COMMUNISTS IN POWER IN ITALY TODAY

PREMIER BONAR LAW IS SET FORTH AS THE APOSTLE OF TRANQUILITY

Fascisti Government is to Take Charge Italian Affairs Under Mussolini

ROME, Oct. 30.—Benito Mussolini, leader of the Fascisti, who has been called by King Victor to form a cabinet, arrived in Rome today and was given an enthusiastic welcome by the crowds.

Mussolini immediately went to the King's palace.

It is believed that a new ministry will be constituted in the course of the day.

The railway traffic in Italy which was suspended yesterday by order of the military authorities was resumed today.

Mussolini declares that the Fascisti must go into power without alliance with any other party but granting some portfolios outside the Fascisti party. This is the culmination of a revolt against the politicians long ago begun by the Fascisti and crowned with success yesterday when the King, greatly moved, embraced the deputy D'Avicchia, one of the supreme military authorities of the Fascisti and told him he would gladly get Italy a government most suited to the new spirit pervading the country. He then entrusted Mussolini with the task of forming a ministry.

The body of Denomee, accompanied by Capt. Walters of the Bluenose, will arrive at Lunenburg today aboard the Canadian destroyer Patriot.

Celebration of the Bluenose victory has been postponed until after the funeral.

EDMONTON, Oct. 30.—"I am hopeful that we shall be able to bring out from Europe, from Great Britain and from the United States a great number of teen age boys and girls," stated Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, speaking over the take the services, J. G. Johnstone Journal radio in connection with P. H. Linzey being down for the Dominion government's emigration policy. "I see in this a splendid field for our endeavors, and I believe that these young people will probably make better Canadian citizens than those of mature age."

"I am very glad to be able to speak to you all from the Edmonton Journal office," said Mr. Stewart, "and as everybody is interested in emigration these days, I will devote a few minutes to the subject. I am anxious to bring to Canada from Europe, from Great Britain and from the United States, a class of settlers who will become real Canadians—people who will become assimilated into your midst, whose children will attend your schools, and who will grow up to become good Canadian citizens."

Treat Them Well

"It will be necessary for you all to welcome them on arrival, to make them feel comfortable and at home, to welcome them into your social lives, and to so treat them that they will learn to love the country. I am hopeful of bringing out a great number of the teen age boys and girls, and there is a splendid field for our endeavors here. They will probably make better citizens than those of mature age."

"In conclusion I would ask all of you to do your best to make these new arrivals love Canada, and to become good Canadian citizens."

DIED FROM HEMMORHAGE

Remains of Peter Nelson Discovered in Ninth Avenue Home on Saturday Night

Peter Nelson, Norwegian, aged 45, and a pioneer of the city, was found dead on Saturday evening by Sergeant McGlinchy, of the city police, and Mrs. B. Nelson, of 334 Ninth Avenue East, and John Ogden, 136 Ninth Avenue East, at his residence at 140 Ninth Avenue East, where he has lived alone for many years. Deceased had come to his death through a hemorrhage of the lungs and had been dead probably 18 hours before his remains were discovered. He had been suffering from tuberculosis for some time.

Sitting in Chair

At 7:10 on Saturday a call was received at the police station from Mrs. B. Nelson asking that an officer be sent to 140 Ninth Ave. East. Sergeant McGlinchy responded and went to the house accompanied by Mrs. Nelson and John Ogden. On entering the found Nelson dead sitting in a chair with his head under the water tap. He was dressed in his underclothes, and a pool of thick blood was standing in the sink in front of him. Local papers of Friday and Saturday were in the door on the outside and a paper of Thursday was inside. There was also a bottle of milk outside on the porch. Mr. Ogden said that he had noticed the light burning in deceased's house on Friday night at 10 o'clock and also at 7 o'clock on Saturday morning. Just before notifying the police, he and Mrs. Nelson had gone to the house and seen deceased as he was found through a window.

Dr. J. P. Gade, medical health officer, examined the remains and announced that death had been due to hemorrhage of the lungs, having apparently taken place late Thursday night or early Friday morning.

