Necessity of Getting Rid Of Bowser Is Realized By Conservatives; New Leader

VICTORIA, Jan. 7.—Members of the McBride Conservative Club at a meeting last night endorsed a proposal to convene the British Columbia Conservatives at an early date to prepare for an early provincial election and to decide their leadership. There was heated discussion on the lessons of the recent federal fight and speakers said the time had arrived for the deposing of W. J. Bowser, the present leader. The sentiment of the meeting was that the party needs the leadership of someone with a soul.

Dr. S. F. Tolmie and Colonel W. W. Foster of Vancouver were suggested for leadership.

Bowser Must Go.

When the proposed Conservative reorganization convention takes place a new school of Conservatives, who feel that the old Bowser machine can not return the party to power, will take a prominent part. Men of the W. A. Cawston type, with no past records, are expected to be to the fore unless H. H. Stevens can be prevailed upon to lead the party. Many Conservatives wish Colonel Foster as the next best choice for leader.

NEW MINISTER MAKES APPEAL

Hon. James Murdock Says Canadian Employers and Employees Must Co-operate.

OTTAWA, January 7.—Hon. James Murdock, the new minister of labor in the Mackenzie King cabinet, has issued an appeal for employers and employees to get together and reduce the number of working days wasted in labor disputes. He urged them to signalize the New Year by settling their grievances early and asked co-operation to enable the Department of Labor to settle disputes in order to maintain Canadian industry. "Canada needs, must have and will have co-operation between employers and employees," he concluded.

DELEGATION TO OTTAWA PRESS NEEDS OF PORT

Special Committee Submits Report of Important Matters.

At the annual Board of Trade meeting last night the question of sending a delegation to Ottawa consisting of a representative of the city council and two representatives of the Board of Trade, together with the member for Skeena district, on January 14, to lay before the proper government officials important questions affecting this port, was thoroughly gone into. Now that the new Dominion Government is in office and is preparing estimates for the next sitting of the House of Commons, it was felt that it was a very opportune time to place local needs before parliament. A special committee of the Board of Trade was appointed in December to consider matters of importance to Prince Rupert and the Skeena district which should thus be taken up. A summary of the report is set out below:

Oriental Shipping.

"That the government approach an already established steamship company, such as the Canadian Line, with a view to having a fast passenger and freight service inaugurated between here and the Orient, and that the government also establish a Government Merchant Marine freight service out of this port. The following facilities were already available:

"Quarantine depot.
"Freight shed.
"The plans are prepared and the foundation excavated for the construction of a hotel to accommodate such passenger service.
"The steamship route from Prince Rupert to points in Japan or China is 183 miles shorter than from Vancouver, and steamship captains have estimated that this will result in the saving of about twenty-seven days per year, and when used in connection with the C. N. R. will mean a saving in time on valuable cargoes consigned from the Orient to New York, such

With Variety of Conflicting Statements De Valera's Real Intentions Seems Rather Vague

DUBLIN, Jan. 7.—Eamonn de Valera declared in the Dail Eireann that he would postpone his final action in regard to resigning if the Anglo-Irish treaty was voted on within forty-eight hours. He followed this up by saying promptly afterwards that he would retire into private life in any case. Again he declares his intention of seeking a return to power with a new cabinet.

These conflicting statements are interpreted to mean that if the Dail Eireann approves the treaty he will resign and if it is rejected he will endeavor to form a new government and negotiate with England on his idea of the treaty.

Status of Relations.

DUBLIN, Jan. 7.—At the beginning of today's session of the Dail Eireann, the speaker, John McNeill, who supported the Anglo-Irish treaty, read a motion, prepared by himself calling upon the Dail Eireann to affirm that Ireland is a sovereign state deriving its authority from the will of the people. The motion would provide that all Ireland's relations must be guided by this status. It is expected the motion will be put through if the treaty is ratified. When the morning session ended today the Dail appeared to be within a few hours of the vote on the treaty.

DUBLIN, Jan. 7.—After a review at Deonmore, where six hundred Irish volunteers were disbanded, a party consisting of Ulster constabulary and Royal Irish constabulary stopped them, seized their revolvers and equipment and marched twelve of them off to jail. The incident has caused a sensation in Dublin.

This is the latest picture of Princesses August Wilhelm, beautiful daughter-in-law of the former emperor, flanked by Archduchess Adelaide of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha on the left and Princess Karoline Mathilde of Schleswig-Holstein-Glueckburg.

Coal Bunkers.

"Coal bunkers are required in this development of the port. These bunkers could supply coastwise ships also.

Grain Elevators.

"In connection with grain elevators, the C. N. R. has better grades and can handle grain from the prairie to Prince Rupert more cheaply than can the C. N. R. from the prairie to Vancouver. Prince Rupert is only 230 miles farther by steamship route to Panama than Vancouver.

"There is also a growing grain trade to the Orient. These elevators should be completed and in operation for the 1922 crop.

Assembly Wharf.

"In view of the fact that there are sawmills in the near vicinity to this port with a total daily capacity of 175,000 feet, an assembly wharf is very necessary where these mills could accumulate their timber into cargo shipments and supply a very substantial tonnage.

"With the establishment of a regular transpacific steamship service a large tonnage would promptly develop, and the co-operation of the railway organization to have tonnage routed via Prince Rupert is most desirable. At the present time the Whalen Pulp and Paper Mills at Swanson Bay have to send their pulp to Vancouver, a distance of over 100 miles, in order to load on transpacific ships. This tonnage could come to Prince Rupert, a distance of slightly over one hundred miles. This year B. C. alone shipped to Japan sixty million feet of timber, all from the south. Prince Rupert has the timber and is well fitted to participate in this business, as Japan is in the market for both lumber and logs.

