Election to be Held Before New Year TIGHTEN CUTS LOOSE FROM FARMERS; IS OUT FOR HIGH TARIFF

Meighen Will Appeal to People This Autumn on Higher Tariff Question; Dissolution to be Soon

PRINCE RUPERT, Ont., Sept. 2.—Premier Meighen last night said that in his opinion the proper course to pursue was to hold an early dissolution of the Federal Parliament to permit for a full discussion and election before New Year. The course he said he intended to pursue.

Meighen said that the Government was a growing power and a real challenge to the farmers and must be faced. His wishes in the matter of tariff must be learned and the tariff revision made. Redistribution could not be made, lacking a complete census report, and the settlement of the tariff question could not wait so long. "If the voice of the people is the voice of Canada then someone else than myself must speak," said the Premier.

Meighen found the Liberal opposition insincere in its attack on the farmers misguided. Protection was absolutely necessary, he said, to preserve the national life of Canada. The Premier believed there could be only one issue of the day. Canada's industries must be made self-supporting and dependent on the tariff policy of another country, especially a powerful country like the United States. He appealed to the people to get together in the best interests of the country.

A thousand people heard the speech, and the Premier continued on resuming his seat.

SKIPPER MUCH PLEASED WITH NEW COMMAND

Captain Hocking Says Canadian
Scottish Is Credit to Prince
Rupert and Builders.

WILL HAVE NUMBER OF LOCAL MEN FIRST TRIP

Captain Hocking, of the new Canadian Government Merchant Marine steamer Canadian Scot, is certainly proud of his new command. In conversation this morning with a representative of the Daily News, he said it was a credit to Prince Rupert, its builders and everybody who had had anything to do with its building. He took her out of the harbor yesterday for a trial trip and was highly satisfied and pleased with the way in which everything responded.

Today the Scottish is taking on lumber from saws alongside and when this is finished she will commence loading 1000 cases of salmon from the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. Captain Hocking expects to sail from this port on Monday.

Yesterday afternoon the crew was signed on in the presence of Captain McCoskie. The papers contain the names of several Prince Rupert men, some of them well known. The captain also expressed every satisfaction with the personnel of his 46 man crew.

Among the Prince Rupert men who signed on yesterday afternoon for the maiden trip were Eddie Craggs, who will be an oiler in the refrigerating department; J. E. (Happy) Ritchie, Jr., electrician; Fritz Skelton, fireman; Ed. Ross, carpenter; Robert Shrubbs, able seaman and Albert Palmer, deck boy.

Cabinet Reorganization to Take Place Soon Says Ottawa Political Despatch

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—With the return of Premier Meighen tomorrow, serious preparations for the election will begin. The Premier stands for cabinet reorganization. The changes will probably mean the resignations of George E. Foster, Dr. Reid, J. A. Calder and Doherty, and possibly one or two others. To replace them younger men will be taken in, and in this connection the names mentioned include E. J. W. Stewart, member for Lanark; Captain Manion of Fort William, and H. H. Stevens of Vancouver. New blood may also be sought outside the present members of Parliament.

The Premier announced last night that he will advise the Governor-General to dissolve Parliament and call an election before New Year.

First Plane To Reach Prince Rupert Came in Last Evening By Train; Will Fly From Here

Not gliding over the air with her man-made wings, but riding on an ugly old flat car and reduced to the earthly methods of locomotion, did the first airplane ever to come to this city reach here at 5:30 last evening. Thus did the flying machine "Polar Bear," accompanied by her two owners, C. O. Prest and L. M. Bach, arrive in Prince Rupert. The machine is now lying on the car in the yards, where she is being viewed by many curious eyes.

Although the "Polar Bear" did make such a humble entry to the city, she is going to redeem herself before she gets away.

Premier Oliver to Meet Committee on Municipal Taxation

PORT ALBERNI, Sept. 2.—Premier Oliver promised the convention of municipalities that he would meet a committee and work out a basis of future taxation in the best interests of the province and municipalities. "If we are to solve our difficulties the province cannot thrive if the municipalities are bankrupt, and the principle works both ways," said the Premier. "You ask us for provincial revenue, and when we ask you how we are to compensate ourselves you say that is the government's business."