The remains were removed to the B.C. Undertakers' Parlors and John Dykhavn, Norwegian vice-consul, communicated with a sister, Mrs. Syversen, who resides in Seattle. A telegram this morning states she cannot come so the funeral will take place from the B.C. Undertakers Wednesday afternoon.

Born in Norway

The late Mr. Nelson was born in Norway in 1873 and had been in Prince Rupert since the early construction days in 1910 or earlier. He was a roofer and laborer and last winter had been employed at the Dry Dock. For two years he had been in Anchorage, Alaska. He was unmarried and, it is understood, is survived by his mother in Norway.

DAM WORKERS GAVE SMOKER

Wrestling and Boxing Events Made Last Week's Affair at Anox Interesting and Enjoyable

ANNOX, Oct. 30.—The employees at the dam gave a smoker in the Recreation Hall last week. There were 100 in attendance which was a very splendid turnout considering that it had been raining steadily all day long.

The main event of the evening was a wrestling bout between Gus Anderson and P. Doerkson, heavyweights. Doerkson secured the first fall after 11 minutes and 47 seconds of wrestling and won the match with the second fall in seven minutes. Lafortune, of the Beach, and Stubbs, of the Main, 145 pounds, also wrestled, the match ending without a fall, both boys being in the best of condition and evenly matched.

There were also three boxing events—G. Greenwell vs. Tait, 140 pounds; Downs vs. Wellerby, 130 pounds; and Benny Fitzpatrick vs. Barney Fitzpatrick. Each were three two minute round affairs and were drawn.

This was the first entertainment given at the Beach by the Dam Club and it was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

First Shipment of Cattle From Interior Are Fine Animals

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Not the least part of the political campaign now in progress here will be devoted to appraisal of the new premier and Bonar Law has been singled out by his partisans to champion the cause of tranquility and safety first. In high political quarters it is declared that if tranquility is what the nation wants it must be conceded that a better man could not be chosen to carry out this desire. These quarters assert that however much his friends and enemies disagree on Law's personal characteristics, they are united in agreeing that he represents straightforwardness, steadfastness, stability and sincerity, and that he has all the attributes of tranquility.

There seems to be a considerable part of the population which harbors the belief that under Bonar Law the pendulum may swing too far the other way and result not in stable government with accompanying tranquility, but in unwholesome political lethargy, perhaps even positive reaction.

 Miss Lois Wilson, Milton Sills, Theodore Roberts and Helen Ferguson in a William de Mille production "Miss Lulu Bett."

Nell Shipman is a Canadian girl from British Columbia but she has reached a pivotal point in the movie world. She is a star among the stars. Her picture this week "A Girl from God's Country" is said to be an excellent one and should be seen by all Canadians.

"Sky High" is on tonight at the Westholme. It must be a tiptopper judging by its name.

"Trapped by the Mormons" is making quite a stir in Canada and thousands have been flocking to see the picture in Montreal. The story deals with the secret polygamous activities of the Mormons of Utah and is an exposure of the methods said to be used in persuading women and children to join them.

Mary Pickford recently remade the picture that made her. There is gratitude! "Tess of the Storm Country," on which she has been working this past summer in Southern California is said to be the "crowning achievement of Mary Pickford's career." It is not often that an actress has made the same picture twice. This picture was made several years ago and in it the queen of the movies first caused a furore. Yet she was not satisfied. She spent the whole summer remaking it, and movie fans

Lois Wilson is Star in "Miss Lulu Bett" Which Will be Seen Friday.

Lois Wilson, the dainty Paramount actress, is a home-wrecker in William de Mille's latest Paramount production, "Miss Lulu Bett," which comes to the Westholme Theatre, Friday, that is to say, she smashes furniture, and dishes and plays havoc with the appointments of a kitchen in which she has drudged for years, merely to give vent to her feelings.

In the story, Miss Wilson is a spinster who lives in the home of her sister and brother-in-law as a sort of servant. She takes part in a mock marriage ceremony to discover that she is not only married, but that her husband already has a wife. Then her troubles begin. Neil Corry, a teacher loves her and driven to desperation by her brother-in-law's conduct, she wrecks the furniture and leaves her home forever, eventually to find peace and happiness with her sweetheart. Milton Sills is the leading man and others in the cast are Theodore Roberts, Helen Ferguson, Mabel Van Buren and Clarence Burton.

