Sir Lomer Gouin Denies Charges of Party Leadership

OTTAWA, March 17.—Sir Lomer Gouin, in a speech in the House of Commons yesterday, denied the opposition charges that he was the real leader of the administration. "The Liberal party has only one chief, who is Premier of Canada," he declared. "I can depend on the support of every member of the party. I am only a man of good will hoping to continue in the present post. I have worked for the past twenty-five years elsewhere for the national welfare and good will. Mr. Meighen takes particular pleasure in making charges which have been made in the House before and are only part of the bitterness against Quebec tending to increase the misunderstanding which has existed so long between certain portions of Canada and the province of Quebec."

Sir Lomer stressed the Government's intention of giving the Canadian National Railway a fair chance to make good. He said on tariff matters he favored the Laurier-Fielding policy.

McKelvie of Yale and Stevens of Vancouver all spoke yesterday and emphasized the Oriental menace of British Columbia.

Neill Independent.
In continuing the debate on the address this afternoon A. W. Neill of Comox Alberni declared he was the only independent in the House elected to oppose the Meighen Government, after which he was free to follow his own course. If the Liberal Government could put his platform into being he would support it.

Lloyd George May Appeal to People On Irish Question

LONDON, March 17.—It is believed that Premier Lloyd George is waiting for the action of the House of Lords on the Irish Free State Bill before taking further action in regard to his resignation.

If the House of Lords adopts the amendments to the bill, the Premier, it is believed, will resign and appeal to the country on the Irish issue.

It is understood that the Duke of Devonshire has refused the position of successor to Montagu as Secretary for India and, because the Premier wishes to avoid by-elections in the reorganization of the cabinet, he will probably offer the secretaryship to Lord Peel or Earl Crawford.

The House of Lords passed its second reading of the Irish Free State Bill without division.

The Library Movement and What It Means Explained by Miss Helen Stewart

"If the library bylaw is carried it will cost each person fifty cents. Do you think the people can stand the pressure?" enquired Miss Helen Stewart at the library meeting in the Empress Theatre last night. "That amount is the minimum allowed to be raised for the purpose in Ontario. It means two movie tickets or three little packets of smokes. You can get some kind of a dinner for fifty cents. Invested in the library it will give you access to 5000 volumes, in addition to magazines and reference books. It is not much for a western town. In every country where the library is spreading it is the idea that they are not adding to the burdens in installing a library but investing money in such a way as to help them solve the problems which surround them. The idea is that the library is an absolute necessity just as are the schools."

"If fifty cents is going to stand between you and the library," concluded the speaker at the close of an intensely interesting address, "the dollar is getting so big to you that it is getting between you and the sun."

Not Local Movement.
Miss Stewart explained that this library movement was not local. Even in central and southern Europe because of the problems they had to solve they were establishing libraries. In Russia there had been more attempts to feed the starved minds of the people than the bodies. In Britain, where the tax rate is so large that it makes our look puny by comparison, they last year increased the amount to be levied for libraries. They take the view that in order to solve the problems which encompass them they must have help.

In Nelson they established a library two years ago and it is now an established institution. Many other places were getting ready to put forward bylaws. Prince Rupert was facing problems which it would be difficult to solve without help. "Why try to solve them alone when it is so simple to get aid. There never was a time when there were so many problems as today needing solution. The only way to attack a problem is by getting more ideas. The great reason why a library is needed is because today conditions have come to such a stage that it is necessary to carry on along scientific lines."

If the country had been governed under an absolute monarchy there would have been no need for the people to study. It would be correct to let the king solve the difficulties. Even under the old-fashioned parliaments they might do the same, but today it was necessary for the people to solve the problems of the day themselves. "The sovereign power is the will of the people."

Miss Stewart said that in Canada it was a penal offense not to send children to school. It was recognized that ignorance was a menace to the state. Every child must learn to read. Millions of dollars were spent by the state in providing a good educational system. The library system was an extension of the education idea.

Books Collected Here.
Miss Stewart went on to tell what constituted a library and how it could be made more valuable. She said she had been looking over the list of the books collected here. Nearly 2000 books had been given free by the people of the town. What surprised her was that people who would have such good books to donate could have got along so long without a public library. Much of the literature was fiction, but most of it was good fiction. She had never seen books collected as a free gift with so high an average. It would form a good nucleus for a library.

Miss Stewart then told of the value of the various kinds of literature and of the deleterious influence of what she called "dope." The important thing in library work was the broadening of the horizon and the enabling of the people to live a more satisfactory life. It was necessary if they established the library that they get full value for their money and that they could get only by the

ALASKAN OBJECTION TAKEN TO FISHING CENTRE HERE EXPLAINED AT WASHINGTON

H. C. Strong, one of the large property owners of Ketchikan and part owner of the cold storage and canneries in the district, appeared recently before the marine and fisheries committee of the House of Representatives at Washington. As reported in the Ketchikan Daily News, a newspaper recently started in Ketchikan, he urged the establishment of a car ferry between Prince Rupert and some point in Alaska. He did not ask that it go to Ketchikan and he did not ask that the railway be extended to Alaska, but said he was speaking in the interests of Alaska as a whole. He said in part:

"Here is a map of Alaska as it lies in connection with the Dominion of Canada. During the past few years the Canadians have built a transcontinental line across the country, terminating at Prince Rupert. This terminus is within 42 miles of Alaska. It is the natural and logical route for fish to take across the continent from Alaska to the American markets."