The Premier suggested that municipalities had not taxed unproductive land equitably. President Loutel denied the spirit of hostility. The municipalities would solve the province's problems if given the chance. He characterized the mill rate imposed by the Government as "one of the rawest things ever put up to intelligent people."

FRED STORK READY FOR THE FIGHT

Says Announcement of Dissolution Best Thing Government Done for Northern B. C.

Fred Stork, the Liberal candidate for the Skeena Riding, when seen this morning expressing himself as glad to hear of the Premier's announcement.

"The Premier's situation," said Mr. Stork, "is somewhat anomalous. Leading a Government as he does that received its mandate for purely temporary purposes, long since past, and with a Government hardly even in name a union Government, the Premier has done to office on the pretence that he must wait redistribution before going to the country. Now, immediately after a census, he precipitately rushes to the country, realizing, no doubt, that the seven By-Elections that he is faced with can bring him nothing but a further diminished majority. Anomalous and precipitate as the Premier's conduct is, the people of Canada will welcome the opportunity and the people of Northern B. C. particularly will be glad of a chance to re-establish representative Government at Ottawa and put the affairs of the country in the hands of those who will deal with the tremendous problems facing Canada, in an honest and businesslike manner."

"I am ready for the fray," ventured the opinion that the verdict will be conclusive and that Mackenzie King will have the opportunity of forming a Government before New Year's Day. The Premier's decision is the best thing the Government has done for Northern B. C. in the last ten years."

Conservatives Silent.

Several local Conservatives were interviewed and asked if they would wish to make a statement but each declined. One man said he had not yet heard from Colonel Peck, who was expected here with Hon. S. F. Tolmie to open the exhibition and until then he would have nothing to say.

Mrs. V. W. Smith, who has spent some time visiting in the city, returned last night to Vancouver.

An Election

Before New Year.

Premier Meighen announces that there is to be an election before the new year. He also says that dissolution of Parliament will take place soon so that there will be plenty of time to discuss the issues. That means of course that there will be no fall session and no redistribution before going to the electors.

Liberals who have been asking that the government go to the people will undoubtedly be pleased that the issue is now before them. The fight is on. They have been asking for it for two years past and at last the hour has come.

There are many who would have liked to see a distribution measure passed before an appeal to the country. It would have been the fair thing for the people. The government seems to have waited until it got the result of the recent census and then, finding that a redistribution would stack against them, they have rushed into the fray before a public announcement was made, taking advantage of their inside information to try to get the advantage. However, the die is cast. The announcement is made that it is the intention of the Premier to ask for a dissolution at once.

Should Governor Intervene?

The question has arisen as to whether this would not be a proper time for the Governor-General to refuse to take the advice of the Premier and withhold dissolution until after a redistribution measure has been passed. He is to some extent the guardian of the rights of the people. To hold a general election now means that the West will not have a fair representation in the next House of Commons. For years it will be at a disadvantage in Parliament, simply to give advantage to a political party.

Liberals should have no reason to complain, for the changes on the prairies would affect chiefly the farmers. It must be remembered, however, that in Edmonton city at the provincial election five Liberals were returned, and the same was true at other centres.

Poor Beginning For Young Premier.

It is a poor beginning for the leader of a great party to make his first appeal to the country under somewhat shady conditions. It does not look well for Mr. Meighen as a prospective leader of the people that he should resort to what in private life would be considered a shady trick to try to gain a political advantage. The people of the newer parts of the country are entitled to full representation in the next House, and Mr. Meighen denies them that just on the eve of an announcement of population which would have made possible a redistribution law. He has allowed the preponderance of Quebec to stampede him into an appeal to the country in order to save his beloved Ontario.

New Dock Is Already in Use.

The new ocean dock is already in use. The Canadian Scottish is tied there today ready for her cargo, which possibly by the time this is published will be moving into her hold. The first Prince Rupert ship is tied to the first Prince Rupert deep sea dock receiving cargo for another continent. It is fervently to be wished that she will return here often and take on much larger consignments, if not full cargoes.