George Bushby Addresses Council of Board of Trade on Subject

ARE VERY DESTRUCTIVE

Prior to Passing Resolution Matter is Discussed at Meeting

Prior to the passing of the resolution asking the Dominion Government to grant a bounty on dog fish, George Bushby addressed the Board of Trade at length on the subject and there was considerable discussion and a good many questions were asked the speaker. Mr. Bushby said:

"I presume that you all are aware of the nature of the plant which I am operating, and that you realize the usefulness of such a plant as a complement to the fishing industry, providing, as it does, the means of disposal of the waste which is inevitable in the fishing business, and in the disposal of that waste the Reduction Plant converts it into most useful and valuable products, namely, edible fish meal, suitable for supplying the protein element in the feed of domestic livestock such as poultry, swine and cattle, fertilizer, for the enrichment of the soil, especially as regards fruit and vegetable cultivation, and oil, indispensable in the tanning industry and also used in the soap and paint manufacture as well as in other branches of the arts and crafts.

Continuous Operation

"You will readily understand that, in order to make such a plant remunerative, it must be kept in practically continuous operation during the entire year, for when the steam cookers and dryers are allowed to cool considerable loss ensues. Under present circumstances the plant here operates under the disadvantage that when the salmon canning season closes the plant has only the waste from the halibut fishery to depend upon for raw material, a very insufficient supply in proportion to the capacity of the plant to absorb raw material. The management, therefore, has been casting about to avail itself of a steady and ample supply of raw material, and has, logically turned its attention to the most ready and available source, shark and dogfish.

"These fish abound in the waters adjacent to Prince Rupert and in all our British Columbia waters and upon the Atlantic coast, and wherever they exist they prey upon the fisheries, destroying vast quantities of edible fish and cause much damage to fishing gear.

Public Benefactors

"Those who contribute towards the destruction of these pests must be regarded as public benefactors, but, gentlemen, it requires the expenditure of money to do the work, and this brings me directly to the kernel of my subject.

"In the first place, do not rush to the conclusion that I am here to ask for anything for my company. I have no such intention. I am here to tell you that it is beyond the resources of any individual or company or group of persons to adequately develop this fishery, for if will become a fishery. It is a community matter and must be undertaken, in part, by the custodian of our fisheries, the Dominion Government.

"Any reduction plant operating in this province is competing for business in a very close market, and the larger the output of the plant the keener the competition, for the reason that difficulty is generally experienced in finding ready buyers for large lots of goods, and the placing of such large lots upon the market always has a tendency to sag the market.

Market Limited

"Our market in Canada is extremely limited at the present time, for the consumer has not awakened to the advantages of utilizing our products as stock feed and fertilizer, but this market will grow in proportion to the knowledge which is disseminated regarding the use of these commodities.

"Our market for oil is in the state of New Jersey, away on the Atlantic coast, in direct competition with the Menhaden and other well established oil supplies. In this case we face a transcontinental freight rate of $1.05 per

"Our market for edible fish fair exchange, and we, as sellers, find that our business relations with our friends to the south of us are most satisfactory. And please, in this connection, bear in mind that this company has the habit of spending its money with the local merchants, a very good habit and one to be more universally adopted.

"From a community point of view, our sales to the United States are very beneficial, as material. To operate successfully we must obtain our raw material at a price which will enable us to operate at a profit. We cannot pay a large price for raw material, we should not pay anything for it at all, and make a profit after paying cost of manufacture, overhead, handling charges, transportation and duty.

If we cannot operate at a profit it would be foolish to operate at all upon a large scale, but we would cut down our staff to a minimum and content ourselves with taking care of the waste from the halibut fishery during the winter.

"Such a proceeding would not pay anybody, if carried out. We would buy very little fuel, little foodstuff, few supplies of any kind, would maintain possibly four men on the payroll, would be of very little benefit to the community, in fact we would just rust out in a comfortable manner for want of some reasonable means of utilizing the superabundant supplies of raw material swimming about at our very doors, carrying on their nefarious occupation of fish destroy-

SPECIAL SERVICES IN CITY CHURCHES
HELD YESTERDAY

Special services were held in several of the city churches yesterday.

