Conference Success is now in Balance

GENOA ANXIOUSLY AWAITS FRENCH VERDICT ON RUSSIAN REPLY

Russian Reply To Memorandum Is Conciliatory But May Not Be Suitable to French Views

GENOA, May 12.—That the fate of the Genoa conference may be settled today in Paris is the opinion of many delegates, and the decision of Premier Poincaré on Russia's reply to the Allied memorandum is awaited with anxiety here. It is believed that if they were left to themselves the majority of the powers would favor a continuance of the discussion but if France withdraws certain of the other nations would follow her lead. France, it is stated by her delegation, will never agree to a mixed commission sitting indefinitely while the conference is going on to study the Russian affairs.

Great Britain has proposed a truce in Eastern Europe on a de facto basis pending the conclusions of the commission of enquiry which is to be appointed.

Russia's reply to the Allied memorandum is considered conciliatory generally and of such a nature as to provide a basis for future negotiations. Great Britain and Italy are optimistic but France and Belgium are disappointed in the reply. Some sections of the Allies' proposals are flatly refused by the Soviet government.

FIRE MARSHAL ON SCHOOL CONDITIONS

Recommendations Regarding Borden Street and King Edward to be Carried Out

At a meeting of the school board last night a report from Provincial Fire Marshal Thomas was read on fire protection at the Borden and King Edward Schools.

The fire chief criticised the fact that waste material was accumulating in the furnace room at the Borden Memorial School. School Superintendent Campbell said that since the closing down of the Booth Memorial School the furnace room in question was the only available space for storage purposes. The marshal also said that the fire alarm system needed improving, the fire gongs being too far away from the danger points.

Referring to the King Edward School the fire marshal spoke of the tendency to keep doors locked. He also referred to the use of cheese cloth on the walls which had been used to make the rooms appear lighter on dark days. This was considered to be a fire menace.

These recommendations are to be taken up by the School Board, and the fire marshal's suggestions will be carried out.

The Rev. W. Dean and Miss Dean of Telkwa, sailed for the south last night on the Prince George.

GOOD MEETING OF LIBERALS LAST EVENING

Minister of Lands Deals With Topics of Moment in Address—Answers Questions

DELEGATES CHOSEN FOR JUNE CONVENTION

There was a good attendance at the meeting of Liberal supporters held last night in the committee rooms in the Pattullo Block. Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, gave an informal address on current governmental topics, delegates for the convention to be held in Nelson next month were chosen, and a general discussion of matters affecting the city and provincial government concluded the gathering. Thomas McClymont, president of the association, was in the chair and W. E. Williams acted as secretary.

In the course of his address, Mr. Pattullo said that it was becoming necessary for the ministers to spend more and more of their time in travelling. The government had been criticised for this by the opposition, but it appeared to be the only way for the executives to get first hand touch with and knowledge of important matters.

The provincial government, he said, was laying the foundation for a definite land settlement policy. While immediate results might not be seen it would be of benefit ultimately.

"The establishment of a steel and iron industry may not be so far off as many people think," declared Mr. Pattullo. There were many difficulties in the way it was true but the government was working on the matter and some definite results would be obtained before long it was hoped.

The minister also touched on grazing and irrigation policies of the government. Through work which had been done recently in the southern part of the province prosperity had been brought to thousands who, otherwise, would have had to struggle along under great difficulties with the handicap of inadequate water supply.

Mr. Pattullo insisted that what British Columbia required at the present time was more people and a system of selective immigration. Above all the province must be built up on sound and business-like principles. It was true that world conditions were not all they might be but with a foundation laid on sound economic grounds and moral principles ultimate success and prosperity might be hoped for. High resolve and persevering efforts were necessary.

HOW CARPENTIER WON FROM LEWIS

Victory for Frenchman Came After Little More Than Two Minutes of Fighting.

LONDON, May 12.—Georges Carpentier's victory over Ted Lewis in the bout for the world's light heavyweight championship here last night was achieved after two minutes and fifteen seconds of fighting.

Carpentier hit Lewis when the latter turned his head to ask the referee to call a foul after a clinch. There were cries of "foul" and "unfair" but Lewis was counted out.

LONDON, May 12.—The blow with which Carpentier knocked out Lewis in the first round of the fight was perfectly fair and legitimate according to all experts who reported the bout for the "morning papers. They state that the Frenchman used nothing but fair tactics.

OLD SYSTEM OF ENTRANCE EXAMS IN EFFECT AGAIN

The Prince Rupert School Board at its meeting last night decided, subject to the approval of the Education Department, to revert back to the old system of compelling Entrance Class pupils to take and pass the government set Entrance Examination before being admitted to High School.

The local board adopted some years ago the system of allowing pupils to qualify for High School on the recommendation of the teachers. This method has proven unsatisfactory here like in other places, hence the decision to abandon it. The plan is still approved by the Council of Public Instruction, but it is not anticipated that there will be any opposition to the change now decided upon here which it is planned to have go into effect this term.

OKANAGAN FARMERS ASK GOVERNMENT TO TAKE UP MOTH MATTER

VERNON, May 12.—The Okanagan Fruit Growers' Association has referred the question of expenditure on a campaign against the codling moth to the provincial government. It is considered by the association that the matter is an affair of the government and that it is now too late to call for an expression of opinion from individual fruit growers.