Daily Trains.

"That the contemplated daily mail, passenger and express train out of Prince Rupert be inaugurated at once, as this is necessary to serve the requirements of the district tributary to the G. T. P. Railway.

"The necessity for proper moorings and shelter for small deep sea fishing boats, to be constructed at Seal Cove, where they will be safe from storm.

"That the dry dock and shipbuilding plant, which is now owned by the government, should be used at once to build cars and such other machinery as may be profitably constructed here. This would keep it manned and it would always be available for dry docking and repairing ships.

Experimental Farm.

"An experimental farm at a suitable location in the Bulkley Valley should be established at once. This was promised by the Hon. Dr. Tolmie, ex-minister of agriculture.

"The questions of branch lines to be taken up with the government to points in the interior."

After a lengthy discussion of all points contained in the above report it was decided to adjourn the meeting and hold a meeting on Monday night for the purpose of going into details and emphasizing the most important points on the government officials at Ottawa.

C. H. Orme Will Head Board of Trade This Year: Annual Meeting

C. H. Orme was unanimously elected president of the Prince Rupert Board of Trade at the annual meeting which was held last evening in the council chamber. He succeeds W. E. Williams, who has piloted the affairs of the board for the past year with signal success. Fred Stork, M.P., was chosen honorary president in succession to Colonel G. W. Peck, V.C., the late member. Election of other officers and the selecting of the executive also took place and splendid reports were submitted showing the success with which the work of the past year has been carried out.

Great enthusiasm prevailed in the large gathering of members and the determination that the good work would be carried on even more energetically in 1922 seemed to prevail.

The 1922 officers list is as follows:

Honorary President, Fred Stork, M.P.
President, C. H. Orme.

Vice President, E. C. Gibbons.
Executive Council—F. G. Dawson, S. E. Parker, N. B. Walton, D. G. Stewart, John Dybbavn, T. McMillan, G. W. Nickerson, G. A. Woodland, W. E. Williams, S. J. McLeod, J. H. Pillsbury, C. G. Mills, T. B. Johnson, H. F. Pullen and E. E. Dohy.

Charles V. E. Dohy was re-elected secretary.

Year's Activities.
The secretary read the report of the activities of the Board during the past year under the retiring president, W. E. Williams. Twelve monthly meetings and fourteen council meetings were held during 1921. The report covered a wide field and among the most outstanding events noted was the launching of the first two steel steamships from the local yards, the "Canadian Scottish" and the "Canadian Britisher"; the building of the Provincial Government building at a cost of over $400,000; the commencement of the building of the new railway station; the extra supply of express refrigerator cars for the fresh fish service; the completion of the new school at Hays Cove Circle, with accommodations for five hundred and fifty pupils; the building of the new Ocean dock, which when completed will be one of the most modern on the coast; the partial settlement of the Cow Bay question, and the building of a level crossing at that point, and the vast improvement in our city streets.

Month by Month.
In January last a special committee was appointed to take up with the government the need of a road out of Prince Rupert to up-river points. The Fishery Committee reported that vigorous action was still being taken in an attempt to force the Canadian National Railway authorities to provide sufficient express refrigerator cars for the fresh fish service. A memorandum had been forwarded to the Canadian National Railway urging them to proceed with the erection of coal bunkers at this point at the earliest possible date.

In February last the Board joined the Associated Boards of Trade of B. C. and the city authorities were granted the right to appoint a representative on the council of the Board. The question of building roundhouse sheds and a station was taken up with the railway authorities, and the railway officials were asked to grant 15 parties' discounts of spending the week end in Terrace, the right to return on the Tuesday train on the week-end ticket.

Halibut Fishing.
In March last a pictorial postcard of the halibut fleet was sent to all members of the Federal Government, showing the amount of revenue lost to the country by shiploads of fish being diverted to Seattle for shipment east, on account of the lack of proper fish cars. A special committee had been appointed to look into the feasibility of coming to some decision for the improvement of Cow Bay.

In April last the feasibility of the erection of a smelter in this district was taken up by the Mining Committee.

In May the authorities were requested to "carry on" with the building of the superstructure of the Ocean Dock.

In June last, among other items the Provincial Government was requested to lift the reserve on coal lands in B. C.

In July the feasibility of providing sufficient cargo to induce an ocean going steamer to call at this port was taken up.

In August a committee was appointed to go into the matter

Official Count Election Returns.

The official count of the returns for the federal election in Skeena constituency will be held on Monday morning at 10 o'clock by Returning Officer R. W. Cameron and Election Clerk C. V. Evidt. It might be pointed out here that the count to be made then will not be a recount but will be merely a checking up of figures. Following this count Mr. Cameron will formally declare the successful candidate elected and appeal for a recount may then be made within four days of such announcement. If no such action is taken within the specified time the election count is conceded to be correct and the election is formally completed.

Count and Recount Altogether Different.

There is a great deal of difference between an official count and a recount. In the former the returning officer and the election clerk, in the presence of the agents for the candidates, open all the ballot boxes. These boxes contain two envelopes in which are sealed the actual ballots. On the outside of the envelopes are written the number of votes received by each candidate. In Monday's count these numbers will be taken down in a list without breaking the envelopes or actually seeing the ballots. When all the returns have been taken down they will be totalled up and the candidate thus shown to have the most votes is duly declared elected. If a recount is demanded this is conducted in an altogether different manner. The ballot boxes are opened in the presence of a judge and each one is carefully scrutinized by the judge personally. Acceptances or rejections are decided by him and the result is announced according to his decisions. The returning officer and election clerk and candidates' agents are also required to be present at such a recount.

