MOUNTAIN CLIMBERS REACH HIGHEST ALTITUDE YET ATTAINED

Three Members of Party Get Within 2,000 Feet of Everest's Summit

LONDON, June 9.—The Times announces that three members of the Mount Everest party have succeeded in reaching the highest altitude ever attained by man. They climbed to within 2,200 feet of the summit on May 21 of this year. This point is 26,800 feet above sea level.

Mount Everest, in the Himalayas, the highest peak in the world, has always in the past interposed great obstacles to the few efforts of intrepid adventurers even to gain a foothold upon its slopes. Only one definite and organized attempt ever has been made before to scale its sides and stand upon its peak at an altitude of approximately five and one-half miles above the

CONDITION OF LENINE IS SERIOUS

CHURCH UNION IS DELAYED

Committee Asks General Assembly to Give Them Another Year to Perfect Details

WINNIPEG, June 9.—Progress in adjusting the technical details attendant upon the consummation of Church Union was reported to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church by the Union committee today. It recommended that its own existence be continued a year and that it report again in 1923. The Assembly would in the meantime obtain legal advice with a view to securing necessary enabling legislation from Parliament and to ratify the Union by the supreme courts of the denominations concerned.

TAX COLLECTING IS DISCUSSED BEFORE MUNICIPAL UNIONS

VICTORIA, June 9.—Reform in the present federal, provincial and municipal tax collecting machinery throughout Canada was urged by Secretary W. Jackman of Edmonton before the convention of municipal unions. Final appeals against tax assessments, he suggested, should be heard by provincial commissioners or local government boards and not by law courts. A resolution dealing with this matter was declared passed.

BONUS FOR LEGISLATORS

TORONTO, June 9.—The Legislature has again appropriated money with which to pay a bonus to members of the legislators. The amount is $600 in addition to the $1400 sessional indemnity they already receive.

OBJECTION TO DOLES SYSTEM RELIEF WORK

Council of Western Municipalities Think Cities Should Not Keep Unemployed.

VICTORIA, June 9.—Relief to the unemployed if necessary should be by way of productive work and the system of doles should be entirely eliminated, in the opinion of the council of the Western Canadian Municipalities, which passed a resolution urging the Dominion and Provincial governments to adopt such a policy.

The council will recommend that the municipalities of the four western provinces should refuse to continue any relief to unemployed at the expense of the municipal taxpayers.

OBJECTION TO WORKERS PARTY

Tom Moore Says Their Object is to Break up Organized Labor

OTTAWA, June 9.—Tom Moore, president of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, Captain J. A. P. Haydon, M.L.A., head of the Allied Trades and Labor Association of Ottawa, Rod Plant and William Lodge have returned from Guelph where they have been attending the annual meeting of the Labor Educational Association of Ontario.

Capl. Haydon moved that the action of the minimum wage board should be extended to cover minors as well as females in the matter of wages. Mr. Haydon claiming that when a minimum wage was fixed in many cases in Ontario, female help was discharged and young boys employed.

He also introduced a resolution that the 38-hour week should apply to women and children.

Another important resolution, one also being pressed by the G. W.V.A., is for the establishment of advisory boards of citizens in connection both with the provincial and local administration of the government employment offices.

There were a number of the Workers Party of Canada present at the conference, and Tom Moore, in a speech directed at the activities of this new party, stated that their object was to break up organized and union labor and that in consequence the party was to be considered as inimical to trade unionism.

RILEY'S HIKERS TO START AGAIN

INVERSKIP SAILED RIGHT INTO HARBOR WITHOUT ANY PILOT

Mayor Rochester this morning recalled to a Daily News representative that in 1909 the big freighter Inverskip with a cargo of cement from Hong Kong sailed through the Dixon Entrance and into Prince Rupert Harbor without the use of a pilot. The first they knew of her coming was the sound of the whistle as she came up the harbor.

Part of the cement was used in building the cold storage plant at Seal Cove.

UNION OFFICIALS TO APPEAL TO HARDING

Ask Chief Executive to Stave off Wage Cuts on Railways.

CINCINNATI, June 9.—President Harding will be appealed to by the leaders of more than a million railway workers, part of whom have already received wage cuts, in an effort to stave off further reductions. This was decided upon by union officials at a conference last night.

