DRAMATIC SCENE CAUSES BREAK MUDANIA

PRINCE RUPERT TO HAVE UNION OF MUNICIPALITIES' CONVENTION IN 1923

Conference with Turks and Greeks Breaks Down at Mudania; French Support Turks in Their Demands

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 6.—The Mudania conference of allied generals with the Greeks and Turks was brought to an abrupt ending by the insistence of Ismet Pasha for Turkey on an immediate evacuation of Constantinople.

General Harrington, as head of the allied delegation, said he could not promise evacuation until the peace conference and the treaty were quite complete.

Ismet repeated his demands with a threatening air while the Greeks opposed him with a refusal even to evacuate Thrace, which has been promised to Turkey.

When General Harrington tried to take a firm stand with Turkey, the French delegates started the conference by announcing that France would support Turkey unreservedly.

The British and Italian generals then threw up the sponge and asked that the conference be suspended while they communicated with their governments for further instructions.

Last Night's Situation

LONDON, Oct. 6.—So serious is the new situation that has arisen in the near east that the British cabinet after a session of two hours last evening adjourned to meet this morning. It was reported as being not at all clear that the Mudania conference had reached anything like a satisfactory conclusion.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—It was reported last night that an unsatisfactory condition of affairs in the conference between allied and Turkish and Greek delegates at Mudania is disclosed in a despatch to the government from General Harrington. This despatch, however, was incomplete owing to a breakdown of the radio system. The cabinet met and considered briefly and then asked Gen. Harrington to repeat his despatch, meantime remaining in Constantinople for orders.

The allied generals have returned to Constantinople and apparently the conference has broken up, at least temporarily.

The Sun compliments Mr. Dawson, but says: "The chances are any ability Dawson may possess will be offset by his allegiance and obligations to Prince Rupert."

Considerable improvement in work has recently been done by the G. W. V. A. on the returned soldiers' plot in the Fairview cemetery.

The plot, consisting of thirty-six graves, has been entirely remodelled and a cement wall has been placed around the entire space. The whole plot is to be cultivated and grass will be sown thereon during the fall. The sowing of the grass seed is being undertaken by the I. O. D. E., which society is doing similar work throughout Canada.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Following expressions of disappointment that yesterday's world series game was not allowed to go to a decision, Commissioner Landis announced last night that the entire proceeds of yesterday's world series game must go to the disabled soldiers and charities in New York City.

The score was three to three at the end of the tenth when the game was called on account of darkness.

The case of Lillian Durant and Nellie Clark, of Surf Inlet, charged with unlawfully selling liquor, which was tried before Stipendiary Magistrate McMullin yesterday afternoon, was dismissed on the charge of selling whiskey. The court will sit again at 2:30 p.m. today to hear the charge of selling beer. T. B. Hooper is conducting the prosecution and L. W. Patmore, of Patmore & Fulton appears for the defence.

Lord Curzon, British foreign secretary, leaves immediately for Paris to see Premier Poincaré.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The Mudania conference is not ended, it was officially stated at the conclusion of the British cabinet meeting this morning, but is deadlocked and cannot be resumed before the British and French Governments have conferred over the situation.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—After conferring with the allied high commissioners and military experts here, the allied generals this morning prepared to leave again for Mudania for a resumption of the armistice conference.

NEW DIRECTORS C. N. RAILWAY

Appointed C. N. R. Director.

Men Are Prominent and Successful in Their Several Lines of Business.

The directors of the Canadian National Railways are mostly businessmen who are successful in their own lines. They have been chosen with care and will be eminently suited to deal with matters of policy. It is not desirable that they should be railwaymen for if they were they would be biased along certain lines. It is pointed out that they do not choose school teachers for members of a school board and neither do they choose railwaymen for directors of a railway. The managing executive and the officials have to be technically trained men.

Ernest DeCary, of Montreal one of the new directors, is a notary of the Quebec metropolis. He is 44 years of age and is a native of Montreal and a descendant of the first DeCary who landed in Montreal with Maisonneuve. His railway experience has included the buying of sites for the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific stations at Montreal. He is a Roman Catholic.

James Stewart, another new director, has many varied interests in the prairie grain business. He is 43 years of age and is a native of Kinlochell, Scotland. He received his education in the Old Country schools and was in the British Civil Service for eight years before coming to Winnipeg in 1906. He served a short time in the employ of the C. P. R. and entered the grain business with the Western Elevator Co., Ltd., with K. B. Stoddart & Co., Ltd. and subsidiary companies. Since then until now he is president of one large wheat concern and vice-president and director with several others. He is a Presbyterian.

Richard Gough, of Toronto, is president and managing director of the Sellars-Gough Fur Co., Ltd. He also holds similar office with other business concerns and is vice-president of the Home Bank of Canada, and president of the Murray-Kay Co., Ltd. besides holding directorate offices in lumber, financial and manufacturing concerns. He is 57 years of age and is a native of Ontario. He is a Roman Catholic.

