Both announcements were taken to mean that the Liberals are determined to take active steps to regain lost political prestige.

REPORTS ON CONVENTION

Managing Secretary Birch Tells Hospital Board of Matters Taken Up

Many matters of interest in hospital affairs were referred to at last night's meeting of the board of directors of the Prince Rupert General Hospital by H. W. Birch, managing secretary, in his report on the annual convention of the British Columbia Hospitals' Association in Vancouver which he recently attended. There were over 100 delegates registered at the convention, Mr. Birch reported.

Among matters taken up and reported upon by Mr. Birch were the relation of doctors and hospitals in regard to observance of hospital regulations, etc., economies in surgical service, use of operating rooms, service departments of smaller hospitals, hospital finances generally, endowment of wards, patients of chiropractors and osteopaths, fumigation of rooms following infectious diseases, conduct and quality of work of private nurses in hospitals, sweepstakes for hospital benefit on which no action was taken by the convention, length of holidays for members of nursing staffs, nursing routine and responsibility in cases of surgical mistakes in hospital operating rooms which was placed by the convention on the doctors rather than the nurses.

Mr. Birch expressed his appreciation at having been sent to the convention which he had found a very instructive and interesting gathering. It was regrettable that members of the board had been unable to attend.

The report was adopted and referred to the finance committee for consideration of matters of local interest. Appreciation was expressed by W. M. Brown, chairman of the board, to Mr. Birch for the excellent report.

After the tenders are in, the board will be called together, possibly at a special meeting, to award the contracts.

The work will be financed as far as possible out of current funds of the hospital but, if these do not suffice, the balance will be met out of a standing hospital extension fund which now contains about $9000. HUDSON BAY ROUTE

Commenting on the Hudson Bay grain route the Financial Post of Toronto says in part:

"In comparison with the St. Lawrence route, insurance both on hulls and cargo on the Hudson Bay route is about ten times greater. The shipping season on the St. Lawrence extends throughout six months of the year. On the Hudson Bay route, the normal season, when insurance can be obtained, extends only for about 50 days. Hull insurance is granted for the complete season and not for a single voyage. Thus a vessel trading into the St. Lawrence would pay an average premium on the hull of about four percent. Taking an average tramp ship this works out at $4,000. But for this premium the ship can make a dozen voyages, reducing the cost per voyage to about $330. The lowest premium on hulls on the Hudson Bay route is three and a half percent. The cost for an average tramp ship would be $3,500 and as only one voyage is possible this full burden must fall upon one cargo. The comparison, therefore, is between $330 for the St. Lawrence and $3,500 for Hudson Bay.

"With regard to cargo insurance a typical case is given in a shipment of liquor imported by one of the western liquor commissions. The insurance, actually paid, on the Hudson Bay route was $314 whereas the premium on the St. Lawrence route would have been only $38.

"Obviously the new route cannot succeed unless insurance rates are reduced. And the sinking of the Bright Fan will effectively check any trend toward lower rates as far as the underwriters are concerned. Looking back over the history of the new route and, having regard to the strong political pressure exerted upon the government to pour tens of millions of public funds into the project, it may be anticipated that the next move will be a strong agitation for state insurance. It would, indeed, be folly for the federal government to bow to such a demand. Enough money has been thrown into this venture already."

It might have been pointed out that the Prince Rupert route is open all the year round, the insurance is light, the pilotage easy and the risk correspondingly small. Why not a little more boosting for this route just now?

PROPOSALS FOR BRITISH COLUMBIA PROGRESS BY LIBERALS OF PROVINCE

3. That a national banking system be established.

Unemployment

4. That nobody must be allowed to want for food, clothing and shelter and that useful public works be undertaken to this end.

8. That the railways minister safeguard the public investment in the P. G. E. by an aggressive policy to insure it an associate part in any railway connecting the Peace River with the Pacific Coast.

