LAUSANNE CONFERENCE WEATHERS CRISIS

CONSERVATIVE MEMBER FAILS TO FOLLOW UP HIS ALLEGATIONS IN OPEN

Esling Backs Down on His Charges so P. G. E. Enquiry Falls Through

VICTORIA, Dec. 9.—The Pacific Great Eastern Railway investigation fell through yesterday when W. K. Esling, member for Rossland, first changed his allegation from against the government to the Northern Construction Co. and then refused to give evidence under oath in regard to the information he said he had against the company. He said that he would not say the government had allowed wrongful payments and he had not intended his remarks as a specific charge. He did think, however, that wrongful payments had been made amounting to over $1,000,000 and the books and officials of the company could not be summoned at this late date. The Premier should be asked to hold an investigation after the session was over. Unless he could get the Northern Construction officials and books, he Esling would refuse to go ahead.

CONFERENCE OF PREMIERS OPEN

Premier Poincaré Addressed Gathering at London Today

LONDON, Dec. 9.—The conference of the Allied premiers had a two hour session here this morning when the heads of all four delegations, British, French, Italian and Belgian, addressed the gathering. Premier Poincaré of France insisted that France's great interest must be recognized. He declared that the German reparations question had arrived at a stage where something radical must be done. It is understood that Premier Poincaré, towards the close of the session, said that France would consent to a moratorium of two years from Germany if certain economic guarantees accompanied it.

PRISON GUARD IN DUBLIN WAS SHOT

Two Students Entered Hospital Seeking to Liberate Prisoner but Without Success

DUBLIN, Dec. 9.—Two men, apparently students seeking to liberate a prisoner, entered a prison hospital yesterday and ordered the police officer guarding the prison to throw up his hands. When the officer raised an alarm, the students shot and wounded him and escaped.

Premier Oliver was called and sworn. He declared that the allegations were absolutely untrue. He, as the responsible minister, had been in close touch with the chief engineer as to the progress of the work and methods of payment. The Premier explained that the contractors were paid commissions on the actual cost not to exceed the unit prices. If the work was done for less than the unit price, the contractors received a bonus of 25 per cent. All accounts and books were in the parliament buildings and the evidence was there to prove all payments had been correctly made.

ASTORIA FIRE SMOULDERING

Relief and Reconstruction Starts—Public Buildings Unharmed

ASTORIA, Ore., Dec. 9.—Amid the smouldering ruins of the city's business district, relief activities and preliminary work toward reconstruction began at dawn today. There were a thousand fires scattered about the devastated area during the night and sailors with fixed bayonets guarded the vaults of the burned banks. The spectre of the fire bug rose from the ashes of the wrecked city and there are many rumors which the authorities are attempting to run down. All the public buildings were unharmed save from broken glass caused by the dynamite explosions.

Optimism Reigns at Lausanne After Turkey and Russia Fall Apart on Dardanelles Demands

LAUSANNE, Dec. 9.—Optimism reigns here today for the Near East conference has weathered its most difficult session to date.

Ismet Pasha's statement yesterday of the Turkish views in connection with the Dardanelles question brought a reply from Lord Curzon, British foreign minister, which resulted in a general clearing of the conference atmosphere. Turkey has apparently broken away from Russian control and Foreign Minister Tschitcherin and associates, although resentful of Turkey's failure to hold out for complete autonomy of the straits, are accepting the situation.

LABORITES UP IN ARMS

Over Execution of Rebels in Reprisal for Shooting of Deputy

DUBLIN, Dec. 9.—Labor members of the Dail Eireann are up in arms over the execution of Liam Mellows and other rebels yesterday in reprisal for the murder of Sean Males, the Free State deputy. President Cosgrave peremptorily refused to give them a statement on the government's attitude and ordered the chairman to proceed with the business of the House.

The labor members served a warning that they would press the matter further and said that the Free State's good name had been tarnished.

DAILY EDITION Saturday, Dec. 9, 1922.

Constructive Criticism Should Be Welcomed.

