Party Leaders Debate on Naval Policy

GOVERNMENT REPORTS UNEMPLOYMENT ALMOST DISAPPEARED

Fight Commences in Commons Over Naval Estimates; Last Night Tories Made Blockade

OTTAWA, May 17.—The Opposition blocked the passage of the naval estimates last night following announcement by the government that the naval strength to be maintained would comprise the destroyers Patrician and Patriot and four trawlers evenly divided between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts to be used as training ships for a volunteer navy on a part time basis.

Hon. Arthur Meighen, leader of the Conservative opposition, said that the proposal fell short of Canada's moral obligation as an integral part of the British Empire. He declared that Canada should bear her share of the burden of defence or retire from the Empire. The Canadian parliament had consented to accept and maintain Britain's gift ships, but now the Liberal government proposed to repudiate the agreement, scrap the ships and waste seventeen cents per capita annually on a navy which would not produce one finished fighting sailor.

NAVY CUT NOT SO BIG

Government Announces Two Destroyers will Remain in Commission.

OTTAWA, May 17.—Hon. George P. Graham, Minister of Defence, announced in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon that an important change had been made in the government's naval policy and that reductions were not to be so extensive as had been at first proposed. It is now the intention of the government to retain in commission the two destroyers Patriot and Patrician, presented by the British Government, and four trawlers.

Premier's Reply

Premier W. L. Mackenzie King said that the government was carrying out the Laurier naval policy for a volunteer navy available for the British Admiralty in case of emergency. The late government had accepted ships which would have been scrapped by Britain herself now, but which would cost Canada $2,500,000 annually to maintain. The Premier asked that the estimates be considered at once.

T. L. Church, member for Toronto, however, started reading the New Zealand naval history and assured the Premier that he was prepared to go on with it for days.

Mr. King then consented to adjournment at one o'clock this morning with no estimates passed.

In the course of the trial Franzen said that he and other prohibition officers had framed Woods to secure a conviction. Bonuses were paid, he said, for convictions under the prohibition laws.

GOVERNMENT IS DEFEATED

Adverse Vote in British Commons—No Crisis Expected.

LONDON, May 17.—The government was defeated last night by a narrow margin on a technical motion not involving policy on educational matters.

There was a government caucus today after which the cabinet decided to accede to the wishes of the House and appoint a committee to enquire into the education program.

The resignation of the cabinet is not looked for as the defeat was merely a technical one.

Unemployment Situation Throughout Province Is Improving Very Rapidly

VICTORIA, May 17.—Unemployment throughout British Columbia has decreased so rapidly during the past couple of days that in some parts of the province it has practically disappeared altogether. The provincial employment offices report this week to the Department of Labor that they are now placing men much more freely than before. Improved weather conditions are given as part of the cause.

J. M. Campbell, the local provincial government employment agent, reported this morning that while the situation here is much improved, there are still some 80 unemployed registered at his office. Several of these, however, it is believed have obtained employment outside of the office and it is possible that the number is not actually that high now. The difficulty here is that there are a lot of floaters who come in to take up the places on the list of those whose names are struck off when work is secured.

Divisions in Commons
Are The Order Now.

The Dominion House of Commons is again delving into matters that invariably are marked with divisions between the two great parties—Liberals and Conservatives. The framing of immigration laws and naval policies always prove such and indications are that the present session in this regard will prove no exception to the general rule. The enactment for limitation of Oriental restriction was provocative of the old time split and the House saw a stormy session over it. The peculiar feature of the McQuarrie resolution for exclusion was that it should have been brought forward at this time as a minority resolution when the Conservatives were but a few months ago predominant in the House. Mr. McQuarrie was himself there, and the measure had every possibility of going through. This leaves room to question whether the introduction now of such a resolution on the part of the Conservatives was sincere or just a political play with the possibility of using the Progressives to defeat the government on its amendment which it was natural would come.

Naval Reduction Gives Promise of Keen Fight.

