Right Hon. Winston Churchill, secretary of state for the colonies, announced that the agreement had been reached during the first day's conference between North and South Ireland. It deals chiefly with the employment question in the Belfast district and the reorganization of the police of that neighborhood.

FROM FORT NORMAN

Ronald McKinnon Comes out with Dog Team—Travelling Was Slow.

EDMONTON, March 31.—Ronald McKinnon of the Imperial Oil Company's staff at Fort Norman, has arrived in the city bringing word that no startling developments have taken place in respect to oil since the last news came out, prior to the freeze-up. It is understood that very little work was accomplished by the men left at the oil drills, owing to the extreme weather and solidly frozen ground. The condition at the discovery well is the same as before; oil exists around the drilling, but the well cannot be classified as a gusher.

The winter in the north is reported to have been severe, and the travelling out by dog team was difficult due to the fact that the wind had blown the ice flakes into hummocks prior to the freeze up. Over and around these obstructions the dogs had to make their way and in consequence travelling was slow between Fort Norman and Wrigley, where these conditions existed.

Mr. McKinnon left Norman on January 27th, and travelled the entire 4,200 miles to McMurray by dog team, relays of fresh dogs being secured at each post—a cold and costly journey.

Wada, the Japanese explorer was met with in the north, and was last seen by Mr. McKinnon at Fort Simpson, it being Mr. Wada's intention to leave for the "outside" immediately.

LONDON, March 31.—An imperial airship line to India and Australia is proposed here and a committee has been appointed to deal with it.

In Spite of Bad Weather on Fishing Banks March Halibut Catch is Bigger

In spite of adverse fishing conditions which prevailed on the halibut banks for one-half of the month of March, the amount of halibut landed at this port during the month totalled 1,692,000 pounds, an increase of nearly three times over the same month last year and an increase of over 200,000 pounds over the amount for February this year, which was 1,329,750 pounds. The highest price for the month was 17.7c and 7c and the lowest, 8c and 4c.

From March 5 to 29, weather on the fishing grounds was very stormy, and boats were compelled to come in with very small catches. This condition prevailing for such a time reduced the total considerably from what it might have been.

Present indications are that April should be a big month, for conditions are all favorable to good fishing. The weather is better, there is plenty of ice, bait and ears, and many of the larger boats, including the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Company trawlers, are preparing to start out for the season. Seattle schooners are steadily arriving to take their share of the harvest of the deep on the northern banks. Many of these boats will market here.

One Read From Prince Rupert Asking for an Outlet to the Skeena by Road.

VICTORIA, March 31.—At yesterday's session of the convention of the associated boards of trade of British Columbia fourteen resolutions were read from various sections in regard to roads.

Prince George is also asking that the mail service be routed to Vancouver by way of Jasper on the G. N. R. instead of by way of Edmonton. These requests will be placed before the authorities.

VICTORIA, March 31.—The Associated Boards of Trade passed resolutions asking the Federal Government to investigate the importation of fuel oil, fuller utilization of British Columbia port facilities, and administration of the Indian reserve lands and also to separate the department of fisheries in British Columbia under a federal deputy minister.

In addition to that he is one of the private bills committee, banking and commerce, agriculture and colonization, mines and minerals. From New York the aviators plan to make their way up the Atlantic coast to Newfoundland and if the weather is good they will try to reach Ireland direct, otherwise they will fly to the Azores and up the coast of Portugal to the point of starting.

The machine used will be a Vikings Viking Amphibian plane which can be landed on either land or water, being provided with wheels which may be withdrawn into recesses in the hulls of the pontoons.

BROKE INTO LIQUOR STORE

INGENIOUS PLAN OF CHEQUE FORGER IN A WINNIPEG CASE

On his arrival home the alleged forger placed a strip of carbon paper beneath one of the cancelled cheques and over the stamped cheque he traced in the signature by tracing over the carbon with a pen.

Two Government
Docks on Coast.