KETCHIKAN EXPORTS 2,000,000 FT. LUMBER

The Ketchikan Power company has contracted for 2,000,000 feet of spruce lumber to be shipped to Australia for use there, according to announcement made by Eldon J. Daly, manager of the mill. The mill will work on the order this summer and will have it ready for shipment early in August. A sailing vessel will come to Ketchikan for the lumber.

This is the first experiment of this kind and if it proves as satisfactory as hoped, it probably will mean that it will be followed by other big orders of a similar nature for the export trade.

Parents of the boys are invited to be present to watch the proceedings but they will not be the guests of the club in the same sense as the boys.

Budget Vote Delayed to Early Next Week While Changes are Considered

OTTAWA, June 9.—The budget vote is likely to be taken on Tuesday next and in the meantime there will be some minor although rather important changes in the budget. Just what these changes will be was not announced up to late last night.

Interest in the budget changed yesterday swiftly from the debate itself to the impending modifications in the taxation proposals and as swiftly changed back following the speech of Sir Lomer Gouin.

Indications that changes were at hand were given by the prime minister. It is believed modifications of the proposed stamp tax on checks are contemplated.

Sir Lomer Gouin's speech is regarded as of particular importance in its possible bearing on the coming crucial division on the main budget motion. As he stated his fiscal views he was frequently cheered by Conservatives.

Sir Lomer declared that with the Liberal party the main concern respecting the tariff was not free trade or protection. "Abolish the tariff" he queried. "No government could think of it and it could not do it if it were tried." It has been decided to continue the budget debate today and take up other business tomorrow. This will give plenty of time for consideration of the new proposals and the vote will then come early next week, probably on Tuesday or possibly early Wednesday morning.

HORRIBLE STORY OF CANNIBALISM

LONDON, June 9.—A shocking story of despair and death and cannibalism was told by William Shaffroth who is here after having spent a year with the relief workers in Russia. He reports that the Russian people are eating human beings, diseased horses, dogs and cats. Cemeteries are being dug up and long buried bodies snatched to be used as food. Bodies are being taken from morgues and hospitals for a similar purpose.

BARON KATO NEW PREMIER

Asked to Form Cabinet in Japan to Succeed Takahashi.

TOKIO, June 9.—Admiral Baron Kato has been offered the Premiership of Japan to succeed Premier Takahashi who was recently defeated in the popular chamber. The Baron has asked time to consider whether he would undertake the work of forming a cabinet.

Admiral Kato is one of the big men of Japan. He headed the Japanese delegation to the Washington conference and took a leading part in the deliberations of that body. His appointment would not mean a total change of policy for the Japanese Government as he has been in close touch with the former administration. His acceptance of the position depends largely on the amount of support he gets from the prominent men of the country whom he will try to get to take positions in the new cabinet, taking the place of that which has recently resigned.

Speculation as to What Changes the Government Will Make

OTTAWA, June 9.—The budget debate was continued today in the House of Commons mainly by the Progressives. Supply and other business will be taken up tomorrow and Monday. Then comes the budget division.

There's considerable speculation as to what Mr. Fielding's modifications of the budget will be. It is generally expected they will touch the proposed stamp tax on checks and possibly anti-dumping and depreciated currency all of which has come in for wide comment.

ALASKA AFTER BOOTLEGGERS

Many Convicted and Fined and Business Places Declared Public Nuisance.

KETCHIKAN, June 8.—There has been a determined effort here recently to make bootlegging difficult and the results are that the perennially thirsty ones have to pay higher prices and cannot obtain the liquor openly. A number of prosecutions have been successful here and in other parts of Alaska and heavy fines have been paid. Proceedings have been taken against premises where illicit business is carried on and the places declared a public nuisance.

Among the cases which have been before the courts recently as reported in the Chronicle are the following:

In the United States district court, Judge T. M. Reed sentenced three defendants, two for violation of the home dry law, and one for conspiracy to violate laws of the United States.