Rehabilitation of Economics The Big Question.

Rehabilitation of economic conditions in Europe is the all-engrossing question that is taking the attention of the old country nations at the present time. In Britain the Irish question, which has been in the limelight since the coal strike was on, has taken second place to it. This is demonstrated by the fact that Premier Lloyd George has now left the troubles of Erin for a while and is in France devoting his personal attention to the conference with the representatives of the other Allies on European international matters. The rehabilitation question is one of the most intricate and at the same time internationally important of these matters, and there are so many phases to it that it is difficult to keep them all in mind at one time and realize them. It is easy to realize the present deplorable condition of economic affairs in Europe and it is also easy to realize what is desired, but the matter of comprehending the causes and forming solutions is something almost beyond the grasp of the ordinary individual. They are matters to be dealt with by the biggest statesmen who have made intimate study of the progress of European affairs in the past eight years and more especially since the Great War ended. With Premier Lloyd George and Premier Briand at the head of the conference table, it may be expected that a solution will be reached if it is within the bounds of human possibility to reach one.

WHERE HAS THE MONEY GONE?

To the Editor Daily News:

One of the most important things for the property owner to consider in the coming civic election is the question of taxes. The tax rate has been increased alarmingly in the past five years—from 10 mills to 30.82 mills, and in that time very little permanent work has been done.

The year 1921 has the distinction of having had the highest tax rate (30.82), and of having spent more money to run the city than the two years 1918-19 combined. The tax rates and general levy for the past five years are as follows:

1917—10 mills$127,569.81
1918—10.5 mills154,591.61
1919—13.75 mills175,096.51
1920—25.1685 mills254,216.98
1921—30.82 mills270,422.82

The year 1920 closed with a surplus of $58,000, and in 1921 tax arrears to the amount of over $11,000 was collected; so that the actual sum spent in 1921 was $340,000, which exceeds the combined expenditure for 1918-19 by about $10,000.

The taxpayers should bear in mind that the cost of the street improvements is provided by a special issue of debentures, and

ROCHESTER'S FIGURES

The Editor Daily News:

In replying to some of the charges of extravagance made by Colonel McMordie at his meeting in the Empress Theatre, I think it only right that the people should know the truth, especially in connection with financial matters relating to certain monies during the year 1921.

The figures quoted were misleading, incorrect, and contrary to fact, and in order to satisfy the ratepayers in this matter, I desire to present the following statement:

The taxes levied in 1920 were $254,216.98 and not $239,216.98 as stated by Col. McMordie. The taxes levied in 1921 was $270,422.82 or a difference of $16,205.84. There was an increase in expenditure in 1921 over that of 1920 of $4000.00 to the Hospital, and $18,000.00 for Relief work to unemployed, which more than off-set the difference in taxes levied 1920-1921. These items had to be raised and should not be branded as extravagance.

General Revenue.

As we are dealing entirely with general revenue, the surplus from 1920 was $16,109.52 instead of $58,043.87 as stated by the Colonel. In this connection I might say that the $16,109.52 surplus in general fund was not available when I took office, but went to cover, in part, a deficit of $19,382.26 from 1919, caused by exchange on American funds to meet Bond payments in New York, and not allowed for in the estimates that year.

The surplus referred to by Col. McMordie of $58,043.87 is made up of the above mentioned $16,109.52 general revenue and $41,934.35 surplus of the Light, Telephone and Water departments, which latter surplus was expended on extensions and improvements to the respective utilities.

In refutation of the argument advanced that the City is drifting dangerously into conflict with interests of the ratepayers, I would quote a few figures showing the actual standing of properties in the city by way of comparison:

Lot in Section 5.

In 1918 the mill rate was 12.5 taxes were $52.50.

In 1919 the mill rate was 13.75, taxes were $57.75.

In 1920 the mill rate was 25.1685, taxes were $52.85.

In 1921 the mill rate was $30.82, taxes were $30.82.

Lot in Section 6.

In 1918 the mill rate was 12.5, taxes were $30.00.

In 1919 the mill rate was 13.75, taxes were $33.00.

In 1920, the mill rate was 25.1685, taxes were $56.70.

In 1921 the mill rate was $30.82, taxes were $30.82.

Lot in Section 1.

In 1918 assessment was $37,000.00, taxes were $462.50.

In 1919 assessment was $37,000.00, taxes were $508.75.

In 1920 assessment was $31,710.00, taxes were $799.09.

In 1921 assessment was $19,930.00, taxes were $614.24.

In comparing the mill rate of 1918 with that of 1921, Colonel McMordie did not tell the people that the assessment had been reduced from $11,696,435 to $8,773,649, or a reduction in the net rateable property of $2,916,786—approximately 25 per cent less to work on.

As Colonel McMordie claims to be an expert accountant, besides an expert building contractor, which accomplishment specially fits him for the position to which he now aspires it seems passing strange that he should not have noticed these figures and given them correctly as they are all plainly set out in the annual reports.

Good Condition.

I also wish to point out that the city at the present time is in better financial condition than it was at the end of 1920, and that we have now sufficient funds on hand to meet our obligations coming due on April 1, 1922, and also that our sinking funds are intact, something that few cities in the Province can boast of. This may be cited as one reason why such a satisfactory price, viz. par value, was obtained in our recent sale of City Bonds.

