SCHOOLS OPEN NEXT TUESDAY

Several Noticeable Changes on Staffs and Their Allocations.

When the city schools reopen after the summer vacation on Tuesday morning next, there will be a good many changes on the staffs and in their location. Several new teachers, most of whom arrived this morning and others who have been here some time, will make their appearance in the class rooms for the first time.

Nine teachers will take their places in the new Hays Cove school, which is located in the dome. The science and manual training classes. The King Edward school will be devoted entirely to high school purposes and the Borden Street school to public school classes. The new school in Westview will also be open to the public.

The Seal Cove school will carry on as before with the two divisions.

H. L. Campbell will be the supervising principal of all public schools and will have an office in the Hays Cove school. He will teach entrance classes in both the Borden Street School and the Hays Cove school, devoting part time to each.

The teachers will take up their posts as follows:

High School.
J. C. Brady, principal; Miss B. McDonald; Miss M. E. Mahaffey of Vancouver, a new member on the staff; and Miss Dorreen C. Ryan, of Vancouver, the last mentioned in charge of commercial classes.

Hays Cove School.
W. H. Hartness, formerly of Anyox, vice-principal; Miss E. A. Mercer, Miss Jessie Rothwell, Miss A. McKinnon, Miss S. Stone, Miss B. Walker, Miss N. E. Rivett, Miss J. B. Eason and Miss M. Gladwell; R. H. Shockley, manual training instructor, and Miss A. B. Marcellus, domestic science teacher.

Borden Street School.
Edward S. Sims, formerly of Vancouver, vice-principal; Miss S. Mills, Miss M. Minns, formerly of Alberta schools; Miss A. M. Mercer, Miss Helen Hibbard, Miss Belle Macleod and Miss G. Hall.

Millionaire Reporter in Garb of Picturesque Fisherman Steps in to Hear John Oliver's Speech

ALBERNI, Sept. 3.—Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., scion of one of America's wealthiest families, motored in here yesterday from his summer home at Sproat Lake to do the family shopping, and stayed to hear Hon. John Oliver address the Union of Municipalities convention.

The visiting delegates were amused to behold the spectacle of an anxious looking young man attired in oilskin overalls represented as the advance fall styles for the west coast fishermen, superimposed by a raincoat and wearing a pair of enormous rubber boots. As a crowning glory a red bandana handkerchief covered his head.

"I owe the butcher $3.75," said the millionaire reporter, as he stepped from the Packard in front of the hotel, "guess I had better visit the bank, draw some money and settle up. I haven't been here long enough to establish good credit."

Without explaining the reason for his high headgear, young Vanderbilt explained that the boots were necessary on account of the bad roads to Sproat Lake where his car became mired frequently in transit.

LABOR PARTY AND FARMERS

Gentlemen's Agreement Arranged to Prevent Overlapping.

FARMERS NOT FREE TRADERS SAYS CRERAR

KENORA, Sept. 3.—Hon. T. A. Crerar, interviewed at his summer home, denied that the Progressive party was for absolute free trade, but rather for the encouragement of industries based on national resources, the chief of which was agriculture.

Mr. Crerar said the farmers were ready for an election, but redistribution should have come first, in the interests of the West.

DOMINION HAS RELIEF PLAN

Premier Meighen Tells Soldier Representatives He Will Make Announcement Soon.

TORONTO, Sept. 3.—Hon. Arthur Meighen told representatives of the unemployed soldiers that the Government had under advisement a plan of relief which he would make public shortly. The Government was fully aware of the importance of keeping certain public works in operation during the winter. The Canadian National Exhibition speech was devoted to Imperial Conference and world problems.

DAILY EDITION

Labor Day

On Monday.

Monday is Labor Day and the people of the city are asked to join with organized labor in celebrating it in a fitting manner. Throughout the country labor has charge of the festivities. In the past they have shown how well they can organize sports and games and have made the day most enjoyable. This year is expected to be no departure from the general rule. We suggest that all turn out and take part in that difficult task of enjoying themselves, and show appreciation of the efforts of those who have prepared the fine program of events.

Back to Work

Tuesday Morning.

The school children of this city return to work on Tuesday morning after spending about ten weeks away from their tasks. They will go back fresh to the work and will, it is hoped, do credit to their parents and teachers.

While not wishing to seem to interfere in any way with the methods of the local staff, it has often been stated by educational authorities that education does not consist wholly in passing examinations or in getting the best possible standing in class. It is the all round development of the body and mind. In the school the chief thing is the development of the mind, but the body must not be neglected. Education is the fitting of the boy or girl for the battle of life.