On the proposed naval reduction there is promised another keen debate and a split vote. The measure seems safe, however, for the Liberals will support it as a body and the Progressives, if split at all, will in all probability show a majority in favor of the government. No doubt, the issue will be again used by the Conservatives as an occasion for a great deal of flag waving and an exhibition of much patriotism. But in face of the necessity for economy and the present day feeling against ultra-militarism or navalism, the proposal has much to commend it and the balance of power will without doubt swing in its favor. The debate will, however, give cause for some great bandying of opinions and it will be observed with keen interest by the people generally no matter how they may feel on the question. Especially in view of the more moderate reduction as announced today, the proposal seems all the more reasonable.

This Year's Crop
Outlook Is Good.

The general opinion of those in a position to forecast is that this year's wheat crop will be a bumper one and will even exceed the official estimates of production. Farmers are encouraged in their arduous spring labors by the higher prices prevailing for wheat and the attitude of the farmers as well as the commercial public in Western Canada is decidedly more hopeful than it has been for some months.

During the past few weeks a steadily increasing number of reports from industrial centres indicate that orders are satisfactory, necessitating operations on a larger scale, says the Bank of Commerce monthly letter. At the same time in all the provinces there has been a revival of retail trade. This improvement is seasonal to a large extent, but it is accompanied by a degree of optimism and confidence that has not been in evidence for some time. In many districts of Western Canada farmers are returning to the farms which they had abandoned in discouragement at the heavy fall in the prices of farm products and the exceptionally unfavorable weather conditions. Difficult as was the position of the farmer towards the end of last year, it was not more difficult than the position of those engaged in many other lines of business. It would appear from the evident determination to maintain the acreage under crop and herds of live stock at the level of past years, and to cultivate the minor sources of farm revenues, that altogether a more hopeful view of the future is now held in the country as a whole.

ADDRESS ON TECHNICAL
EDUCATIONDelivered by John Pinder-Moss
Before Anyox Parent Teachers' Association

ANYOX, B.C., May 17.—In his address on technical education before the Anyox Parent Teacher Association last Friday, John Pinder-Moss outlined the early history of craftsmanship from which technical education, as it is known today, received its birth. Following his subject through, from ancient history into the Greek and Roman periods and medieval times the speaker pointed out the excellent training that the apprentices of old received at the hands of the great masters. Apprenticeship as known in those days and up to about the nineteenth century was now practically dead and there was nothing to take its place but handicraft education in the high schools and colleges.

Mr. Pinder-Moss emphasized the advantage of printing as a correlated subject with spelling, grammar and composition and its relationship to art, recommending this form of handicraft as a study for High School entrance pupils.

Minerology and assaying were naturally related to chemistry and were a considerable help in its study and were much appreciated by the young people.

Machine shop practice and building construction were of invaluable assistance to higher mathematical subjects and to English, in fact all handicraftsmanship gave to people of school age a new conception of their academic studies and showed the practical application of the same.

Mr. Pinder-Moss pointed out that technical education was of three fundamental uses; first, to impress upon the children the practical use of their academic studies; second, to give a knowledge of their sympathy with the commercial activities which surround their daily lives and third, to give to the children the opportunity to locate themselves.

He pointed out that if children never followed a technical or handicraft business in later life, the technical training that they had received at school would develop their minds and give them a larger interest in things in general and to those who had a leaning towards a trade or profession requiring handicraftsmanship, the work learned at school in these subjects would be of considerable benefit.

He suggested a list of subjects—printing for boys and girls; in the entrance class; wood work for first year; forge shop for second year, and machine shop for third year High School; the latter three subjects being for the boys only. Copper and leather tooling, ornamental cement work and ornamental fibre weaving for girls. Assaying and minerology for both boys and girls. Domestic science and domestic arts were both essentially girls' subjects and were usually taken by girls in technical high schools. The others were additional and interesting courses. He recommended that if any technical studies were undertaken in the future in the schools of Anyox, that arrangements be made whereby the children could visit the actual practical shops in town to follow their studies. This arrangement was a better practice than bringing the technical work into the academic schools as a greater interest is taken by children when working under practical men in practical surroundings.

