Great Work Was Done by Delegation REPORT MADE TODAY BOARD OF TRADE BY HON. A. M. MANSON

Reception of Delegates at Ottawa Indication of What May be Expected in Future

That Prince Rupert may look for real co-operation as a result of the visit of Hon. A. M. Manson and other delegates to Ottawa and of the sympathetic attitude of the Government toward the development of this port, was the burden of the addresses given at the Board of Trade luncheon this afternoon, when the delegates were the guests of the board at the St. Regis Cafe.

Mr. Manson said he did not wish to build up false hopes, but at the same time he reported that the Government made it quite clear that they proposed to carry out, so far as finances would permit, the Laurier-Hays policy of development of the railway and port. The ministers were impressed with the needs of the port and they showed a decided desire to try to fill those needs. The fact that they are coming themselves to personally investigate was mentioned by the speakers as one of the most hopeful features.

The development of the railway and establishing it on a sound business basis was the chief feature of the reports, that being the thing that would most benefit the terminus and make future of the city secure.

Mr. Manson sent a report to Mayor Rochester yesterday which will be presented to the City Council tonight. It is similar to that given the Board of Trade this afternoon.

Mr. Manson's report follows:

The Report.

At the request of His Worship, Mayor Rochester, and as the representative of the city and the delegate of the Board of Trade, I left the city for Ottawa on February 8 to present the claims of Northern British Columbia to the Federal authorities.

I was accompanied at the outset by M. P. McGaffery, an ex-mayor of the city and past president of the Board of Trade, by F. G. Dawson, a past president of the Board of Trade, and by Olof Hanson. We were joined at Smithers by Fred Stork, member for Skeena riding, and at Telkwa by T. J. Jefferson, an accredited delegate of the Bulkley Valley Board of Trade and of the Prince Rupert Board of Trade. Messrs. McGaffery, Dawson and Hanson volunteered to lend their support in presenting our case and I wish to assure the citizens of Northern British Columbia that the deputation consisting of Fred Stork, M. P., and Messrs. McGaffery, Dawson, Hanson, Jefferson and myself did our utmost in hearty accord to drive home to the members of the Government at Ottawa the urgent need for attention, on their part, to the country in British Columbia tributary to the Grand Trunk Pacific and I cannot speak too highly of the valuable assistance given to Mr. Jefferson and myself by the gentlemen mentioned.

Upset by Delays.

After a somewhat prolonged trip we arrived at Ottawa on February 16 to find that the appointments made by Mr. Stork on our behalf by wire had been completely upset by repeated delays during our trip. We found the prime minister and members of his cabinet beset by deputations from every part of Canada. They were extremely busy, not only in hearing these deputations, but in the work of preparing for the session which was about to open. Nevertheless, the prime minister gave us a very early hearing and we interviewed, in turn, practically

CHANGE ROUTE OF P. G. E. IS HINTON'S PLAN

He Would Tap Nechaco Valley at Vanderhoof or Cariboo Mines at Quesnel Forks.

CALGARY, April 18.—In an interview here W. P. Hinton, former general manager of the P. G. E., said he had reported to the British Columbia Government on the Pacific Great Eastern Railway line. He told them that the only possible hope the P. G. E. had of securing traffic that might enable it to operate successfully was for the line to be extended either westward or eastward from Quesnel instead of following the original grade to Prince George to connect with the G. T. P.

Westward from Quesnel across the Fraser River 100 miles to Vanderhoof and up the Nechaco Valley lies one of the finest ranching and dairy countries of the whole province, while to the east is Quesnel Forks where the famous mining camps could be tapped.

Allies Are Disturbed And Filled With Fear of Russ-German Treaty

GENOA, Apr. 18.—The consternation caused by the German-Russian coup included in the treaty signed at Rapallo yesterday to supplant the Brest-Litovsk pact showed no signs of abating as the delegates at the economic conference continued their deliberations today. They seem to be deeply impressed with the importance that the signing of this separate pact will likely have on the general political situation.

Some prophets today seemed inclined to take the view that the conference was headed toward disaster which only the coolness of Premier David Lloyd George, of England, and other leaders at the conference could avert. Many look with askance at the German-Russian treaty and especially at the manner in which it is signed and claim that it is paving the way for a future alliance between the two nations.

DAILY EDITION  Tuesday, April 18, 1922.

Those Who Blaze Path For Civilization.