FIGHT FOR COURT HOUSE

The minister then went on to tell of the fight that he had had in the legislature to obtain the court house here. He had met with a good deal of opposition from the south. His main argument for the court house and the one that probably was responsible for the city getting it was the promise made in 1912 by the McBride administration when, in the course of a government sale of lots, a wire had been received here saying that the construction of the court house would start forthwith.

On the strength of this promise one million and a half dollars worth of property had been sold with cash payments totalling $400,000. The government had used that money subsequently in other parts of the province. He had insisted that the legislature make the necessary appropriation for the court house which the city was certainly entitled.

W. E. Williams brought up the matter of stumpage rates which, he claimed, were discriminatory at present against the settlers along the G. T. P. on account of higher charges for jack pine than hemlock in certain areas. Mr. Williams also advocated the lifting of the embargo on export of logs. CHINA WAR MAY START ONCE MORE

TIENTSIN, May 12.—Although formally dismissed from the military governorship of Manchuria and defeated in the field last week General Chang Tso Lin is preparing to make a final stand at Luansboa on the Mukden Railway.

The victorious Pekin troops are preparing to drive him out and the Chinese war bids fair to begin all over again.

STORK IS TRYING TO OBTAIN DAILY MAIL SERVICE HERE

A letter has been received from Fred Stork, M.P., by the secretary of the Board of Trade, addressed from Ottawa under date of May 5, which reads:

"I beg to acknowledge receipt of your telegram re daily mail service, and have taken the matter up with Hon. Charles Murphy, Postmaster General, who promised me that the matter will receive his immediate attention. He points out that this will involve perhaps the reletting or revising of all mail carrying contracts between Red Pass Junction and Prince Rupert, which would involve an expenditure of a great deal more money than one might anticipate, but notwithstanding this I am pleased to assure you that I will give every attention towards securing a daily service."

H. Pattinson Has Ordered Outfit and Hopes to Record Scots Guards on May 24

That Prince Rupert people will be enabled to hear Vancouver concerts by means of the radiophone broadcasting apparatus is the plan of H. Pattinson, the local electrical dealer, who has just ordered a large outfit from Vancouver at a cost of $600. If the machine is in stock in Vancouver Mr. Pattinson hopes to receive it next Friday, and as an opener of a series of concerts which will be transmitted from the south the recital of the famous Scots Guards Band on May 24 will be recorded here. Mr. Pattinson has not decided upon the place where he will give his concerts, but it is expected to obtain the Agricultural Hall for at least the first performance.

IRISH BREAK IS IMMINENT

That Is Indication Given by Participants in Today's Session of Dail Eireann.

DUBLIN, May 12.—Reports from various participants in today's session of the Dail Eireann indicate that a break between the rival factions of the Irish Republicans on fundamental issues is imminent.

The die-hard Republicans will not agree to any settlement which involves their admission that the Anglo-Irish pact is acceptable to the Irish people or that the Dail's enforcement of the treaty has altered the situation in Ireland.

The Dail has adjourned for a week to permit of the peace committee smoothing its doings over.

BOOTH SCHOOL QUESTIONNAIRES

At the school board meeting last night letters were read from J. W. Potter, architect on the Booth Memorial School, and from Col. S. P. McMordie, contractor, acknowledging receipt of letters from the school board asking certain questions as a result of A. A. Cox's recent report.

Mr. Potter said that he was preparing a list of answers in connection with the Cox report, which would be submitted as soon as possible.

Col. McMordie intimated that he had been finally released from his contract in connection with this matter and did not see that he was affected by the questions. City Solicitor Hooper concurred in this view.

The Objects

Of Hospital Day.

To bring every individual to realize what a well equipped and efficiently staffed hospital means to the well being of the community, and to stimulate practical interest in the work being carried on in the institution are probably the two most important objects of the movement which is being promoted for the observance of Hospital Day today.

The occasion is the anniversary of the birthday of Florence Nightingale, the model and founder of the nursing profession, who was born in the year 1820 and died only a few years ago. What more befitting anniversary could have been chosen for our Hospital Day than that of the saintly, self-sacrificing woman, the delicate maiden of high degree, who three aside the pleasures of life of ease to succor the afflicted, gliding through the horrors of the hospital at Scutari during the Crimean War and consecrating with the radiance of her goodness, far brighter than the lamp in her hand, the dying soldier's couch? The vision is familiar to all.

Opportunity To Show Interest.

Today the opportunity is offered for every man, woman or child in the city to do something for the hospital. They can give tangible evidence of their interest by sending something, whether little or much, to encourage the workers and brighten the spirits of the patients and help keep the institution of which we may be justly proud. The chief desire behind Hospital Day is to develop the interest of all people in the community in our own hospital which exists, first and last, impartially and unflinchingly for the benefit of each and all. Money is necessary for the upkeep of the hospital and none realize it more than those who have to do with the conducting of it. The day offers a great opportunity for the philanthropically inclined and their contributions could be put to no better purpose.

Do We Deserve Hospital Care?

Many of us are inclined to criticize the actions of those who are working for our vital good in undertaking such arduous work as is necessary in the carrying on of a modern hospital but how many of us are really doing anything to assist in the work either in a manual, mental or financial way? When one has his God-given health and strength, it is all very well to criticize and forget one's duty, but when sickness comes and we or our loved ones are at death's door, it is then that the benefit of the great care, medical attention and modern surgical appliances of the hospital are expected to aid us. Do we deserve it?