Union of B. C. Municipalities to Meet Next Year in Prince Rupert Was Decided Yesterday

Prince Rupert is to have the Union of Municipalities convention next year. This it is understood has been secured through the efforts of Mayor Rochester, who with W. D. Vance is attending the convention and who last year pressed on the delegates the desirability of meeting at Prince Rupert.

This morning City Clerk Woods received a wire from W. D. Vance in which he says Prince Rupert has been chosen over Chilliwack and Vernon for the 1923 convention by a large majority.

Mayor Hardie of Nelson was elected president and Mayor Rochester is a director. Mr. Vance leave Kamloops for Vancouver today.

A Canadian Press despatch received this morning states that the creation of a utilities commission to decide disputes between municipalities and public utilities was asked of the government in a resolution passed by the convention at its concluding session yesterday.

The Polytechnic class in gas engineering held last night at the Akerberg-Thomson Co's shop under the tuition of A. Akerberg got away to a good start. In spite of the inclement weather prevailing a number of students put in an appearance and the attention paid to the tutor augers exceedingly well for the success of this class during the winter months.

The electricity class held at the Booth School last night was well attended, the students appearing very much absorbed in the teaching of J. J. Little.

There was a good attendance of students at the matriculation high school class held at the King Edward School under A. Auger, instructor of the Polytechnic teaching staff.

When a manager was needed to put the Great Eastern Railway on its feet in England Thornton was asked to take charge and he at once set about a thorough reorganization of the system. There was an outcry in England against the appointment of an American to the position but he has made good and lived down the prejudice.

During the war Sir Henry Thornton did magnificent work in connection with the movement of troops. Also he reorganized the London suburban system and built the magnificent Liverpool Street station.

So enthused was a Prince Rupert property owner who is visiting the city over the appointment that he immediately wrote to friends in England telling them that their Prince Rupert lots may yet be worth something.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Official figures in yesterday's world series baseball game was as follows:

Total attendance, 37,020.
Total receipts, $129,564.
Players' shares, $61,482.18.
Each Club share, $26,494.18.
Commission share, $18,083.10.

ARABS OPPOSE JEWISH RETURN

Taking Steps to Organize Opposition to Zionist Movement in Palestine.

JERUSALEM, Oct. 6.—The Arab delegation which was sent to London a year ago to protest against the establishment of the Jewish homeland in Palestine has returned and given out a summary of its achievements. Musa Kazim Pasha Husseini, chairman of the delegation, says in his report that whereas they had hoped for, nevertheless they had aroused public sentiment in England and had won the sympathy of many leading persons connected with the British government. The report was made to the Fifth Moslem-Christian Congress, which was brought together at Nablus for the purpose of hearing what the delegation had to say. At the same time the congress outlined its future plans.

Boycott Constitution.
 It decided to boycott the new constitution, which it considers inimical to the cause of the Arabs; to take no part in the elections, and to dissuade all Mohammedans and Christians from serving on the legislative council.

It urged upon the Arabs the necessity of standing together and refusing to sell lands to the Jews. A manifesto was sent out from the congress to all Mohammedans and Christians of the country in the following words: "We the delegates of the Arab people of Palestine in the fifth Congress held at Nablus, pledge ourselves to God, to history and to the nation to continue our endeavor looking toward the independence of our country, to bring about Arab unity by all legal and lawful means, and to refuse the Jewish National Home and Zionist immigration."

It was decided also that a trade boycott of the Jews be instituted, the ways and means thereof to be decided upon later.

British Position.
 The British mandate in Palestine was officially proclaimed in Jerusalem September 12, upon which occasion Lord Allenby, British High Commissioner for Egypt; Sir Herbert Samuel, Palestine Commissioner and Emir Abdullah, the ruler of the Transjordanian, took the oaths of office. Sir Herbert Samuel, in his inaugural address, said that the Holy Land was about to enter upon a period of peace and progress under British dominion, and that as representative of King George he would conduct the administration without fear or favor; with justice to all, and with impartiality for none. The executive committee of the Moslem-Christian Society did not attend the ceremonies as a protest against the mandate and the constitution, and it called a general strike of its Arab followers to the same end.

LONDON'S CHINATOWN SHADOW FORMER SELF

Craze for Orientalism Soon Dies
 Out in World Capital.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—London's Chinatown is fast disappearing. Four years ago 2,000 Chinese seamen were living within a stone's throw of the West India Dock gates. Now it is doubtful whether there are 700, says the Daily News. During the war, London's Chinatown had its most prosperous days, for quite a number of British ships were manned by Chinese crews. But when the war ended the edict went forth "British crews for British ships," and as the Chinamen were paid off they either went back to China or to some other country where their labor was in demand.