One feature which is often neglected by some of the teachers in this as in other places is training the pupils to express themselves orally as well as in writing. To write a fine essay is a first-rate accomplishment, but to be able to stand up before an audience and express opinions is equally important. Every man or woman should be able to defend a right cause or to attack an evil, and to do that he or she has to learn to express orally and to gain the necessary courage to stand up and state the case. That is an important part of education. The first step is often to learn to recite a poem or to tell a story. Everything done on the school platform is an aid to gaining that presence of mind which never comes to many people and the lack of which handicaps a man or woman throughout life.

Physical Also Important

The physical phase of education is also important and one which is often neglected. The normal boy or girl is sure to get plenty of good healthy exercise, no fear about that. It is the subnormal physically that need attention. There are always boys and girls in every community, especially girls, who mope and refuse to join in games. These are the ones for whom supervision of play is chiefly necessary. To give these the impetus to join with the others and to do their part in organized games is a difficult task, but it is one that well repays the supervisor.

All children wish to play, but the thing to teach is to co-operate in play, to be fair and to give every opponent a chance. Only in schools can organized games be carried out successfully. Under any other auspices the individuals who need the tutoring will be absent.

Citizens Should Support the Schools.

All citizens should support the schools. Co-operation of teachers and parents is necessary to success. Occasionally a teacher is able by force of will and extreme tact to get excellent results without the help of the parents, but to be a success generally the schools must have the co-operation and support of the parents and of the public generally. In some towns parents' associations are formed to aid the schools, showing that often parents realize their responsibilities and try in that feeble way to do their part. An organized association is not necessary, however, in order to be helpful. To instill respect for the teacher in the minds of the children and to back up the teacher wherever possible are important points. It is a good thing for teachers and parents to know each other and for the former to feel that she has the support of the latter.

This, being the beginning of the school year, is a good time to think about these things and to remember that the children of today are the citizens of tomorrow, and as the young people are trained today so very largely will they be tomorrow.

MORE GAS FOUND AT BOUNDARY BAY

People Could See Blaze From Kingsway Monday Night.

A strong flow of gas preceded by a good showing of oil caused much excitement in Boundary Bay oil circles on Monday night and gave renewed confidence to those engaged in drilling operations on the company's property, says the Vancouver World. The oil and gas were struck at a depth of 2700 feet and so strong was the pressure that the gas, when lighted, shot the flame into the air between 40 and 50 feet above the 116 feet high derrick.

When the news of the strike reached the city crowds made their way to the highest point on Kingsway where the flame from the burning gas could be distinctly seen.

This morning operations at the well were being confined to "mudding" down the gas flow and expectations are, with the resumption of drilling operations the much looked for flow of oil will result.

Leaving Vancouver at about 1:30 o'clock this morning, N. S. Ross, R. S. Crawford and W. F. Robertson of Victoria, made a hurried trip to Boundary Bay, where the gas flame was still shooting 20 feet into the air above the derrick.

"There is no doubt now in the minds of the drillers that they have at last reached what they have long been looking for," said Mr. Crawford. "When the oil and gas were struck yesterday the flow came with such a rush that everything, including the drillers, received a heavy drenching. The drillers believe oil might be struck when they get through the crust they are now in, or at least when they get down a few more feet."

Illegal Human Nature.

"Some of the laws you have helped to frame have not been rigidly observed."

"I'm not complaining," replied Senator Sorghum. "Even Moses could not insure a strict enforcement of so simple and explicit a set of rules as the Ten Commandments." — Washington Star.

Many people read newspapers as much for their advertising columns as they do for news.

Our Short Story.

Ingenious had been the cashier in the bank for many years before he discovered one day that there was in his soul a deep passion for gambling. At first he withstood the temptation that came with the discovery, but a day finally came when he could no longer resist. And so he gambled. He gambled until his savings were gone, then he borrowed. When his creditors became pressing, he took the bank's funds and gambled more recklessly than ever. For a long time he did this. Now he owns the bank.—Iowa

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 9 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight.

The table given is for Port Simpson but the time for Prince Rupert varies only a few minutes on some days and on others is the same. The range of the tide may be computed as 5 per cent greater at Prince Rupert than at Port Simpson both at springs and neaps. Therefore the rise in the Prince Rupert harbor is slightly greater than Port Simpson.

The height is in feet and tenths of feet above the average level of lower low water.

NEW EFFORTS TO GET DEEP SEA SHIPPING HERE

Joint Committees of the Board of Trade to Formulate Resolution.

In an effort to focus attention on the desirability of making efforts to secure the shipment of cargoes from this port, the Trade and Commerce Committee and the Railway and Navigation Committee of the Board of Trade will act jointly in drafting a resolution for presentation to the authorities.