With regard to how the money was spent, and coming to the question of Schools, of which the Colonel now has some knowledge, having just completed one for the School Board, I would like to point out that school expenditures for the year 1918, (taking the Colonel's comparison year) amounted to $32,969, whereas last year 1921, the school expenditures amounted to $64,000, approximately, or practically an increase of 100 per cent. This is an expense that the City Council have no control over, being purely in the hands of the School Board, the City having to find whatever money they ask for without question, as that body being also elected by the ratepayers, are clothed with full authority.

Police Affairs.

With reference to Col. McMordie's remarks about firing the chief of police, and administration in general, I will say that the Colonel in his position of police magistrate has never, to my certain knowledge, criticized the administration of justice in this city during the past year. Consequently he could hardly blame me for not discharging the chief, who was thus apparently attending to his duties properly, and to the Colonel's satisfaction. As a matter of fact I never stated that I would fire the chief. The police force was referred to, and those to whom I had particular reference are not now in the service.

The records show that crime was on the decrease in 1921—conditions in the city are very considerably improved, and I have no reason to be ashamed of the way law and order has been enforced in the city last year.

I am always ready and willing to explain to the ratepayers any move in connection with the administration of City affairs, but as for the small, cheap line of talk put up by Colonel McMordie in regard to other matters, I have neither the time nor inclination to be bothered answering them.

Very truly,
H. B. ROCHESTER.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

January 7, 1912.

Last year's council is gracefully dying. A meeting was held last night to wind up routine business, and the mayor appointed Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Empress Theatre for the "rendering of an account of their stewardship." A report was brought in last night by the committee on the Labor Temple site. It was decided that a plebiscite will have to be taken by the next council on this. All Section 1 local improvement by-laws were finally passed and another item of importance dealt with was the separating again of light plant and telephone superintendence. Mr. Matthews was appointed light superintendent and Mr. Love left in charge of the phone department at $160 per month.

When food is only imperfectly digested, it gives rise to fermentation, clogs the bowels, and renders the blood impure. This results in dull eyes, muddy skin, blotches, pimples and other disfiguring marks. Beecham's Pills act immediately on the stomach, liver and bowels; regulate them and keep them in a vigorous condition. They are mild, harmless and dependable. They are compounded of remedies of vegetable origin having great medicinal value.

BOARD OF TRADE THIS YEAR; ANNUAL MEETING

of erecting coal bunkers at this port, as the Trade Commissioner of Alberta had been unable to bring his plans to a successful issue.

In September the Trades and Commerce committee reported that an ocean going ship would call at this port provided we would guarantee 1000 tons of freight per month.

American Fish Boats.

In October the Dominion Government was requested to pass an order in council granting American fishing vessels the right to dispose of their catches at this port in continuance of the war time measures order in council of 1916.

In November the Publicity and Mining committees took up the advisability of publishing a pamphlet setting forth the advantages of this district as a site for the establishment of a steel and iron plant as outlined by Mr. Garde. The question of passenger and freight rates was taken up by the Freight Rate committee.

The foregoing are the salient features of the activities of the Board of Trade for 1921. In the most of them definite results had been achieved as is known.

Failures and Successes.

The retiring president, W. E. Williams, prior to handing over the chair of office to the incoming president, C. H. Orme, said that during his regime of office in 1921 the board had met with several disappointments, but also many successes. Perhaps the outstanding success was the obtaining of extra express refrigerator cars. That was a very serious matter a year ago, and it was only after the most strenuous campaign ever undertaken, with the co-operation of the City and the Fish Association that success was accomplished. Mr. Williams added that Colonel Peck, the late federal member, had helped in every way possible.

"We have also been successful in so far as Prince Rupert has obtained the so called fish wharf or ocean dock and also the new depot," continued Mr. Williams. "As far as the city is concerned, we have made considerable progress during the past year. When we consider that it was something over 5,500 years ago since the first man inhabited this earth I do not think we have done so badly."

Prospect Better.

"However, in some respects we have been disappointed. We had hoped to get coal bunkers, and we also hoped that we would have inaugurated out of this port a trans-Pacific line of steamships. These were probably the most desired objectives a year ago. In these respects we have failed, not through lack of effort, but because we were up against an indifferent management of the Canadian National Railways and an indifferent government, as far as Prince Rupert was concerned.

"Today we stand with a better prospect of reaching our objectives."

"It will be the work of the incoming officers to guide the Board of Trade to greater success in the coming year."

Orme Responds.

C. H. Orme, the new president, responded in a suitable manner thanking the members present for the honor which had been bestowed on him. He would carry on to the best of his ability and hoped that the coming year would be a prosperous one for the city of Prince Rupert.

part. It would only be, however, through the united efforts of all the citizens that successful results would be forthcoming.

Mr. Orme then took over the president's chair.

Among other speakers of the evening were the Hon. A. M. Manson, who urged the desirability of dealing thoroughly with the Asiatic and the freight rates question. Mr. Garde spoke on the possibilities of the Copper River district and an iron and coal producing field if proper railway facilities were afforded for getting out of these natural resources. G. A. McNicholl spoke on the freight rate question, as also did F. G. Dawson.