Practically everybody in Northern British Columbia is blazing the path for those who come later. They are pioneers on the path of civilization. The story of one of them who perished in a lonely cabin northward from here calls to mind the hardships these pioneers often endure. The life is a lonely one, and yet in spite of that it has its attractions. It calls forth qualities in a man that the city life would never discover. It is a healthy life and full of interest. To the man who has lived in the far north there is always the call to return, and many do go back to it.

The ladies who decorate their shoulders with costly furs often do not realize at what cost they were secured. Attention is drawn sometimes to the cruelties of trapping, but the hardships of the trapper are never heard of. Every dollar paid for the furs is earned by the trapper.

Human Life Cheap
 Today in Ireland.

Human life is cheap in Ireland today. The assassins are no respectors of persons. It may be a common tramp who is shot down or it may be the head of the government. In Ulster religious feeling runs high and Protestant and Catholic are at enmity and shoot each other on sight. Bombs are carried in the pocket and guns are in common use.

This is a condition brought about gradually without any idea at first of contracting the habit. Worst of all, the spirit of intolerance has been cultivated in the sacred name of freedom, until today there seems to be no freedom or toleration anywhere in the whole island.

Years ago murder was looked on with horror. Today we have all become so used to hearing of the shootings that we no longer consider them extraordinary occurrences. The condition is bad but improvement is possible. At any rate things can not be much worse than they are today.

Developments Here In Near Future.

At the Board of Trade luncheon today Hon. A. M. Manson spoke most optimistically in regard to the possible developments at this port. He told of the extremely sympathetic hearing the delegates had been given and of the expressed desire of the ministers to carry out the Laurier policy in so far as finances would permit. He also intimated a good many more things than were openly expressed. The report is well worthy of careful perusal especially by any one who may be pessimistic in regard to the future of this city. It is the most encouraging report we have had in many years and it is followed by a promise that the ministers will be here to see for themselves and to plan the development that they expect to take place.

One Man at Least Believes in Islands.

There is one man at least who has faith in the Queen Charlotte Islands and that man is Thomas Deasy, Indian agent, whose article appeared in the Daily News yesterday. Mr. Deasy has lived on the islands for many years. He has had occasion to visit different parts and he knows what he is talking about. He has always had faith in the future of that part of the province and has tried to enthuse others, but so far with little effect. Probably the impetus of the new settlement will cause renewed interest in the Queen Charlottes and in everything pertaining to development there.

The Prince George Fall Fair Association has just issued its prize list for the exhibition to be held here on September 4, 5, and 6.

The Prince George Choral Society put on its second concert in the Rex Theatre on Friday night. The feature of the evening was the rendering of Sir John Stainer's "Crucifixion" by Mrs. P. S. Bonney, Mrs. W. P. Ogilvie, Mr. Butt, Mr. Bexon, Mr. Ouaile and chorus. There were solos by Mrs. Abbott, Mrs. Dalling, and Mrs. Bonney and J. W. Miers gave a cello solo. W. J. Pitman was accompanist and Mr. Tretheway, Mr. Miers and H. Jones assisted as instrumentalists. H. Butt was conductor.

C. J. Kettle, of Endako, visited Prince George last week.

SACRED CONCERT AT OCEAN FALLS

Splendid Rendering of Stainer's
 "Crucifixion" Given by Union
 Church Choir.

OCEAN FALLS, April 17.—The theatre was well filled on the evening of Good Friday to hear a highly successful rendering of John Stainer's "Crucifixion" by the augmented choir of the Union Church, and that the audience went away well pleased leaves no shadow for doubt.

The always popular Mrs. C. Kelly was in excellent voice in the opening solo, "And They Came to a Place Called Gethsemane" and in the solo portions of "The Agony" she again sang finely. The same remarks of appreciation apply to Mrs. H. E. Burdon, whose delightful voice was heard to fine effect in "The Majesty of Divine Humiliation" and later in the duet with H. E. Burdon, "So Thou Lament Thy Divine Petition." Mrs. S. Williams sang "How Sweet Is Thy Grace" most becomingly, while S. Chambers's singing of "And One of the Malefactors" left nothing to be desired, his lower notes possessing fine volume. The unaccompanied quartette "God So Loved the World," rendered by Mesdames Williams, Bushfield and Messrs. Jenkins and Williams, was well balanced and showed a thoughtful appreciation of their respective parts.

H. E. Burdon's fine bass voice was heard in no less than five solos, a tremendous undertaking in a composition of such difficulty requiring so wide a range of tones—Messrs. Corkill and Williams also sang solos pleasingly.