The result was that Chinese traders in Chinatown began to suffer, and one after another had to put up their shutters. Then suddenly there came a boom. A beautiful actress died while attending an opium smoking party. Stories were printed about the thrills to be experienced in Chinese opium dens and public attention was focussed on the sinister alleys and by-ways of Chinatown. Restaurants in which Chinese dishes could be obtained opened here and there in Chinatown. Many Americans visited them to see how they compared with similar places in their own Chinatown and curiosity led a number of English folk and various European visitors to do likewise. At night they were often filled to overflowing.

Craze Died Out.
 Commercially minded Orientals invested their money in the exploitation of what was a new craze and for a time they prospered exceedingly. But gradually the novelty wore off, the glamor faded, and people came to the conclusion that there was all sorts of cooking that was really much nicer than Chinese cooking. Visitors become fewer and fewer and now there are only one or two shabby restaurants left in London's Chinatown. What remains of it is, but a shadow of its former self.

SANTAL MIDY

GOVERNMENT SAVINGS BANK GOOD PROGRESS

Manitoba Institution Started Two Years Ago Has 10,000 Depositors and $4,200,000.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 6.—Since its establishment a little over two years ago the Provincial Government Savings Bank, with two branches in Winnipeg, has made rapid progress and today there are more than 10,000 depositors with deposits totaling $4,200,000. The bank was founded when the provincial government found it necessary to secure funds for rural credits societies, which the registered chartered banks of the country had refused to finance. On the date of its first anniversary it had deposits amounting to $2,650,000 while the number of actual accounts was 6,300. Since that time deposits have increased at the rate of approximately 450 a month.

"We have taken care of all advances ever made by the government, have paid for all our equipment and still have a surplus in addition," states E. A. Weir, chairman of the board of trustees. "In addition to paying 4 percent interest on deposits, it has not cost the citizens of Manitoba, or principally of Winnipeg, a dollar to maintain the office," he states.

"In order to ascertain the particular attractions this bank has for the people of Manitoba, Mr. Weir has conducted some investigation with the result he has found that in addition to the higher rate of interest, and the longer banking hours, the fact it is entirely a Manitoba institution, with the money being kept in the province for its benefit, has also been a deciding factor.

PARTY OF ARTISTS TO TRAVEL AROUND
 WORLD IN LAUNCH

Expect to Take Two Years Leaving Before End of Year.

HAMBURG, Oct. 6.—Two German sailboats of small dimensions are due to brave the furies of the Atlantic on experimental trans-oceanic voyages within the coming year. On one of them a party of 13 German artists and professional men plan to circumnavigate the globe. They have recently tested their craft in a trip to Copenhagen, and are now trying to complete arrangements for leaving before the end of the year. The vessel is 58 feet long and will carry three writers, three artists, and a number of "movie" actors from Berlin, accompanied by a Munich doctor. This tour is to be made by way of Holland, Spain, the Canary Islands, Cuba, Mexico, both coasts of South America, the South Sea Islands, China, Japan, India and the Suez Canal. It is expected three weeks will be required in crossing the Atlantic and the party plans to return home in about two years. The other enterprise is to be conducted by three German sailors in a 13-foot sailboat of 12 tons, which they themselves intend to build. They will attempt to make the trip from Hamburg to New York, and are planning to sail under the auspices of the Imperial Yacht Club of Wurtemberg. It has been reported that American interests agreed to bear the costs of the experiment if the boat carried the American flag, but that the offer was rejected. These seamen do not expect to take to the water before next spring.

G. A. Hunter, of The Daily News staff, accompanied by his sister Miss Georgia Hunter, left for Vancouver and Nanaimo on the Prince George last night. Mr. Hunter will be married at Nanaimo to Miss Pearl Wall, late of the Prince Rupert General Hospital nursing staff.

 PEACE RIVER

After Visit There Wilson Brothers Say Too Early For Settlement.

B. Wilson, C. Wilson and J. C. Wilson, brothers and residents of Victoria passed through the city yesterday en route to their home town having completed a 2,000 mile holiday jaunt into the Peace River country. The party started six weeks ago from Victoria to Prince George at which point they took a small power boat down the Parsnip river into Finlay Forks proceeding down the Peace river to Hudson Hope. From Hudson Hope they took various trips north and south into the interior country and proceeded down the Pine river and up the Half Way river on an exploration trip.

From Hudson Hope a trip on horseback was taken to the Pine river and then north some 60 miles. Their impression of the country visited was that it is too isolated at present to invite settlement and that the only people who can exist in that country today are fur trappers of whom they saw quite a number the country being rich in fur bearing animals. Although there is a tremendous stretch of rich farming land in the Peace river country there is no opening for agriculture as no market is available for products of this nature.

From Hudson Hope the party made Peace River cruising by boat and took the train to Edmonton on the E. D. & B. C. Railway from that point, and arrived in the city yesterday over the Canadian National.

CONGRATULATIONS TO FRED DAWSON AT THE ROTARY CLUB LUNCH

Newly Appointed Director of National Railways Replies to Complimentary Remarks

At the Rotary Club luncheon yesterday afternoon President T. H. Johnson on behalf of the club congratulated F. G. Dawson on his appointment to the responsible position of director of the Canadian National Railways.