Mr. Chindblom—Is it shorter? Mr. Strong—Shorter and quicker, but the unfortunate part of it is that the Canadian regulations, geographical position and everything goes to centre the fishing industry at this terminus at Prince Rupert. The fishing fleet of Alaska, that is, the fleet fishing off the coast of Alaska, both Canadian and American vessels all centre at Prince Rupert. They are building up a great industry there."

Mr. Chindblom—Do you refer exclusively to southeastern Alaska or also to western Alaska?

Mr. Strong—Even to western Alaska. Of course it hurts southeastern Alaska materially. These vessels take their catches to Prince Rupert. There they are bought by the agents who really represent the American consumers. The fish are there paid off and the proceeds of the trip are disbursed. Then the fishermen go uptown and spend their money. They usually spend the great part of the proceeds from their trip there. By this time the master of the ship proceeds to buy his entire supplies for the next trip—the entire returns of the catch have gone into circulation at the Canadian port. The fish that came from Alaska and the money to pay for them came from the United States. They are building up a great industry in Canada."

Now, they do intend to have a Canadian mosquito fleet to operate out of Prince Rupert for the Grand Trunk Railway and the Canadian Pacific Railway would like to have the same out of Vancouver for their line to pick up Alaska business and get the rail freight across the continent. It is right from their standpoint; it is good business. It is not right for us as American citizens to sit idly by and see great warehouses, the main establishments, the cold-storage plants, all handling American products operated at a Canadian terminus."

Silver Lining.
The silver lining that I saw in that cloud when the Jones bill first came up was this: That railroad is built almost to the border of Alaska, and I could see that the only way that the Canadian railroads could get any amount of business out of Alaska was to have conditions that would require them to establish a real Alaskan terminus for their railroad. Now it is entirely practical to construct a car ferry to operate between Prince Rupert and Alaska.

Mr. Chindblom—What point in Alaska?

Mr. Strong—Any point where there are good harbor facilities. My home is 90 miles from Prince Rupert. It is not a thing that would require them to go to any particular point, but to establish a terminus in Alaska. Then we could have a mosquito fleet operating there, and let it be an American mosquito fleet that will go over Alaska and distribute freight and pick up our products. We must build up something in Alaska instead of doing it at a Canadian port, as it is now."

Mr. Hardy—Have you got your Canadian railroad terminus just over the line in Alaska?

Mr. Strong—Not yet.

Mr. Hardy—Would not that railroad, then, carry the freight?

Mr. Strong—Sure.

Mr. Hardy—The only difference between that and this is that you would have the building up of the town along in your vicinity instead of over there?

Mr. Strong—That is the idea. Mr. Hardy—As matter of fact if Canada was a part of the United States all these questions would be done away with?

Mr. Strong—Sure.

Mr. Hardy—After all, it is just a little question of petty interests between somebody who wants to build up a town there and somebody who wants to build up a town at Prince Rupert and the people who suffer from this conflict?

Mr. Strong—No, sir.

Mr. Hardy—How much better off would the people be if you had this just over the imaginary line that separates Alaska from Canada.

Greater Payroll.

Mr. Strong—They would be better off at the present time.

Mr. Hardy, by a greater payroll than Alaska today possesses.

Mr. Hardy—That payroll would come to a little different point, but it comes to the same people?

Mr. Strong—No, sir; that payroll comes entirely to Prince Rupert, Canada, a foreign port.

Mr. Hardy—And in Prince Rupert it is paid to these fishermen?

Mr. Strong—Those fishermen become Canadians, they are not American citizens.

Mr. Hardy—What is the harm in that?

Mr. Strong—Do we not want to build up our own country?

Mr. Hardy—I think, we can carry it to an extreme and make our people suffer.

Mr. Strong—No, sir. We will establish good and better transportation facilities for all of Alaska, and we would have a transcontinental railroad and Alaska and American markets.

Extend Railroad.

Mr. Hardy—I think if you get the railroad it would be a good thing. We have spent a good deal of money to get a railroad to the interior of Alaska.

Mr. Chindblom—Would you mean to extend the Canadian railroad, or would you mean that we should build our own?

Mr. Davis—Is not that proposition likely to work both ways? If you build a railroad from Prince Rupert extending up into Alaska, would not that be just as likely, if not more likely to prove an additional feeder for Prince Rupert than it would divert the freight away from Prince Rupert, which is already established?

