BRITISH ELECTORS SWARM TO POLLS TODAY

DEBATE ON YELLOW QUESTION CONTINUED YESTERDAY IN LEGISLATURE

Result of Election in Great Britain Matter Uncertain Speculation

LONDON, Nov. 15.—The electorate of Great Britain swarmed to the polls by millions today in England, Scotland and Wales to elect the fourth parliament of King George V's reign. The voting started at 8 o'clock this morning and by 9 tonight the new House of Commons will have been selected.

No eleventh hour developments have lessened the uncertainty with which the result is shrouded. The few prophets who ventured forecasts tied strings to their predictions. Therefore, it was something of a surprise to the public that Premier Bonar Law, in his final speech at Glasgow yesterday, discarded his native caution and declared he had "very considerable confidence" that the electors would today give him a working majority on which he could depend.

NOT IN FAVOR TURK DEMANDS

British Foreign Office Telegraphs to Italy and France Regarding Conference

LONDON, Nov. 15.—It is stated in authoritative quarters that the British Foreign Office has telegraphed to the French and Italian governments a memorandum to the effect that the main Turkish demands which will come before the Near East peace conference at Lausanne are not regarded favorably by the British government. According to the memorandum, Britain will stand by the agreements previously made with her Allies but is unfavorable to the three main Turkish demands, namely: for a plebiscite in Western Thrace, ratification of the Syrian frontier in favor of Turkey and abolition of the capitulations.

FORTUNE COMES AND GOES IN FEW HOURS

Young Paris Banker Wins 1,500,000 Francs at Deauville—Loses it all and now Under Arrest

PARIS, Nov. 15.—Starting with a capital of 24,000 francs, Auguste Dejean, a young employe of a Paris bank, won 1,500,000 francs in a few hours' play at the famous Casino at Deauville. He overplayed his luck, however, and in two days lost everything. Now he is under arrest, charged with embezzling stocks and bonds worth 670,000 francs from the bank. When taken by the police he had but six francs in his pocket.

MAN WASHED OVER FROM SCHOONER VANSEE BUT WAS RECOVERED

The American halibut schooner Vansee, Capt. Andrew Olsen, made port this morning from Ketchikan having been compelled to call in there on her return journey from the Westland waters to leave one of her crew, who had sustained rather serious injuries in a heavy storm encountered, for medical attention. The injured man was washed overboard during a hurricane which raged on Monday and it was with great difficulty that he was recovered. But for the splendid seagoing qualities of his craft and the untiring efforts of his crew, Capt. Olsen says he is doubtful if they would have weathered the gale at all.

BOB EDWARDS PASSED AWAY

Picturesque Editor of Rebellious "Calgary Eye Opener" Died Last Night

CALGARY, Nov. 15.—R. C. Bob Edwards, M.L.A. and editor of the Calgary Eye Opener, died last night from heart trouble induced by a severe attack of influenza last spring. Death came during sleep and the tempestuous journalist of such long standing passed away peacefully. He is survived by a widow and no children.

NO BEER CLAUSE THIS SESSION

Matter Will Likely Be Discussed By Legislature But No Action Is Expected

VICTORIA, Nov. 15.—While the government has made no announcements to that effect, it would seem as if there would be no beer clause inserted in the Liquor Act this session. There is a referendum law by which beer advocates can get proposed legislation before the House but they have not taken advantage of it.

The government is hoping to get the right from the Dominion to prevent importation into the province and thus give the present Liquor Act a good trial before next session. Then the members would be in a better position to vote intelligently. In the meantime, beer and light wine advocates would have a chance to prepare a petition under the referendum law. The matter will likely be discussed in the legislature during the present session but there seems to be little hope of action favoring beer.

DEFENCE WITNESS

The defence called Alex. Holmberg and Chas. A. Dolan. The latter stated that he had seen the constables at the bar between three and four that afternoon. They were drinking beer and had asked for whiskey but Killas behind the bar said he had none. When the officers went out Killas told the witness and his friends that the men had asked for Scotch.

YOUTHFUL VOTER IN BRITISH ELECTIONS

LONDON, Nov. 15.—A baby, nine months old, will be carried to the polls today to cast a vote in the parliamentary elections. The infant is one of those whose names appeared through errors in the list of registered voters.