Mr. Dawson, on being called on to reply, said he hoped that in two or three years time they would be as well pleased with the appointment as they seemed to be today. He could hardly have hoped Prince Rupert would have been called on to provide a man for the position and that the one chosen should be himself. He still intended that Prince Rupert should be his home even though he had to spend a good deal of time away from the city. Everything he had was in northern British Columbia and it was natural he should be anxious for the welfare of this part of the country. He hoped people would not expect too much and that too soon. He realized it was a big job and there would be plenty of difficulties to overcome.

Mr. Dawson went to say he considered the north had been handicapped by lack of appreciation of its resources. All they needed was a fair show and an even break. Then the local people need not worry.

Mr. Dawson gave credit to Fred Stork for the work he had done in securing this position for the city.

W. E. Staneland Again Mentions Drug Traffic in the Province.

Walter E. Staneland, police commissioner of Victoria, who was a guest at the Rotary Club luncheon yesterday, spoke of the manufacture of cocaine and heroin by the Japanese. The service clubs of British Columbia had taken up the matter and linked the drug traffic with the Oriental problem. He thought drug addicts should be deported, that being the worst punishment that could befall them.

One difficulty they found in dealing with the traffic was that there was no place to which they could send the younger addicts. Jail was the only place available. In New York there were three homes and hundreds of the younger girls had been reclaimed at them.

Mr. Staneland told of having had many anonymous letters telling of young girls and boys getting drugs in Victoria's Chinatown but he had been unable to find, on the strictest search, that any of the information was correct.

Mr. Staneland congratulated Mr. Dawson on being appointed to the railway board and felt sure he would do his duty in his new position.

Capt. Campbell, of the steamer Princess Sophia, had a narrow escape from death today when, attempting to spring ashore from the vessel to the wharf, he fell into the water. Fortunately, he was not injured.

STORK GIVES LECTURE ON VISIT TO POMPEII AT ROTARY LUNCHEON

Tells of Restoration of Ancient City That Was Buried Beneath 25 feet of Volcanic Ash.

Fred Stork, M. P., gave a most interesting address yesterday to the members of the Rotary Club, his subject being "A Visit to Pompeii." In opening he said they were all so full of the appointment of Mr. Dawson to the Board of Directors of the Canadian National Railways that he found it difficult to speak on so tame a subject as that of Pompeii.

It was some years ago that he visited the ancient city that had been buried by ashes from the volcano Vesuvius. He had gone there from Paris and had found it extremely fascinating. The old ruins were like a treasure-house of ancient things.

At the time of the eruption, there had been 25,000 people within the walls and it had suddenly been covered with 25 feet of ashes. The men and women had been instantly killed by the poisonous gases and the result was that everything was found as it was two thousand years ago. Later a man digging a well had found part of the ruins and excavation had resulted in the buildings being unearthed almost as perfect as they were before the ash storm fell.

The houses and streets and the people and furniture and pictures were all there. There were ruins in the pavements made by the chariots. Plaster casts of the people had been taken and there were gladiators and all the paraphernalia of sports.

Mr. Stork went into some detail in his description of the place and the lecture was much enjoyed.

NATIONAL EXPRESS GENERAL AGENT WAS PLEASSED WITH CITY

That a wave of better business conditions is certainly invading the west is the opinion of H. C. Creighton, general agent of the Canadian National Express Co., St. John, N. B., who, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Jane Creighton, is on a holiday trip to the Pacific Coast and who passed through the city yesterday en route to Vancouver. He said that on every side he noticed marked and permanent improvements in the cities and towns that he passed through coming west, and was especially pleased with the splendid streets of Prince Rupert which in view of the tremendous rock handicaps, he considered did great credit to the city. He foretold a splendid future for so progressive a port.

Mr. and Miss Creighton broke their journey to the coast at Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Winnipeg and Regina, and will return via Vancouver over the C. P. R. They left for Vancouver on the Prince George last night.

Mr. Creighton joined the old International Express Co., and was superintendent of the Atlantic Division for the former company for 32 years.

COMPETITION VERSES STILL COMING IN

New Contributors Are Taking a Hand and Getting Results.

Pretty good results are being obtained by several new contributors to the Limerick competition. Verses are still coming in and the results are pretty good as those will say who read the following:

So Handsome. Since Rudolph I've seen in the "Sheik."

Every man that I've met is a freak, So handsome his face, Such romance and grace, I would that I'd see him each week.

It's a Treat. Bartholomew is all you could wish.

When he acts with Lilian Gish, It's a treat at the least "To see 'Way Down East.'" Though the villain is such a poor fish.

Method to Control. It's not beauty I love in my star, It's the way he controls his cigar.

Much mirth he provokes, As he chews up his smokes, Theo, Roberts excels all by far.

Rising Fast. A movie-man came from the east, So poor that he seldom could feast.