GOVERNMENT OF EGYPT

Country Divided Into Two Camps Over Framing of Constitution.

CAIRO, May 17.—The framing of a Dostour (constitution) for Egypt made necessary by the lifting of the British protectorate has become the paramount feature of Egyptian politics. The question as to who shall frame the Dostour, which has been under discussion in the native press ever since the first royal decree was held by King Fuad at Abdin Palace, has divided the country politically into two diametrically opposed camps. The Nationalists who are mostly adherents of Zaghouel Pasha have been demanding that the constitution be drawn up by a National Assembly elected by the people. The Ministerialists who are supporting the government of Premier Sarwat Pasha and who have just won the day, have been in favor of appointing a special commission for the task.

Commission Appointed.
The commission already appointed is composed of 31 members under the presidency of Hushy Pasha, former Prime Minister. It is to draw up within four months a project for a constitution which will be thrashed out by the Egyptian parliament which will have the right to amend it except in that which concerns the prerogatives of the throne.

The government's project calls for a parliament to consist of two chambers. All the members of the lower house and half the members of the senate are to be elected by popular vote; the other half of the senate to be appointed by the executive. The newspaper Liberty points out that the senate, being partly appointive, "will be able to check all the whims of the majority of the Nationalist representatives."

BUILDING IN MOSCOW NOW

After Six Years of Disrepair, City Now in Throes of Repair Campaign.

MOSCOW, May 17.—Moscow is beginning to show some building activity. After nearly six years during which practically every private building and some public institutions were permitted to fall into disrepair, both the Soviet officials and private individuals are now in the throes of a repair campaign.

The hotel where most of the foreigners coming to Moscow are housed and which six months ago was a nightmare of dirt, vermin and lack of service has just been renovated and is to be put back on a pre-revolution basis.

Guests, long accustomed to carrying their own water, brewing their own tea and cooking their own food in their rooms, now are becoming accustomed again to the magic use of the push button. Elevators are to run, linen to be provided and the campaign against vermin is on in full swing.

Private Enterprise.
To encourage repair of apartment buildings and detached dwellings, thousands of which have fallen into such a state of unrepair that they have been abandoned entirely, the Moscow Soviet has decided to utilize private enterprise. Persons or corporations who will take over and repair these structures, are given ten-year rent free leases on them and may rent them to whom they please and for what sums they please. They may even transfer their leases to other persons and in these houses no limit is placed upon the amount of space any one person may occupy.

Muscovites who for the past three or four years have been huddled in tiny rooms allotted them by the government, are gradually moving in to new and more spacious quarters, if they have sufficient funds to repair them.

COURT ADJOURNED FOR LACK OF BIBLE

Copies of Holy Scripture Not Plentiful in Village of Belle River.

WINDSOR, May 17.—Bibles were so scarce in the village of Belle River last week, when the first police court case in 20 years was heard there, that Police Magistrate Gundy was compelled to adjourn hearing of the case until one of the villagers borrowed a Bible from a neighbor.

The village turned out en masse to hear testimony in the assault charge preferred against Harris Lesperance by Charles Taylor, who alleged that Lesperance assaulted him during a village council meeting.

Court was convened at the village as a result of Magistrate Gundy complying with Windsor's demands to eliminate the hearing of outside cases in the city police building.

Squeaking boots and barking dogs interrupted the court from time to time, and the local "constable" was instructed to practice the "Order in Court" command before another sitting is held there.