SURPRISE PARTY

A party of his school chums surprised Master Reginald Bayne, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Bayne, at his home on Biggar Place last evening. The evening was enjoyably spent at games and the usual frolics of young people and delightful refreshments were provided. Miss Winnie Exley organized the party, and, besides herself, the following youngsters were present: Misses May Clarke, Mary Allstone, Edith Leek, Emily Exley, Winnie Hill, Phyllis Harvey, Ellen Steen, Hester Black, Katie Sutherland, Margaret Sutherland, Evelyn Large, Betty Anderson and Helen Sims, and Masters Ernest Allstone, James Currie and Clifford Cameron.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Waterfront Whiffs

Doings of the Mosquito Fleet Which Is the Chief Source of Prince Rupert's Prosperity

After the festive season things are gradually down to normal along the waterfront, and the crews of the Mosquito Fleet are busy making minor repairs and adjusting machinery on their boats in readiness to be up and doing. There is a tone of optimism in all ranks and it is anticipated that the forthcoming season will be a bumper one. If real honest effort will accomplish anything, and we know it will, the success of the future fishing is assured.

The Admiral of the Fleet is high in his praise of the manner in which all members of the Mosquito Fleet acquitted themselves over the holiday season.

Some keen excitement prevailed around the fleet during the ushering in of the New Year. When the whistles and sirens announced the entry of 1922, several shots were fired by some enthusiastic persons. They were heard by the Admiral. He thinking that someone was trying to start something, or that perhaps the Irish navy was opening up on them, ordered all hands to their action stations, and as many members of the crews as could navigate made for their boats. However the Vice-admiral explained matters to the Admiral, and the order to "unload the cannon" and proceed with the fun was given.

The forthcoming municipal election is causing a good deal of interest along the waterfront. Of course opinions are divided as to the ultimate outcome. It is a little early in the campaign to get a line on any betting but at present the odds seem to stand about even between the two prospects for mayor.

The question of fresh water being piped down to the boats at Cow Bay is uppermost in the minds of the fishermen. It is thought that probably this year a promise might be made not only to pipe fresh water down to the Bay but also that a subsidiary line will be run to convey Hudson Bay run as well. Nuff said.

News has been received, through a private source, from Seattle that thirty-five seine boats and schooners are expected to leave that port for the local fishing grounds to fish for halibut in the near future, and that the Port of Prince Rupert is to be made their port of call for the disposition of catches. If this becomes an established fact it will mean that thirty-five additional boats will be fishing halibut this year from this port and will become an auxiliary fleet.

The Albert & McCaffery wharf is taking on quite a modern appearance these days. A new walk is being built from the offices to the end of their wharf and it will give the layout quite a snappy appearance when finished.

The Prince Albert unloaded one hundred tons of cement for Albert & McCaffery here this week. It is for local use.

The event on the waterfront of the old year was the jamboree held on New Year's eve at the Mug Up. The assembly of some forty persons, the ladies bedecked with priceless pearls mostly picked out of Jack's clam chowder, and the beautiful decorations in the main saloon, certainly presented a very animated and joyous atmosphere. The decorations embodied the Union Jack and Old Glory draped in close relationship along the south wall.

The Admiral of the Fleet attended in full review regalia, with a guard of honor of two stalwart sailormen armed with a "full" bottle in each hand. It was unfortunate that someone borrowed the Admiral's sword for opening clam chowder soup tins for the festive board, and that the Admiral's hat for this occasion, which had been on order from the T. Eaton mail order department, did not arrive on time. Otherwise the Admiral looked very becoming. The Cow Bay orchestra preceded the Admiral's entry into the main saloon but the noise of the drum drowned the applause.

The items on the program included, songs, dancing, games, step dancing and punch drinking. The latter item was the centre of great interest. Flossie Flirt had mixed a conglomeration, containing three dozen eggs, but in using the egg beater at a very high rate of speed, the poor girl caught her finger in the eggs and the bowl received a few drops of blood from the wound. A vote was taken as to whether the punch should be thrown away or not but the Admiral declared that if a drop were spilled he would put it in his pockets.

Bill Shelton sang several songs of the deep with much effect, and for the last encore pondered that pathetic song, "Oh! Mother Please Don't Wash My Face with Father's Dirty Socks."

Flossie Flirt gave a splendid exhibition of step dancing on the kitchen stove, and everything was going fine till the lid of the stove went in and her foot became entangled in the dying embers of the fire. Fortunately willing hands extricated her from the ungainly position and, but for dirty stockings, the episode passed unnoticed. After this item, to show there was no ill feeling, Flossie sang "The Last Rose of Summer" with such effect that everyone present perspired with the heat of the moment.

SORES SPREAD All Over FACES AND BODIES.

Mrs. Howard Houlette, Waskatenau, Sask., writes:—"I wish to tell you of the benefit we have received by using your valuable medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters."

My children started to break out on their faces with small white pimples which kept getting larger each day. Pus would form under the scales and they would come off, and each time the sores would be larger; some were as large as a twenty-five cent piece, and would spread all over their bodies. I was nearly at despair and sent to the village for a bottle of good blood medicine. The druggist sent me a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, which I commenced giving them at once.

In about ten days I saw an improvement and they grew steadily better each day, and in one month the sores had all disappeared.

All blood and skin diseases are caused by bad blood, and to get it pure and keep it pure you must remove every trace of the impure and morbid matter from the system by a blood cleansing medicine such as a remedy that has been on the market for the past forty-five years, and one without an equal for all diseases and disorders of the blood.

aginary summer time. This item was accompanied by Jack Toner on the "windjammer." He put so much vim into the music that the result of the cold air on Flossie's neck gave the fair damsel a sore throat.