He started a play, Success came his way, And now he is rising like yeast.

Cure for Blues. A chappie once moodily said "My, how I wish I was daid" But he went to the show, And happy did grow, And laughed till they packed him to bed.

Sweet Little Flapper. A sweet little flapper came west, She was rich and could live on the best.

Yet she went on the stage, When short skirts were the rage, And all she wore was a vest.

BURNS DOCUMENT IS LATELY DISCOVERED

Form of Assignment of Property in Handwriting of Poet Found in Archives

When looking through some old documents in the archives of the town of Ayr, the deputy sheriff came across a curious old assignment made by Robert Burns the poet in his own handwriting, the text of which published in the Glasgow Herald is as follows:

Know all men by these presents that I Robert Burns in Mossiel; Whereas I intend to leave Scotland and go abroad, and having acknowledged myself the father of a child named Elizabeth, begot upon Elizabeth Paton on Largie-side; And whereas Gilbert Burns in Mossiel, my brother, has become bound, and hereby binds and obliges himself to aliment, clothe, and educate my said natural child in a suitable manner as if she was his own, in case her Mother chuse to part with her, and that until she arrive at the age of fifteen years. Therefore, and to enable the said Gilbert Burns to make good his said engagement, Wit me to have assigned, disposed, conveyed, and made over to, and in favours of, the said Gilbert Burns, his Heirs, Executors and Assignees, who are always to be bound in like manner with himself, all and sundry Goods, Gear, Corns, Cattle, Horses, Nolt, Sheep, Household furniture, and all other moveable effects of whatever kind that I shall leave behind me on my departure from this Kingdom, after allowing for my part of the conjunct debts due by the said Gilbert Burns and me as joint Tacksmen of the farm of Mossiel—And particularly, without prejudice of the foresaid generally, the profits that may arise from the publication of my Poems presently in the press—And also I hereby dispose and convey to him in trust or behoof of my said natural daughter, the Copy right of I said Poems in so far as I can dispose of the same by law, after she arrives at the above age of fifteen years complete—Surrogating and substituting the said Gilbert Burns my brother and his forefords in my full right, title, room and place of the whole premises, with power to him to intronit with, and dispose upon the same at pleasure, and in general to do every other thing in the premises that I could have done myself before granting hereof, but always with and under the conditions before expressed—And I oblige myself to warrant this disposition and assignation from my own proper fact and deed—allegedly—Consenting to the Registration hereof in the Books of Council and Session, or any other Judges, Books competent, therein to remain for preservation and constitute—Procurators, etc.—In witness whereof I have wrote and signed these presents, consisting of this and the preceding page, on stamped paper with my own hand, at Mossiel, the twenty-second day of July, one thousand seven hundred and eighty-six years. Robert Burns.

Boone returns to the mountains and demonstrates that he can inspire respect for law and order in his people. Marshall hears of this and proposes Stallard's name for United States Senator from Kentucky. When Boone returns to Frankfort he is brought to a full realization of the differences between a mountaineer and a Blue Grass aristocrat and he refrains from asking Anne for her hand. The story closes with the assumption that Randolph wins the girl.

DUNSMUIR CONTRACTS IN PERU OUTLINED IN MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

Is to Build 24000 Miles at Cost of $120,000,000 With Money From This Province.

President Leguit of Peru, in his message to Congress at its opening at Lima recently gives details of the railroads which Robin W. Dunsmuir, son of the late Hon. James Dunsmuir and Mrs. Dunsmuir, of Hatley Park, Victoria, will construct in Peru. Altogether Mr. Dunsmuir will build 24,000 miles of railroad at a cost of $120,000,000. The Dunsmuir lines will link up the existing short lines in Peru to give one whole unified transportation system throughout the country.

"The Government in the development of its railway program considers that, through the celebration of contracts ad referendum it has established the basis of our future and definite economic advancement," said the President to Congress.

"These contracts will not only enable Peru to develop efficiently her diverse regions, but also to avail herself of new elements of defence and to strengthen the collective spirit."

Number of Lines.

"Robin William Dunsmuir and his associates will construct the following railway lines, from Ilo-Ilo to Lambayeque; from Lima to Pisco; from Huancayo to Ayacucho; from Ayacucho to Cuzco; from Pisco to Huancavelica; from Chug uicara to Jao; passing through Cajabamba and Cajamarca; from Chimbote or nearby port to Tambo del Sol in the neighborhood of Cerro de Pasco; from Tambo del Sol via Pachitea to Pucallpa on the Ucayali."

These lines will connect up the Coast strip of Peru, through the Cordillera Mountains to the elevated and level lands of such interior districts known as the Montana region.

The contracts with Mr. Dunsmuir are now being passed on by the Peruvian Congress. The concession includes land grants amounting to 50,000,000 acres, surface rights in perpetuity and oil and mineral rights for 33 years.

Five Million Cash.

