Utilities Dispute Settled with Decision of Council to Devote Future Surpluses to Extensions

The city council at a special meeting last night listened to a number of reports in regard to the electric light department surplus and, after being informed that the department owed general fund the sum of $53,201.70 through bylaws 29 and 207, recommended that in order to take care of that amount, the future surpluses of the light department each year be used to carry out betterment and extension work to the system instead of capitalizing it by the issue of debentures. The recommendation passed the council with Ald. Montgomery and Ald. Kerr voting in the negative.

Prior to the voting Ald. Montgomery said he did not understand the report and that it was something thrown into the ring which he was not in a position to deal with. He wanted to know why it had been brought up at this time and said he would have to vote against it till he understood. He also took the stand that the finance committee was delving into matters to see how much could be charged against the

Real Development Work Done on Alice Arm Mining Properties in 1922 Proved Values of District

(Special to Daily News).
ALICE ARM, Dec. 29.—Were one to judge the mining situation of the Alice Arm district for the year just closing by the number of licenses issued or the number of new claims recorded, as compared with the year 1920 when the high total of 1100 claims were put on record, it might be hastily concluded that the camp could not sustain its boom years, or that it was lacking in mining tonnage and did not have an extensive mineral area. However, this would be the result of a superficial opinion, one that does not square with the facts. Looking beneath the surface of things it is found that the past season's slackness of mining activity was not from want of known tonnage or dearth of meritorious and accessible prospects. Several causes have made for the season's inactivity. Some of these are country wide and some are specially pertinent to the Alice Arm district.

Business Conditions
More Encouraging.

Year-end reports on conditions during 1922 and the outlook for 1923 now being issued by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association from members in all parts of Canada reveal on the whole a more encouraging situation. There are necessarily variations in different industries, but, speaking generally, the last six months of 1922 have shown improvement, though possibly not as great as some had expected, and there is a disposition to look more hopefully towards 1923.

Among the factors which manufacturers regard as giving occasion for optimism are the gradual stabilization of most conditions affecting business. The great surplus supplies of raw materials created during the post-war boom period have been largely absorbed, and in some lines actual scarcity is developing, which has caused a firming-up of prices. Labor is more contented and is noticeably gaining in efficiency, with wages pretty firmly established at recent levels for skilled labor and tending slightly lower for unskilled labor. Deflation has largely run its course and stocks in the hands of wholesalers and retailers are comparatively low. The big crop, while it has not made money plentiful for general buying, is described as a debt liquidating crop, and it is the general impression that it has served to place business on a much firmer footing. Manufacturers are also producing better things from the increased activity in the United States, pointing out that conditions in Canada react to those across the line at about a six month's interval.

Against these favorable factors, there are advanced some considerations which tend to prevent any undue display of optimism. Low prices for agricultural products, in comparison with high prices for commodities purchased by farmers, are referred to as a serious deterrent to a return to better business. The disturbed conditions in Europe are still having an unfavorable bearing on conditions in America, and further, it is pointed out by some manufacturers that manufacturing capacity in Canada has been overdone in some lines and that more population is required before plants can be profitably operated.

Prospects For Various Industries.

Conditions in the iron and steel industry have been variable, some plants reporting a very full year and others stating that they have found business better. There is unanimity in the belief that demand for all lines will be better in 1923, based on the expectation of large orders from the railways for equipment, a continuance of building activity and a general revival among machinery manufacturers, which would occasion a demand for iron and steel.

Pulp and paper manufacturers report an improved demand, especially in the export field, but still find a disposition on the part of domestic buyers to purchase only for immediate requirements. Prices of raw materials have been stiffening and finished goods are now reflecting this condition. The outlook is regarded as favorable and decidedly better than a year ago.

Lumber manufacturers regard 1922 as having been a sort of house-cleaning year, during which they have cleared up old stocks. Demand in Ontario and Quebec has been the best for several years, and the United States market has also been active. Great Britain is expected to be again a customer next season and, with a continuance of building in 1923, the outlook is for favorable business in the New Year.