Development of Industry

9. That governmental effort be made to extend markets for B. C. industries.

10. That efforts be made to expand the profitable tourist industry, particularly by maintaining highways in a state of efficiency.

11. That the government make available lands in classified areas free of charge to those expressing a desire to engage in agriculture.

12. That a board representing producer, dealer and consumer be established to recommend a plan for marketing agricultural products on a basis that will make the industry capable of sustaining itself in line with other basic industries.

Financial

13. That municipal taxation and revenue be reviewed to the end that an equitable adjustment be made as between provincial and municipal revenues and expenditures within municipal credit.

14. That vigorous efforts be made to reduce interest charges as far as possible without impairing provincial credit.

15. That provincial taxation be revised with a view especially to increasing exemptions on small wage-earners.

16. That provincial finances be reorganized to keep expenditures within revenue.

17. That the Dominion be asked for a royal commission to adjudicate outstanding claims of B. C. for increased federal subsidy and equalization of transportation charges.

Governmental

22. That cabinet offices be reduced to the minimum and representation in the Legislature be reviewed with regard to topography, community of interest and population.

Social

23. That educational policy be reviewed to put the educational system on sound basis, democratic in principle, and that any approach to the caste system of special privilege for the wealthy, encouraging child labor, be denounced.

In addition to these the president made the following appointments to committees of the whole: Entertainment—J. Simpson. Membership—A. R. Nichols. Publicity—H. Forrest. Track and Field—G. Coverdale.

Had Good Year

In submitting his annual report of the organization, the president, Mr. Tobey, spoke of the complete harmony that had marked the activities of the previous year. Despite diverse conditions recreational activity in all branches had been quite exceptional. The spirit of helpfulness and co-operation indicated the good resulting from the addition of the chairman of the various committees to the elected executive.

He said: "The whole scheme of nature composing God's universe is based on companionship, comradeship, friendliness, helpfulness and wholehearted services to each other. This feature is evidenced from the lowest form of life to the present exalted position of humanity today. It is not good to live alone or merely for our own pleasure or advancement. To get our full share of life's gifts and benefits we must of necessity consider our fellow man. If we adopt this code, happiness and contentment will be our reward all the days of our lives."

Money is scarce yet she has pretty clothes

"You always look as if you had just stepped out of a fashion sheet. Yet money is none too plentiful with you. How do you do it?" the neighbors were always asking Mrs. Burnette. One day she told them. "My secret of pretty clothes is simple. When my dresses, blouses and underthings become faded with much washing, I renew their color beauty by a simple rinsing in Diamond Tints. These wonderful tints are made by the makers of Diamond Dyes which you know are the best dyes made for dark colors. Diamond Tints are for light shades. They need no boiling and they last through repeated launderings. All you need to do is to rinse your things in Diamond Tints. You can get such lovely shades by using them. So you see," said Mrs. Burnette, "pretty clothes are as easy for you to have as for me."

Low Prices Feature Weeks' Halibut Business—American Landings Ahead of Last Year—Bird Hunting Season Opens

Following a week or so of quite encouraging bids, lowest prices of the season were paid for halibut at Prince Rupert during the week ending yesterday. The lowest price of the week for Canadian halibut was 3.5c and 2c which the Eric Roy received for 9,000 pounds while the low price for American fish was 2.5c and 2c which the Kanaga was paid for 43,000 pounds. On account of the exceptionally low prices, a number of large American boats refused to sell at Prince Rupert and went on to Seattle in the hope of getting better bids. The top price of the week for Canadian fish was 5c and 2c which the Livingstone and Viking I received for catches of 5,000 and 6,500 pounds respectively. For American fish the high price of the week was 4.8c and 2c which the Onah received for 10,000 pounds.

Up to yesterday landings at Prince Rupert for the 1932 season had reached a total of 13,531,850 pounds as against 14,936,740 pounds at a similar date last year. American landings were slightly in excess of last year with a total of 9,605,600 pounds as against last year's 9,467,340 pounds while Canadian landings for this year to date were 3,926,250 in comparison with last year's 5,469,400 pounds at a corresponding date last year.