CROSSING ATLANTIC WITH NEW SETTLERS

In last Saturday's Winnipeg Free Press appears a special article entitled "Crossing the Atlantic with Canada's 1922 Immigrants." The story describes the voyage across the ocean on the steamer Scythia on which were eight families who arrived recently at Massett. There are many interesting references to these settlers and the article is accompanied with several pictures among them being one of the Dunn family showing Kathleen, Eileen, Doreen and John Dunn, the children of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Dunn and another of Arthur Williams, S. G. P. Home and George S. Barker.

ANXIETY FELT OVER MENTAL CONDITION EX-KAISER WILHELM

AMSTERDAM, May 17.—Former Emperor William's devotion to religion has progressed to the point of mania. Admiral Von Tirpitz, former minister of the German navy, is reported to have told a friend recently. The German ex-kaiser is described as spending the greater part of each day in reading the scriptures, sermons and other religious books and in prayer. His physical health appears to be good, but the members of his entourage at Doorn regard his mental state with some anxiety.

Two Men in a Car

A short account of a Trip to California in a Ford Flivver
By H. F. Pullen

WINTERCOATS IN CALIFORNIA.

VENTURIA, Cal.—We are about three or four house drive from Los Angeles. We should have made it today but we had two punctures and a long detour which delayed us a good deal and on arrival here about five o'clock it was blowing a gale and commencing to rain. All day it has been so cold that our heavy overcoats were just comfortable. Last night when we camped we made our bed with four blankets and a heavy eider-down comforter and then the two overcoats on our feet were acceptable. It is colder here today than it was in Victoria when we started and the last two days have been so windy that Victoria seems calm after it. I make the comparisons with Victoria because Prince Rupert is different. The season there is milder and the winds are not steady and cold like those that come up the straits to Victoria. Before I left Prince Rupert, Mrs. McLeod strongly advised me to take my heavy coat with me and his advice was good. Anytime visiting here at this time of year should do the same. I find that many of the residents here have heavy coats. We have had weather so hot that it was almost stifling and other weather that has been so cold as to be uncomfortable.

Kept in by Weather.

Though we are staying at a hotel because of the bad weather. We strolled to the beach just before dark and watched the big rollers from the Pacific break on the shore. The sky looked dark and lowering and the roar of the waves added to the effect. Today we have driven through all kinds of country. There have been stretches of fruit orchards, cattle ranches, wild lands, rice and alfalfa lands and mixed farming country. We saw our first lemon orchard with the ripe and ripening lemons hanging on the trees. Many of the orchards are not fenced but nobody interferes. As a rule the residents are a good class of people and the towns are prosperous.

All the places have Spanish names. This morning we passed through the oil field of Santa Barbara and this afternoon we saw the old wells near Santa Barbara which have been sunk along the coast, some of them in the sea. There are also oil wells close to the town, which are giving an impetus to business.

It is pleasant to be in the country after spending two days in San Francisco. In the big city it is a question of going like blazes all the time and keeping your eyes open. In the country it is rather different. Tomorrow we hope to be in Los Angeles or at least in Hollywood. There we expect to find things moving fast.

The Number Plate.

Our number plate is interesting to a lot of people and we are often asked about British Columbia. Some do not know of Prince Rupert, while others have heard of it. There is, however, a friendly feeling everywhere. We find people treat us well and it is not often we feel we are overcharged on account of being strangers.

Some of the California towns are expensive. Residents of Palo Alto say it is more expensive living there than in British Columbia. Coal is $26.50 a ton and wood is $18.50 a cord. The public utility charges for a small family in a six-roomed house including gas for one month $17. The lady pays $55 a month for the cottage and she says she inquired about purchasing a six-roomed concrete bungalow and they asked $8,000 for it.

Shoeshines cost 15c and hair cuts vary from 50c to 75c. Some fruit is cheap and other fruit costs just as much as in British Columbia.

Ubiquitous Ford.

Autos are everywhere, nearly half of them being Fords. It is said that when a young couple get married they first buy a car and then if there is any money left they look around for a house or apartment.