Constructive criticism should be always welcomed in the management of any country or city. In the past there has been too much criticism of acts and no suggestion of a better manner of doing things. It is, therefore, gratifying to note that the recently-organized United Labor Party of Prince Rupert has, through its policy committee, laid before the public a number of suggestions for the improvement of the community as a whole. There was a time when the laboring man had no voice in the government of the country but today every citizen, whether he be a captain of industry or the lowliest digger of ditches, has a right to say who shall control the affairs of his city and how it will be done.

There are still many who take the attitude that the country owes them a living without doing any work and who are always ready to knock the acts of those in office. Now the laboring class of Prince Rupert has organized and is showing very good judgment in formulating policies for its own good as well as for their fellow citizens.

Labor Endorses Economy and Co-ordination.

The first policy which the Labor Party urges is that of economy. While it has not been officially set before the public, they will discuss, in the near future, the advisability of submitting a referendum to the electorate providing for the reduction of the city council to a mayor and five aldermen. At present there are eight aldermen sitting in the council. Why there should be so many, many citizens do not understand. It is questionable if such a condition is in line with the cry for retrenchment in civic affairs.

The labor interests also favor the plan of co-ordination as far as possible in the administration of school and police affairs. They advocate the idea of encouraging a candidate to run for the double office of alderman and school trustee or alderman and police commissioner. The various elective boards of the city often deal with matters which affect the city as a whole and therefore, to insure a closer co-operation between these boards and the council, it is sometimes desirable that the trustees and commissioners should also be members of the city council.

Co-ordination Also Has Disadvantages.

Of course, there is a danger that co-ordination of offices might lead to close corporation methods. The council may often act as a check on the school board or the public commission and this check would, to a large extent, be lost if the members of either body all held office in the city council.

Civic business of the past year would illustrate this. Without casting any reflection on the school board, it can hardly be concluded that the public as a whole would have been satisfied if the members of the school board had all sat on the city council this year.

Then again, the school trustees and police commissioners have a good deal of peculiar departmental work to do that requires both time and thought. So has the city council. It is doubtful if many citizens would wish to accept dual tasks and it is still more doubtful if as much efficiency would be obtained by those who did.

Co-ordination has its disadvantages as well as its advantages and it is doubtful if much is to be gained by means of it.

Labor Platform Is Not Exclusive.

After all, the platform of the Labor Party as submitted last week is nothing more than a common-sense platform, one that would be approved by many citizens outside of the ranks of labor. On its face, it provides for honest, economic and constructive methods of civic administration and that is what most everybody wants. It is not to be concluded that such a platform as the Labor Party advances would be put into effect only by Labor legislators in the city hall.

PLAY TONIGHT IS FINE ONE GET OUT AFTER WHAT YOU WANT

"The Three Musketeers" Places Fairbanks in Class by Himself as Actor-Producer

The audience at the Westholme Theatre last night was transported backward into the ages a distance of three hundred years through the medium of Douglas Fairbanks' picture, "The Three Musketeers."

Flashing swords, great sacrifices and daring deeds of heroism make this one of the most thrilling pictures. The production is perfect and the direction all that could possibly be asked for.

The story, based on Alexander Dumas' greatest novel, has to do with the plot of Cardinal Richelieu to bring about the downfall of Queen Anne of Austria who with King Louis XIII. ruled France in the Seventeenth Century. Being the power behind the throne, Cardinal Richelieu was jealous of the influence exerted by the Queen. In order to discredit the Queen, the Cardinal conspired to involve her in an affair with the Duke of Buckingham, prime minister of England.

His plot was frustrated through the heroic work of D'Artagnan and his loyal friends, the three Musketeers, in the most amazing series of adventures, duels and thrills that have ever been pictured.

Douglas Fairbanks' work as D'Artagnan entitles him to a position on the topmost rung of the ladder of fame. Those who have had their doubts as to Mr. Fairbanks' ability as an actor of dramatic roles will quickly discard these doubts when they watch his presentation of this character. He is more restrained, by far more dramatic than in anything he has ever done before. His love-making is of the sort that rings true; it is neither sly nor over-done. The scene in which he comes to the Queen exhausted but with the jewels he was sent to recover is one of the most dramatic and realistic ever seen on either stage or screen. The picture is being repeated tonight.