Mr. Strong—No, sir. Before we proceed that far we must have a congressional act that will protect the Alaska fisheries. As it is today fisheries are an asset of a Canadian port instead of an American port. Therefore we must have a congressional act that will either place a duty or prohibit fish from the north Pacific Ocean and tributary waters entering the United States which are prepared for shipment at a Canadian port.

CAPTAIN DAN HARRIS DIED LAST WEEK IN CITY OF VANCOUVER

The entire north country will regret to learn of the passing away last week at Vancouver of Captain Daniel Harris, father of the well known Harris brothers, Hazelton mining men. Captain Harris was 72 years of age and had been in poor health for some time past.

Death occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. D. R. Shewen, in Vancouver. His aged wife was at the death bed and also his son, W. S. Harris. Deceased is survived by four sons, W. S. Harris, Al Harris, Edgar Harris and Hugh Harris.

ALICE ARM IS WAITING WORD TAYLOR PLANS

Activity in District Is Quiet Now That the Dolly Varden Railway Is Closed.

ALICE ARM, Mar. 17.—The people of Alice Arm are anxiously awaiting definite word as to the intentions of the Taylor Mining Co. with regard to the operation of the Dolly Varden railway this year. Since the close down of this railway some time ago, mining operations in the Kitsault Valley generally have been handicapped and activity on a large scale on any properties is not expected until it runs again.

It is reported here that the Taylor Company has raised a sum of $100,000 to continue work on the Dolly Varden and Wolf mines this year and that the government is being approached to take over operation of the railroad when the charter of the company expires. The Dolly Varden charter calls for the operation of the railway.

JACK HARKLEY HAS GOOD PROSPECT THAT LOOKS LIKE A MINE

Jack Harkley arrived in town last Saturday with several hundred pounds of ore samples from his property, the L. L. & H., on Bitter Creek, says the Portland Canal News of Stewart, B. C. After spending two or three days in town he returned to the property to continue the work of extending the tunnel. The work that Jack has done on his property this winter has proven it to be one of the most promising properties in the camp. When he started work on the crosscut it was thought the tunnel had cut the first two leads, and that the second was 45 feet wide, but the first shot dispelled this idea, for it broke into more ore, and when the wall was reached the lead proved to be 60 feet wide. The depth from the surface is about 140 feet.

Large Tonnage.

This lead, which is only a foot wide on the surface, is traceable for 1200 feet. Thus Jack has proven up a tremendous tonnage of ore. He has returned for the purpose of continuing the tunnel, with the idea of cutting the third lead, which on the surface is quite large, and which he expects to strike in about 40 to 50 feet. At first he thought that he would get this lead in 30 feet, but recent work on the property has proved that he will have to go at least another 40 feet.

It does not appear that this property can be considered a high grade proposition; but it does contain a tremendous tonnage of a good grade milling ore, with gold values predominating, and silver coming second.

ALICE ARM

The Lion property, near the Esperanza Mine, is looking very promising. Development operations have been suspended until the season is more favorable.

The Esperanza Mine is still shipping ore to the Anyox smelter and about eighty tons is now on the wharf.

R. F. McGinnis left last week for Prince Rupert and will be away for three or four months.

GOLKEISH IS CLOSED

Flux Mine Near Anyox Has Had a Very Successful Period of Operation.

The Golkeish mine, across the bay from Anyox, closed down operations last Wednesday.

The Golkeish, which has been operated very successfully by W. H. Heideman of Anyox and associates for a year or so getting out flux ores for the Granby smelter, has been rather crowded out by the large amounts of low-grade value ores and fluxes which have been coming from the Premier at Stewart, and this is given as the reason for its closing. However, its operation has been a paying proposition and the owners now find themselves with their machinery all paid for and a substantial cash balance on hand. Besides fluxes, the mine has produced some good ore values.

THERE was a wedding yesterday in which John Jones the pale spotted faced clerk married Miss Lottie Smith daughter of the popular bootlegger of Rupert Road. The bride wore green taffeta but it looked very incongruous in connection with her mop of red stringy hair. She was given away by her father who was rather unsteady and had a breath. The bridesmaids wore some cut down clothes that were formerly their mother's. The groomsmen wore a squint with great effect. There were few presents as the middle aged couple were not very popular. When they left the city several of the boy friends of the bride threw old shoes and one caught the groom on the cheek but failed to bring any color to it. It is expected Mr. and Mrs. Jones will quarrel before they return home.

What time do the doors open to admit the early birds for the best 50c seats in the afternoon? At 1:30 p.m.

Will general admission tickets previously bought admit to the afternoon performance? Yes, they may be exchanged at Ormes Ltd. Saturday morning for the best seat in the house without extra charge.

Will the matinee performance be as good as that of the evening? Yes it may be better from the children's standpoint, as Ernie Butler intends to unload a barrel of tricks on the kids.

Will Ernie Butler call upon local boys to assist him in his sleight of hand tricks with the cigarettes, slates, eggs, cards, etc? Yes he will call boys right out of the audience, boys we all know, and if you should be one of those boys, don't let him fool you.