Excellent Choruses.
 The chorus work of the male choir was in every way most excellent, the audience being particularly pleased with the singing of the "Processional to Calvary" and "The Appeal to the Crucified," both interpretations showing evidence of earnest and conscientious practice under the capable baton of T. J. Jenkins, who conducted throughout with power and precision, yet in pleasing sympathy with his singing choristers.

F. Wardle, the organist, accompanied with the marked ability expected from one who has devoted so many years to music. The evening closed with the hymn "All for Jesus," in the singing of which the audience was invited to join.

The hope was expressed that Ocean Falls had not heard the last of this fine collection of voices and that they will be heard again in the not too distant future. Ocean Falls already boasts a firmly established dramatic club, at present rehearsing the ever-green, "Our Boys."

Music and the drama in a small community tends to encourage a healthy moral atmosphere, promote a desire for better music in the home and to develop latent talent.

The program follows:
 Solo, Mrs. C. Kelly; solo, H. E. Burdon; chorus, the choir; solo, H. E. Burdon; solo, Mrs. C. Kelly; solo, Mr. Burdon; solo, Mr. Chambers; chorus, the choir; solo, Mrs. S. Williams; chorus, the choir; solo, M. C. Corkill; chorus, the choir; solo, H. E. Burdon; solo, Mrs. H. E. Burdon; solo, T. J. Jenkins; quartette, Mesdames Williams and Bushfield, Messrs. Jenkins and Williams.

Second Part—C. of E. Hymnal 142, choir and audience; solo with male chorus, Mr. Williams; duet, Mr. and Mrs. Burdon; solo, Mr. Corkill; solo, Mr. Chambers; chorus, the choir; solo, Mrs. S. Williams; solo, Mr. Corkill; chorus, the choir; solo, Mrs. Burdon; chorus, the choir; solo, S. Williams; hymn (C. of E. Hymnal 392), choir and audience. Conductor, T. J. Jenkins; organist, F. Wardle.

Wheatley, Cecil Bartley was director and Mrs. Blackstock, accompanist.

SORES SPREAD All Over FACES AND BODIES.

Mrs. Howard—Houllette, Waslatenu, Sask., writes:—I wish to tell you of the benefit we have received by using your valuable medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters. My children started to break out on their faces with small white pimples which kept getting larger each day. Pus would form under the scabs and they would come off, and each time the sores would be larger; some were as large as a twenty-five cent piece, and would spread all over their bodies. I was nearly in despair and sent to the village for a bottle of good blood medicine. The druggist sent me a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, which I commenced giving them at once. In about ten days I saw an improvement and they grew steadily better each day, and in one month the sores had all disappeared.

All blood and skin diseases are caused by bad blood, and to get it pure and keep it pure you must remove every trace of the impure and morbid matter from the system by a blood-cleansing medicine such as

ARGUMENT FOR OPEN MARKET

Juneau Newspaper Has Strong Editorial on Value of Prince Rupert.

The following editorial article from the Juneau Empire will prove of interest to local readers.

"The legislation now pending in Washington providing for the landing of American fish at any American port has raised much discussion throughout Southern Alaska and as it stands today the people of Ketchikan, the Seattle Chamber of Commerce and the Washington delegation in Congress are strongly favoring it, while every fisherman of Alaska opposes it.

"The fishermen hold that the passage of this measure would mean that the halibut of the Pacific now landed in part at Prince Rupert, B. C., would be driven to market in Seattle and thus the old system of manipulating the market would come into vogue again.

Competitive Market.
"Although it would seem on the face of the matter that a stringent law whereby American vessels were compelled to land their catches at American ports would result in an increase of business for Alaskan fishing towns, it must be borne in mind that today a fair, open, competitive market exists and that the closing of Prince Rupert to American fish would lessen the competition to a considerable extent.

"The proposed railroad ferry from Prince Rupert to an Alaskan port would appeal to us with more force if the Seattle Chamber of Commerce were not so deeply interested in the proposed legislation for we cannot believe that it is the intention of the Chamber or the transportation interests to permit the traffic in fresh fish to pass over Canadian lines, and we would say that from their view point they are quite right in their effort to draw traffic thru Seattle and over American railroads to the East.

Live in Juneau.
"There are approximately 75 halibut fishermen living in Juneau and in most cases their families reside here with them. These people purchase all their food and clothing at local stores and participate in our social and political life, and are an important part of our community.

"The heads of these families are to a man opposed to the proposed change of market unless some guarantee of their products will be maintained and it would seem well that the business men of this city should adopt a policy of co-operation with the fishermen of this community with a view to learning fully just what they desire in legislation that may be beneficial to them and that they may incidentally be of industrial benefit to this city.