HARRY KILLAS TRIAL TODAY

Evidence from Crown and Defence Witnesses is Taken

The case against Harry Killas, charged with selling whiskey at the Travellers' Club on the night of October 18, is being heard before Magistrate McElmoynt today in the police court. According to the crown witnesses, Constables Dixon and Harrison, they bought beer from the accused on the night in question and then each bought two drinks of whiskey at fifty cents a drink.

Dixon, in giving his evidence, stated that he and Harrison went to the club about 7.30 and found Killas behind the bar. There were three others at the bar and then one moved off. Harrison ordered a quart bottle of beer and paid seventy-five cents. Dixon then asked the accused for a "shot." Accused said "two" and the witness replied in the affirmative. Accused then went to a locker and took out a black bottle and poured out two drinks under the bar. These he set on the bar and the witness found it to be intoxicating liquor. They bought two more drinks of whiskey and left at 7.40 p.m.

L. W. Patmore, defending Killas, cross-examined the witness at some length. He found out that the witness had been in the club several times previous to that day.

"You just asked for a 'shot,' nothing more?" questioned Mr. Patmore. "I just asked for a 'shot,' I didn't see what brand it was but the bottle was black with a short neck," replied the witness.

Mr. Patmore then asked him if either of the constables had not said to John Dalberg at the bar that he was a pretty good fellow and had told him they were policemen. Dalberg had replied that he didn't give a who they were. Witness replied that nothing of the sort had been said in his presence.

Counsel's Queries

"Were you ever pickled in your life?" queried Mr. Patmore.

"Not that I know of," replied Dixon.

"You know that when a man gets pickled he thinks he is just as sober as anyone else?" suggested Mr. Patmore.

"Possibly you know more about it than I do," came the reply.

"I don't want any tip from the witness box," retorted the defence counsel.

Mr. Patmore then continued by asking him if he had ever seen Harrison drunk, and the witness said that he had not.

Mr. Hooper then rose to ask the witness if it was at all likely that he would tell his business to strangers while engaged in detective work and received a reply in the negative.

Constables Harrison when put in the witness box told a similar story adding that the men standing at the bar near him were pretty well "under the weather."

PERMANENT STREET GRADING FAVORED BY T. L. COUNCIL

The Trades and Labor Council at its meeting last night passed a resolution in regard to the problem of taxation and street grading. Further it was asked that the Labor Political organization make this the chief item of discussion at its next public meeting.

Attorney General Tells House of Oriental Menace Giving Figures to Show Industrial Penetration

VICTORIA, Nov. 15.—Hon. A. M. Manson, attorney general, made a comprehensive speech on the Oriental question in the Legislature yesterday afternoon urging not only rigid exclusion but also action to eliminate Orientals from the industries of the province.

Mr. Manson quoted figures showing that 2275 firms in the province employed 5691 Chinese, 3288 Japanese, 74 Hindus, and 71 Japanese women. In the industries 7 1/2 per cent of the logging employees were Orientals, 41 per cent lumber, 39 per cent mining, 54 per cent shingle making, 18 per cent baking, 39 per cent fish canning, 39 per cent fruit canning, 15 per cent coal mining and 37 per cent pulp and paper manufacturing. In Victoria 330 out of 2334 trade licenses were held by Chinese and they owned property in the city worth $1,500,000. The attorney general referred to the capture of the Ashcroft potato business by Orientals.

Mr. Manson declared that the people were careless in dealing with Orientals but the government was prepared to carry on the fight to the uttermost. The people of British Columbia, he said, should unite to combat the menace and impress an Ottawa necessity for exclusion and on the people here for elimination.

The British Columbia plant will be the largest on the continent it is said.

IMPORTANT DEAL SMITHERS MINE

Pennsylvania Man Bonds Cascade Group—$75,000 Figure in Deal

SMITHERS, Nov. 15.—Another important mining deal in this neighborhood was put through last week when Mark E. LeBlanc, of Seattle, and his partner, Alex. S. Miller of Smithers, granted an option on the Cascade group of claims to A. T. Harter, of Pennsylvania, for the sum of $75,000. These claims are situated four miles from Smithers on the Hudson Bay mountain, which is receiving so much attention just now in the mining world and which bids fair to develop into an extremely rich mineral area.