Is it too late now to get a seat for the evening Concert? No. There are still a few box seats to be had which will be sold individually. Also the upper gallery is not completely sold up. Hustle up if you do not want to miss the best concert yet.

BRINGING UP FATHER

LIBRARY MUST BE BUSINESS

Most Modern Ideas and Methods Necessary to Get Best Results.

LIBRARY AND THE BOY

Miss Stewart Gives Interesting Address to Rotary Club on Favorite Subject.

Assuming that the members of the Rotary Club favored the establishment of a library just because they were Rotarians Miss Stewart, the guest of the club yesterday, addressed them on how to make the library effective. Just as the Rotary Club seeks to represent each point of view, so said Miss Stewart, the library seeks to represent every point of view. Keen in the matter of selection, anxious to choose the best, each had in view the formation of a community spirit, which was a higher goal than anyone singly could achieve. In the idea of internationalism or the making of world citizens and getting rid of barriers, the Rotary was doing what the library also aimed to do for the whole community.

Miss Stewart said there were two distinct points she wished to impress upon her hearers. The value of seeking the community interest and of looking out for the boys. Those too were Rotary ideals.

When a library was started it was very frequently considered that someone who was unable to do anything else could be the librarian. That idea was still fairly rife. There was a deep contempt by the man of action for the man of ideas. It was only in the last few thousand years that man had developed the art of thinking. Men of action often scorned men of ideas. Yet it was true that ideas had to precede action. Once school teachers were people who were unable to do anything else. Now all that was changed and the librarian was also getting a professional standing in the country.

Business Methods.

Miss Stewart then spoke of the business end of librarianship. It was necessary in business to make up a budget, in order that it may be known exactly what is being done and may be done. Cost accounting was necessary. So a librarian must be a business person who could do cost accounting and make up a budget. The librarian's office is a business office. There were the same problems in a library as in business. The librarian could not be a doddering person, but must be well equipped with knowledge of modern business methods. It was only easy to conduct a library when modern business methods were installed as up to date as in any business. Every librarian must know how to administer.

Further than that in the matter of a library as in business it was necessary to get the idea over to the people. That was why businessmen advertised. The librarian must know both books and people. It was also necessary to have the stock with which to work. Like a mine, however, the books were of little value unless developed. In order to be head of a library a person must keep the finger on the pulse of the community. It was the duty of the librarian to gather information and keep it in such a way as the finger could be placed on it in a moment. Magazines all had to be filed and indexed after their general use. As a matter of fact "a collection

Night Coughs

Terribly wearing on the system is the cough that comes at night and prevents sleep.
The constant coughing keeps the lungs and bronchial tubes in such an irritated and inflamed condition that they get no chance to heal.
You will find in

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP
a remedy without an equal for soothing the lungs, loosening the phlegm, strengthening the breathing organs and fortifying them against pulmonary disease.
Mrs. John Mckerney, Lower Montague, P. E. I., writes:—"About three years ago I caught a very bad cold accompanied by a sore throat and hoarseness, and was so hoarse you could hardly hear me speak. I could get no rest at night with the terrible annoying hacking cough. I tried several remedies, but they did me no good. Finally I saw Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup advertised; got a bottle, and at once it gave me relief, and after using four my cough had all gone. Now I always keep 'Dr. Wood's' in the house, and shall recommend your remedy to others."

of books is no more a library without a business and professional expert than is a hole in the ground a mine without the expert to get out the ore."
Value to Boys.
Miss Stewart then went on to speak of the value of the library to the boys of a community. They all realized the value of physical health but without mental muscle these were of little value. They could not succeed with a healthy body without a healthy mind. Men worked for the future of the boys and girls so that they might have a chance. Unfortunately, however, the boys of today were deprived of much of the opportunity of the former generation. The forest had in many cases been burned over, the land impoverished, the mines depleted. A great many of the resources of the country had been robbed. Because of this the boys of today must be better equipped for life. This could be attained by developing ideas.

In the library movement they were asking the people of Prince Rupert to vote 50c per head of the population for the work. It was a small amount to ask them to invest in ideas. Some people felt they could not get along without material things but they could be quite happy without material stimulus.
Miss Stewart was thanked for her address by President Doby who spoke most appreciatively of her address and of the cause for which she was pleading. There were a number of guests present including members of the Library Committee.

ARTISTIC EFFORT IS CONCERT PROGRAM FOR ST. PATRICK'S CONCERT

The most pretentious artistic effort yet made in Prince Rupert in the way of a program has just been issued from the Rose, Cowan & Latta presses of the big St. Patrick's Day concert which is being held here tonight under the Knight of Columbus. It is printed on heavy cream coated paper and has an art cover, the whole constituting something quite unusual in the way of concert programs. It is a credit both to the committee having its preparation in hand and also to the printers.

MUCH HAS BEEN SAID

About the sanitary condition of the power laundry outfit. It may be of interest to note that Dr. Ira S. Wile writing in the Medical News, New York, concludes a discussion of laundry hygiene by saying that in the power laundry process "exposure to heat and the usual washing reagents along with mechanical agitation, destroys the hardest bacteria" and that "Laundering appears to be an efficient hygienic method of promoting cleanliness without danger to patrons or employees. This cannot be said of the hand laundry."