In discussing the matter last night at the general meeting of the board, E. G. Dawson referred to the efforts that had been made along the line of having ocean going vessels stop here and thought they should use every effort to get the business started. Captain Harry Johnson had recently suggested that if 1000 tons a trip could be guaranteed, there would be no difficulty in getting Oriental liners to call here, and once they started the business they would be likely to continue and other vessels would follow.

Up to Railway.

Mr. Dawson said he thought it was up to the railway company to work up the business. Through their commercial agents and other officials both on this continent and in the Orient it ought not to be a difficult matter. He would like the board to go on record as favoring this.

M. P. McCaffery referred to the need of coal bunkers here. He said Alberta coal could be delivered here as cheap as Nanaimo coal was sold at the mines. The coal was of good quality and all that was needed was bunkers to have the port well provided with shipping facilities.

Lack of Information.

E. F. Duby suggested that there should be available here definite information in regard to shipping matters. People were often inquiring and there was no information available. Only recently an eastern firm had written him inquiring as to the possibility of assembling a cargo of lumber at this point, presumably from interior points. He gave the inquirer an opinion but there was no definite information available.

The president then asked the two committees to formulate a resolution which would meet the need, to be brought up at the next regular or special meeting of the board. E. F. Duby was added to the committee.

POPULAR COMPANY GOING TO ALASKA

Chautauquans Will Conclude Stand Tonight and Go North Monday.

The full Chautauqua party which is now in the city will finish their engagement here for the season tonight. On Monday they will go north on the Princess Royal to appear at Ketchikan, Petersburg, Wrangell and Juneau. Returning to the city on September 24, they will take the eastbound train on September 26 and proceed to Calgary, their headquarters.

Announcement of the plans for the return of Chautauqua here next year will be made at the final concert this evening. Arrangements have just about been concluded for a four-day stand then, and a committee will be selected.

CHAUTAUQUA DANCE HELD LAST NIGHT

Nineteen Members of Company Entertained in St. Andrew's Hall at Pleasant Affair.

In honor of the nineteen Chautauquans who are in the city there was a delightful dance held in St. Andrew's Hall last evening. Fully one hundred couples were in attendance and the affair proved pleasant indeed. Music was provided by the Westholme Orchestra and dancing was much enjoyed, the visitors being very congenial. J. H. Beatty was master of ceremonies and Ralph Lapine was on the door. Catering was in the capable hands of Mrs. Carrall. The Chautauqua Committee of the city was in general charge of arrangements.

MARY PICKFORD WAS GREAT IN PICTURE AT THE WESTHOLME

There was a large crowd out to the Westholme Theatre last night to see Mary Pickford in her new play, "Through the Back Door." It is a comedy with a note of pathos, and is well up to the standard of the Mary Pickford plays, some say better than ever. It will be seen again tonight.

MANY PEOPLE VISIT CANADIAN SCOTTISH

Captain Hocking of the Canadian Scottish has had his ship swarmed with visitors since she has gone to the ocean dock to load lumber and salmon. As the men are busy loading, there is a certain amount of danger, and the captain suggests that it would be better if the persons who wish to see the new vessel visited her tomorrow, either in the morning between 10 and 12 or in the afternoon between 2 and 5.

MARKET EDMONTON IN TROUBLE

EDMONTON, Sept. 2.—There is a city market
trouble. Charges of misconduct are being made and also it is said to be patronized.

Meeting of the City Councilman McArthur said the trouble being victimized by holders. There was a disturbance which prevented from being sold to the shop. In the morning people came on to the market their goods members went round to see being offered. If a
of any kind of produce was offered at a rate that would open the market, then it was immediately
up. A price was then set and holders were told to sell at the price
which would prevail for the day.

Chance for Public.
The alderman asserted that he never had a chance at the market. If anyone to the market and was to sell at a low price
it was kept by the
and everything was picked the price set before the public usually came to buy.

He contended that the processing for resale should be stopped, and that the customary prices for the whole market be allowed to prevail.

Honest Farmers.
He is not such thing as honest farmer nowadays, he said. "The species is in decline. I think close should be kept on these who come on to the market to defraud the public with inferior produce.
I will sell ears of corn which are no corn in the most fashion."

He promised that these should be looked into,
and buying for resale stopped, and also the settling prices.

and advertisements, this would not be as interesting because information about for sale in the stores is just that.

DESOLATION AT GERMAN BASE

Not Only Defences at Kiel but Floating Docks Moved Away From Ports.

KIEL, Sept. 3.—German-Americans who frequent the lobbies of hotels in Berlin can often be heard remarking that Germany has won the war.

If they were to visit Kiel and other German naval bases they would probably get a decidedly different impression. Nothing could be more complete than the desolation which hovers over Kiel harbor, formerly the pet war harbor of the German navy and probably the best haven in all Europe.