Asks Public Action.
"Today there are a number of halibut boats in port and the crews are expressing their interest in this proposed legislation. Why should the business men of Juneau and its commercial organization not learn how the local fishermen's mind operates on this question and endeavor to take some interest in his welfare by public action in his behalf."

PILES

A GRAND REMEDY

MRS. C. Hanson, of the Commercial Hotel, Poplar, B.C., says: "I found Zam-Buk a grand remedy for piles. I had suffered for years, and the burning, smarting pains were so intense that at times I could scarcely walk, and I was severely weakened by loss of blood. I underwent a surgical operation in the Sacred Heart Hospital, Spokane, but within twelve months the piles grew again, as painful as ever."

"Liniments, hot poulticing and so-called 'pile cures,' did no good, but I found Zam-Buk immediately soothing. It gave wonderful relief. When, as I kept on the treatment, the piles began to disappear, I became a happier and different woman. I used six boxes of this herbal Zam-Buk in all, but the obstinate and painful disease was thoroughly overcome. MY PILES WENT 3 YEARS AGO and I haven't had the trouble since."

Use Zam-Buk for soothing away any soreness, irritation or smarting pain. It is instantly effective. Whether the trouble be piles, itching eczema, or an obstinate wound, sore, ulcer, burn or scald, Zam-Buk kills disease germs, and grows new healthy skin in a wonderful way.

Zam-Buk's refined herb essences act on the inner as well as the outer tissues. They soothe, purify and heal the skin, and clear away Spring pimples, blotches and sores, as by magic. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25, all chemists and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. RECEPTION OF DELEGATES AT OTTAWA INDICATION OF WHAT MAY BE EXPECTED IN FUTURE.

daily every minister of the Crown. In the course of our journey to Ottawa we thoroughly discussed our plan of campaign in presenting our case and we were unanimously of the opinion that nearly every claim we intended urging hinged upon the policy of the Canadian National with respect to the Grand Trunk Pacific. We were agreed that, after all, our progress in Northern British Columbia was, very largely, dependent upon an aggressive development policy on the part of the Canadian National management.

Management of Railway. We conceived it, therefore, to be our duty to demand at the very outset the sympathetic management of our railway. We pointed out to the prime minister that the citizens of Northern and Central British Columbia were unanimously of the opinion that the management of the railway had not been by any means sympathetic to the British Columbia section of the Grand Trunk Pacific and that in our opinion the management had not adequately begun to take advantage, even with the limited financial resources at their command, of the very numerous opportunities there were of developing tonnage for the railway. In this connection we were careful to point out that we had no fault to find with the General Superintendent, N. B. Walton and that he, since he has come into our midst, has proved sympathetic to everything that meant development of his railway district. We advised the prime minister and the members of the cabinet that the fault lay at the top and that there was distinctly too great a Canadian Northern prejudice in the management of the Canadian National Railways. We pointed out that the general officials of the railway company had not availed themselves of the opportunity of studying the natural resources tributary to the Grand Trunk Pacific and that they apparently lacked not only sympathy but the requisite energy to enquire into the possibilities of developing the natural resources along the British Columbia section of the Grand Trunk Pacific and of thereby developing railway tonnage.

Financial Difficulties. We were advised by the prime minister and his colleagues that the finances of Canada would not permit of any substantial capital expenditures. We accepted this position at once and refrained from advocating expenditure for the present on unproductive constructions. We were advised that for this session at least there would be no money available for the construction of branch lines and feeders, although it was suggested to us that perhaps at the next session, after the whole situation had been gone most carefully into, some hope in that direction might be held out. We drew the attention of the prime minister and the minister of railways particularly to the very urgent necessity for some short feeders which would develop agricultural and mining resources and bring an early revenue return. Particularly, we called attention to the advantage of a spur to the coal fields of Telkwa and the agricultural lands of the Francois Lake country and to the agricultural lands north and south of Vanderhoof.

We abandoned the advocacy of long branch lines into at present wholly undeveloped country but took care to point out that there was in this very country undeveloped natural resources of the greatest promise which would ultimately bring into the coffers of the Canadian National substantial revenue.