In an official bulletin issued by the Chief Supervisor of Fisheries for this coast, the salmon pack for the British Columbia coast up to October 1 this year is placed at 974,529 cases as against 658,320 cases at a similar date last year. Per varieties, the pack this year and last is given as follows:

Cohoe	139,816	68,180
Pinks	215,338	201,080
Chums	245,471	54,032

Per districts, the packs for 1932 and 1931 are put as follows:

District No. 3	137,613	138,746

The long Thanksgiving holiday week-end saw many deer hunting parties out, no less than sixteen Prince Rupert Rowing & Yacht boats having been absent from the Club floats last Sunday on hunting bent. While some deer were brought in results can by no means be said to have been spectacular and a good deal of travelling was involved in the most of cases where game was obtained.

The bird hunting season opens this week-end and, undoubtedly, there will be at least some of the more enthusiastic duck and goose hunters away for an early start. Weather prospects are none too

SAYS BOY WAS WORKING

Editor, Daily News:— At the last city council meeting, a member of the committee of the National Unemployed Workers' Association made a statement to the effect that there were children of school age working for relief on the city.

This was denied by the city engineer who stated that no one under the age of 19 was doing so.

We have information that, there is a boy by the name of Eckhardt who is not at school because he cannot get books, who has worked on the city for the past two weeks.

This boy is 15 years of age and, we believe, could not possibly be taken for 19 by the engineer or any other person.

Hoping that you will print this in your valuable paper, as a direct refutation of the engineer's statement.

A SATURDAY SERMON

The Assize of God

(By Rev. Canon W. F. Rushbrook, St. Peter's Anglican Church)

It is probable that every man, whether he believes in the unique claims of Jesus or not, is at least familiar with His history as given in the first four books of the New Testament. If not, then he is a man lacking in erudition, for Jesus is by all acknowledged to be "The Man" of history.

Richard M. Bucke—an outstanding philosopher, a Canadian by birth, and one who does not believe that Jesus is Divine—yet has this to say of Him:

"The superiority of Jesus to ordinary men consisted (among other things) in intellectual acuteness, moral elevation, all embracing optimism and a sense (or the sense of) immortality."

If then, you are familiar with the Gospel of Matthew, Chapter XXV. (if not get your Bible and read it) in verses 37 and 44 you will find the following quotations from a parable of Jesus, there narrated:

"Lord when saw we Thee an hungered and fed Thee—"
"Lord when saw we Thee an hungered and did not minister unto Thee—"

Here is commendation for good deeds unconsciously performed. Here also is condemnation for unconsciously neglected duties.

In both instances, the deeds mentioned, or lack of them, have little or no moral significance in the social world about us, yet do they determine our eternal destiny.

Many men rub shoulders daily with the world's sorest needs yet do not realize them. They have willfully blinded their eyes and closed their hearts. A man, a dog, a stone are all in the same category.

"A primrose on the river's brim,
"A yellow primrose was to him,
"And it was nothing more."

Blind to Inspiration

The man whose eyes are blind to nature's beauty misses a great inspiration to nobility of thought. The man who is dead to humanity's appeal has wholly lost the meaning of life. He has murdered his own soul and in the process has trampled upon the rights of others. No man liveth to himself.

God created us with eyes to see and hearts to feel. Their correct functioning is dependent upon our wills. If they do not function correctly we alone are responsible. He then is degenerate who excuses his shortcomings by saying, "O, it's just habit."

On the other hand, the one who has trained his will—say in accord with the will of the man Jesus Christ, so that its output is habitually along the lines of compassion and sympathy—one to whom it has become second nature to give his life in service for others—such a one has "passed from death unto life and saved his soul alive."

The saved soul is not the result of good works. The good works are the result of correct soul life, lived in harmony with Him who knew no sin—the man, Jesus Christ.