The great shipyards which created most of the craft for the German navy are silent.
Rusty sheds mark the scene of former activity. Idle, deserted docks stand as sad reminders of days when Kiel was the point to which all German eyes, and in fact all the eyes of Europe were directed.

Machinery Dismantled.
All machinery which the Allied commissions regarded as useful for war purposes has been dismantled. Floating docks cranes, and other expensive equipment have been moved away to recompense Germany's enemies for the damage done by Admiral von Tirpitz's submarines.

In normal times, Kiel had 50, 000 naval officers, sailors and employees in the harbor all the time. Now the naval personnel is less than 1,000. The city, which formerly had a population of 250,000, has lost all of its great government payroll and one-fifth of its population.

Fort Falkenstein and the other batteries which covered the Haltup entrance to the Kaiser Wilhelm Canal have been reduced to piles of crumbled concrete and twisted steel. Their great guns have been sawed into bits and pitched into scrap heaps.

Academy Closed.
The naval academy is closed.
An empire without a navy has no use for more naval officers.
The attendance at the university has dwindled. The castle of Prince Henry, overlooking the naval harbor, has been taken over by the workmen for a club, and there are no warships in the magnificent waterway where the former Emperor Wilhelm used to review his navy with pomp.

It was here that the flower of the German navy lay, safe behind torpedo nets, during most of the war. At present there are only two antique cruisers lying at the imperial naval docks.

These were so far out of date that the English and French didn't think it was necessary to scrap them, and hesitated to offer such craft to any of the nations which had helped win the war.

Small commercial shipyards are operating and the commercial harbor still has a little business.

Canal Active.
The Kiel Canal is still quite active. But Kiel derives little benefit from the business passing through the canal and cannot revive materially until exchange conditions become such that it can again buy timber from the Scandinavian countries and resume its importance as a lumber depot for Central Europe.

Mothers! WATCH YOUR TEETHING BABIES.

THOUSANDS OF THEM
DIE EVERY SUMMER

When the baby starts to cut its teeth, then is the time the poor mother is under the stress of great anxiety. The child's bowels become loose, and diarrhea, dysentery, colic, cramps and many other bowel complaints manifest themselves; the gums become swollen, cankers form in the mouth, and in many cases the child wastes to a shadow, and very often the termination is fatal.

On the first indication of any loose-ness of the bowels, give a few doses of new and untried remedy which might be dangerous to your darling's health.

EXPLAINING CAPITALISM IN RUSSIA

RIGA, Latvia, Sept. 3.—Leon Trotsky, the Bolshevik War Minister in Russia, attempted to explain to the delegates composing the recent congress of the Third Internationale at Moscow the seeming contradiction in the acts of the Soviet leaders who are restoring a limited measure of capitalism in Russia while advocating, in speeches to the Internationale, the abolition of capitalism elsewhere.

The Pravda quotes Trotsky as saying that compromises with capitalism were justifiable in Russia as the dictatorship of the proletariat has been firmly established there, but that no compromises were allowable to Reds attempting to bring about revolution elsewhere.

Disastrous Condition.
The official Bolshevik viewpoint, as expressed in speeches by Lenin and in their various newspapers is that all change-being made in Russia, all concessions being granted to capital and all seeming digressions from a strict Communist policy are either made necessary by the poor economic condition of the country or are essential to permit Communism to exist in the future.

The disastrous economic condition in Russia was frankly admitted in speeches at the Congress by various Russian delegates. Trotsky is quoted as saying told the delegates that "it is easy to be a Communist if one looks only at the cheer-
Internationale, but the true Communist is he who can still be one and look upon Moscow's starving children."

Dreamers.
Zinovieff in his closing speech to the conference, as reported in the Izvestia, said that in 1917 everybody "laughed at us, considered us dreamers." The first Internationale congress, he said, was attended by only a handful.
The second was more important.
The third, he said, has shown that despite all difficulties, the Third Internationale will be most powerful even in America.

While permitting of some exceptions, such as temporarily allowing the American I.
W.W. to continue as an independent organization, the Internationale congress decided that the revolutionary idea must be fought for through existing trade unions, such as the American Federation of Labor. All small organizations not affiliated with the large trade unions were requested to "liquidate themselves," their members being instructed to unite with labor unions and win them over to Communism.

The conference decided upon undying warfare against the so-called Amsterdam Internationale, which includes trade unions working for socialism, but not for the dictatorship of the proletariat.

RUM RUNNING ATLANTIC COAST

Everyone Is Suspected and Number Vessels Seized—Cargo of Rum.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Staid old salts aren't taking kindly to all the prohibition inspection, official and unofficial, that's going on inside and outside the three-mile limit.