The old bugbear of contamination has been exploded. Expert investigation has failed to find and disease producing germs (pathogens) where clothing has been exposed to a temperature of 180 degrees fahr, or where they have been washed at a temperature as low as 104 degrees fahr, using soap liberally.

These precautions are all observed in our process. You can safely trust us with your washing problems. We will return your clothing CLEAN, SANITARY and UNDAMAGED by injurious chemicals.

MINERS LEAVE TERRACE FOR KITSUMKALUM

Need of Road to Lake Is Emphasized by Correspondent From Berry Town.

MUCH DEVELOPMENT.

TERRACE, March 17.—A party of miners and prospectors left town this week for Rosswood, at the head of Kitsumgallum Lake, to start the season's mining operations on the properties on Rosswood mountain.

The party was headed by John Hoar of Seattle, who with his associates have brought in a mass Mill to work the gold claims comprised in the "Bear" group and the "Black Wolf" group which were acquired by them last summer.

The mill arrived in Terrace late last fall and was taken out to the claims but it was too late in the season to start operations owing to the arrival of the snow. It is their intention to put a test run of ore as soon as possible and if the results warrant going so they intend to bring in two more mills, either the Ross type or a more improved mill, and to open several mines in that district.

Mr. Hoar is very enthusiastic over the possibilities of his claims and has every confidence that the results will fill his highest expectations and that there will be a large mining camp at the head of Kitsumgallum Lake in the near future.

He was accompanied out to the lake by J. Hart, and E. W. Gelfing of Seattle, Wash., and also John Gaudre, Oscar Gendron, Oscar Gaudre, and Paul Brödin, all well known prospectors in this district.

This is the earliest start at mining operations ever made in this district and is due to the anxiety of those interested to get their locality on the map as a mining district. Big results are confidently expected from this year's operations by the whole district.

Need of Road.

Mr. Hoar made strong expressions regarding the need of improvement on the road to Kitsumgallum Lake so that a decent road could be transported over his road and stated that it all depended on what work was done in this road this summer as to the extent of their shipments of ore.

He said that whereas it only cost $7.80 per ton to ship ore from Terrace to the smelter at Tacoma, it cost $55.00 per ton to bring the ore from the head of the lake to Terrace and this was strictly prohibitive to shipping a very great quantity.

He also made the statement that he knew two parties who could start operations in that district if the road was put into shape that would warrant them going so.

He, himself, has a Silver-Lead property that runs $160 to $170 a ton without concentrating, but he would have shipping ore in short order if he could get over the road but that he cannot touch it until the road is improved.

The Wickstrom interests, who have a property 20 miles north of the lake are due here this week and it is their intention to start operations on their properties immediately.

In view of the mining possibilities of that district it is the opinion here that it would be in fairness to all concerned for the government to spend the small amount necessary as soon as possible to put the road in good working condition, and so help in the development of the country. The money would be well invested as it would come back manifold in mining royalties, etc. in very short order.

Eight Miles Needed.

The road from Terrace to the foot of Kitsumgallum Lake is a distance of 18 miles. Of this about 10 miles is already first class road but there remains eight miles of very poor road which is merely a trail through the woods and up and down very steep hills.

The road would have to be changed in some places and merely gravelled and widened in others and it is figured that from eight or ten thousand dollars would put it into first class shape for heavy traffic.

The Kitsumgallum Gas and Petroleum Co. have said that they would have an oil drill working out this summer, and the Punnett people of Victoria are reported to be coming in this spring with an oil-drill for the same locality.

Freight over this road now costs $10.00 per ton and it can readily be seen what that means to the people who are trying to develop the natural resources of the country.

Mr. Hoar has eight tons of supplies to go over the road immediately and he made the statement that the cost of transporting his mills out over the road amounted to almost the initial cost of the mills.

Interest to Prince Rupert.

It is to the interest of the people of Prince Rupert just as much as it is to the people of this locality to put their shoulder to the wheel and help get this road fixed and if the business interests of Rupert have the progress of the whole district at heart they will not need a second invitation to help.

It is difficult to get appropriations from the government for road work but this is one road that needs considerable money expended on it and will bear a strict investigation by the government engineers. That it should be done at once and not left to see how much money will be left over this fall that can be used for this purpose, is local opinion.

STEADY PROSPECTING HUDSON BAY MOUNTAIN

Seattle Syndicate to Continue Work on Mamie Claims with Capt. Turner in Charge.

SMITHERS, March 17.—There has been marked activity on the Mamie copper and silver claim situated on the Hudson Bay mountain, owned by a Seattle syndicate headed by J. F. Duthie, who is well known in shipping circles on the Pacific Coast. Captain J. T. Turner, of Seattle, is chief engineer in charge of the work. Four men have been employed all the winter prospecting the ore showings. This work is being done at the present time by sinking a shaft on the ore on which the original cross cut tunnel was driven.