Coal Bunkers. We brought to the attention of the ministry with every emphasis at our command the necessity for the construction of coal bunkers at this city; that there was a large coast market for coal and that coal bunkers were an essential for the coaling of ocean going ships. We drew attention to the necessity for a lumber assembly wharf to take care of the lumber export trade. We pointed to the congestion of the wheat export business at Vancouver and urged upon the government the necessary expenditure for a wheat sacking apparatus to take care of the Japanese wheat trade. We drew attention to the fact that a grain elevator was included in the original plans for this port and that the wheat trade demanded the construction of such an elevator in the immediate future.

We pressed for the establishment of a daily passenger service and in support pointed to what it would mean in the handling of the fish trade and of local express and passenger business. In this connection, too, we brought to the attention of the Government the fact that in the neighborhood of seventy-five schools had been opened in the Grand Trunk Pacific country in the last twenty-four months as against some fifteen in the Canadian Northern country.

National Duty. We took the general position that the government had endorsed the note of the Grand Trunk Pacific to the extent of very many millions of dollars and it was a national duty for the government to leave no stone unturned, the turning of which would mean revenue to this port of what is now the Canadian National system. We particularly pointed to the fact that the Government was the owner of a large merchant marine on this coast; that it was granting a subsidy to a dry dock at this port and it was the owner, virtually, of this dry dock and that, to date, none of the dockage and repair work of the Canadian Merchant Marine had been done at Prince Rupert. We suggested that this was illogical and most unbusinesslike and that an immediate change of policy should be made in this connection. We advocated the establishment of an experimental farm in the central interior. We also advocated the independence of Fishery District No. 2, with a view to the better conservation of fish and the better administration of fisheries regulations in this district. We advocated the establishment of a registry of the Admiralty Court for the greater convenience of those interested in the shipping business.

Fisheries Affairs. I joined with representatives of the fishing industry of Canada generally in the advocacy of a separate deputy minister of fisheries. We met a very strong lobby carried on, we believe, by the cannery interests for a reversion to the former fishing regulations and we took the position that there should not be a reversion but that every consideration should be given towards the maintenance of fishing conditions that would result in the conservation of fish and the industry for white fishermen. We drew attention to the fact that the Orientals had a very substantial control of the fishing business; that there was trafficking by the Orientals in naturalization papers and we advocated with all the energy we could that the necessary ways and means should be devised for restoring the fishing industry to our white and native population.

The Results. I would not want to build up false hopes. The results are not as concrete as perhaps many might have expected, but we can say without fear of contradiction that there was no deputation at Ottawa that received such a earnestly sympathetic hearing as did ours. We were assured by the minister of railways and by such ministers as Messrs. Fielding, Graham and Murphy, who were present at the birth of the Grand Trunk Pacific project, in the most unequivocal language that it was the considered and determined policy of the government to carry out the Laurier-Hays idea of the Grand Trunk Pacific as far as the finances and present circumstances of Canada would warrant or make possible. I cannot lay too much stress on this. The atmosphere was most distinctly friendly and really everything almost that one could reasonably expect. Hon. W. C. Kennedy, minister of railways, assured us that as soon as the session was over it was his purpose to come west and thoroughly investigate conditions along our line. We have in Mr. Kennedy, I think, a real friend in court.

Concrete Things. Concretely, the daily train service will presently be an actuality. The experimental farm the minister of agriculture has already committed the government to. The dry docking of ships of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine at this port may be counted upon. The cannery lobby was successfully met. The railway management will be friendly.

The work of the deputation should be followed up and very aggressively followed up. We should be reasonable in our requests and we should keep up our mind in our mind the development of those things that will mean early return to the railway. The ground should be prepared for Mr. Kennedy's visit and our necessities should be presented to him with detailed statistical information. Mr. Kennedy will come seeking information and with a great deal more time to consider it than he had when your deputation was in Ottawa. In conclusion, the outlook is, in the opinion of the deputation, more promising than it has been at any time since the completion of the railway. Courage, reason and determination should be our watchwords.

Arrangements have been made to have the men sent to the mental hospital at New Westminster and they will be taken south tonight. "If I Could Only Sleep"

SLEEP is the greatest of nerve restoratives. But unfortunately when the nerves are greatly excited or exhausted you cannot sleep, and nervous energy is wasted at a terrible rate by day and by night.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food does not produce sleep in a narcotic way, but it does overcome sleeplessness by restoring the vigor and vitality of the nervous system.

For this reason it is Nature's greatest aid in restoring health and vigor to a worn-out, nervous system, no matter whether this condition is the result of overwork, worry or disease.

This well-known nerve restorative has made more friends through its ability to overcome sleeplessness than perhaps for any one reason.