That is Advice of B. Brynildson of Bella Coola to Prince Rupert

FLOUR MILL SUGGESTED

Ocean Falls-San Diego Steamers Should Make Headquarters in North

(By H. F. Pullen.)

VICTORIA, Dec. 9. — "Why don't you people get right after a grain elevator, a flour mill and a line of steamships out of Prince Rupert?" inquired B. Brynildson of Bella Coola, when I met him today. Mr. Brynildson lives at Bella Coola and has lived there for the past 28 years. An old timer in Prince Rupert is one who has been there about fourteen years but here is a man who has lived in his community for twice that length of time.

I explained to Mr. Brynildson that already we had been urging just what he mentioned with the exception of the flour mill.

"If you have a grain elevator there is no reason why you should not have a flour mill as well," he declared. "You can operate a flour mill just as cheaply in Prince Rupert as in any other part of the country. If I were you I should get right after it. You should have an elevator before one is built at Vancouver. Vancouver wants to hog everything."

Mr. Brynildson then went on to suggest that the three Canadian Government vessels plying between Ocean Falls and San Diego should sail from Prince Rupert and make their headquarters at that port. He understood a fourth steamer was to go on the route and all those vessels outfitting at Rupert would create considerable business and improve conditions there. "Nobody gets anything these days unless they go out after it," he declared. "You will have to go after what you want persistently or you will never get it." Now you have your new dock and a new business-like manager for your railway, you ought to have a good town. I know no place that has a better outlook for the future than has Prince Rupert."

MRS. STOCKDALE IS HONORED BY JUNIOR CHOIR AT SURPRISE

Twenty-three members of the Methodist Church Junior Choir joined in a surprise party last evening on Mrs. B. Stockdale, Borden Street, as a mark of their appreciation of her services in connection with their activities. A great evening was spent at games and singing. Delightful refreshments brought by the guests were done full justice to. On behalf of the Junior Choir, Miss Winnie Dobb presented Mrs. Stockdale with a handsome copy of the Methodist Hymnal. Mrs. Stockdale suitably replied.

Stomach Trouble
"Indigestion"
 Relieved by
Burdock Blood Bitters

The sufferer from dyspepsia, indigestion or other stomach troubles who has to pick and choose his food is the most miserable of all mankind.

Even the little that is eaten causes much torture, and is digested so imperfectly it does but little good.

Before you can eat heartily and enjoy your food, you must put your stomach right so that it will manufacture its own digestive ferments.

Mr. Wm. Kruschel, Norden, Man., writes: "Some time ago I had quite a serious case of stomach trouble, indigestion. I could scarcely eat anything, outside of some light food, and even then I generally had pains after each meal. I tried many different medicines, but without any improvement, and had almost given up hope of ever being well. A neighbor recommended Burdock Blood Bitters, and after using it a short time I felt much better, so I continued to use it until I was completely relieved. I can honestly say that B. B. B. has done wonders for me after all other medicines failed."

GROCCER MAY SUCCEED MILKMAN IN DUTIES

Doctor Professors Predict That Era of Dried Milk is Coming

LONDON, Dec. 9. — (By Canadian Press). — Some day the milkman may vanish from the earth and the grocer fill the place that may never know the milkman again. Some time in the future the milk trade, as it is in these days, may be a thing of the past, and people may obtain their milk from the grocer in a dried form. Dr. Leonard Hill made the suggestion of this possibility at a recent sitting of the National Milk Conference in London.

Dr. Leonard Hill is Director of the National Department of Applied Physiology, National Institute of Medical Research at Mount Vernon, Hampstead, and was formerly a member of the Army Medical Advisory Board. He was serious in his suggestion that dried milk might yet take the place of the lactated fluid, and he expressed himself in favor of this.

Best Way Out
Dr. Dreyer, Professor of Pathology at Oxford, also pronounced for dried milk. He said it was the best way out for the mass of consumers in large cities. This was in connection with a discussion on pasteurization on which conflicting views were expressed at the National Milk Conference.