The time should come soon when it will be a common sight to see large steamers tied to the dock. When the dock superstructure and loading apparatus are ready for business the lumber business of the North should be reviving, and possibly we may have a pulp mill under way if we treat the company well. In the meantime, it is encouraging that the first steamer was able to take at least a part cargo from this port on her first voyage.

WORLD'S SWEETHEART SEEN HERE TONIGHT

Mary Pickford to Be Seen at Westholme Theatre in New Play.

In "Through the Back Door," Mary Pickford will be afforded an opportunity for the display of talent equalled only in such previous productions as "Pollyanna" and "Daddy Long Legs." It will be shown tonight at the Westholme Theatre.

It is the first picture in which Little Mary ever worked under the guidance of two directors. Alfred E. Green and Mary's brother Jack sponsored this production, and the result of their combined efforts is said to prove further the truth of the old adage, "Two heads are better than one."

The outstanding feature of "Through the Back Door" is the delightful comedy sequences scattered throughout the picture. In a little girl role Miss Pickford has a chance to become involved in innumerable complications all provocative of mirth, yet touched with that pathos which stamps this greatest of all ingenues as mistress of her art.

Clean and Wholesome.

In addition to the clean, wholesome fun with which this feature abounds, there is found running through it a counterplot of gripping drama in which filial devotion becomes a dominant factor. The struggle of a child to win recognition from her mother and the seemingly insurmountable obstacles that intervene furnish the motivating impulse for the story. Professional blackmailers a designing "other woman," a "misunderstood" husband and an abused wife all play their respective parts in this unusual photoplay which opens in picturesque Belgium, then jumps to Long Island and closes in business-like New York.

FIRST PLANE TO REACH PRINCE RUPERT CAME IN LAST EVENING BY TRAIN —WILL FLY FROM HERE.

across the Mexican border to Tia Juana. Starting from there they made stops at San Bernardino, California, the old mission town, Los Vegas, Nevada, their home town, Salt Lake City, Dillon, Montana, Anaconda, Butte, Helena, Great Falls and Shelby. Just about a month ago they crossed the International Border Line and made their first landing in Canada at Coutts, Alberta. Since that time they have been fighting rain all the time, stopping at Lethbridge, Olds, Edmonton, Jasper, Prince George and Hazelton. They crossed the Rocky Mountains four times, the lowest crossing being between Jasper and Prince George. They have encountered weather conditions varying from 140 above, on the desert between Los Vegas and Salt Lake City, to snow in the Rocky Mountains near Jasper. The longest stop was a week at Salt Lake City, the second longest the six days at Hazelton. Here they had the first mishap on the whole trip. Their flying altitude has been from 2000 to 14,000 feet.

New Route.

From here the machine will fly to Ketchikan, then on stopping at Juneau, Whites Horse, Dawson, Fairbanks, Ruby, St. Michaels, and Nome. Here the flying part of the trip will be done, for the plane will be shipped to Seattle by steamer, the men accompanying it. It will have been the first airplane flight from North America to Siberia.

The trip is not being made for any government or under the auspices of any organization. Aviators Prest and Bach own their machine and it is merely an independent jaunt. They are in no hurry and merely progress as conditions warrant. They have special camera outfits along with which they are taking views of the country. Bad weather in Canada has prevented them getting many pictures which they would have liked to have obtained.

Aviator Prest has been at the flying game ever since 1910 and has followed it more or less as a hobby. In 1917 he held the American high altitude record at 18,100 feet, over three miles. This he attained at Seal Beach, California. In the same year he also made the high altitude passenger record at Riverside, California. Both he and Aviator

BRINGING UP FATHER

WOMAN'S TASK HOME MAKING

Chautauqua Lecturer Says This Is Most Important Duty of Her Life.

Miss Lethe Coleman, a clever young speaker with a distinct message, was the lecturer at Chautauqua last evening. Miss Coleman's subject was "The Homing of the People" which was mainly directed to mothers as the central figure in the home. While Miss Coleman urged the greater participation of women in affairs outside of the home, she did not advocate this merely as women's rights but from a broader and better standpoint—that she might be able to make her home better through a closer contact with outside affairs, so that she might understand the interests and problems of her family. Many said that now women had the vote they would clean up governments and politics but this was not the speaker's view. If men had made governments and politics dirty then let men clean them up. She brought home her points forcibly illustrating them with many beautiful and striking natural smiles.