Mr. Harter, it is understood, represents mining interests in the Eastern States and was instrumental some years ago in getting the "Debuture" group in the Babine taken over by a Chicago syndicate.

Fascisti Of Italy Not Understood.

Although the new political party in Italy, the Fascisti, which recently gained control there and whose leader, Benito Mussolini, is now premier, has been receiving much publicity and the name for the past few months has been commonly enough seen, there are few people who understand exactly the origin of the party or its principles. The general idea is that it is a communist organization but that belief is rather far from the actual fact.

Fascisti Conceived In Principles Of Liberty.

The Family Herald and Weekly Star recently carried an interesting account of the inception and development of the fascist party and the part that Benito Mussolini plays in it. The article follows:

"A single twig can easily be snapped, but a bundle of them tied together cannot be broken save with much strength and dexterity. The Romans knew this and they tied a number of rods together, inserting an axe in the handle, and the victors carried this before the magistrate as the badge of his authority. This bundle was called fasces.

"One man cannot do very much working alone, but a number of men, bound together by a common purpose can accomplish a great deal. So the new party which took form in Italy, a body of men actuated by a single aim, called themselves Fascisti. The Italian likes a picturesque touch in all matters, and as Garibaldi had captured the popular imagination in '60 with his red shirts, so the Fascisti have adopted a black shirt.

"In 1914 when the war broke out Europe was divided into two camps. On the one hand was the Triple Entente—Britain, France and Russia—on the other the Triple Alliance—Germany, Austria-Hungary and Italy. But the third member of the Alliance refused to go to war.

"There was in Italy a body of men who realized that the war against Germany was a war against militarism, and who ardently desired that Italy should join the ranks of those fighting for Liberty.

"At that time a thirty-year-old man, Benito Mussolini, was editor of the Socialist organ Avanti. Mussolini believed in the internationalism, the universal brotherhood of labor; but the events of 1914 shattered these ideals. He became a supporter of the party demanding intervention, and was forced to relinquish his editorship of the pacifist socialist journal. He immediately started another paper, the Popolo d'Italia, and in this he called upon all who believed in Italian action to work together toward that end, no matter what their political color might be. "So the Fascisti were born.

Development Of Party After Great War.

When the war was over and the Bolshevik menace loomed over Europe the Fascisti turned their energies against their old foes, the Socialists. Their leader was the former Socialist editor, Benito Mussolini.

Now a curious thing happened. The Fascisti numbered about four hundred thousand men, well organized and armed, owning motor lorries, accustomed to war and enured to its hardships and horrors. To put them down would mean putting the whole of Italy under martial law, and from this the Italian government shrank.

So the Fascisti waged war upon the Socialists, yet their leader, a former Socialist himself, has never denied the syndicalist origin of his party, and has long been known to be aiming toward a republic. In fact it would have surprised no one if the Fascisti and the Socialists amalgamated.

The Socialists, it is known, were weary of their official leaders; while Mussolini was aware that the Fascisti could not develop unless it got into touch with the working classes, and unless it created economic organizations.

Italy's various statesmen endeavored in vain to form a government in the face of the energetic Mussolini, and eventually the King called upon the Fascisti leader to form a ministry. This he has done.

Past Has Been Opposition; Program Not Known.

The duty of an Opposition, it has been said, is to oppose, and this Mussolini's blackshirts have vigorously done in the past. In fact they have done little else, and consequently their constructive program, their economic platform, if they have one is unknown.

In foreign politics they are intensely national. According to speeches made before ascending to power they want Fiume; they will tear up treaties made with Adriatic nations; they will make the Mediterranean an Italian lake.

But those speeches were made while the Fascisti were still in Opposition.

It is probable that Benito Mussolini's government, if it survives the elections, will devote itself to ameliorating the present hard lot of the Italian workman and peasant, to making the budget balance—a quite a difficult task in itself; while in foreign politics it may do little more than maintain a "bold front" to the world.