Dr. Dreyer leaned towards absolute sterilization and suggested that under such a system two of the three vitamins would not be impaired. If the third suffered, he said, its place could easily be taken by a few drops of orange or tomato juice. The danger of pasteurization, one of the speakers said was in giving false confidence. The process should be allowed only under definite control, and all pasteurized milk should be sold with its age stated on the bottle.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Straus, of New York, well known advocates of pasteurization, said they had discovered in London so-called pasteurized milk which still contained dangerous micro-organisms. Mr. Straus advocated the use of milk bottles with rounded ends, so that they could not be left to stand open, exposed to the air. Several medical officers of health made plans for more investigation before pasteurization was decided upon. Sir Daniel Hall, Chief Scientific Advisor of the Ministry of Agriculture, expressed the view that it was "easy to be unnecessarily scared by bacteria." Dirt in milk was a bad thing, he admitted, but what the people need is more milk.

Thomas Dewey, Indian Agent at Massett, reached the city this morning from Victoria on the Prince Rupert. He will go to Massett on the Prince John tonight.

WHAT TO HAVE IN THE FAMILY MEDICINE CHEST

A Safe Remedy for Colds Absolutely Essential: the Capsule Form Ideal

In the home of practically every reader there is some member of the family with a cold. These are the days when colds are common, too, often they are looked upon as "mere colds," and nothing is done to prevent further trouble. Yet a cold which at first seems to have no cause for alarm will sooner or later lodge in the lungs, and then the trouble begins.

At the first symptoms of a cold or grippe, start taking Grip Fix. You will be surprised at the relief it gives and the quick results with which it completely breaks up the most tenacious cold. Grip Fix has been used everywhere in Canada for ten years, and no remedy is better or more favorably known. Grip Fix comes in capsule form, convenient to keep or carry, easy to take. In this way a cold can be cured in a single night. Thousands of cases prove it—an unfailing record of success. Get Grip Fix from Orme's Drug Store Ltd. See a box.

Her Heart Skipped Every Third Beat

Mrs. James Burleigh, 248 King St. E., Chatham, Ont., writes:—"I think it my duty to let you know what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me. I suffered for years with palpitation of the heart, my nerves were very bad, and I could not be left alone at any time. I doctored for over a year, and the doctor said my heart was very bad as it skipped every third beat.

I gave up, just at this time, and then my mother advised me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, saying my eldest brother had been relieved by using them when he was very bad with his heart and nerves. I got a box and started to take them, and when I had used it I felt a lot better; could sleep a little and felt stronger. I continued taking them for about three months, and felt better than I had for years.

When I think of the misery and suffering I went through before I started Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, I feel like letting everyone know what they did for me." Price 50c a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Sport Chat

A few local curling enthusiasts have been spinning the irons this week on the site of the G.T.P. Hotel on Second Avenue. The ice has been excellent and, although the sheet is a little short some good sport and practice has been obtained. It is possible that a curling club may be formed in the city and then the next thing will be outside competition. Rev. Dr. Grant, who is one of those who has been out, is an enthusiastic curler and in the course of the several years he spent in the West has met to advantage with some of the experts at the game.

The quality of pitching served to American League batters in the past season was a noticeable improvement over that of the preceding year, even though the general batting average showed only a slight decline. Collectively the slubmen of the Chicago, Detroit and Philadelphia teams showed the greatest improvement but all of the other teams, save only Boston, were strengthened by the addition of one or more young hurlers whose work this season justifies optimistic expectations for the future.

Urban C. Faber, White Sox veteran, is leading pitcher as he was last year. Faber led all competitors in hurling complete games, 31; held opponents to the lowest average of earned runs per game, 2.81; worked the most innings, 353; won 21 games, the fourth largest number of victories and fanned 148 opponents, one less than Shoemaker of St. Louis, who led in strikes out with 149.

The most gratifying feature of the pitching was the work of a large number of young hurlers, some of whom speedily won places as regulars while the others turned in some excellent performances that they are regarded by their respective managers as certain to qualify for regular American League duty next season. Among the best of these are G. K. Murray, of the champion Yankees; Herman Pille, and Sylvester Johnson of Detroit; Hubert Penell, St. Louis; Phil Bodgood and G. D. Melveir, Cleveland; C. G. Robinson, G. V. Leverett and Ted Blankenship, Chicago; J. B. Brillheart, Washington and Fred Heimach and Warren Oaden, Philadelphia, Warren Collins of Boston, though in his third American League season, was allowed to take a regular turn for the first time and his work was sensational. The Texan won eight of his last nine starts for the eighth place Red Sox, six of his victories being in succession.