Too Little Interest Here.

It is only too well known that of recent years hospital affairs of this city have been left in the hands of a few willing ones who have, in season and out, assumed ungrudgingly the responsibilities which go with the work. The citizens of Prince Rupert have manifested altogether too little interest in hospital affairs and offered too little assistance in their carrying out. What might have happened had the few not continued to devote their efforts and careful thought to the conduct of the affairs of the institution? This might well be considered on such a day as this. Can all, conscientiously thinking it over, come to the conclusion that they have been of sufficient service to the community and themselves in this connection? No doubt very few can.

Considering the conditions and difficulties under which the managers of the hospital have labored in this city, the local institution is in remarkably good shape. There is much to be desired, it is true, but at the same time all has been done that possibly could be done under the circumstances.

Immediate Action Is Necessary.

The Prince Rupert Hospital is at this time facing a crisis. Up to now it has been in fairly good financial shape, comparatively speaking. It compares favorably with hospitals in other cities. But the hospital is gradually drifting into financial difficulties. More revenue must be found if it is not to follow the course of many others which are laboring under great stress. Measures of economy cannot be stretched any further than they are at present. As if the hospital is hardly paying its way with economical management and the outside and governmental assistance which it already receives. Extensions, such as the building of a Nurses' Home and new and more modern equipment, have become an immediate need. What is to be done to save the situation? This question is being given careful consideration by the hospital board. It would be well that any assistance that may be given, either materially or otherwise, be tendered immediately. The Hospital Board is up against a difficult situation, in the solving of which it is entitled to every aid that may be forthcoming.

COL. M'DONELL AT ROTARY CLUB

In Interesting Address Yesterday Told Story of Siberian Expedition.

"A matter of the greatest interest to the business man today is the present state of Germany and Russia, which is so seriously affecting trade conditions throughout the world," said Col. G. L. McDonnell, in addressing the Rotary Club at the luncheon held yesterday in the St. Regis Cafe. "Going back to early in 1914," he said, "you will find the movement which was responsible for the war then is still existent in Europe today, and is still prevailing in the background all over the continent and Asia.

"Prior to August, 1914, the German Emperor and his followers were watching with keen interest the growth of the Social Democratic System. The brutality of the Prussian officers and non-commissioned officers in the German army was the reason for so many young men, who after having served their lawful period, turning against the government. This sentiment took such concrete form that early in 1914 the Socialist party in Germany became so strong that they were able to appoint the president of the Reichstag, and when the German Emperor sent his chancellor to parliament to obtain the necessary public funds for the upkeep of the army, the Socialist party refused to vote the necessary monies. The time had then come when the Social-Democratic party in Germany were looking towards the fact that the German Emperor would declare war. The sudden and dramatic assassination of the Austrian Archduke brought matters to a head.

Declaration of War.

"With England busily engaged, with domestic troubles and with what looked like civil war in Ireland, evidently the German Emperor and his party thought they had France at their mercy. The Emperor was always afraid of Russia, in the event of a declaration of war, with her steam roller tactics. Undoubtedly the sudden declaration of war was influenced by the growing strength of the Socialists in Germany.

"In 1917, Russia, under the Social-Democratic guidance of Kerensky, brought about the abdication of the Czar. At this time the Russian soldier was being sent to the firing line with one rifle to every fourteen men, the remainder of the men standing up to the artillery preparation of the Germans with bayonets tied on to poles. This condition of things could not last and the system under the leadership of Kerensky came to a head. This was Germany's chance. The Prussian party then sent to Switzerland where Lenin and 200 nihilists were operating with propaganda work. The German Emperor thought that by using this band Russia could be put entirely out of business and the German troops being used on that front could then be withdrawn and placed on the Western front where the question of shortage in man power was a very serious problem. Lenin and his 200 followers were consequently taken in a closed train through Germany, the Germans not wishing them to see the country as they passed through and landed in Russia. They immediately started to work and undermined the authority of Kerensky and in that way Germany by the introduction of these agitators brought about the complete downfall of Russia in 1917. The German troops were released and sent to the Western front.

Reducing Pressure.

"It was then that the British government started to look around and see at what points they could reduce the pressure. The Caucasus, Archangel and Murmansk appealed to them, and finally they thought about the Siberian situation. After Lenin and his faction had gained control of Russia, Germany made a treaty with them and thus threw the Russian menace on one side. One idea Germany had was that German and Austrian officers should be sent into Siberia to organize and train 1,400,000 German prisoners of war, who were scattered throughout Siberia. It would have been a very serious thing at that time for us if 1,400,000 fresh men had come on the field against us.

"However, with the British decision to go into Siberia the question of man power came in. Early in 1918, we had plenty of Canadian troops in England, the Canadian corps was up to strength, and with the Military Service Act in force in Canada the British government asked General Newburn, then Canadian Minister of Militia, if Canada could send 6,000 men to Siberia to represent the British Empire in Siberia. The Americans agreed to undertake intervention and the Japanese were also to go in. The government of Canada agreed to send a force here under General Elmsley."

The War Office.

