millions back to the common social fund of the human race for relief and preventive work and has asked that it be distributed to all, regardless of creed, race or color. Recently it was reported that the great bulk of the large sums which had been contributed in modern France for educational

FIRE INSURANCE is a hobby of ours. We take keen pleasure in making sure that all policies are so written that they cover your property exactly as you intend. If you entrust your fire insurance to careless, inexperienced or ignorant agents you may find, when you come to collect your fire loss, that your policies are so worded that the insurance company is not liable and so will not pay the loss. Why take chances?

NOMINATIONS IN EDMONTON

Four Candidates for Mayoralty and Nineteen for City Council.

EDMONTON, Dec. 10.—Thirty-five nominations as candidates to take part in the forthcoming municipal elections were handed to City Clerk Cox. There were four for the mayoralty, nineteen for the city council, eight for public school trustees, and four for separate school trustees. As there are four vacancies on the separate school board, the four candidates were duly elected.

The crop of candidates was larger than anticipated owing to the fact that civic matters had been obscured lately by the larger issues of the federal election. Probably the greatest surprise was furnished by Ald. McCoppin coming along at the last moment and handing in his nomination for the mayoralty. This made four candidates for the office of chief magistrate—the present mayor (D. M. Duggan), Ald. McCoppin, A. Stimmel and Ald. Mc-

Coppin.

Mayoral—W. G. McArthur.
Samuel J. McCoppin, David M. Duggan and A. Stimmel.
Alderman—Lyman Theophilus Barclay, A. Boileau, Hyman King, Archie Bendell, Mrs. A. S. Taylor, S. D. Walker, Kenneth A. Blatchford, A. U. G. Burry, T. P. Malone, L. T. Murray, Bickerton Pratt, Mrs. W. J. Ross, C. Y. Weaver, James East, J. W. Findlay, E. E. Hyde, Mrs. Mary A. Cantin, G. L.

Henry Scovil has received instructions to repair the Bear River bridge at once. It was almost weeked in the recent floods.

FIRE IN FACTORY.

FREDERICTON, Dec. 10.—The entire plant of the Chestnut Canoe Co. has been destroyed by fire, the loss being estimated at $100,000.

Peter Knutson was fined $50 in the police court this morning having been found guilty of drunkenness.