Brick manufacturers and, in fact, manufacturers of building materials generally, have had a busy year, only handicapped by the scarcity and high prices of coal. Demand for all lines of building material has been well maintained and it is anticipated that 1923 will witness a continuance of the demand, as building activity is expected to spread.

Reparations Question Is Far From Settled.

Despite what progress may have been made toward extending United States aid in composing the reparation disagreement in Europe, there is evidence that much remains to be done before all the interested elements can be brought into agreement.

There is no assurance so far that France will find it possible to agree to a proposal for a United States commission to survey German economic conditions and fix a basis on which a reparations program might be framed.

In this situation, officials in Washington are seeking to minimize as far as possible any direct connection with the discussions in which they have taken part, and to emphasize that in what has been done, they have acted only in an unofficial capacity.

There is every indication that administration officials are much disturbed by disclosure of the commission plan before it reached the state where public and formal diplomatic exchanges could take place on the subject.

Bishop Bunoz and Dr. Manning
Treated Members at Thursday's Luncheon

It is seldom that the members of the Rotary Club are privileged to hear such able addresses as were delivered at the luncheon on Thursday by Bishop Bunoz, of this city, and Dr. Manning, of the University of Saskatchewan. Dr. Manning also delighted the members with two excellent songs in fine voice.

Bishop Bunoz took as his subject "Social Authority" and enlarged upon it in an extraordinary manner. He prefaced his remarks by giving a fine word picture of Premier Mussolini of Italy, leader of the Fascisti. Premier Mussolini, he said, rose from the peasant class and gradually assumed the greatest power in the government. He named the party after the ancient Roman symbol of the rod and the axe, punishment and the power of life and death belonging to the rulers. Mussolini's men wear black shirts in contrast with the Communists who wore a vivacious red tunie.

Mussolini's rule was one of an accomplished fact, the speaker informed the members. The government was weaker now but it favored anarchy and the opinion of the speaker was that, if Mussolini had tried to be elected by a public vote, he would have failed badly. This method, Bishop Bunoz characterized as one way to arrive at sufficient authority for the temporal good and welfare of the nation. "The form of government matters very little," he continued, "no two governments are exactly alike and 'efficient' authority is necessary for man was not made to live alone. However, in any place where everybody does as he likes, nobody does, and where everybody is master, everybody is a slave."

Civil and Divine

Civil authority is divine authority, according to the views of Bishop Bunoz, and therefore should be respected. The nature of man was to live in society where he was protected and, although it was repugnant to obey such a power, a man ennobled himself by submitting to the will of God. The bishop opposed the theory that the state should have omnipotent power as its sphere was naturally limited and as individuals were on the earth long before society, they had certain rights which must be given them in order to expand. The state, however, has a right to restrict certain liberties for the common good, the speaker thought, despite the statements of the individualists who took the stand that the state has no right to restrain them in any manner.

"The state," he continued, "has many functions which really do not belong to it such as the public utilities which are for the common good. The public cannot depend, however, on the state to do everything. The state cannot build a city at once." Here the bishop cited the case of the Turkish city of Constantinople which was erected by the Roman Emperor Constantine and which city had been a bone of contention ever since.

Dr. Manning, in his speech, told of the revolution taking place in the western universities where the majority of the students are foreign born and who must be taught, during their five years' stay at the institution of learning, the principles of British citizenship and then sent out into the world to treat their fellow beings with British fair play.

It was announced at the close of the meeting that the collection for the relief of the Astoria fire victims taken last week amounted to $55 which had been sent on.

Jack Stevens gave a recitation; Victoria Krikovsky and Linea Hansen, songs; Mino Sigurdson, a violin solo; and Clifford Cameron and Gordon Parkin, a piano duet. Frank Derry presided.

After the games there was a quick change in the banquet hall. Captains were chosen for each table and covers and rations of good things to eat were issued. ## POPULAR LOCAL COUPLE WEDDED THURSDAY NIGHT

Miss Genevieve Roselle Roche Becomes Bride of Wilfrid
Francis Roberge

A quiet but extremely pretty wedding was solemnized at 8:30 last evening in the chapel of the Church of the Annunciation when Miss Genevieve Roselle Roche, second daughter of the late William B. and Mrs. Elizabeth M. Roche, of Minneapolis, Minn., became the bride of Wilfrid Francis Roberge, of this city, Rev. Father P. J. McGrath officiating.