Terms of the concession involve immediate payment to the Peruvian Government of £1,325,000, or about $5,000,000. This payment is to enable the Peruvian Government to free the tobacco monopoly from a first charge and to hand over this monopoly, together with 168 miles of railroads already completed, or under construction to Mr. Dunsmuir, who will be empowered to collect the tobacco monopoly and to use the proceeds for guaranteeing interest on bonds to be issued to provide the necessary funds for the operation of the concession.

The tobacco monopoly yielded last year £3,375,000 and assuming that the sinking funds will be suspended for ten years, it is estimated that Mr. Dunsmuir will be able to pay interest at 7 per cent on $18,000,000 from tobacco monopoly alone. It is considered likely that he will raise this amount of money in New York.

Must Keep Contract.

The Peruvian Government reserves the right to abrogate the concession if the railroads are not built at a minimum rate of 93 miles a year, or if the whole of the proposed construction is not completed within twelve years.

Sport Chat

Basketball organization for the approaching winter season will soon have to officially and actively get under way if as early a start is to be made this year as was the case last. Although the definite date has not yet been announced, the annual general meeting of the Association will likely be called in the very near future and formal planning will then commence. Prospects are that the Senior men may not be able to muster as strongly as last year on account of the fact that many of the players of a year ago have left the city. In all other leagues, however, it is expected there will be equal if not increased activity.

Last year's teams in the Senior Men's League were the Elks, Sons of Canada and Great War Veterans, the last mentioned team having dropped out before the season was over. It is thought that there may be three teams again this winter possibly the Elks, Sons of Canada and Knights of Columbus. The International League ought to be fairly strong this winter with the Gallies in the running besides the teams of last year, Elks, Sons of Canada and Knights of Columbus. Two teams are already lined up for the Senior ladies—Meteors and Maple Leafs—and there will probably be one or two more. The Intermediate ladies, and Junior boys and girls will likely come from the ranks of the school children as strong as the case last winter.

The trophies for competition

SONS OF CANADA GREAT BANQUET

Number of Trophies Presented and Addresses Given by Players and Visitors

The Sons of Canada and their players and admirers sat down to a fine banquet last night in the Elks' Hall which was much enjoyed. The various trophies were presented to the club and addresses were given by members of the club and visitors. The gathering had a good healthy ring and was an event to be remembered.

George Johnston, who presided, explained that they were gathered to show appreciation of the work of their athletes. When the Sons of Canada teams were on the field they were sure of a good game and clean sport.

First Presentation

Fred Stork, in presenting the Stork Cup to the club, said the giving of trophies was not intended only as a reward but as an incentive to the younger players. It became the ambition of a great many young lads to "make the team." The idea was to inculcate a desire for good clean wholesome sport. For years past he had attended what games he was able and in no place in Canada had he seen the games better played than in Prince Rupert.

Mr. Stork told of the way Lacrosse was being killed in the south owing to the tactics of the officials, sometimes even trying to incite the team to riot. The attitude of a manager was reflected in the team. The place for fighting was in the ring and not in games.

In connection with the competition here, never had cups been won in a more sportsmanlike manner than in this city. He urged that people help the games by continuous patronage. He congratulated the Sons of Canada and said he believed the best team had won the Fred Stork trophy. With stalwarts like Tite and Lipsell backing lacrosse there was no chance of the sport languishing.

U. Lacasse in a neat little speech accepted the trophy on behalf of the team.

Nickerson Shield

In presenting the Nickerson Shield, W. J. Cash said the season now closed had been very successful. Friendly relations had existed among the players. The players of the Sons of Canada were veterans well organized and they played a good game all through the season. He had seen all kinds of players but Warrie Anderson was good enough to play in the matches in the larger cities. He was brought up in Prince Rupert and always played good clean sport.

At the beginning of the season they had had a good sports meeting and since then Charley Blythe had called him "Bill." That was something attained. He congratulated the Sons of Canada on winning the shield.

W. Robertson accepted the shield on behalf of the club.

Stuart Shield

The Stuart Shield and the Moh-

ley Cup were presented by D. C. Stuart who urged the football players to so play that the boys growing up would see their example and play good, clean sport. Football was the king of winter games but it was necessary here to play it in summer.

The shield was to be the property of the club that won it three times, not necessarily in succession. He told of one instance of the good feeling that existed between players of opposing sides when a member of one of the teams had taken off a bandage to give to a member of the other team who was needing it.

There had been some good matches this season. The S.O.C. and the Gallies had always been rivals and there was generally a humdrum of a game when they met. The Grotto team had done well, the players being young fellows who had learned the game in Prince Rupert. He hoped they would keep together and do better next year. Football was the national game of Scotland. He asked them to accept the cup and shield and hoped they would win them again in future years.

The trophies were accepted by Harry Menzies on behalf of the team. He thanked all who had tried to help out the sport. He said he thought the Sons would keep the shield hanging in their room.

Fred Gilluly, in presenting the Gilluly Cup, spoke of the good games he had seen played during the season.