Sent to Pen.
 Jim Simpson, found guilty by a jury of conspiracy to violate the laws of the United States, that is bringing intoxicating liquors into the United States, was sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000 and to serve one year in the federal penitentiary at McNeill's island. Counsel afterwards asked the court to alter the sentence, designating the federal jail at Juneau or Ketchikan as the place for serving the sentence, owing to the fact that Simpson has considerable property which he could not look after if sent below. The court, however, did not see fit to change the sentence.

Dick Bell of Hyder, found guilty of violation of the home dry law was sentenced to sixty days in the federal jail at Ketchikan and was fined $500.

Jerry Simpson, found guilty of violation of the home dry law, was sentenced to serve four months in the federal jail at Juneau and to pay a fine of $700.

In Jim Simpson's case, the appeal bond was fixed at $1,000. In the case of Jerry Simpson it was fixed at $2,000 and in Bell's case at $1,500.

Attorneys for the defendants indicated that they might take the cases to the circuit court of appeals.

Heavy Fines.
 Spanish Joe and C. H. (Happy) Tynan appeared before Judge F. M. Reed in the United States district court and entered pleas of guilty to charges of violation of the National Prohibition law. There were two counts in the charge against the men and they pleaded guilty to both.

The court then sentenced Spanish Joe to pay a fine of $250 on each count, and Tynan $250 for both. The $750 was immediately paid by the men.

Judge Reed, after imposing sentence, said that the National Prohibition act provides only a fine for the first offense which was the case in hand.

Immediately after the fines were paid, United States Attorney Arthur G. Shoup, started proceedings of condemnation against the boat Progress on which the raid was made and from which the liquor was alleged to have been taken. It is the intention of the prosecutor to have the boat sold by the marshal.

J. W. Hughes, arrested a few days ago by Prohibition Enforcement Officer S. B. Van Zandt, appeared in the commissioner's court and pleaded guilty to having liquor in his possession. The officer found four bottles of whiskey on his person when he was arrested. He was fined $50 and costs, which were paid.

Depoed to Canada.
 Immediately afterwards Hughes was taken into custody by the immigration authorities, charged with being an alien and with having entered the country without inspection. Today it was reported by W. G. Strench, immigration inspector, that he would be returned to Canada from whence he came.

In the United States district court a jury brought in a sealed verdict this morning in the case against Richard Bell of Hyder, in which the accused is charged with violation of the home dry law. The jurors also presented the court with a signed statement asking for leniency.

Importance Of Buckley Scheme To North.

While everyone would like to have British Columbia lumber manufactured in British Columbia, the next best thing is to have it rough sawn here. That is what the new corporation organized by F. L. Buckley proposes to do. It is all that has ever been done with the lumber so far.

The new corporation, the organization of which is practically complete, is a gigantic affair compared with anything that has operated here before. The proposal to operate their own transportation system in connection with the plant is one that commends itself, as by doing so they are able to secure a big advantage over competitors who are dependent on tramp schooners which often are not available.

While Prince Rupert is not included in any way in the scheme of things, this port will benefit very largely in that there is bound to be travel back and forth and a good deal of buying will be done here. The loggers will be hired here and in many other ways Prince Rupert will benefit. When in England Mr. Buckley stated he would have a boat plying back and forth between the Islands and Prince Rupert all the time.

Value To Settlers Of Proposed Scheme.

The value of the proposed scheme to the settlers who recently went to Massett, can hardly be estimated. This was the industry they expected to find working when they arrived. However, industries are not organized in a day and there are often unlooked for delays that cannot be avoided. When the big mill is in operation everyone will be happy again.

The Islands have been quiet for some time. Except for a short time last year when the mill was sawing up the old logs, the Island have been practically without any industry except fishing. As soon as the Buckley Mill starts there will be a general revival of business with that part of the province, a part that has been much maligned and which some day will be very important.

Once there is one successful mill operated on the Queen Charlottes, others are likely to follow and before long we shall find the Islands reaching a degree of prominence in the affairs of the world such as was forecasted at the time of the aeroplane spruce activity.

Using Logged Off Island Lands.

While it is some time after logging operations are complete before the lands can be used for agriculture and there is much hard labor to be done before the stumps are removed, yet in other parts of the country clearing has been done under equally adverse conditions to that obtaining on Massett Inlet. Almost throughout the continent, settlement has followed logging and it took time to convert the country, once a forest, into smiling farms. From all accounts brought here by residents and others, the timbered land on the Islands is very fertile and will some day be made available for agriculture, possibly sooner than we think.