The bride was given away by Harold T. McEwen. Miss Yvonne Roberge, sister of the groom, attended the bride and Milton Gonzales was best man. Little Helen Shirley McEwen acted as ring bearer.

The bride looked very smart indeed in her travelling costume of navy blue marieke, the coat of which opened over a blouse of white radium silk lace. She wore a picture hat of navy and silver brocade cloth and an ermine neckpiece. She carried a white prayer book and wore a corsage of white bridal roses.

After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McEwen, Sunnitt Apartments, where a sumptuous wedding supper was served after which the young couple left on the steamer Prince George for a month's tour which will include the cities of Vancouver, Seattle, Portland, Calgary and Edmonton. On their return to Prince Rupert they will take up their residence on Atlin Avenue, Westview.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Roberge move in the upper social circles of this city and are widely known here. The groom has been engaged in the merchandise brokerage business in Prince Rupert for some years past and the bride came here about a year and a half ago at which time she entered as a student-at-law with the firm of Williams, Manson & Gonzales.

GIRL WOULD NOT OWN HER MOTHER

Dramatic Interest in Picture
"Branded" Showing at Westholme Theatre
Tonight

What would your attitude toward your mother if in spite of her innocence she was convicted of murder and sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment? Would you wait for her with open arms, or would you only remember her to curse her for having brought your name into the limelight of publicity and possibly marred your chances of marriage? This sums up in a few words the dramatic interest in a new "British Mastercraft" Production, "Branded" which is to be shown at the Westholme Theatre tonight and tomorrow.

It is perhaps, the most poignant moment of the film, when, on her release from prison, the careworn mother, who had been once a very beautiful woman, finds only the arms of her youngest daughter stretched out to welcome her. The poignancy comes in the realization that the other, the elder daughter, is not there—but she has not troubled herself about her mother's homecoming because she is too busy attending to her own vain desires and selfish pleasures. To say that this daughter is unscrupulous is to be polite in character of vileness. Her conduct, both in the matter of her mother and in her matrimonial adventures, is

CURE FOR COLDS PUT IN PRACTICAL FORM

Convenient, Easily Taken Capsule Contains Full Formula for Cure of Colds

The drugs that have proved their effectiveness as a cure for colds are presented in practically the same formula by all doctors. It has been the work of Grip Fix to put this formula in the safe and convenient form of a capsule, making the remedy an ideal one for home use and giving quick results in even severe cases of cold or grippe. This formula, as every druggist knows, is composed of aspirin, phenacetin, quinine, salicin, caffeine, citrate, eucalyptus and camphor monobromate, a combination of drugs particularly effective for reducing the fever, allaying the pain in muscles and conditioning the system.

With Grip Fix, the capsule preparation, you can use this remedy with most convenience and least expense, and with decidedly quicker results. A case of cold can be cured in a night with Grip Fix, while that of grippe is mastered in forty-eight hours.

Make sure you get the genuine Grip Fix, which has the formula printed on the box, on sale at Orme's Drug Store Ltd. 25c a box.

hepatic contempt.

All this is a tribute to the wonderful acting of Miss Josephine Earle, who not only portrays the terrible character of the daughter with realism, but has also added considerably to her reputation by playing the contrasting role of the gentle mother herself.

INTERESTING BOOK ON PREMIER KING

"The Making of a Premier," by
O. E. McGilliroy, is Fine
Exposition of Active and Useful Career

"The Making of a Premier," a timely book from the pen of O. E. McGilliroy, setting forth the life history, personality and achievements of Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, premier of Canada, has just now made its appearance to the public. The book is heralded by many experts as the best single player in Europe at the present time. Count Salm, of Austria, is expected to lead the Austrians.

The reply of Germany has already been received, and is in the affirmative. Kleinroth, who was playing in his best form just now, will captain the German team. He is regarded by many experts as the best single player in Europe at the present time. Count Salm, of Austria, is expected to lead the Austrians.

The feeling is that Belgium,

England and France will abstain

but that Spain will send its Davis Cup team, the Alonso brothers, Flaquer and Count de Gomar.