At St. Andrew's Anglican, thanksgiving services were held. Rev. Archdeacon Heathcote, of Vancouver, preached two splendid sermons, morning and evening, and the choir rendered special anthems in the evening. The church was made beautiful with thanksgiving decorations.

Rev. W. H. Redman preached his farewell service at the Baptist Church before leaving for Victoria to which city he has been transferred. John E. Davy sang the solo, "The Holy City," accompanied by W. Vaughan Davies.

At the Methodist Church was a congregational song service of old familiar hymns. An illustrated sermon, "Quo Vadis?" or "Whither Goest Thou?" was given by Rev. G. G. Hacker. E. V. Ling sang a farewell solo.

Considering the inclement weather, the attendance at each church was very satisfactory.

Thanksgiving services will be featured next week at the Presbyterian, Baptist and Methodist Churches.

Last evening Rev. H. R. Grant preached a sermon on the subject of church attendance. While urging that people go to places of worship on that day the Doctor said it was a matter for each person to settle with his own conscience. The difficulty was that people did what they wished rather than what they thought. He had seen much evil come from neglect to attend church services on Sunday.

The usual fall lull between the summer's outdoor season and the advent of the winter's indoor sport is now on. Baseball, football and lacrosse games have been off the calendar for some weeks now and the next on the program will be billiards, basketball and possibly indoor baseball and hockey. In the meantime athletics and fans have little to do but talk and think about prospects for the winter and what they are going to do then. If the weather were clear it might be possible to have a few special outdoor games or a few ante-season indoor matches of some kind or other might be pulled off.

A suggestion has been advanced by the Prince George hockey club for the formation of a league in the central interior this winter. Such a league, it is proposed would include Prince George, Giscombe, Vanderhoof, Burns Lake and Smithers. The only difficulty that seems to be in the way is the old-one of how to finance travelling expenses. Smithers is actively planning already for the hockey season. A rink is to be built on the polo grounds and the railway company has been asked for water supply. The rink is also to be provided with electric light. Further decisions of a definite nature will be made by the Smithers Athletic Club at an early date.

Bill Barbour, who has established himself as the best player in the Trail Club billiard competition last winter, says that he has not been approached by any of the prospective teams regarding this winter since returning to town from Buckley Bay last week. Barbour was the first man on the champion Trail Club team last winter and was undefeated in the course of the competition. He would be a valuable acquisition to any of this winter's teams. It is not likely he will have to go begging for a position.

R. F. McNaughton, district passenger agent for the Canadian National Railways, made the round trip to Stewart at the end of the week.

Many changes have taken place in the twenty-one years, a notable one having been the tearing down of the old iron church on the site which was best man.

The Pythian Sisters held their annual bazaar in the Empress Theatre building on Saturday afternoon. It was a most successful affair and was largely attended, many dainty and useful articles being on sale in addition to the serving of tea and refreshments which was a feature.

Mrs. George Leek was convener and those in charge of the various departments were as follows:

Tea Room—Mrs. D. McCullough, Mrs. H. M. Blake, Mrs. B. McDaniels, and Mrs. P. J. Ryan.

Raffles—Mrs. E. Large, and

ers, the small fishermen would have little occupation other than that of strolling down to Cow Bay to see that his boat had not sunk during the night, a Rip Van Winkle existence for all concerned or who should be concerned in this branch of industry.

National Importance

"In making a careful study of the situation the following would seem to be the most important elements, and it will be seen to what an extent the entire nation will be benefited, for this is not a local matter but one of national importance.

"The government, custodians, in trust for the people, controls the fisheries and must be held responsible for the reservation and conservation of the potential wealth entrusted to its care. The government must, therefore, take up its share of the burden and has a distinct duty to perform which includes the destruction of such predatory fish as destroy the fisheries, and at the same time it should do all in its power to foster the industrial establishments which furnish the means of disposing of the carcasses of the predatory fish which will be captured, because such establishments will be creating fresh sources of national wealth.

"Ruskin briefly defines what the wealth of a nation consists of, in the following terms:

"The wealth of a nation, first, and its peace and well-being besides, depend upon the number of persons it can employ in making good and useful things."

