Self Preservation
Is First Law.

Self preservation is the first law of nature. Our first duty is to ourselves. If we wish to reward Colonel Peck for his services on the field we do not hand him trouble by asking him to represent us in the House of Commons. He himself asks that we set aside from consideration his military services, which have nothing whatever to do with the election of a member to Parliament. What we want now is to consider the whole political situation as it affects Prince Rupert and the whole of the Skeena district and to choose a candidate that will be likely to do most to place the district on the map. If the man who is most likely to do this is Colonel Peck, then vote for him. If, on the other hand, it seems probable that Fred Stork is most likely to give effective help at this critical time, then we must sink our personal views in the common interest and vote for Fred Stork. That is the way to look at the present political situation as it affects ourselves.

Railway Question
Overshadows Others.

The railway situation is the most important with which we have to deal. On it depends everything else. With the railway functioning well we shall become a big seaport, but with the line to this port looked on as a branch and treated with contempt, we can expect nothing in the way of development. What we should do just now is to sink all differences and unite on the candidate who will do us most good.

Mackenzie King Is Man to Support.

Just now the man for Prince Rupert to support is W. L. Mackenzie King. He was here last year and went into the railway situation thoroughly. He understands the position in every detail. More than that, he is pledged to get behind the railway and see that it is made into a real transcontinental railway as was intended by his former illustrious leader, Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

In developing this port and giving a good railway service Mr. King will be simply following out the pledges made by the Liberal leaders at the time he was a member of the Liberal Government. It is a member of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Government carrying on the promised policy. What we should do then is to get behind Mackenzie King with all the strength possible. To do that we must vote for Fred Stork, the Liberal candidate.

Newspapers Have Situation Clear.

Colonel Peck has been placed by the newspapers of the south as a supporter of the Meighen administration. His supporters ask us to set him right in this. The Colonel disclaims being a supporter of the Conservative Government, or as we should possibly call it, "the National Liberal and Conservative Government." He supported that Government up to the time of dissolution, but he has changed his allegiance, not to the Liberals, mind you. That would not suit his supporters, who are practically all Conservatives. He is now an independent. He supports nobody and, presumably, has no policy.

If Colonel Peck is to amount to anything at Ottawa he must ally himself with one of the big groups there. Which one is it to be? He knows as well as anyone that he can do nothing alone. We think it is not fair to the electors of this constituency for him to stand in the middle and not tell, until after Parliament meets, which way he intends to vote on questions affecting the policy of the country.

How Representatives Are Chosen.

Representatives are chosen for Parliament because they stand for something definite. Fred Stork stands for the Liberal policy and we know exactly where to place him. Colonel Peck has not told us what policy he will support. He simply asks to be returned to the House of Commons as a free lance to do as he likes. Apparently the Conservatives expect him to join with Premier Meighen, for they are behind him to a man and are righteously indignant that anyone should have the temerity to oppose him.

Electors should remember that in sending a representative to Ottawa he is not going to sit on a city council or similar small body. He will be one of 235 members, among whom are some of the finest orators in Canada. In that number he is absolutely without influence unless he is in sympathy with one of the big groups. To stand up on the floor and speak alone would mean to talk to empty benches.

In Canada we are governed by groups, which we call parties. It may or may not be the best method, but it is the present method, and anyone not a member of a group is a nobody in the House of Commons.

PEPS

COUGHS, Colds, Bronchitis and chest ailments are started by germs you breathe in with the air. They attack the membrane lining the nostrils, throat, and breathing tubes. Soreness and inflammation speedily develop unless Peps infection-killing tablets are taken quickly.

As Peps dissolve in the mouth they give off powerful healing and germicidal fumes that mix with the breath and circulate through all the air-passages direct into the lungs. In this efficient way Peps destroy all disease-germs. Soreness and inflammation are instantly allayed, the air-passages are soothed and repaired, obstructions of phlegm are cleared away, and the breathing becomes easy.

THE WONDERFUL
BREATHEABLE
MEDICINE

Peps bring the potent lung-healing balsams of the pine forest and other rich volatile medicines of equal benefit and safety to the youngest child or aged bronchial sufferer. Peps are guaranteed free from opium, morphia, and all dangerous habit-producing drugs.

How much more sensible this direct Peps treatment than dosing and upsetting your stomach with nauseous drug-laden mixtures and syrups?