Prospecting work will be carried on in a cautious and conservative manner during the summer. Captain Turner has been called to Seattle on business and will be absent for some three weeks.

WEATHER ON BANKS FORCES BOATS COME IN LIGHT CATCHES

Eleven fishing schooners with very light catches made port since yesterday and sold their haul at the Fish Exchange this morning. Rough weather has come up on the banks and the boats were forced to come in before they had caught the usual amount of fish.

The arrivals and sales were as follows:

Annie Tuck, 5000 pounds; Koyousu, 6000 pounds; Volunteer, 3000 pounds; Crescent, 2000 pounds, and Chancellor, 5000 pounds, sold to the Sinclair Fisheries at 15.9c and 6½c.

Sampson, 4500 pounds; Alliance, 3000 pounds; Laura, 4500 pounds; Ethel June, 4500 pounds; P. Doreen, 2000 pounds, and Margalene, 6000 pounds, sold to the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Co. at 16c and 6½c.

HOSPITAL FINANCES

Loan at Bank Is to Be Increased to $7,500—Future Policy Being Considered.

The hospital board is to apply to the bank for an extension of its credit from $5,000 to $7,500 and the Finance Committee is to report at next meeting on some definite policy of future financing. This was decided upon at the regular monthly board meeting last night after there had been considerable discussion as to finances.

President Stewart reported that the city council has decided not to make its usual grant to the hospital board this year but nothing definite on this matter would be known until after the G. T. P. assessment agreement bylaw had been passed upon and other financial matters of the city had been settled for the year. Mr. Stewart thought that, since the board could do no planning until it knew what would be forthcoming from the council, the city should give some stipulated grant even if it were reduced. In the meantime, the matter of the building of a nurses' home and other work of the board was being held up.

Ald. Collart stated that it was impossible to state, as yet, exactly what the council would have for the hospital board.

Change in System.

D. C. McRae, chairman of the hospital finance committee, reported that, in the meantime, the city council was paying its usual grants per month to the hospital. The problem of collecting accounts at the hospital was a difficult one and it might be necessary to change the system so that all patients would have to pay in advance. Then there would be only two classes of patients, those who paid and those who did not. The city might take care of the latter class. Mr. McRae said he did not like the idea of the hospital getting deeper and deeper into debt. They should adopt some bed-rock policy of financing. In another month's time, they would know how much would be forthcoming from the city and from the share of liquor profits.

Mr. Stewart felt the city was bound to assist the hospital while Ald. Collart thought the provincial government should be entirely responsible.

It was finally decided to increase the loan at the bank and call on the Finance Committee to formulate a definite financing policy for the future.

LATEST STYLES ON EXHIBITION

All the very latest styles in hats, suits, dresses and coats will be on exhibition at the spring millinery opening in Demers' ladies' clothing and millinery store tomorrow. In this attractive store will be seen many of the most up-to-date models in all lines of ladies' wear, all being offered at reasonable prices.

The hats this year are of medium size. Flower and ribbon trimmings are in favor, as well as taffeta hats trimmed with embroidery. This applies more particularly to the dress hats, although it prevails also in the ready-to-wear lines. The colors being shown are somewhat brighter and more varied than last year.

Embroidered and beaded ready-to-wear and tailored suits are very popular and the models are looser than previously, featuring the latest loose sleeve fashion.

Silk taffeta, taffeta and satin and Canton crepe are the predominating materials in dresses. Here wide sleeves are again featured. The dresses this season are longer than last.

The new Tuxedo coats with wide loose sleeves are the most favored this year. Chinchilla and velours are popular, but the new Pandora cloth, which makes its first appearance now, is perhaps appealing more to the feminine fancy than anything else. This is a wool texture material which has a richer material than either chinchilla or velours.

A newspaper without circulation, even if printed on parchment, has no advertising value because it has nothing to sell.

DOING DEVELOPMENT WORK SMITHERS MINE

John H. Turner, Engineer in Charge Aldrich Claims, Making Trip to Grants Pass, Ore.

John H. Turner, mining engineer of Seattle, who is in charge of mining development work for a Seattle syndicate on the Aldrich claims, Hudson Bay Mountain, Smithers, passed through the city last night on his way south.

Mr. Turner said that his company had been doing development work all winter on the claim at Smithers and had found some very good showings, although nothing definite could yet be said of the general aspect of affairs. Five men are being employed on this particular work.

Mr. Turner is now on his way to Grants Pass, Oregon, where his company is doing some placer mining. He will return north in about four weeks' time.

GREAT IMPORTANCE FISHING INDUSTRY SHOWN BY FIGURES

OTTAWA, March 16.—Recent estimates place the number of Canadians directly engaged in fishing and in handling fish at 150,000. Those dependent on the fisheries for a living include at least 250,000 more.