Miss Cecil Leitch, the former is at present in the hands of a specialist for treatment of her arm, and she has said recently that she could not define her prospects in the matter of playing in the next ladies' championship games.

Regarding her tour last summer in Canada and the United States, Miss Leitch declares it was purely of a private nature.

She was particularly impressed with women's golf in the Dominion. Of the outstanding players in Canada, Miss Ada Mac-

Kenzie and Miss Pepier were probably the greatest.

ANGLICAN SUNDAY SCHOOL CHRISTMAS TREE LAST NIGHT

Most of the 150 scholars of the Anglican Sunday School attended the annual Christmas Tree entertainment which took place last evening in the church.

There was a varied program, a feature of which was the performance of the Japanese members of the Sunday School who rendered items in their native costume. Archdeacon G. A. Rix presided. A. W. Healy, superintendent of the Sunday School, was in charge and the various teachers, divided into committees, were responsible for the success of the entire affair.

A supper was served after which Santa Claus paid his visit and distributed gifts and sweets to the delight of all.

ALICE ARM CHRISTMAS TREE FINE

Splendid Concert Showers Much Talent Was Put On

ALICE ARM, Dec. 29.—The entertainment given at the Coliseum Saturday evening in connection with the annual Christmas tree was no ordinary affair. In some particulars it was a departure from the conventional which made for variety and gave a rounded fullness to the evening's enjoyment. The program was replete with good numbers well acted. To the ordinary person present it was a most pleasing surprise and revelation as to what can be done in a small camp, at short notice, and with scanty stage fixtures. All the acts given were rendered with good proficiency of elocution and expression.

In the long program of 19 numbers there was not a drab act, with several of the numbers deserving more than passing reference. The presenting of the national dance of Scotland by the "Wee Lassies," was specially commendable. This was really the first public performance of Mrs. Laird's dancing class and bespoke well for her ability as a teacher. The "Wee lassies" were decked out in a variety of costumes and in full Highland regalia, right down to the lowest color in the tartan. The class was put on in gradation of size and the encores called forth showed the appreciation of the audience.

"New Year's Eve" was another bit of Scottish life put on by Miss B. Crawford as Sandy McPherson, and Mrs. Laird as his wife. It was a dialogue on the making of New Year resolutions, a quarrel caused thereby, and a make-up. It was rendered "ad libitatem" as to dress and voice and showed talent in its execution. In "Mrs. Mason's Poodle" Miss L. Sutlloviich acted the part of Mrs. Mason, a childless society lady, whose interest in life centered in her pet poodle with much understanding. Mr. Hallett's talk on "Marriage and Marriage" was applicable to the present time, and ranged from grave to gay. One of the hits of the evening was the "Midnight Follies," put on by the blackface comedians, Messrs. Oatman, Fiva, Black and Graham. It was a humorous skit of local color. Several of the quips were specially applicable to local personages present, intermingled with campion songs and dances. "Atta Boy," said everybody. Mr. Kaye, owing to his being indisposed, was unable to give his talk on the "Life of Jim Marley." With the conclusion of the "Jingle Bells" chorus, the Christmas tree was unveiled, and presents distributed by Santa Claus. Every child and youngster in the camp received suitable gifts, and to those that have recently left their presents

The toast to "The Institute" was proposed by F. W. Moersch and responded to by Mr. Pinder-Moss, who gave a lengthy discourse on the development of technical education. As far back as 1870 such institutes had been in vogue in Germany and they had been partly responsible for the marvellous development of that country along technical lines. England and Canada had been slow in taking the idea up but it was now getting a foothold as its great value was realized.

James Mitchell, in proposing the toast to "The Student Body" said that it was surprising and a first embarrassing to find that his students were all older than himself. However, he had taken hold and a good spirit prevailed. E. J. Davis, in responding to the toast, mentioned that the Students' Council was formed with the idea of making a background and giving support to the Institute. They were out after membership which would bring influence and check any tendency to reaction.

The toast to "The Faculty" was proposed by Norman C. Robinson and responded to by Albert Auger who gave an account of his personal experience with the Institute.