There are many beautiful places here. Much of the land is very fruitful, the bungalows are extremely pretty and the roads generally are excellent, and yet in spite of that I have not seen anything that makes a big enough appeal to induce me to live here. San Francisco was noticeable for its lack of gardens and lawns. Most of the houses were built close to the streets and it was difficult to tell the private houses from apartments. I have been surprised at the few flowers to be seen. Perhaps I expected too much, but there has been no place that to my mind equalled Vancouver or Victoria in that respect. Roses here are in full bloom and the strawberries are being picked. Naturally the berries are better served here than they are when they reach British Columbia, but they are not as luscious as those grown at Gordon Head or Terrace.

Only Impressions.

The opinions I am giving here are the result of rapid glances from the car, except for the places where we stopped and met a good many people. It is impossible to cover over 150 miles a day and at the same time learn much about the places and the people. At the same time it should be remembered that the first impressions are often the

MUCH TIME LOST IN GREAT BRITAIN FROM LABOR DISPUTES

Situation of Employment Gradually Improving, However, Although Wages Lower.

LONDON, May 17.—It is estimated that 3,500,000 working days were lost in Great Britain in March owing to labor disputes involving 280,000 workers. The principal disputes being in the engineering and shipbuilding industries.

Unemployment in March, though still bad, showed a further slight improvement despite the adverse effect of the engineering dispute, says the Labor Gazette, which publishes the estimate above.

Among industries showing improvement were iron, mining, pig iron manufacture, the building trades, the cotton and wool textile industries and the clothing trades.

Changes in rates of wages reported as having taken effect in March resulted in a reduction of over £223,000 in the weekly full time wage of about 1,350,000 workers and an increase of £800 weekly in the wages of about 70,000 others.

Coal miners in Northumberland, Yorkshire, North Staffordshire, north Wales and Scotland sustained reductions varying from under two per cent to over eight per cent, the paper states.

AUSTRALIA'S WHITE POLICY IS FAVORED IN GREAT BRITAIN

MELBOURNE, May 17.—The Imperial British government, as a matter of Empire concern, is favorably inclined toward Australia's "White Australia" policy, reports Sir James Connolly, Agent General for West Australia in London.

Sir James states that the policy would help close the back door to the Australian continent, and especially to the unpeopled semi-tropical territories of Northern Australia.

It is possible, Sir James said, that the Imperial government would aid in the scheme of building railways and roads and equipping 2000 farms in the territory for occupation by emigrants from British lands.

Dr. G. C. Maule, the Ketchikan dentist, was a passenger for Seattle on the Princess Mary yesterday afternoon. He is going on a month's business trip.

Truesd. I like California and I should delight in spending several months here, but I like it best as a place to visit. If I lived here, I should possibly get to like it as a home.

"My Back Aches"

BOTH liver and kidney troubles are usually first detected by backache.

When the liver is to blame you have pains under the shoulder blades and down towards the right side.

When the kidneys are deranged the pains settle in the small of the back.

In either case you can obtain relief promptly by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The liver and kidneys work hand-in-hand in eliminating poisons from the blood. Neither one can be greatly deranged without the other being affected.

Because they correct the action of both these great filtering organs, Dr. Chase's

The Grotto Football Club has signed on Jim O'Reilly who will play in the position of left back. O'Reilly recently came from Vancouver where he was well known in football circles. He is reliable and a strong kicker and his addition to the team should materially strengthen the defence.

Last week in the Prince George City Hall the statutory meeting of the Prince George Rink Ltd., was held. The report of the actions of the provisional directors was read, and approved by the meeting, following which the election of directors was held. The following were elected directors: Henry Wilson, Fred D. Taylor, R. W. Alward, Standley George, A. McR. Young and J. B. Daniell. The company plans to proceed with the rink project this year and to have a good skating rink on its excellent location next winter.

The Stewart Tennis Club has elected the following officers for the year: Mrs. W. J. Crawford, president; J. W. Wilson, secretary-treasurer; Committee: Mrs. H. P. Gibson, Mrs. W. Cameron, Mrs. A. McLeod. It has been decided to undertake this year extensive repairs to the court and grounds, including a new club house.