Get a box of Peps to-day. Once you try these unique breathable tablets you will never use any other remedy for coughs, colds, chills, sorethroat, bronchitis, night-cough, laryngitis, asthma, etc.

You can test Peps at our expense. Send this paragraph and a stamp for return postage to The Peps Co., Toronto, for FREE TRIAL PACKAGE. All dealers, 2c box. 2 for 25c.

ATTEMPT TO BREAK JAIL

Bars and Screens Sawn Through
But Were Discovered Before
Prisoners Got Away.

What might have resulted in another jail-breaking at the city lock-up was frustrated on Sunday afternoon by Sergeant Bailey. The officer had just returned from his lunch at 12:30 when he heard a scratching noise coming from a window in the kitchen at the rear of the jail. He proceeded into the jail and on making a close search found that two of the 3-8 inch bars had been sawn through, the larger of the two having been cut back in place so that it looked solid and intact. On first examination it looked as if nothing was wrong but on feeling the bars the cutting was discovered. Three steel wire screens had also been cut and all was in readiness for an escape which was probably planned for the evening.

The prisoners were all locked in their individual cells as soon as the discovery was made but nothing was found out until about 5 o'clock in the evening when Philip McDonald, who has been convicted of theft, admitted having done the work. There were nine prisoners in the jail at the time, seven of whom were serving terms, and two of whom are to go south to serve time for thefts.

CATHOLIC BAZAAR
PROMISES SUCCESS

FULL ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR TWO DAYS AMUSEMENT AND ENTERTAINMENT.

The Catholic Bazaar will be held tomorrow and Thursday of this week in St. Andrews Hall, proceedings on each afternoon commencing at 3 o'clock. Great pains have been taken by the ladies of the congregation in connection with this Bazaar and everything points to its being as equal if not a greater success than the bazaars held in previous years. The fancy work booths will afford a great variety of choice to the purchasers.

Every afternoon from 3 o'clock onward, tea will be served, while tomorrow night, at 8 o'clock, the children will give their usual concert, which in previous years has proved to be such an interesting function. And this year the quality of the program will lack none of the interest displayed in other seasons.

One of the special attractions for Thursday night is the home-cooked dinner being put on by the ladies from 6 to 8 o'clock. Knowing the cooks, some of the gourmets have already made their reservations for the evening meal.

There will be many other attractions and amusements for young and old and everyone is assured a good time at the Bazaar for the next two evenings.

The undersigned wish to give public notice that they have acquired and taken over the business of the West End Cafe and Chop Suey and Rooming House from Wong T. Tor, Man San Sing and Wong San Ping. All persons having unpaid bills against the said business are required to send the same in to the ward system.

The city is to hire an expert to examine the timber at Woodworth Lake which will be flooded when the dam is put in.

HEAL THEM WITH ZAM-BUK.

FOR chapped hands, chilblains, cold-sores and frost-bite, there is no treatment so beneficial as dressings with Zam-Buk. When the roughness, irritation and soreness of the skin is followed by cracking and bleeding, dirt and disease germs may find their way into the raw places and cause inflammation, blisters or winter eczema. Zam-Buk stops this peril entirely. Simply smear a little herbal salve on the sore parts and wrap up carefully. Letting the Zam-Buk soak into the tissues, takes away smearing itching, and assures rapid healing of healthy new skin.

The striking success of Zam-Buk is due to its rare herbgins. It contains none of mineral salts or animal fats which form the basis of common ointments. Prepared from rich herbal essences, Zam-Buk is a concentrated balm the highest purity and of strong healing, soothing, and antiseptic properties.

Use Zam-Buk also for the speedy healing of cuts, burns and sores and eczema, abscesses, ringworm or other skin or nail disease. 50c. box, 3 for 50c. druggists and dealers.

Timber Syndicate Discusses with Pattullo Question of Raw

WILL OPERATE PULP MILL

Already Owns Extensive Timber
Limits in Interior of Province.

VANCOUVER, Nov. 8.—A conference was held at the weekend with Hon. T. D. Pattullo by E. S. Peck of Scranton, Pa., A. Cameron of Ottawa, Angus McLean of Bathurst, N. B., and Robert Tyhurst, of Prince George in regard to the building of a pulp mill at Prince George. They told the minister it was their intention to build a 100 ton mill for immediate operation, to be enlarged later if necessary.