Changing Times.
"We are living in the swift-changing times in all history," declared Miss Coleman. "Even the homes are changing and woman cannot stand still when all about her is going ahead. She should take up the rights and duties of citizenship but, in doing so, should not lose her womanhood. It should have nothing to do with her divine gift and her physical being. Through having the vote she would have a great power in uplifting politics and public morality."

The time for stupid and incapable women was past and in future they would have to be useful and capable. Their basic education and training should prepare them for motherhood, home making and citizenship, all else being secondary to these three faculties. She should participate in outside activities so that she would be able to advise her children wisely and judiciously on the matters which concerned them. She should know what her boys and girls were doing. She will pass into this new state and cease to be a drudge and slave. She is the homemaker and the home is the foundation upon which the nation raises its superstructure.

Woman's Work.
If she was asked what woman's work was, Miss Coleman would say that it was anything that concerns little children. Through them she also had her greatest suffering and greatest sorrow but through them she also had her greatest joy. The homing instinct was the highest law of womanhood but the modern world did not recognize it and honor it. That was why ninety-five percent of the young women in United States and Canada were seeking professional careers, today. It was natural that woman desired to obtain the laurel of success and it was in business and professions that this was now measured. Little honor was given to the successful mother.

Hard to Train Children.
Western Canada was the last great home of the people and the little children were the future men and women. They would rule the future destiny of the nation and were the heart of the world. Thus in wielding these young careers she played her great part in the nation's upbuilding. As the old Irish woman had said it was harder and more important to train children than to produce them. If the domestic life of a nation failed, then that nation would surely fail. If energetic, intelligent and enthusiastic men and women made the homes and inspired the ideals, then the children would be fine, clean and intelligent. The children should be taught to think of the future. If men and women thought of the future and the little children that they hoped some day might be theirs, it would be impossible for them to think the unclean thought, do the unclean deed. Too many people nowadays in seeking the spectacular and the phenomenal and in the mad rush for wealth trod over and left unnoticed the finer things of life.

Spirit, Not Furniture.
The spirit and not the furniture made the ideal homes. The people should go forward resolved to be better home makers. It was up to the mothers to do this and the world would be saved if the hearts of all men and women were enshrined in the love and confidence in their mothers. Women will come forward and before this love and confidence of men in their mothers will fall the tyranny and greed of the world, and permanent peace shall be made from the fighting of the men.

Mr. and Mrs. De Jen also took part in last night's Chautauqua program. The magical illusions of the former was highly entertaining and mystifying and the singing and playing of the latter was delightful. Last night's performance was their last appearance here.

PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION IS AGAIN BROUGHT INTO LIGHT

PORT ALBERNI, Sept. 1.—A revival of the provincial public utilities commission to regulate matters at issue between municipalities and the public utilities was urged upon the municipal convention yesterday by F. A. McDiarmid, parliamentary agent of the Union of B. C. Municipalities and formerly city solicitor for Victoria.

President Jack Loutet urged the provision of an adequate fund for the union of municipalities to protect the interests of municipalities in disputes between utility corporations and municipalities.

SONS OF CANADA ADVANCE AGAIN

Defeated Sons of England in Gilhuly Cup Semi-Final Last Night—4 to 2.

The Sons of Canada eliminated the Sons of England from the Gilhuly Cup series last night in the semi-final by defeating them in a rather listless game by a score of 4 to 2. There was a good crowd of spectators in attendance but it was a quieter game than usual and excitement did not seem to become worked up until the second half. Play was fairly even throughout but the best team won mainly through the merits of its forward line.

The Canucks played up-hill during the first half and scored three goals in this period through Moffat, Swan and Robinson. One of the Sons of England scores was made by V. Menzies, a Sons of Canada bar, while H. Fanthorpe made the other goal for his side. At half time the score was 3 to 2, Dobbig in the second half, scoring the last goal for the Sons of Canada.