Construction of a new stadium for the New York American League Club, a short distance from its present "home" at the Polo grounds, was begun last week. If the Yankees win the American League championship this year, the stadium may be occupied for the world series. The park furthermore may be used for football games this fall if it is completed in time.

The eventual capacity of the stadium, which will have a three-deck stand surrounding the playing field, will be 85,000—greater than that of any ball park ever built. To begin with, however, temporary wooden bleachers will be used to supplement the concrete grandstand, and will be retained until the attendance warrants completion of the plant. This may require several years.

The park will be in the shape of a horseshoe, similar to the Polo grounds, extending 700 feet along 157th street and 700 feet down. The distance from the batter's box to the center field will be 470 feet, and from the box to right and left fields, 257 feet, making it more difficult than most parks in which to hit home runs.

Mrs. C. H. Robinson, of Ketchikan, was a passenger going south on the Princess Mary yesterday. She is on her way to visit her old home in New Jersey.

ANOTHER DAYLIGHT SAVING PETITION

Football Association to Get One Out in Favor of Continuation.

A meeting of the Football Association executive was held in the City Hall last night representatives from each club and three officers of the association being present.

James Hunter was appointed to referee the football match between the Gallies and the Grotto on Friday evening and George Russell the match between the Sons of Canada and the Sons of England on Monday, May 22.

Two delegates from the Football Association were appointed to act with two delegates from the Baseball Association, as a special committee, to consider improvements to the Acropolis Hill grounds.

The matter of Daylight Saving was also taken up. It was decided to circulate a counter-petition to the petition presented to the city council on Monday night. The opinion of the meeting was that when the original request for daylight saving was laid on the table for one week and no objections were made to it at that time it was unreasonable to expect the city council to rescind their ruling.

MONEY INVESTED IN VICTORY BONDS can be made to earn larger interest by selling the bonds and investing in first mortgage on improved City property. And the mortgages are just as safe, although not so readily convertible into cash. Money invested in mortgages is, generally speaking, fixed for the term of the loans which run from 6 months to 5 years. Hence the larger rate of interest. Drop in and talk it over.

SENSATIONAL DIVORCE CASE NEARING END

Detective Claims He Paid $15,000 for Mrs. Stillman's Letters to Indian.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., May 17.—Testimony that letters Mrs. Anne U. Stillman wrote to Fred Beauvais had been purchased last week from Fred Beauvais for $15,000 by representatives of James A. Stillman was given last week at the trial of the divorce suit of the millionaire New Yorker against his wife.

Evidence in the sensational case came to a close when a detective hired by Stillman testified that he paid $15,000 in cash to Beauvais, an Indian guide named as co-respondent for four letters alleged to have been written to the Indian by Mrs. Stillman.

Beauvais Denies.

MONTREAL, May 17.—Fred Beauvais, the Indian guide named as co-respondent in the Stillman divorce case, has denied specifically that he had ever sold letters from Mrs. Stillman to Stillman's lawyers, as charged in testimony yesterday at Poughkeepsie during the divorce trial. Beauvais declared Mrs. Stillman an "absolutely pure and innocent woman."

LOCAL DENTIST GETS FIRST X-RAY MACHINE

Dr. A. H. Bayne Installs Up-to-Date Apparatus at His Office.

One of the very latest types of X-ray machines has made its appearance in the city—one that is not only equipped for the taking of X-ray pictures of any part of the body but is specially adapted for dental work.