The capital invested in the Canadian fisheries is between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000 and the future possibilities of the industry are limited only by the amount of capital available and the market. One half the investment is in boats, nets and gear and the other half in canning and curing establishments, cold storage and ice making plants.

There are in Canada 86 fish canning and curing concerns registered as joint stock companies.

VANDERHOOF

Mrs. H. V. Godwin and children have returned home from a visit to Alberta.

It is expected that the provincial government public works department will bring a caterpillar here to take the place of the old tractor which has been sold. Road work will commence about April 1.

The revenue collected at the local provincial police station during the months of January and February was $865. The fines were mostly under the Game Act.

Work is to be started immediately on the ferry at Fort St. James. The old ferry was condemned and a renewal is necessary.

LIVER TROUBLE Bad Bilious Attacks

When your liver becomes sluggish and inactive your whole health suffers. Your bowels become constipated, the tongue coated, the breath bad, the stomach full and sick, and bilious spells occur on account of the liver holding back the bile which is so essential to promote the movement of the bowels, and the bile gets into the blood, instead of passing out through the usual channel.

The only way to keep the liver active and working properly, and thus get rid of the nasty bilious attacks, is to keep the bowels regular by using

MILBURN'S
LAXA-LIVER PILLS

They are purely vegetable, small and easy to take, work smoothly and gently, and there is nothing of the griping, weakening and sickening effects of the old-fashioned purgatives.

Mr. John S. Canon, Donavon, Sask., writes: "I was troubled with my liver, and had severe bilious attacks. A friend advised me to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, so I took two pills and I have had no more attacks."

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS are 25c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GROTTO CUP PRESENTED

Enjoyable Banquet Was Held Last Evening in St. Regis in Honor of the Occasion.

At a banquet held last night in the St. Regis dining room, the Grotto Cup, significant of the Intermediate League city basketball championship was presented to its winners for the 1921-22 season, the Colts Basketball Club. There were about forty players present and the splendid supper served, as well as the list of after dinner speeches, were fully enjoyed and appreciated. George Frizzell was chairman.

Following the supper, W. E. Willisroff, president of the Prince Rupert Basketball Association, was called upon. After having made a few suitable remarks, he presented the Grotto Cup to the winning team, Howard Frizzell, captain of the team, received it and responded in fitting terms.

There were also speeches by C. Dickenson and C. C. Clementson, of the Elks Senior basketball team; W. R. Martin, the oldest basketball player in the city; Albert Smith, of the Sons of Canada; R. Davidson, Intermediate Elks; F. W. McIntosh, and Bert Morgan, manager of the Grotto cigar store.

The pleasant gathering closed with the singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" and the giving of three cheers for Bert Morgan and W. E. Willisroff of the Grotto cigar store.

Sport Chat

The first half of the Intermediate Billiard League schedule will come to a conclusion next Monday night and on Thursday evening the first half of the Junior timetable will also be finished. Jack Reynolds, manager of the two leagues, announces that the second halves in either league will commence immediately upon the completion of the first and the games will be played in exactly the same order as the first half. All that will be necessary to compile the schedule will be to substitute the latter dates in place of the first half schedule.

The semi-finals in the Prince Rupert Pool Room Junior billiard handicap have been reached and the final is scheduled to take place between the two winners on Saturday evening. The two games of the semi-finals are between Sam Howe and Jack Hynd and Willie Lambie and S. Suga. The latter game has already been played, Lambie defeating Suga handily.

Those who are familiar with the workings of the Pacific Coast Hockey Association are inclined to scoff at the idea that the games in this league are fixed; a suspicion that is often heard voiced in discussion of this year's games, and the close results. It is explained that the closeness of the contest this year has not been due to any fixing but the ante-season arrangement of players has been responsible. At the outset, the League management lined up the players for the three different cities in such a manner that the teams would be as evenly matched as possible. This it is pointed out, is only fair sport and is giving the people value. It seems to have worked out very successfully.

For the purpose of preventing Sunday football and sport in Nanaimo, a meeting was held recently of the different Sunday School organizations when it was decided to urge the council to use its influence to stop all Sunday sport. It has been recommended that all societies in the city make an effort to procure a Saturday half holiday to eliminate the temptation for Sunday games. The council is going fully into the matter.

G. T. P. ASSESSMENT.

Editor Daily News:
Kindly permit me to correct an erroneous statement appearing in your issue yesterday stating that the assessment on G. T. P. Development Co. property in this city had been reduced by $87,658.50 this year. The total amount of this Company's property stands at $636,099.00 for 1922, or exactly the same as it was assessed in 1921; and no appeal has been entered against the decision of the Court of Revision. I might add, however, that an increase of $113,776.00 in the assessment of the Railway Company's property was made this year over that of 1921.
Yours truly,
H. B. ROCHESTER, Mayor.

ASSESSMENT FIGURES.

Editor Daily News:
Owing to an error being made by the City Hall staff I used figures regarding the G. T. P. Development Co. which were not correct. I stated that the company was reduced $87,658.50 on its total land assessment in the city for 1922. The facts are that very little if any change has been made in the company's assessment as compared with 1921, the amount being $769,317.50. The assessor for 1922 did actually raise their assessment about $32,200, but the Court of Revision reduced it about that amount.