Why Go To Islands Instead Of To Interior?

The question was asked one of the settlers now at Massett, why they went to the Islands instead of to the interior. He replied that the conditions of each place had been studied, but what they wanted was a climate similar to England and this could not be found in the interior. The winters at the Islands were milder than those of the interior and they liked the prospect of mild winters.

The land of the interior valleys is fertile and easy to clear and has many advantages over the Queen Charlottes. On the other hand, the Islanders say as the Los Angeles people say, "It's the climate."

Fur Farming Is Alaskan Industry.

One of the important industries of Alaska is fur farming. The blue fox does well on the islands along the coast and brings good prices. As the wild creatures are gradually being driven back further by the advance of civilization, the fur farm is becoming more a factor in providing fashionable clothing for ladies and the necessary winter raiment for residents of the cold climates.

In British Columbia there are many islands at present unused. These could be converted into fur farms and would prove valuable investments if properly conducted.

INCREASED DEMAND RAISES TEA PRICES

The shortage of the supply of tea available for consumption, due to the 20% reduction in production in the gardens of Ceylon and India, during 1921 has, as might be expected, pushed the price of tea offered on the market today, up and up. At the same time the use of tea has been gaining in popularity and the reduction of fourpence a pound duty on tea entering England will further stimulate the demand. Those in touch with the situation advise that higher prices are inevitable.

MABEL NORMAND IN NEW ROLE AS IMP

Comedy is so abundant in "Molly O," the Associated First National Pictures attraction which is the current release at the Westholme Theatre, that the fact should not be lost sight of that primarily the production is one of a very dramatic and thrilling story. It is the story of a gritty girl's fight for a place in the world and a happiness that she could never attain if she permitted environment to overcome her.

Mack Sennett's name has become almost synonymous with hilarious comedy, so that the dramatic quality of the production comes as a revelation to those who do not recall that he was the producer of "Mickey," the picture which several years ago, with Mabel Normand as the star, established a precedent for success which has never since been equalled.
Molly O, the heroine, is too jolly a character to be able to keep genuine fun out of her life in spite of her extremely pathetic position. Nevertheless the story of her courtship and then marriage, the failure of the union and then the reconciliation, is as dramatic and thrilling a story as has ever been placed on the screen.

FALCONS WINNERS OVER MIDGETS IN EXTRA TIME GAME

In a ten inning Juvenile Baseball League game last evening the Falcons defeated the Midgets by a score of 12 to 11. The match was a well contested one and at the end of the ninth the score was 11 all. In the extra frame, the Falcons put in the winning tally. There was a good crowd of spectators.
Jack McNulty, pitched and E. Yager, catcher, comprised the Falcons' battery. W. Wrathall and S. Gurych and N. Chenoski acted in similar capacities for the Midgets.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lidstone, formerly of this city but now of Esk, sailed last night on the Prince George for Victoria where they will visit at Mr. Lidstone's home.

Canning Crabs at Naden Harbor

An Interesting Account of How the Material is Obtained for the Crab Salads and Cocktails.
By G. S. FITZMAURICE.

Despite the fact that the fish packing business is decidedly one of the most important industries of this province, British Columbia being justly famous the world over for its canned salmon, it is surprising what a comparatively few people there are right in the district where the fish are put up, who have actually seen the entire process of putting up a can of fish and learned the life-story of the finny denizen of the deep, in its somewhat chequered career so to speak, "from the cradle to the grave."

Up to the present, although there are a great number of varieties of fish to be found in the waters of the Pacific Coast, practically the only fish that are marketed in any appreciable quantity, are salmon and halibut. Within the last couple of years, however, the putting up of crabs in cans for the world markets has been successfully launched and it will not be very long before canned crab will be well known as a delectable delicacy, vying with canned lobster in its popularity amongst pick-nickers and those addicted to late and recherche little suppers after the theatre or opera.

Saw It in Process.