The rapidity with which the international coal trade is reverting to British hands is evidenced in the fact that six months ago the United States was actually exporting coal, mainly to the Scandinavian countries but to England, with distinct leadership in the Mediterranean and undisturbed primarily in South American markets, said Alfred P. Dennis, commercial attaché of the American Embassy.

We, today, are practically out of the European trade and are rapidly losing our position in the Mediterranean markets, which we had secured practically half the business with our position seriously menaced in South America, where we occupied logically a favored and positive position.

Amazing Recovery
The amazing recovery of the British coal industry is shown in trade figures for August which shows an export business of more than 3,000,000 tons as compared with 1,600,000 tons the preceding month, and 1,817,000 tons in August, 1920.

This striking reversal in the entire situation is due to the immense quickening of coal production in the United Kingdom accompanied by falling wages.

The export coal trade is one of the fundamentals in Britain's economic position in world trade and every sacrifice is being made to win back lost ground. Production costs have come down with a run and coal is offered for export at figures approximating production costs.

"On the other hand, production costs in the United States have still a wide margin for decline."

Price Today.

Fine quality Cardiff coal can now be put on shipboard at 30 shillings, equivalent at present exchange rates to about $5.50 per ton. At normal exchange the price would be $7.30.

"It remains for us to endeavor to maintain our competitive position by bringing down f.o.b. steamer costs, while at the same time indulging the hope that future appreciation of sterling may tend to equalize our position, not only in South America but in the major continental markets."

AIRPLANE USE IN SURVEYING

Experimental Work in Connection with Reclamation Service North Manitoba.

OTTAWA, Nov. 8.—(By Canadian Press)—That he obtained more general information in a two hours' flight by aeroplane than he could have learned in a month's trip on foot is the statement of an engineer of the Reclamation Service who recently made a survey from the air in connection with a drainage project in the hinterland. Reports being received by the Air Board here show that the cooperation of aircraft with the different federal departments is becoming increasingly valued.

This latest example was a special reconnaissance undertaken for the Reclamation Service of the Department of the Interior in the vicinity of Le Pas and Cumberland House, lying on the boundary between Northern Manitoba and Saskatchewan. The survey covered the Carrot River Triangle for a drainage scheme involving the reclaiming (for productive purposes) of about 800,000 to 900,000 acres. It had been found that a large part of the area was inaccessible owing to floods; reeds and willows made canoeing impossible. The Air Board was accordingly requested to arrange a flight over the region, so that an engineer might secure the desired information from the air.

Saves Time and Money.

Reports from the Victoria Beach, Manitoba, air station which was the main base, indicate that the operation was a complete success. Most valuable data was secured in an infinitely shorter period of time than would have been possible by any method of ground transportation, and by no other method could the same general perspective have been arrived at.

The hydraulic engineer of the Reclamation Service commenting on the trip says it is impossible to speak too highly of the benefit derived from a flight of this kind for survey on a project of such magnitude. Much of the district, he says, is unexplored, and very little information of the topographical features is obtainable without running a traverse survey. From the air one may see the various drainage channels in the interior quite distinctly, and information of this kind would prove of great value in determining where to run the interior traverse lines and where lines would not be necessary, thereby saving time and money. Information regarding the timber in the interior could also be obtained.

BIG ATTENDANCE AT SUNDAY NIGHT BAND CONCERT WESTHOLME

The large attendance at the Great War Veterans' band concert on Sunday night was gratifying indeed and a good sum was realized in the collection towards the band.

The band, of course, was the feature of the program and there was a splendid repertoire of selections. J. G. Haworth acted as conductor. There were several novelty numbers.

Among the individual items were songs by H. Pattinson and T. Pace.

FISHERMEN ARE IN HOSPITAL KETCHIKAN

Crew of Speculator Were Gassed Using Ether to Start Engine.

The fishing boat Speculator was taken into Ketchikan at the weekend and some of her crew are reported to be in the hospital there suffering from the effects of gas, as a result of having attempted to start their engine with ether. It is understood that the men are not seriously injured. The crew of the Speculator are: George Russell, Jack Robbins, Joe Evans and Fred Ingerson.

And when one tries to hire a cook he finds it is easy enough if a large enough salary and sufficient foodstuffs are offered. The cook in the lead boat in Moscow is said to be getting 50,000 rubles a day and three square meals.

Tipping is also forbidden by decree, but waiters and other servants not only expect them, but frequently demand them and express a desire for sugar or other foodstuffs, rather than robes.