Col. Peck was a passenger on the Prince Rupert this morning going south on a short business trip.

A crowded house at the West-home Opera house last night heard Ralph Smith and J. Duncan Ross discuss the five issues of the day in Canadian politics. Alex. M. Manson was the chairman and excellent speeches were given.

News comes from Granby that there are four inches of snow on the ground. Prince Rupert has yet to have its first mantle of snow this fall.

PECK CITIZEN VICTORIA NOW

Urges People of That Place to Cultivate Civic Pride and Public Spirit

VICTORIA, Nov. 15.—When I was in the north I hoisted for the north, but now I have been living for some months in Victoria I am hoisting for that city," declared Col. G. W. Peck, V.C., who addressed the Rotary Club last week here in remembrance of Armistice Day.

The Colonel told of the wonderful camaraderie of the war and the friendships that had been formed. He spoke of the community of interest in the war and asked if the same was being continued in civic life.

Following is the report of the address as given in the Victoria Colonist on Friday last:

A plea for a stronger and more aggressive community spirit, founded on faith in Victoria and a determination to give the city her rightful position as the best place to live and work in the Pacific Northwest, was voiced by Colonel G. W. Peck, V.C., D.S.O., before the Rotary Club yesterday at its luncheon in the Empress Hotel.

Col. Peck referred to the advertising of local bond houses, designed to strengthen the confidence of Victorians in their home city, and he declared that such advertising sounded the keynote of what should become the Victoria spirit. Civic loyalty, he declared, should be regarded as one of the first qualifications of every useful Victorian and he urged support of all movements calculated to hasten the city's advancement.

Public Spirit Needed

"What Victoria needs," he declared, "is more public spirit. There is no use looking for a finer place to live, because there is none. It is the duty of every one who makes his home here to work for Victoria and to see that his neighbor does his part, too, in promoting the community's welfare."

Colonel Peck applied the principles that had furnished the motive for fighting Prussianism in the war to the local community situation, and held that a successful war against the forces of pessimism and reaction would entail perhaps severe sacrifices. It could not reasonably be expected that Victoria would reach deserved place unless her citizens displayed teamwork in putting forward the city's interests.

Armistice Incidents

Col. Peck outlined in a graphic way some of his war experiences, particularly those relating to the Armistice period, and he described some of the situations at once amusing and pathetic associated with the Canadians' entry into the occupied area of France. He told of how French men and women alike surged around the marching Canadians and kissed them and cheered them on their way.

Mr. Armistage will arrive at the end of this week at Ocean Falls where he will succeed R. H. Leighton, forest ranger there, who is being transferred to Hazelton as forest supervisor. Mr. Leighton will be going to Hazelton in the course of about a fortnight's time.

The Coughs and Colds of Children

Only the mother knows how hard it is to keep the children from taking cold, they will get overheated and cool off too suddenly, get their feet wet, kick off the clothes at night, and do a dozen and one things the mother can't prevent.

A great many mothers are now giving their children

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

It is pleasant and nice for them to take and relieves the cough or cold in a very short time.

Mrs. J. Wilson, Portage La Prairie, Man., writes: "I have used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup for my five children. My little girl, two years old, had a very bad cold last winter, which I thought was going to give it to her and she was fine the next day. Also my baby, three months old, had a bad cold and I gave it to him. It cuts and brings up the phlegm, and is the best cough medicine I ever used."

ARMISTICE DANCE HELD SMITHERS

Every Detail of Affair Tended to Make an Unqualified Success

SMITHERS, Nov. 14.—The military dance held at the Town hall on Friday last to commemorate Armistice Day was an unqualified success. Sponsored by the local Veterans' who generously agreed to devote the proceeds to the Catholic Church, it was a season of fruitful activity from the word "Go" to the close at 3 a.m.

The hall was tastefully decorated, and the profession of evergreens gave an effect of pleasing yet subdued beauty, well in keeping with the occasion, as was also the display of the flags of the Allied Nations.

All the world and his wife were present, and it would be invidious to single out names, but special interest centred on the "boys" who were present in full force, making a brave display in their varied uniforms, and who by their "pop" and their solicitude for everyone's comfort, contributed in large degree to the success of the evening.