The Colonel said that people were often apt to criticize the officials of the War Office, being under the misguided idea that it was staffed with old men, who employed pretty stenographers and sipped tea. This was very far from the truth and it was a wonderful thing to know how a British expeditionary force could be sent to any part of the world to represent the British Empire. At a conference held in the War Office to outline details of the Canadian expeditionary force going into Siberia, there were present the heads of all departments concerned in such an undertaking, everyone was on to his job. The question of transport, supplies, ammunition, wagons, mules and the thousand and one things necessary for the success of such an expedition, were quickly arranged, and everybody acted with the greatest courtesy and efficiency. The nearest British regiment, at that time was the Middlesex Regiment on garrison duty in Hong Kong. This was ordered by cable to proceed immediately to Siberia and the necessary ammunition was diverted from Canada.

The Colonel said that Siberia was a very similar country to Canada from a topographical standpoint and that the central plains there were exactly like our own prairies. The country was very rich in mineral, plenty of silver, placer and free gold abounding in certain localities. Premier Lloyd George. The colonel in conclusion declared that there would always be international petty jealousies. In speaking of Lloyd George he said that the British Prime Minister was carving out a line of action for himself, and that there was not the slightest doubt that he was a very capable man and was heart and soul out for the good of the flag and for the good of the Empire. The nation was very fortunate in having a man of his calibre to represent it in the councils of the world.

HOSPITAL FINANCES.

Editor Daily News:—The question of our hospital finances seems to be a serious one. In these days of enlightenment one would think that an institution of this character, which has for years past proved itself so vitally necessary to the well-being of the community, would have been put on a proper and effective financial basis ere this.

It would seem that the question of the financing of the hospital should be once and for all carefully gone into by a competent committee and some decision arrived at as to the permanent financing thereof. When one is in perfect health and has never had the misfortune to need hospital attention the hospital question is far from his thoughts, but let that same person become ill and need hospital care and attention he may be the first to demand the most careful nursing and the best of everything; little thinking how the hospital board, and the staff generally, have to scrape and save every cent for it will be generally conceded that no hospital is run for profit.

Every man and woman in the street expects to be properly and efficiently cared for if occasion should necessitate his or her being taken to hospital, whether treatment can be paid for or not. To maintain such efficiency costs money, and how many of us ever think of giving financial aid to so worthy a cause?

It would seem within the realms of possibility that some system of equitable hospital taxation could be arrived to do away with the need for the hospital to be continually soliciting for so-called charity.

Both male and female wage earners should be taxed, the female often requiring more attention than the male.

Why not make the hospital finances a municipal charge entirely, and assess those who are not paying city taxes? In the Old Country wages are assessed for hospital purposes. Why not here?

Prince Rupert General Hospital Affairs Since Inception 12 Years Ago

Today being National Hospital Day a brief narrative of the twelve years history of the local institution and an account of its present day activities, much enlarged and improved from the beginnings in 1909, may be of interest both to those who have lived in the city since the early days and have seen it grow in importance and value to the community and to those of later arrival who have known the Prince Rupert General Hospital only as it is today. The story shows that although the progress in hospital affairs has been commensurate in a degree with the progress of the city many more improvements are needed and the support which the hospital merits should be forthcoming more readily.

The Prince Rupert General Hospital was given birth at a meeting of citizens held in the old Methodist church on February 16, 1909, called for the purpose of organizing a General Hospital Society. J. A. Kirkpatrick was elected to the chair and M. M. Stephens was the secretary. Rev. W. J. Kidd, and John Houston addressed the meeting.

On January 14, 1910, the first annual general meeting of the Hospital Society was held and the articles of the association and the by-laws were adopted. J. A. Kirkpatrick was elected the first president, G. W. Morrow, vice-president, E. K. Strathy, T. D.

LATE DR. J. O. REDDIE.

One of the Early Medical Practitioners in the General Hospital.

Pattullo, D. G. Stewart, G. R. Naden and A. Carrs, directors, and A. Cuthbert, secretary-treasurer.

The First Wing
Early in 1910 the first wing of the General Hospital was opened with a capacity of 25 beds, and Miss Kate McTavish was appointed matron. At this period there was no such convenience as an operating theatre, and the operations were then performed in improvised quarters.

The original wing of the hospital was built by public subscription with the aid of the provincial government. The sum of $40,000 was raised publicly and the government furnished an additional $40,000. All persons who subscribed $50 to the fund were made life members of the Hospital Association, today the Hospital Board being constituted of life members who subscribed at that time.

An additional wing to the hospital was opened in 1912, the opening ceremony being performed by the Duke of Connaught, then Governor-General of Canada, when on a tour through northern British Columbia.

Increase Since 1910
Since 1910 the hospital accommodation has been increased from 25 to some 60 beds. During the year ending December 31, 1921, 756 cases were admitted to the General Hospital, the hospital days numbered 46,474, and 242 nurses eleven are, at the present time, eleven pupil nurses enrolled embodying senior, intermediate and juniors.

The senior pupil nurses are: Miss Hazel Lodge, Miss Mary McLennan and Miss Florence Byatt.

Intermediate: Miss F. Hebdon, Miss Ella Frank, Miss B. White, Miss Y. Roberge, Miss E. Swanson and Miss E. Weller.

Junior: Miss G. Brooks and Miss G. Morgan.

Ladies' Auxiliary.
The Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary have done excellent work in connection with the hospital and have given very practical and timely aid. One of the outstanding features of the practical help operations were performed.

Departments now operated include a modern operating theatre embodying the latest appliances that medical science has devised, a maternity department, medical and surgical departments, a fully equipped medical laboratory and X-ray facilities.