"Getting so you can't drop a mudhook without some lubber whispering you're a rum-runner," said one sun-tanned skipper who recently breezed into port with his schooner aglitter with fish scales.

According to this captain and others of his calling, numberless sleuths who played the "catch-the-spy" game during the war now are bent as zealously on tracking down liquor-laden craft in post-war days.

There were spies during the war and there probably are rum-runners now operating off the coast, but skippers innocent of more than a strong tea breath are complaining that even their cod and haddock now are falling under suspicion and that a reflection is being cast off the apparent and honorable calling of fishermen.

Fantastic Tales.
Several months ago, strange tales began coming from the Atlantic of vessels mysteriously missing, and of other vessels as mysteriously sighted—the phantom craft that bobbed up out of fogs, circled merchant craft and scooted away as silently as they had come. Pirates was the first verdict.

Then, in July, off Hatteras was found a stranded schooner, so battered by the waves that even her name had been ground off her stern. She never was identified, but before she was destroyed by a coast guard cutter as a menace to navigation, there was found in her hold a cargo of rum.

This set folks thinking and when there came from Montauk Point, on the tip of Long Island, reports of an English schooner that lay off the three-mile limit and dispensed forbidden drinks to all comers, there were persons afloat and ashore who gave credence to the story.

Liquor Schooner.
Atlantic City, too, contributed a tale of a liquor schooner that lay off shore, sold liquor and tauntingly signalled to prohibition enforcement officers to come and get it.

Other schooners were reported from Tampa north to Cape Sable, and each was suspected of rum-running. In many cases, it was reported that the two-stickers had ignored signals, refused all advances and kept snobbishly on their courses.

Now hardly a day passes that some vessel reaching port somewhere does not report encountering these baffling strangers, until it seems as if the entire merchant marine of all countries must suddenly have turned to rum running for a living.

Then seizures began and to date more than half a dozen schooners are being held on technical charges. At Philadelphia, Gloucester, New Haven

Good Fellowship Pervaded Great Banquet Last Night Given by Sons of Canada

Good fellowship pervaded the air at the Sons of Canada athletic banquet last night in the St. Regis dining hall, in which were assembled 150 of the city's enthusiastic athletes and fans representing every organization in Prince Rupert which has in any way identified itself with sport this season. It is not necessary to say that the affair was a tremendous success, for that goes without saying. Satisfied with a season of success behind them and confident of their abilities in the future, the Sons proved themselves excellent hosts, and the assembly did much to heal any jealousies or undue rivalry which may have sprung up in the course of the past few months.

No Dull Moments.

The banquet tables, at which every seat was occupied, was all that could be desired and did much credit to those who were in charge of its preparation. The program of speeches and musical numbers was fully entertaining and, contrary to what is often the case at such affairs, there was not a dull moment. The midnight hour, when it was drawn to a close, seemed to come all too soon. The keynote of all the speeches was appreciation of the good sportsmanship which had prevailed among the Sons of Canada and all their opponents during the summer season just about to close and hope that it would continue during the approaching winter and right through till summer again.

Secret of Success.

Ald. S. E. Parker made an excellent master of ceremonies and kept things moving all the time. He made a neat speech in opening the toast list and referred to the increased interest that had characterized the activities of the Sons of Canada Society this season, especially along the lines of sport. No small amount of credit was due to the officers for the year for the great successes that had been made in baseball, football and basketball. Team work had been the secret of this success and while the opponents had, doubtless, had as good players as the Sons, their team work had, perhaps, been not quite as good. Good fellowship and co-operation should exist not only in the individual teams but between all the teams in the leagues. Mr. Parker condemned unjustified criticism, bad language on the field and in the side lines and international jealousies as being poor sportsmanship.

The Toast List.

The toast to Canada, the first on the list, was proposed by Harry Love, president of the society, who briefly expressed the hope for a continuation of good clean sport and Canadianism.

Col. S. P. McMordie, honorary vice president of the society, responded to the toast. He congratulated the victorious Sons of Canada and also their splendid opponents in football and baseball. He hoped the Sons would have the same success next year but hoped they would have to "go some" to get it. Referring to Canada as a country, Col. McMordie drew attention to the fisheries, timber, farming, mixed farming and minerals. Hundreds of millions of acres were waiting to be turned into wealth and surely it was a country of the future. Magnificent scenery and natural splendor also characterized the great land and it was a sportsman's paradise. The school systems of Canada were second to none and her principles of government were based on high ideals. The greatest asset Canada had, however, was her people who compare with other nations and take a high place physically, mentally and morally. The population of Canada were comparatively small but the number of world champions she called here in various lines of sport spoke for itself of the physical excellence of the people. From a mental standpoint, the fact that Toronto University in 1914 was the largest in the world and its graduates went to fill posts of responsibility in all parts of the world spoke for itself. Criminal statistics showed that the people were clean living, of good morals and law abiding. They were actuated by high ideals and had proven it in their response during the late Great War to the cause of the oppressed. Many hundreds of thousands had gone over and thousands had laid down their lives. Indeed, one saluted the flag knowing that it stood for liberty, equality and justice in all parts of the world.