"Nearly Lost Baby With Croup"

Has Depended on Dr. Chase's Medicines for 25 Years

This letter from Mrs. Thompson gives you some idea of why so many thousands of people depend on Dr. Chase in the hour of sickness.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has a permanent place in the great majority of Canadian homes because it is the most certain relief from Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough and Asthma.

Mrs. Alex. Thompson, Whita, Alta., writes:—"When my first baby was born, I think she would have died from croup before we could reach a doctor, if it had not been for a neighbor who had a bottle of Dr. Chase's Linseed and Turpentine in the house. This relieved her almost immediately. That was 21 years ago, and Dr. Chase's Medicines have been friends of ours ever since."

Asthma

Mr. Thomas Bond, Shelldrake, North Shore, Que., writes:—"I suffered for years with asthma, sometimes being unable to lie in bed, but after a treatment of Dr. Chase's Linseed and Turpentine, I am now quite well and thank this medicine for restoring me."

The secretary to the Admiral of the Mosquito fleet reports that the amount of fish marketed through the Fish Exchange this week is considerably larger than last week and the morale of the crews is of a high order despite the somewhat exciting times that the fleet has been passing through during the past month.

Owing to the severity of fish, which has prevailed during the past few weeks, the price reached the peak for the fall fishing when the Fairway and the Yellowstone received 26c, and 14c, for their catches on Monday from the Atlin Fisheries and the Canadian Fish & Gold Storage Company respectively.

On Tuesday it took Capt. Louis Holm and his merry men, of the Helgeland, an American schooner to set up a record for the port when they sold 80,000 pounds of halibut for $11,700 getting 19.2c, and 10c, a pound from the Canadian Fish & Gold Storage Company, and the Atlin Fisheries. After taking on ice and bait and outfitting in port, the Helgeland left out again to the high spots in an endeavor to repeat the performance.

On Monday last the American coast guard cutter Smith left Ketchikan to search for the Seattle fishing schooner Washington, Pelican, Morenzen and Convention which are reported long overdue from the storm swept fishing banks of Southwestern Alaska. The Canadian fishery patrol boat Malaspina, Capt. Newcombe, also aided in the search but returned to port on Wednesday morning after a fruitless endeavor. Advice received from Seattle on Thursday morning expressed the opinion that the Morenzen, Convention and Valorous were lost more than a fortnight ago in the heavy storm which swept the northern fishing banks. The schooner Washington was reported as having reached Ketchikan safely. Although the Seattle fish men seem to have lost faith in the turning up of the boats still reported missing, local fishermen still have hopes that their comrades will turn up safely. They are of the opinion that the missing boats have suffered serious damage to machinery and were driven on to some out of the way beach far from communication with the outside world and that they will yet be found safe and sound. It is to be hoped that such may be the case. The community can ill afford to lose such men.

Tough Going

The American halibut schooner Tordenskjold, Capt. Paul Pederson, made port on Wednesday night and reports having experienced a very tough trip, although with all his trials and tribulations he was able to snatch up a few halibut amounting to 58,000 pounds. While in the northern waters, the sea became so rough that two of his crew were swept from the deck and were recovered only with difficulty. The behaviour of the crew was excellent and they faced all risks to save their comrades. Their names will be brought before the Admiral for suitable recognition.

While crossing Dixon's entrance, the boat ran into a particularly rough sea and the forecastle was torn from the mast. With all this excitement to their credit, Capt. Pederson and his men were in good spirits and only remained in port long enough to take on ice and bait and refit before they struck out again for nature's spoils. Can you beat it?