The writer being at Naden Harbor, which is situated on the Northern coast of Graham Island, the largest of the group of islands known as the Queen Charlotte, was fortunate enough to be able to spend a day at the cannery located there, which puts up the famous "Naden Brand" of crab meat. He was also in luck that the day of his visit, a full day's pack was in process of being handled. It might be of interest to a number of people to read an eye witness' description of the whole proceeding.

In the first place of course, it is necessary to catch your crab. At the time of the writer's visit, about ten men (Indians) were attending to this, necessarily the most important part of the whole business. They are the fishermen. They use crab pots and hoop nets, two distinct ways of luring the wily crab into their clutches. Crab pots of course are similar to the lobster pots used on the Atlantic coast and in Europe. It is a case of, it is easy to get in but quite another question when it comes to getting out.

The Nets.

Hoop nets are cone shaped nets attached to a hoop of half inch round iron, which are sunk to the bottom with a bait rope extending vertically in the net. A float attached by a line to each net denotes the location. In some cases the fishermen place the pots and hoop nets in circles and at others in straight lines, the latter being the most usual way. Each fisherman has a string of pots and nets and goes backwards and forwards lifting them to the surface to harvest his crop.

On the particular occasion being described, the days catch consisted of 1600 crabs, which were piled on the cannery deck by 8 o'clock in the evening. Now a start is made in preparing the crabs for the pickers and packers, who commence work at 8 o'clock the following morning.

First Cooking.

First process; plunging the live crustaceans about 130 at a time in iron crates, into vats of boiling water, which partially cooks them, as they are kept in the water for fifteen minutes. Upon being taken out, they are washed and cooled under a stream of ice cold water. Next the crabs, which by now have assumed a bright red color, are dismembered, the legs and claws being placed in piles on tables ready for cracking, the bodies being washed and placed on draining tables. This finishes the evening's operations, and now all is ready for the workers the next morning.

Eight a.m. has arrived, and the first on the scene are the "crackers," Indian men and youths, five in number, to crack the legs and claws. Interesting data may here be given, to show at what speed the men can work; each crab has eight legs and two claws, and these five men and boys cracked 16,000 actual limbs by 12 noon, an average of 800 per hour per man. Each limb requires five actual operations if there are no misses. Taking it up, delivering three blows, and placing it again on the pile, which means 4000 actual operations per hour.

Skill Required.

The instruments used for cracking are small lignum vitae mallets. The blows have to be gauged so accurately, that when a change was made from the ordinary wooden mallets to the lignum vitae ones, it takes the men several days to get on to the exact strength of the blow required with the new mallets. At 8:30 the pickers start on the limbs and bodies. They average from 9 to 10 pounds per hour. Half an hour later the fillers commence putting the meat into the cans.

One must dwell for a moment here to describe this filling of cans which is a most delicate and particular performance. There are five distinct operations. First a piece of oiled paper is placed in the can, then a layer of legs or claws, the centre is filled with a piece of the body of the crab, and another layer of legs or claws is placed on top. The paper is then folded neatly over the contents ready for the lid to be put on.

Domestic Science Kitchen.

The cannery by this time has begun to assume more the appearance of a Domestic Science kitchen, than the ordinary fish cannery. The girls are all neatly dressed in blue frocks and white aprons, the tables and fish trays are all spotlessly white and clean and all the metal utensils shine brightly. By 11 o'clock the first batch is ready to start to run through the exhaust box to take the air out, and from there, are carried along on carriers to the double seamer, when they are ready for the final cooking in the retort.

During the noon hour the picking and filling tables are scrubbed and cleaned with boiling water. At 1 o'clock the pickers and fillers return to finish their work, it taking the former until between 3 and 4 and the latter until around 5:30 before they are through.

I all got Arthur G. Shoup, United States attorney, spotted. For he is sure rough on anyone doing that little thing.

Saturday Ed. Maxwell approached the district attorney on the street, asked him for 50 cents and said he wanted it to buy a drink of liquor. It was reported, too, that he had done likewise with several others and successfully. But Shoup was his Waterloo for he took him into custody and turned him over to Marshal Beaumont.

Maxwell appeared in the commissioner's court, pleaded guilty to vagrancy and was given ten days in the federal jail. He told the district attorney he was sorry, as he "look him for someone else."