To the City.

The toast to the city was proposed by George Johnstone, who said that he had lived in it from the day of the first wheelbarrow till today when the first airplane had arrived. He had walked on the muskeg when he first came but today he had walked on a modern city street.

Acting Mayor John Dybbave replied to this toast. There was not much to say about the excellent progress that was being made in affairs of the city. The community was just as good as bad as the people made it and there were forces working both ways. Clean, wholesome sport, for which the Sons of Canada stood, however, was certainly tending to make the city go in the right direction. Competition always had an uplifting influence.

Flying Man.

Aviator Presty of the "Polar Bear," who with Aviator Bach was in attendance, was called upon by the chairman for a few remarks in view of the significance of his arrival in the city. Mr. Presty said that Canadians certainly had something to be proud of, something that the United States would be glad to have. He referred to the timber and water assets which he had seen in flying over the country. Canada was a great country and had fine people and he would pass a good word for her everywhere his travels might take him.

Opposing Teams.

The toast to the opposing teams was proposed by W. E. Thompson, who said that to sit at a banquet with five opposing teams was somewhat of a record in a town of the size of Prince Rupert. He had noticed great strides in football and baseball activities since he had been here. The younger boys were now very active and at the same time such old timers as W. Martin, J. Currie, W. Murray, A. Kinghorn, Percy Tinker, Wallace Anderson, Kelsey and many others were going strong. This year all had played gentlemanly and clean sport and any agitations and bad feeling that had arisen had originated not on the field but on the side lines. The basketball season might well be started along the same lines as baseball and football was now ending for the season.

Opposing Teams.

Ed. Ross, captain of the G. W. V. A. football team responded on behalf of his men. He hoped to be back next year to lead them again. Bert Wearmouth, of the Sons of England, congratulated the champions but urged them not to be over-confident. He suggested that an athletic instructor in connection with the city schools would be invaluable for the younger generation. Abie Kinghorn, for the Callies, declared that the winners had earned all they had won but next year he hoped his team would give them an even closer run for the honors. C. G. Clementson spoke on behalf of the Elks, saying that his team still had hopes for baseball honors although the chances were now strongly against them. He urged the establishment of a gymnasium in a central location in the city. Older men might then have an opportunity of keeping in better condition. Harry Webber, for

For the purpose of compiling individual averages and selecting a representative all-American college baseball team, a grouping has been made by the New York Herald of all the prominent colleges and universities of the country. The selection for the all-American 1921 college nine was picked from seven prominent baseball colleges, Yale and the University of Illinois placing two men each, the other colleges placing members being Yale, Pennsylvania, Columbia, Dartmouth and Penn State.

ball League. He stated that the best team had won it as well as the Dominion Day Cup. They were also going to win the Gihuly Cup. Mr. Woods gave a brief history of the Mobley Cup. It had been donated in 1914 by the late Frank Mobley and had been held in 1914 by the Merchants, 1915 by the Irish Fustlers, 1919 by the Callies and 1920 by the G.T.P.

James Shakespeare, captain of the Sons of Canada team, received the Cup saying that he had never played with a better bunch of boys than his team mates of the season. Before he said down the popular "Chucker" was given three cheers by the assembly. C. Hylthe, manager of the team said that what the team had they were going to hold and what they did not have they were going to get. Harry Menzies said he had been on three teams winning the Mobley Cup so he thought he would take it home himself.

The toast to the Press was eliminated on account of the lateness of the hour and the toastmaster, in closing, mentioned such supporters of sport in the city as W. J. Cash, president of the Junior League, W. D. Vance, president of the City League, George Russell, referee of football, E. A. Donohoe, B. Self, Jack Mitchell, P. Laporte and Fred Stork. They had all played an important part in the advancement of clean wholesome athletics in the city.

Cup Presentation.

In the course of the evening, the presentation of the Mobley Cup, trophy for the city football championship, was made by E. A. Woods, president of the Football League. He stated that the best team had won it as well as the Dominion Day Cup. They were also going to win the Gihuly Cup. Mr. Woods gave a brief history of the Mobley Cup. It had been donated in 1914 by the late Frank Mobley and had been held in 1914 by the Merchants, 1915 by the Irish Fustlers, 1919 by the Callies and 1920 by the G.T.P.