Bob Bryson—Hero

The hero of this story is Bob Bryson, and when you have read the story you will doubtless agree that he should be plastered with medals like a German field marshal. From accounts to hand it appears that Bob, in company with Art Ensson and Jack Keefe, were out on a little hunting jaunt. For some unknown reason, yet to be inquired into, Art and Jack clambered into the water. Do you think Bob wrote home to ask what he should do under the circumstances? Not a bit of it. He just peeled off his lid, turned up his coat collar, and disgracefully plunged into the icy depths. After an untold number of seal like dives underneath the boat his search was rewarded by Art hanging on to his hair. With supreme efforts he managed to get him into the boat and instructed him carefully how to hang on while he went back to look for Jack. After a prolonged search he found his missing comrade reclining on a rock some port below the surface. After awakening him he towed him to the boat which was still aloft. With herculean struggles Bob managed to deposit them both safely on deck when he turned his collar down and surveyed the scene. Of course the victims were much obliged to Bob for his timely help. This gallant escapade is being inquired into by the Admiralty department of the fleet and if found to compare favorably with similar rescues Bob will be awarded the Cross of the Hot Cross Bun with seventeen clasps which can be used for jant, suspension purposes if necessary.

Ye Merry Skaters

Yes sir, the skating season is with us again but for how long remains to be seen. The busiest launch in the bay these days is the Oh Baby, skipper Myhill-Jones, who has been working overtime giving his labors of love for the Salt Lakes. The fun commenced on Wednesday morning when a few pioneer skaters went over to try their luck. They returned with glowing accounts of the good ice. This started the ball rolling. A bunch of merry boys and girls took advantage of the opportunity and went across to the lake on Wednesday afternoon while, in the evening, the Oh Baby was crowded to capacity. It is said in well informed circles that an Oh Baby trip on a moonlight night in company with your best girl will bring out more romantic ideas than any other medicine yet known to man. In a case these days of all aboard for the Salt Lakes. By the way, we understand that the Myhill Fruit Cannery is in the hands of a competent manager while the founder is busy with the launch. Thus all Xmas orders will be promptly attended to.

Alma B. Out Again

The Alma B, Capt. H. Brouin, with chief mate Geo. Bedgers, is hunting the wily halibut once again. Cap. arrived in port during the week with 1400 pounds of the best fish in the world and after discharging the cargo and loading up with ice and bait, he hit out again to try his luck. Cap. is in excellent humor and speaks very highly of the excellent seagoing qualities of his crew.

Blix Returns

Capt. Norman Broadhurst of the power boat Blix returned to port on Wednesday after an extended trip in southern waters in company with George Glothier, government mining engineer, who was on a trip of inspection. The Blix had been absent from port for some three weeks.

Monty in Trouble

The gas boat Monty, of aboriginal fame, suffered damage recently as the result of getting caught in the ice in the vicinity of Dennis Arm, behind Kaien Island. It appears that Ad. Montegomery's son together with a chum, went on a little cruise and got tied in. The Silvery Spray and Karen went out to look for the wanderers and found them on the beach after having left the boat. On the boat being freed, it was discovered that some two feet of water was inside as the result of the hull being cut on the jagged edges of the ice.

The boys were safely returned to port none the worse for their somewhat exciting experience.

Santa Claus Returning

Santa Claus the second, in the person of Capt. Hoopes K. Freeman, skipper of the launch Natchong, is expected to return to port during the coming week. Cap. has been absent down the coast with a cargo of groceries and other necessities of life which he has been selling to anyone with the price. Incoming mariners reported having sighted the Natchong down the coast, and according to wireless messages received from Cap. most of the groceries have been disposed of. Upon the return of the old reliable she will stack up a pile of Xmas fare and will tilt down south immediately. We understand that Mr. Freeman has permitted his beard to grow, of a silver color, which gives him a swell Santa Claus appearance. He will doubtless make a great hit with the girls.

Hanaco Out Again

The power boat Hanaco, Capt. Braanen and engineer Reg. Green, was out for a trial run during the week. The course taken was a northerly one. Coming through Portland Canal she struck some pretty cold weather giving her decks the appearance of a polar region exploration vessel.