There are two government docks on the coast, either of which could dock the big freighters of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine. There is, however, only one government ship repair yard and that one is at Prince Rupert. While doubtless for a quick overhaul it sometimes would be advisable to dock a boat at Esquimalt, there seems no good reason why the government should not overhaul its own steamers at its own shipyard and dock them in its own floating dock.

It is expected that as a result of the visit of L. J. Tail, who was sent here by the government to make an inspection, a good deal of the government work will be done here. It is also expected that an effort will be made to operate steamers out of this port or to have them call here outbound. It seems the reasonable thing for them to do.

Why Depose
Mr. Bowser?

Why should the Conservatives of British Columbia wish to depose W. J. Bowser from the position of leader of the party? He has for a number of years fought the battles of Conservatism while there was very little support for him in the country. He has always opposed the Oliver Government in season and out of season and has stood out against all changes, good or bad. "Anything Liberal is bad" has been his dictum. Now at Vancouver some of the most optimistic of the Conservatives fancy they see victory in sight within a few years and they want to throw Mr. Bowser out on the dump heap and take another leader in his place.

According to the young Conservatives, Mr. Bowser has been too slow at bringing results. He is still groping around in the cold shades of opposition when he should have inspired the people of the province with sufficient confidence to make them oust the present administration at the last election. Even when there was a chance to effect a change at the by-elections, the magic power which was McBride's was found to be absent from the present leader. That is the claim.

As a matter of fact Mr. Bowser is not to blame for the present drear outlook from the Conservative point of view. He has achieved a good deal. He secured very close to an even split in the last general election and he is still the brainiest man and the best speaker the Conservatives have in sight. True, he has not always that magnetic power which thrills the people, but there is many a good leader who fails in that. It seems as if in political life as in every other walk of life we all want change, and not being able to secure a change of government, a change of leadership of the Conservative opposition is the next best change the opposition group sees.

Protest Further
Duty on Oil.

There is an attempt being made by the coal owners of Vancouver Island to have a duty imposed on fuel oil so that there may be more sale for coal. While the increase in coal consumption would be a laudable ambition, it would seriously affect the port of Prince Rupert if the price of distillate were made prohibitive. As it is, the fishermen often fill their tanks at American ports, and any increase in duty would send most of them there. To have cheap fuel for internal combustion engines is the very life of this port.

The G. T. P. uses fuel oil for its engines on a large section of the railway. As long as the government does this it can hardly with consistency place an embargo on others who do the same.

It has been suggested that the Provincial Government might put a duty on oil, but everyone knows that is impossible. The Provincial Government has nothing to do with the matter. It is the Dominion that handles all matters pertaining to the customs and to import and export, although it seems the province has the right to place an embargo on export.

OOLACHAN RUN
ON NAAS RIVER IS DESCRIBED

Wonderful Scene Followed Arrival of Candle Fish in Early Days.

The oolachan run on the Nass River has just commenced and the first of the "candle fish" have reached the local market. The oolachan season is a busy one on the Naas River and most of the natives engage in the fishing. A small proportion of the catch is sent to the cities for sale but the most of it is put up by the Indians in various forms for their own consumption.

The late Archdeacon W. H. Collison wrote interestingly of the oolachan fishing in his famous book, "In the Wake of the War Canoe," as follows:

"For centuries the oolachan fishing on the tidal waters of the Nass River has attracted the Indians of the tribes from all quarters. From the interior, hundreds of miles distant, by the trail the Indians thronged thither carrying their effects on sledges drawn by their dogs or by themselves, as they generally started early in the year while the snow was deep to reach the river in time for the fish, which usually arrive about the middle of the month of March. They brought with them also furs, the proceeds of their hunting expeditions, with which to pay the tribes resident on the river for the right to fish and also for the use of their nets and for shelter in their fishing lodges during the season.

Fleets of Canoes.

"Before the coming of the white men if a delay occurred in the arrival of the fish in the river many of the Indians, especially the older and weaker, died from the scarcity of food.