The teams lined up as follows: Sons of Canada—Thompson; V. Menzies and H. Menzies; Anderson, Shakespeare, and J. Mitchell; Robinson, Swan, Moffat, Clarke and Lane.

Sons of England—Button; Darton and Wearmouth; Mansell, Kelsey and Ed. Craggs; Fanthorpe, Tinker, Lambie, Fanthorpe and Farquhar.

W. McCulloch was referee and S. Butters and George Waddell were the linesmen.

Telkwa Barbecue on Monday Will be Classic Event of Season in Bulkley Valley

All the residents of the Bulkley Valley and good representations from along the line of the Canadian National Railway between Prince Rupert and Prince George are commencing to foregather for the season's classic event of the Central Interior, the Telkwa Barbecue. Indications point to the fact that the attendance will be the largest and most representative yet, and the population of the thriving little town at the confluence of the Bulkley and Telkwa rivers for the day will likely figure in the thousands.

Sport Chat

Energetic committees have been working for weeks on the plans and arrangements which have now reached a point as near perfection as possible. They have now a great program prepared which will include stock show, games of all sorts, field events, horse races, grand ball and other numerous attractions. The attendance will doubtless ensure the financial success of the Barbecue. But there was another question that presented more difficulties to the committee than either the preparation of a program or the financing of the day and that was the providing of accommodations for the visitors. In the past, that has been the one and only uncomfortable feature of the Barbecue as far as the visitors were concerned. They found themselves facing the night in Telkwa where it was hard enough to obtain even meals, not to speak of lodgings. This is to be remedied to a large extent this year, however. Special eating places have been provided and the people are opening every available bed for the accommodation of their visitors for the night. The hotel will not be able to handle all the crowds that is certain.

Both young and old athletes in the city are now beginning to think of the winter season and its activities. Basketball will, of course, be the main sport which will engage them all and there is every reason to believe that there will be more leagues than ever providing games for every evening. When the Fair is over the Agricultural Hall will again be put in readiness and it is likely that it will be kept working overtime accommodating the leagues. One may expect that the various teams which played baseball and football during the summer will be lining up for basketball and probably be augmented with others. There will be at least four leagues—Senior, Intermediate, Junior and Juvenile.

SEND BILLIARD TEAM TO PLAY FAIR WEEK

Anyox Anxious for Match; Also Awaiting Final arrangements Regarding Baseball.

Ben Self this morning received a letter from Anyox stating that they are anxious to bring a billiard team to play a Prince Rupert team here during Fair week.

They also stated that they were anxiously awaiting the making of definite arrangements for their ball team to play at Prince Rupert in the elimination contest during Fair week.

The Sports committee of the Fair will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock to consider these matters and arrive at a definite decision.

Timing the Eggs.

Arthur Coleridge has a delightful anecdote of his Cambridge days.

"In my Cambridge days the two Bach worshippers were Professor Walmisley and a Scholar and ultimately a Fellow of St. John's by name Lunn. Lunn's brilliant mathematics won him a high degree and the usual fellowship, but his oddities made the world shy of him, and he lived and died almost unknown to fame. We were on very cordial terms, exchanging college hospitalities, and keeping up our friendship in after years. The first time I breakfasted with him at St. John's he plunged four eggs into a saucepan filled with boiling water, then flew to the piano, and, after dashing through the overture to 'Figaro,' which took two minutes and a half, proclaimed that the eggs were ready."—From "Arthur Coleridge's Reminiscences."

Hands Across the Sea.

Earl Beatty's holiday outing will probably take the form of a trip to the United States, to return the visit of Admiral Sims. He will be the bearer of a handsome bouquet from the British Admiralty to Edwin Denby, Secretary for the Navy, and will be charged with a special message of assurance that it was the menace of an American fleet just across the Atlantic that won the battle of Jutland and consequently the war, and that the pro-Mexican among British politicians are to be regarded as ring-struck hybrids.—Punch.

JOBS IN CITY
WANTED BY MEN

Edmonton Has Plenty of Employers Asking For Help.