There is no keener misery than inability to sleep and the added worry of knowing that you are fast becoming a bankrupt so far as physical and nervous energy is concerned.

Should you be so unfortunate as to suffer from sleeplessness and other symptoms of nervous exhaustion you will appreciate to the full the gentle and potent power of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a means of building up the nervous system to health and vigor.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50c a box, all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

MUST TRAVEL BY WAY CANADIAN NATIONAL

Unemployed Going From Victoria Have No Choice of Routes to Prairies.

VICTORIA, April 18.—Unemployed men who go from Victoria to secure farm work on the prairies this year must travel on the Canadian National Railways. This order was forwarded to city officials in charge of unemployment relief by Mayor Marchant.

"There is no reason why the fares for these men's travel should not go to swell the revenue of the people's railway instead of private lines," the mayor declared in issuing his instructions. "For that reason all the men must be sent on the Canadian National Railways. This is only fair in view of the fact that the federal government, which operates this railway, is helping us to send these men to the prairies."

Details of the system under which money will be advanced to unemployed men to pay their fares to the prairies were arranged by the mayor in consultation with the city officials. "All men must agree before securing transportation to pay back the money so advanced out of their first earnings," the mayor ordered. "If all the men do not repay the money at least we shall have a record of their names and will know how to deal with them if they apply for relief next winter."

RADIOPHONE IS PUT ON FISH STEAMER

Wireless Operator of Redwood, Now Coming Up Coast, Had One Installed.

The first radiophone to be used in the Pacific Fisheries, as far as is known, is that installed on the Pacific American Fisheries steamer Redwood, which left Bellingham on Saturday and is at the present time on its way up the coast bound for Squaw Harbor, Alaska, with cannery crews and supplies.

The instrument, which was given a trial a few days before starting, has a radius of about 1000 miles. The instrument was put in by the wireless operator for the entertainment of the crew and not for commercial use.

DAFFODIL BALL GREAT SUCCESS

Unique Decorations in Old St. Andrew's Hall for Annual Event of I. O. D. E.

The daffodil ball held last night at St. Andrew's Hall under the auspices of Queen Mary Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, was a great success. It was one of the most enjoyable events of the year, and those responsible are deserving of great credit for the large amount of effort they must have expended and for the excellent results obtained. Happily for the success of the affair the storm seemed to have kept away a good many who were intending to be present. The result was that there was just room for pleasant dancing. No one trod on the feet of his neighbor and yet there were enough present to make the event enjoyable and everybody danced. There were no waitflowers.

The one outstanding event of the evening was the decorative scheme and the manner in which it was carried out. Throughout the hall were suspended from the ceiling baskets of greenery and spring daffodils. Daffodils were also used beneath the windows and in other parts of the hall. There were hundreds of daffodils, giving that springlike freshness which goes so well with the pretty gowns of the dancers. The windows were hidden by yellow and green streamers and the yellow and green effects were everywhere. Everyone remarked on the beauty of the scene and the originality and artistic taste of those who conceived the scheme and carried it into effect.

D. C. Stuart of the firm of Parkin & Stuart installed fancy lights with good effect.

Supper was served in buffet style on the dance floor so that all were able to enjoy it at one time and eliminate the long wait which in former years has been an annoyance. The music was excellent and the floor in first rate condition. Added to that was the spirit of mutual enjoyment that is necessary at all such events. The medley dances were quite a feature of the evening. Lionel Holby, who was master of ceremonies causing much amusement by his humorous manner of calling the changes.

Mrs. David Thomson was convener of the decoration committee and was assisted by Mrs. D. C. Stuart, Mrs. W. H. Wilson Murray, Mrs. William Miller and Mrs. J. H. McMillan. Mrs. D. W. Morrissey, Mrs. D. McD. Hunter, Mrs. A. R. Holby and Mrs. W. S. Fisher were in charge of refreshments and Mrs. W. C. Orchard was convener of the invitation committee. Mrs. George Rorie and Mrs. J. H. McMillan presided over the punch bowl. Mrs. D. McD. Hunter, regent of Queen Mary Chapter, Mrs. S. P. McMorris, regent of the Municipal Chapter, and Mrs. W. S. Fisher received. Col. S. P. McMorris and Lionel Holby were masters of ceremonies and W. S. Fisher and D. McD. Hunter were in charge of the ticket taking at the door.

BABE RUTH IS GOLF PLAYER

Thinks Alertness of Vision Gained on Links Will Help Him.