The sale of popples resulted in a goodly sum being collected for the upkeep of the soldiers' graves in Smithers and the funds of the local church received a considerable uplift from the general receipts.

The Grand March was a wonderful display, and the sounding of the "Last Post" an impressive item in a programme that will long be remembered.

Gray's orchestra rendered efficient service and the subject of many eulogistic comments.

Basketball and How to Play It

By Observer

FORWARDS (Cont'd)

Backboard Shot

There is another type of shot that is very much in vogue among experienced basketballers, though its effectiveness depends to a large extent upon the ability of the team to work the ball under the basket. I refer to the glancing shot off the backboard which is a sure point-getter if the forward has mastered the technique of giving the ball sufficient "English."

The shot is made by giving the ball a slight turn of the wrist as it leaves the hand, thus causing it to rotate against the backboard and rebound into the hoop. The distance between the player and the basket should be decreased wherever possible by a double as this shot is essentially an under-the-basket shot.

It is a shot that permits of many variations. It can be made either with one hand alone or with both hands. I have seen many forwards who shoot baskets with one hand while standing off the guard with the other. It can also be effectively used by bringing the ball over the right shoulder with both hands and playing a direct bank without English.

For Short Shots

Short shots made directly in front of or from the left side of the basket are made by jumping with arms extended, the ball being lifted to the finger tips and just over the rim of the basket. The start of the throw is naturally made with two hands but the left hand is usually withdrawn before the completion of the throw.

When coming in under the basket from the left the player may receive a pass too close to the basket. At such times an additional step, with a sharp half turn to the left, will bring him into a position facing the basket on the other side, thus giving him an opening for a backboard shot. The ball is then shot upward from the waist with a sharp wrist and forearm movement. A similar shot is used when coming in from the right.

It is well to remember in this connection that all backboards are not constructed of the same material and that the rebound of the ball will vary with the hardness of the material used. Some are of soft wood, others are hard and still others are of plate glass. A few test shots with the ordinary amount of spin will soon acquaint you with the amount of rebound to be expected from a strange backboard. A slight twist of the ball will not affect its course if it is evenly exerted but a ball sent spinning through the air is very apt to rebound sharply at different angles when striking the backboard.

Long Shots Bad

Long shots have won many games but they should not be resorted to unless a team is unable to penetrate the opposing defense or unless the end of playing time is very near. They are usually forced shots, especially when made by young players who have not the strength to throw a great distance. The bad habits which are likely to develop from long shooting are banging the backboard and an uneven exertion of strength in the arms when throwing the ball. Players should at all times guard against the over-use of the right or left arm, as there must be an even push exerted if the flight of the ball is to be straight and true. Following up shots is an important offensive act as well as a defensive one. One should so time and direct one's action during the flight of the ball so as to be in an advantageous position to secure the rebound or to guard an opponent who has secured the ball. Short steps and an attitude of alertness will help to make this action possible.

Too quick a start will bring the player under the basket before the ball has descended. The rebound must be jumped for and the ball secured at the height of the jump and then tapped, pushed or shot before the floor is touched. One's position in securing the ball will determine which course must be adopted.

Sport Chat

The announcement that the basketball season is to open on Friday night is received with much pleasure in sporting circles. Players and fans alike have had little to keep them occupied for the past few weeks and the prospects of a good fast basketball season looks good to them. While the Exhibition hall may have its little faults as far as the staging of winter games is concerned, there will no doubt be good turnouts till the weather turns very cold, at least. The efforts of those who have the management of the games in hand is deserving of every support and fans can best give that support by attending the games and showing their enthusiasm. The players may be counted upon to do their share.

In the Senior League of the Basketball Association there are already three strong quintettes in the running. They should provide a number of real interesting hoop games during the coming season. Four teams are entered in the Intermediate League. The two last mentioned leagues should produce a high brand of basketball and little can be foretold of the possible outcome of their encounters.

The necessary registration forms have now been forwarded by the Association to the various basketball team captains and the stage is all set for the grand opening on Friday night. Forty-eight hours registration of players prior to the game is all that is required by the rules of the Association this year.