There was so much punch to the punch that one of the artists gave an exhibition of an Indian war dance, armed with a real axe. But for the performer knocking a hole in the roof the item went through with a whoop.

The wireless operator of the fleet stuck to his post like a man in spite of the temptations of Tom and Jerry who were both present.

During the festivities the Admiral of the Fleet exchanged New Year wireless greetings with both the Swiss and Irish navies.

The Rosspil, Captain Ted, Rorvik, is undergoing repairs in Cow Bay. The dynamo is the chief cause of concern and this is being thoroughly overhauled.

Captain John Peterson of the Viking is having a new boat built by N. M. McLean. It is expected she will be ready for the water in about two weeks.

The work on the new road around Cow Bay is nearing completion. The bridge is completed and the grading will be finished by the end of next week when the steam roller will put the finishing touches to the surface.

The Speicher is on the Dry Dock undergoing repairs, including painting and caulking.

The Pioneer is still on the Dry Dock as a result of the recent storm. It is expected she will be finished in a few days.

The Vesla, Capt. J. Windermere, left port early in the week for Kelchikan.

Repairs on the Joe Baker are proceeding apace. The skipper's voice can be heard down in the bowels of the boat yelling for the hammer and nails.

ALICE ARM AND ANYOX HOCKEY

Silver Camp Defeated by Smelter Town in Fast Game Last Sunday.

ALICE ARM, Jan. 6.—Going down to defeat by a score of 4 to 2, the Alice Arm Northern Bears played their initial game of the hockey season with the Anyox Gas Hounds last Sunday. The game which was played on the Anyox ice, was a hard fought battle and forecasts that there will be many more fast and furious games between the two towns as the various units find their proper positions and get down to team work.

Among the Northern Bears were registered two new players as compared with last year's team. The new puck chasers were G. Anderson and D. W. Cameron. Alice Arm fans liked their style of play and look forward to seeing them on the ice again. Anderson played hard to win and by his determined aggressive work sent his stick up towards par. When he masters a bit more of the game he will be a dangerous man. Cameron's initial appearance as goal keeper was all to his credit.

Alice Arm Stars.
Alice Arm fans claim that the score should have stood at 2-2 as one of the Anyox scores was a high drop striking the fence and bouncing into the goal while the other was kicked in by a fumble on the part of Cameron himself. However, it was a pretty clean game and the Northern Bears are confident of revenge when they growl again. Oatman and A. Falconer, of the Alice Arm, are deserving of a special mention for their hard playing. Falconer checked with a capital C and Oatman made several solo dashes through the Gas Hounds' ranks, on one occasion getting clean away and scoring.

Good Anyox Men.
In Carlson, Downs and "Gravy" Cameron, Anyox had three good fast players. They tried hard and were on tip-toe to win. Cameron and Carlson are not new to the game having had several seasons' experience in the Boundary country. The former was especially strong in long shots for the goal one of which found the mark. Downs played a hard and fast game and deserves credit along with the rest of the team. Waterman played a fine game at goal for the Gas Hounds and scarcely invited criticism. The Anyox defence was the weakest point of the team? They showed tardiness in finding the puck and sometimes indecision when they did have it.

The play started off with a rush, Alice Arm leading in the offensive. The Bears made their first score within two minutes of the opening with a pass from A. Falconer to G. Anderson. No other scores were made during this period though the Bears browsed around the Anyox goal the most of the time and were often within smelling distance of scoring.

Second Period.
The second period resulted in the Gas Hounds snatching up two goals, one of these being a high drop by "Gravy" Cameron. Oatman for the Bears, made a fast rush through the Anyox bunch, put the puck through the posts and the score stood 2 to 2 at the end of this period.

The third period was hardly as fast as the first and second and the Bears seemed to tire a bit. Luck being with the Gas Hounds, they found the mark for two more scores making the final count four to two in their favor.

The line-ups.

Sport Chat

A fifty percent increase in the popularity of trapshooting all over the country is predicted for 1922. It is many years since any interest has been taken in trapshooting in this city although it used to be enjoyed very much by enthusiasts who shot at the far end of the recreation grounds on Aeropolis Hill. A trapshooting club has been going strong in Anyox for the past year or so and it seems rather strange that the sport is not taken up here. There are surely enough good shots in town to make it interesting once it is started. It is one of the few sports permitting a man to shoot under organization recording so that the result of every shot is credited. This should even more enhance its popularity. In the United States part of the popularity of the sport is credited to the war. Thousands of young men learned to handle guns and the fascination of shooting while in service makes them eager to continue shooting either as a competitive sport or as recreation.

"I believe the popularity of sport is both permanent and progressive and due to cumulative causes," says Gustavus T. Kirby, president of the American Olympic Committee. "For at least 25 years a number of us have been preaching at every opportunity the doctrine of good health and happiness through sport, and I honestly believe that this continued preaching, this sowing of the seeds of exercise, recreation, play, athletic competition, etc., has brought forth the harvest of recent years and will continue to bring forth similar splendid harvests in years to come. By no means of little importance has been the promotion of the ideal of the Olympic games, i.e., of 'Sport for all and all for sport,' and 'Sport for sport's sake,' and which ideal we in this country are always endeavoring to further. The Olympic idea has certainly taken hold of the entire country. In furtherance of desirable athletics I believe that there should be more municipal playgrounds and athletic fields. Few of our great cities have proper facilities of this kind. The states should have similar meeting grounds, not neglecting the opportunity for camping and our government should make it possible for a greater public use to be had of our great national reservations. It is through increased activities of this kind that I believe sport for 1922 and the years after will be not only maintained so far as interest therein is concerned, but will be materially increased."