The Coast Indians from far up in Alaska and from the south come in large fleets of canoes to catch the oolachan or to barter for the oil which is extracted from it, and from which the chief value to the Indians belongs. For just as the Eskimos must have their whale blubber and seal oil, so these Indians find a suitable substitute in this oolachan grease. Their dried salmon and halibut are eaten with it and the herring spawn and seaweed when boiled are mixed with a portion. Even the berries, crab-apples and cranberries are mixed freely with the oolachan grease when cooked and stored away for winter use. The oolachan, because of its richness in oil, was formerly known as the "candle fish" for, when partly dried, the Indians used it as a torch by night.

First Arrivals.

"As already stated, the first shoal of fish arrived about the middle of March. I have witnessed them followed into the mouth of the river by hundreds of seals, sea-lions, porpoises and fin-back whales, feasting both upon the oolachans and upon one another. So eager were they in the pursuit that the largest mammals almost grounded in the shallows, and when they discovered their position, they struggled, fought and bellowed in such a manner that they might have been heard for over two miles distant. None of the Indians would venture out in their canoes to attack them, so fierce was the fray.

"Prior to the arrival of the fish the river is a scene of desolation but with their arrival this scene changes. First there are the Indians with their boats or sledges and then the sea gulls begin to arrive, filling the air in thousands of myriads until they appear as snowflakes filling the air. They are usually accompanied by numbers of the white headed eagle which wing a higher flight and circle around and round whilst the sea gulls feast.

Fish Through Ice.

"The Indians prefer to fish on the ice, if there is any, because they can use their sledges and dogs to advantage. Openings are made in the ice and the nets are sunk. The fish are thrown onto the ice or into the boat as the conditions may be. Should the ice have broken up and cleared out before the fishing commences, all the work is done in boats and canoes. Much of the fishing is done by night as the nets must be put down with every falling tide; then hundreds of lanterns are seen flit-

AUCTION SALE
EXTRAORDINARY

Will start at 2:30 p.m. on Saturday the first of April and again in the evening at 7:30 o'clock. Everything in the store will be on sale, and you know Mr. Bulger carries a well assorted stock of real good quality merchandise. No doubt this announcement will come as a great surprise to many of you who know this high-class firm. Many will wonder why. We admit that it is customary to give several long reasons, but we choose to make no statement, and let it suffice to say that we need the money to finance our business and choose the quickest method to get it.

TAKE A LOSS

Mr. Bulger knows that his stock is too good for auction purposes, but he believes that you will appreciate that fact and bid accordingly. He knows that this sale will entail a great loss because of a sale by auction, yet it is better to do it this way because it is over quick and done with. Many other businesses will take the same loss, perhaps more, and spread it over a year or two. It takes nerve to sell what you have this way, but Mr. Bulger has the courage and will see it through and take his losses with a smile.

GUARANTEED

Mr. Bulger has secured the services of Mr. Horace Dorer to conduct the sale, and each and every article will be exactly as represented. He guarantees each article the same as if sold over the counter in the regular way. Everything is to be on sale and nothing is to be put away. You can come in, pick out anything you like and it will be immediately put up and sold to the highest bidder.

NO RESERVE

There will be no reserve save and except contract goods over which we have no control. Diamonds will not be put up unless they are started at half price. Mr. Horace Dorer is a practical man and knows what he is talking about. You have now a chance to learn many things about the jeweler's art. This sale will be conducted in a gentlemanly manner and the ladies are particularly invited.

PRIZES FREE

Another good feature. Should you wish to purchase something and not have the money with you to pay for same in full, you can pay a deposit and come back later and pay the balance. There will be three prizes given away free at each and every sale, and on the last and final sale we will give away a silver tea service absolutely free. No child can participate in the distribution of the prizes.

ting and flashing to and fro which with the shouting and hammering produce quite a busy scene. During the day the fish are taken to shore and heaped up in square or oblong bins three or four feet in depth.

Tons of Fish.

"Each household obtains from five to ten tons of fish and more, from which to extract the oil or grease after they have salted sufficient for future use and also a quantity to be sun-dried or smoked. To extract the grease the fish are boiled in large vats with sheet iron bottoms. The grease comes to the top and is skinned off into chests made of red cedar. If the Indians would extract the grease while fresh it would be pure and white as lard, but, instead of doing this, they often let them lie in the bins until they are putrid.