In the Letter Box

LOUIS FORKLUND ANSWERS

Editor Daily News:

Allow me to say a few words in answer to Mr. Turnbull's letter in a recent issue of your paper. In the above mentioned letter Turnbull brings into play a large amount of sarcasm directed at me. Now this gentleman may be the bygging genius he no doubt imagines himself, but a perusal of his lengthy epistle fails to make this evident. The first part of his letter is an eulogy of Colonel Peck's abilities as a parliamentarian. I will let this pass as anyone who wishes may hear and observe the Colonel while in action. But when he goes on belittling the power of oratory when exercised in the House of Commons his ignorance of the subject is made palpable.

Power or Oratory.

Speaking of orators he says their ability to change a single vote on the floor of the House is, it is to be regretted, not commensurate with their abilities as orators. Does Mr. Turnbull know that down through the ages battles have been fought with sword and gun but the greatest battles of them all were waged in the midst of legislative assemblies. There talented men with their oration fought for our emancipation and laid the foundation on which is built the democracy we now enjoy. Nearly all reforms recorded on the statutes of civilized nations found their inception in the minds of able men and with oratorical geniuses as a mainspring were pushed through to a successful issue.

Next in his elucidation Mr. Turnbull says that in my letter I confound myself with my own argument. What the writer means here is not very clear. However I presume he is taking exception to my remark pertaining to Colonel Peck's limited abilities as a logician. To show what Mr. Turnbull calls logic I shall quote the Colonel's address delivered at the Westholme Theatre.

PRINCE OF WALES' RANCH IN ALBERTA

Recent Visitor Tells of Fine Property and Stock Farm at E. P. Ranch.

Following a visit of the members of the Livestock Association to the Prince of Wales' ranch one of the members wrote an account of it to the London Times from which the following is taken:

"The ranch buildings consist of three or four log cabins—one fairly roomy, the others smaller—together with unpretentious barns and stables. This group of buildings lies in the lowland or river bottom, from which rise on all sides the rounded foothills stretching away to the snow-capped Rocky Mountains only a few miles distant. The ranch is one of the most picturesquely situated in Alberta. That good fishing is available will be taken for granted when I say that we amused ourselves watching the speckled trout jump for the grasshoppers which we threw to them in the ice-cold mountain stream in the Prince's front yard. Excellent duck shooting is to be had near by, while the Rockie abounds in mountain sheep, mountain goat, deer, bear, and other big game."

Fine Grass Lands.

But these are not the most important features about the "E.P." Ranch, which is well watered and has a luxuriant growth of grass even in this dry year. I heard several of the cattle breeders from other parts of the province express feelings of envy as they motored through the fine grazing lands in the river bottom; so it would seem that his Royal Highness made a good bargain even from a purely financial standpoint when he picked up this property. The ranch consists of about 4,000 acres of freehold and leasehold, and I have it on the best authority that the Prince means to place it on a paying basis with the least possible delay.

Pure Bred Stock.

The pure bred live stock already imported to the "E.P." Ranch includes a fine herd of Shorthorn cattle, headed by two superb young bulls, an excellent lot of Percheron horses some thoroughbred running horses, and a good-sized flock of Shropshire sheep.

The visitors, all experienced breeders and dealers, went over each animal point by point, and the unanimous conclusion was that the Prince had made a good beginning by introducing a strain of stock which would help to raise live stock industry of the country to a higher level of success.

CHILD SAVED BABY FROM BURNING CABIN

EDMONTON, Nov. 8.—A tale of unconscious heroism and of the calm self-reliance of the pioneer comes from the north country. The scene is Fort St. John, on the upper waters of the Peace River, and the actors north country children axed respectively six months and three and a half years.

At St. John, the Collins were visiting the Rex family at their log cabin, and the mothers, intent on some business in connection with the visit, had left the children in the cabin while they went to another building some distance away.

Baby Rex reposed his small person on a bunk and slept soundly, while Baby Collins played. Close to the heater a pile of split kindling was piled, and by some unknown means this toppled over and fell against the heater, where it soon caught fire.

Cabin in Flames.

In a short time the cabin was in flames, and when the mothers presently returned they did so to find a blazing inferno. Their panic soon turned to relief, however, when they met a small figure plodding up the trail pulling a little wagon in which reposed Baby Rex, quite unharmed and unconscious of the fact that his life had been saved by the coolness and heroism of the other child.

Asked for particulars of the incident, Baby Collins stated calmly, "It was getting too hot in there so I put baby in the little wagon and came out."