The musical program comprised opening instrumental numbers by William Balagano and H. A. Pryce. Mr. Balagano also gave a violin solo, "Humming." Harry Fletcher and Eddie Craggs sang duets, "I'm Lonesome for You, That's All," and "Alabama Lullaby." R. Clarke sang "My Aileen" and "Annie Laurie" and Harry Fletcher, "Dear Old Pal of Mine." W. Vaughan Davies was the accompanist. Shortly after midnight the great gathering came to an end with the singing of the National Anthem.

Sport Chat

The Dry Docks, champions of the Junior Football League, and the Dry Docks having something of the Senior, who have now reached the finals and will play off on Monday for the Gihuly Cup should put up a good game—certainly one that will really be decisive of Prince Rupert's football championship. The Sons are quite sure of the outcome but there are rumors of the Dry Docks having something real formidable to meet them. If the Sons of Canada win they will have acquired the third trophy of the year. The Exhibition medals, they say, will be the next.

It is just a week today since Ben Self announced that he was planning to have an elimination baseball series between Anyox, Prince George and Prince Rupert during Fair Week for the championship of Northern B. C. In that week plans have been shaping up well and the series looks now like a certainty. It will be the biggest baseball event of the season. After having participated little in baseball arrangements so far this year, Ben is coming to the fore at the end of the season and is showing that he is just as good an old sport promoter as he ever was.

The best game of the season between Telkwa and Smithers took place last Sunday, says the Interior News. The game went ten innings, the score at the end of the ninth being six all. Coming to bat first in the tenth Smithers scored three but the Telkwaites came right back with four more in the second half and won the game. Smithers made her nine runs in the last three innings, three in each. The teams will meet again on Monday at the Barbecue and the event is one of the highlights of the day's program. They have been putting up good, interesting inter-town ball all season.

SOON TO TALK WITH EDMONTON BY WIRELESS

EDMONTON, Sept. 3.—Edmonton and Prince Rupert should soon be in direct communication by wireless, if present plans are carried out. Bert L. Perry, electrical contractor of this city has just been granted a federal license to erect and operate a commercial station here, primarily for the purpose of keeping in direct communication with the oilfields of the north. It will also be able to communicate with other parts of the country including the Pacific Coast.

Work on the new station is to start at once. It will be erected in the environs of the city and far enough away from the city power plant to avoid interference. It is expected to have the system in operation by the spring.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

Minimum price of first-class and second-class to be $2.50 an acre.

Pre-emption now confined to surveyed lands only.

Records will be granted covering any and all rights for agricultural purposes and which is not timber land.

Partnership pre-emption abolished, but parties of not more than five may arrange for joint pre-emption with joint residence, but each making necessary improvements on section claimed.

Pre-emption must comply with five years and make improvements to value of $10 per acre including clearing and cultivation of at least one acre before receiving Crown title.

Where pre-emption is withdrawn on cause of ill-health, or other cause, a grant of a term of five years of improvement and transfer of his claim.

Records without permanent residence may be issued, provided applicant makes improvements to extent of 1000 per section and records same each year. Failure to make improvements recorded on record books, and if not improved within five years, improvement of $100 per acre, including 1 acre cleared and cultivated, and residence of at least 2 years are required.

Pre-emptor holding Crown grant may record title, and if he does so, the grant is in connection with his farm without actual occupation, provided statutory improvements made and residence maintained on Crown grant land.

Unsurveyed areas not exceeding 20 acres, may be used as homesteads, title to be obtained after fulfilling residential and improvement conditions.

For granting and recording purposes, exceeding 20 acres, may be issued by one person or company.

Mill, factory or industrial site on timber land not exceeding 40 acres may be purchased, conditions include payment of stamp duty.

Natural hay meadows, inaccessible by existing roads, may be purchased conditional upon construction of a road to them. Rebate of one-half of cost of road, not exceeding half of purchase price, is made.

PRE-EMPTORS' FREE GRANTS ACT.

The scope of this Act is enlarged to include all persons joining and serving with His Majesty's Forces. The section which the heirs or devisees of a deceased pre-emptor may apply for title under the Act is extended from one year from the death of such person, as formerly, until one year after the conclusion of the great war. This privilege is also made retrospective.

No fees relating to pre-emption are due or payable by soldiers on pre-emption recorded after Jan. 1, 1918. Fees are remitted for five years.

Provision for return of moneys advanced due and been paid since August 1, 1914, on account of payments, or of taxes on sold pre-emption.

Interest on agreements to purchase town or city lots held by members of Allied Forces, or those who acquired direct or indirect, remitted from interest to March 31, 1920.