EDMONTON, Sept. 2.—While orders are being received for two hundred men daily at the Alberta Government Employment Bureau, Superintendent Paterson reports it is impossible to place more than seventy-five men of the daily number required. "We have more jobs than we can find men for and while the present situation is not serious, it is certainly perplexing to us," Mr. Paterson remarked.

The statement, following closely upon that made by J. A. McGregor, general manager of the Edmonton Dunvegan and British Columbia railway to the effect that he would have to import men from other provinces to meet his demands on construction, seems to indicate a plentiful supply of work and an insufficiency of labor to meet the demand.

According to Superintendent Paterson, men who apply at the local government employment office are only satisfied with a choice of jobs. From fifty dollars per month to as high as five dollars per day is being offered by farmers for harvest help. Men, however, in the majority of cases, refuse to accept the fifty dollar a month proposition and are quite content to wait for the job carrying the maximum wage.

There is work in the country and on construction to provide a job for every unemployed man in Edmonton, Mr. Paterson says. But while this superfluity of work exists many give a blank refusal to the offerings and are only ready to accept positions in the city.

FOUR CHARGED WITH MURDER

Men Claim Assailant Went Insane and Fought to Finish.

VEGREVILLE, Alta., Sept. 2.—Charged with the murder of Alex Boychuk in the Soda Creek District on August 22, four men—Wasek and Mike Lehune, Wasek Kuzek and John Kriptonke appeared before Magistrate McIntyre yesterday and were remanded.

Pictures of the murdered man taken by Corporal Sacker show that Boychuk suffered terribly before he finally said to his four assailants "that he had enough." He died shortly after they had left him to give themselves up to the Alberta provincial police law custodians at Vegreville.

Gaping Wound.

The pictures reveal a gaping wound in the skull of the dead man; they show a broken leg, a broken wrist, legs lacerated to a terrible degree and above all they evidence the ferocious battle in which all men have indulged.

Reports also received by the Alberta provincial police in regard to the murder reveal the fact that Boychuk went insane previous to his death. When the four men with whom he had engaged in conversation declared they would not perjure themselves Boychuk raised his fingers through his hair and told them all that he would kill them. And with his statement leaving his lips commenced the fight that was to end his life.

Perfectly Sober.

The men, according to the report were perfectly sober; not a drop of liquor was to be found on the premises in the vicinity of which the murder took place. Boychuk, the report states, commenced the fight; and the four men took up the engagement after a couple of their comrades had been struck.

The fight to the death lasted for many minutes, in fact, until the time that Boychuk received his death wound in the skull and admitted to his assailants that he wanted to be left alone. But he did not give in until he knew he had gone too far.

Knew Could Not Live.

The report received by the Alberta Provincial Police is to the effect that just as soon as the four attacking men realized that Boychuk had been finished, the only thought in their minds was to give themselves up to the custody of the police. When they left the farm where Boychuk lay stretched out gasping his last, they did not know that Boychuk was to die but felt that after such a battle he could not live.

The four men—two of them brothers, are now in the Alberta provincial police jail at Fort Saskatchewan where they will be detained until such time as the preliminary hearing of their trial is called.

WEATHER REPORT

Highest Temperature Was 70 Above—4.82 inches rain.

There was 4.82 inches of rainfall here last month according to the report issued by F. W. Dowling, Dominion meteorologist. The highest temperature was on August 5 when the thermometer reached 70 above. The lowest was on August 4 and 27, 45 above. The mean temperature for the month was 56.

As Represented.

It is doubtful if anyone ever saw Chauncey Depew when he was not equal to the occasion, and no matter how peeved he might be, he always had the faculty of seeing the funny side of the situation.

Not the least amusing story told of him was a visit to a certain popular New York State country resort where nothing but the best in meat and vegetables raised right on the place were supposed to be placed on the table.

Something about the meat seemed to throw Depew into a reminiscent mood and finally he asked:

"What did you say this meat 'Spring lamb,' was the prompt was?"

and almost challenging reply. "I believe you," answered Depew. "I've been chewing on one of the springs for an hour."—Los Angeles Times.