"The sea gulls and seals consume a greater quantity of the fish than the Indians themselves. When the fresh fish become scarce, the Indian feast on both seals and sea-gulls which are in good condition although savoring of the common dietary."

LAST NUN PORTUGAL IS DEAD AGED 89

Mother Maria Rose de Jesus Allowed to Stay After the Republic Declared.

LISBON, March 30.—Mother

Maria Rose de Jesus, a Carmelite nun who has just died at Braga at the age of 89, is said to have been the last nun in Portugal.

She belonged to the Convent of St. Thereza until the liberal monarchy extinguished religious communities.

The other Carmelite nuns, her companions, left the country, but "Madre" Rose Maria obtained leave of her order to remain in Braga, where she lived in retirement ever since, always carrying out the rules of her order as if she were still in the convent.

When the republic was proclaimed she was respected and allowed by the authorities to stay in view of her age, when other members of religious communities were expelled from the country.

BRINGING UP FATHERPASSING OF JOHN EATON

One of Canada's Wealthy Merchant Knights Dies at Age of 46.

TORONTO, Mar. 31.—Sir John Eaton died here last night, aged 46 years.

Sir John Craig Eaton, K.B., generally supposed to be Toronto's wealthiest citizen, was born in Toronto on April 29, 1876.

His father was the late Timothy Eaton, founder of the extensive business with important interests in a number of cities of the Dominion, including Montreal, Moncton, Winnipeg, Vancouver and Toronto.

Educated in the public schools of Toronto and at Upper Canada College, John G. Eaton was trained to the business which his father had begun. Upon his father's death in 1907, the son, who was then vice-president, became president of the T. Eaton Company. The business continued to expand until the Eaton interests virtually touched every important point in Canada and reached far beyond the Dominion. Sir John's other business activities embraced several directorships. He was on the boards of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Sterling Bank and the Dominion Bank, and he held governorships in Victoria University and the Toronto General Hospital.

Sir John Eaton was one of Toronto's most distinguished philanthropists. His munificence included the giving of several hundred thousand dollars to the Toronto General Hospital, the surgical wing of which he built at his own expense; $250,000 in memory of his father; $50,000 to the Y. M. C. A., Toronto; $10,000 to the endowment fund of Victoria University, and subscriptions to numerous enterprises of a religious, philanthropic or charitable nature. He built and furnished throughout the Eaton Memorial Methodist Church, Toronto, in memory of his father, the edifice being one of the most magnificent places of worship in the Dominion. He was a director of the Canadian National Exhibition and sundry other organizations.

Machine Gun Battery.

Sir John Eaton's loyalty during the Great War was shown in many practical ways. He raised and equipped the Eaton Machine Gun Battery, with quick-firing Vickers Maxim guns mounted on armored trucks, and he was actively connected with a number of organizations in connection with war relief work. He was knighted in 1915 in recognition of his public services and he was created an honorary colonel. Previous to the war and afterwards Sir John was interested in the Canadian Baden-Powell Boy Scouts, of which organization he was for some time a commissioner.

Among Sir John Eaton's recreations was yachting, and for many years he owned one of the best-equipped steam yachts on the Great Lakes. He was a member of several yacht and golf clubs, and was a member of the Merchants' Club, St. Gall, Switzerland. During the war his yacht Florence served as a submarine chaser off the Atlantic coast.

Lady Eaton, four sons and one daughter survive, Timothy Craig, John David, Edgar Allison, Gilbert McCrea and Florence Mary. Mrs. Timothy Eaton, mother of Sir John, also survives.

T. Scott arrived in the city from Alford Bay on the Prince Albert last night.

Night Coughs

Terribly wearing on the system is the cough that comes at night and prevents sleep.

The constant coughing keeps the lungs and bronchial tubes in such an irritated and inflamed condition that they get no chance to heal.

You will find in

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP a remedy without an equal, for soothing the lungs, loosening the phlegm, strengthening the breathing organs and fortifying them against pulmonary disease.