SUB-PURCHASERS OF CROWN LANDS.

Provision made for issuance of Crown grants to sub-purchasers of Crown lands, acquiring rights from purchasers who failed to complete purchase, involving forfeiture, on fulfillment of conditions of purchase, interest and taxes. Where sub-purchasers do not claim whole of original parcel, purchase price due and taxes may be distributed proportionately over whole area. Applications must be made by May 1, 1920.

GRAZING.

Grazing Act, 1919, for systematic development of livestock industry provides for grazing districts and range administration under Commissioner. Annual grazing permits issued based on numbers ranged, priority for established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits for settlers, campers or travelers, up to ten head.

CRIME WAS SMALL IN ENGLAND LAST YEAR

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Judicial statistics for England and Wales in 1919 give an interesting reflection of the social conditions of the country in the year immediately following the war. The figures show, among other things, a remarkable fall in convictions for larceny and a great increase in cases of bigamy. The decrease of dishonesty may be attributed in some measure to the fact that employment was good and wages high, while the prevalence of the offence of bigamy was coincident with a war-induced weakening of the marriage tie, which was indicated even more emphatically in the Divorce Courts.

It is pointed out in the Blue-book that, if the number of persons for trial for indictable offences may be taken as an index, there was less crime in 1919 than in any other year of the present century. Offences of dishonesty, it is stated, make up five-tenths of the cases, which some before the Courts, and the diminution in this class of offences from 1917 was remarkable. In the same period the number of persons in receipt of poor relief fell continuously, and there was also a decrease in offences against the Poor Laws.

Rather Encouraging.

"I understand that your boy Josh is interested in perpetual motion."

"Yes," replied Farmer Hawbuck, "and I'm kinder encouraged about it. I thought for a while that the only thing Josh was interested in was perpetual rest."

HIGH CHURCH AGAINST UNION

Editorial in The Church Times States Case for Anglicans.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—(Canadian Press).—Canadians may be interested in the British High Anglican view of the union of the churches movement as it is presented from Canada. "The Church Times," the English journal of the High Church party devotes a long editorial to the subject. It regards the future union of Presbyterians, Methodists and Independents to constitute "the United Church of Canada" as a scheme to which the three communities are too deeply committed to draw back, and it evidently rather fears that the efforts being made to bring a fourth partner, the Anglican church, may be successful. "High Churchmen in Canada," it says "are few and weak; if necessary they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and we notice that the newly-elected Moderator of the Presbyterian Assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the refusal recently of the see of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that history was made last night. The Moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear; but the usual argument for interchange of pulpits is rather that preachers instead of concealing their denominational beliefs, should frankly explain them to the congregations of other bodies."

Warns of Danger.

And then "The Church Times" proceeds to warn and advise those whom it believes to be in danger, saying:

Now, if Canadian Churchmen merely regard themselves as members of one of the Protestant sects, only retaining certain features of antiquity, they had better cease from cozy parlors, at once, negotiate openly with the Presbyterians, Methodists, Congregationalists and Baptists of their country, and bid farewell to Catholic Christendom. If they are bent on a superficial amalgamation with bodies of Christians who repudiate the essentials of Catholicism, they will, we warn them, find themselves isolated and alone. The popular view throughout the Anglo-Saxon world no doubt is, that a variety of Christian Churches happen to differ on certain not very vital questions of the form of Church Government, on unimportant ceremonies and minor parts of doctrine.

Why should they not agree to differ, waive these non-essential peculiarities, most of which have only an antiquarian significance, and unite as one church on the things that really matter? But is this the view of the situation taken by Canadian Churchmen themselves? Or are they prepared, humbly but firmly, to assert for the bishops of the Catholic Church, their own being an integral part of it, a Divine apostolicity and jurisdiction, for the Catholic Ministry an authoritative priesthood and "character," for the Catholic sacraments a covenanted validity and for the Catholic inheritance of doctrine and worship a supernatural guidance and grace? In such an awful claim there need be no hard or harsh denial of heavenly blessings on other ministrations—on those of the Quaker preacher any more than on those of the Wesleyan. Much of our disunion, and much erroneous belief and practice is inherited. Nevertheless, it is this claim alone which entitles the Church of England, or any of its daughter Churches, to exist.

The Day!

"Do you know what day this is John, dear?" she asked sweetly at the breakfast table.

Unpleasant recollection of previous memory lapses flashed through John's mind. He wouldn't be caught this time?

"Why, of course, my love! How could I possibly forget that this is our wedding anniversary?" he said with gentle reproach.

"No, it isn't. That is three months ahead," she responded coldly. "This is the day on which you promised to take the afternoon off from the office and beat the rugs."