To take care of the nursing requirements of the community it is necessary that pupil teachers be enrolled to fill vacancies occurring from time to time. The educational requirements for pupil nurses are such that they should have had at least one year at High School and must be between the age of 20 and 35 on entering. The entire course covers a period of three years.

The Nurses' Home
Outside of the running of the hospital there is another very important upkeep to be considered that of the nurses home. The house now occupied as a nurses home, situated near the hospital, is very inadequate for present needs and proper facilities are not afforded for the home life of the nurses. If girls, leaving good homes, are to be encouraged to spend several years of their lives in the welfare of their fellow beings it is most essential that every home comfort and convenience be afforded them and some attraction and inducement held out to them for their sacrifice.

Accommodation affording separate bedrooms, a properly equipped classroom, a recreation room, library, is badly needed.

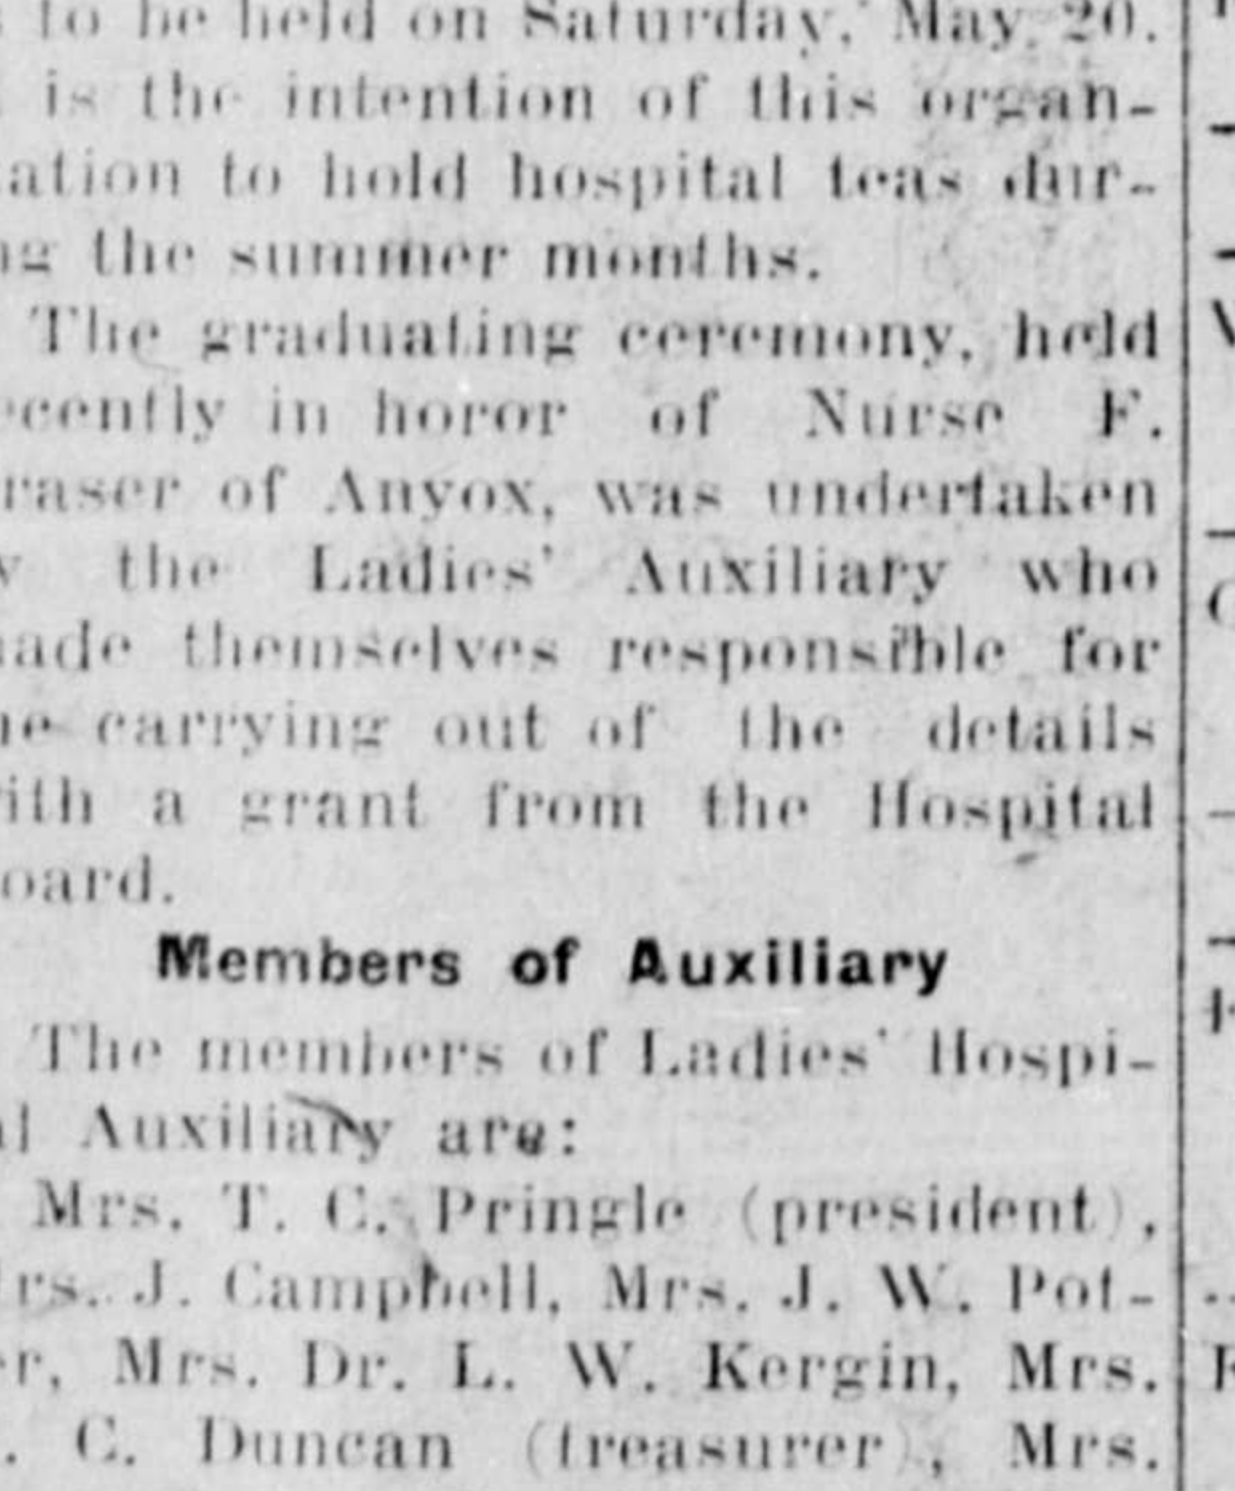

The Hospital Staff

The personnel of the staff of the hospital is at present as follows:

Miss C. Black, matron.
Miss Pearl V. Wall, operating theatre supervisor.
Miss Margaret Murray, supervisor of women's medical and surgical departments.
Miss H. Hamilton and Miss E. Palmer, night supervisors.
Mrs. Hutchison and Miss Jackson, head nurses.

In addition to these graduate

HON. T. D. PUTTALLO.

One of the First Directors of the Prince Rupert General Hospital.

The graduating ceremony, held in honor of Nurse F. Fraser of Anxox, was undertaken by the Ladies' Auxiliary who made themselves responsible for the carrying out of the details with a grant from the Hospital Board.

Members of Auxiliary
The members of Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary are:
Mrs. T. C. Pringle (president), Mrs. J. Campbell, Mrs. J. W. Potter, Mrs. Dr. L. W. Kergin, Mrs. T. C. Duncan (treasurer), Mrs. Capt. Groves, Mrs. R. Blance, Mrs. C. A. Egert, Mrs. T. McClymont, Mrs. D. Thompson, Mrs. S. D. Barton, Mrs. J. L. Lee, Mrs. W. L. Sandison (secretary), Mrs. S. P. McMordie, Mrs. Dr. W. T. Kergin, Mrs. B. Parsons, Mrs. H. Atkins, Mrs. J. Barnsley, Mrs. Dr. L. W. Kergin, Mrs. D. W. Morressey, Mrs. T. Spencer, Mrs. C. E. Starr, Mrs. R. Warrior, Mrs. M. M. Stephens, Mrs. M. Heilbroner, Mrs. Jarvis McLeod, Mrs. H. Lipsell, Mrs. E. N. Valentine, Mrs. G. G. Backer, and Mrs. D. A. Cawdon. Mrs. S. Barton and Mrs. Jarvis McLeod are the representatives to the Hospital Board.

Hospital Finances

In addition to local requirements the hospital takes care of a number of outside cases yearly, which come in from lumber camps, mining camps, villages and towns in the interior. The total requirements far exceed the present financial budget of the hospital.

The average cost per hospital patient per day is $3.24. In well regulated hospitals the cost of patients differs very little.

SCOTS DEFEATED BY ENGLISHMEN

Sons of England Earned Victory of 2 to 1 Over Callies—Game Loose in Places.

Before a large crowd of spectators at the Aeropolis Grounds last night, the representatives of the Rose achieved their greatest desire and got their long delayed revenge over the boys of the Thistle when they won the Senior League soccer fixture by a score of 2 to 1. The game was not nearly as good as many other previous struggles between these old rivals and play at times was decidedly loose but taken all in all, the Sons of England were entitled to their victory over the Callies.

The teams lined up as follows: Sons of England—B. Stockdale; H. F. Wearmouth and A. Ferro; G. Mansell, G. Kelsey and E. Craggs; A. S. Paul, F. A. Roberts, G. P. Tinker, H. M. D. Lambe and J. Farquhar. Callies—W. R. Martin; E. D. Ross and D. A. Jack; G. W. Abbott, A. Kinghorn and J. M. Campbell; W. C. Mitchell, G. Sellars, D. Main, J. Kilday and J. F. Andrews.