No Senior players will be allowed to play on an Intermediate team according to the rules and regulations of this year's basketball committee. However, players of the same club may be advanced on probation from Intermediate to Senior.

The defeat of the Vancouver Millionaire hockey team on Monday night on their home ice in the opening game of the Pacific Coast Hockey Association series by the Seattle Metropolitan, certainly upset the dope of the hockey fans. According to reports the Puget Sound sextette won the game on their merits and not by a mere fluke as the score was eight goals to two.

The six-man game played in the opening game was something new for the coast fans in the regular series. It makes the game much faster than the old style and was put into force in view of the same style being played in the east. Without a full account of the game at hand it looks as if the Vancouver team sorely missed the service of Hughie Lehman, their crack goalie whom they are pleased to call "Old Eagle-Eye." A substitute man was brought from the prairies to fill the regular net guardian ar-

PROTESTS AGAINST SWARM OFFICIALS

Five Hundred Officials Under Austrians Where One Under Hungarian Rule

VIENNA, Nov. 15.—When the boundary line was drawn between Austria and Hungary last summer, the little Burgenland watering place of Sauebrunn, not far from Vienna, fell to Austria. Now its inhabitants have petitioned the Austrian government for relief from the burden of officials thrown upon them.

They state that under Hungarian rule one official administered the commune, while now they have 500 Austrian officials and their families as rulers. They declare that these officials have requisitioned the hotels and many villages and while formerly the resort averaged 8,000 visitors every season, this summer it had only a few hundred.

VANDERHOOF

Mrs. A. St. Louis, of Smithers, and formerly of Vanderhoof, has been granted a divorce from her husband, Jerry St. Louis, on a charge of neglect.

Isaac H. Jones was awarded five dollars damages and costs for slander against his uncle Joseph Redmond in the Supreme Court at Prince George last week. The plaintiff asked for $10,000 damages.

Two carloads of settlers' effects arrived at Vanderhoof last week. One came from Goleville, Sask. for J. Garey and the other from Youngstown, Alta., for M. E. Turner.

The baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Richards sustained painful injury on Friday by having her left arm severely scalded.

Frances Foote, daughter of Howard Foote, Stellaes, had the misfortune to break her left leg above the knee while playing Saturday morning.

On Thursday evening nearly sixty people attended the Thanksgiving supper in Christ Church, Chilco, held under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

FUSSING IN AUTOS STOPPED BY CITY

Distressing Edict Goes Into Effect at Detroit—Sitting on Laps is Barred

DETROIT, Nov. 15.—A grievous surprise has been sprung on the students of the University of Michigan who own automobiles and use them for "parties."

A newly adopted city ordinance has gone into effect which provides:

"No more than two persons shall occupy the front seat of any automobile, except that a child under ten be the third person. No person shall be seated in the lap of the driver nor shall the driver be seated in the lap of another, and the driver shall keep both hands on the steering wheel at all times the car is in motion."

The city attorney states that the reason for the ordinance is that the majority of accidents in the city have been traced to the students, and they have always been found to have had one or more companions of the fair sex in the front seat with them.

ALICE ARM

A heavy fall of snow last week forced prospectors developing properties at the higher altitudes to discontinue for the winter and they are now returning to town. Several properties at the lower altitudes are still being developed, however, especially in the vicinity of the Esperanza Mine.

W. S. Heidenrich, of Vancouver, W. G. Norrie-Lowenthal, of Hazelton, and L. C. McPherson, mining engineers who have been making investigations in the district, left for the outside last week.

The Alice Arm Debating Society last week argued out whether the greatest joy and happiness was to be derived from anticipation or realization. The realists, represented by Miss Zorka Sutlovich, J. Anderson and Morris Peterson, won over the futurists, team comprising Miss Nellie Hogberg, C. P. Reil and A. D. Yorke.

Logging operations under the auspices of Tretloway Bros. have commenced. Fred Miller last week secured a contract to get out two million feet and cutting will commence as soon as the camp is set up.

A Christmas Tree entertainment for Alice Arm children is being planned. The committee comprising Mrs. J. M. Morrison, Mrs. J. Wheatley, Mrs. J. Laidlaw, G. W. Bruzy, G. Young and R. F. McGinnis.