OLD STUFF.

"SOFT FINISH" STATISTICS

A great many ladies took advantage of our special price on "Soft Finish" laundry last week. That they were satisfied is evident by the number who have sent again.

As we placed no limit on the size of the bundle, it is interesting to note, that the largest did not exceed 40 pounds, that the ordinary charge, Soft Finish, varied from $1.15 to $3.45, and that the average bundle did not exceed $2.00 in price.

We noted also that washing from our regular patrons finished in much better condition than work which had previously been done at home or elsewhere—another argument in favor of patronizing the laundry where scientific processes are followed.

FINE STRIKE AT LUCKY BOY

Rich Ore Found by Behnson and Coughlan Which is Renewing Interest in Camp

STEWART, June 9.—Stewart is an agog over the recent strike on the Lucky Boy, the property on Fish Creek owned by Behnson and Coughlan. S. G. Behnson is in charge of operations at the mine where the strike was made. The discovery consists of a silver-ore lead two feet in width and opening out. The ore has been assayed and goes $123.62 to the ton. This is made up chiefly of silver which is 887, gold 80 cents and lead $38.83. If there is a large body of 600, as seems likely, this will prove one of the most valuable mines in the camp. It is on the Alaska side about a mile from the Canadian boundary and the vein probably runs right through to the Canadian side.

LANDING FROM AN AIR LINER

In Moscow to Vladivostok Route Passengers Will Land Without Stopping Vessel.

LONDON, June 9.—Going "ashore" or rather down to earth, in a little gliding "air-boat" which will coast off and sail down from a big air-liner, without the latter's stopping to alight, is to be the unique experience of travellers on the great Eastern airway which the German-Russian air combine are now organizing over the 5,000 miles between Moscow and Vladivostok. Exceptionally large, high-flying, metal-built aircraft, which will climb with much expenditure of engine-power to their chosen altitude and will then sweep on at that prescribed height, are to be employed on the route, but it is desired, at the same time, to encourage as much intermediate traffic as possible. Hence the scheme for "setting down" travelers by air-boat at any quite small, lonely landing-ground, in addition to the scheduled stoppages of the big machine at important centres along this airway.

CANADIANS AND GROTTO PLAYED FOOTBALL DRAW

Game Last Night Was Keenly and Well Contested Affair—2 to 2.

A large crowd of soccer fans witnessed the most spirited and best played game of the football season last night, at the Aeropolis Hill grounds, when the Sons of Canada and the Grotto closed to a 2-2 draw. Both aggregations were on their mettle and, taking the play throughout in a general sense, there was little to choose between the teams. The defence of the Sons was all that could be desired, while the forward line of the "Wasps" was on its toes and showed the spectators some pretty work, although, in fairness to the Sons, it must be said that their combination in the forward line was also very good. The excitement during the game was, at times, intense and all the spectators had their money's worth.

The teams lined up as follows: Sons of Canada—Frizzell, goal; Vic Menzies and H. Menzies, full backs; Anderson, Davis and J. Mitchell, half backs; G. Mitchell, Robinson, Marks, Warren and Tait, forwards. Grotto—Mercer, goal; O'Reilly and Williseroff, full backs; Roy Hynd and Currie, half backs; Hill, McGowan, Campbell, Kirby and Butters, forwards.

The game was very capably handled by George Russell as referee.

First Half.

The "Wasps" won the toss and took the field on the down grade. From the centre, the Sons took the ball up the field and forced a corner but a free resulted and the rock pile received a good dose of leather. At the commencement a lot of miss-kicks took place on both sides doubtless due to the ball being new and the ground being dry and hard. George Hill, for the "Wasps", got away on a nice run but V. Menzies pulled him up short. Butters made a nice try at Frizzell but V. Menzies kicked out. The Wasps forced a corner which was well cleared by Hill, but the Sons cleared. Marks, for the Sons, tried Mercer with a good shot but Bob was on the job.

The Sons continued to press hard and it taxed the Grotto backs to keep them from becoming really dangerous. As the result of good forward work, Anderson, for the Canadians, tried a shot at Mercer who gave a corner from which nothing resulted. Midfield play resulted and a rush up field by the Canucks was pulled up short by an offside from Robinson.