W. E. Willisoff was referee. First Half.

The Callies won the toss and elected to defend the lower goal. Tinker opening the game for the Sons. The opening was featured by loose play on both sides but the Sons were the first to make headway. Tinker doing the leading. Farquhar was forced to put past by Ross and Lambe had the first real try at Martin but his range was a little wide as was Roberts' a minute afterwards. Resulting from a foul awarded close in, the Sons forced their first corner but Jack cleared and the Callies made progress mainly through Kilday and Main, the latter just missing the goal narrowly from a cross by Mitchell. Continuing their spell of attack, Kilday let Andrews away on the left and crossing nicely, Sellars tested Stockdale who proved to be all there. Midfield play followed but Lambe finally worked his way into the Callies' territory and giving to Farquhar, the latter forced a corner with little profit from the flag kick, however. Not to be denied, the Sons returned to the attack and from a timely centre from Farquhar, Paul came into the game to open the score with a spooned shot that went over Martin's head. The Callies now had a spell of attack but Wearmouth always averted danger and within a few minutes the Sons were again successful, Craggs letting Tinker through with a nice pass with which he beat Martin for the second goal. This put more life into the game and the Callies, after forcing a corner, scored. Andrews placing the ball to perfection. Kilday beat Stockdale close in. After the Sons had forced an abortive corner, the first half came to a finish with the Sons leading 2 to 1.

Second Half.

On resuming the Callies immediately forced the game, Abbott having a good try for goal, the attack finishing with Mitchell putting fast. Offside spoilt a good chance for the Sons but returning to the attack Farquhar forced a corner without result. Campbell, of the Callies, was continually in the limelight either checking the Sons' right wing or leading off an attack on the Callies' left. Kinghorn tried a long shot at Stockdale but without result and within a few minutes Lambe forced Martin to leave his goal to avert danger. The relief was only short, Mansell again trying Martin with a long shot. The Callies now came more into the game but the forwards were rather slow to force home the attack, Andrews missing some glorious opportunities to make headway on the left. During the spell of attack Kilday scored but the referee's whistle had sounded previously and the point was disallowed. Farquhar made a great try from the line and immediately afterwards Jack had to bring Tinker down just outside the area to avert danger. The free kick brought no result and the Callies broke away on the right but Stockdale safely negotiated Sellars' parting effort. Returning Mitchell made progress but his centre was cleared temporarily. Main finally putting past. At the other end Ross and Abbott had to look lively to avert danger from the Sons' left but Roberts' wasted Lambe's pass by putting over the bar. From the goal kick, Main brought the ball well down but Wearmouth was giving nothing away clearing his lines in great style. After some end to end play, the game came to a finish the score still standing 2 to 1 in favor of the Englishmen.

Sport Chat

There are tricks in all trades but when it comes to golf tricks Joe Kirkwood, the Australian open champion, can show the world something. The Australian star is touring the United States with the intention of trying for the United States open title at Chicago this summer. His unique feats have aroused no little interest among the golfers he has already met.

Kirkwood can perform seemingly impossible tricks with a golf ball and a putter, mashie or driver. He can drop a half dozen balls in a straight line and with a mashie pitch the farthest one into the hole precisely and thus continue down the line until all disappear within the 4-11 inch can. He also can putt his ball against and from the lip of the cup, driving the near ball away and holding his own. However he can use neither of these stunts in competition. He performs them at calculated distances, so that long practice and a delicate touch make the work exact, while in a regular round, the ball must be played from all sorts of positions on the 120 foot square green.

The Australian champion also can curve his ball around another by putting English on it with a straight faced putter, but his truly native trick is the boomerang ball. In this piece of legerdemain he cuts, or gives the ball so much back spin that the pellet is hurled high in the air only to fall at his feet. This is an exaggeration of the cut pitch played by all experts.

Kirkwood is good, but he seems more successful than other players when it comes to competition. He can discover the cut necessary to bring the ball back to him, but when it comes to estimating the back spin necessary to drop it dead to the pin from varying distances that must be measured by the eye, he is up against a different proposition.

Another stunt that theoretically calls for perfect play is to drive a ball off a watch face or from beneath the foot of a person, but that merely requires exactness in the trajectory of the club, and a slice or hook might result if the club head followed or preceded the hands, respectively.

Kirkwood also can put an extended slice or hook on a ball, a play that is also used by Jack Hutchison, British open champion, James Barnes, United States open title holder, and many other members of the professional golfing circle, as well as prominent amateurs.

Miss Ivy Hawke, a nineteen year-old London girl, who already has many remarkable water feats to her credit, has added her name to the list of men and women aspirants to channel-swimming fame this summer.

Miss Hawke crowned a number of notable swimming achievements in the Thames last year by swimming in the water for over twelve hours, covering a distance of 25 miles. When only fifteen years of age she won the long distance event promoted by the Surrey Ladies' Swimming Club and has followed up that success by finishing first every year since.

VIVIAN MARTIN LOVES FIRST SCREEN BABY

Vivian Martin has her first screen baby in "The Song of the Soul," Mehmores Kendall's and Robert W. Chambers' first production starring Miss Martin. "And it's a very cute baby, too," she says, "and I am quite in love with it."

"The Song of the Soul," which was directed by John W. Noble, who also adapted it from the story by William J. Locke, has an unusual movie theme. The heroine is a blind girl, played by Miss Martin, and the role gives her an exceptional opportunity to display her emotional talents. Fritz Leiber plays opposite Miss Martin in this Goldwyn release, which comes to the Empress Theatre tonight and tomorrow.

Rev. F. Cassilis Kennedy, head of the American Japanese Missions for British Columbia, is the guest of Archbishop and Mrs. Du Vernet.

MANY THRILLS IN FILM "A WISE FOOL"

James Kirkwood and Alice Hollister in Leading Roles

Intensely dramatic and thrilling is "A Wise Fool," a Paramount picture of Sir Gilbert Parker's novel, "The Money Master," which will be shown at the Westholme Theatre tonight and tomorrow. James Kirkwood and Alice Hollister have the leading roles.