Mrs. John McKinney, Lower Montague, P. E. I., writes: "About three years ago I caught a very bad cold accompanied by a sore throat and hoarseness, and was so worse you could hardly hear me speak. I could get no rest at night with the terrible annoying, hacking cough. I tried several remedies, but they did me no good. Finally I saw Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup advertised; got a bottle, and at once it gave me relief, and after using four my cough had all gone. Now I always keep Dr. Wood's in the house, and shall recommend your remedy to others."

He was one of the best tradesmen of that locality and the owner of a gasoline launch, which he built and equipped. He leaves a mother, wife and family to mourn the loss of a good son and parent. Alfred Adams, teacher of Massett Indian Day School is a brother of the deceased.

Many years ago, he left the Queen Charlotte Islands, to take up residence with the Alaska Haidas. He was on a visit to a son, who was ill, when he contracted influenza, and passed away. He leaves several grown sons and one daughter, Mrs. Nagel. The funeral took place at Massett, on March 27 when the remains were interred in the cemetery, on Massett Inlet, where his forefathers are at rest.

BIRTHDAY OF ROYAL PURPLE

Celebrated First Anniversary Last Night With Great Banquet in Elks' Home.

Royal Purpledom in Prince Rupert celebrated its first birthday at a splendid banquet put on by the Ladies of the Royal Purple, Prince Rupert Lodge No. 8, Dominion of Canada, in the Elks' Home last night. There were present about 175 Elks, Ladies of the Royal Purple and members of their families and the affair was one of great enjoyment and success in every way.

The banquet commenced about 9 o'clock and it was about the hour of midnight when the bountiful repast had been dispensed with and the toast list concluded. The toasts, largely of a lodge character, were proposed and responded to with excellent speeches by both ladies and gentlemen and were punctuated with several delightful musical numbers, vocal and instrumental.

The decorations in the lodge room for the occasion were indeed a feature and, together with the banquet provided, reflected a great deal of painstaking preparation and work by the energetic committee in charge. Purple and white, the colors of the lodge, entered principally into the color scheme and streamers of these colors adorned the walls and ceiling in artistic arrangement. Purple candle shades and floral decorations were arranged along the long tables and at the head table were placed the two athletic trophies of the order, the Gilhuly Basketball Cup and the Lepine Billiard Cup.

Delectable Feast.

The feast provided was most delectable and one that was at once appetizing and dainty. The serving was done by boys of the Elks' and Royal Purple families who were neatly attired in purple caps and trousers with white jackets.

All arrangements both in the serving of the banquet and the rendering of the program went off without a hitch.

At the head table were seated Mrs. Ralph V. G. Lepine, Honored Royal Lady, who presided, Mrs. E. Gilhuly, Associate Royal Lady, Milton Gonzales, Exalted Ruler of Elks Lodge No. 46, W. J. Cash, Past Exalted Ruler, Ralph V. G. Lepine, representative of the Grand Lodge, Rev. H. R. Grant, chaplain, Bro. Mayor Rochester, and other officers of both lodges.

The first toast on the list was to "The King" which was proposed and responded to in the usual manner. In opening the program, Mrs. Lepine bid welcome to all Elks, Ladies of the Royal Purple and friends present and gave a brief resume of the history of the Royal Purple Lodge, in the city since its inception exactly one year ago. Then there were 33 members and now there were 63. The order was growing and doing a good work. Elks were asked to use their influence with the ladylady.

Other Toasts.

"Officers and Members No. 46, B. P. O. E." was proposed by Past Exalted Ruler W. J. Cash and responded to by Milton Gonzales, exalted ruler. The latter recited the poem "If" by Rudyard Kipling and recommended it to all Elks as a motto.

"Our Country" was proposed briefly by Mayor H. B. Rochester and responded to by Rev. Dr. H. R. Grant in a happy and sincere speech. Dr. Grant made a plea for Imperial sentiment and spirit as against materialism and dealing with the home country, suggesting that real development of the great nation of Canada, the largest in the world under one flag, should be striven for rather than commercialism.