CHICAGO, Apr. 18.—Golf helps the baseball batting averages, according to leading hitters, and Babe Ruth of the New York Americans thinks he may be able this year to equal, or even surpass, his home run record of 59 by reason of the alertness of vision gained on the golf links.

Carl Mays also expects to raise his batting average from .343, having reached that ratio from .320 since he took to the links between diamond contests. Other high average batsmen agree that while the golf stroke is different from that of the baseball bat, especially in that the baseball is moving rapidly in an uncertain line and the golf swing is at a stationary ball less than two inches in diameter with a small club head on an elongated shaft, it trains the eye to a greater keenness to meet the wiles of the expert pitcher.

In golf the player must stand still, and although he twists his body and rotates his hips, his eye must be glued on the ball so that his head can not be moved during the upward and downward swing if he hopes to get in a long, true shot. In addition to the immobility of stance and head, the rightly timed golf shot must be played with all the rest of the body and the arms relaxed between these two pivots. Even the grip must not be too tight, and there must be a snap of the wrists at the impact of the club with the ball.

Baseball Swing.
In baseball the swing is at a raudily hitting, considerably larger ball with a bat that has a longer hitting surface and which is thicker than a golf club, although having a rounded face. Many batters step into the ball, and grasping the bat tenaciously strike with all their body as well as their arms. There is little of the rather slow and deliberate back swing of golf, but the forward stroke in some ways resembles the well-timed sweep of the golf club, according to men who have played both games.

Lack of practice appears to be the main reason why Ruth and other star players do not play far golf; but they do not play a duffer game of golf.

Although he has played golf regularly only two years, Babe Ruth has driven 250 yards many times, and once he declared he sent a ball 325 yards, which is better than the average of such players as Francis Onizet and Evans. In fact the record is barely more than 100 yards. On the diamond Ruth's longest hit was 507 feet or 169 yards.

Sport Chat

Enthusiasm in tennis here is experiencing a greater ante-season boom this spring than ever before since the game was first played in the city. Many new persons have joined the tennis club and many more are planning to do so. If this condition continues, the club will find itself up against the necessity of building more courts which it has not yet provided for. The present plans provide for repairs and painting of the courts at the Acropolis hill which will result in the place having a much brighter appearance. If a couple or more courts could be built, still more people would be joining the club.

Fritz Schultz explains that the activities of the recently formed Prince Rupert Boxing Club are at a standstill for want of sufficient members. The quarters at the Windsor Hotel were selected for the work of the Club and Owen Fisher had offered to provide the necessary equipment but, with the membership list standing at but 18, it was decided to leave further action over for a while. It was not deemed advisable to go ahead with plans when the membership was hardly large enough to pay the rent of quarters.

Activities in baseball, football and tennis are to be rallied under the banner of the Smithers Athletic Club this season if present plans in the interior town go through. Provision was recently made for the addition of football representatives to the executive of the club and tennis devotees have also expressed their willingness to unite under the organization colors. I. A. Arnold has been elected as manager of the baseball club for the season and football enthusiasts have appointed J. G. Stephens as their representative. The first meeting of the club this season was held last Thursday night when plans and arrangements for summer sports were fully discussed.

NEW DEPUTY MINISTER FINANCE IS ABLE MAN

Biography in Vancouver World Tells of E. D. Johnson and Quotes Daily News.

British Columbia's new deputy minister of finance, Ernest D. Johnson, came to Victoria to be sworn in as deputy minister of finance in August, 1919, from Prince Rupert, where he had made more than a local reputation for himself in municipal service, says the Vancouver World.

During the days of the Grand Trunk Pacific construction, Frank Morse, general manager of the railway, appointed Mr. Johnson travelling accountant in charge of construction distribution. Nine years ago he was moved to Prince Rupert in charge of accounts there. He originated the system of accounting in Prince Rupert, which still remains the standard in use by the company.

Value to City.
In February, 1913, Mr. Johnson was made auditor for the municipality of Prince Rupert to re-organize the accounting system. A year later he was made city treasurer. Prince Rupert credits him with saving the municipality $1,000,000 during the lifetime of the adventures because of the ability to display white treasurer. The general manager of the Bank of Montreal and eastern bond houses commended his work.

Mr. Johnson has been prominent in the Union of B. C. Municipalities. He is considered an authority on municipal financing and for years has been known as a close student of taxation problems.

Daily News Quoted.
"Men of the calibre of Mr. Johnson are needed in the provincial service," says the Prince Rupert News of the new deputy minister. "He has shown himself so capable that he has secured the confidence of the whole community."