Clark Eady, on rising to accept it was given an ovation. He thanked the members for the trophy.

Crossett Cup

One of the humorous events of the evening was the presentation of a tin cup by Ben Crossett to Harry Lipsell as manager of the losing team in the lacrosse series.

Harry Lipsell, in accepting it, spoke humorously, thanking the S.O.C. on behalf of the Elks for the high esteem in which they apparently held them. Next year when the Elks won the Stork cup they would present the other cup to the Sons. It was a lovely mug and would make a great bath tub.

On behalf of the Press H. F. Pullen congratulated the Sons of Canada on the number of trophies they had won and the good sportsmanship they had shown. He stated that the Daily News was always out to help clean sport and if at times the criticisms of the sporting editor got under their skin, they should remember it was all in the interest of the games. The press was able to help a great deal in creating an interest in sport.

F. W. McIntosh told of the pleasure he had taken in reporting the games. All the games had been exceptionally clean, well contested and well patronized. He particularly thanked the Sons of Canada for the courtesy they had shown him. The winning of the trophies had proved the consistency of their playing.

Secretary's Good Work

Charley Blythe spoke of the good work of Secretary Harry Breen. The work of putting on the banquet was his. J. McAlcennan too had coached the ball team, and brought the younger members to where they were today.

Harry Breen spoke of the pleasure it had given him to do anything he had done. He had many friends and this was ample compensation.

S. E. Parker said he had followed the fortunes of the Sons of Canada teams. He considered the forming of the club had been justified by the results. He had learned to be a soccer fan since its foundation. The saddest thing was seeing so many leaving.

A toast was drunk to those leaving the city, after which the National Anthem was sung and all dispersed.

In the course of the evening Arthur's orchestra played selections and songs were given by E. Craggs, Harry Fletcher, A. Clapperton, J. J. Raleigh, and Hughie Scott.

PRESENTATION MADE CHARLEY BLYTHE ON HIS LEAVING THE CITY

Was Recipient of Gold Ring Last Evening from Sons of Canada.

On behalf of the Sons of Canada, Fred Stork last night presented Charley Blythe with a gold ring on the occasion of his leaving the city.

In making the presentation Mr. Stork said that as Charley had always been regarded as one of the good square sports and had won a place in the estimation of Prince Rupert better than he possibly calculated. It was men such as he who made up the town. They all regretted his going away and it would not be right to let him go without a few words of appreciation of the work he had done.

The society presented him the gold ring. It was of pure gold the emblem of friendship and he wished might never grow less. When he left he would have true and loyal friends here in Prince Rupert.

Mr. Blythe said he could not tell in words how much he appreciated the gift. The two years he had spent as manager of the club had proved to him that there were no better athletes anywhere than here. Menzies, Scott, Anderson, Barnes, Eady, Curtis, Robertson, Eric McIntosh, Jimmie Farquhar were all mentioned as men who had developed.

GAMES FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN SUGGESTED

Football Already Under Way and Grass Hockey is Being Planned

At the Sons of Canada banquet last night, Sid Thompson urged that efforts be made to increase the interest taken by young players in sport. They had to depend on the rising generation for players in the various games.

James Mitchell said that in connection with the schools football was already being started and basketball would be under way soon. He had already been donated two footballs for the use of the schools and he was surprised how apt the youngsters were at picking up the game. "No crabbing, play the game" was their motto.

Mr. Mitchell went on to say that plans were also being laid for getting the girls playing grass hockey as well as basketball. They intended to try it out at any rate. Everyone in the school recognized that sport helped education.

Charley Blythe told of the first game of grass hockey that had been played by Gil, Lacasse, Scott and Leve.

THE MYSTERY OF BODY AND MIND

President of British Association
Talks of Living Organism in Address

MUSCLES, NERVES AND BRAIN

Wonderful Mechanism is Described by Sir Charles Sherrington at Hull

BULL, Eng., Oct. 6. — In his presidential address to the British Association for the advancement of science at their annual gathering, Sir Charles Sherrington said that commonly the questions most difficult are those that can be quite briefly put. Thus, "Is the living organism a machine?" "Is life the running of a mechanism?" The answer cannot be as short as the question. The problem is not the why of the living organism, but the how of its working.

Our own body is full of exquisite mechanism. He instanced the mechanism linking the condition of the air at the bottom of the lungs with the part of the nervous system which manages their ventilation. The adjustment is so delicate that the very slightest increase in the pressure of carbonic acid at the bottom of the lungs at once suitably increases the ventilation of the chest.

Muscles execute our movements; they also maintain our postures, an action produced by nerve-centres which form a system more or less their own. Even in the absence of these portions of the brain to which consciousness is adjunct, the lower nerve-centres successfully bring about and maintain all the co-ordination of muscles necessary for the erect posture.