Is Now Hero.

Further enquiries at a later date disclosed the fact that when Bobbie Collins commenced his Nervous Breakdown Couldn't Sleep Nights.

To those on the verge of a nervous breakdown the following symptoms present themselves: nervous headaches, a feeling of depression, irritable, disturbed, restless and unrefreshing sleep, often troubled with frightful dreams; avoidance of crowded places, dread of being alone, horror of society, etc.

When the nerves become affected in this way the heart generally becomes affected, too, and on the first signs of any weakness of the heart or nerves, bargaining energy or physical breakdown do not wait until your case becomes hopeless, but get a remedy that will at once quiet the nerves, strengthen the heart and build up the entire system.

This you will find in

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

Mrs. M. Bamford, Young's Cove Road, N. B., writes:—I was bothered very much with my heart and nerves; had nervous headaches and dizziness, could not sleep at nights, and my appetite was all gone. I was on a nervous breakdown when a neighbor told me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. This I did, and before I had the second box anyone who was better and would advise anyone who has never trouble to take them."

life-saving the shack was a mass of flames, but nothing daunted he climbed up into the bunk where the baby lay, lifted him down, and carried him through the flames to the safety of the open air.

At the present time Bobbie Collins is the hero of Fort St. John.

QUEER NAMES.

"You have such strange names for your towns," an Englishman remarked to one of his new American friends. "Wethersfield, Wethersfield, Poughkeepsie and ever so many others."

"I suppose they do sound queer to English ears," said the American, thoughtfully. "Do you live in London all the time?"

"Oh, no," said the unsuspecting Briton. "I spend a part of my time at Chipping Norton, and then I've a place at Pokesdown-on-the-Hill."—Harper's Magazine.

BEAR STORY IN FISH COMPANY

No. 6 Shot Did Not Hurt Old Black Bear on Graham Island — Shot Nine Times.

There is a "bear" story going the rounds in "fish" story circles.

It concerns the crew of one of the local boatmen which took shelter from the storm in a lagoon on the west coast of Graham Island recently.

To while away the time two of the crew of the boat, one a tender just out from Sweden took one of the skiffs to cruise up to a creek mouth. It was a narrow but deep stream and on both sides were sheer banks about eight feet high. Rowing along about an oar's length from one of the banks, a great big black bear was seen peering from the top down the few feet to where the men were rowing. The fishermen had a shot gun with some No. 6 shells so they started to blaze away at him. He retreated to the bush and the men took the boat along up the stream to a point where the bank was lower and the incline was not so steep with a view to pursuing the bear which they thought must be dead as he had been shot square in the face. The tenderfoot tackled the job of finding the animal but what was his surprise when he had advanced a few hundred feet to see him noscraging for all he was worth from a different direction towards the boat where the companion was still seated. Then commenced a foot race between the man on shore and the bear with the boat the objective. The man got to the boat first and pushing it off plunged into it.

The bear also plunged for the boat but did not make it although the splash he made when he landed in the water sprayed the men in the skiff. Falling to make the skiff, the bear turned again towards shore and made for the bush but not before he had nine shots pumped into or at him.

The fisherman wondered how it was that the bear was not killed with all the shots that they said had hit him but more experienced gunmen have explained to them since they returned to port that No. 6 is mighty poor ammunition with which to shoot bears and about all it likely did was to sting him a little. Bear skin is sometimes mighty tough, especially if the bear is a big old fellow answering to the description given in this particular one.

QUESTIONS REGARDING BEAVER PELTS ARE ANSWERED IN VICTORIA

The questions asked by H. G. Perry, M.L.A. for Prince George, of the Attorney General regarding the Game Conservation Act administration were answered last week in the legislature.

Among those to whom permits were issued to purchase beaver pelts, were the names of the following local men: William Goldblum, C. J. Phillipson, J. A. Rogers and Cunningham & Sons. These permits expired on September 30.

An employee of the Board named Dawson had been authorized by the chairman to issue permits but he had not been dismissed. Dr. Baker was still chairman of the board. He had purchased no beaver pelts for his private use.

Norma Talmadge Shown Tonight in Dramatic Photoplay.

The feature picture tonight at the Westholme Theatre is an underworld story in which society people are implicated. A fashionable boarding school is mixed up in the plot and there are all sorts of curious situations and dramatic pictures. The changes from the low gambling resort where women congregate to society life provides marked contrasts.