I am sorry that an error has been made in this respect but it has no effect as regards the Railway Company's proposed agreement.

W. H. MONTGOMERY.

FAMILY FAVORITISM.

Editor Daily News:
While the Port of Vancouver is being gorged the Port of Prince Rupert is being starved by the common father of both, sitting in state at the head of the family table in Ottawa. The fat of the land is being lavished in ever-increasing helpings on the opulent elder brother Burrard, while the microscopic crumbs of the table are doled out with niggardly hands to the famished younger brother Rupert. Big Brother Burrard is now swollen to the point of bursting and is quite unable to swallow all the Prairie manna that Father Hanna is showering upon him, while little brother Rupert keeps fighting in a desperate effort to relieve the pangs of starvation. There is no more excuse for this unjust and foolish favoritism in the management of the national family than for similar action in the private household, and the pursuance of such a policy invariably leads to trouble and is detrimental to the best interests.

200 Cars of Wheat.
A week ago the Canadian National Railway had 200 cars of wheat lying in the yards at Vancouver awaiting a chance of shipment across the ocean, and there were several hundreds of additional cars on the way to Vancouver between Edmonton and that city with no prospect of immediate discharge. The Vancouver grain elevator is quite inadequate to the business offering and the harbor is congested with shipping for which no dockage is available. To such an extent is this now the case that ship owners are complaining strongly of the great delays and expenses they are suffering.

The following are a few extracts on this subject from recent issues of the Vancouver Daily Province:

"The rapid increase of commerce, the sudden development of the grain trade, the wonderful possibilities and prospects of Pacific Ocean traffic, are well known to the government commercial departments."

Show the Ministers.

"Grain congestion at this port comes opportunely, since it had to come and will continue to arrive at intervals. It will show the ministers concerned that the necessity for going on with the harbor works is not a political necessity but a plain commercial requirement. A business administration at Ottawa will not need to wait long to find out what is needed, and how soon, and will act accordingly. Meanwhile the minister of railways will learn from the management of government lines that grain transportation toward the Pacific is liable to be impeded for want of storage capacity at Vancouver, and will pass on the information to his colleagues."

A great portion of both the exports and imports seeking transportation through Vancouver are to and from Japan and China for which countries, as has so often been stated, the nearest, cheapest, safest, logical and natural Canadian port is Prince Rupert, and yet the government that owns and operates the transcontinental railway of which Prince Rupert is the Pacific terminus, and that also owns and operates a fleet of freighters on the Pacific Ocean makes no use of the route and port that are peculiarly its own and with which, under efficient management, no other route could successfully compete for Oriental trade.

Another Elevator.

Strong pressure is now being brought to bear on the Government to build another grain elevator at Vancouver. Why not build it at Prince Rupert and thus relieve the congestion of trans-Pacific shipping at Vancouver, instead of increasing it. As a matter of fact, however, no elevator is required for a large portion of the grain being handled, as Japan desires hers sacked, and of course no elevator is needed for the various other kinds of merchandise, such as silk, tea, rice, lumber, fish, machinery &c., the volume of which is increasing rapidly.

The only other provision now required at this port for ocean-going steamers is coal bunkers and if the government is not inclined to supply them there is at least one local private concern prepared to erect them at any moment if given the opportunity under fair conditions.

Neglect Inexplicable.

An immense amount of money has been sunk in the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and its terminal seaport, and the neglect of the whole splendid undertaking by the government is inexplicable except on grounds that are not very creditable.

If our new Dominion Government cannot see its way to operate any vessels of our National Mercantile Marine through the Port of Prince Rupert it should be pressed to take immediate steps to induce some other line of steamships to use this port—such, for instance, as the Robert Dollar, and the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, the latter one of the largest shipping companies in the world, and both of them specially active in the development of trans-Pacific trade.

A very small expenditure now, in addition to the immense amount already expended, would complete a splendid transportation system and would probably convert a past and present failure into a future success, and if we cannot compel the government to utilize this port for ocean trade we should at all events try hard to obtain a definite statement of its intentions so that we may know where we stand and endeavor to discover the next best thing to be done. There has been delay enough and to spare.

G. W. V. A. BAND.

To the Editor:

Re W. H. Derry's letter in your paper of the 15th inst. I would like to refer to him as a "traitor in his own camp." While still being a member of the G.W.V.A. executive he was trying his best to take the band of which he was secretary away from the G. W. V. A. Would it not have been better for him to have declared himself, resign and then try to form another band with associates of his own calibre. The members of the G.W.V.A. band who wore a uniform during the late war (Mr. Derry was not one) are I know satisfied to remain with the G. W. V. A. And with such and other returned men the G.W.V.A. will yet have a band of which Prince Rupert will be proud. So let the dissatisfied ones get out and stay out. Then will we have a happy and contented band in our midst.