The central character is Jean Jacques Barbile, a French-Canadian philosopher who all but dedicates his career because of his optimism. The incidents are sensational and some of them extremely touching. Humor is provided by Sebastian Dolores, the sister of Carmen, and the temperamental villagers. It is a picture of drama, pathos, humor and humanity. It has the compass of a play with a vivid emphasis which only the screen can give. It is a reflection of the life of Quebec and a still more entrancing and intimate view of its people. The support is excellent.

made it impossible to ship to the foreign markets logs which might be manufactured in the province. This was working a hardship on the district where all but one of the mills were idle and the loggers were prevented from working. Under these conditions the embargo should be raised in this part of the province at least.

On Log Embargo

Mr. Pattullo stated that he was unfavorable to the lifting of the embargo as a matter of policy. Any individual case would, however, be considered on its merits. The principle was not to allow the exporting of logs which might be manufactured within the province.

ROYAL YEAST CAKES

Product of Canada

It was known many years ago that yeast is an excellent thing for the many ills that result from disordered stomach or run down blood condition. Lately eminent scientists have been investigating the matter thoroughly and their conclusions point to the fact that the beneficial effect of yeast has not been overrated. The yeast treatment is very simple and economical - and altogether harmless.

Before each meal eat a Royal Yeast Cake, or take a cake dissolved in water or fruit juices. The scientific investigators say that the curative elements in Royal Yeast are the vitamins and nuclein which it contains. It is certainly well worth a fair trial by those who suffer from any of the ailments mentioned above.

CATARRH of the Stomach FOR EIGHT YEARS

The cause of this trouble is the fermentation of food in the stomach which generates a gas that is very frequently belched up. There is also a rumbling of the bowels and a discharge of gas therefrom, there is constant retching, and the meals are frequently vomited. There is a burning pain in the stomach, the appetite is feeble, the tongue coated, the breath bad, constipation is generally present and the sufferer becomes weak, nervous, depressed and exceedingly miserable.

The blame lies with a sluggish liver, as it holds back the bile which is so necessary to promote the movement of the bowels, and when the bile gets into the blood a badly disordered condition of the stomach, liver and bowels will surely follow.

Keep your liver active and you will always enjoy good health.

Mrs. Agnes Gallant, Reserve Mines, N. S., writes: "I had been a great sufferer for eight years, from catarrh of the stomach. I tried several so-called catarrh remedies without relief until a friend advised me to try Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills, which I did, and four visits completely relieved me. That was six years ago, and I have had no return of my old trouble."

Price, 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

UNEMPLOYED LIST IS ON DECREASE

During Last Week Roll at Government Labor Bureau Has Dropped From 130 to 85

The unemployed list in the city is gradually dropping and in the past ten days the total of men seeking jobs has gone down from 130 to 85 at which figure it stood yesterday on the books of J. M. Campbell, provincial government employment agent. Quite a demand for workers on the railway section gangs and a dozen or so loggers sent to the Morgan camps on Princess Royal Island are responsible for the improved condition says Mr. Campbell. Tomorrow it is expected that five or six more men will be sent to the Kelly camp at Cumshewa Inlet.

Men continue to come and go in search of jobs, reports Mr. Campbell. A feature of the situation that seems difficult to understand is that men are constantly coming from the prairies, where there is plenty of farm work available, to the coast where their chances of getting employment are more remote. It is said that some are attracted by reason of the fact that liquor is more easily obtained here than on the prairies. The placing of a ban on men coming in from the prairies, as suggested by Hon. A. M. Manson, minister of labor, would be a good move Mr. Campbell thinks.

hospital since 1914 have been indigent, that is, people who have been unable to pay their accounts. If all patients using the hospital were able to pay their fees it would still leave a discrepancy for operating expenses, and with such a number not being able to pay, it is only reasonable to assume that the hospital is in urgent need of outside support. So far this year, owing to the unemployment, the number of people who have been treated at the hospital and who are unable to pay will average 50 per cent. Several of the patients in the hospital today are old men who are unable to look after themselves and who should be in some other suitable institution.

Board of Management

The present Hospital Board consists of eleven members. Five are elected annually by the Hospital Association, two are appointed annually by the city council, two by the provincial government and two by the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary. The Medical Association also has representation on the board of two members who act only in an advisory capacity. The members of the present board are:

D. G. Stewart, president.

Col. S. P. McMurdie, vice-president.

D. G. McRae, chairman of the house committee.

J. Lorne McLaren and M. J. McNeil; Ald. Theo. Collart and Ald. R. A. McLeod, appointed by the city council; W. E. Gollison, and E. H. Mortimer, provincial government; Mrs. Jarvis McLeod and Mrs. S. Darton, ladies' auxiliary.

Dr. L. W. Kergin and Dr. J. P. Gade are the hospital doctors.

Major Geo. E. Gibson, secretary to the board.

Appeal to Public

The board invite the public who desire to take a practical interest in the hospital to join the Hospital Association. The annual fee is $5 and life membership is $50. To promote efficiency the Hospital Board is very anxious for more people to join the association thus taking a sensible interest in hospital work.

It is the intention of the Board to throw the hospital open to the public on Hospital Sunday, May 14, for inspection during the hours of 3 p.m. and 5 p.m., when men, women and children of the community are cordially invited to pay the patients and nursing staff a visit.