Paddy Raymond

The palatial residence of Paddy Raymond, at Lookout Point, has caused a good deal of controversy in nautical circles during the past week. Passing boats have noticed huge quantities of thick black smoke issuing from the funnels of Paddy's home and it is thought that he has gone into the smoked Irish apple business. It is known that Paddy was experimenting on the smoking of spuds, which he says are a swell dish in the Island of the shamrock. The Irish colony founded at Lookout

Point by this worthy gentleman is going ahead in good shape and up to date everything has passed off peacefully.

The Canadian National steamer Prince John, Capt. Nesden, arrived in port on Thursday morning via the Queen Charlottes. She had on board a cargo of cement for Albert & McCaffery.

Alten Breaks Shaft

The halibut schooner Alten, Capt. Dave Hassel, broke her tail shaft while fishing in the West-ard waters and was compelled to accept the assistance of the Vansoe and Scandia to enable her to get to Ketchikan. While having the Alten in tow the Scandia lost her rudder. Both boats are at present in Ketchikan getting fixed up.

Jim is Back

You may not believe it but this is a fact nevertheless, Jim Morrison, on the bridge of the Gaygeon, hove into port on Tuesday morning with 2,000 pounds of second hand fish. It was second hand because it passed through two pair of hands before reaching the hold. Don't laugh.

The power boat Paehena, Capt. R. Gammon, was up to Port Simpson during the week.

The Prince Rupert Boat House has completed the sale of a 55 h.p. Atlas engine to Todd & Sons Victoria. The engine will be installed in a cannery tug at Rivers Inlet.

R. G. Johnson, manager of the Inverness cannery, was in town during the past week on a trip of inspection and left for Victoria on the Prince George on Thursday night.

Art Oswald Gives Up

Capt. Art Oswald, of the Kayousin and Olaf's wife fame, returned to port on Monday morning having been warned off the deep sea fisheries for hogging the fish. According to the printed account of Art's catch he got 13,000 pounds and, as his little craft is only capable of carrying about 5,000 pounds, you can see for yourself that it was hardly fair to the other fellows.

When his comrades on shore heard of the amount of the catch they wondered how he got into port at all and thought he probably had a screw behind. However, upon careful enquiry it was found that a mistake had been made in the figures, which should have read 1,300. Capt. Oswald has given up the idea of mating Olaf, the feline Prince of Dundas Island. Art says the boy is too d--- particular for him and has consequently torn up his matrimonial agency single.

Fish Sales

A total of 611,000 pounds of halibut was marketed this week through the local Fish Exchange, an increase of 421,000 pounds over the catch of last week.

The highest price paid was 29c, and 11.5c, and the lowest 11.5c, and 7c.

Pierce Buys Eagle
 Capt. Red Pearce has forsaken Maud. Once and for all Maud is a girl of the past to Red. Cap. has now transferred his affections to the power boat Eagle which he will force into the halibut hunting game whether she likes it or not. To make matters worse, Red is going to take Capt. E. D. Smith and Geo. Dieks aboard with him. You should see the Eagle since she has changed hands. Colossal alterations have been made in the good-old craft at enormous expense. The domestic end of the arrangements defy comparison. Willie pattern china, aluminum spoons, flat boat, silver mounted tooth picks, and hunt cups—hunt for the handle style of thing—are only part of the kitchen equipment.
 The cook aboard is reputed to be the fastest flapjack flapper in the world. Several motion picture corporations have tried to take movies of him flapping the flapjacks but his speed is so great that there is no motion picture camera on the market that can record the picture. Some people believe that he has them up his sleeve before he attempts to juggle the necessary concoction. Everything is all set for the gang to proceed and the only thing holding up the stunt is the arrival of the necessary police from the Hardtime Insurance company on the life of the ship's cat.

Jimmy in Wrong
 "What's the use of a guy painting his boat up all nice and white, and slick and clean, if some fat footed guy is going to tramp all over the ding busted works with tar on his boots. Do you blame me for going after him with a club?" These are words of skipper Blondin who caught Jimmy Melrod doing a jig saw dance on the top of his nice clean white pilot house in a pair of size 14 boots with about one foot of tar on the bottoms. It takes a lot to get the skipper mad but believe me when he's mad he's D— mad, and Jimmy knows it. He only missed dying.