Special Controls
The mechanism dealing with the limbs, trunk, and neck consists of a pair of tiny water-filled bags set one in each side of the skull. In each of these is a patch of cells endowed with a special nerve. Attached to hair-cells of these cells is a tiny crystalline stone whose pressure acts as a stimulus through them to the nerve. In the ordinary erect posture of the head the stimulation by the two bags right and left is equal, because the two gravity-stones then lie symmetrically. If the head incline to one side the resulting slip, microscopic though it be, of the two stones on their nerve-patches makes the stimulation unequal. And from that slip there results exactly the right unsymmetrical action of the muscles to give the unsymmetrical pose of limbs and neck required for stability.

An additional mechanism postures the head itself on the neck, a second pair of tiny gravity bags, in which the stones hang rather than press. These, when any cause inclining the head has passed, bring the head back at once to the normal symmetry of the erect posture. And these same bags manage the posturing of the eyes. The eye contributes to our orientation in space; for instance, to perception of the vertical. These reactions of head and eyes and body unconsciously take place when a bird wheels or slants in flight, or a pilot stalls or banks his aeroplane. And all this works itself involuntarily as a pure mechanism.

Regeneration of Nerves

The fibres of nerve-trunks appear perhaps of all nerve structures those that are best known. They constitute the motor nerves of muscle and the sensory nerves of the skin. When they are broken the muscle or skin is paralysed. They establish their ties with muscle and skin during embryonic life, and show no further growth. If severed, say, by a wound, they die for their whole length between the point of severance and the muscle or skin they go to. And then at once the cut ends of the nerve-fibres start re-growing from the point of severance, although for years they have given no sign of growth. The fibre, so to say, tries to grow out to reach to its old far-distant muscle. There are difficulties in its way. A multitude of non-nervous repair cells growing in the wound spin scar tissue across the new fibre's path. Between these alien cells the new nerve-fibre threads a tortuous way, avoiding and never joining any of them. This obstruction it may take many days to traverse. Then it reaches a region where the sheath-cells of the old dead nerve fibres lie altered beyond ordinary recognition. But the growing fibre recognizes them. Tunnelling through endless chains of them, it arrives finally, after weeks or months, at the wasted muscle-fibres which seem to have been its goal, for it connects with them at once. It pierces their covering membranes and re-forms with their substance junctions of characteristic pattern resembling the original that had died weeks or months before. Then its growth ceases, abruptly, as it began, on the wasted muscle-recoils and the lost function is restored.

Yet marvellous though nerve regeneration be, its mechanism seems blind. Its vehemence is just as great after amputation, when the parts lost can, of course, never be re-reached. Its blindness is sadly evinced in the suffering caused by the useless nerve-sprouts entangled in the scar of a healing or healed limb-stump.

Mind and Matter.

Mind becomes more recognizable the more developed the nerve-system. In the nervous system there is what is termed localization of function which shows mentally, in the usual acceptance of that term, restricted among vertebrates to the forebrain, and in higher vertebrates to the relatively newer parts of that forebrain. Its chief perhaps its sole, seat is a comparatively modern nervous structure superposed on the non-mental and more ancient other nervous parts.

To pass from a nerve impulse to physical event, a sense-impression, percept, or emotion, Sir Charles Sherrington said, is, as it were, to step from one world to another and incommensurable one. We might expect, then, that at the places of transition from its non-mental to its mental regions the brain would exhibit some striking change of structure. But no; in the mental parts of the brain still nothing but the same old structural elements, set end to end, suggesting the one function of the transmission and collision of nerve impulses. The structural inter-connections are richer, but that is a merely quantitative change.

Referring to the connection between the nervous machinery and the machinery to which mental actions are adjunct, the president pointed out that the phenomenon of fatigue is common to both, and imposes similar disabilities on both. Nervous exhaustion and mental exhaustion mingle.

Mr. Barroff and his fellow observers, in their recent physiological exploration of life on the Andes at 14,200 feet, noted that as well as their muscles their arithmetic was at disadvantage there. The low oxygen pressure militated against both.

Seat of the Mind.

The cortex of the forebrain is the seat of mind. From small beginnings it has become steadily a larger and larger feature of the nervous system until in adult man the whole of the rest of the system is relatively dwarfed by it.

The mental attributes of the nervous system are the coping-stone of the construction of the individual. But they do not stop at the individual; they proceed beyond the individual; they integrate from individuals to communities.

When we review the distribution of mind within the range of animal forms, we meet with two peaks of development—one in insect life, the other in the vertebrate, with its acme finally in man. In the insect the type of mind is not rational but instinctive, whereas in man there is reason as well as instinct. Yet in both one outcome seems to be the welding of individuals into societies on a scale of organization otherwise unattained. The greatest social animal is man; the powers that make him so are mental.

We may suppose that in the same sense as we can claim today that the principles of working of a gas engine or an electro-motor are comprehensible to us, so will the bodily working in such mechanisms be understood by us, and indeed are largely so already. But the how of the mind's connection with its bodily place seems still utterly enigma.