That quotation sums up in a few words a wonderful appeal to all people to diligently apply its energies to manufactures.

Foster Industries

"The local community then, has a duty to perform to itself, for by wisely fostering such industries as are established or which may desire to establish themselves locally, the wealth of that community will be assured in the manner defined by the Immortal Ruskin.

"The outstanding feature of this matter is that the permanent establishment of a successful industry devoted to the conversion of sharks and dogfish into useful commodities, will be the means of utilizing the natural resources of the particular locality concerned.

"In order to make possible the establishment of this industry and in order to develop the shark and dogfish fishery there must be assistance derived from the Dominion government, and I am, therefore, asking you to consider the advisability of approaching the Dominion government, through the proper channels, with the object of impressing upon it the necessity of offering a bonus to the fishermen for the destruction of shark and dogfish as a means of ridding the waters of these destructive pests and as a means of producing national wealth in the form of manufactured commodities, having as a base of raw material the carcasses of such shark and dogfish as may be destroyed under the bounty.

Must be General

"I am referring to all fishermen and all reduction plants, wherever situated, either on the Pacific or on the Atlantic. It would be a poor policy to ask the government to give special privilege to any one part of the country. This matter is not sectional but distinctly national.

"But it is obvious that the citizens of Prince Rupert, the greatest fishing centre upon the Pacific coast and one of the greatest fishing centres in the world, should take the lead in a matter like this, and it is also incumbent upon us to take such steps as will lead to the development of the fishing business to its utmost capacity, and, until there is a thriving shark and dogfish fishery and also a fishery for the numerous species of edible fish abounding in these waters, the citizens of this community should be tireless in the expenditure of their energies along the lines of development. Prince Rupert has not commenced, at this date, to develop her fishery to any extent. The development is purely on the surface, but take warning and do not allow your means of existence to be destroyed by either wasteful means or by natural destroyers.

"The winter is upon us and many of the fishermen who own small boats have begun to lay them up. Possibly some of them have the necessary savings upon which to live during the winter months and possibly many have nothing to live upon, but all must be in a position of facing the winter with feeling not unmixed with a certain amount of anxiety.

"Boats and gear depreciate rapidly when not in use, and the same applies to men. Work must be found for boats, gear and men, and please include the plant up the inlet when discussing this matter, for we have a heavy investment in machinery and employ a number of men.

Fishing Activity

"With a bounty and with what we can afford to pay for the fish there will result a very considerable amount of activity in the fishing part of the community, a fresh avenue of opportunity will be opened up, and, without a doubt, the experience of this winter will amply demonstrate that with a due amount of thought given to the means of handling the trade, a permanent addition will be made to the fishing occupation and a lucrative business built up for all concerned, and who, in Prince Rupert, is not concerned with the fisheries?

"I have no intention of embarking upon a lot of figures in order to tell you of how many millions of dollars worth of fish the destroyers consume in a year, for I believe they exist in countless Taking of evidence in the George E. Keith vs. George Little, timber land damage action from Terrace was completed in the Supreme Court Friday afternoon before Mr. Justice Murphy.

On Saturday argument of cognoscenti was heard and decision served by His Lordship for three millions, so figures would be useless. I am not going to compile a lot of figures to prove this contention or that, for the main thing, after all is said, is to start a new industry which will be the means of giving employment during the winter months, every winter, to an ever increasing number of men, to keep going such industries as the one I am operating and which are the means of distributing large sums of money in the localities in which they are established, to turn hitherto useless fish into useful products, and to partially rid the fishing grounds of such destructive agencies as shark and dogfish."

or four weeks. The case was the only civil action, outside of one divorce, at the local Assizes and its hearing took three full days. Archie Donaghy, of Terrace, and T. B. Hooper, of Prince Rupert, appeared for the plaintiff and L. W. Patmore and W. O. Fulton, of Patmore & Fulton, were both in court for the defendant. Witnesses for the plaintiff were L. R. Callabash, J. Doull, J. Keiso and George Keith and for the defendant, James Turnball, Olof Hansen, R. E. Allen, John Viger, J. McLaren and George Little. The sum of $30,000 is involved in the action.