"Mr. Johnson has sufficient conservatism to keep away from the pitfalls that so often beset people who are handling money, but at the same time he has vision, something which financiers often lack. We look to see such useful work done for the province by Mr. Johnson."

Came From Cheltenham.
Mr. Johnson was born in Cheltenham, England, and took a course in the Royal Agricultural College, Cirencester. After leaving school he was with a grain firm and then an inspector of ranches attached to the treasury department. He came to Canada seven years ago and farmed for two years.

PROTECT NAAS RUN.
An informal conference was held recently at Vancouver, B. C., between C. D. Garfield, secretary of the Alaska Fish Commission, and Maj. J. A. Motherwell, Dominion Inspector of fisheries for British Columbia, to discuss more effective protection of the salmon runs in Southeast Alaska and Northern British Columbia waters. Nothing definite was accomplished, as the United States officials lack power under present laws to further restrict in Southeast Alaska.

RUSSIA IS DOING ILLEGAL TRADING WITH

Buying From Poland with Old Gold Coins and Diamonds.

WARSAW, April 14.—Poland and Soviet Russia are doing some trading despite their difficulty in arranging a trade convention.

For months Poland has been sending into Russia, by wagon and by packs on horseback great amounts of cloth and some food supplies, most of the business being carried on at night away from the beaten path where either Soviet guards or Polish soldiers are on watch.

In return the smugglers have been receiving some of the old Russian gold rubles, which peasants had buried as well as hides, furs and in some instances diamonds.

Dress material and bright colored shawls which the Russian peasant women wear over their heads on Sunday when they go to church are in greater demand than at any time since Russia's troubles began and, according to travelers, bring a fancy price once these goods are landed on the other side.

A Soviet Russian trade commission has been in Warsaw some time arranging purchases from the Poles and it was announced recently that the first consignment of goods purchased officially by the Soviets would leave soon for Moscow.

This consignment is made up chiefly of clothing materials manufactured in Lodz. The goods will be insured against theft, the insurance company furnishing armed guards to convoy the freight cars all the way from Warsaw to the Soviet capital.

Export Caviar.

Despite the famine in Russia the government has permitted caviar to be sent out of the country because of the high price it brings. There has been but

COULDN'T DO
HOUSEWORK
HEART WAS SO BAD

Many women get weak and run down and unable to look after their household duties owing to the heart action becoming impaired or the nervous system unstrung.

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy instead of sick and wretched. But how can a woman be strong and healthy when day in and day out she has to go through the same routine of work, sweeping, dusting, cooking, washing, etc.? Is it any wonder that the heart becomes affected and she gets irritable and nervous, has hot flushes, faint and dizzy spells, smothering and sinking spells and can't sleep at night?

To all women whose heart is weak and whose nerves are unstrung we would recommend

MILBURN'S

as the best remedy to tone up the system and strengthen the weakened organs.

Mrs. Daniel Beanson, Loganville, N. S., writes: "As I was troubled with a weak heart for nearly two years I am writing to tell you what your great remedy, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, has done for me.

My heart was so bad at night I could not sleep, I would take smothering spells, and was so weak I could not do my household work. I tried two doctors, but got no results. A friend advised me to try your pills. I used six boxes and am completely relieved. I think they are the best remedy for heart trouble there is."

little genuine Russian caviar on the world markets since the great war began.

In December last Russia exported to foreign countries through Latvia alone more than 150,000 pounds of caviar, some of which was sent to the United States. Other exports included hemp, flax, leaf tobacco, furs, unfanned hides, kerosene and bristles.

MANITOBA PROVINCE

WINNIPEG, April 14.—Liberals are preparing for the election which is to be held some time during the coming summer. A convention has been called to meet here on April 25 at which plans will be laid for contesting every constituency in the province.

The Progressives under their official organization are also preparing for a big campaign. There is a remnant of Conservatives but it is not thought they will figure largely in the election. Labor will be active in this city and other centres of population.

While the Legislature has not prorogued and Premier Norris and his cabinet still hold office, they hold their positions only temporarily since they were defeated in the Legislature.

BEARILOUSLY NEAR.

"I've been in camp," said one of a group in the local grocer's who were exchanging stories of adventure, "and only came down yesterday. One morning last week I struck the trail of a bear and followed it till about half-past four that afternoon before giving it up."

"What made you quit after putting in a whole day's work?" asked one of his listeners.

"Well, to tell the truth," replied the first speaker, shifting his weight ponderously from one leg to the other, "it seemed to me the trail was getting altogether too fresh."—Harper's Magazine.