The two great political parties were pledged to commercialism but this influence should be fought off. The true prosperity of Canada would not come through the building of great cities but through the development of the great agricultural possibilities.

The final toast, an impromptu one, was proposed with a vote of thanks by W. J. Cash to "Royal Purple Lodge No. 8" and the committee in charge of the banquet, especially Mrs. Frizzell, the convener. It was honored with enthusiasm by the large assembly.

Musical Numbers.

The musical portion of the program comprised solos by Mrs. Jarvis McLeod, Miss Thelma Knight and Mrs. C. H. Tupper, a vocal duet by Harry Fletcher and Eddie Craggs and a cornet solo by Mr. Ferry, member of the Vancouver Lodge and band. All numbers were keenly enjoyed and applauded with demands for encores which were willingly given. W. Vaughan Davies was accompanist.

Following the conclusion of the banquet at midnight, the tables were cleared away and dancing was enjoyed to the strains of the Elks' Orchestra.

In the course of the dance presentations of Royal Lady's jewels were made by Mrs. Lepine to Mrs. G. A. Sweet, through her mother, Mrs. Henning, and Mrs. T. M. Spencer, Royal Ladies of last year. The jewels were Supreme Lodge of Canada.

The toast to the "Supreme Lodge of Canada" was proposed in a splendid speech by Mrs. T. M. Spencer and responded to by Mrs. Fred Gilhuly. Mrs. Spencer said that Mrs. Gilhuly had brought honor to herself and Lodge No. 8 in having been chosen Grand Royal Loyal Lady at the Supreme Lodge convention. It was through the Supreme Lodge that the obligation and its beauty and purpose was framed and exemplified. Mrs. Gilhuly, in reply, said that there were four lodges of the Royal Purple in Western Canada. The Calgary lodge was the largest now and Victoria, Vancouver and Prince Rupert were about on an even footing. She expected to see Prince Rupert Lodge No. 8 the second in importance in a very short time.

The toast to "The Grand Lodge of Canada, B. P. O. E." was proposed in a brief speech by C. H. Orme who outlined its purpose in connection with the lodge work. R. V. G. Lepine, representative to the Grand Lodge, responded in an interesting speech in which he outlined the history of the Elks' fraternity since its first establishment by Charles Vivian, the actor in New York in 1867, with a dozen friends. The total membership in America today was around the million mark and in Canada there were 60 lodges with a membership of some 60,000. Mr. Lepine read a telegram from Roy Pendray, Grand Exalted Ruler, Victoria, congratulating the Royal Purple on its anniversary, complimenting it on its work and progress and urging upon all Elks to realize the great assistance which the ladies' auxiliary order was to the lodge as a whole.

ENGINEER SPEAKS TO ROTARY CLUB ON WORK AT THIS PORT

I. J. Tait, superintendent engineer of the Canadian Merchant Marine, who left for the south last night, spoke at the meeting of the Rotary Club here yesterday. He said he had been looking over the situation investigating the drydock and ship repair facilities and also the possibilities for overseas trade from this port. The latter depended on a good deal on local freights. Prince Rupert had an excellent harbor and a well equipped repair plant and dry dock facilities but what would be done it was only to investigate and report.

Mr. Tait told of the splendid trip north from Vancouver which exceeded in beauty anything in the fjords of Norway. He also spoke of the success of the merchant marine system. While there had been a small loss in operating last year the loss was not as large as on many other systems. After all the chief object of the merchant marine was to get Canadian goods abroad.

Mr. Tait is a member of the Rotary Club of Montreal and was pleased to meet the members of the club here.

FRAUDULENT WAR SERVICE COLLECTIONS

War Office Is Warned to Keep On Guard Against Claims.

LONDON, March 31.—So many fraudulent attempts have been made to collect money from relatives of soldiers reported missing in the great war that the British War Office has warned them to be on their guard.

One woman living in London, says the War Office, caused to be inserted in German newspapers an advertisement asking for information regarding her son who was reported as "missing" in 1917. Soon she received a letter from an organization calling itself the "Dead Soldiers' Society," Cologne, stating that it found a clue to her son's whereabouts.