Sons Got Away.

After continued hard work and game play the Sons got away and, with pretty combination, Warren beat Mercer with a hard ball thus drawing first blood. From the centre the Canucks pressed again and Williseroff backed up to it. The Wasps eventually got going and from a combined forward rush down the field, Sid Butters tried Frizzell with a splendid shot which missed the posts by inches.

Both Sides on Job.

George Hill, for the Grotto, made several pretty plays, with able assistance, but nothing matured from the efforts. Both sides were right on the job and some very interesting and worth while play was witnessed. Tait, for the Sons, forced a corner off O'Reilly, and made a lovely centre. In the scramble in front of the Grotto goal Mercer was called upon to tip the ball over the bar from which a bye resulted. The Sons continued to press hard and the Grotto defence had an exciting time. The game finished in a tie 2-2.

Sport Chat

W. J. Cash, "daddy" of the Junior and Juvenile Baseball Leagues, has his season's program in full operation now with three teams in each league. The Junior League, which will stage its games at Aeropolis Hill, has three teams, Tiny Tims, White Sox and Boy Scouts and the Juvenile League, which will perform on the Seventh Street grounds, has the Midgets, Falcons and Boy Scouts. The schedule of games will be given out in a very short time now, possibly today.

It looks as if there will be a record turn-out of fans for the first meeting of the season in the Senior Baseball League of the Elks and the Knights of Columbus at Aeropolis Hill grounds tonight. Both teams are said to be in good form and certainly both will enter the ranks keen for victory. There is a good deal of speculation as to which is going to prove the superior team and both have good claim to the honor. Whichever one wins will have a good start in the season's race.

Both Elks and Smelter baseball teams at Anyox are still going strong and the last game played resulted in a six all draw, the score being tied at the end of the seventh when the game was called on account of darkness. Another game played recently was between the Elks and the Mine, the former winning by a tally of 5 to 2. The Single Elks and the Married ones had a game last week which resulted in victory by 13 to 7 for the latter.

NEW MACHINES FOR LA CASSE ICE CREAM

Increasing Demand For "The Cream of Quality" Compelled Its Installation

Owing to the very large increase in the demand for La Casse Ice Cream, "the cream of quality," it has been found necessary to get new and larger machines to turn out sufficient to supply their customers. This new outfit will enable customers to be supplied as promptly as desirable, and it is to be regretted that during the last day or two while the new machinery was being installed, that some slight delays were unavoidable.

From now on, however, any quantity can be delivered to any part of the city by phoning to 190. The store has been remodelled and patrons will find the La Casse Parlors the most pleasant and comfortable. Call in and try "the cream of quality" and do not miss one of the joys of summer.

CAPTAIN LOUIS HOLMES MEETS WITH ACCIDENT

Shipper of Heligoland Goes to Seattle to Have Finger Amputated

KETCHIKAN, June 9.—Captain Louis Holmes, of the halibut schooner Heligoland, met with a painful accident a few days ago, while heaving in a sling of fish. The clutch of the winlass slipped out and in trying to hold it prevent the sling going back and swamping the dory, the captain got his finger caught in the machinery bearing a part of the finger off.

Captain Holmes left for Seattle to have an operation performed, and the finger taken off. During his absence Captain Bassy, of the Shen has taken command of the Heligoland.

Captain Dave Hassel, who arrived in Ketchikan on the Northwestern from the Seattle takes command of the Shen.

HALIBUT SCHOONER WAS IN DISTRESS

Lincoln Called Here Last Week in Tow of Morengan—Being Repaired at Ketchikan

In tow of the Morengan the halibut schooner Lincoln, Captain Invog in command, was brought into Ketchikan from Cape St. Elias last week with a broken crank shaft. The schooner was picked up at Cape Edgewood, he had a catch of 28,000 pounds of fresh halibut aboard.

On account of only being off for six and one half cents for first and three and one half cents for second in Ketchikan, Captain Invog decided to come to Prince Rupert in tow of the Morengan. Here he received a little better than nine and half cents for the catch.

After disposing of the fish the schooner was towed back to Ketchikan, and is being repaired at the Northern Machine Works here.