This machine has been installed by Dr. A. H. Bayne, the local dentist. It can be instantly put into operation, and by means of the fluoroscope, which is similar to the old fashioned stereopticon lens, any part of the body can be studied and foreign bodies immediately recognized. The machine is manufactured by Kell-Koett of Covington, New Jersey, and was shipped to the city direct from the factory through the agents in Vancouver. It is equipped with a Collidge tube of the radiator type and with the latest safety devices which as well is perfectly safe in operation both for the operator as well as the patient. No wires are exposed at any point, and a cut-out device, which instantaneously shuts off all power if one should touch any portion of the machine, makes it impossible for accidents to happen. Another very interesting attachment is the timer which allows the operator when making an exposure, to set the exposure to a fraction of a second. This timer shuts off all current and permits the operator to focus all his attention on the taking of the X-ray photograph. The entire machine is built on the roller bearing principle, and with one hand can be moved to any part of the room and the light thrown to any angle desired. With the use of this machine the mouth may be thoroughly examined and the dentist is enabled to see what is under the gum as well as above.

This is the only X-ray machine specially equipped for dental work in Northern B. C. and is as modern as any in the province.

FOUND BABE'S BODY ON BANK OF RIVER

MONTREAL, May 17.—Wrapped in a newspaper parcel, the body of a baby boy was found a few feet from the edge of the St. Lawrence River at Laprairie on Saturday afternoon.

Coroner McMahon was notified of the discovery and ordered the body to be brought to Montreal. An autopsy performed by Dr. D. D. MacTaggart, medical expert of the Coroner's Court, proved that the child had lived after birth. Its death was due to neglect. An inquest will be held next Monday. Chief of Provincial Detective Lorrain was informed of the case and an operative will investigate it in the meantime.

RULE OF THE ROAD TO BE CHANGED IN NOVA SCOTIA

HALIFAX, N.S., May 17.—During the session of the Nova Scotia legislature just closed, an act was adopted providing that after January 1, 1933, all traffic on the highways and streets of the province should drive to the right. By an act adopted by the New Brunswick legislature the change from the present practice of driving to the left will take place in that province at the same time.

With the abandonment of the drive to the left rule in the Maritimes, one more old world custom will disappear from this continent, a custom laid down from the days when the horsemen rode around in tin garments and kept fellow wayfarers on their right so as to be better able to guard against surprises.

Cupid shoots his little dart and thus a war of love does start.

ITS PROSER USE.

A retired naval officer said that he could not understand "all this disarmament nonsense." No sir! What would Britain be without her navy? Had we forgotten Trafalgar? Was it not our glory and our tradition to maintain the freedom of the seas?

It was pointed out to him that this was an attempt—wise or not—to remove the menace from the seas.

"Hang it all, sir!" roared the old sea warrior, bristling. "What's the confounded sea for?"

FALSE ECONOMY

The family that does not provide for laundry service in the weekly budget is practicing false economy. Under our new plan, Laundry work, by the pound, practically the entire family bundle washed and returned, damp almost ready for ironing, for $1.25.

This is the cheapest Laundry Service ever offered locally, and the husband who has the welfare of his family at heart cannot afford to pass this service up without serious consideration.

We have also our Soft Finish Service, where for a small additional charge, everything is dried and all flat pieces ironed and folded.

To those who can afford the small additional cost, this is the most complete service possible, without finishing the entire bundle. The cost will be found to be considerably below the prevailing price.

A trial will convince you of the merits of this service.

SORES SPREAD All Over FACES AND BODIES.

Mrs. Howard Houlette, Waslatenu, Sask., writes:—"I wish to tell you of the benefit we have received by using your valuable medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters. My children started to break out on their faces with small white pimples which kept getting larger each day. Pus would form under the scales and they would come off, and each time the sores would be larger; some were as large as a twenty-cent piece, and would spread all over their bodies. I was nearly in despair and sent to the village for a bottle of good blood medicine. The druggist sent me a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, which I commenced giving them at once. In about ten days I saw an improvement and they grew steadily better each day, and in one month the sores had all disappeared."

All blood and skin diseases are caused by bad blood, and to get it pure and keep it pure you must remove every trace of the impure and morbid matter from the system by a blood cleansing medicine such as