A soldier bearing the same name, so the reply ran, was a patient in a hospital in Southern Russia in May, 1919, suffering from a nervous breakdown. The Society, it was added, would at once despatch one of its agents to secure his return if the remittance of £40 was sent to cover traveling expenses.

The mother applied to the War Office for particulars which her German correspondent asked for. That office took up the ease and discovered, with the aid of the German police, that the "Dead Soldiers' Society" was not a reliable concern and that at the date of inquiry the majority of its members were in prison.

LIVER TROUBLE

Bad Bilious Attacks

When your liver becomes sluggish and inactive your whole health suffers. Your bowels become constipated, the tongue coated, the breath bad, the stomach foul and sick, and bilious spells occur on account of the liver holding back the bile which is so essential to promote the movement of the bowels, and the bile gets into the blood, instead of passing out through the usual channel. The only way to keep the liver active and working properly, and thus get rid of the nasty bilious attacks, is to keep the bowels regular by using

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

They are purely vegetable, small and easy to take, work smoothly and gently, and there is nothing of the griping, weakening and sickening effects of the old-fashioned purgatives.

Mr. John S. Caron, Donavon, Sask., writes:—"I was troubled with my liver, and had severe bilious attacks. A friend advised me to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, so I took two vials and I have had no more attacks."

MONEY TALKS AND M'CLYMONT

Interesting Address on Banking System by Member of the Rotary Club.

"Money" was the subject of an interesting address given by Thomas McClymont yesterday afternoon at the Rotary Club luncheon. The speaker made an interesting comparison between the American and Canadian banking systems to the advantage of the latter, and explained how the money was taken from one part of the country to another as it was required in the big basic industries.

In speaking of the money we use, Mr. McClymont said few of us realized just what the notes we handled meant. The British North America Act empowered the Canadian Government to issue paper currency up to $30,000,000, but they must have 25 per cent. of gold back of it or securities guaranteed by the British Government. This had been exceeded, however, and today the issue of notes amounted to $116,000,000 with the proper gold backing.

Protection for Notes.

The individual banks also issued notes up to a sum not exceeding the paid-up capital. The holder of the notes becomes an involuntary creditor. If the bank failed, there was a guarantee fund drawn upon to settle the debt. This fund was formed by a levy of five per cent. upon all banks doing business in the Dominion. The guarantee was held by the Government, which redeemed all outstanding notes. The moment a bank failed the notes began to bear interest at five percent. The guarantee fund protected the public and prevented demoralization of the credit of the country.

The person who deposited money in the savings bank became a voluntary creditor of the bank and depended on the assets of the bank, the double liability of the shareholders and other securities to protect him.

The speaker went on to say that many Canadians did not think the banks met the local situation and they compared in that respect unfavorably with the banks in the United States. In the United States there were national banks, state, county, city and small town banks. The First National Bank of New York was supposed to be the strongest banking institution in the world, even stronger than the Bank of England.

Small Banks.
In the United States a bank could do business on a capital of $25,000 and was independent of all other banks. In Canada we had what is known as the branch system or Scotch system. There were some branch banks in the States, but not many. In Canada there were between thirty and forty banks in all.

While local industries sometimes benefitted more from the small private banks such as those in the States, chiefly because they would loan more freely than the branch banks, there were times when the larger institutions were an advantage. Sixteen years ago there was a tremendous panic and in the United States there were panics right and left and scores of small banks went to the wall. In Canada there were no such failures. The reason Canada rode the storm better than the people across the boundary was the stability of the banking system.

Community Banks.
In the Dakotas a few years ago they established community banks. They had large crops and the prices were high. Then came the slump in prices and the price of wheat went down to such an extent that the banks went out of business.

These examples showed that the Canadian banking system was better than the one obtaining in the United States.

Telling of the methods used by the banks to distribute the money where it was needed most, Mr. McClymont said that in Eastern Canada the lumber was cut during the winter and taken to the rivers. As soon as the spring opened the logs were carried down stream to the mills and sold.