Speaking for the motorboat enthusiast, President A. L. Judson, of the American Power Boat Association, said: "It is likely that the impetus given to sporting events in 1921 will continue and increase during 1922. There are many evidences in the power boat racing world that this will be true. More additional races are scheduled already for the coming season than were held during the past year. This is particularly true in the middle west where the enthusiasm over power boat racing seems to be more intense than in any other part of the country, although there is evidence of increased interest on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. Power boat racing in the South also has taken on new life, and all this indicates continued and increased interest during the coming season. This growing enthusiasm for motor-boating and all other forms of recreation and sport is due largely to the reaction experienced after the war during which naturally, all sport was suspended. People are anxious to play again, which they are doing harder than ever. This is a natural human propensity."

BANNER YEAR FOR BASEBALL

So Predicts President John A. Heydler of National League.

NEW YORK CITY, January 9.—"While the old axiom, 'Take nothing for granted in baseball,' still holds good, I think I can safely predict another banner year for the national game," said President John A. Heydler of the National League, which announced its 1922 schedule yesterday, when asked to comment upon the outlook in baseball. "Certainly there are numerous signs which would appear to indicate a prosperous season ahead for the club owners and interesting pennant races and play for the fans. 'The past year has been one of satisfaction to both the followers of the game and those financially interested. The major league pennant races developed an unusually close and dramatic climax and the world series was one of the best in the history of baseball. There was no lack of confidence or popularity and the game was well supported in both the major and minor league cities. The selection of Judge Landis as baseball commissioner, with the subsequent restoration and retention of public confidence in the integrity of the sport was perhaps the outstanding feature of 1921 in baseball."

Many Trades and Deals.
"Many circumstances enter into a consideration of 1922 prospects and the majority of these make for a continuation of popularity of the game. Many trades and deals have been made which will strengthen various clubs. In some cases players have been shifted from one team to another, adding new color, stimulation and power to a club, for a player can outgrow his usefulness by remaining in one city too long. Spring training restrictions have been removed, making it possible to send pitchers and other players south for a more protracted season of conditioning, thus raising the standard of early season play."

"Speaking specifically of the National League, I can say that I expect a closer race than was the case last year. Instead of a two-club race I believe that four or more teams will be fighting for the pennant in 1922. Even with Pittsburgh leading for a majority of last season, the attendance records fell but little below those of 1920, and had the rotation of Sundays been favorable, a new record would have undoubtedly been made. Many young and promising players are being developed in our league and these should prove a strong attraction next summer."

Contractual relations with the players will be more harmonious and there will not be the holdouts which helped to wreck the early season chances of teams last spring. I expect to see better pitching during 1922, and consequently closer games. We are also looking forward to some form of agreement regarding a better drafting system with the minors."

"These are some of the things which lead me to express the opinion that there will be no diminution of interest in baseball next summer. There are likely to be other factors of importance develop before the spring meeting, scheduled to be held in New York on February 14, which will have an influence in increasing the interest in the game.

"With the New York Nationals in the role of world's champions this feature alone should prove an attraction in the National League and a boom to baseball in the cities of our circuit. Speaking of the world series reminds me that while the senior league favored a retention of the nine-game series, we have not lost sight of the fact that a reduction to seven games will go a long way toward meeting the objection of a certain section of the fans, who protested that attendance and gate receipts were rapidly overshadowing the original idea of the series, that is to determine the best team in the major leagues at the end of each season."

DR. WEST OF VETS WINS FINAL GAME BILLIARD SERIES

Dr. J. A. West, of the Great War Veterans, defeated R. Davie of the St. Andrew's Society, in the final game of the first half of the Trail Club shield billiard series last evening, the score being 200 to 176. The total for the tournament is thus: St. Andrew's 1134; Great War Veterans, 1050.

ELKS' DANCE LAST NIGHT AT HOME

About 180 Guests Present and Affair Very Enjoyable.

The Elks gave a dance last night to members and invited guests at their home on Third Avenue. Some 180 guests were present and a very enjoyable evening was spent. The arrangements were in the hands of the house committee, consisting of W. J. Cash, Ben Self and W. E. Thompson, the latter acting as master of ceremonies in a very capable manner.

The Elks' orchestra furnished the music and was augmented by the presence of Miss Blanche Curtin and Mr. Dickenson. Refreshments were served at midnight and dancing continued until 2 o'clock.

FIRE INSURANCE is a hobby of ours. We take keen pleasure in making sure that all policies are so written that they cover your property exactly as you intend. If you entrust your fire insurance to careless, inexperienced or ignorant agents you may find, when you come to collect your fire loss, that your policies are so worded that the insurance company is not liable and so will not pay the loss. PLANES AND MOSQUITOES

OTTAWA, Dec. 31.—Fighting mosquitoes with aeroplanes was one of the tasks undertaken by the Canadian Air service last summer. It is true the winged carriers of malaria and yellow fever were not attacked with machine guns fired by the aviators, nor were they subjected to bombardments of poisonous gas shells. The mosquitoes were not pursued by the giant mechanical birds and crushed by the propellers. The stinging insects were not even invaded in their fastness, but their breeding places were located in several parts of British Columbia and no doubt they will be dealt with before they start their annual drive next summer.