Opening in a humorous vein which developed into serious earnestness, E. A. Donohoe proposed the toast to "The Ladies," which was responded to briefly by Miss E. M. Earle.

The toast list was punctuated with splendid vocal selections contributed by Mrs. B. Stockdale, J. J. Raleigh, J. Pinder-Moss and John Davey, W. Vaughan Davis, will be mailed to them. The evening's entertainment was fittingly rounded out by the serving of refreshments by the ladies of the town.

Much credit is due the committee in charge which comprised Mrs. R. F. McGinniss, Mrs. J. M. Morrison and Mrs. J. Whately for their selection of program and for their untiring efforts in making it a success.

The Program

The program was as follows: "Up on the Housetop," Children's Chorus.

"Five Little Brothers," Charles Wilson.

"The Highland Fling," Wee Lassies.

Recitation, Zorka Sutlloviich.

"A Fellow's Hat," John Wilson.

"The Old Lady Who Lived in a Shoe," 15 children.

Recitation, Helen Nueich.

"New Year's Eve," dialogue, Sisters McDuff.

"Mrs. Mason's Poodle," play, Zorka Sutlloviich and caste.

"Christmas Eve," Alice Hoberg.

"Marriage and Vanity," talk, A. D. Hallett.

"The Countersign," Frances Barrett.

Midnight Follies, Blackface Quartette.

"Irish Sleigh Ride," Nettie Bogert.

"Jingle Bells," children's chorus.

BANQUET OF POLYTECHNIC

Fine Supper, Excellent Speeches and Good Songs Featured Enthusiastic Affair Last Night

The first annual banquet of the Northern Polytechnic Institute students' council held last night in the St. Regis Cafe was a very enthusiastic affair. There were about 25 or 30 persons present who entered fully into the spirit of the event. An excellent menu was served up after which there was a fine program of toasts and musical numbers. J. Pinder-Moss, director, presided and the committee in charge comprised of E. J. Davis, A. Auger and J. Pinder-Moss. Mr. Davis also acted as vice-chairman. The banquet was in progress for over two hours and a half.

The toast to the King was proposed by Mr. Pinder-Moss and responded to in the usual manner.

Anton Akerberg proposed the toast to "The Associated Boards," Dr. W. T. Kergin, chairman of the school board, in replying, stated the school board was behind the Institute and he hoped the initial enthusiasm would be sustained and the good work carried on with continuous vigor.

The toast to "The Institute" was proposed by F. W. Moersch and responded to by Mr. Pinder-Moss, who gave a lengthy discourse on the development of technical education. RECENT INVENTION IN
PROPELLING LIFEBOAT

Newly Approved Device Avoids
Danger From Oars Breaking
Brittle and Useless

Among the many recent inventions concerned with life saving at sea, one of the most interesting is a new form of mechanism for propelling a lifeboat. Case after case has happened where lifeboats have been launched and the oars, owing to long exposure to sun and air, have become brittle and have broken almost at the first stroke. Further, oars are exceedingly difficult things to bring into action under the usual conditions in which life-boats are launched.

The new invention consists of a very simple form of hand propelling gear operated by six levers, arranged three on each side of the boat. The lower end of each lever is connected with rods and cranks, so that when the levers are moved backwards and forwards a screw is propelled. The screw can be reversed by the helmsman without affecting the movement of the levers in any way.

If necessary, ropes can be fixed to the top of the levers so that several persons may take part in the work of propulsion. The same inventor has devised a collapsible hood which protects the occupants of the boat against all weathers.

Both of these devices have been officially approved by the British Board of Trade, which allows a reduction of fifty per cent on the usual oars required under the life saving appliances rules.

The new piece of road of direct benefit to the upper Kitsault country was begun and partly completed during the past season.

This road leaves the railway grade at the Dolly Varden, crosses to the east side of the canyon on a 16 foot cable suspension bridge, and runs up the east side of the canyon for 1000 feet, joining up with the grade north of the proposed railway crossing. This change removes any danger from snow or rock slides in winter traffic.

In closing this resume and taking into consideration the number and extent of the developed properties, it is evident that the district possesses great potential possibilities.