During the month of August last, a number of aeroplane flights were made by members of the Canadian air force over sections of the Lower Fraser valley. Those operations were conducted on the behalf of the entomological branch of the department of the interior at Ottawa who had been endeavoring for the past two years to locate and define the position and extent of the various mosquito breeding areas along the Lower Fraser valley.

Definite Information.

It has been difficult to locate and accurately determine the extensive areas, embracing sometimes many thousand acres, which are subject to flooding. It has in fact been impossible to obtain satisfactory data by means of the usual survey by auto, on foot, or by boat.

Reconnaissance flights were consequently carried out over the affected areas and photographs taken showing the inundated regions and their extent.

Pest in District.

For years there had been a demand for such investigations of the mosquito pest in Fraser river valley. The pest was so serious that during bad weather all outdoor work had to be suspended, lumber camps had to close down, small fruit picking was much hampered, material loss had been experienced in the milk production in the dairy sections and there were even cases on record where cattle had actually succumbed through the attacks of the mosquitoes.

The investigation work was conducted by Major McLaurin of the Vancouver air station under instructions of Eric Hearle, entomologist in charge of mosquito investigations at Vernon, B. C.

Anaemia

Thin, watery blood is no more nourishing than thin, watery milk—skim milk.

But you can soon enrich thin blood, overcome the anaemic condition and build up the whole system by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. F. G. Simmons, 42 Curtis St., Brantford, Ont., writes:

"For about eight years I suffered from anaemia. My circulation was poor, my gums and lips were pale, and my hands and feet were always cold. I was nervous and unable to sleep well. I had frequent headaches, seemed restless and easily worried or irritated. There was a buzzing sound in my ears. Indigestion was also one of my complaints, and I often was attacked by weak spells. I went to a doctor, who told me I was anaemic, but as I did not get any better I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after the first box I felt brighter and my headaches completely disappeared. I continued using the Nerve Food for quite a while. I am quite well now, and cheerfully and gratefully recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to people suffering as I did before I used this splendid medicine."

SMITHERS

With the arrival of a great quantity of material remaining from the work and its storage in the government yards at Smithers, work on the bridge at Quick is complete and now open for traffic. The new bridge is a substantial structure and its erection to replace the destroyed bridge at Hubert is an evidence of the big changes that have come with the new population which makes a new district demand a bridge at that point.

Following two weeks of below zero weather at Smithers the thermometer took a rise last Saturday and New Year's Day was spent under ideal conditions. There is practically no snow as yet, but a light flurry has arrived which will help sleighing. So far the automobiles have continued their service to the public.

The progress of the installation of the new electric light plant in Smithers is progressing satisfactorily. The chief delay now is due to the fact that screws for the cross arms have not yet arrived. This may hold the work up for another week. With the enterprise drawing to actual accomplishment there is great interest in the boon for the town and everyone is impatient over the delay. However, the middle of February should see everything in working order.

A New Year dance was put on by the Athletic Club of Smithers last Monday night, and was the scene of much merriment. A good crowd attended from Telkwa and Hazelton. Messrs. Finerty, Doodson and the others in charge are entitled to a great deal of credit for the success of the evening. The proceeds from the dance will be around $300, which will leave a good sum to go to the Athletic Club. Mr. and Mrs. J. Gregory, Mrs. T. Ross and I. A. Arnold rendered valuable aid.

A new mode of fire alarm has been provided for Smithers with the establishment of an additional whistle at the round house. This is an old steamer whistle and was given a good try out at welcoming the New Year.

SAYINGS OF THE WEEK IN LONDON

I think it probable that a hundred years hence these islands, being no longer the object of fear or envy or suspicion, will be looked upon by all the British-speaking peoples in the world as their ancestral home and holy sanctuary, and London and England generally will be regarded with affection and love and veneration by a very large portion of the human race.—Dean Inge.

Taxation is not a necessary evil, but an advantage. The only trouble is we have not enough of it.—Sidney Webb.

In the House of Commons we have some members who belong to the days of Noah.—Lady Astor.

Very few people can resist temptation if the temptation be sufficiently strong.—Dr. Bernard Hollander.

The contention of age and youth is eternal and salutary for the race.—Sir A. T. Quiller-Couch.

I hope and believe that 100 years hence there will be no British Empire.—H. G. Wells.

Education in these days is raised to a fetish.—Sir George Bylesworth Piggott.

My advice to young speakers is "Stand up, speak up, shut up."—Lord Ullswater (late Speaker).

I am very busy now being brought up by two young daughters.—Lady Ashfield.

One of the faults of women speakers is that they go on too long.—Miss Constance Williams.

COULDN'T DO HOUSEWORK HEART WAS SO BAD

Many women get weak and run down and unable to look after their household duties owing to the heart action becoming impaired or the nervous system unstrung.

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy instead of sick and wretched. But how can a woman be strong and healthy when day in and day out she has to go through the same routine of work, sweeping, dusting, cooking, washing, etc.? Is it any wonder that the heart becomes affected and she gets irritable and nervous, has hot flushes, faint and dizzy spells, smothering and sinking spells and can't sleep at night?

To all women whose heart is weak and whose nerves are unstrung we would recommend

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS as the best remedy to tone up the system and strengthen the weakened organs.

Mrs. Daniel Bezanon, Loganville, N. S., writes: "As I was troubled with a weak heart for nearly two years I am writing to tell you what your great remedy, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, has done for me."

My heart was so bad at night I could not sleep, I would take smothering spells, and was so weak I could not do my housework. I tried two doctors, but got no results. A friend advised me to try your pills. I used six boxes and am completely relieved. I think they are the best remedy for heart trouble there is."
